Mother's Day

The observance of Mother's Day throughout the North American continent has become almost a rite within recent years. It gives members of families an opportunity to pay tribute and honor to one of their group that otherwise might not be done. In these days of hurry and preoccupation this gesture of sentiment would likely not be observed except in the usual way at Christmas, and perhaps, birthdays.

As we grow older we are reminded of the great influence our mother had on our life. We sought her for love and comfort during our early years when the going was sometimes difficult and frightening. Later on in life her advice and counselling words in personal matters were eagerly sought and as gladly given. She soothed our wounds whether they were physical or mental until we were refreshed and ready again for whatever might be in store.

Mother's Day gives us an opportunity to show our appreciation for her care and love she has given us, and doing it in some tangible form. We always think actions speak louder than words and some gift, it doesn't have to be fancy and expensive, will be welcomed from those she loves. Honor her while you may for she will not always be with you.

Perhaps, we should give some thought to the person who originated the idea in the first place. She is Miss Anna M. Jarvis, a spinster and a bedridden patient in a private sanitarium. The idea grew out of a gathering of friends she invited to her home in May, 1907, on the second anniversary of her mother's death. The word of this idea swept the country and finally the world after a presidential order in 1914 set a national Mother's Day. However, Miss Jarvis never approved the commercial turn her memorial to all mothers took.

The Press Really Does Care

There are a few people — "smart guys" they sometimes call themselves — who are convinced that newspapers care little about the accuracy of the news they print, and that newspaper publishers have a cynical disregard for the consequences of the reports which they circulate through their papers. The smart guys point to the errors which are to be found in any paper as evidence that what they believe is true.

How amazed the smart guys would have been if they could have been present at the annual meeting of the press when the greater part of the meeting was devoted to the discussion of this very thing! Accuracy is the principal preoccupation of every newspaperman and it is worth his while commending to Peterborough Examiner. As any one who has worked in a newspaper office knows, it is at once the most important thing, and the most difficult quality to achieve, in news gathering work. And as anyone knows who has tried it, it is no mean task to be accurate in every detail of a single newspaper edition, and in spite of the best efforts of the staff, mistakes creep in. Sometimes these mistakes are attributable only to maleficent supernatural forces — gremlins, perhaps.

Yet in spite of what the smart guys say newspapermen keep on the struggle for accuracy in local and international news, spending a great deal of money to get the best and most objective reports obtainable on all matters of public interest. In spite of the cherished belief of the smart guys, newspapers know that they can thrive only by giving the fairest and most accurate news obtainable to their readers.

Gordon Selfridge

The death this week of Gordon Selfridge in London, England, at the age of 80, removes a personage who reversed the usual procedure of a man coming from the Old World and making his fortune in America. Rather he was an American with a modest fortune who went to the Old Country and there established himself as a leading merchant in that city of keen competition. His originality in merchandising and advertising quickly brought him to the top and he retained this eminence until his retirement in 1939.

Selfridge joined Marshall Field's at the career with Chicago's Marshall Field & Co., and retired with a fortune in less than 25 years. He resumed his career in London with a store which became the largest in all Europe.

Selfridge joined Marshal Field's at the age of 22 and advanced until he had an interest in the firm. In 1904 he retired but later the same year bought out the Chicago firm of Schlesinger and Mayer, changing its name to H. G. Selfridge & Co. He sold the company shortly afterwards to Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co.

In 1906 he came to London, to pursue his hobbies, collecting art objects, reading and travelling.

In London the Wisconsin-born merchant organized Selfridge & Co., Ltd., the company which he introduced ran counter to traditional British methods, but the establishment attracted crowds of curious Londoners, and the store became a huge success.

Selfridge was born in Ripon, Wis. He had a brief education in the public schools of Jackson, Mich., but went to work at an early age after the death of his father. He did odd jobs for five years before joining Field's. In 1890 he married Rose Buckingham, who died in 1918. They had three daughters, Violette, Rosalie and Beatrice, and a son, Henry Gordon, Jr.

Selfridge became a British subject in June, 1937, and retired for the last time in 1939.

Although Selfridge made two fortunes, a family spokesman said his wealth had been greatly reduced and "he could not properly be described as a wealthy man." After his retirement, the company he founded awarded him £2,000 ($8,000) a year as consultant.

Selfridge once remarked that he attained business success by a bare quarter of an inch. It was his mother's ambition — and his own at the time — that he go to the U. S. naval academy. A naval doctor rejected him because he was a quarter of an inch under the minimum regulation height.

For three years after Selfridge opened his London store, he had an uphill climb. Frequently his competitors predicted his efforts to "Americanize" British merchandising methods would fail. But the criticism redounded to his benefit as publicity, and Londoners flocked to the only store in which they could buy a pin or a gramophone. A few years later Selfridge was a leading member of the Merchants' Association, which at first had barred him.

Profit From Idleness

Let's get one thing clear about income tax. It is a penalty for hard work and a punishment for intelligence. The man with skill, the man with energy, the man who really makes some contribution to the material welfare of society, is being victimized. The greater his gifts, the more energy he must hand over to the Government.

Under the present income tax system in Canada it doesn't pay to work hard; it doesn't pay to be intelligent, and it doesn't pay to be productive. Thousands of Canadians in all income brackets are therefore evading taxes in a perfectly legal and honest way; they are doing less than they could do, producing less than they could earn, and paying less than they could earn. They are cutting down their taxes by the simple—but very harmful—means of cutting down their productivity.

The damage caused by this kind of tax evasion is infinitely greater than the damage caused by all other kinds put together. And it can't be remedied by putting people in jail.—Calgary Herald.

Keep Music Czar Out

Canadians are only concerned with Pettiillo when he stretches his out his grasping hits will upon the people of this Dominion in order that he may utilize them as milch cows to swell his bursting coffers. Canadians want nothing to do with such a Hitlerian person. He can be prevented by law from operating in the Dominion. The sooner the necessary steps are taken to this end, the better for the cause of music from Halifax to Vancouver.—Montreal Star.

Holiness is the architectural plan on which God builideth up His living temple.—Spurgeon.

APPLYING FOR WORK

"I'm looking for a job," said he,
"That hasn't any drudgery.
I'd like to work the whole day through
At something that is fun to do.
Big money I am out to earn,
Without the time it takes to learn.

I do not want to wake too soon
Or hurry through my lunch at noon.
I want to live a life of ease
And go and come just as I please.
In short, I'd like to come across
A pleasant job, without a boss
Who'll think at work I ought to stay
When I am in the mood to play."

The bureau fellow scratched his head.
"I know just what you want," he said,
"But let me put it to you flat:
There isn't such a job like that."

M. B. Dulmage Widely Mourned

(Owen Sound Sun-Times)

Marcus Benson Dulmage, Editor of The Daily Sun-Times for almost 20 years, passed away last night after a comparatively brief illness. It was only within the past few days that his condition became serious and his death comes as a great shock to his newspaper associates and his many other friends throughout the city.

A newspaperman from his early youth, he had witnessed great changes in the trade and profession he so dearly loved. During those many years he had made many friends throughout the province, many of them, like himself, pioneers of the early newspaper days when type was set by hand, and weeklies, rather than dailies, were the rule. His passing will occasion widespread sorrow not only among the newspaper profession but among the large number of acquaintances which he made down through the years as he served the public through the printed word.

Mark Dulmage, as he was popularly known, came to The Daily Sun-Times in 1924. Previous to that he had been many years a newspaperman at Guelph, where he always maintained close connection. He began his newspaper career in the mechanical department, as setting his first apprenticeship at Belleville, his native city. Down through the years he kept a close contact with that city, and was proud of his connections there where his family, United Empire Loyalists, resided for many years after settling in this country. He became editor of The Daily Sun-Times in 1928, retaining that position until recently when his advancing age and the general condition of health made it imperative that he relinquish some of his heavier duties. Since then he had continued as associate editor.

Kindly, congenial, always evenstempered Mark Dulmage probably became most widely known during the early days of the Canadian Press Association, with which organization he served as secretary for many years. The early success of that sports organization was due in no small part to his untiring efforts and his wise administration as secretary, and, however, even in recent years, he will be remembered as a good sportsman who played for the love of the game. A charter member of the Owen Sound Kiwanis club, he served that organization for many years as secretary, while he made a very valuable contribution to the Owen Sound Public Library Board upon which he served for a number of years, several terms of which he was chairman. He was a member of the United Church.

His death, coming at a time when his many friends had hoped for him many years of relaxation from the duties which the editorship of a daily newspaper imposes, is deeply mourned by his wife and a host of friends. To his widow and his three sons go the sincerest sympathy in their time of mourning.

MASKS AND RESPIRATORY INFECTION

The last time I talked about the use of masks in preventing respiratory infection I mentioned the commendable effort that had been made in the elementary school somewhere in New Jersey where on the first appearance of any kind of respiratory infection pupils and teachers don and wear masks till the danger of spread of the infection in the usual manner (the spray of spittle conversation) is over.

Now some kind reader sends a page from a magazine or maybe from a rotogravure section, with pictures of children wearing masks, and the usual extravagant statement—Spitfire Masks Cut Down Colds to Zero Point." There is no date but the legend identifies the place where teachers and pupils wear masks to prevent spreading colds before it begins. The illiberal way teachers and pupils pepper one another or in ordinary school. Looker Grammar School, Hillside, N. J.

At one time or another I have mentioned Fenn Yan, N. Y. and Canandaigua, N. Y. as places I like to mention either place I hear from people who don't believe there is such a place. Seriously born there, or have visited the beautiful spots or hope to do so once more before I—

This Hillside, N. J., may or may not be a place. I know nothing by me. But according to a directory published before the war there is such a place and it is as large as Canandaigua and Fenn Yan, together. Population 20,000. Horseheads and Pumpkin Hook Holow.

Further half-baked / comment with the pictures in this: "While the mask will not entirely hold back the germs of a sneeze, it does have a great influence on the child."

The gauze mask, provided it consists of not less than ten layers of gauze (washed cheesecloth) will catch most of the threads to the inch, and provided it covers both nose and mouth snugly will and does hold back most if not all germs or viruses that are in the air. Under ordinary droplets of cough, sneeze, laugh or conversation. It catches the spray and when the spray droplet is held back the germs or viruses it are held back too.

Rough masks, however, are both uncomfortable and unsightly, even in the sickroom or the operating room, and there is no getting on men-in-white dramas or increasing the box office. Gauze masks provide nothing that the comfortable and more slightly unsightly will not provide in the school, in doctor's, dentist's specialist's office, in the better shops for beauty parlor at the cashier's window, at the store counter, at the office desk, in sickroom or operating room.

This better mask was designed by Dr. Lewis A. Silvers for his own use when treating or examining nose and throat patients. Instructions for making it are given in booklet "Call it Cit"— for only and twenty-five cents and stamped, envelope bearing your address. It consists of a four size piece of transparent plastic or film (noninflammable X-ray film, washed) attached with snap fasteners to headband. The film leaves room for circulation of air under it. It may be easily washed with soap and water—the best disinfectant — or with any antiseptic liquid—and worn day after day for weeks before it is torn or scratched and requires replacement.

Psychological effect On a child, maybe, but I doubt it. It folks it is better difficult to make any sort of impression on the mind of Mr. and Mrs. Wise acre in regard to conversational spray. Some of the Dr. Pessaries are difficult to suggest it is not good for one's health to get caught in the spray of an expectorate cough or sneeze, but he indeed have any scruples about exchanging conversational spray.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

The Chariotsh's View

Aside from my eyes trouble I am sound and well. I am a person of my age (78). My... teacher tells me I make a great mistake when I take an occasional glass of wine and a glass of buttermilk at my meals as all physicians now agree that the calcium in milk is the worst thing for rheumatic and arthritic. (Mrs. K.L. McA.).

Answer — You had better quit feeling with that teacher and have proper medical advice. It is sheer nonsense to say that the calcium in buttermilk or any other food is bad for a person with cancer or glaucoma.

Bundle of Nerves

My seven year old nephew was called a "bundle of nerves" by the doctor. He said that was that all the child and there was nothing to be done for it. (Mrs. H.J.).

Answer — That's as good as any other silly label the doctor could have for his incompetence to determine the nature of the child's trouble.

BUSINESS BETTER

2. Prime Minister Mackenzie King said he did not know yet just what day President Truman would address the Ottawa "and until that is settled I say not in a position to make any statement."

In the Senate, the Wheat Board Act which went through the Commons before adjournment was disposed of by the Senators. In the Upper House, however, some Senators, mainly Senator J. H. Farris (L., B.C.) and Senator Arthur Roebuck (L., Ont.) contended that the measure constituted an action by the Dominion which, if repeated often enough, could steal from the provinces most, if not all, their jurisdiction over property and civil rights.

Wasaga Motion Withdrawn

In leading off in the budget debate, Dr. McCann, Liberal member for Hastings-Peterboro, said that the motion of non-confidence moved in the throne speech during the debate. He told members that if they voted for the motion they would deny the people the income tax reductions announced in the budget.

He denied charges made earlier by Hon. Earl Rowe (P.C., Dufferin-Simcoe) of "inefficiency and reckless extravagance" in governmental expenditures and placed on record a statement in which he contended that the number of government employees had been reduced from a wartime peak of 143,000 to 121,000 in 1939, the total was 88,000.

Of a statement by G. K. Fraser of the Post Services Board, that the National Film Board was receiving $618,639 and for the present that last year, Mr. McCann said this was not true, that the board's estimate for 1946-47 was down $311,874.

Mrs. Gladys Strum (CCF, Qu'e Appelle) said the budget had made the rich richer and the poor poorer. Prices were the high cost of living. There would be greater purchasing power through the removal of the excess profits tax and the dropping of subsidies.

Arthur Ross (PC-Souris) said the farmers should not be made responsible for the high cost of income tax from the wages of their employees. These also should be tax concessions for breeding herds and a special concession for hog producers.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

How Do You Know When You're In Love?

In most cases where two young people are truly "in love" with each other, they feel as though they hadn't a care in the world. Life is just one rose-colored day after another, and anyone reckless enough to suggest that it might not always be that way on that occasion might even arise, in years to come, when each would think the other a great deal less than perfect, would be written off as a complete idiot.

That is one big reason why I view with considerable skepticism the many letters that come to me, mostly from teen-agers and slightly older young people, which begin in song such way as this: "I am deeply in love with this fellow, and he says he feels the same way about me. But—" "And I don't have to go beyond the 'but' to know that the writer of the letter is not "in love" at all but is simply using the words to express anything from infatuation with the other person's blue eyes and smooth line to a very real admiration—but scarcely anything warmer—for certain qualities in the young man or woman that instinctively attract those about them.

For the "but" means that there are doubts and reservations in the mind of the one using the word; that in the next sentence he or she will go on to say: "My problem is this." And doubts and reservations and problems simply do not arise in those enchantedly days of being "in love." Everything is clear sailing when each of two young people thinks the other is the most wonderful person in the world.

Don't misunderstand me, now. Nothing would be sillier than to say that people in love don't have problems, and don't sometimes wonder it wouldn't have been better if they had never seen each neither party to the happy goings-on can conceive of life ever being anything but one long fairy tale, as long as the two of them are together.

All this is why I am always particularly pleased when a teen-age has the good sense to stop and consider whether the emotion felt at the moment for a member of the opposite sex is indeed love itself. As for instance, the one who wrote me this brief-and-to-the-point letter recently:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I am a girl 16 years old and I like a boy very much, but do not know whether I love him or not. Can you please tell me when or how you know when you are in love?

"C. B."

So, to "C.B." I would say, first, that I'm delighted she is wise enough to think there might at least be a question as to whether or not she is actually "in love." And, second, I would say that the fact that she's only 16 is one excellent reason for believing that what she feels for this boy is not love, but an attraction likely to pass and be forgotten in not too long a time. For not one 16-year-old in a thousand—and I'm being deliberately conservative in my figures—is capable of real love, which is a composite of more things than the mere eyes or clothes to think about when she "falls for" a boy.

To know when you are actually in love, "C.B." is to realize fully this composite nature of the emotion, and to find that your of courtship and engagement, married is just another human being with all a human being's faults and frailties. In the days

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Jeanne Henry is spending the weekend with Miss Eleanor Charles, London, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Counsell and Miss Shirley Counsell, Bleecker Ave., are in Toronto, today attending the Young Downing wedding.

WEDDINGS

McCAFFERY—LUCAS

Rev. E. Farnsworth was the officiating clergyman at a very pretty though quiet wedding which took place at his home at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, when Geraldine Beatrice Lucas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lucas, Bridge St., became the bride of William Leonard McCaffery son of Mr. and Mrs. McCaffery of Corbyville.

The bride made a charming picture in a suit of soft grey gabardine, with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses and bouvardia. Her only attendant was Miss Catharine Schrieder as bridesmaid, she wore a grey suit with black and grey accessories and a corsage of red roses and bouvardia.

The groom was ably assisted by Mr. Cecil O'Connor.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, where a wedding supper was served to about twenty-five guests.

Mr. and Mrs. McCaffery left by motor for a short trip to eastern points.

Await Canada Debut Of Fourway Clothes

London, May 10.—(CP)—Wealthy all fourway coats and costumes are going to be made in Canada if such arrangements can be made by Norman Goldenberg, head of Weatherall, during a forthcoming visit by North America.

More than $7,000,000 of these fourway clothes are sold to British women annually. One fourway outfit can be worn as a dress, pinafore, blouse or bolero costume. Long and short sleeves are made with each outfit and these are either hooked into the armholes or fitted in by an invisible zip fastener.

The latest Weatherall suit has a broader turn-up skirt and all their clothes are hand tailored and saddle stitched.

Knitted woollen jumpers are also made with both long and short sleeves. Here the long sleeve is fitted in with press studs underneath the edge of the short sleeve.

The fourway belt on coats enables them to be worn half belted, with a buckle belt, a tie belt, or as a swagger, with no belt at all.

Goldenberg has also devised a method of processing leather which makes it rainproof, washable and unscratchable. Weatherall's are using this material for raincoats and sliding outfits.

Other fashion houses are accentuating extremely feminine lines by mixing corners among the curves and outlines of this season's styles.

Digby Morton, for instance, has designed a tuxedo topcoat with black and white plaid facing which are turned back to form a right angle and are edged with diagonal buttons.

Women's Activities

ROSLIN W.I.

The May meeting of the Roslin Women's Institute was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Wynona Sprung, with the president, Mrs. H. Chisholm, presiding. The next meeting with the Ode and The Lord's Prayer. Plans were made for the District Annual meeting being held at Roslin on May 21st. It was decided to send two of the Charter members, Mrs. Ivan Farmer and Mrs. D. Leslie, as delegates to the District meeting. Plans were also made of the Women's Institute being held in Guelph in June.

The roll-call found five members was asked in the collection for British Relief Campaign.

The various convenors of standing committees reported were Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Mrs. Leslie with a summing up of what had happened where warble fly control measures had been practised.

A member of the Agricultural Institute of Canada, he succeeds the late L. C. McQuat.

The Experts Say . . .

By RAY REX

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, (CP)—Just as no driver normally will a road without reading the sign-posts, no housewife should buy food without reading the grade marks on the packages. These are the sign-posts directing her on the road to economy, for they show the quality of the good she is buying.

Many foods sold in Canada are graded according to quality and so marked—eggs, poultry, butter, honey, fresh fruits and vegetables. Canned fruits and vegetables, jams, jellies, canned poultry and canned honey may all be purchased this way. The Dominion is the first country in the world to have a national system of grading for these foods.

The department of agriculture has adopted the slogan "Buy by Grades—Buy with Confidence" and its consumer section has just issued a new bulletin called "Buy by Grade," which will be sent free on request.

Cream 'em or fry 'em—too many persons seem to think these are the only ways to cook onions, but for the cook who's looking for something new here are four onion recipes calculated to make her dinner more interesting in this off-season for fresh vegetables.

Cheese Stuffed Onions—Six large onions; three-quarter cup soft bread crumbs; three-quarter cup chopped celery; one tablespoon fat or vegetable; one half cup crackers, rolled crumb; grated cheese; salt and pepper to taste.

Peel and boil onions until nearly tender. Drain, cut a slice from the top and hollow them, leaving a three-quarter-inch shell, or if onions are large, cut into halves and hollow them.

Chop the pith taken from the centre and combine with bread crumbs, celery, chopped meat and season. Fill cases with this mixture and top with cracker crumbs. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Place in a pan with enough water to keep onions from scorching. Bake in a moderate oven, for about 40 minutes or until tender. Six servings.

Glazed Onion Slices—Four medium sized onions; salt and pepper; two tablespoons water; one tablespoon honey; 2 tablespoons butter.

Cut onions into one-quarter inch slices and place in a large greased casserole or pan, sprinkle with salt and pepper and add water. Cover and bake in a moderate oven for 15 minutes, or until tender. Remove from oven, drizzle with honey, and dot with butter. Return to oven for 10 minutes to glaze and brown slightly, basting at least once. Six servings.

Rolls always taste better at a time if they're heated before-hand. Try rinsing an ordinary flower pot with hot water before putting the rolls inside. Then place in a hot oven for five or 10 minutes or until thoroughly warmed. The moisture from the bag will prevent the heat from drying out the rolls and they will come out as if newly baked.

CREDITS DIVINE GUIDANCE

CHURCHILL DECORATED

Paris, May 10 (AP)—Before French army detachments and thousands of well-wishers, Winston Churchill received the Medaille Militaire, France's highest military decoration from Premier Ramadier.

Mid-day throngs later watched Churchill place a wreath on the tomb of France's unknown soldiers.

SEND GREECE AMMUNITION

Washington, May 10 (AP) — Britain has sent Greece 400,000 rounds of American-made, lend-lease machine gun ammunition the State Department disclosed yesterday in a report on surplus arms transaction in the last four months. Greece also was supplied by Britain with 35 Browning machine guns 14 aircraft engines and lesser arms items.

There is one answer to this question—"Just as soon as possible."

Those who start an insurance program in early youth reap the benefit of lower rates and avoid the risk that in later years they may not be insurable. To them, the present is free of worry, and the future free of fears.

Everyone's needs and wants are different. It takes the help of a trained insurance advisor to chart a sound program that may be adjusted through the years.

If this advisor is a Mutual Life of Canada representative you get the benefit of our seventy-seven years' experience in adjusting life insurance to the needs of people of all ages, in all walks of life.

Ask your local Mutual Life man how a Mutual program can be planned to meet your particular needs. Let him tell you about low cost life insurance.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

By WINIFRED E. WILSON

The balmy air of the past few days had vanished overnight, and a raw wind had taken its place. Hands in pockets, the two trudged along with so far little success in finding birds. Shrill voices attracted their attention to a noisy band of Ruby-crowned Kinglet, hopping excitedly from branch to branch at a large maple that was just bursting into leaf. Now and again a Song Sparrow could be heard singing in the distance, a White-breasted Nuthatch called, and a Flicker drummed on an old stump.

Then a new, questioning cry, "chewink?" came from the scrub beside the path, and a medium-sized bird dashed across a little opening into a bushy thicket.

"I have never heard that sound before. Have you?"

"No, I haven't," said the other, "but I got a rather good view, even though only for a second or two. A mostly black and white bird the throat dark, some reddish on the sides. Not quite as tall as long and large."

"Then I think it must be a Towhee. I have seen only one before, several years ago. Which way did it go?"

"Down the slope. I'm going after it." And off she went.

Soon the same bird appeared again, flying low in hurried, jerky flights, over ground now lost in Autumn's crisp, brown leaves.

Signaling brought her companion swiftly though silently to the spot but in time to see their bird fly to a low branch more than twenty-five yards away, and the two raised their field-glasses.

"There. Now we can watch it better. The red is on its side." Immediately the illusive one disappeared, though not before it had been definitely identified as the Towhee, or Chewink. The "Bird Guide" was consulted, and the various points verified: half way between a House Sparrow and a Robin in size, entirely black head and chest, ending abruptly where the pure white underparts began, the black, flake like tail with white on either side.

Grouped with the Sparrows this so-called Ground Robin gets its living by scratching among the leaves, of which its nest is built on the ground. The female resembles her mate, but brown replaces his black. Unfortunately this handsome bird comes only to southern Canada, and even there it is so rare that the loud, clear, "Tow-hee-e-e-e," is seldom heard.

Cow Sympathy Pays Dividends

By PROF. G. RAITHBY

Sad faced, sore shouldered, sagging backed, slaphappiness fed, these terms describe fish appearance and possibly indicate the feelings of a large number of dairy cows at this season of the year. Sad because they cannot get out in the sunlight and possibly because even yet the increasing air of the spring season, tired in body from the long confinement in limited space and feet grown out at all proportions because of lack of exercise.

Lack of labor, the cruelty of the winter weather and the danger of injury on ice and snow, created conditions whereby many cows are never out of the stall from November to May. Six to seven months standing in an area about forty inches wide and fifty inches or more long little wonder they appear tired of standing when spring comes. The sudden change from stable feeding to soft grass and from close confinement to active exercise is often hard on milking cows. With the hope of trying to eliminate some of the difficulties some suggestions are made:—

First, on the problem of change of feeding. It is dry, very dry, at this season, pasture is soft and full of moisture. The sudden change from dry to wet feeding may cause rather severe scouring. Give the cows access to a little hay, either in the yard or in the manger, to overcome some of this trouble. They may not eat much on the start but will usually take a fairly large amount in the course of a few days.

As the pasture herbage matures and the cows become accustomed to it, the feeding of hay may be discontinued. However, some dairymen give their cows access to some dry feed at all times and report good results.

Second most cows act rather foolish when first turned out, running, pawing, and generally acting in a kittenish manner not becoming to a staid at maternity bovine. However, this first day performance has to be worked off regardless of whether the cows are turned out early or late in the season.

If possible let them out in a yard or small field for a few hours each day before turning them on regular pasture. This will get the "run" out of them without having the pastures unduly tramped. Don't have old troughs, logs or barbed wire or boards with nails protruding in the yard when the cows are first turned from the stable. By the second or third day out the "run" is well worked off and all too frequently many cows are so sore in joints and muscles they can barely walk. This is caused by the sudden change and excess exercise when first let loose. This soreness is often aggravated by excessively long feet which tends to throw an un-

Social Security Objectives of '45 Still Govt. Stand

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 9. (CP) Health Minister Martin said last night the Dominion's Social Security objectives placed before the provinces in August, 1945, "still stands as the objectives of the present government."

In an address prepared for delivery at the annual dinner meeting of the Canadian Welfare Council, Mr. Martin said the road to "health, security and happiness" would not be an easy one to travel, but the general outlines were "clear enough".

The federal government's proposals included a national health program, Old Age Pensions at 70 without means test, extension of Unemployment Insurance to cover all employed persons and a program of conservation and development of national resources.

The government's proposals on health insurance were "designed to put provincial governments in a financial position to develop and administer" the scheme, worked out by progressive stages upon an agreed basis.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Thinker

Aycoley Cupert is quite a character. He believes in being very practical. But he is not very practical about it. Like in his attitude about artificial ace-and-king showing conventions.

He and others have an aversion for signals that are seemingly unnatural. So do we all who enjoy bridge. But until we find something better, we use a few peculiarities side for the best bridge

Sent to me was this pair of partnership hands:

SOUTH	NORTH
♠K Q 4	♠K 9 3
♥A K 10 9	♥Q 8 5 2
♦A K Q 9 7	♦J 8 6 5 4 3
♣K 10	♣Q 6 5

It seems they reached a grand slam. Having failed to learn that an ace is unbeatable, they went down one trick. South assumes this is no fault of his system and only an unlucky break.

The letter states: "My idea is to play as natural bridge as can be done. So, I do not believe in ace-and-king showing conventions. I wonder what you think of my system with opening two bids.

"If I open with a two bid and partner jumps to five in my suit, it is a slam try. What I do next depends entirely on the strength of my opening hand.

"If my opening was on less than minimum requirements, I pass. If I had the customary values, I go to six. If my hand has added values, I go to seven.

"We get along fine with it and thus eliminate the need for any artificial bids. Of course, sometimes get caught short as we or his a bad break in a finesse. But who doesn't?"

Naturalness is commendable. But when the danger signal cannot be discovered otherwise, one need not be ashamed of substituting the aid of an artificial means. Providing it is admissible.

Slams are dependent upon having enough aces and kings. Until we find a more natural method of determining them, conventions help. And how!

Even when your eyes are good, a telescope helps.

The Movie Column

By RON GADSBY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

We wonder tremulously what Hollywood will do to it but the classic novel, "The Winter Comes," by A.S.M. Hutchinson, is slated for conversion to the screen. Too often these writers have a machine building with butcher knives in their hands when they go to work on a perfectly fine novel and the result is enough to send you either stop reading or going to the movies.

Notched example of rational treatment to a classic story was the celluloid version of "The Razor's Edge" but it was a too rare exception to the general format. Here's hoping they let writer come all by itself.

Slated for lead roles in the screen version are Walter Pidgeon and Deborah Kerr.

The story concerns a soldier, wounded in battle, who returns only to be charged with infidelity by his wife and who is sued for divorce. But but broken by the injustices heaped on him, Mark Salve (Walter Pidgeon) finds happiness in the affection of a woman he has known and loved since youth. Then, with the bride of another thickens the plot in a pliable consistency and the resulting events strictly for adult entertainment.

Old Geezies Again,

Like Charlie Chaplin, Harold Lloyd doesn't make a movie often, but when he does it is usually quality material. For quite a while now, he has been working on a high pressure comedy effort called "The Sin of Harold Diddlebock."

Well, don't look for it under that name because United Artists have decided to change it, and that is that.

But by any other name, Harold Lloyd will be terrific. And he will stir the cutfronters as he always has done. Incidentally, the last scenes in the picture will be taken from "The Freshman," the last one he made. If you're a member that far back, "The Freshman" is a college man and the new show will pick it up from his graduation to, who knows where. Should be great.

KNOWN BY BOOTS

Roman functionaries and officials boots of varying colors to distinguish them from lesser folk.

AT THE McCARTHY — Portraying victims of a mesalliance, Dana Andrews and Virginia Mayo star in Samuel Goldwyn's brilliant drama, "The Best Years of Our Lives," currently playing at the McCarthy Theatre, which William Wyler directed and RKO Radio releases. Also starred are Myrna Loy, Fredric March and Teresa Wright.

AT THE BELLE — Jeanne Crain, Glenn Langan and Lynn Bari featured with Canada's own Alan Young in the 20th Century Fox heart-warming Technicolor comedy, "Margie," due today at the Belle Theatre.

AT THE CAPITOL — A scene from Samuel Goldwyn's terrific mother-love production "Stella Dallas," starring Barbara Stanwyck in the feature role with John Boles, Ann Shirley and Alan Hale. The novel by Olive Higgins Prouty opens Monday at the Capitol Theatre.

CHINESE GAS

The Chinese probably first used gas for lighting by piping natural gas into bamboo tubes from salt mines.

In Manhattan

By PAT USSHER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, May 10. (CP) — Amid a sorry sequence of flops one new Broadway production, a twin bill of musical plays by Gian-Carlo Menotti, starts out as a mountain peak dominates surrounding hillocks.

The Medium" and "The Telephone" for which Mr. Menotti composed the music, the lyrics and the libretto provides an interesting, unusual evening of theatrical entertainment.

The two plays, "The Medium" a chilling melodrama and "The Telephone" a piece of light, spoofing, provide a fine contrast. Every word is sung and the music in "The Medium" is to character, is particularly effect/e, Mr. Menotti builds his se/ree play around a fake medium /ame/ ed Madame Flora who quickly becomes obsessed with the idea that there is something/eal in her phoney occult world and ends by murdering one of her accomplices in a drunken parlc. "The Telephone" is a light curtain-raiser about a man desperately in love with a girl whose addiction to the telephone never gives him enough time to propose to her.

Louis Kronenberger of /M, a critic of high standards, says "there is genuine melodramatic power in 'The Medium'," and commends it for its narrative quality.

Top Flop

"Heads or Tails", billed as a farce, reached Broadway via the Cort Theatre the night after the Menotti dramas opened. Its chief claim to distinction is that it is backed financially by some 3,000 individuals who bought tickets in advance. Unfortunately for the backers, this play by H. J. Lengsfelder and Erwin Drake proved to be just about the worst play of the season. Under the co-operative backing plan, evolved by Lengsfelder, the individual "Angels" were promised a proportionate share of any profits. Losses would be assumed by the producers.

Going

Four productions close this week. The Gielgud production of Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" gives its 83rd and last New York performance tonight. Also closing tonight are Joan of Lorraine, the Ingrid Bergman vehicle; "The Chocolate Soldier", and "Tenting Tonight".

BATTING & PITCHING STARS
(By The Associated Press)
Batting: Emil Verban, Phillies hits third hit off Dodger pitching, and 11th straight safe, with triple off Andy Seminick with bases full in run of 6-3 game.
Pitching: Warren Spahn, Braves — Chalked up fourth straight win with 8-3 victory over New York.

Slugger Clint Hartung Finds New Giant Role on the Mound, Hurls Six Scoreless Innings

Boston In First-Place Tie With Chicago Because Dodgers Lose to Phillies

Ready, By JACK HAND
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Clint Hartung, fabulous New York Giants rookie who was supposed to throw better than Bobby Feller and hit better than Babe Ruth, has turned out to be a pitcher.

During a long spring training session, Manager Mel Ott toyed with the idea that Clint was an outfielder. He started the season with him in left field, still under same mistaken belief.

After risking life, limb and pitchers' reputations for two weeks, Mel beckoned the big fellow to the bench and entrusted him with that historic, tricky, spectacular brand of baseball, pitching for Eau Claire in the Class C Northern League.

Bill Voiselle and Mike Budnick had been tossed roughly by Boston yesterday, yielding six runs in the first three innings, so Ott decided to unveil Hartung as a big league pitcher.

Clint shut out the hard-hitting Braves the rest of the way, allowing only two singles in six innings and striking out five.

Johnny Mize with homer and William Marshall's third got two of the runs back but the Giants succumbed to Warren Spahn's fancy lefthanded pitching 6-3.

Boston was rewarded with its first-place tie with Chicago, which thumped Cincinnati, 5-1, because Brooklyn fell from the top by losing an 11-inning night game to the Phillies, 4-3.

Hank Wyse mesmerized the Reds, allowing only five hits.

Hugh Casey of the Dodgers went to the well once too often in Shibe Park before 22,685 frosted fans when he yielded a decisive run on Ethan Verban's double scoring Andy Seminick in the 11th. Dutch Leonard who replaced starter Oscar Judd of Ingersoll, Ont., was the eventual winner.

Even Bobby Feller had to work hard to get a decision as the Indians before Cleveland topped Detroit 6-5, on Joe Gordon's third hit of the night.

Chicago regained the American League lead from Detroit by zooming out the Tigers 3-1, with Ormal Grove handling Hal Newhouser his fourth successive setback.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinals — Connected as he was suffering from acute appendicitis and made plans to go to St. Louis for operation.

Hank Greenberg, Pirates — Had X-Ray pictures taken of right shoulder for possible bone chips.

Jackie Robinson, Dodgers — Singled and doubled off Phillies pitching, scoring twice as Brooks bowed in 11 innings 6-5.

Musial Ordered To Have Operation For Appendicitis

(By The Canadian Press)

The World Series champions of last season, the St. Louis Cardinals, already entered into a hard-luck streak this year, suffered another slow yesterday when their great first baseman, Stan Musial was taken ill with acute appendicitis and was ordered to undergo an immediate operation.

Assault, star of the King Ranch's race-horse string and 1946 triple crown winner, took an easy half length lead to win the Dixie Handicap at Pimlico Park, Baltimore, Friday, and moved into third place in the all-time turf money-winning list.

The Toronto Beaches fastball league opens its season this afternoon when Ontario Champions Toronto Tip Tops meet People's the first game and Bowies Lunch and Cahava Colts tangle in the second.

Seventy Canadian hockey players who have been playing in Scottish League will leave for home April 17. Leading scorers in the league were Johnny Myles formerly of Kingston Vics, with 198 points, and Johnny Kwask of Edmonton who trailed him by one point.

Reports from Kitchener say Wilbert (Dutch) Hiller, veteran pro hockey player, who is being counted on to play with the Kitchener - Waterloo club Ontario Hockey Association next season, is well on the way to regaining his amateur status. Toronto Maple Leafs, who have his contract, have agreed to put Dutch on the voluntary retired list.

Bruce Wells of London, Ont., emerged as top man among Canadian shooters at the three-day amateur trapshooting championships of America, which began yesterday at Travers Island N.Y., Wells tied for third place in the class "C" doubles with 79, and placed second in the class "D" singles with an 89, and was the only Canadian to finish in the money at the end of the first day of play. Other Canadians competing included John J. McHale, London, Ontario champion, and Sam Vance of Tillsonburg formr Canadian champion.

The United States Hockey League will play a 66-game schedule next season six more than that during 1946-47, directors decided at the league's annual meeting in St. Paul, Minn., yesterday. The change will bring the circuit into line with sessions of the National and American Hockey Leagues.

COMES INTO FORTUNE

Beverly Hills, Calif., May 10 — (AP) — Just 21, actress Jane Withers has come into a $375,000 fortune which she herself earned. The former juvenile star received deeds to the family home yesterday from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Withers. The home is valued at $250,000, and with it went other real estate worth $75,000, and $50,000 in annuities.

PREAKNESS POT $138,140 AND ELEVEN TO GO

Much Depends on Weather Because Jet, Pilot Likes an Off-Track

By JOHN CHANDLER

Baltimore, May 10 (AP) — Jet Pilot, front-running flyer from Maine Chance Farm, and 10 other colts who aren't sure about the Kentucky Derby beatens, are selected to shoot for the $138,140 Preakness pot today, but they really ought to let the weather man be an added starter.

With a record Pimlico crowd of around 45,000 predicted for Maryland's premier turf classic, so much seems to depend upon whether rains or shines that the weather man has been quoted more than the horses.

Now everybody knows that the Jet Job won the Derby in offooting because he seems to like the stuff. And the general idea is that he won't do so well over a fast strip in the mile and threesixteenths Preakness, which is one-sixteenth shorter than the Derby.

There seemed little doubt that Jet Pilot and the Virginia-bred Phalanx, owned by C. V. (Sonny) Whitney and Abe Hewitt and second to the Pilot in the Blue Derby, would be established co-favorites at around 3 to 1. And there is a growing sentiment for Calumet Farm's Faultless, which won right from third spot at the finish of the Louisville run.

If it's the ties for the out and run with Jet Pilot, there are several who can do it. Whether they can stay up there is another matter. In this category are Sir Wrack owned by Edward J. Bax, Louisville undertaker; Mrs. Barclay E. Douglas' Secret and Harry M. Taylor of Toronto's Cornish Knight.

Move is Made To Eliminate The Color Line
London, May 10 — (AP)—Colonial-Secretary Creech Jones has put the weight of his high office behind a move to eliminate the color line from British boxing.
Under the ban Negro boxers may not fight for British boxing titles, although they are entitled to contest British Empire crowns.
Creech Jones held a conference on the "color bar" yesterday. The conference included John Lewis, Labor M. P. who raised the issue in Parliament following a fight in which Cliff Anderson, Negro boxer from British Guiana, lost a close bout which British boxing writers said he had won.
Lewis had written the British Boxing Board of Control, asking for a public conference on the color bar.
Creech Jones said he agreed "whole-heartedly" with Lewis' proposal, and urged the board to agree to the conference.

TORONTO LEAFS MOVE TO THIRD IN INT. LEAGUE

Oscar Grimes Had Perfect Four for Four in Defeating Newark 10-1

(By The Associated Press)

Bob Kuzava, sensational Baltimore southpaw, is making manager Lou Boudreau of Cleveland wonder if he didn't make a mistake in sending him out for more seasoning.

In his first two starts with the Orioles of the International League, the giant-sized lefthander has allowed only one run and a total of ten hits defeating both Montreal and Rochester.

Kuzava showed Rochester fans his strikeout pitch yesterday as he whiffed seven Red Birds in recording a six-hit 3-0 victory.

Another rookie, down from the big league to acquire more polish, turned back Syracuse as Len Kretlow of Buffalo pitched and batted the Bisons to a 4-3 win in a game played under chilly conditions.

Kretlow, a Detroit farmhand, slammed two doubles, drove in one run and scored another while limiting the chiefs to six hits. He struck out seven.

Johnny Van Cuyk one of Branch Rickey's young prospects, registered his first win for Montreal, trimming the league-leading Jersey City Giants 6-3.

Norm Brown, who had a trial with the Athletics last season, handcuffed Newark as Toronto hammered the Bears' pitching staff from pillar to post 10-9.

Oscar Grimes had a perfect four for four including a 400-foot triple that drove in two runs in the first inning. Goody Rosen knocked in four Toronto scores.

Sports Roundup

New York, May 10 — (CP) — No matter his anguish or greatness, the circus clown is appreciated by the public only as a comic whose antics bring out the belly laughs. His glory lies in his foolish if not absurd talents . . . Such a man is Tony Galento, the Orange, N. J., innkeeper who has left his duties as a guardian of the taps for the more "exhilarating" field of wrestling . . . on the canvas he should feel right at home, for Two-ton Tony had the ways and the appearances of a wrestler even when he was battling for the heavyweight boxing championship of the world . . . he had no style — just a tree-trunk left hand capable of knocking down any man in the world it landed on . . . On the night of June 29, 1939 when Galento at 233½ pounds landed his thunderous left on champion Joe Louis' head in the second round the Brown Bomber went down . . . Although the blow missed landing flush on Louis' chin by inches and Joe came up without taking a count, the champion still remembers that punch . . . and Galento felt Louis' full fury after that as Joe blasted him into helplessness in the 4th round.

Human Ox

Galento's contempt for his opponents and his faulting speech-es about them was authentic but many of his other actions were the doings of his late manager, Joe Jacobs, who ballyhooed the "Newark Nightingale" to the top of the heavyweight challengers.

When he stepped into the ring against Louis the New Jersey barkeep had been built up by Jacobs as a human ox, immune to pain, whose body was padded with fat stronger than muscle. Actually only his courage and punch made him a threat. Many fighters found him soft because he was winded after a few rounds and even light jabs would start the blood coming from his many tissue - paper scars.

STAMPEDERS CAN EVEN SERIES BY BEATING ROYALS

Sixth Game for Allan Cup and Dominion Senior Title ot be Played in Toronto

Toronto, May 10 — (CP) — Two great Canadian senior amateur hockey teams were ready to continue tonight the battle for the Allan Cup and the Canadian senior championships. The Montreal Royals, eastern champions, were none too confident as they faced the Calgary Stampeders, champions of the west.

Montreal took an early lead in the series but Calgary by winning tonight could bring the count up to a dead-even tie at three games apiece in the best-of-seven final. And neither the Montreal nor Calgary coaches would predict the result.

Russ Dertell in the Calgary goal could conceivably make all the difference. He looked bad in a couple of the previous games; he looked wonderful when Calgary won the fifth game on the only goal scored. So far Montreal has outscored Calgary 19-6.

Montreal won the first game 7-3. Calgary took the second 2-1. Montreal took the third 7-0 and the fourth 4-0. And leading by 3-1 in games, needing only one more victory, Montreal lost the fifth game here Wednesday by 1-0.

Toronto, May 10 (CP).—It isn't fall but it's cold enough for football chatter about the digskin. And that may account for the cold reception given a report that Ottawa Roughriders of "Big Four" football, have made offers to two former New York Giants disbarred from professional ranks because they had dealings with gamblers.

Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson writes that it is difficult "to think of anything more stupid than the suggestion that any club in the Canada's "Big Four" should employ the services" of the pair. Frank Filchock and Merle Mapes.

"Nobody wishes to kick a man when he's down but what if one of these players should, quite honestly, fumble the ball in a crucial play and lose his club the game" says Ferry of the Ottawa report.

Football is coming into bigger things than ever in Canada and, he adds, no team can take such a chance. "The players weren't good enough for the American professional league and standards in Canada hold equally high."

3¢ Freighters Locked in Ice Field at Buffalo

Buffalo, N.Y., May 10. (AP) — The U.S. Coast Guard's ice-breaker Mackinaw yesterday began smashing up a Lake Erie ice field which has locked 36 freighters just outside Buffalo harbor for several days.

Commander C. H. Stober, skipper of the 9,000-ton Mackinaw, concluded his survey of the task with the comment that it would be "a long job".

He added that the "slush ice" is "difficult to steer through and the channel we cut closes in rapidly."

Stober said the 10,000-horsepower vessel would "make a path" and ships would follow close to its stern.

One of the first ships to be freed was the incoming steamship Frank Billings, a grain ship of the Hutchinson fleet of Cleveland.

CHAPTER 12

Cherry was agog as she clung to Dan's arm, and walked through the wide halls and magnificent rooms. Curt had carried out the colonial effect down to the last detail.

"It's like turning the pages of history back to the Old South before the Civil War," April said breathlessly, as colored servants opened doors and bowed them into rooms filled with priceless colonial furniture, even to canopied beds and old spinning wheels.

Kenny was quite puzzled with the grandeur of the place as he tagged along, clinging to Penny's hand. Once he asked:

"Is it a fairy palace, Penny? Does a beautiful princess live here?"

"No," Penny sighed, smiling and showing her breast teeth. "Only me. And I'm certainly not beautiful."

Gay who walked behind the party with the children put an arm around her.

"You are so beautiful!" she smiled down at her tenderly. "You've got the loveliest brown eyes and black hair I've ever seen in my life. Little girls are never too pretty if they're going to grow up to be very, very beautiful. Didn't you know that?"

Penny accepted Gay's face hopefully.

"Really?" she asked. "Are you really telling the truth?" Will I be pretty maybe some day? Mrs. Seeley says I look like a string bean with a funny face on it."

"And who," Gay asked, "might Mrs. Seeley be? She sounds very silly."

"She's my governess," Penny sighed. "I guess she is a very good governess, but sometimes she's sort of a Sour Puss, I think. I must say she isn't very encouraging."

When Gay gave her a tight squeeze Penny said seriously:

"You must have been a very ugly little girl. Because you're the most beautiful lady I have ever seen in my life."

"Why thank you darling," Gay smiled. "That's a lovely compliment.

"I mean it," Penny said stoutly. "You ought to be in the movies."

Kenny's favorite spot was the basement where Curt De Witt had built a tremendous swimming pool, and beyond it a gymnasium with every sort of equipment imaginable. There was even a tennis court, and billiard and ping pong tables. One entire floor was taken up with equipment for exercise or play. Penny had a special rumpus room of her own down there.

Dinner was a parade of pomp with soft candle light and the flames from a great open fire place lending enchantment to the beauty of the setting. Priceless silver and linens and chinaware, and food fit for the gods. April felt as though she were living through a dream. It was all so incredible.

She whispered to Cherry:

"Well, it's kind of nice seeing how the other half lives. Isn't it? I wish I could give you a home like this, Sugar."

Cherry smiled, touching his hand.

"I'd love you if you didn't even have a job, and you know it. It takes more than money to make people happy."

Pat's thin dark face broke into a pleased grin. Could that really be Cherry spouting such old fashioned homilies?

Later Curt told April grinning:

"You can see why I'm so anxious to marry you, darling. Your Southern dialect fits in so nicely with the furniture."

"Oh I see," April laughed. I'm just a piece of it."

A few days later Cherry announced that she was going to hunt for a job. She wouldn't go back to modeling, she declared, but would look for something else to do. April thought she should go home and finish college, if she weren't going to marry Pat.

But Cherry refused to even consider such a thing. She still felt she couldn't face the girls in school after what she had been through. She would be a model, loyalty, and no one would believe she had really changed.

"I've got enough money with my salary to support us, if you will marry me honey," Pat had told her unhappily when she said she was going to work.

There was still a fear in his mind that she might get back into the old world if she got a job. She was so young and impressionable and temperamental.

But Cherry, even though she assured Pat of her love, declared stoutly she would not marry him and hurt his career. He had a wonderful opportunity with Curt De Witt, and she wasn't going to be the one to spoil his chances.

When Cherry started job hunting she discovered that, in so far as business offices were concerned, she was just another pretty little blonde who didn't look as though she would ever settle down to anything serious. Women personnel managers, Cherry found, positively resented her.

What did she have to offer with nothing but a few weeks in college to her credit, and no business experience or any sort? Cherry was surprised that out of all the places she went looking for a job in the next few days no one recognized her face or the name as the girl who had been in the headlines such a little while before.

When Curt Lord heard Cherry had been job hustling for several days he said at the apartment in Douglaston one evening:

"Why didn't you tell me you wanted to be a business woman, Cherry? I'd have saved you all that shoe leather. I'll give you a card to Mr. Lovell, our personnel manager, tomorrow and tell him to put you on as a receptionist."

Cherry shook her head, smiling at him affectionately.

"That's out! Haven't you done enough for us? After all you gave Pat a chance, and look at all the wonderful things you've done for April!"

"You'll earn your salary," Curt scribbled a message on the back of a card and handed it to her. "Mr. Lovell will see to that. And if you don't he'll fire you. He stands for no nonsense."

April sighed:

"Curt, you shouldn't! It's amazing the way you go around saving fairy wands and listening for that thing for everybody. I honestly don't know how we ever got along without you."

Curt caressed her with his eyes. "I hope you'll never try getting along without me again, darling."

Cherry smiled knowingly. They weren't fooling her. She felt definitely certain. Curt and April were engaged.

"I'll bring very well," Curt told Cherry then. "Tufts, the head of the legal department says the boy has a great future ahead of him."

"Oh, I'm glad," Cherry smiled happily. "I think he's got a wonderful mind."

"That isn't all," Curt said seriously. "He's got character. If you let him slip out of your hands and marry someone else, you're a very foolish girl."

"Marry someone else!" Cherry scoffed. "Pat wouldn't marry anyone but me!"

April broke in: "Don't be too sure of that. You can't expect to keep him hanging around living on hope forever. You are young to marry. But I'd much rather see you married and settled down with Pat Hastings than going to business."

"So would I," Curt agreed. "Marriage is the best thing in the world for little girls that are too pretty. It's the best career they can find."

Cherry said seriously: "I know you all worry about me. I know you don't even trust me. But I'll be all right. You'll see. I won't disgrace you again."

Said April quickly: "Oh, darling, you haven't disgraced us! Don't be so melodramatic. Of course I trust you. If I hadn't known you were just getting a wild out of your system, I'd have sent you right home to mother when you arrived from Virginia."

Cherry scoffed, smiling: "You and who else! I wouldn't have gone!"

Cherry went to work as a receptionist at the Sherlock Steel Company the next day. She was demure as a daisy in a navy blue tailored dress with white collar and cuffs when Curt De Witt passed her desk just before five o'clock.

"How'd you do, Miss Lind," his brown eyes twinkled at her. "How's business?" The formality was for Miss Brown who sat nearby breaking in the new receptionist.

Cherry's pansy eyes worshipped him as she smiled:

"Just fine thank you, Mr. De Witt." Then under her breath, "I'm so happy I could die. I love it!"

Miss Brown said surprised when Curt had gone out:

"Oh, do you know, Mr. De Witt?"

"He's an old friend of my sister's," Cherry busied herself with a paper and pencil making notes and trying to look very much occupied.

Miss Brown was quite deferentially considerate from that moment on. It could easily be seen that the president of Sherlock Steel was worshipped by his employees.

"He's the salt of the earth," Cora Brown enthused. "This is one plant where there'll never be a strike. Anything the boss says goes, Mr. De Witt worked himself up the hard way, and he never has any of his people down. No matter who they are."

Cherry was going to tell Miss Brown that she was pretty sure, Mr. De Witt was going to be her brother-in-law; that he was madly in love with her sister. But she restrained herself with an effort. Cherry could hold her tongue, which was one of her good qualities. It would be a help to her in the business world.

It was the next Sunday when, Curt was having dinner with the family in Douglaston that April announced their engagement to the inner circle; Cherry, Gay and Pat.

"We're going to be married," April smiled shyly as she took Curt's hand and held it to her cheek. "I suppose you might have suspected it."

"Oh, darling," Cherry cried jumping up to kiss both her sister and Curt. "I'm so happy!"

Gay had known, but she pretended surprise. Pat jumped Curt's hand grinning broadly:

"Well, bless my soul! Isn't this a great day in the mornin'? Well, we're sure mighty glad to welcome you into the family, Mr. De Witt. I'm not exactly a member of the family yet, but I will be some day when Cherry gets so old she's afraid no one else will marry her."

Kenny was in the kitchen with Hyacinthe, April said uncertainly: "We haven't any thing for Kenny yet. Not until our plans are made. We won't say anything to anyone as a matter of fact. Let's keep it a family secret for a little while."

"You're going to be married right away, aren't you?" Cherry wanted to know. "It isn't going to be one of those long engagements, I hope."

Curt grinned: "Thanks Cherry for putting me in a corner. I've been trying to get April to elope. If I thought very suddenly some of these times you'll know I've hit her over the head and carried her off to a parson."

Cherry laughed. "That's the best way to keep her from getting cold feet. I'm for it. Be a brave man."

Pat asked: "What are you going to do about your radio career, April? Are you going to give it up?"

"But why?" Gay asked, puzzled: "Why should you feel sorry for Curt?"

"He loves me so much. He's so good. And I have nothing to give him but gratitude. It—isn't right. He—deserves so much more."

Gay smiled. "Oh, darling, you'll feel differently after you're married. It's just that you're still afraid of love and romance. Why when you get it all over with you won't feel this way. It's your nerves. You've been through so much."

April sank back among her pillows wearily:

"I hope so," she sighed heavily. I do hope you're right. But sometimes I think I just can't go through with it, Gay. And now I've gone so far I can't back out."

Gay looked at her closely: "You aren't in love with Hill anymore, are you?"

"Whipper" Watson Defeats John Katan to Retain Empire Wrestling Crown

Sorry, ladies and gentlemen, there is nothing to report about last night's wrestling match. That is, outside of the fact that "Whipper" Billy Watson defended his title against the mat motions of one John Katan.

As a matter of fact, the "Whipper" although subjected to terrific punishment, finally came through with a straight two-fall victory that firmly established the British Empire crown on his polished noggin despite the aspiring efforts of "the fingers".

It wasn't funny, John Katan, to give him his full credit carried the battle to the "Whip" throughout the two-falls. Not only that but he had the idea, and at times it seemed right, that Referee "Bunny" Dunlop "had it in for him", and the lucky Canadian-Ukrainian rightfully battled the umps and the champion.

In fact it was a typical Watson-Katan battle. Big John who perhaps was deserving of a better fate, even carried his anger over the decision of the first fall when he was counted out when outside the ring to the dressing room. Incensed Dunlop with a hot verbal barrage and gentlemen, he wasn't fooling. Katan is a very forceful character when he wants to be and last night was one occasion.

Katan clearly had the champion in a bad way several times in the first fall, and it was plain to be seen that he was trying for his famous "chin-lock" hold. But the elusive ring-wise champion was having none of that sort of stuff and hurled the Katan out of the ring on one or two occasions. In fact Katan reciprocated in like manner in the first fall and the pair slugged it out, rolled on the ropes while the crowd howled and Referee Dunlop cursed.

In fact that is how the "Whip" won the first fall. Whatever Katan did no one but Referee Dunlop knows because that worthy merely raised the "Whipper's" right token of victory, while a surprised but delighted crowd yelled its approval.

But, Katan did not see eye to eye with the umps. He even took him on for a brief session, to no avail. The second fall saw an enraged Katan let loose with everything he had in his bag of wrestling tricks. He prodded, punched and pushed, but the champion met him with his own method of defence, to eventually pin the Palermo Panther to win the bout and retain his British Empire wrestling crown.

Ely Lee, huge Arkansas giant, who dispenses with 24 eggs at a sitting, and likes it off with the pounds of steak, made a big hit with the crowd. The young man he is only 22 years of age, is to quote himself, "fresh from the hilly mountings of Arkansas."

Of splendid physical proportions, the young Ely Lee proved that he knows more than a few wrestling answers of it. He appears headed for a successful mat career. He stands six feet five inches in his woollies and there isn't a spare pound of flesh on his huge frame. He manhandled Lew Newman, no pushover, in rather easy fashion last night, and his style, appearance and method immediately installed him a favorite with the faithful.

The old favorite Pierre DeGlaine was back last night in the preliminary match and successfully stalled off the villainous tactics of Al. Kruiser Kornman. The pair wrestled to a draw after thirty minutes of spirited action.

APPEALS AGAINST ORDER

Los Angeles, May 10 — (AP)— An appeal will be filed, George G. (Buddy) De Sylva has indicated, against a court order directing him to pay $750 monthly support for his three-year-old illegitimate son, Stephen. The wealthy retired film producer gave notice Thursday on grounds that the order was "unreasonably excessive."

Sports Shorts from Britain

By JACK SULLIVAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 10 — (CP)—Cambridge University's 10-length victory over Oxford in this year's boat race caused quite a ripple in rowing circles but, on the surface, they weren't that good. Oxford, it seems, was rowing "uphill."

About 10 power boats, loaded with "privileged persons," followed the race and a London Times letter-writer who had a "thames-side view" of the big event, has figured it this way—

"The power boats . . . were spread out over nearly the whole width of the river. I should have said that there was less distance between the power boats and Oxford than between Oxford and Cambridge . . . There may have been 500 or 1,000 horsepower shoving the water astern and consequently drawing back the water from ahead."

"Perhaps the simple way to express what was happening is to say that Oxford were rowing uphill unless they were immediately in the bow-wave of a power boat" he wrote.

He found the problem "quite an ordinary one for a qualified physician" but his own quick estimate "without correct knowledge of the power and displacement of the power boats, and taking 4,000 square feet as the water section of the river, is that the average drawback of the water across the river would be no greater to one half feet a second."

In 20 minutes this would roughly mean five to 10 boat lengths he said, adding: "It can be worked out mathematically by any expert in hydraulic science."

"Surely there can be little doubt that this effect is there!" he asked. His conclusion: The problem should be referred to two committees (1) advisory, and (2) research.

It's an idea.

A lot of people have been writing letters to editors panning the government's decision to ban midweek sports, but Rev. D. B. Strudwick, vicar of St. Luke's Church, Camberwell, Surrey, took advantage of his parish magazine to tell readers the move was "monumentally stupid." He was surprised that folk hadn't raised "more outcry."

"And to say it would be unfair to stop some sports whilst interfere with production and not others, or that because some people must be employed, it is just silly. That is just 'levelling down'. It's like saying that as the prime minister is a 'little thin on top' everyone must have their heads shaved."

Step up and meet 91-year-old Solomon Janney, snooker champion of the Gentlemen's Club, Beverly, Yorkshire. He had to spot the black, the last ball of the last game, to beat Richard Atkinson, more than 40 years his junior.

And Janney did it without glasses.

MICE EAT WOODEN LEG

New York, May 10 (CP)—Farmer David Strachan of Nandaly, Australia is in a sad plight. Mice have eaten through his wooden leg. Now, they're starting to work on his furniture.

Reporting the incident today, the Australian News and Information Service described the area as suffering from a "mouse plague", and added that "mice frolic around cats too full of other mice to bother them."

Happy reunion marks arrival by plane of Andrew and Christine Korsak, 10-year-old twins, at Edmonton to join their father, K. Korsak, formerly of Toronto, engineer in an industrial plant there. He last saw them in Poland, Sept. 8, 1939, war service intervening. Mother died of typhus two years ago.

Kangaroo Delegate to Byline Ball Will be Flown Across Pacific

By WILLIAM STEWART
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Sydney, Australia, May 10 (CP). —The air trip to Canada of Bluey, kangaroo delegate to the Toronto Men's Press Club byline ball, on June 7, will help former Australian airmen atone for a little leg-pulling of five years ago.

When word passed around Sydney that the Journalists' Club was arranging to fly the kangaroo across the Pacific for the byline ball, former members of the Royal Australian Air Force now back in newspaper work, recalled the case of the "missing blue kangaroo" with which they amused themselves in Canada in 1942.

The incident also confirmed the kangaroo's name—Bluey.

The story the Aussie airmen tell is now early in the war members of the R.C.A.F. turned over the clock from a Messerschmitt to a group of R.A.A.F. men training in Canada for their mess. The Australians promised to return the compliment.

Time passed, and when a contingent of Australians arrived at the air force depot at Lachine, Que., in 1942, they were reminded about the promise.

Bluey Blew

They were apologetic. They explained sadly that they had brought all the way from Australia a rare "blue kangaroo", one of a few specially-bred in the Blue Mountains near Sydney, to be R.A.A.F. mascots.

Their "blue kangaroo" had escaped near Montreal, they said, and gone off "hopping mad in a westerly direction at 60 miles an hour".

The story goes on that the R.C.A.F. men at Lachine were so upset by loss of the precious mascot that it was no time at all before everyone was looking for it including military police and civil authorities. Radio stations broadcast descriptions of the vanished mascot and asked listeners to be on the lookout.

Bluey Wouldn't Bite

Quite a few Canadians thought they saw the blue kangaroo. An Ontario farmer was said to have spotted it near his barn but was afraid to grab it for fear it would bite.

Finally, the search for the kangaroo was so wide that Australian representatives in Washington heard about it and got in touch with the senior R.A.A.F. officer in Ottawa. So, to relieve national distress, the Australians at Lachine broke down and explained they were only fooling and now Toronto-bound Bluey will make up for the hoax.

From Botany Bay

Bluey who was picked for the trip to Canada by Arthur Crouch, president of the Journalists' Club is a year-old grey kangaroo. One of a family of eight at Aqua Flora Park on Botany Bay, 10 miles from Sydney, Bluey is 30 inches high when he sits up and weighs 30 pounds.

He will be the first kangaroo to fly to Canada. He was flown tomorrow Bluey will be put in a crate and take off that evening from Kingsford Smith airfield for the five-hop trip to Vancouver, arriving there Wednesday, May 21.

Film Depicts Ship's Passage

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police motion picture "Through the Northwest Passage" depicting the passage of the R.C.M.P. supply boat "St. Roche" across the top of the world from Vancouver to Halifax was shown to pupils of the Ontario School for the Deaf this week. Constable Story of the local detachment office was in charge of showing the picture, speaking briefly to the pupils before the picture was shown.

The picture graphically illustrates the hardships which crew members of the supply boat had on their two-year trip across the Arctic. One long winter the ship was frozen in as ice fields caught the "St. Roche" before she had completed the passage. The constable was introduced to the pupils by Superintendent W. J. Morrison.

Barbara Ann Hands Car Keys Back With Tears in Eyes

Returns Ottawa's Gift To Retain Amateur Status

Ottawa, May 12 (CP)—Tears welling up in her blue eyes, Barbara Ann Scott today handed back to Mayor Stanley Lewis the keys to the canary-colored phaeton a grateful city had given her for the honor she brought it in winning the world figure-skating championship.

Her chances of preserving her amateur status and competing in the 1948 Olympic games were presumably enhanced by her action, but it was a heartbreaking wrench for the Capital's 19-year-old sweetheart.

Seeking a moment's refuge behind a friend's car after the ceremony, she sobbed openly, brushing away the tears and smiling a moment later when a battery of newspaper photographers approached.

The ceremony, an informal affair attended only by a few friends and newspaper men — took place at the downtown premises of the automobile dealer who had obtained the car.

Shortly before noon, Barbara Ann, accompanied by her mother, drove the car up before the garage doors, slipped from behind the wheel, stood with mother and handed the key to Mayor Lewis.

"It is real good news to have to take the car back," Mayor Lewis said. "It was both a pleasure and privilege to present the car in recognition of your accomplishments just as it is a sorrow to receive it now.

"City wishes to do everything possible to assist you and regret having to do this."

"You are still Ottawa's sweetheart," he added.

Mrs. Scott said a few words in her stead: "I know she wishes to do her best for Canada and I'm for that reason she has relinquished the car."

Mayor Lewis declined to say what the city plans to do with the automobile, purchase of which was ratified secretly by city council so that the gift would be a surprise.

Deer Watches Crippled Doe Shot

Fort Erie, May 12 —(CP)—

A beautiful buck deer stood beside a group of farmers in a suburban field today and reluctantly watched Provincial Police Constable Elmer Heath fire two shots into its mate, a pretty doe, quivering on the ground with a broken back.

The buck, giving his mate one last glance, then turned and slowly disappeared in the nearby wood.

Frightened Horse Endangers Plane

El Paso, May 12 (AP)— A wild horse rode the heavens between Dallas City and El Paso Saturday.

The gigantic animal, attempting to kick a hole in the side of a four-engined cargo ship, terrorized the plane crew for two hours before the craft made an emergency landing here.

En route to Long Beach, Calif. with eight race horses as cargo, the plane had just left Monterrey when Joselito the 2-year-old became crazed.

The animal broke out its way through three stalls. It was wedged between a stall and the side of the ship when the plane rolled to a stop.

A veterinarian quieted the horse with injections and the animal was made secure for the remainder of the flight.

10 Extra Coupons For Home Canning

Ottawa, May 12 —(CP)— Ten extra ration coupons will again be made available for canning next year for canning purposes, Prices Board officials said the 10 points will be divided by declaring valid in May 10 coupons 1 to 10 inclusive, and July 17, Y6 to Y 10.

The coupons may also be used for the purchase of rationed jams, jellies and preserves.

25 CENTS ADMISSION NEW CANAL PRICE

Toronto, May 12 —(CP)—Sure the cost of living's going up. Directors of the Canadian National Exhibition, preparing to open the great annual show next August after it was suspended in 1941, announced admission fee will be 25 cents instead of the 25 cents price that prevailed since 1879. Two old prices would not cover the increase in cost of putting on exhibits, say the directors.

Forty Drowned as Bus Skids Into Canal Northeast of Cairo

Cairo, May 12 (Reuters)—Forty men returning from exhibitions were drowned Sunday 40 miles northeast of Cairo when their overcrowded bus skidded and plunged into a canal.

A driver and two passengers leaped safely from the bus.

Model Airplane to Initiate Series Of Experiments in Supersonic Aviation

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 12 — (CP)—Faster than sound a rocket-propelled model airplane, shaped like a swordfish, will roar out over the North Atlantic early in June initiating a new series of experiments in supersonic aviation.

Soaring to a height of seven miles and travelling 1,000 miles, the model will automatically send out radar signals giving speed and height attained, the thrust developed by the jet unit and the behavior of the machine in the transition from subsonic to supersonic speeds.

Sir Ben Lockspeiser, chief scientists to the Ministry of Supply, says the experiments are "as important to aviation as the first powered flights made by the Wright Brothers in 1903."

The model is to achieve controlled flight at speeds greater than that of sound — 760 miles per hour at sea level, decreasing to 660 miles per hour at 36,000 feet," he said.

For the first experiment a Mosquito fighter will take off from the R.A.F. station at St. Eval Cornwall, with the rocket model slung under the fuselage. At 36,000 feet the Mosquito pilot will press a level launching the model in the direction of the Scilly Islands.

As the model glides down to 35,000 feet, a rocket motor will open up to accelerate it to more than 800 miles per hour. The pilot's job is expected to last only one minute — just sufficient time for the model's performance to be observed and recorded.

It will then glide for another minute before a mechanical device sends it crashing into the sea in a necessary precaution, since, unchecked, the model would glide on for a further 150 miles with potential danger to sea and air-craft.

Above is pictured an artist's conception of the new Bakelite Company (Canada) Ltd., which is expected to be under construction soon on a seventy-acre site acquired by the company near Gibson's Crossing one mile east of the city. According to an announcement released today by company officials, the plant is expected to employ 250 people, the majority of whom will be male, and after construction is completed, it will operate on a 24-hour-a-day basis, 52 weeks of the year. The plant is being moved from Toronto, and company officials are planning extensive expansion on their new property here. According to the above cut the plan will be an attractive addition to industry of the city and district, with plans calling for extensive landscaping. Construction will be of modern design with the latest ideas in industrial architecture used. Bakelite officials point out that will start as soon as is practicable.

185,000 PHONE WORKERS STILL OUT ON STRIKE

Refusal to Cross Picket Lines of Striking Unions Keeps Thousands Away

New York, May 12 —(AP)— The coast-to-coast telephone strike in the United States entered its sixth week today with an estimated 185,000 members of unions affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone Workers still out.

Their refusal to cross picket lines of striking unions kept many thousands away from their jobs, but in San Francisco the American Communications Association (CIO), declaring the N.F.T.W. strike "has been broken," announced that its 12,000 members in Northern California and Nevada would return to work.

While picket lines maintained by the seven major telephone workers off the job in many places, the New York local announced it was removing picketing today from the Bell Telephone laboratories in Manhattan, where 1,000 members of the Telephone Laboratories Union are returning to work under a $4 weekly increase wage agreement.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, parent organization of the Bell System and Western Electric, said last night that of the 9,000 members of the American Union of Telephone Workers, which reached an agreement last week, only 3,000 had returned to work, because of continuing picketing by other unions.

FIRE LOSS MORE THAN $500,000

Georgetown, British Guiana, May 12 —(CP)— Except for two lone shops, an entire two blocks in the heart of Georgetown's commercial section was a blackened ruin after a fire, which broke out early Friday in a hotel, had swept the district, levelling hotels, shops and business. Damage was estimated at more than $500,000.

250 Will Be Employed Making Plastic Products

The Bakelight Company (Canada) Ltd., Toronto, has purchased a 70-acre plant site on the outskirts of Belleville where it plans to start construction of new plant facilities containing 80,000 square feet for the production of bakelite, phenolic and urea plastics and resins, company officials announced today. Construction of the new plant will start as soon as practical.

The new plant will be erected on a site near Gibson's Crossing, one mile east of the city along Highway No. 2. The site is a composite area of parts of several properties on which the company secured options a few months ago.

Many Co-operate

Location of the Bakelite Company here is due in no small measure to the co-operation of the Belleville Industrial Commission, the Chamber of Commerce and Mr. Carl Crosby, who acted in a real estate capacity. Mayor Frank Pollard and his associates were hosts to high-ranking officials of the company during special visits here prior to the closing of the deal.

When completed, this plant will make available more than twice the tonnage of bakelite moulding setting materials now being produced in Canada. Employment will be furnished to approximately 250 employees, and it is expected the greater majority of these will be local residents.

On 24-hour Basis

It is also expected, officials stated, that when plant construction is completed, it will be operated on a 24-hour-a-day basis, 52 weeks a year.

Bakelite products have been manufactured in Canada for the past 25 years. The wide acceptance of these products by the trade has made this expansion imperative in order to supply the growing needs of Canadian industry. These products are derivatives principally from phenol, urea and formaldehyde. Moulding materials, laminates, resins (such as bonds for grinding wheels, rock wool, glass wool and sandpaper), synthetic glues for use in making light grade plywoods, resin solutions, resins for use in many protective coatings, and lamp baging cements for incandescent bulbs and radio tubes are some of the products which will become available to Canadian industry, with the completion of the new facilities here.

Has Many Uses

A few of the industries in which Bakelite materials are used and which will benefit from these increased manufacturing facilities are:— plastic moulding; radio; telephone; automobile; railway safety signal equipment; plywood; heat insulation for the home, transportation and factory; electrical power supply, transmission and appliances; paint, varnish and abrasive wheels.

The Canadian Housing Program will be advanced by this business expansion, company officials stated. Bakelite plastics are essential to the production of electrical wiring devices, insulating conduits, sockets and heat insulation. Electric refrigerators, stoves, washing machines, electric irons, toasters, and cooking utensils use moulded parts and laminates produced from the raw materials that will be supplied by this new Bakelite Company here.

High-ranking officials of the company at a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Industrial Commission and members of the city council some time ago showed motion pictures which depicted the large field of manufacture owned by the the company. It was stated that the Bakelite Company, the largest Bakelite Company, now in Toronto will be moved here as soon as construction is completed.

Pair Arrested After Chase

Toronto, May 12 (CP)—A hectic chase during which police fired four shots started at 4 a.m. in suburban Port Credit today when a police constable saw a man drive a car with one arm around a girl, and ended a few minutes later, with the pursued vehicle careening into a six-foot ditch near a 40-foot embankment.

The driver, who gave his name as James Lee, 19, of Toronto, is being held by police and the girl, Gloriana Savina, 19, of Toronto, is in hospital with a cut on the side of her head.

The licence plates are in the name of a Toronto man but police believe the car is one reported stolen from a doctor in Port Hope, Ont. Officers found a fingerless glove, three-quarters filled with gasoline, and four or five feet of small rubber hose, in the car.

Life-Size Portrait Of Brig. Genet Unveiled in Mess

Kingston, Ont., May 12 —(CP) —A life-size portrait of Brig. J. E. Genet, C.B.E., M.C., of Belleville, Ont., former chief signal officer of the First Canadian Army overseas, was unveiled Saturday by Col. L. R. Wrinch, C.B.E., director of signals, in the officers' mess of the Royal Canadian School of Signals at nearby Barriefield.

Painted by Morris Codner of London, England, it was purchased by officers of the signal corps in tribute to Brig. Genet's distinguished service in and between two world wars.

POLICE PROBING BLUDGEON-KILLING OF NORTH BAY MAN

Two Empty Whisky Bottles Found Near John W. Nidd's Body

St. Thomas, Ont., May 12—(CP) —Crown Attorney Wilfred Haines today authorized the laying of a murder charge against George Rowe, 25, arrested yesterday following the death of John W. Nidd, 40, in Aylmer.

Rowe, brought into court later, was remanded until tomorrow morning.

Nidd's body, found in an automobile outside a home where he had been attending a party, has been shipped to his home in North Bay, Ont., after an autopsy.

The man's widow and four children reside in North Bay and he had been here only three weeks as an accountant for a housing firm.

He had been waiting Saturday afternoon for a telephone call from his wife in North Bay to tell him of progress made by his daughter, who suffered a broken arm a few Rays ago, and he called the party at Shedden Saturday night to say he had received the call and would be able to attend the party.

It was about 3 a.m. Sunday when one of the party guests, Jack Sivyer, went outside to his parked car and there found Nidd's body. An autopsy was performed by Dr. Walter Armstrong but his findings were not made public. It was understood Nidd had been struck on the head with two large bumps on the back of his head. Two empty bottles of the empty bottles was the death weapon.

George Rowe, 26, who lives near Shedden, was arrested on a charge of failing to appear in court today.

Corporal Ben Milligan, head of the Elgin county detachment of the provincial Police, who said Sunday that a more serious charge might face Rowe, said a "triangle motive" was being studied. He said there had been some quarreling at the party.

No Great Threat of War Between Russia and West Says Ross Munro

By ROSS MUNRO
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London May 12 (CP)— After a month in Moscow, I'd venture no guess at the answer to the real great threat of war between Russia and the west today or in the foreseeable future.

It is based on talks I had with foreign diplomats in the Russian capital and with Russians I could meet. It seems to me now that all the talk in Europe regarding the possibility and even likelihood of war is extravagant jingoism.

If a German settlement can be achieved, or some agreement at least arrived at on basic principles at Big Four meetings this year, relations between the west and Russia may be expected to settle down, with a consequent lessening of the present tension.

If a German settlement cannot be achieved, then I may have overestimated the power Russia would be closed in our time.

But even then war probably would be a long way off.

That is the way I see the situation, and my opinion jibes with that of many responsible diplomatic observers in Moscow we know the Soviet Union backwards.

Tragedy Stalks 'Hoodoo' Ship

Melbourne, Australia, May 12.—(Reuters)— The British "hoodoo" ship Port Abitibi sailed for Sydney after a tragedy-marked 219 day's delay here, for repairs which could have been finished in a few days.

She has cost the British Ministry of War Transport $480,000 in harbor dues, wages and loss of trade.

The 7,000-ton ship arrived last October with a cracked propeller shaft. Just as a replacement was ready for fitting an engineering strike began last November.

When the strike ended recently the fitting took only 3 days.

During this delay the ship's Chinese boats was murdered when returning to the ship after visiting briefly in a gambling den. His murderer later committed suicide in prison.

In February the third engineer, H. Hall, collapsed and died in a suburban cafe.

The engine room and bosun's cabins had to be locked because of the Chinese crew's fear of their spirits.

Now at last she has sailed, but she left behind one of her Chinese seamen to face trial for fatally stabbing a man outside a suburban hotel.

RIGHT LEG FOUND

Winnipeg, May 12 — (CP) — Police tonight were investigating the mystery of a human right leg found hanging from a branch of a tree structure just over the Red River in North Winnipeg.

Police recalled, that an unidentified woman had been reported missing near Emerson, Man., and it was considered likely her body had been dismembered by ragged ice floes and her leg carried by the raging current the 65 miles north from Emerson to Winnipeg, where it snagged on the tree branch.

Weather Synopsis

Toronto, May 12 (CP)—Skies are clear over Southern Ontario and over all the eastern and central states and temperatures over these regions are now somewhat above normal. A disturbance centred north of Lake Superior is causing rain over all of Northern Ontario. It is moving eastward and a strong flow of cold air from the north in the lee of this disturbance will spread over Northern Ontario today.

King and Queen With Princesses Welcomed Home

Crowds Cheer as Carriage Proceeds Through Whitehall

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 12 — (CP) — Almost at the exact hour of their coronation in Westminster Abbey 10 years ago today, the King and Queen, with Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret, returned from their South African tour today amid the thunderous welcome of thousands who crowded in Hyde to a glimpse of them along the flagdraped streets of Portsmouth and London.

After disembarking from the battleship Vanguard, they travelled by train from Portsmouth to London's lofty, glass-roofed Waterloo station where they stepped from their sumptuous oak-panelled coach on to a white carpet hiding the dusty concrete platform.

Formal greetings were given by Prime Minister Attlee and a host of civic and government dignitaries.

The Royal Family stopped and chatted with each in turn while the dark Royal carriage, drawn by Windsor greys, waited for them on the sand-strewn traffic runway. Crowds beyond the platform barriers raised lusty cheers.

Attlee and Home Secretary Zden greeted the Queen with the conventional kiss on the cheek while Brazilian Ambassador Moniz De Aragao, attired like the rest in a top hat and tails, stooped and kissed her hand.

It Seemed and Fit

The King looked bronzed and fit in his customary naval uniform of the Royal Family in three months, and Londoners of the old and low ranks joined in the welcome home.

Bright sunlight shone on the Royal procession after a cloudy beginning to the day, and it seemed so that flowers would be in full bloom almost like Spring when the holiday business with tiny Union Jacks.

One absentee from the welcoming throng was Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, husband of Princess Philip of Greece, whose impending confinement to Princess Elizabeth is taken for granted by most Britons despite official denials. He was on duty guarding a royal gunnery lecture at Corsham, Wiltshire.

Rate Cleared Out By Spraying With Salt

Bear Mountain, N. Y., May 12— (CP) — A plague of bats which struck a roller-skating rink at nearby Lake Kanawauke during the off-season has been reported to be powdered salt.

For when the bats, about 100 of them, dropped from the rafters while at rest, the rink owners decided the only way to would be certain to chase the customers, especially the ladies away.

So the owners called on Dr. C.R. Curran of the American Museum of Natural History, and today he was busy powdering the bats with the salt.

The bat makes the bats thirsty," he explained, "and they leave in quest of water. Once driven out they will not return because of the salt remaining on the rafters."

Under-Secretary Acheson Resigns, Lovett Succeeds

Washington, May 12. (AP)— Dean Acheson resigned today as Under-Secretary of State and President Truman appointed Robert A. Lovett to replace him June 30.

Lovett, a New York banker, is a former assistant secretary of war.

In disclosing the changes, the White House made public a letter in which Truman wrote Acheson of his "great regret" that "I can not agree ask you to put aside your desire to return to private life."

Acheson long has sought to resign and return to private law practice.

Lovett's nomination will be sent to the Senate some time this week.

BOOK RECOVERED

Oshawa, May 12 — (CP) — The body of Mrs. Walter Hulatt, missing since she was swept over a temporary foot-bridge crossing the flood-swollen Oshawa creek here, was recovered yesterday on the creek bank near the harbor. Mrs. Hulatt, a local resister, was drowned at the same time but her body has not yet been recovered.

PREVENT QUALIFICATION

St. Thomas, May 12 — (CP) — Amendment to the Dominion, Elections Act to provide to prevent any person sentenced to a penal institution from being a candidate for election to parliament was unanimously approved by delegates to the annual conv "A" relay of the Canadian Legion here yesterday.

Probe Behavior Of Gentlemanly Ghost in Castle

Pencaitland, East Lothian, Scotland, May 12—(CP)—The Society for the Recording of Abnormal Happenings is to investigate the behavior of the "ghost of a perfect gentleman" which haunts Penkaet Castle here.

Mrs. Holbourn says that when she and her husband first went to live in the 16th-century house, they were often disturbed by the sound of heavy footsteps and the sound of something "heavy and soft" being dragged along the floor.

"As time went on," she told reporters, "the noises became trivial and playful and sometimes, when there was a light continuous tapping or calling my husband would call out: Now, John, that's childish, stop it!'"

Then the sound invariably ceased and we called the ghost the "perfect gentleman."

She said John Cockburn was the name of a former owner of the castle who came to an "untragic end" but did not give details of his death.

PRIZES DISTRIBUTED AT TRAVELLERS' PARTY

An interesting feature of the Traveller's Hotstove Club annual smoker held in Point Anne recently was the presentation of two prizes donated by Model Craft Hobbies, Belleville, to two Point Anne school children under 12 years of age.

The names of the children drawn for the prizes of a handsome doll and a scooter were Patricia Sweet and Bill Bennett. The winners and their parents were presented by the presidential table by Bert Charlton where the presentations were made by Vice President Tommy Wrightmeyer.

Before leaving the hall, Mrs. Sweet and Mrs. Bennett, mothers of the lucky winners were presented with a product of the Purity Flour Mills and another gift from Mr. John McCartney, of Loblaw's Groceteries.

FIRE DAMAGES CITY RESIDENCE

Fire of an undetermined origin starting in an outside shed adjoining the kitchen at 395 Bleecker Ave., the residence of Mrr. Harry Pomeroy, caused considerable damage shortly before six o'clock Sunday morning.

Firemen were called to the scene of the blaze but before the flames had brought under control the flames had destroyed the shed and damaged the adjoining kitchen also. The kitchen also was damaged by water, it was reported by Fire Chief William Lynch. Damage was estimated at approximately $250, it was stated.

H. B. Fetterly, Educationist, Former Supt. of O.S.D., Dies on Saturday

H. B. Fetterly, 19 Highland Avenue, well known citizen and educationist, died suddenly and unexpectedly at his home in the city, died in the Belleville General Hospital on Saturday afternoon, May 10th, after an illness of four months' duration. He came to this city from Winchester, Ontario, in July 1930 to become the bursar and principal of the Ontario School for the Deaf and he filled that position with ability and faithfulness until 1934 when he retired.

Born In Stormont

The late Hiram Bingham Fetterly, son of John Fetterly and Mr. and Mrs. Elias Fetterly, was born in Stormont, County, about eighteen miles northwest of the town of Cornwall and attended the rural school of his section until 1885, when at the age of 11 years, he passed the High School Entrance Examinations, and three years later he entered the Cornwall High School, and secured in 1889 a third class certificate. In 1890 he secured a first class certificate and in 1891, a first class honor certificate. He attended Model School at Morrisburg, and taught in the rural public schools of Stormont, for years. In 1896 Mr. Fetterly attended the Ottawa Normal School, successfully qualifying for a Second Class Professional Certificate, with honors and also a First-Class Professional Certificate. From 1896 to 1904 Mr. Fetterly was in charge of the Continuation school at Morrisburg which he founded and from 1900 to 1904 was Principal of the Public and Continuation School at Winchester.

Granted B. A. Degree

In April 1904, by extra mural work, he was granted a B.A. degree by Queen's University, and two years later the M. A. degree with first-class honors in Chemistry and Physics, being the medalist in the latter subject. He was also qualified as a specialist in science and received a certificate as Public School Inspector. In the Fall of 1904 Mr. Fetterly was appointed Science Master of the Ottawa Normal School Institute, and in 1911 he became principal of that Institute, a position which he held with honor to himself and profit to his students until June 1918.

Mr. Fetterly was then appointed to fill the position of Inspector of Public Schools in the Lanark County and filled that position until his appointment to the principalship of the O.S.D. here.

Supported Worthy Causes

During his life in Belleville, Mr. Fetterly took a keen interest in the affairs of the city and gave his support to all worthy causes. He was specially interested in educational matters and served in a highly capable and helpful manner as a member of the Board of Education from 1930 to 1934 and from 1941 to 1944 he again was elected to the Board and served continuously since then to the time of his death. During the years he was a member of the Board he served as chairman of every committee and for one term in 1941 filled with distinction the office of Chairman of the Board.

In 1940 Mr. Fetterly was a faithful member of the United Services Club and a prominent part in the activities of Bridge Street United Church of which he was an elder. He was the official delegate to the Belleville Presbytery and was chairman of the Missionary and Maintenance Committee of the Official Board of the United Church in Canada. Member of Staff

In educational affairs Mr. Fetterly was also a member of the editorial board of the Argus Publication of the Association of Ontario Public School Trustees and Ratepayers' Associations of Ontario. He served at one time as chairman of the Association and at the time of his death was Vice President of the Association.

Fraternally Mr. Feiterly was a member of Winchester Lodge A. F. & A. M.; a 32nd. degree member of the Scottish Rite; a Past District Deputy Grand Master of the Masonic Lodge, and a member of the Shrine, in the Loyal Orange Order he was a Past Grand Master of Ontario East and Past Grand Master of Ontario East in the Black Knight's Preceptory. In the I.O. O.F. he was a Past District Deputy Grand Master of that organization.

Member of Rotary

Mr. Fetterly was a popular member of the Belleville Rotary Club and a Past President of the Children's Aid Society in the work of which he took a keen interest and rendered valued service. He was a good citizen and had to many friends his death has brought much regret.

Mr. Fetterly was twice married; his first wife died in 1933 and he married Miss Mabel Allison, who survives him. Also left to mourn his loss are two daughters, Dr. Muriel Cuykendale of Ithaca, N.Y. and Miss Jean Fetterly, chief librarian at the Oshawa, Public Library; two sisters, Mrs. George Woodley, Winchester, Ontario, and Mrs. Joseph Cashion, Cornwall, Ont., A daughter, Helen Fetterly, died in 1940.

Resting at the Pinkston Funeral Home, Church Street at Victoria Avenue, the funeral announcement is made in this edition.

Madoc Township Calf Club Formed With 28 Members

The largest calf club in Hastings County was organized recently in Madoc with membership 28 members joining the club. The club was organized by Harry W. Burns, Assistant Agricultural Representative with Lorne Irwin, Coopers being appointed as club leader. The calves will be shown at Madoc Fair.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Ron Burnside, Madoc, president; John Blackburn, Eldorado vice president and Ina Moorcroft, Madoc, secretary.

Members of the club include Don Blackburn, Glenn Blackburn, Harley Blackburn, Lorne Chambers, Douglas Chapman, John Blackburn, Cyral Shaw, Sherwood Palmer, Milton Robinson, Bill Robinson, Ross Somerville all of Eldorado; Billie Brady, Don Burnside, Jarvis Fox, Harold Harris, Donald McCoy, Monty Moorcroft, Ross Moorcroft, Kenneth Parks, Shawn Parks, Milton Wannamaker, Boyd Moorcroft Grant Phillips and Ted Fox, all of Madoc; Owen Whitney Burnside of Madoc; Owen Whitmore, Madoc No. 1, and Billie Haight, Cooper.

Rules and regulations for the calf club were discussed by the members with Mr. Burns stressing that financial award for the club were not based entirely on their calves. Care and management during the summer, attendance at meetings, the regularity and accuracy of forwarding monthly reports as well as the results of the judging competition and answers to the examination and showmanship at the achievement day all entered into the final results.

Prize money is donated by the Madoc Agricultural Society, the Ontario Livestock Branch and the Production Service Branch of Dominion Dept. of Agriculture.

Care and feeding of the calves was stressed as well as the importance of cleanliness to prevent disease and a gradual change in rations when a change was necessary.

Trucks, Workers Urgently Needed Collect Clothing

Trucks and volunteer workers are urgently needed for the collection of clothing and other articles in connection with the Belleville branch of the British Flood Relief.

Those having trucks, or are willing to offer their services in connection with the pick-up of clothing are requested to report to the Bridge Street Armouries on Wednesday at 1:45 p.m.

As the collection is believed to be a heavy one, a large number of vehicles and men would greatly facilitate the efforts of all concerned. Many willing hands make light work.

Have your donations of clothing for the British Flood Relief Campaign out for collectors, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Linens, Curtains Needed For British Relief

Household linens and curtains are among the most important household articles being sought during the campaign in Ontario British Flood Relief Campaign, according to Christie A. McDonald, executive director of the drive. The campaign, which began May 1 under the direction of mayors and reeves in all Ontario centre, hopes to collect at least four million articles of clothing and household linens to send to the flood-stricken areas of Britain.

"Sheets, towels and curtains are badly needed in the flooded areas," said Mr. McDonald, "as these articles which have suffered from dirt and water-rot damage are rationed on the same basis as wearing apparel. Each person's half-yearly clothing ration of 66 coupons has to be stretched to include such things as sheets, which are valued at 8 coupons for a single-bleached sheet and six coupons for double-bleached."

"For this reason, as well as the difficulty of procuring any linens for homes, we are anxious that householders throughout the province should include service-able household goods, as well as personal clothing in their donations," he concluded.

Belleville's collection takes place Wednesday afternoon, May 14th.

Mrs. F. R. Harbeck Special Speaker At Club Meeting

Mrs. F. R. Harbeck was the guest speaker at the Good Companions Club at Tabernacle United Church at their meeting on Friday evening with the president, Mr. Albert Mulvey conducting the meeting.

A beautiful devotional service was conducted by Mrs. J. Buchanan assisted by Mrs. Gallagher. She closed her service with Edgar Guest's poem "The Family."

Mrs. Harbeck chose as her topic "Christianity in the Family" in keeping with Christian Family Week." She said that the family is the unit of organization of the modern civilization. It is responsible for the training of the individual. Dispelled the climb to power or wealth which the modern man is obsessed. This aim which is so ruthlessly competitive and individualistic. She compared the family to one of the small states which is exploited by a larger state.

Mrs. Harbeck said "the housing problem had a great deal to do in disrupting the family life. The moral dissolution or moral uplift starts in the family.

What marks a group as a family? The fellowship of the parents and children, created and promoted through the sharing of vital interests and the promotion of the loyalties and responsibilities. The family is the one institution which takes care of the individual as it is.

The family deserves to fail if it remains lax in its interest and does not labor and struggle for all those values in community and national life that makes the family possible to live."

Mr. Frank Douglas expressed the appreciation of the club to Mrs. Harbeck for her inspiring address. Refreshments were served and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Fast-Moving Merrick Bros. Circus Opens for Crippled Children Work Under Auspices of Shrine Club

The Merrick Brothers Circus, opened its doors this afternoon in the Memorial Arena to residents of the city and district under the auspices of Belleville and District Shrine Club. Entire proceeds of the show will be devoted to the Shrine Hospitals for crippled children.

The show runs for three days and nights is a new all-Canadian organization which is on the road for the first season.

Fast-Moving Show

From the first sound of Ringmaster Tom McClure's whistle until the finale, Merrick Bros. circus is fast-moving, spectacular and entertaining. Following the overture by Buddy Nichols and his circus band, the Taylor Zombiers and The Scaltsbury Rats perform a clown acts that have the audience off to a happy start.

The clowns pave the way for the spectacular trained lion act which comes immediately after. Ki-Gor, Indian animal tamer, puts his "cats" through their paces with a dexterity which bespoke long and extensive experience. Ki-Gor makes four 11-month-old lionesses move around the steel arena with precision and grace from the moment they step, leaping from the runway to the amphitheatre.

26-Act Show

Merrick Brothers Circus has collected 20 acts from all corners of the globe for the entertainment of Canadian audiences. No expense or effort has been withheld to bring the best performers obtainable into one big aggregation of top acts.

Highlighting the show is the performance given by Mlle. Rita Colleano on the swinging trapeze. Miss Colleano defies death at least a dozen times to give her audience the greatest thrill of their lives. With grace and agility this queen of the high trapeze flings herself through the air to release herself and appear to be plunging to the safety net below, only to catch the flying silver bar with her heels.

Car Act Hilarious

For fun, there is the "Funny Ford," star act of Patterson, Jr., Aunt Matilda, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Patterson, of Indianapolis, Indiana. Mr. Patterson is himself a Shriner of the Murat Temple, Indianapolis. The funny Ford does everything but take a bow at the end of the performance. It explodes, it upsets and falls apart and finally Miss Matilda herself is the funniest act of them all.

Straight from England, the Wardell Sisters, a troupe of charming young English ladies, put on a delightful display with their master-juggling with Indian clubs. As a team, the Wardells remarkably well with their gold evening gown costumes, the four young ladies are the highlights in the darkened arena.

The Wardell Sisters, Mary and Alma with Lewis, do an outstanding act providing both diversion and hand balancing. This trio is a product of the Americas, and has appeared in the Ziegfeld Follies.

Beauty and grace are exemplified in the persons of the Balzar Sisters, who give demonstrations of strength on an illuminated table.

Walking Bear

Rosie, the Hollywood bear, is one of the stars of the show. Her waltz with Stanley Beebe, her trainer, is a delight to watch. A remarkable demonstration of man's predomination over beast ever witnessed. Both man and bear are dressed in kilts and the guest register at city hall in the morning and registered at the hotel that night. Rosie will visit with one of the service clubs for luncheon before the show leaves Belleville.

The last half of the show is strong in every act presented. Personnel of the Merrill Liberty horses. These six beauties of the equine world seem to predict their every move. The Flying Lamars still family also present two high-flying acts which are bound to go to a very high school. Their breath-taking direction is almost phenomenal.

Lamars Sensational

Then comes the last act of the circus, the Flying Lamars, four people in a flying return act, with each one an artist on the trapeze. Double and triple somersaults, back flips and breath-taking catches climax the audience breathless as long as the artistic act lasts.

Residents Urged to Have Clothing For British Flood Relief Ready on Wednesday

The British Flood Relief Campaign closes here on Wednesday May 14. On that date volunteer collectors will move out from their downtown rendezvous to make a systematized canvass of the city. The collection will be made in the vicinity of two o'clock in the afternoon.

As a special request to merchants of the city, members of the committee urge that any who are making donations of clothing or other essential goods to the campaign, get in touch with the Belleville Fire Department prior to Wednesday noon. Goods will be collected by city firemen and taken to the central depot. This is necessary because of the regular Wednesday afternoon delivery.

Cash donations for the purchase of food for Britain are being received in all city banks, and the business offices of the Ontario Intelligencer. Official receipts are given on the spot, and all contributions are tax exempt.

The Flood Relief Committee here urges all residents to have clothing and other gifts properly packaged and placed in a convenient spot on verandahs, or sidewalks, so that the work of the collectors will be facilitated. Shoes should be tied in pairs and be in good condition.

Clothing should be in a good state of repair and cleaned wherever possible.

As one gentleman of Toronto, resident said, "An old overcoat, a few cans of food, the out-grown clothing of your youngsters surely so little cannot liquidate so much indebtedness to Britain. Whatever the extent of our contribution to the Flood Relief, the balance of credit will remain forever on the other side. We shall never repay Britain. The Flood Relief, however, can be a token of our undying appreciation."

Bicyclists Must Observe Rules Of Traffic

With frequent warnings going unheeded, officers of the local police department will in the future crack down on bicycle riders who persist in riding oblivious to the fact that there are city traffic regulations to be observed.

"Starting today there will be no further warnings given to bicycle riders who persist in riding their bicycles on sidewalks on the footbridge and the wrong way on "one-way" streets", Police Chief Walter Probert stated today. "During the past several weeks we have had numerous complaints of bicycle riders completely disregarding traffic regulations with resultant danger to themselves and others."

At the same time police will check closely on the proper lights being used on bicycles at night and warned that licences for the current year must also be affixed to bicycles.

"If reports are not sufficiently interested to see that their children's bicycles are properly equipped there is nothing we can do but issue charges," continued the police chief.

William Benson, Picton, Dies After Lengthy Illness

William Henry Benson, lifelong resident of Prince Edward County, and Picton, where he was formerly engaged in the grocery business, died at his home 38 West Main Street, on Sunday after an illness which extended over a year or more. He suffered a stroke in July of last year and never fully recovered. He was confined to his bed for the last three months preceding his death. He was 77 years of age.

Born in Picton, Mr. Benson lived his entire life in his native town. His first business venture was a druggist, which he opened as a young man after graduation from the Toronto College of Pharmacy. Later, in partnership, he became interested in evaporated apples and while still in his early twenties operated both the store and the evaporator. He shipped thousands of crates of evaporated apples to Europe via New York. He operated stores in Picton, Bloomfield and Colborne. Thirty-five years ago in partnership with G. Edward Hillier he entered the canning business which operated successively in Picton, Wellington, Bloomfield and Quinte Valley. During his busy time he was one of the largest independent vegetable growers in Canada and was reputed to be a millionaire.

Ran For Parliament

Mr. Benson ran for Federal parliament in 1930 as a Liberal and was defeated by John A. Macdonald, Canterbury township. The late Mr. Benson always had a warm spot for the town of his birth and in 1942 donated a set of chimes to the United Church of which he was an esteemed member. In 1945 he purchased the historic "Old Grange" property of the late Sheriff J. D. Barker and turned it over to his native town as the "Benson Memorial Park." This has since become Picton's recreational centre. He was a past president of the Eastern Ontario Canning Association, a director of the Prince Edward County Memorial Public Library Board and the Collegiate Institute.

Surviving are his wife the former Gussie A. Stafford, whom he married 50 years ago and one daughter Mrs. Charles (Nora) Earle of Belleville.

The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

Municipal Band Founded 70 Years Ago This Month

The Belleville Municipal Band, will this week celebrate its 70th birthday. It was "born" in May, 1877 and for the past seven decades has performed long and honorable service to Belleville as a high class musical orgnisation.

Back in the seventies, the band was formed under the name of the Oddfellows Band, and from that humble beginning of a few instruments has grown an organization that has been a source of credit in this city and its environs.

The band is recognized as one of the best musical aggregations in Eastern Ontario, and its bandmasters and officials have always aided and encouraged youthful musicians.

Hastings Branch Blind Institute Elects Officers

The annual meeting of the Hastings branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind was held last week in the Sunday School room of Bridge Street United with members of the Board from Belleville, Trenton, Stirling, Marmora, and Deseronto being present. Guest speaker for the meeting was Col. E. A. Baker, managing director of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

All of last year's officers were re-elected for another term of office. Chairman is A. D. Archibald with vice chairman being Mrs. H. Bollins, Sr., and Mrs. A. T. Fleming, of Trenton, and Mrs. F. Houchin, Stirling. Honorary treasurer is C. L. Jewell and secretary-treasurer George Wishart, city. Welfare convener is Miss M. Peck.

Guests at the meeting included Mayor Frank Ketcheli, J. Fred Wilson, M.L.A., for Hastings West, Judge Anderson and representatives from the various service clubs in the city.

Statistical Report

Field Secretary, P. I. Timmins, of Kingston, presented the statistical report for the Hastings branch of the Institute, noting that as of April 1st there were 118 blind persons registered in the county. New registrations during the year numbered 11.

Eight blind employables in the county were reported as receiving instruction from the home teacher in Braille, handicrafts, typing, while four are receiving employment either from the Institute or through the Institute. Four are gainfully employed at other work.

Sixty blind persons in the county are receiving the blind person's pension; three are receiving the old age pension; 13 are receiving other pension or allowance and one is receiving mother's allowance.

SAME VOLUME NOT EXPECTED

Toronto, May 12 (CP)—Although Ontario's Department of Travel and Publicity is preparing for a "bumper" tourist season this year it is not predicting the same volume as last year, Travel Publicity Director Welsh said in a radio broadcast address Saturday night. Last year saw a record inflow of 14,000,000 United States tourists, he pointed out and it was hardly likely this figure would be reached or exceeded in view of all the unforeseen contingencies which could occur such as a wave of strikes.

S.D.S. GOES TO VOTE

Forrest, May 12 (CP) — No sooner had town council proclaimed daylight saving time after being petitioned by 300 businessmen, than a group with 90 signatures petitioned for Standard time. Ratepayers will decide the question by vote next Friday.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, May 12 — (CP) — Golds improved in the early session on the Toronto Stock Exchange today but base metals eased off on news for key base units while industrials continued the daily fractional upward trend. Western oils were quieter and slightly down.

Volume for the first three hours was 597,000 shares.

Senior golds and producing mines moved ahead this morning but speculatives continued the downward trend. Gainers in the senior group included Central Patricia, Kirkland Lake, Hollinger, Lake Shore, MacLeod, McIntyre.

Oils were the outstanding group in the industrial lists with Imperial Oil trading more than 8,500 shares on a gain of 1/8 at 14¾, International Petroleum up 1/8 at 14⅛, McColl up 3-4 at 28 1/4.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, May 12 —(AP)— A handful of leaders clung to the recovery side of today's stock market while many issues continued their downward drift.

Dealings slowed after a fairly active opening. Declines of fractions to a point or so ruled near the fourth hour. Gains were subjected to profit taking.

Standard Oil (N.J.) and Texas Co. made new 1947 highs, then retreated to the minus column. Ahead at 1 were Western Union "A," Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, and Youngstown Sheet.

Distillers Seagram lost 3-8 among Canadian issues at mid-day while Hiram Walker gave up 1-4 and Canadian Pacific eased 1-8. Dome Mines was unchanged.

On the curb, Giant Yellowknife eased 1-8.

DRAG ST. LAWRENCE FOR BODY

Cornwall, May 12— (CP)—The St. Lawrence River was being dragged off this port today for the body of Leonard Tardiff, 36, of Cornwall, who was drowned Saturday night when a boat in which he and four others were passengers capsized 200 feet from shore. Mr. Tardiff's brother, Gerald Tardiff's brother, was rescued with three girls, Florence Lavictoire, Helen Kirkey

Housewives Start Buyers' Strike

Winnipeg, May 12. (CP)—Western Canadian housewives, insisting that empty larders are preferable to high food prices, today brought into full swing their campaign to force both wholesalers and retailers to lower their rates for edibles.

The seriousness of the movement—which extends from Winnipeg to Vancouver—was emphasized by Edmonton housewives who last week said they wished to forego their traditional Mother's Day presents since the prices their husbands and children would have to pay for these gifts were higher than prices should rightly be.

Elsewhere in the west the buyers' strike was publicized through posters, pamphlets, placards and buttons, all urging consumers to refrain from buying high-priced commodities.

The movement, dubbed "Operation Starvation" by critics, which was officially opened Saturday, has not yet had time to make any appreciable change in store sales. Spokesmen for housewives consumer associations, however, who are sponsoring the campaign, say that by the end of this week a noticeable decrease in sales will be evident.

Among the commodities which western Canadians are urged not to buy are butter, shortening, jam, marmalade, peanut butter, butter, canned fruit, syrups, pastries, veal chops, round steak, sirloin, side bacon, bananas and tomatoes.

In some centres clothing too has been placed on the restricted list, with particular protests being made over the high price of articles needed by prospective mothers.

De Gasperi May Resign Premiership

Rome, May 12 (AP)—The resignation tomorrow of Premier Alcide de Gasperi and his four-ton cabinet was predicted today in Roman newspapers.

The Independent newspaper Il Messaggero said "there is no doubt" that Vittorio Orlando, 87, Ivanoe Bonomi, 74; and Francesco Nitto, 79, all former premiers, would be asked to form a government should De Gasperi fail to form a new cabinet.

C.C.F. HEAD DENIES POSSIBILITY OF AFFILIATION

Toronto, May 12 — (CP) — M. J. Coldwell, leader of the C. C. F. party in the Federal Parliament, last night categorically denied any future affiliation of the C.C.F. with either the Social Credit or Labor-Progressive parties. Speaking in the Bathurst Street United Church Forum on political trends Mr. Coldwell said: "The Social Credit movement is Fascist in character, and the Labor-Progressive party is dictated by the foreign policy of the U.S.S.R."

CONSTRUCTION WORK PARALYZED

Kingston, May 12 —(CP)— Construction work, particularly housing, in this Eastern Ontario city was virtually paralyzed today as some 325 carpenters and joiners in Kingston struck Saturday in demands for a 20-cent hourly wage increase.

The men, members of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America (A.F.L.), now receive 85 per hour but contractors have a 10-cent hourly wage increase.

The Kingston Building Contractors Association has called a meeting for a date earlier tomorrow night to discuss the issue.

BABY'S BODY FOUND

Brantford, May 12 —(CP)— Provincial Police are investigating the discovery Saturday of the unclothed body of a newly-born female baby, beside the Grand River a short distance south of this city. The body was found by two fishermen. There were two holes in the skull and decomposition had started.

Canada Tree-Minded

The Canadian people are conscious of the great value and necessity of forests. Over thirteen million trees will be planted this year and it will run some three or four millions short of the amount required to satisfy the demands from all parts of the country. This lack of supplies can be blamed on the war as many things can be traced to that upheaval and the voraciousness of war in the destruction of the timber wealth of nations.

Tree distribution is on its way to something like surprising the people. The Hon. H. R. Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, foresees the time when this will run up to no less than thirty million to fifty million trees.

There seems to be something new in every phase of human effort today. The plane as the latest comer to make radical changes is going to be given tests in the experimental farm of a method of seeding. After each seed has been coated with fertilizer, fungicide and insecticide quantities of them were dropped in designated areas. Why? Well, that is the purpose of the trials to find out.

The future of the forests is in a good measure the future of the people and the nation, for trees are of so many interests to the state and the nation. The new creation of new wealth, the amelioration at the temperature by the presence of forests, and the prevention of floods and many other matters of supreme importance.

The value of the tree has been known down the ages. It will have a value in many a phase of modern life for wood is one of the most useful of products of the soil and can be used in many ways. By its possession of pliability, softness as compared with metals, wood is one of the great products of nature. It belongs to the class of agriculture which feeds the nations. The world possibly can do without many products or minerals but it cannot do without wood which has earned a place in civilization for it was not long before primitive man knew the countless uses to which it could be put. Modern days have greatly increased the number of uses which wood and its residue, sawdust, can serve. Minerals may be found for they must serve mankind whose needs grow more and more and demand the mineral or metal most appropriate. But wood grows. Man can put it where it has not been. He can plant millions of trees where he will to find the best advantage whereas metals are placed by nature's upheaval in the long past ages and must be sought by man.

Lesson for Pedestrians, Drivers

The relation of the pedestrian to accidents in Ontario last year on highways and roads deserves consideration. Facts stand out in the annual summary of accident causes. There were 59 fatal accidents to pedestrains between intersections while the total at intersections was 54, four with signal, four against a signal, 44 no signal and two in crossing diagonally.

Walking on the highway brought a toll of 40 deaths in the year while fatalities to pedestrians crossing the highway were higher at 54. Of fatalities, 36 were those of children playing in streets, and 18 deaths resulted from coming behind a parked vehicle or object.

The cost of accidents is another interesting matter. In 17,356 accidents, 5,195 were at a street intersection, 3,891 between intersections, 1,190 at a rural intersection, 4,814 on the straight road, 138 on private driveway, 1,158 on curve, 556 on hills. Respecting accidents as they occurred at railway crossings, the figures are man on duty or gates, 25; automatic signal, 32; unguarded crossing, 23, on bridges 21, and on ferry or dock 1.

Out of the 17,356 accidents, the majority were on dry surface roads, 11,132; wet surface 3,038, muddy surface 32, snowy surface 1,592, icy surface 1,562 and others.

The roads on which these accidents occurred were 17,119 roads in good condition, 134 instances of defect of roadway, 93 in condition, 10 roads under repair, and 10 in cases of obstruction not lighted.

12,489 accidents occurred on a clear day, 1,695 on a cloudy day, 277 in fog, 1,913 in time of rain, 982 in snow or sleet.

Most accidents occurred in the daytime namely 9,449, at dusk, 703, in the dark

Pedestrians hit by cars paid a heavy price. In 3,181 of such accidents, 284 persons lost their lives last year, 41 of them being young children and 54 being between the ages of five and fourteen, 31 between 155 and 35 years, 37 between 36 and 54, 37 between 56 and 64, and 84 persons 65 years and over. The toll of children injured in this form of accident was 360 up to four years, 986 from five years to 15 years, and a total of all persons injured 3,068.

Only collision of cars with other automobiles caused more injuries than when cars hit pedestrians.

There is a lesson in these facts for the walking public to use the greatest caution by stopping, looking, listening.

One of Greatest Feats

The successful delivery to Russia of eleven billion dollars' worth of fighting goods was one of the greatest feats of production and transportation in the whole history of the American people. A report made by the President to Congress at the time of the Japanese surrender showed that we had sent Russia 17,500,000 tons of goods, representing 2,660 shiploads. We had sent her 14,700 planes, 7,000 tanks, 52,000 jeeps and 375,000 trucks. We had sent her 215,000 field telephones and enough telephone wire to go fifty times around the world. We had sent her hundreds of thousands of tons of armor plate steel, aluminum, copper, zinc, TNT, chemicals and other raw materials. To enable her to fabricate these raw materials into weapons we had sent her a half billion dollars' worth of machine tools and electrical furnaces and generators. We had sent her entire factories to cargo lots, including a tire plant, an aluminum rolling mill and pipe-fabricating plants.

We need not regret this aid, nor ask in settlement of it less generous terms than have been granted to the principal wartime allies. The aid we gave was put to good use by valiant Russian armies for the purpose for which we gave it, which was to destroy the German armies. We sent our goods, and we got results. Unhappily, those results did not include close and confident post-war co-operation by the Russian Government in making a prompt and democratic peace.

At the moment we are accused in Russia of "ruthless imperialism" and "dollar diplomacy" because of our policy toward Greece and Turkey. But when we propose to strengthen the United Nations and Truck-key against aggression we are doing precisely what we did with Lend-Lease in Russia, in that case on a scale twenty-seven times as large.

This Longevity Business

We quote:

Chicago, May 1 — One of every two men listening to him would lie if necessary to keep trouble. Dr. Louis N. Katz, of Chicago, told an audience of more than 1,000 doctors of the American College of Physicians here today.

Dr. Katz advised against tobacco. But he said a cocktail or two helps relax the arteries supplying the heart. Also wine with meals should be encouraged.

Dr. Katz, 52, born George Laramee, believed to be Canada's oldest living white man, held open house in his Victoria home yesterday in celebration of his 110th birthday.

He still takes an occasional drink and is an excessive smoker. His first ritual morning is to load his eight corn-cob pipes and stop smoking.

We give up!

—Hamilton Spectator.

Rhetoric!

Is the war over? The other day an American general declared earnestly: "The war is over. But until we have won the peace for which we fought, the war goes on." Is this mere rhetoric? It is doubtful whether the millions who gave their lives for freedom would consider it so. What, then, are we fighting? — Christian Science Monitor.

LIE

"How are you?" he asked, and I
Smiled and told a pretty lie.
For 'twas easier to tell
I was feeling very well;
And, for time, they were clear
That was what he wished to hear.
Had I told him of my pain,
He would never ask again.
Had I answered with a sigh,
Evermore he'd pass me by.
Lest if he should say "Hello"
I should tell a tale of woe.
So the truth I didn't tell
When I said: "I'm very well."

But, perhaps, the Lord on high
Will approve so white a lie.

Looking Ahead in Ottawa

(By The Ottawa Staff Of The Canadian Press)

Ottawa, May 12. — (CP)—The question whether an Independent court should be established to exercise some of the powers now held by the CBC probably will be reviewed at meetings of the Commons Radio Committee, likely to start sitting next week.

Ralph Maybank, Liberal member of Parliament for Winnipeg South Centre, committee chairman, said the establishment of such a court was among the unfinished items of business still before the committee when it made its report to the Commons shortly before the end of last session.

Some members of the committee, he said, felt that complete control over radio in Canada should not be left in the hands of the CBC.

The committee will start out with an examination of the accounts of the CBC for the last fiscal year. Mr. Maybank said he understood that the Canadian Association of Broadcasters wanted to appear before the committee as they had last year and put forward the views of private radio station operators.

The CBC and private station representatives at the special meeting here last week, but the nature of the discussions was not disclosed.

Committees

Some Commons committees are having trouble finding quorums these days because a lot of members are sitting on the same days and at the same time. There seems to be no immediate end in sight.

For instance, tomorrow, there are no less than seven committees holding sittings practically at the same time. There are the Senate committees on external affairs, standing orders, redistribution, Indian affairs, veterans affairs, shipping, public accounts and Dominion Elections acts.

There is a good possibility that the radio committee will also call its first meeting for Tuesday.

However, the redistribution committee, complete with work, other committees likely will be established. Prime interest there is the committee on human rights and privileges which still has to be established.

Fuel Oil Supply Will be 'Tight' Next Winter

(By The Canadian Press)

The fuel oil supply across Canada is expected to be tighter next winter and few dealers plan to accept new customers, a Canadian Press survey showed today.

Demand for fuel oil has not kept pace with the supply and it is not expected to catch up before the cold weather comes next January. Many Canadians have turned to oil heating because of its convenience and because of the uncertainty and difficulty of obtaining adequate supplies of good quality coal and they're still buying oil furnaces.

To anyone contemplating a switch to oil heating equipment, fuel oil firms pass on this word of advice: Don't buy an oil furnace until you are assured of a supply of oil sufficient to last all winter.

Oil dealers agree with reconstruction minister Howe's statement in the House of Commons last week that they do not expect to find their supply "definitely limited" this coming winter. Ships and tank cars for carrying oil are being built and most dealers are able to increase their capacity enough to meet the demand and crude oil production is limited by refining facilities.

An Ottawa report told of dealers willing to sell oil furnaces providing the buyer will sign an agreement to buy all oil over a five year period at certain stipulated low in the various hospital training schools of the country. Many young women have, felt the call lately — in 1946 only 31,000 girls applied nurse training schools.

And now, according to the synthetic press broadcasts of Radio Pravda, the hospitals are suffering from a shortage of nurses implies that there will be a shortage next winter and that those who can afford it may be required to pay a premium for the privilege of having a furnace installed.

Eleven Fatalities During Weekend

(By The Canadian Press)

One slaying and five traffic deaths were among the 11 fatalities recorded in Eastern Canada by The Canadian Press over the week-end. Deaths from other causes brought all resulted from different causes.

The body of John W. Hidd, 46, of North Bay, was found in a motionless car in a garage at Sheddon, near St. Thomas, in the early hours Sunday. Police said Hidd died of a gunshot wound death probably with an empty gun beside him. A man was sought for questioning.

The traffic deaths were those of Mrs. Rose-Anna Nelson Guy, hit by a dump truck at Welland; Mrs. Agnes Charles Lewis, 60, but a motorcar as he ran across a main street in unidentified man in R.C.A.F. uniform found on the highway near St. Hubert, Que.; Joseph Lucien Roy, 70, dead in a ditch at Montreal and Reverend Jack Wright, 31, killed in a hit-and-run driver, and Julius Evans, 82, struck by a motor truck at Sherbrooke, Que.

Among the other weekend deaths Russell Hamilton, 19, a stevedore at Saint John, died when 2,000 pounds of coal fell from a ship. Georgette Bisson, 20, was burned to death in fire that destroyed her home. A few miles from Ottawa and five fortifying plants. Nature must have made the flowers bright to attract insects in the middle of insects in the midst of green leaves. White flowers as a rule contain more fragrance than do flowers of other hues. Fragrance few flowers is produced by volatile oils composed chiefly of carbon and hydrogen. Many flowers get the ultra-violet light rays in the clearer atmosphere at the elevation flowers growing at high altitudes are correspondingly richer than those at low altitudes.

Just what species of plant produces the "largest" flowers is hard to say; because flowers vary widely in shape. It is generally said that the largest known flowers are those of the Rafflesia, a family of stemless; leafless, parasitic plants native to the East Indies. The genus was discovered by and named after Sir Thomas Stamford Raffles (1781), English colonial administrator, author and founder of Singapore. Kangaroos and served as governor of Java and Sumatra. He was a delegate to the London Zoological Society.

"Rafflesia arnoldi" is believed to be the largest species and often its blossoms are three feet in diameter and as much as 15 pounds in weight. The blossoms have five petals, which sometimes are a foot long and an inch thick and which are fleshy, coloured red and spotted with spots of white. These plants, which exhale a disagreeable, carrion-like odor, derive their sustenance from the stems of other plants and die soon after flowering.

"Amorphophallus titanum," native to the Sumatran jungles, has a stem several feet long, but what is called the flower is really a sheath surrounding many flowers. Botanists have named it, for the "pelican flower" and "Titan arum." The Aroids, Indies and Central America, has flowers similar to those of the arum lily. The white flowers of "victoria regia," a giant water lily native to Brazil and the Guianas, measure from 12 to 16 inches across. Some floating leaves are so much as eight feet in diameter, have ribs several inches high and will support a heavy man's weight.

The flower of the Arctic dwarfed Wolffia — so tiny they can hardly be seen by the naked eye — are considered the smallest flowers.

WATCH OUT, GIRLS, IF YOU PLAN TO STUDY NURSING

In my opinion a young woman who is fit to become a nurse should get all the training she needs in a two-year course of study in a hospital nurse training school. I believe that additional year that hospitals keep requiring for the nurse's valuable pittance is wholly inadequate compensation for a nurse's service.

Don't deceive yourself with the notion that I am alone in plumping for a two-year training course for nurses. I may have been lonely in that position ten years ago, but not now. Here just the other day I saw a body that the American Surgical Association adopted a resolution, based upon facts submitted to the entire membership, stating, in part, that there is no justification that the needs for adequate bedside nursing care will be met by the established schools of nursing advocating immediate establishment of short courses for the training of bedside nurses.

Look out, now girls. There may still be a catch in it. Can't you do the surgeons mean by "bedside nurses?" Well, as they describe it in the report:

"Eighty-four per cent of the surgeons felt that nurses of equal in experience to those volunteers in war time, and practical nurses, under the supervision of a nurse with three years training in duties of the ward would provide a satisfactory solution of our nursing problem."

In the year 1938 39,000 young women began the study of nursing in the various hospital nurse training schools of the country. Enrollments for the year of those young women have, felt the call lately — in 1946 only 31,000 girls applied nurse training schools.

And now, according to the synthetic press broadcasts of Radio Pravda, the hospitals are suffering from a shortage of nurses implies that there will be a shortage next winter and that those who can afford it may be required to pay a premium for the privilege of having a furnace installed.

These "bedside nurses," I gather — the understanding in the surgeons report are a trifle vague about this — would take temperatures and respirations and record them accurately. They would be "especially trained for the fundamental duties of making sick people comfortable."

At first blush that looks fine even to my critical eye. After all, what a sick person wants from a nurse is to be made comfortable or as comfortable as may be possible in the circumstances. Speaking as a sick person — or at any rate a guy who has been subjected to a major operation; I can tell you that a nurse who knows how to keep you fairly comfortable at such a time is worth her weight in gold and I don't care whether she learned how to keep me comfortable in six months or six years.

If you ask me girls, I say wait a bit. Don't rush into anything. When the professional nurse shortage really becomes serious the hospital boards and the head of the nursing school, will come to their senses and exert pressure to have at least the top-heavy nurse training course to attract girls who have some sense.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

What! Milk Before Breakfast?

Child is required to drink a tall glass of milk before going to breakfast. Parents say they insist on this because the child does not eat.

Answer — It is wrong. If the child likes milk let him or her drink it at any time of breakfast. If the child dislikes milk the parents are building up an antipathy or an obsession that may make the child a chronic invalid. Compulsion in eating or drinking in any circumstances is certainly not in the interests of health.

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

Does any plant have black flowers?

No species of wild plant produces a flower or blossom that is entirely black and no such plant has been developed artificially.

The flowers of the Amorphophallus plant, a large tropical Asiatic plant of the Arum family, come the nearest to flowers being black. Certain varities of Scabiosa and some pansies are extremely dark, and roses have been grown of such deep red color that they appear almost black for classification purposes.

Flowers of a rare variety of "black hollyhock" are dark satiny purple rather than black. There are about 200,000 known flowering plants, ranging in size from large trees to members of the genus Wolffia, tiny aquatic plants no larger than the head of an ordinary pin. The predominating colors in flowers are white, yellow, red and blue. Most plants that have flowers are very fine flowers of that color.

Bright colors in flowers, like fragrance, help to attract insects, which play an important part in fertilizing plants. Nature must have made the flowers bright to attract insects in the midst of insects in the midst of green leaves. White flowers as a rule contain more fragrance than do flowers of other hues. Fragrance few flowers is produced by volatile oils composed chiefly of carbon and hydrogen. Many flowers get the ultra-violet light rays in the clearer atmosphere at the elevation flowers growing at high altitudes are correspondingly richer than those at low altitudes.

NO GREAT THREAT

The Russian people don't want war — even a border fracas would terrify them. They dread and fear war with all their being. They suffered in the last war more than the world realizes and the horror of the German invasion will linger long with them.

War would depend on Stalin. He would make the decision. Stalin knows today that his leaders and his people are tired, that the Soviet war-machine is mechanically run down, that Russia's industries need replacements and equipment.

The chances of war and initiative for war lie on Russia's soil and his Politburo in the Kremlin. The question boils down to this: How far will Russia go in territorial, political and economic expansion? Is the cold war to be expanded through much of Eastern Europe in the last six months, did those trips and the Moscow visit convince me that Russia has nearly gone the limit for the time being and that the danger period is passing.

United States' aid to Greece and Turkey like all its elements to provoke a clash but the Soviet Union, I think, simply isn't ready for a showdown.

Russia has a healthy respect for United States military power. She has even greater respect for United States industrial power. Now, the atom bomb is added.

The men in the Kremlin thought the United States would withdraw to isolation after the war and Canadian public opinion-Europe was largely based on this hypothesis. But the United States did not withdraw, which upset Moscow's calculations and her expansionist intentions completely.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Announcing a Marriage by Proxy

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Several months ago you very kindly helped me plan my wedding, which I thought at that time was to take place quite soon. But my fiance's plans changed and he could not come home as expected. Since then we have been trying to marry by proxy, and this would enable me to join him overseas as his dependent. My question is whether or not to formally announce such a marriage. I doubt very much that there is a definite rule concerning such an unusual procedure, but I would like your opinion. We are planning to have a small church wedding when I arrive in the place where he is stationed.

Cecile

As you say, there would be no rule concerning such an unusual procedure, but I think that the best and wisest plan would be not to send out any formal announcements until after the church ceremony. Before you sail, you could leave with your parents, or whoever is to sponsor the announcements, all the details of the announcement except the date and perhaps the name of the place, send those details later, and have the announcements engraved and mailed here by your parents.

Her Mother to Give Her in Marriage at Home Ceremony

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My father is dead. I have no close male relatives, and I want to have my mother give me in marriage. I am to be married in our home, and am planning to come down the stairway that leads into the livingroom. Should I come down the stairway on my mother's arm, or would she meet me at the bottom of the stairs? Or if you think it would be best for me to be escorted by a man, would it be correct for me to have the groom's father as my escort?

C. J.

If you are having an attendant, she comes down the stairway first alone, and then, after a dramatic minute or so, you come down alone. It is not necessary for you to be escorted by a man, and it would not be correct for you to have the groom's father as your escort. Although your mother might meet you at the foot of the stairs, I think it would be more effective for you to walk alone to the ceremony-place, and for your mother to stand at her place at the left of the ceremony place until the time in the ceremony when she steps forward to give you in marriage.

Helena

Walk on Slowly, Lady

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am always uncertain as to what to do in the following circumstances. When I am walking with a friend and we meet someone who stops to speak to my friend, someone whom I don't know, what, exactly, should I do? I always feel awkward, as if I seemed to expect an introduction.

Helena

Walk slowly along while they hold their brief (I hope!) conversation. Don't "hang back" awkwardly, as if you were waiting for an introduction. If the third person is invited to join you and your friend, or if there is any reason for an introduction, they can overtake you and the introduction is made. But in the meantime you won't have given the impression that you "expected" the introduction.

Send Forth Your Thank-You

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Don't be the kind of person who wonders (1) if you are supposed" to say "thank you" for this courtesy or that kindness, or (2) if you are the one who is expected to say "thank you" first, for any hospitality or courtesy given you, or (3) at what time you should say your "thank you." Discard all these foolish wonderings » Just open your heart joyously to appreciation, and open your lips to say the thank-you that is (or should be) in your thoughts and in your heart. What are you waiting for?

Each Bridal Attendant Pays for Her Own Costume

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have been asked to be a bridesmaid, and I would like to know if.I am expected to pay for my dress, hat, and other accessories. Also, who buys my flowers? (2) It is to be a church wedding, with a maid of-honor and a flower girl. How should we walk up the aisle?

C. D.

(1) Although it is the bride-to-be who plans every detail of the costume of each of her attendants, each attendant pays for her own costume, dress, hat, and other accessories. But the attendants' flowers are paid for either by the bride's family or sometimes by the groom. (2) The Procession: first, ushers, two by two; Bridesmaids, two by two; maid of honor, alone; flower girl, alone; last, bride and her father.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Striking The Boys Along

It happens over and over again: Before I've got over brooding about what awful creatures men are—after I've finished reading a letter from some woman who has been expertly double-crossed by one of them—along comes a letter from some man who has been done to a turn by a female member of my own sex!

And just as my blood is coming to a slow boil over some trusting teen—ager who has written me about the youth who swore undying devotion to her and received her kisse in exchange, then was discovered to have been boasting all the time behind her back that she was just another easy mark, the postman delivers a letter like this:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I am 18 years of age, and employed at a government plant, where I met a boy who is nice, handsome and well educated. I think a lot of him. He has been married, and is divorced, and is now serving with the army.

"On the other hand, I've been going with a chap in the navy for two years, and I'll admit I really do think a lot of him. He has always been nice to me. He is really handsome, and also is well educated. I write him almost every night, and he writes me every other day.

"This fellow in the army was on furlough and he spent one day with me. He made plans for a wedding when this year is up, but I've promised this chap in the navy.

"Now I've got to drop one of them, and don't want to hurt either one. So please tell me how to arrange it so one will quit writing. It doesn't matter which one, but I really do think more of the sailor."

See what I mean? Neither sex has any monopoly on two-timers and doublecrossers. For every one among the males, there's another among the females.

Of course some are more respectable propositions than others. Both groups have many who don't really intend to two-time and double-cross, and would probably be horrified and insulted if anyone suggested that that was what they had done. But if someone did it to them, what they did to someone else, they'd recognize it all right.

This, I am tolerant enough to believe, is the case with which the writer of the above letter belongs. I doubt very much that she intentionally two-timed the army boy. She liked him a lot, and it was very pleasant to have his attentions, so she just neglected to mention the sailor to whom she was already promised. She simply let things slide along until the lad from the army, all unaware of the stumbling blocks in the way of his romance, had built up his dreams to the point of wanting to set the wedding day. Now she wants an out, and not being able to think up a good one herself, she appeals to me to use my imagination in her behalf.

One of the most dismaying aspects of this story is the obvious fact that she's not in love with either of these young men. It doesn't matter, she says, which one I advise her to drop. She's blithely ready to let either sailor or soldier boy go, as long as the goodbyes can be said prettily and the one who drew the marked ticket goes quietly, without recriminations and hard feelings.

Those aren't her exact words, of course. She doesn't want to hurt either one is the way she puts it. But what she actually means, and the reason she's writing to me, is that she's looking for a graceful way to shove one of the boys off the limb she's got him out on.

Unfortunately, I'm afraid she's not going to find it. It's one thing to drop a tactful suggestion, when a young man first shows signs of taking something more than a casual interest in you, that your affections are already spoken for. All a girl has to do is to let fall an occasional remark about what the boy friend writes her in his letters from such-and-such a place, and the other fellow, if he has all the wits he should have, and the commonsense, that goes with them, usually takes the hint. If he doesn't it's not her fault not hers, if he gets his fingers burnt.

But it's something else again when, by neglecting to give the slightest suggestion that a suitor doesn't have a clear field, you've let him on to the point of a proposal. Then you've got a nasty bit of explaining to do, and you've only yourself to blame if you acquire a reputation as a conscienceless flirt. That's where my letter writer has got herself and no matter what kind of story she cooks up to sell one or the other of the boys, she's not going to leave a very enviable impression of herself with him.

Stringing boys along is a dangerous sport—unless you don't care where it leads you, or what kind of a jam it eventually lands you in. If you do care—just don't do it.

SERVING CANADIANS C-I-L THROUGH CHEMISTRY

"Chemistry?" IT DOESN'T MEAN A THING TO ME!"

IF YOU WERE a farmer it might seem that way at first glance. But take another look!

Those fine crops, which mean so much to Canada's health and economy, often depend upon chemical fertilizers. Weed and pest destroyers, orchard sprays too, are but a few of the services that chemical research extends to agriculture.

Through good times and bad, the chemical industry plows a straight furrow, ever moving forward to create better things for farm, industry and home. Look to chemistry with confidence for a finer future ... and to the C-I-L oval symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

For instance: HERBATE

AMONG the many contributions of chemistry to agriculture, and horticulture in particular, "Herbate" stands out. Solution, plant-mustard-wetting agent without harming grain or grass. It is a product of Canadian Industries Limited. Head Office, P.O. Box 10, Montreal.

NAYLER—KNOX

Marmora. (Special.)—A wedding of local interest took place on Saturday, at the home of the bride's parents, 507 George Street, Peterborough, when Mr. Evelyn Luella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Knox, became the bride of Cecil Clarence Nayler, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Nayler, of Belleville. The bride was decorated with snapdragons and daffodils.

The bride wore a gown fashioned with white brocaded satin bodice coming to points at the waistline, sweetheart neckline and bustle effect overskirt with a full skirt of net. Her halo-shaped veil was of white embroidered net and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white sweetpeas. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Mary Doreen Knox was her sister's bridesmaid wearing a pale blue nylon dress with dinner-length necklinе—cap sleeves and matching nylon gloves. Her headdress was of gold sequins and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and mauve sweetpeas.

The groomsman was Mr. Cyril Park.

At the reception following, the bride's mother received wearing a dress of grey flowered crepe with grey hat and a corsage of red roses. Mr. and Mrs. Nayler left for a trip to the United States, the bride travelling in a blue wool suit with matching hat, beige topcoat and matching accessories. They will reside in Peterborough.

THEN THE BOY CAME DOWN ROAD

Welborn, Kas., May 12 (AP). Hearing that Jimmie Masterson, 11 had fallen in a pond, 20 Welborn volunteer firemen sped to his father's farm yesterday with a resuscitator.

The pond, nine feet deep, balked efforts at rescue by wading, so the men feverishly tore a break in the dam with crowbars, spades and rails to drain the pond.

As the water flowed out, Glenn came trudging down the gully.

"Gee," he exclaimed, "You're looking for me?"

Women's Activities

STIRLING W.I.

Stirling. (Special.)—The annual meeting of Stirling Women's Institute was held in the community hall on Thursday last with a fair attendance. Mrs. Rodgers presided over the devotional.

The election of officers resulted in last year's officers all being re-elected.

Mr. A. Gordanier is to give the address at the district annual on May 22nd at White's Church and Mrs. H. Cook will be delegate.

Mrs. R. R. Williams gave an interesting paper on historical research. Those who attend Institute in Stirling and vicinity taken from a numbered directory of Hastings and Prince Edward Counties."

Stirling Women's Institute was organized by Mrs. Farley on January 23, 1912, when Mr. A. D. McIntosh was agricultural representative. Mrs. R. Coulter was the first president which position she filled for three years. Mrs. J. M. McGee, Mrs. M. Nolan and Mrs. Bissonnette, all were vice presidents and Mrs. W. S. Martin, the first secretary treasurer.

ST. JOHN'S W.A.

Tweed, (Special.)—The May meeting of St. John's United Church Women's Association was held in the basement on Thursday afternoon with the president in charge and conducting the worship service. This being Christian Family week the program was along that line. Mrs. B. Clarke read the story of Ruth and Naomi and Mrs. Constance Hubble gave a reading from "the United Church Observer", "What is the Future?" both words contained much food for thought. Several short poems by Fay Inchbam were read. During the business part of the meeting, the congregation was appointed delegate to the Women's Association Convention to be held at Madoc on May 20th.

The renovating of front entrance to the church which is now in progress was discussed at some length as well as other improvements. The meeting closed with the benediction.

CENTRE-VICTORIA-RED-HILL W.M.S.

An especially interesting meeting of the W.M.S. was held on Wednesday afternoon last at the home of Mrs. Frank Townsend, when members of the Baby Band, nine in number, were present as guests.

The opening hymn was followed with a short business period, after which Mrs. Don Spencer, leader of the Baby Band, took charge for the presentation of the program. Margaret Brickman sang, "Jesus Wants Me for a Sunbeam", and Mrs. Spencer spoke on the Christian Family Week, now being observed in the Home, School and Church. Several mothers assisted with readings on the theme "The Home, The Home and Its Children". Collection for the Band amounted to $2.05.

W.M.S. group leader, Mrs. L. R. Brickman led in the regular program, "One World on Our Doorstep", which included stories of foreign students in Canada. The meeting closed with the benediction.

Mrs. Stanley Fox invited the ladies to meet at her home in June. The offering amounted to $2.85, with 85c for the Flower Fund. The hostess and members of Mrs. Brickman's group served refreshments

AIKENS' W.M.S.

Ladies of Aikens' W.M.S. met for their May meeting at the home of Mrs. Wilmot Bailey with a good attendance of members and two visitors.

Mrs. Fred Moon had charge of the program with the President, Mrs. Hubble, leading in the Worship service. The subject, "Foreign Students in Canada", The theme "One World on Your Doorstep."

"For years we have looked across the ocean seas to distant parts of the world as we sought to build the world Christian community. Today the ends of the earth have been brought to our very doorstep by the coming of foreign students. They are the leaders of the future. What will make the fateful decision between Christ and chaos, while they are with us."

Students from different countries were interviewed and interviewed. Those taking these parts were: Messdames Denike, Hubble, Westover, McMullen, Bush, Jones, Grills, Kells, and Spafford.

"As these students come to us, let us seize the opportunity of friendship and let us use our prayer life to strengthen the sense of Canadian and Christian friendship."

A number of items of business were discussed and Mrs. Hubble thanked the hostess and the program convener.

The offering was received and after the singing of the hymn, "In Christ There is no East or West", Mrs. Hubble closed the meeting with prayer. The hostess and assistants served refreshments.

WORK ON AUSTRIAN TREATY

Vienna, May 12 (AP)—Representatives of the United States, Britain, Russia and France assembled here today to take up work on the Austrian Treaty where the Big Four Foreign Ministers left off at their recent Moscow Conference. The main issues to be resolved were the definition of German assets in Austria and Yugoslav reparations demands.

'Drive-In' Theatre Destined To Play Important Part In Family Entertainment

Toronto, May 12 — (CP) — Separate theatre sections for children, matrons to supervise children unaccompanied by adults and compulsory labelling of certain films as adult entertainment were recommended by Q. C. Silverthorne, chairman of Ontario's motion picture censorship and theatre inspection branch, in his annual report released today.

The "children only" sections, placed close to emergency exits, would be used during regular performances to eliminate possibility of adults molesting children and to simplify supervision.

Voluntary use of "adult entertainment" designations in advertising of certain films during the last year had been so successful that the board now suggested the system be made compulsory after June 1. Parents appeared to be using the markings as a guide in deciding which films their children were to see.

"A complete revision of regulations passed under the Theatres and Cinematographs Act will be attempted in the year now commencing" the report said.

Mr. Silverthorne felt that the 'drive-in' theatre is destined to play an important part in family entertainment," said the report. "This type of theatre covers an area annual report released today. of 15 or 20 acres and patrons view the performance from, their cars parked on ramps in the open air. A large picture is clearly visible from any portion of the grounds and in the more modern 'drive-in' sound is wired to the individual cars. This eliminates any noise inasfar as the presentation is concerned."

Itinerant operators in the 16 mm. film field now are more numerous than at any other time, in the board's history, the report continued. The films being released and the type of equipment now produced gave rural dwellers entertainment comparable to that seen in large centres.

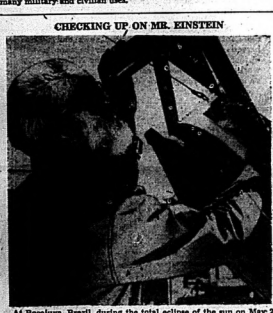
Paraguayan Government Defeats Rebellion in Navy

After three days of bloody fighting between government troops and rebel naval forces, for control of the Paraguayan government, more than 300 persons were killed and about 700 wounded. It all started on the night of April 28, while President Higinio Morinigo, and Col. Frederick Smith, commander of the armed forces, were dancing, and drinking at a gala government ball in Asuncion. During the height of the entertainment Police Chief Cesar Vasconcellos raided the home of many navy officials who were planning a midnight massacre of the entire Paraguan government at the ball. Seven naval officers were seized and confessed the plot, whereupon Morinigo and Vasconcellos determined to "eliminate all navy personnel." This step was opposed by Co. Smith, who was hoping to save the naval personnel with a formal demand for surrender. While attempting to do this, he was interrupted by the sudden attack of Morinigo's "Colorado" party militia. The militia attacked the naval arsenal and the naval defenders returned their fire. Bitter fighting continued for three days until the naval forces surrendered because of lack of food and ammunition. All the naval personnel are now dead, wounded or prisoners — and President Morinigo has eliminated his last major threat to his government. In this photo government troops are seen moving down a deserted street in Asculon, mopping up the area.

NEW USE FOR UBIQUITOUS HELICOPTER

Top U. S. Army and Navy officers and 200 representatives of scientific and industrial organizations witnessed the laying of a pipeline by helicopter, at the army engineering centre at Ft. Belvoir. Flying at 40 miles per hour from a height of 15 feet, the flying "windmill" laid a 400-foot hose in 23 seconds. The hose was folded into a special container and released by the pilot at the press of a button. It is expected that this latest method of laying a pipeline will have many military and civilian uses.

CHECKING UP ON MR. EINSTEIN



At Bocaiuva, Brazil, during the total eclipse of the sun on May 20, Dr. George van Biesbroeck, of the Yerges observatory, University of Chicago, will photograph the bending of starlight which passes near the sun. He will take a similar photograph at night from the same spot six months later. These photos will provide a check on the Einstein theory of relativity, which is important in the study of the structure of the atom and of the universe as a whole. The noted astronomer is a member of the U. S. Army Air Forces-National Geographic Society eclipse expedition, which has set up camp here in the interior of Brazil, 400 miles north of Rio de Janeiro.

HELICOPTER EXPLODES IN MID-AIR

Two persons died today in the midair explosion of a helicopter over Seattle's Lake Union. The shattered plane disintegrated and sank in sight of hundreds of eye witnesses. The dead were identified as Angus E. MacArthur, 26, of Yakima, Wash., the pilot, and Walter H. Storck, 39, of Washington, D.C., a civil aeronautics administration official assigned to check-fly MacArthur. Wreckage of the ill-fated craft is lifted into a rescue boat.

FRENCH COMMUNISTS ON OUTSIDE LOOKING IN

PROBLEM FOR WRECKERS AS 39 FREIGHT CARS PILE UP

WINNIPEG'S "AUNTIE BETTY" KEEPS HER PROMISE

Mrs. William Glass, of Winnipeg, who entertained hundreds of Australian airmen at her home during the war, kept a promise that she would come to Australia and see them all and is here seen being welcomed on her arrival by five ex-airmen. "Auntie Betty," as she was known to her visitors, to whom she has written regularly, intends to try and see them all during her stay in Australia.

COMMUNIST VETERANS HO LD FIRST ANNUAL MEETING

More than 500 veterans, attending the first U. S. annual national Communist veterans' encampment in Washington, heard Robert Thompson, chairman of the New York state committee of the Communist party, declare that Communists are "angry" at the government's" failure to provide jobs and security for all veterans. Photo shows a general view of the assembly as Thompson, a veteran, spoke at the opening session of the two-day rally.

HEADS COMMUNISTS

Communist Senator Luis Carlos Prestes, leader of Brazil's Communists has been guaranteed immunity and will probably continue his activities in the Congress of Brazil. Meanwhile ,the supreme electrical tribunal of the country voted 3-2 to cancel the registration of Brazil's Communist party because, it is said, its tactics enabled Moscow to influence every strike in the land since 1937. The decision does not yet constitute a formal abolition of the party, which is the biggest and strongest in Brazil, but the party, is expected to close all its offices voluntarily pending an appeal to the country's Gaspar Dutra, in supporting the government ruling, ordered a six-months suspension of the Communist-supported Brazil Workers' Confederation and 21 regional unions affiliated with it.

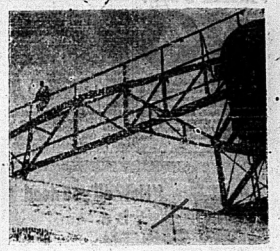
Tani was sentenced in February by a Chinese war crimes tribunal for atrocies his troops committeed.

PILOT GETS A TICKET FOR HIGHWAY LANDING

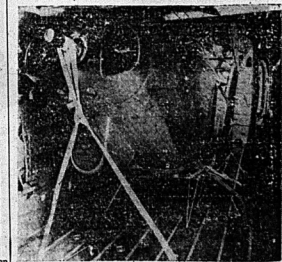


Highway traffic is jammed about a small two-seater single-engined plane, which made a miraculous forced landing in the middle of the Henry Hudson Parkway in New York City, when the motor cut-out shortly after its takeoff from the airport at Teterboro, N.J. The pilot John M. Jewett, Jr. 23, a Ninth Air Force veteran, was handed a police summons for landing on the parkway without a permit.

DYNAMITE CAP INJURES YOUNGSTER

For a moment's play, little David Patterson, 10, of San Francisco, has paid dearly. A dynamite cap he picked up in the street exploded and blew of all the fingers and half the palm of his left hand and the index finger of his right. Here a nurse administers a sedative as an officer questions the boy.

LITTLE PLANE STEALS A LIFT



The first liaison plane built with folding wings, U. S. Army Air Forces' new L-13 is shown with a C-82 cargo plane with its wings in folded position. The propeller, wheels and vertical surfaces also have been removed. The L-13 recently was flown from California to New York inside one of the large cargo carriers.

British Empire Coveted by U.S. Claim of Hess

Washington, May 12 —(CP)— Rudolf Hess, Deputy Nazi Fuehrer, who made his own secret mission to Britain during the war told his captors that the United States coveted the British Empire.

Details of the conversation Hess held with the Duke of Hamilton after the Nazi had landed in an airplane in England in May, 1941, were contained in the final volume of an eight-volume series of Nazi aggression published by the United States War Department and released last night.

A transcript of the talks, in which Hess offered Britain a separate peace by guaranteeing Britain's Empire possessions in return for uncontested German control in conquered Europe, contained these statements by Hess:

"Germany has no designs on America. The so-called German peril was a ludicrous figment of imagination. Hitler's interests were European.

"If we made peace now, America would be furious. America really wanted to inherit the British Empire.

Hess proposed that England should have a completely free hand in the Empire, with the sole reservation that Britain should return Germany's former colonies.

The interviewer said he had told Hess into a discussion of Ireland's position in the German peace proposal. Hess replied, said the interviewer, that "in all his talks with Hitler, the subject of Ireland had never been mentioned exception incidentally. Ireland had done nothing for Germany in this war and it was therefore to be supposed that Hitler would not concern himself in Anglo-Irish relations."

Butter Output For Four Months Up 16.1 Per Cent

Toronto, May 12. (CP)— The Ontario Department of Agriculture reported today creamery butter output for the first four months of 1947 amounted to 17,989,600 pounds, 16.1 per cent more than the 15,493,400 pounds produced in the corresponding period of 1946.

In April of this year 6,532,000 pounds of butter were produced, compared with 5,417,000 pounas a year ago. Holdings of creamery butter in Toronto warehouses on May 1 amounted to 730,900 pounds, last year the figure was 179,000.

Cheddar Cheese production declined 21.3 per cent with a four-month production of 6,940,600 pounds this year as against 8,817,800 pounds in 1946.

Winston Churchill Returns to Britain After French Visit

Paris, May 12 —(Reuters)— Winston Churchill flew back to London last night after a weekend visit to Paris during which he was decorated with the Medaille Militaire, France's highest military honor, as his country celebrated the second anniversary of the Allied Victory over Germany.

Yesterday morning Churchill, in top hat and morning clothes, reviewed a victory parade of French and Colonial troops in the Place de Nation.

Later he lunched privately with Alfred Duff Cooper, British ambassador to France, in the country near Paris.

Saturday's victory celebrations ended after dark with dancing in the streets and cafes. Monuments were floodlit.

When Churchill drove to the Invalides Palace to receive his decoration, thousands lined the broad avenue shouting "Vive Churchill" and "Good Old Winnie," which Britain's wartime leader acknowledged with his V-for-victory sign.

Paul Ramadier, French Prime Minister, who won the Medaille Militaire as a Sergeant in 1914 invested Churchill with the decoration, conforming to the tradition that the medal must be bestowed by a non-commissioned officer who also holds it.

After the investiture Churchill drove to the Arc de Triomphe where he placed a wreath on the grave of the Unknown Soldier. Later he attended a dinner in his honor at the home of President Vincent Auriol.

Churchill made no speeches during his stay in Paris.

Switzerland Like Dream Come True To the Tired Tourist From Britain

By JAMES McCOOK
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Basle, Switzerland, May 12 —(CP) — This is the Briton's gate to the land of dreams come true.

The British tourist arrives here after infinite difficulties — long queues in London's dark Victoria Station, similar waits at the French customs and passport office, a tiring rail trip across France, another queue here as bags and passports go through the French and Swiss offices.

They see, first, that the Swiss have more paint than anyone in Europe and that everything about the station is bright and clean. Then a girl in white walks towards them pushing a wagon. Incredible! It carries bottles innumerable — whisky, brandy, wine, sherry, gin, schnapps.

A second wagon follows. Cigarettes, cigars, pipes, matches, lighters all piled in a glittering heap. And a third, with oranges, bananas, dried fruits, chocolate, caramel, soft candies, hard candies, candies in boxes, candies in transparent paper, candies in abundance.

The cigarets — English - brand cigarets — cost less than a third of their price in London. Children look at the fruit with awe and say: "Can we really buy that, Mummy?"

At first no one buys lavishly. They marvel.

From Basle the tourists scatter through the Switzerland, their only reminder of hard times in a wrecked world the little blue food coupons the Swiss ask them to present when they purchase meals in restaurants or hotels.

R. M. Mitchell attended the shower held in honor of Miss June Kent, bride-elect, in Belleville recently.

Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Simmons are glad to welcome them to the 2nd Line community.

THE FARM WORKER
THE NICKEL MINER
depend on each other
IN THE CITY OF SUDBURY and in the surrounding mining district in the Sudbury area, about 60,000 people are living today. This is a mining region where little farming is carried on. In the course of a year these people purchase food to the value of about 9 million dollars, most of which comes from farms in other parts of Canada.
The farmer, on the other hand, must have machinery that is tough, strong and durable. So into the tractors, combines, mowers and other farm machines go increasing quantities of nickel which help to keep wear and breakage down to the very minimum.
The Nickel worker could not subsist without the Canadian farmer. The farmer sows and harvests his crop more economically because of that amazing metal produced by the Nickel worker. No matter how we earn a living we are all one family, each depending on the others.
Families of Nickel employees are heavy purchasers of meat, dairy products, bread and cereals.
A 1½ ounces of Nickel in a Mayor Hand Drill helps to make it last 10 times as long as one made of ordinary steel.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Even frank deals are easily and accurately bid with rules that are simple and standard. When a bridge player changes methods at different type hands, he must be off his beats.

Step into this pair of partnership hands:

SOUTH
♠ A K 8 7 6 5 4 2
♥ None
♦ A Q 10 6 4
♣ None

NORTH
♠ None
♥ A Q 10 5 3
♦ J 9 8
♣ K 7 6 4

South opens with a bid of two spades. With ten tricks, he sure will head toward a game. If partner can encourage even a little bit, to make a try for a slam is the obvious thing to do.

North responds at once with a bid of three hearts. The fact that he does not first say two notrump tells that he has a void trick. It is a positive response; always slam-encouraging to a two-bidder.

With different length suits, south has proved the longer. Any slam will depend on which suit is best for trumps. This hinges mainly on which of his suits will find more favor with partner.

To make sure he pulls the information out of north, south must bypass notrump. This is done by bidding two suits and then rebidding the first one. So, the south second bid is four diamonds.

South has not yet rebid either of his two suits. So, the request for a choice has not yet reached north. So far as north still knows, south may have only biddable suits in each.

Anyway, north has a rebiddable suit of his own to show. He does so by bidding four hearts. This may not be the information desired by south. But north does not yet know this.

There are some who have the wrong impression of what contributes a request for a choice. They think it is done when a player bids each suit only once. This is a wrong application of the rule.

I would like to tell you more about these two hands. But my space has run out for today. While I wind up my typewriter, you could be thinking of the next step in this bidfest.

The Movie Column

Your appreciation of "Rumoresque" currently starring Joan Crawford and John Garfield, will be recorded in a direct ratio to your appreciation of classical music which features the violin.

The skilful fingers of Isaac Stern who recorded the violin music, supposed to be played by Garfield, coax everything from the fiddle that it was invented for. He does the dub-in beautifully.

Joan Crawford, who has stood up well through the years, plays Helen Wright, dipsomaniac wife of a rich patron of the arts. The statesque Joan, haggard enough to suit the part, gives it rich treatment although the action is slow.

She discovers Paul Boray (Garfield), the young violin virtuoso crammed to the hilt with his own ego and through her connections she arranges a debut for the boy, who, while he appreciates it, feels it is his due. Inevitably, they fall in love and just to prove it she goes on the wagon—temporarily.

When Boray returns from a triumphant concert tour after neglecting to phone or write his patroness, he receives a passionate but hurt welcome. Helen is back on her brandy ration of a couple of gallons a day, which doesn't please Paul. His mother, suspicious of the Wright woman, sticks her maternal finger in the pie with the result Helen Wright literally takes a jump in the ocean rather than play second fiddle to musical genius.

It all ends unhappily but art scores the victory with alcoholics anonymous running a close second.

They're in Again

The French press is poloing out rather wryly the fact that American producers miss a good bet.

Remember the dramatic crash and rescue last year of the aircraft in the French Alps? There were several important persons aboard and American planes staged a thrilling rescue from the edge of the mountain ledge.

First to see the possibility of a movie, the plot of which would surround the crash and rescue, was Sydney Box of the J. Arthur Rank British organization. Now in production, the background scenes of "rescue" will be filmed in the French Alps.

AT THE BELLE — Glamorous screen star Jeanne Crain shows what a perfect figure can do for an ordinary bathing suit. Acclaimed as one of the most beautiful actresses in the film capital, Jeanne is currently starred in 20th. Century Fox's Technicolor comedy drama "Margie," featuring Canada's own Alan Young, Glenn Langan and Lynn Bari.

AT THE CAPITOL — Lovely Barbara Stanwyck has the feature role in Samuel Goldwyn's "Stella Dallas," now playing at the Capitol Theatre, starring in the picture with her is John Boles, Anne Shirley and Alan Hale.

AT THE McCARTHY — Teresa Wright (The Little Foxes, Pride of the Yankees, Shadow of a Doubt, Casanova Brown) co-stars with Myrna Loy, Fredric March, Dana Andrews and Virginia Mayo in Samuel Goldwyn's human interest drama, "The Best Years of Our Lives," now playing at the McCarthy Theatre. Directed by William Wyler and released by RKO Radio, the film was scripted by Robert E. Sherwood.

Sports Roundup

By ALAN HARVEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, May 12 — (CP) — Because juvenile delinquency is on the increase in the United States, a group of oddly-assorted characters will play golf together in Washington next week-end. The dramatis personae includes Hildegarde, Bing Crosby, Babe Ruth, three cabinet members, three senators, two Supreme Court Justices and A. B. (Happy) Chandler. They will meet in the national celebrities golf tournament, brain-child of Attorney-General Clark who wondered whether the rise in juvenile delinquency could not be checked by placing greater emphasis on sport . . . so he called in the best sportsmen in the United States, and from the meeting came the idea for a national celebrities tournament.

Not All Duffers

Among those on hand will be three generals, including Dwight Eisenhower; Fred Waring, Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney, cartoonist Hans (Joe Palooka) Fisher and strangely enough, even some bona fide golfers — Bobby Jones, Tommy Armour, Gene Sarazen, Chick Evans, Babe Didrikson Zaharias and Glenna Collet Vare . . . Admission will be charged and it is hoped enough people will buy tickets to start the anti-juvenile delinquency program on its way.

Around the Circuit

Pauline Betz, the tennis champ, distaff division, is dating the old Notre Dame Musical, Jack Dempsey . . . the 27-year-old Miss Betz, who recently turned professional, is described by Jimmy (N. Y. Post) Cannon as an "outdoor girl with indoor qualifications" . . . the race horse which was given to the N. Y. World-Telegram staff by Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt has been named "Poundtoot" in a contest which saw more than 190,000 names submitted by readers . . . After Ron Northey was traded to St. Louis Cardinals and Kirby Higbe to Pittsburgh Pirates, a Boston paper headlined: "Bucs get Higbe; Cards get nothing"; in his first game with the Cards, played the same afternoon, Northey belted two home runs.

EIGHT CHAMPIONS CROWNED AT PORT ARTHUR

By AL VICKERY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Port Arthur, May 12. (CP)—The names of seven new Canadian amateur boxing champions and one repeater—the cream of their respective weight classes—were inscribed into the pugilistic records today following windup of what was rated as one of the most comprehensive and spectacular Dominion tournaments ever staged.

More than 4,500 fight fans thronged the Port Arthur arena Saturday night for the finals which concluded three days of crowd-pleasing bouts. Fourteen titles of all sizes from all parts of the Dominion.

Heading the eight champions is Archie Sparrow of Hamilton, Ont., who scored a surprise victory in the heavyweight division.

It was Billy Powell of Port Arthur who retained the welterweight crown he won last year. He scored a decision over Art Graves of Hamilton.

Other winners are: Jack Dugan, Peterborough, Ont.; middleweight; Johnny Scott, Montreal, flyweight; Jerry Shears, Montreal, lightweight; Frankie White, Winnipeg, featherweight; Adam Paul, Regina, light heavyweight, and Frank Almond, Vancouver, bantamweight.

The heavyweight class—beset with surprises all the way—saw one more when Sparrow decisioned Keith Christiansen of Queen's University, Kingston, Ont.

Christiansen had been favored by virtue of his semi-final victory over the highly-touted Jimmy Miller, Kenora, Ont., battler who opened his campaign by knocking Woodcock in an exhibition bout.

Adam Paul took the light heavyweight crown with a decision over Henry King George of Hamilton. The bout was an unusually interesting one, with few hard blows being struck.

Frankie White slugged his way to the featherweight championship in a pleasing battle with Clayton Kenny of Ottawa.

Jack Dugan used a strong right to jab his way to the middleweight crown, overcoming the set back that Mickey Shaw of Winnipeg could offer.

GRIDIRONS BUSY AS PLAYERS START SPRING TRAINING

By JACK MITCHELL,
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

The early worm catches an eyeful of chaps these days as well-trampled gridirons across Canada attest that, in the spring, football's fancy is turning more and more to getting in a few early training licks before the tropical heat wrecks.

With early schedule openings leaving little time for autumn drills, a goodly number of gridiron huskies are neglecting their gardens these nights—with the notable exception of the college boys. They're too busy beating their brains out for forthcoming exams to pound the pigskin.

The activity is most pronounced in Western Canada.

Both Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Regina's Saskatchewan Roughriders were turning up the heat since early last week.

Calgary Stampeders, the Western Canada League's third team have yet to show—but it's to be decided this week by the executive whether the Stamps will field a team this fall.

The East's 10 Grey Cup aspirants are in various stages of preparation. Sarnia Imperials, for instance have already completed spring training, a two-week period in which some 50 players worked out under coach Stan Reeve, with Cliff (Cuffy) Parsons as aspirant.

Toronto Argos will start May 19. The champs will concentrate on developing High school talent, with 100 or more of the kids expected to show, but the many of the vets will be out to limber up.

Montreal's Alouettes plans to forego the spring drills in favor of an Aug. 1 start but coach Lew Hayman is working at it already.

Both Hamilton's teams — the Big Four Tigers and the O.R.F.U. Wildcats — opened four weeks or nightly drills last Wednesday.

Toronto's two O.R.F.U. entrants Balmy Beach and Indians, still were undecided whether and when spring training will start. With a big rebuilding program under way, Ottawa's Trojans start tonight.

With the residence rule allowing the imports to come in until September, there won't be many Americans in the spring training camps. But with each team permitted five extra gate men, there'll probably be plentiful on all teams by fall.

All except the Argos, that is. Coacher Tedder Morris says they still plan to "do it again with Canadians."

PITCHING AND BATTING STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Pitching: Bob Savage, Athletics: Was lapped for 10 hits and gave up a base on balls but was superb in pinches to blank Washington 4-0.

Batting, Bob Elliott, Braves: After getting three-for-three in a losing cause in the first game, he drove in five runs with a home run and single, scored two more to help the Braves defeat the Giants the second game 11-3.

STAMPEDERS EVEN SERIES BEATING ROYALS BY 5-2

By GERALD W. LOUGHEED
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, May 11. (CP)—Calgary Stampeders had ten weeks of playoff hockey behind them today,but the most important game of their long defence of the Allan Cup they won last year still lay ahead.

Tonight Stampeders and Montreal Royals meet at Montreal in the final game of a best-of-seven series that has gone the limit due to a valiant up-hill struggle by the Westerners who twice have fought back from the brink of elimination.

The seventh game was made necessary Saturday night when Calgary, challenging Easterners who virtually had counted them out when the score in games stood 3-1 against them last week, scored a convincing 5-2 victory.

The triumph, mainly a one-man show by centre Ken (Red) Hunter, who potted three goals and inspired his teammates, sent the series back to Montreal where Royals have scored two of their three victories.

Archie Wilder put Stampeders into a lead they never relinquished early in the first period when he scored as Royals defenceman Doug Harvey was serving a penalty.

Outclass Royals

Calgary outclassed the Royals during the period and at 16:45 Hunter made the defending champs into a 2-0 lead.

Royals fought back in the second frame and had the edge in play most of the period as they scored twice from the stick of right winger Jacques Locas on either side of a goal scored in between the Montreal counters was goal No. 2 of Hunter's—the only one of the three on which an assist was given.

Early in the third period the Calgary centre star sent his team into 4-2 advantage with each team a man short. His shot hit a goal post, rebounded inwards and the puck ended up in the opposite corner of the net behind surprised goalie Gerry McNeil.

The teams were five a side at the time.

Play Roughened

Play roughened up in the last stages of the game when five of the last period's seven penalties were handed out—four to Royals and one to Stampeders. Montreal held off Calgary with a two-man disadvantage but in the closing minutes both teams a man short, Bunny Dame, former National Hockey League player with Montreal Canadiens, scored unassisted for the Westerners to put the game on ice.

Wilder, who did double duty by playing on the Calgary forward line and then dropping back to defence, crashed into the boards as he rounded the Montreal net in the third period.

Wilder was taken off on a stretcher and admitted to the hospitolal, where examination showed a chipped bone in his right leg. Wilder and defenceman Bud Emery, who had suffered a swollen eye after running into an elbow, were both with the stamps when they entrained yesterday for Montreal. But Wilder will definitely not be playing in the seventh game, and Emery is a doubtful starter.

CHEMICAL ASSISTS CURE

Charlottesville, Va., May 12 — (AP)— A single dose of pills, given in the treatment of gonorrhea, brought apparent cures in 34 of 39 cases on which complete information is available at the University of Virginia Hospital, the Virginia Academy of Science was informed yesterday. The curative drug used in the search for the ultimate in a cure for the disease is penicillin, but with the addition of a "rather amazing" new chemical compound which makes the penicillin stay put in the blood stream long enough to do the job.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor.

It seems as though some of the golf clubs in this locality are casting envious eyes on that pair of gold balls in dangling under the noses of district baseball clubs up around Peterboro way. There is a $100 first prize and a second of $50. Either pot he will suit the local softball headquarters and they are completing plans whereby they can at least get a look at it.

In other words, the boys got their heads together over the weekend and have decided to enter the strongest team possible hereabouts in the Peterboro Softball Open Tournament being played at the Junior Board of Trade Sports Jamboree in the Liftlock City come May 24.

There is a twenty dollar entry fee attached but the boys decided they could kick it enough chance piecemeal to cover that. So they've decided to call a meeting at the City Hall for Wednesday night at eight o'clock and every softball player, no matter his team affiliation, is requested to attend. The boys intend to take chances. The more players as possible in order to not only make a good showing but to grab, if they're good enough, those 200 simoleons. If they win, the pot will be split among the players according to the prospect. Are you listening, Mr. Brundage?

• • •

This corner talked with a Mr. Lloyst, chairman of the Peterboro Junior Board of Trade Sports Committee over the weekend, and that gentleman stated that while the tournament is primarily an open affair, there will be no senior "A" teams in the contest. Then Central Ontario, from Toronto have already entered as have Lindsay and Perth. Peterboro squads will naturally enter as will likely one or two from Oshawa. Should be a good mashhall day all round. Don't forget all softball players are requested to be at that Wednesday night's meeting.

• • •

President Jim Brennon of the Belleville Commercial Softball League, announced the other night that the loop will play all its games at the Alemite field, with each inning played under the lights, thanks to the generosity, muttit and generosity of Mr. Arthur Gearing of the Harvard-warner-Alemite Company here. The loop, at a special meeting called by the prez thanks to Mr. Young for his co-operation. Don Lee was named umpire-in-chief of the loop.

• • •

Changes in team entries were also announced with Avon Jewellery withdrawing its entry from the league. A squad from the Ontario Optical Company, Canada, Ltd., will replace the Jewellers with the Goodrich Oil team being replaced by one wearing the colors of Burgoyne's Garage. One more entry is required to round out the eight team loop and this will likely be completed this week when the schedule is being announced.

• • •

Teams already in the fold are Quinte Dry Beverages (Pepsi - Colas), Whalen's Dairy, Sheridans' Billiards; Belleville Bankers; American Optical; Bourget's Garage, and Elliott's Service Station. The opening games are said to be slated for Wednesday, May 21st.

• • •

It's a trifle late, no doubt, and the operation Olympics has been thrashed out across Canada after Mr.leu Brundage spoke his little piece on Barbara Ann Scott and the now famous gift automobile. However, Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson wrote a nifty on the affair and we thoroughly concur with Fergy here's some of his column.

"And it would be no surprise if the Canadian Committee was asked why it didn't tell Mr. Brundage to go jump in the lake twice, and come up once, and stand up for the rights of the most popular gal in these fair climes. A lot of citizens must be wondering about that. And a lot more will be thinking that the independent thing to do would be to ignore the Olympics entirely, though that wouldn't be fair to Barbara Ann, nor to a lot of other kids who have eager aspirations for the international event.

"But those who, like your correspondent, think there are too many sour-pusses sticking their unsavory noses into the picture and spreading gloom and rulings and don'ts all over the place, taking all the joy out of the thing, and hedging it about with beadles, might want to know a few things. For instance, in the B.B. days, Bjridrior Louis, of Greece, won the 1896 marathon at the first modern renewal of the Olympics, in Athens, and his wide-eyed-joyous fellow-citizens literally heaped gifts upon him. A restaurant volunteered to feed him for life. He got clothes, shoes and even a life-promise of shoe-shines. There was no Brundage then, and so no ruling about "rules, when Percy Williams scored a double sprint win in the 1928 Olympics, proud Vancouver fellow-citizens did handsomely by him. And Percy was still a good amateur at the Los Angeles Olympics, four years later. After Tom Longboat won the Boston Marathon, Toronto sports folk gave him a testimonial of considerable value. But, with amateur status-hrundaging, he went on to run in the next Olympics."

"Instead of sticking his unwanted nose into Canada's sports affairs, Mr. Brundage might do a little managing at home. For real amateurism in the United States amongst athletes of out-standing ability is so rare that it would be almost impossible to name one. We refer, of course, to top-flight stars.

sports columnist tells the following story about the immortal Hans Wagner. An opposing player on first set out to steal 2nd. The Pirate catcher peged to the 2nd base ball sailing way over Wagner's head, but Hans went through all the motions of catching the ball and covering second. The runner came to sliding. Hans apparently tagging him a second too late. Hans signaled the base runner, talking while pounding an imaginary ball in his glove.

• • •

Things were happening elsewhere during these precious moments. The baseball outfielder had frantically recovered the ball and heaved it toward third: Again it was wild—going inside the dugout. The third base coach caught the sailing blue murder but the runner stayed lying down at second. Later, newspapermen discovered the secret. Hans had told the runner that pants had split on the side and to stay still until somebody could bring out a couple of pins. The runner, believing Hans had the ball, fell for the hoax!

LOTS OF WORK BEST RECIPE FOR FAULTLESS

By SID FEDER

Baltimore, Md., May 12. (AP)—Around the race track, they tell you that practically every horse takes a different running recipe, and the chief ingredient in the one they cooked up for faultless was to rip that old "all work and no play makes Jack dull" page out of the book and throw it away.

If there was any lingering doubt about whether this wasn't a fancy pot of stew for the fall, brown son of the Blue Grass, it was wiped out by the way he loafed Pimlico's stretch Saturday to win the 57th Preakness and give the old hee-haw Phalanx and Jet Pilot, the "big" horses of last week's Kentucky derby.

Phalanx couldn't get better than third this time, in spite of his closing kick, because the California flier, On Trust, dropped home in second place. And Jet Pilot, worn out by the speed horses, was a meek fourth.

For Faultless, the one-length win was a fancy $96,005 pay day, and made him the top bankroll boy among all the three-year-olds up to now, with $192,720 for his two seasons.

The Preakness result indicates that the Jones boys, Pops Ben and Chip-off-the-old-block Jimmy, must be able to carry on fluent conversation with the gee-goes to find out what makes them tick.

They labored with Faultless for months but still had only a so-so stepper. Then finally they discovered that the only fault with Faultless was to let him take time off. He thrived on work, and more work.

The Preakness was his sixth race in thirty days.

That's just the way he is, though," the Jones boys said before the Preakness. "You've just got to work his head off. He loves it."

Playing of Joe Gordon, Secured From Yanks, Causes Cleveland Fans to Think About Pennant

BY JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

What a difference a player makes.

A month ago anyone brash enough as to pick Cleveland Indians to win the American League pennant would have been labelled a "nut" and rushed to the nearest psychopathic ward. Today that pennant thought is wandering through the minds of many fans — and they don't all live in Cleveland.

Oddly enough, their biggest reason is not Bobby Feller, baseball's No. 1 righthander. The guy who is causing hope to spring eternal in the hearts of Cleveland followers is the former Yankee star second baseman, Joe Gordon.

Joe, who joined the Tribe only last fall in a deal which sent pitcher Allie Reynolds to New York Yankees, appears to be the old flash himself once again.

In performing like a thoroughbred at his old second base post and teaming perfectly with manager Lou Boudreau in the field, Gordon has set a terrific pace with his war club. At the moment, Gordon is batting well over .300, is leading the American League in home runs - and trails Boston's Bobby Doerr in the important runs-batted-in department by one for individual leadership.

Hit Two Homers

The 32-year-old Oregonian hammered out two home runs and a single yesterday and drove in 4 runs to lead the Indians to an overwhelming 11-4 victory over St. Louis Browns. The triumph enabled the Tribe to take over the runnerup spot, a game behind the front-running Detroit Tigers who swept a double-header from Chicago White Sox 10-0 and 6-1 before 43,755 fans in Chicago. The defending champion Boston Red Sox solidified a crowd of 22,211 home town rooters by nosing out the Yankees 8-7. Philadelphia Athletics divided a pair with Washington, winning the opener 4-0 and dropping the nightcap 2-1.

Chicago Cubs took over the National League lead by one full game from Boston Braves by whipping the Reds in Cincinnati twice 2-3 and 4-3. A turnout of 31,340 saw New York Giants hold the Braves to a split as the Polo Grounders won the first 9-1 and lost the second 11-3.

Dodgers Besiten Twice

Philadelphia Phils handed Brooklyn Dodgers a severe jolt by bumbling them twice before a record Shibe Park crowd of 40,952, 7-3 and 5-4.

St. Louis Cardinals emerged with a win and a tie in their doubleheader with Pittsburgh winning the first in 10 innings 10-9 and tying the second 3-3 after the game called at the end of seven innings.

With Pat Mullin, their .441 hitting outfielder crashing out three hits in each game, and pitchers Dizzy Trout and Virgil Trucks permitting only three hits apiece, the Tigers held the White Sox to only one run in two games.

Bob Savage was tagged for 10 hits but managed to keep the Nats from scoring as he made his first victory a shutout for the A's However, Wes Ferrell gave the Nats a split by outpitching Toronto's Dick Fowler in the nightcap.

The Cubs took undisputed possession of first place in the senior circuit for the first time by breaking a deadlock with a late inning rally in each game.

HOCKEY RULES MAY BE CHANGED FOR NEXT WINTER

Toronto, May 12. (CP)—Representatives of the National and American hockey leagues and of Canadian and United States amateur hockey bodies held a "long conference" on rules here yesterday and came up with a list of recommendations to be sent forward to the individual leagues for consideration.

Chief suggested change was an automatic fine of $25 for all misconduct penalties. In the past a fine was imposed only when the misconduct occured in the last ten minutes of the game.

It was further recommended that substitution for a player given a match penalty be allowed after ten minutes, instead of 20 minutes as at present.

Clarence Campbell, N.H.L. president, explained "we feel that the 60-minute advantage may spoil the game for the spectators as well as being too severe a responsibility for the official in charge."

Elimination of the automatic awarding of a goal against a defending team for throwing a stick was also suggested, this to be replaced by a penalty shot.

Another suggestion aimed at curbing high-sticking was to leave it up to the official to levy either a major or minor penalty. At present the rule is a major penalty for throwing the first punch and a minor for retaliating.

Besides Campbell, those present included Coach Happy Day of Toronto Leafs, Coach Frank Boucher of New York Rangers, Chief Referee Frank Clancy of the N.H.L.; Maurice Podoloff, New York, and Richard Miller, Indianapolis, of the A.H.L.; W. A. Hewitt, Toronto, George Dudley, Midland, and George Slater, Montreal, of the C.A.H.A., and Veteran Thomas, Baltimore, of the U.S. Amateur Hockey Association.

BUY SEAGULL EGGS

London, May 10 — (Reuters)— With hens scarce and tightly rationed, Britons are flocking to buy seagulls' eggs selling at six shillings ($1.20). The eggs are being gathered from a 300-foot cliff at Bempton, Yorkshire, where two teams of climbers are working over the face of the cliffs, gathering several hundred a day.

TORONTO LEAFS WIN ONE IN FOUR OVER WEEKEND

(By The Associated Press)

International League fans who have become accustomed to seeing pitcher Johnny Podgajny's name in nearly every Baltimore box score can now be pleased at his latest feat of winning both ends of a doubleheader.

The hard working righthander who appeared in 19 games for the Orioles in 1945, is well on his way to equalling that mark as he has appeared in 10 of Baltimore's first 22 games, winning four and losing four.

Podgajny received credit for the Oriole's opening win over Buffalo yesterday with the help of home run spree by Ralph Weigel, Joe Mellinger and Bobby Dahlgren. In the second game, Johnny Lucadello's error gave Gordon Mueller as Baltimore scored a pair of ninth inning runs to win 4-3.

Syracuse walloped Newark 10-3 in a six game series. Hank Sauer hit two home runs, each with two on, driving in six runs in the Chiefs' romp behind Millard (Dixie) Howell.

Herman Besse of the Leafs contributed a double and two singles to lead Toronto to a 9-1 decision in the opener and Jay Yochim of the Red Wings chipped in with a four-hitter to help himself to a third victory in the finale 5-1.

Jersey City took to the league lead by clubbing Montreal in the opener 8-5 although the defending champion Royals eked out a 6-5 even break in the nightcap.

Ki-Y Softball Entries Close Tonight at Y

Entries for the Ki-Y softball close tonight at the YMCA, chairman Ed. Shortt announced over the weekend, and those clubs who not yet entered their teams are urged to do so at once. There will be three series in operation this year, bantam under 12, midget under 15 and juvenile under 18. Schedules will be drawn and play commenced as soon as all entries are in.

There is also a definite need for volunteer umpires for these groups, and all will be welcome, as this way older players can be of much assistance to the younger fellows and their efforts be appreciated. Get in touch with Ed. Shortt.

There is also an entry fee of $1.00 this year which will be returned to the teams after they have completed the schedule.

All-Canadian Cricket Team To Visit England

(By The Canadian Press)

Canvassers will start today in Toronto and district to raise $30,000 as the beginning of a three-year project which will end in the sending of an all-Canadian cricket team to England. The project consists of an inter-provincial cricket week in Toronto during August of this year, another in Vancouver in 1948, and the tour of Britain in 1949. One of the program's sponsors is the Right Hon. Vincent Massey.

Montreal Canadiens and the National Hockey League All-Stars completed their 16-game tour of Western Canada at Toronto, Wash., Saturday night, their only American date of the trip. All-Stars won the tilt 7-3.

The Canadian Canoe Association, at a recent meeting in Ottawa, decided to hold their championship regatta at Mooney's Bay, southwest of the Capital, July 19. The regatta will count as an Olympic trial for contestants.

Veteran sports announcer Clem McCarthy, who specializes in horse races, made one of his rare mistakes on the air Saturday and announced Jet Pilot as winner of the Preakness when Faultless actually won. Confused by the similarly colored silks on the jockeys of the two horses, he realized his error and immediately corrected himself. "I struck out," said Clem. "Even Babe Ruth struck out sometimes."

The Great Britain versus European All-Stars soccer match in Glasgow Saturday was broadcast by the B.B.C. in English, Dutch, Italian, German, Portuguese, Hungarian, French, Russian, Danish, Swedish, Romanian, Polish, Czechoslovakian and Belgian.

Sam Vance, of Tillsonburg, Ont., was the only Canadian in the 13-man veteran's division of the Amateur Trapshooting Championships of America at Trevor Island, N.Y., which opened Friday last. He finished in a tie for 10th position with 94. Harry Kreiman of Hamilton did well in the Class AA bracket, finishing in a tie for third position.

Bobby Locke, of Johannesburg, South Africa, won the Houston, Texas, $10,000 open golf tournament Sunday with a three-under-par 69 on the final round that gave him a 72-hole total of 277.

Britain Believes She Can Retain Walker Cup

By BILL MACKLIN

London, May 12 — (AP) — A few weeks ago you could have bought Britain's interest in the Walker Cup for its weight in tea, but they're getting downright cock now about keeping the golf mug in the old country cupboard.

"I see no reason why our American friends should win back the cup this year," wrote Henry Longhurst in the Sunday Times yesterday.

The observer saw two propos for believing that the United States team has made a futile invasion for the team trophy they monopolized until 1938.

One was the high standard of play by the British team in last week's trials. The other: "The impression that the Americans do not carry the air of formidability that was the mark of their between-wars predecessors."

The new-found confidence represents a definite retreat from the wailing wall — clogged until recently by experts who believed British golf hadn't recovered from the war.

What brought about the change of mind? For one thing the Americans have not carded any of the 60s for which they are so well known back home. Eight such cards daily have been in the high 70s.

Love Will Come Again

CHAPTER 13

April looked away: I suppose I'll always love him, in a way. He's the father of my child. But what difference does that make? He doesn't care anything about us. Hasn't he proven that by his indifference?

"I should think he has," Gay sniffed.

"I suppose." April sighed a little later, "things will work themselves out. They always seem to."

The next evening tragedy struck April a merciless blow that was to change all their lives.

It was a treacherous winter evening with snow and slush lying thick on the streets, and a coating of ice underneath. April drove carefully to avoid skidding. Windows along the way through Queens were gay with Christmas baubles, for the holiday was but a few days away.

April's heart was heavy with memories of other years when the yule-tide was gay and full of love and laughter. There was the first Christmas in their new apartment in New York a few months after she and Hill were married, so full of romance.

It had been the first Christmas April had ever spent away from her family in Virginia. Hill had managed to get her out of the apartment to do some shopping for him and while she came back he was putting the finishing touches to a tree that he had kept hidden in the basement as a surprise.

April had just learned she was going to have a baby, and the evening was a momentous one because she had saved her surprise for Hill until Christmas Eve. How excited and proud he had been holding her close and kissing her tenderly and telling her over and over how much he loved her, and how much more wonderful it would be when they were three.

The next Christmas Kenny was just big enough to notice their tree and his big blue eyes had opened wide with surprise when he saw the colored lights and bright decorations. His delighted baby gurgle had been the sweetest Christmas music ever heard, April had thought.

Hill had bought Kenny a fire engine and boxing gloves and a set of little golf clubs, which had amused April very much when she thought how long it would be before his son would be big enough to appreciate them.

Torturing herself with memories April had gone over every Christmas she and Hill had spent together, and she thought how much more tragic broken homes would be before his son would be big enough to appreciate them.

Torturing herself with memories April had gone over every Christmas she and Hill had spent together, and she thought how much more tragic broken homes appeared in the windows and Santa Claus came to town.

It was a time when every little boy and girl was entitled to a father and a mother, and all the Christmas atmosphere of fire places with chimneys for Santa Claus to come down. The deepest contrast April herself had enjoyed as a child at Christmastime. How tragic it was that Kenny would grow up remembering none of these things shared with his father and mother together.

Then April's thoughts turned to Curt De Witt, and the engagement that evening he announced [illegible]. Taking herself firmly in hand, she chided herself for living in the past and allowing memories of her marriage to Hill to interfere with her life as it had to be lived that night and the days to follow.

How intelligent it was to live in the past. To torture herself where there wasn't a thing that could be done to change matters. It was wrong and stupid and unmodern. Curt would be a fine husband to Kenny. Much more solid and dependable than Hill had ever been.

Poor Hill, who would go out and spend a small fortune on a trick boat or engine for his son, but hadn't the faintest conception apparently that it would be much kinder and more paternal to dig in and wield a job and make sure the child's future was secure.

How unbearable Hill's boyish blindness to reality had finally become! How frightened the thoughts of the years of insecurity lying ahead.

Well, April told herself, Curt De Witt could give Kenny everything of material security that he had been entitled to, but unable to get from his father. Beside, Curt was a wonderful person who would be incapable of unkindness and smallness.

He had too been scarred in marital battle, and he would appreciate a devoted, intelligent wife such a she intended being to him. He could give April and her son the security Hill would not fight to give them, and she could make it up to him by giving him the love and devotion he needed.

Thus April reasoned as she had often done before, fighting down the dull clamoring aches in her heart and making her head take rule. She was coolly determined by the time she reached Queensborough Bridge not to let old memories creep into her thoughts and hurt her again during the holidays. It was utter nonsense. Certainly Hill wasn't shedding any tears over a dead past. But men were different. They weren't the sentimental fools women were.

Traffic was light on Queensborough Bridge because of the bad weather, and because it was after the rush hour and before theatre time. April was glad the bridge wasn't crowded, for she was always little nervous when swiftly moving cars passed her in winter weather when there was snow on the ground, or on a rainy day.

April was almost over the bridge, when she saw the big touring car racing toward her. The only two other cars behind had managed to get out of the way of the drunken driver at the wheel. April saw him, saw his face side as far as she could the instant she put the car shooting toward her. But her caution did no good.

Weaving drunkenly, the machine careened closer and she closed her eyes as the terror told her there was no chance of escaping a wreck. With a deafening crash the machine struck her small car. That was the last thing April remembered.

The driver of the car was killed instantly. Indentification papers showed him to be Paul Hickson, real estate broker of Mayford, New Jersey. Mr. Hickson had enjoyed his last cocktail party a short while before.

Patrolman Jack Fowler pulled the unconscious April from the wreck of her machine and ambulance attendants were called that he was sending for an ambulance. They were hurried to make an attempt to get April to a hospital, in a commandeered machine, as she was so badly injured it was necessary to wait and let a physician move her.

He sighed heavily seeing how young and lovely she was. Fowler knew Hickson was dead, and that nothing could be done for him.

Gay answered the phone a half hour later in the Channing Hospital. Mrs. April Lind Hillyer had been injured in an accident and identification papers in her bag gave her telephone as that number. She was someone there could come to the hospital at once? Gay fought to keep from fainting.

"Cherry Cherry!" she screamed when she had hung up the phone, "April is in the hospital."

Cherry came running from the bed room.

"My God!" she cried, terror in her eyes. "What has happened?"

"Her car was wrecked!" Gay shuddered, "We must go."

"Get our hats and coats," Cherry took command. "I'll call Curt. He must know. We'll take a cab. I'll phone for one after I call him."

Gay called Hyacinthe who began weeping bitterly and was worse than useless in helping find the things they needed to take with them.

"Oh, my poor baby," the old colored woman wailed loudly. "My poor baby. Ain't she had 'nough trouble a'ready. My poor baby."

"Stop it, Hyacinthe!" Cherry said firmly. "You'll upset Kenny. "Pull yourself together and Rake good care of him till I get back. We'll telephone you just as soon as we know how April is. She'll be all right."

Gay lost some of her hysteria and found coats and rubbers as Cherry made the telephone calls. Cherry scrubbed Pat's number in a pad as they waited for their cab.

"Here Hyacinthe," she told the maid, "phone Mr. Hastings and tell him to meet us at the Channing Hospital as soon as he can. I called Mr. De Witt. They're trying to reach him. He hasn't come home yet, I left a message. If he calls here tell him to meet us at the hospital too."

Gay and Cherry clung to each other for comfort as the cab went as swiftly as it could through the slushy streets. Once Cherry said:

"If anything happens to April, I'll die, I've been so rotten to her. I've given her so much worry, when she was having so much other trouble of her own. Oh, Gay, I'm so sorry."

"Cry eyes filled quickly: "Oh, honey, don't blame yourself. April doesn't. She was just saying the other night how proud she was of the way you'd settled down, and that she never had doubted you for one little minute. She understood you were just young and silly."

Cherry said desperately: "I'll make it up to her. Every minute of it. Oh, Gay I don't see why all these terrible things have to happen to April. She doesn't do anything wrong. Why couldn't I have happened to me? It isn't fair!"

Gay said sagely: "Don't try to understand, honey. It's just life I guess. I oftentimes wonder why things tragedy seem to happen to the saintly people myself. Isn't there a quotation in the bible about 'God loveth whom he chasteneth' or something like that."

When Gay and Cherry got out of their cab, Curt De Witt's car was driving up in front of the Channing Hospital.

"There's Curt," said Cherry. "Oh, I'm glad they got in touch with him."

"Poor darling," Gay sighed. "He must be upset."

Curt leaped from his limousine and started up the walk without recognizing the two girls.

"Curt," Cherry called. He turned and they saw his face was white with strain.

"I was at the club," he explained hurriedly. "My housekeeper called me. What in God's name has happened to April?"

"She was driving home and was struck by another machine, and that she's here," Cherry took Curt's arm. "Come on, darling, we'll go see. I'm sure she'll be all right."

Curt's face was such a mask of tragedy both girls felt they had to hide their own fear. At the desk in the corridor the girl at the switchboard told them:

"Mrs. Hillyer is in the operating room. If you are members of her family please wait in the reception room on the fourteenth floor."

"They could get no other information, and with heart sinking they took the elevator upstairs.

Dr. Ezra Malcolm was the head of Channing Hospital. Curt asked Gay and Cherry to wait for him in the reception room on the fourteenth floor, and left abruptly. A few minutes later he was in Dr. Malcolm's office.

"Miss Lind is my fiance," he told the well known doctor, "I want to assume all financial responsibility. Everything possible must be done for her. Money is not to be considered. If equipment is needed, get it. If specialists of any sort are needed, get them."

"Dr.-Malcolm nodded gravely: "I understand. I must tell you, she is very severely injured. We will do what we can, you may be sure. Miss Lind may be injured internally. Her right leg is in bad condition."

Curt De Witt grasped the arms of the chair for support.

"You must save her," he said huskily.

When Curt went out the door a little later Dr. Malcolm reached for the telephone and sent word to the doctor in charge of the operation to report that Miss Lind was to have anything needed regardless of whether it had to be sent from the other side of the world. Cost was not to be considered.

He had just finished his conversation when there was a knock on the door and Curt returned.

"Whom do you consider the best doctor in his United States in a case of this kind?" Curt asked.

"Handling of Boston," Dr. Malcolm said without hesitation.

"Could we get him here by plane, at once?"

"Doubtless," Malcolm nodded. "He's a pretty busy man, but he was a class mate of mine. "I believe he'd come if I asked him."

"Get him." Curt said briskly. "And his entire staff if he wants to bring them along. Let me know in the reception room on the fourteenth floor when you've contacted him."

Fifteen minutes later Curt received word that Dr. Halling would leave Boston at once. Dr. Malcolm told Curt that Miss Lind was out of the operating room and had been placed in an oxygen tent. They might see her for a moment, although she was unconscious and would be for some time.

Curt, Gay and Cherry were taken to a large pleasant room high up in the hospital where two doctors and a young blonde nurse stood beside April's oxygen tent. She was so swathed in bandages they could not see her face, they gazed at the still figure for a short while, the two girls sobbing softly, and then the nurse told them gently they had better go back to the reception room.

Junior Farmer Activities

Rawdon Junior Farmers heard the two fine reports on the Junior Farmer conference and annual meeting at Guelph, and the Leadership Training School held at Peterborough by Ted Pollock and Bob Crosby, respectively at the regular meeting held in the Agricultural Rooms on Monday night.

A lengthy discussion on programs for future meetings, with a view to making them more interesting, also the securing of short addresses on subjects of interest to farmers, were given by Jack Dunham and Alex Hepburn, the former speaking on "Orchard Practices" and the latter on "Strawberries and Raspberries."

Two very interesting talks were heard by the Sidney Junior Farmers at their recent meeting, with the Sidney Baptist School, Mr. Don Sandercock spoke on Weed Control and Mr. Douglas Harry on Silage Production.

It was announced that the annual Hastings County Junior Farmers' Field Day will be sponsored by Sidney Junior Farmers this year. Considerable discussion was held in connection with the Field Day and it was unanimously decided that it would be held at Stirling if it would be possible to secure the proper facilities and accommodation there.

The Livestock Judging Coaching practice was also discussed and it was decided to leave the matter up to the committee in charge to set a place and a time for the class.

Mr. H. W. Burns, Assistant Agricultural Representative, addressed the Calf Club members on the club project for the coming year. He discussed the feeding and management of the calves with them. The election of officers for the club was held as follows: Past President, Keith Sills; Vice President, Bob Burkitt; Secretary, Bruce Mitchell.

Douglas Harry, Secretary of the Sidney Junior Farmers and members of the Calf Club Judging Team which participated in the Inter-County Judging Competitions of last year, was appointed Club Leader.

It was decided to hold a June meeting of the Junior Farmers in the No. 10 school house on the 4th concession of Sidney.

The Melrose Junior Farmers held their monthly meeting in the Township Hall, Melrose, on Monday, May 5th. The meeting was answered by eighteen members. Also eight non-members joined the club. These new members are as follows: Billie Mills, Melrose; Phillip Mayhew Pott, James Hinchey and Duane Flockhart.

Finances for the Melrose baseball club were discussed and it was decided that the proceeds from the next dance should be to the club to buy supplies and equipment for this year. The President, Earl Mayhew, gave a report on the Junior Farmer Conference and annual meeting which was held at Guelph, April 21st and 22nd.

Considerable discussion followed in connection with the proposed intensive practising the change in the present Associate Course at the Ontario Agricultural College. The questionnaire which Professor R. G. Kent has asked to be filled out was completed.

Ronald Hall, Chairman of the Program Committee, then took charge of the meeting. He spoke on Conservation and Soil Erosion in relation to the slemmut on grain and how the European buckthorn plays a part in the propagation of the leaf rust spores. Ronald Mechan spoke on the Range Rearing of Chicks while Stanley Hall spoke on Strawberries and Raspberries.

The May meeting of the Madoc Junior Farmers will be held at Austrian Family Sends Thanks To Mrs. Percy Bell

Sincere appreciation and heartfelt thanks from an Austrian family which has suffered severe hardships during the past winter as result of clothing, food and fuel shortages in one of the hardest winters in recent years, is contained in the following letter to Mrs. Percy W. Bell, 94 John Street.

The Austrian family communicated with Mrs. Bell this spring following the receipt of a parcel of clothing which had been gathered in the city during a clothing drive and forwarded to the European country. The letter speaks for itself:

Neufeld, March 12th, 1947.
Dear Mrs. Bell,

You will be surely surprised to get a letter from quite an unknown person today, but when you recall the gathering-action in the last year you will immediately guess where this letter can come from.

Yes, that cost you gave for the suffuging people in the war world torn reached my family. I am very pleased at having found your written letter in order to be able to thank you hearty in this way.

In the fact you are right when you back up the opinion that people in your country and in different others have no idea what is like to be cold or hungry.

You are sure to follow the daily news are sure to read almost every day about the rising famine danger in eastern Europe. Conditions, already bad, have been much aggravated by the bitter cold, and it is feared that epidemics will follow the thaw. Owing to the continued severe weather conditions movement of traffic is still a difficult problem all over the country. For years people cannot remember such a strong winter. There is no railway traffic at all and all the male inhabitants have been forced to get the mainroads free from snow in order to be able to provide the people with food. That is a chaos, that no one can imagine without having felt it himself.

But gradually the weather seems to change and the thaw has already set in what by no means means an immidiate improvement in the food-, clothing—and coal situations, but nevertheless let us be optimistic and look forward to the near future—one or two more years—that shall bring us back to the normal life.

We know whom we have to owe many thanks, to the UNRRA, the support of which prevented us from starving and perishing from cold. We never shall forget here, that in other parts of the world there are nations which recognized the danger in the war torn world — among which our fatherland, Austria, is suffering most—and which were willing from the beginning of the peace on to help the hungering and freezing friends abroad. In my opinion that is the right way. When peoples recognize, that the inhabitants all over the world are people, when peoples recognize that one friend must help to the others regardless of what nation, when peoples begin to think international and leave apart the national thinking, then time is ripe for peace. And that way peoples seem to take now, what we, people in Europe can perceive best.

Our home is the eastern part of Austria, some miles southern of Vienna, in the Russian zone.

Some time ago five railway carriages came to our district with clothes of all sorts. You cannot imagine that joy! Each baby, child and grandma as well as men and women. And the coat I received was yours that I thank you once more for.

I think to speak on behalf of all the inhabitants of my village when I thank you and thank all the Canadians who had a share in that gathering action for your voluntary help you gave up to now.

In this sense we remain yours

U.S. Senate Passes Labor Bill to Curb Union Practices

Far-Reaching Measure Approved by Industrialists

Washington, May 13—(AP)—The United States Senate today passed the controversial labor bill by a vote of 68 to 24 — more than the two-thirds majority needed to override the presidential veto which some opponents have predicted. The bill is designed to curb strikes and halt many union practices.

The far-reaching measure, denounced by organized labor but generally endorsed by many industrialists, now goes to conference for compromise with a tougher bill approved by the House.

Then the compromise version will go to the White House, probably late this month.

Shortly before the final vote the Senate rejected 73-19 a substitute bill drafted by a group of democrats.

The substitute bill would have permitted the labor board, under which employers can hire only union members. It made no provision for injunctions against national emergency strikes. The adopted measure does.

May Escape Strap If Not Yet Whipped

Toronto, May 13 (CP)—Cresswell, MacDonald of Hamilton, convicted of a robbery described by the judge as "the worst and most brutal" that had ever come before him, may escape the strap if he has not already been whipped.

Appeal against MacDonald's 10 years penitentiary term and whipping was heard yesterday by the Ontario Court of Appeal and it was pointed out that an identical sentence had been handed out to William Lane on the same offence and subsequently the lashes had been deleted when Low appealed.

It was ruled that since the sentences were identical for the crime, MacDonald would be freed of the lash unless he had already received the punishment.

BUILDING YIELDS $200,000 CACHE BONDS, JEWELRY

Believed to be Loot Taken From Safety Deposit Boxes Of Toronto Bank

Toronto, May 13 —(CP)— Toronto police estimated today that about $20,000 in cash still is missing from the approximately $250,000 in loot obtained when three hooded men ransacked safety deposit boxes of the mid-town College and Bathurst Streets Royal Bank of Canada branch April 24.

The police announcement followed discovery of some $200,000 worth of bonds, jewelry, rare coins in stamps and stock certificates in a West-End Toronto warehouse last night after weeks of investigation by two detectives.

Although police said there is little hope of discovering the $20,000 still missing, the recovery of some $20,000 in bonds yesterday in Montreal led to speculation that most of loot the three men who systematically cleaned out 700 boxes was in that city.

Meanwhile, Toronto police were in Montreal today to check the bonds discovered there as well as the findings of last night's raid on the warehouse continued here.

No Arrests Made

The warehouse cache was discovered by two Toronto detectives, Alex Deans and Arthur Hall, as he were looking on the case for several weeks. No arrests have been made as yet in connection with the recovery here, but a Montreal man and two are being held by police. The suspects were unidentified.

A suitcase taken from the warehouse revealed $90,000 in Dominion of Canada bonds, $84,000 in industrial stocks. $1,845 in war savings certificates, $28,720 in sundry stocks, as well as diamonds and other jewelry.

Some Found in Car

The bonds found at Montreal were discovered partly in an automobile with the balance being discovered in a trunk hidden in a field. Police would not say where the latter was made.

The robbery was one of the most daring in Toronto's history. Initial estimates of money and valuables taken ran variously as high as $350,000. The robbers were carried out after the hooded trio entered the apartment of the bank's caretaker, binding and gagging him, his wife, daughter and three guests.

Murder Charge Laid Against George Rowe

St. Thomas, May 13. (CP) — George Rowe, 25, was charged formally in court today with the murder of 40-year-old John W. Bird of North Bay, Ont., whose bludgeoned body was found in an automobile at nearby Shedden early Sunday.

Without being asked to plead, Rowe was remanded one week.

Nidd's body was found in a parked car outside the home of his parents in Shedden where he had been attending a party. Evewitness Wilma Nidd, believed to be the murder weapon, were found nearby. Police stated there had been 'some quarrelling' at the party and advanced the killing theory as a motive, later discounted by Mrs. Nidd at North Bay.

VOTE EXPECTED SOON IN HOUSE ON THE BUDGET

Debate Appears to Have Run Its Course With Speakers Generally Favoring Provisions

By JOHN LEBLANC
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, May 13 (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott's Federal budget appeared headed for swift adoption by parliament today as the traditional budget debate moved rapidly towards its conclusion.

With just a week of debate remaining, the government's financial prospectus for the year, the debate seemed to have fairly well run its course and there were indications it would be over in the next few days for one of the shortest in years.

The debate moved along at a rapid-fire pace yesterday and last night with Agriculture Minister Gardiner and an assortment of nine other speakers representing all shades of opinion in the Chamber briefly discussing and condemning its provisions.

Making a spirited defence of his department, Agriculture Minister branched out to include the government's assistance to the farmers and its authorized increase in the ceiling placed on consumer price of butter.

When the Commons was hearing of the budget, the Senate was quietly giving third reading to another measure that has created much attention in the Commons at this session, the contentious omnibus bill for temporary extension of many government controls.

Needs Only Signature

The controls measure, which like the budget had a faster-than-expected life in the Senate Houses, now needs only the signature of the Governor-General to become law.

Sask. Farm Act Ultra Vires Says Supreme Court

Would Have Cut Interest Rates in Poor Crop Years

Ottawa, May 13 —(CP)— The Supreme Court of Canada, in a judgment handed down today, declared ultra vires section six of the Saskatchewan Farm Security Act providing for reduced interest on farmers debts during poor crop years.

A related reference, making similar provision in regard to debts in connection with housing enterprises, was automatically ultra vires by the same decision.

Mr. Justice J. Taschereau, who dissented from the court's decision on mortgages and bills of sale, said he still would answer 'yes' to the second question regarding housing loans.

The contested section provides that in any year in which farmer's crop yield is less than $6 an acre, the principal owing on all mortgages or bills of sale shall be reduced by the amount of interest due. At the same time the rate of interest on the principal would be postponed a year.

Arguments Heard in October

Arguments on the validity of the act were heard by six justices of the Supreme Court between 10 and Oct. 21, 1946. Mr. Justice J. W. Estey, the court's seventh judge, did not sit in on the hearings because he was attorney-general for Saskatchewan prior to his appointment to the bench in 1944.

Opposing the validity of the section the Farm Security Act were D. M. Gordon, former defence minister and counsel for the Attorney-General of Canada, and D. W. Mundell, counsel for the justice department, and C. F. H. Carson, counsel for the Dominion Mortgage and Investments Association.

Upholding the constitutionality of the section were G. W. Ferguson of Toronto, counsel for the Attorney-General for Saskatchewan H. J. Wilson of Edmonton, counsel for the Attorney-General of Alberta, and Yves Pratte of Quebec, counsel for the Quebec Attorney-General.

Col. Ralston held that the court should declare the section ultra vires because it conflicted with matters of interest, bankruptcy and insolvency which fell under Federal jurisdiction.

Not Immediately

He said there was similarity between the legislation and the Debtors Arrangement Act which the Alberta government in 1936 had sought to enforce. The Alberta act like the Saskatchewan act had made no reference to the immediate suspension of the provisions of the two were declared ultra vires but only arising out of bankruptcy and insolvency.

He argued as well that the Provincial mediation board established by the Saskatchewan act could properly claim a year of crop failure was given a broad interpretation. It did not have the authority to give such a board. The board would have to make judicial decisions and would thus usurp the right of the courts.

Mr. Mason contended that the section did not affect matters of bankruptcy or insolvency. The provisions of the section were made to cover wealthy and poor farmers and simply because they might prevent insolvency in some future date was no reason for claiming that legislation was bankruptcy legislation.

The mediation board, said Mr. Mason, would have no judicial powers. It would decide only whether there had been a year of crop failure. From that point

Fifth Woman Victim of Sex Slayer in Calif.

Los Angeles, May 13. (AP)— Detectives searched for a white-open-toe shoe today as a possible clue to the killing of Mrs. Laura Trahand, 37, fifth victim of a series of sex slayings which began in metropolitan Los Angeles in January.

The shoe was missing from the body of the mother of three children when it was found yesterday wrapped with a strip of cotton cloth, on a dusty road less than 12 blocks from her home.

Dr. Frederick Newbarr, coroner's surgeon, said preliminary examination indicated Mrs. Trahand had been raped before she was strangled. Her dress was torn and her underclothing ripped. Her body had been mutilated, however, as were those of previous victims.

Detective Capt. Lorin Martin of Long Beach, said that her husband, Ingman Trahand, 34, a truck driver, sobbing as he identified her body in the county morgue, told investigators he and his wife went to a party Sunday afternoon but he stayed to play cards and she left to go to a dance and had not been seen thereafter.

Sheriff's homicide squad members continued investigation in the case of the fourth victim in the search. Mrs. Dorothy Montgomery, 36, whose husband, Lawrence, is held in six counts of suspicion of murder. Her nude body was found May 3.

Acceptance by Nova Scotia Of Proposals Made by Federal Govt. Announced by Premier

By JACK BRAYLEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Halifax, May 13, (CP)—Acceptance of Dominion government financial proposals on the basis of new concessions made by the Dominion and termed legislature ratifies the agreement, was announced by Premier Angus L. Macdonald in a session-end press-interview with the subdued position—and "nothing more".

He said a preliminary study of constitutional changes still was unsettled and announced his intention of confirming his fight for "just provincial demands and claims".

The slim, graying Premier reviewed Nova Scotia-Dominion-Provincial relations and discussed correspondence between himself and Finance Minister Abbott which brought from the latter confirmation of provincial rights to such minor tax fields as amusements, gasoline and automutuels.

He suggested the need of considering further changes in the British North American Act—constitutional changes which he described as the logical preliminary steps to any permanent economic agreement. The Dominion's approach he said, "certainly has not been "unwise and unsound."

Bigest Budget

Recently he had introduced a $22,400,000 budget—the province's biggest—upon which forecast a $122,000 surplus with no allowance being made for any additional revenue from a Dominion-Provincial agreement which will cut imposing new taxation.

"The financial position today under the Dominion proposals with their many amendments is that Nova Scotia is guaranteed a minimum payment of $10,070,000 per year for a period of five years. This is made up of the grant of $15 a head plus the $2,000,000 subsidies which we were receiving before the war. As our population increases and if the value of gross national production increases, our grant will increase proportionately."

He outlined the province's position if it did not make an agreement. "We could impose a personal income tax and a corporation tax up to 10 per cent of the Dominion tax without imposing double taxation for which reason we would allow a credit of that amount against the corporation or corporation tax. And we could also continue to impose succession duties as we have been doing for more than 50 years. We would also get our former subsidies which amount to $2,000,000 annually.

"From these sources of revenue, it is reasonable that we could expect to receive, say in 1948, a total provincial revenue of from $6,000,000 or $7,000,000. What the position would be in 10, 15 or 20 years, it is difficult at this distance to judge. For the moment, however, if we sign an agreement we would be bound to the extent of at least $3,000,000 or $4,000,000. That is a considerable sum for provincial benefit by several millions — than the position would have been under the original proposal."

Greater Proportion

However "if the Dominion's proposals as to social security — that is, as to old age pensions and old age pensions — are finally carried out, we will have to pay out a greater proportion of that money than we would under the original proposal."

He based this statement on a speech by Mr. Abbott before the Toronto Board of Trade in which Mr. Abbott had said the proposals that as a result of increased social responsibility of the Dominion the provinces must expect to assume greater financial responsibility.

"This means, clearly," Mr. Macdonald declared, "that the provinces may be called upon, for example to pay more than 45 per cent of the cost of Health insurance, more than 50 per cent of the cost of Old Age Pensions to persons between the ages of 65 and 70."

Rt. Rev. A. R. Beverley Elected Anglican Bishop To Succeed D. T. Owen

Toronto, May 13 — (CP)—Rt. Rev. Alton Ray Beverley, M.A., D.D., Suffragan Bishop of Toronto, last night was elected Bishop of the Anglican Diocese of Toronto succeeding the late Archbishop Derwyn T. Owen who died April 1.

The tall, genial Bishop-elect, who served under the late Primate of all Canada, was elected by a meeting of the Synod attended by 209 clerical members and 340 members of the laity. The election came on the second ballot although it earlier was thought that balloting would continue for several days.

Born in 1894, Bishop Beverley is a native of Dorchester, Ont., a Middlesex county village about 10 miles east of London. His father, the late Rev. A. L. Beverley, was part-time Rector of St. Mark's Church in London.

The first ballot yesterday afternoon which was taken for the purpose of nominations — moved the kindly-eyed Bishop-elect had been given 87 clerical votes and 173 lay votes. Chancellor D. T. Symons suggested that the ballot be taken as an election since Bishop Beverley had a majority in both houses.

However, Rev. Dr. F. H. Cosgrove, senior member of the Synod, said this was without precedent since it was custom to demand a majority of the total votes cast in both orders. Bishop Beverley then moved that a second ballot be cast.

On the second ballot, 171 of 209 clergy votes were cast for the Bishop-elect, and 223 of 340 lay votes. A majority vote would have required 171 clerical votes and 171 laity votes.

Rector George F. Kingston of Nova Scotia was second in both houses balloting having received 90 clerical votes and 104 lay votes. Other clergy votes were as follows: Rev. Canon F. H. Wilkinson, Rector of St. Thomas', Toronto, 44; Rev. H. R. Waterman, Dean of Niagara and Rev. G. Luxton, Dean of Huron, one vote each.

Other laity house votes were: Rev. Canon Wilkinson, nine; Rev. Ramsay Armitage, principal of Wycliffe College, Rev. H. H. Hunt, Rev. E. J. Nicholson, and Rev. R.

Election of a bishop on two ballots was unprecedented. When Archbishop Owen became Bishop of Canada's largest Anglican Diocese in 1932, it required seven ballots, and although church laws limit the number of ballots to 12, veteran members of the Synod say that 13 has taken 24 ballottings on one occasion.

Following his election, Bishop Beverley told the assembled members of the Synod that there was "nothing a man covets more than the trust of his fellow men."

"With God's help I will try to be worthy of your trust," he added.

The Synod adjourned to June 17.

Some Kingston Carpenters Get Wage Increase

Kingston, May 13 (CP)—Return to work of some union carpenters and joiners who had been on strike since Friday last, was announced today by Andrew Cooper of Toronto, general agent for the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America. He said five local contractors, not members of the Kingston Building Contractors Association, had signed new wage agreements.

The new agreements call for increases of 20 cents per hour and provide for a further increase of 10 cents per hour effective next May 1, with provisions for increases of 20 cents per hour at each anniversary of the agreement.

Conciliation officer for the dispute between contractors and the Union, which expired April 30, provided $1.05 per hour for a 40-hour week.

Agreement between "Union representatives and members of the Contractors' Association is expected today in an attempt to settle the strike. Association members have offered $1.05 per hour hourly increase for a 40-hour week.

INJURED TRYING TO CURB RUNAWAY

London, Ont., May 13 — (CP)— Acting Sergeant Frank Christie received minor injuries in Queens early this morning while attempting to capture a burglar at Vanstone Foundry Ltd. The man raced through a back yard off Kent Street towards the spot the man was reported to be when a clothes line caught him across the mouth, tearing the mouth and gums. It is believed he lost several teeth.

Premier Drew Visiting England

Toronto, May 13 (CP)—Premier Drew of Ontario, arrived in England by plane early yesterday to confer with government officials on migration of British farm laborers to Ontario and with manufacturers on accommodating establishment of plants in this province.

The Premier, who spoke at a luncheon in Toronto Saturday, left Montreal Sunday afternoon by Trans-Canada Airlines. He is expected to return to the United Kingdom for two weeks, returning in time for the final sessions of the legislature the second week in June.

Mr. Drew will discuss with Prime Minister Attlee ways and means of facilitating the immigration into Ontario of urgently needed farm workers, and the Honorable Provincial Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Leslie Blackwell, estimates the shortage of farmhands here at 5,000—a situation aggravated by the unfortunate crop failure and his delayed seeding.

Premier Drew's mission is made easier by the recent relaxation of British government restrictions in immigration. British subjects may now enter Canada from overseas countries without a Means Test if they meet specified standards of health and character.

At Ontario House in London the Premier will describe to British industrialists the province's attractions and the availability of electrical power and labor. He will point out how overseas plants into Ontario will be expedited if persons interested move readily than by correspondence.

HJALMAR SCHACHT GIVEN 8 YEARS BY GERMAN COURT

Convicted as Major Nazi Offender and Deprived of All His Holdings

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Stuttgart, May 13 — (AP) — Hjalmar Schacht, German financial wizard who was cleared of war crimes charges by the International Military Tribunal at Nuernberg seven months ago, was convicted as a major Nazi offender by a German denazification court today and sentenced to eight years imprisonment.

Later Schacht's lawyer, Dr. Wolfgang Schwabenberger, said he would appeal the sentence to the highest German court.

The verdict was announced by court president Fritz Lenz in a packed courtroom where the former mayor of Leipzig, Carl Goerdeler and Reichsbank president has been executed for six weeks. The 70-year-old Schacht heard the verdict in stunned silence, his face drawn and white.

The court ordered the confiscation of all of Schacht's remaining personal fortune, officially estimated at 1,100,000 marks ($119,-

'Atomic Train' to Tour U.K. to Educate Britons to Peace Uses of A-Energy

By RONALD BEDFORD
London, May 13 — (Reuters) — An all-out drive to educate the British people in the peace time possibilities of atomic energy will start from Harwell on May 19 with the proval of the government though the bulk of necessary funds is being provided by industry.

The major effort will be borne by the new "atomic train" leaving London early in September for 55 provincial towns and cities. Specialists touring with the train will lecture on basic physics and the use of military exhibits to illustrate these lectures.

Coinciding with the departure of the atomic train, Britain's schools and libraries will receive a mollion picture explaining the development of atomic research.

A third development concerns the British Atomic Scientists Association, sponsors of the atom train. They are sending lecturers to small organizations such as women's institutes, educational associations and trade unions. Correspondence courses and visits to the government's drive to release atomic energy for industrial purposes.

The model for these, "Let's talk about the atom" talks was laid down with government approval three weeks ago, when top-ranking scientists from Britain's No. 1 atomic research center, Harwell, Berkshire, went into the tiny village hall to tell villagers about the work going on in their midst.

Treat Blankets With Germ Killer' Avoid Colds, Respiratory Diseases

Philadelphia, May 13—(AP) — There will be less germs flosting around your bed at night if the blankets you sleep under are spray reported to the Society of American Bacteriologists here today.

Every time you turn over, the report said, you stir up a new whirlwind of germs into the air.

Dr. I. J. Schmeisser and Frank S. Greenspan, University of California and the New York Hospital, New York City, said blankets treated occasionally with an ammonium salt solution, and stored in a recently-discovered germ killer, will reduce airborne infection.

The spraying apparatus is like a navy in which both blankets and floors were treated with the anti-

These measures seemed to reduce the number of respiratory infections of thousands of men, provided the sniffs, coughs and sneezes which were of mild injury. Whenever, as sometimes happens, the more severe and bronchial infections showed up, the blanket and floor measures were of no use.

"The disinfectant recial is quick death for most germ but is not good for internal use. It is a synthetic product. It keeps germs off furniture, walls, floors, bath tubs, bedding, rugs and clothing.

In dairies the disinfectant is used as a rinse in water to keep milk cans and apparatus clean. It cannot be used with soap, but must be applied separately.

Reimburse Catcher For Disposal Of "Charity" Dogs

Reimbursement for disposal of untagged "charity" dogs, meaning those for which no owners can be located, was granted the city dog catcher Thomas Thorne at Monday night's regular meeting of council.

The public council Mr. Thorne stated that so far this year he had disposed of approximately 85 "charity" dogs, for which he had received no pay. Under regulations he was entitled to collect these dogs for two days before disposing of them, he explained.

Later in council Alderman Chamberlain brought in a recommendation that Mr. Thorne be reimbursed $1 each for all unowned dogs which he was required to dispose of.

"Isn't it for killing these dogs that we pay him in the first place?"asked Alderman Clarke.

In reply Alderman Chamberlain stated that a dog catcher was his de facto assistant and game keeper. He claimed that the city dog catcher had to call on the dog catcher to dispose of them unclaimed dogs.

Salary of the city dog catcher is $10 weekly plus a bonus of one half of the license fees collected. A dog licences affect $1,500 has been received for the past years amounted to approximately $2,200, it was stated.

Mr. Thorne stated he was satisfied with the amount received from the city dog licence collections, but in view of the fact that he was called upon to dispose of so considerably, he felt he should be reimbursed for the disposal of "charity" dogs.

Many Dignitaries Attend Funeral Of H.B. Fetterly

An impressive service for the late H. B. Fetterly was conducted in the chapel at the Pinkston Funeral Home, Cobourg, on Victoria Avenue, Monday evening by the Rev. G. C. Be Sure to Have That Clothing For Britain Bundled Tomorrow

Tomorrow, Wednesday, is the day.

At 2 p.m. trucks and manpower will move off from the Armouries on a city-wide pick-up of bundles of clothing and shoes for the people of Britain.

This is hockey referees, moneylenders and landlords sometimes remark, is the final warning.

So let's get those packages of clothing ready and placed in a convenient place on verandah or pavement where the pick-up crews can get them with a minimum of labor and time.

If you haven't packed those old clothes, do it now, or you might forget. Let's show the gallant Britishers that Belleville hasn't forgotten what they did in the dark days. Let us show at least small appreciation of their sufferings and hardships.

And if you have any coin of the realm you wish to donate to the purchase of much-needed foodstuffs, there is plenty of time to bring it to any city bank or to the business offices of the Ontario Intelligencer. But don't delay too long. Take it downtown Wednesday morning.

In any event let's go all out in this campaign. Merchants can telephone the Fire Department this evening or tomorrow morning before noon that any event, and the fire laddies will call for and deliver their donations of clothing and other essentials.

Tomorrow afternoon may be too late. So have the clothes packaged, tied and ready. Shoes should be tied in pairs. Do it now.

Winsome Circus Performer Seeks To Cross Niagara Gorge as Blondin Did

The two Beresini sisters, now appearing with their tight-wire troupe with the Shrine Circus at Memorial Arena, are what writers with a poetic yen, would term statuesque blondes.

They are beautiful, exude plenty of charm, and are exceedingly pleasant young ladies.

But the story Mrs. Beresini and Josephine, the young lady who has defied death at least twice a day since she was four years of age, "and that" she smiled, "was exactly when I started to walk."

Josephine, her sister Sonja, her brothers Veno and Otto, and her father Josef, come from a long line of circus performers. They hail from the city of Pilchen, Czechoslovakia, and arrived in the United States in 1939 before war broke out in Europe.

Gleaming white teeth flashed in a friendly smile beneath a halo of golden curls as Josephine explained that her father was one of the greatest wire walkers in the world.

They speak almost perfect English, but favor their native tongue when they are alone.

Wants to Cross Gorge

But the theme of this story is that the attractive Josephine has an obsession. Perhaps it is because she is the great-great granddaughter of the famous tight-wire walker Blondin, who crossed the Niagara Gorge on a wire years ago, partly because Josephine has a heart as big as her body seems small, wants to turn her exceptional talents to the aid of suffering humanity.

In short she wants to emulate her distinguished forebear and cross the Niagara River on the Niagara Gorge.

She has had this feat in mind since she was "knee-high to a grasshopper," in fact she has tried to arrange the performance, but was refused permission on the grounds that it was a publicity stunt which in addition would place plenty of the coin of the realm in Josephine's purse.

This she emphatically denies. "I do not she cent," she exclaimed, and sincerity shone in her big blue eyes. "Every penny which would accumulate from the performance would be turned over to the prevention of Cancer Fund. I do not want even one newspaperman around it and when I am allowed to walk the wire."

She tossed her golden head. "I am ready to do this whenever I can get permission, and I am not giving up hope some day I will be allowed to do it."

"But think of the mental hazards," suggested the reporter, "Thousands of people below you, eyes riveted on you; the roar of the falls; the wind and spray?"

Josephine smiled. "I have thought of that many times. But I do not think of it," would bother me too much. Anyway I am going to do it as soon as the authorities will grant permission.

She glanced at a tiny clock on her dressing table. "The time for rehearsal," she smiled, "and as family goes through its performance daily besides those seen by the public," and she hurried off to her bead and that winsome smile she disappeared through the door to where the "Little Wonder" lives.

Crossed Niagara 4 Times

On June 30, 1859 after making a preparatory test tour of the United States, he crossed the Falls of Niagara five times minutes before a crowd of 25,000. On July 4 he crossed blindfold trundling a wheelbarrow on August 19 he carried a man on his back and on Sept. 14, 1860 he crossed on stilts in the presence of the Prince of Wales He died in London, Feb. 22, 1897.

Council to Buy Cummins and Cook Properties for Entrance to Riverside Drive if Municipal Bd. Approves

The much discussed matter of the proposed Riverside Drive was again dug up for some lively discussion at the regular meeting of council Monday evening when Alderman E. R. Follwell was acting mayor in the absence of Mayor Frank S. Follwell.

The Riverside Drive question was brought up by Alderman Bryce Lattimer when under inquiries he asked City Solicitor A. B. Collins if there had been any action on a council recommendation of several weeks ago asking for options to be renewed on the Cummins and Cook properties in order that an entrance may be effected onto Bridge St.

After some lively discussion during which various angles of the once proposed drive were aired, Alderman E. R. Follwell brought in a motion calling on the city solicitor to ascertain from the Municipal Board if the city has the authority to purchase property at approximately $10,000 for the entrance purposes here. If consent is obtained to purchase the Cummins and Cook property at the previous option price or at the closest figure thereto. The motion passed in council.

Tired of Delays

When the matter was brought up by Alderman Lattimer, Alderman Follwell declared that he was sick and tired of "dilly dallying" with the Riverside Drive project. "If we don't intend to buy this property, then we should not approach the owners on the matter," he said.

Alderman Chamberlain said that sufficient to give them the property should first be obtained, while Alderman Allin stated that there were buildings now going up on the route of the drive and asked what the Cummins and Cook property was wanted for. Alderman Lattimer replied that it was to effect an entrance onto Bridge Street and to provide additional parking space at the rear of Front Street stores.

Owners Made Reservations

Alderman Armstrong agreed that there was no use antagonizing further owners of property on the course of the proposed drive. "We tried many times to get action on this project, but all owners reserved a building line. If the project had gone ahead and had owners built out to their reserved building line there would have been little room left for parking. Council therefore decided that the drive would cost the city too much for the benefit received."

The parking problem in Belleville is important. "I say we should purchase this property and get a start," stated Alderman Lattimer.

"No one in this council can tell me the importance of the parking problem," returned Alderman Armstrong. "I think I have worked harder and longer than any other member on this matter. But we never could get a final report."

Following discussion the above motion was carried before council and was passed by members.

Wants Veterans Appointed

A Thursday evening recommendation asking that Archie Duffy be appointed as fire department replacement following the resignation of L. Rump, failed to be ratified by councillors when Alderman Duffy held that preference should be given to returned veterans.

"I appreciate the desirability of the department hiring an experienced man," he said, "but I made a lot of promises to veterans and if we do not give them preference we are not playing the game. It would be a black mark for this council if we failed to give a veteran preference," he stated.

Alderman Harvey returned that Bill had offered his services but had been turned down. To this Alderman Duffy replied the argument was not a matter of service, only that preference should be given to a man who had served overseas on the front lines.

Alderman Butler agreed that a veteran should be given the preference but held that this should be the first consideration when hiring a successor for the department.

Alderman Lazenby held that a veteran had been let out of the department when pre-war firemen had been kept on the service. This man should be considered, he stated.

Referred to Committee

Council finally voted that the matter should be referred back to committee and the department's vacancy advertised.

The fire department saw further discussion when a recommendation was brought in by Alderman Wilbur, chairman of Fire, calling for all members of the department to attend a physical examination.

Alderman Lazenby stated he was not in favor if, as result of the physical examination, any member of the department would receive his discharge and moved an amendment to the recommendation that if, as result of the examination any man over 50 be found physically unfit that he be discharged with retirement pay.

"When a recommendation is discussed in this council and then withdrawn . . . it should not be brought back later on a different angle," commented Alderman Wilbur. He apparently was referring to a recommendation placed before council some weeks ago regarding the enforcement of the 50-year age limit on the firemen.

Says Some Not Physically Fit

Alderman Wilbur returned that there had been no thought in his mind to let any men out of the department as result of any physical examination. He admitted, however, that without doubt there were men on the department who were not physically fit.

"There is something behind all this placing of recommendations and then withdrawing them," interjected Alderman Allin. "I say let us thoroughly investigate the fire department and clear the matter up."

Alderman Wilbur denied there was any motive behind the recommendation other than to find out the physical condition of department members. Alderman Harvey, however, still believed there was some motive behind the recommendation.

"The Fire Chief now says there are two men who are too old for the department," pointed out Alderman Lazenby.

Alderman Tice said there had been 25 committees appointed to look into the fire department and there had been no action. He favored rewriting the fire by-law. Alderman Lazenby held that the present city fire by-law was obsolete and that when it was rewritten the Underwriters of Fire Fighters would set a standard of rules.

"Do you mean to say that this city will be dictated to by the Federation?" asked Alderman Allin.

"No," was the reply, "but it will submit a standard of rules which will have to be followed."

Committee to Investigate.

Decision of council was to appoint a committee of Aldermen Lazenby, Wilbur and one other member of council to thoroughly investigate the fire department and to make their report with the view of re-organization of the department.

The matter of a balance of $780 being paid to the Maitland Construction Company as payment for extra excavation in regard to the Purdy-Street sewer was referred to City Solicitor for advice.

Alderman Allin disagreed when the recommendation calling for Alderman Follwell to go to Hamilton as delegate to the provincial convention came up for ratification. He moved an amendment that no delegate be sent, charging the city was spending too much money on out-of-town delegations. The amendment was lost.

The Thursday evening recommendation asking that the city solicitor prepare a by-law forbidding the keeping of sheep within the city; also failed to be ratified and was only when a clause "if the municipal act permits," was added to the recommendation.

Alderman Tice was authorized to go to Toronto to arrange for preparing of the scrolls which will be presented to Belleville veterans on Victory Day. Alderman Harvey was given leave of absence from council until late in June with Alderman Armstrong being appointed temporarily as the chairman of public works. The Mayor and one alderman were authorized to attend the Ontario Mayors' Association Convention to be held at Ottawa, June 5-7.

Council approved of public telephones being installed outside the city hall and outside the Memorial Arena and agreed for tenders to be called for the supply of crushed rock. Owing to the inability of the contractor to procure the specified eight-inch tile, nine-inch tile will be installed in the Wellington Street sewer with the city to pay the extra costs.

Need New Roller

A report from the boiler inspectors informed council that the city steam roller was unsafe for use and the city engineer and two aldermen were authorized to contact Way & Sons with the view of purchasing a new roller.

No action was taken on a communication from the Quinte District Superintendent Association asking that until the Federal government brought in legislation to the contrary that all statutory holidays be held on the date upon which they fall.

Under inquiries both Alderman Lattimer and Follwell asked whether further information had been received as to when the parking meters would be installed. They were informed there had been no word other than that the contract stated shipment would be made within 60 days of the contract being signed and with the receipt of final instructions.

Alderman Follwell also inquired as to when the ice plant would be installed in the Memorial Arena. He was informed by Alderman Tice that the compressor was in the city and that the rink would be ready for operation by September 15.

Wants Houses Built

Under notice of motion Alderman Duffy informed council that at the next meeting he would bring in a motion asking that the local housing committee investigate the possibilities of houses being constructed in the city by Wartime Housing.

Reason for his notice of motion was that farmers in the low to one brackets were not in a position to purchase houses at the price asked under the Integrated Housing plan and could afford no more than $25 per month. He stated he would bring in the motion each council meeting until there was action taken.

William C. Mikel, K.C., informed council by letter that he was prepared to offer a suitable cup or trophy for a swimming contest staged in connection with the Old Boys' Reunion. The course would be in the Bay of Quinte off the Victoria Park and the Government Dock. The letter was referred to the Old Home Week Committee.

Alderman Harvey inquired why the fire trailers camped at the city tourist camp when no caretaker had been hired. He was informed the trailers were used by employees of the Merrick Brothers' circus and had been permitted to park at the request of the Shrine Club.

Alderman Tice wanted to know when the retaining wall on Campbell Street hill would be repaired, while Alderman Harvey thought fire hose owned by the fire department should receive periodic tests. Alderman Lazenby again inquired as to the expected date of completion of the "monument" on the Market Square. He was informed that inability to secure plumbing fixtures had been holding up the work.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, May 13. (AP)—Stocks generally continued their downward course today as many market leaders touching new lows for the year or longer before attracting any support.

Dealings slowed after a relatively fast opening in which blocks of 1,000 to 8,000 shares were plentiful and losses of fractions to 2 or more points numerous. Extreme declines were reduced and there was a smattering of plus signs in evidence near the fourth hour.

On the outside were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Goodyear, United Aircraft, American Telephone, Johns-Manville, Eastman Kodak and U.S. Gypsum.

McIntyre was up 3-8 among Canadian issues at mid-day while Canadian Pacific was the sole loser with a loss of 1-8. Dome Mines and Hiram Walker each added 1-4.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, May 13 (CP)—Cattle prices were strong to 25 cents hundredweight higher on steers and heifers on the livestock market here up to mid-session today. Veal calves and hogs were steady. No sheep or lambs offered. Unsold from yesterday were 60 heifers and 2 bulls.

Retreats From 1945 Stand

Mr. Macdonald described the Dominion's retreat from its original 1945 stand. There had been the dropping of the gasoline taxes, the decision to pay the provinces full subsidies, the promise of returning certain minor tax fields to the provinces, the agreement to hold a general conference at least a year before any agreement and finally the recognition of the rights of the provinces to certain fields of taxation.

He quoted newspaper reports that representatives of some other provinces had recently been in Ottawa discussing matters of national security and public investment with Federal authorities.

"So far as we are concerned here, we will not discuss those of any other like matters except in a full general conference."

Nova Scotia could sign an agreement on financial matters with the Dominion for five years and if at the end of that time the province was not satisfied with the manner in which the agreement works, the province could withdraw. Such would not be possible in the case of Health Insurance.

conference. Already on hand was Lord Pakenham, responsible cabinet minister for the Occupied zone.

The British said tension in both the United States and British Zones appeared to be increasing daily. Miners and workers protesting are not getting sufficient food to work. Strikes and demonstrations have been orderly but, informed sources said, some officials feared outbreaks of violence if the situation is not alleviated.

Frankfurt, (Reuters) — Protest resignations by town councils were reported from the Ruhr today as the British Zone's worst food crisis entered its 23rd day without signs of an improvement.

WILL APPEAL DECISION

Regina (CP)—Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan said the Saskatchewan government will immediately appeal to the privy council the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada that the section of the Provincial Farm Security Act providing for refund of losses in farmers' debts during crop failure years is ultra vires.

Mr. Douglas said that "in the meantime if necessary we will use every means within our power to provide security of tenure for the people on the land."

VETERANS UNEMPLOYED NOW REDUCED TO 5,000

Brantford, May 13 (CP)—After a tour of all employment offices in Canada, Col. F. J. Philpott, special adviser to the Deputy Minister of Veterans' Affairs, said last night that when he started tour April 15 there were 10,000 First and Second World War veterans unemployed in Canada.

"This has dropped to 5,000 in one month through service clubs and various committees . . . finding suitable work for these men," he added.

Royal Tour and Welcome Home

The South African tour and journey of Their Majesties the King and Queen with their daughters Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret Rose ended on Monday with their return to receive a tuhultuous welcome from their people in the port of Portsmouth and London, which were draped with flags in honor of the occasion.

They have completed a tour of the greatest importance at a time of great moment in world history. The welcome that the Royal Family received throughout the length and breadth of the Union of South Africa, is significant of the ties of great power and strength which unite the Commonwealth in the most unique organization of nations in history.

Royal tours are historic. The African tour followed the Canadian tour of the King and Queen eight years after. The visit to Canada by their Majesties came on the eve of World War II, while that to South Africa came in the days of returned peace, freighted with greatest promise and also with great responsibilities.

The members of the Royal Family by their charm and graciousness found their way to the hearts of the peoples of the Union who will have lasting memories of the days when their hearts were guests of that great land of South Africa.

Youth of Today

"Today's youths are not just like their parents," says the monthly letter of the Royal Bank of Canada telling of the progress in material things, such as technological development and the growth of savings from $41 per person in 1933 to $200 this year, and comments, "This means that life today is not the same as it was in the boyhood of men who are now at the top in business and industry. Farming and insofar as it is different we cannot expect young people to live the same lives their fathers did."

It took the First Great War to end the design which had served so well for so many generations. Hence came instead of dependence upon authority reliance upon individual instinct. "Instead of the trust in the years of age there was substituted the pushfulness of youth. Instead of quiet fireside gatherings there came car rides, movie shows, hustle, noise and mechanical unrest."

But that was not all. There was another result of the wars. "60,000 lads did not come back from the First Great War and 38,000 did not return from the Second, and there might have been a greater transfusion for young people — easier too for adults, who associate with them—if these tragic spaces had not been blasted in our ranks," says the letter. Individual and family have been subjected to a severe jolt. The pattern of the family could not stand unaltered. "The new model may be better on the whole, but youth needs to remember that parents are tied by sentimental strings to the past and may have difficulty in adapting themselves to the new ideas of their children."

Standards of living have changed, youth has changed. "Life becomes a thing of sudden reactions, of impulsive responses. No institution, church, educational or business, escapes criticism . . . Restless youth is critical of the past and willing to suffer from experience. This is healthy, provided youth does not generate a resentment for life and mere speed for progress." When adolescence merges into young manhood old problems are intensified and new ones are added. The average age of marriage today is 28 for men and 25 for women. Entering into the cause of late marriage is the question of delayed independence. The situation is "complicated by the fact that so many girls now earn good wages in the teens and dislike marrying if it means having less to spend."

The letter declares that life deserves more of young people than a demand for easiness and they deserve more of life than they will get by pursuing ease as their main objective. Youth must go on learning, which is a continuous adventure and preparation for opportunity, which means flexibility to grasp. "There never were greater opportunities than in Canada today, but they still have to worked for."

The article notes that "employment in Canada if it is to take in youth, must be full employment for all," because youth will be the first sufferers of a slack period."

The needs of the time can be met by the same intelligent energy as was given to the solution of war problems of production and utilization of manpower. "Inertia is the greatest evil we have to contend with. Whatever is done must be done thoroughly. If Canadians are aroused and go to work effectively to meet their problems, including that of youth, this country, in this century, could make a place, no Canadian, young or old, would wish to exchange, though offered a choice of all past ages and all presently reat countries."

What Man Can Do, If He Has To

It is on record that a man can: Live without sleep for 115 hours; live without water for 22 days; live without food for 75 days; hold his breath for 20 minutes; 5 seconds; stay under water for 6 minutes, 29 seconds; live in a heat of 120 degrees centrigrade (248 degrees Fahrenheit); live in a cold of 75 degrees centrigrade (103 degrees below zero Fahrenheit); glide for 46½ miles; climb without oxygen to 28,200 feet; climb with oxygen to 74,000 feet; dive below water to 500 feet; run (in 59 days) 50,625 miles; walk on his hands 16 miles a day for 55 days; hike on stilts 31 miles a day for 58 days; squat on a pole for 10 days, 14 hours, 34 minutes; parachute jump from 30,800 feet.—Weekly Underwriter.

U.K. Coal Output Best in 5 Years

Britain has made encouraging progress in her drive to overcome the setbacks of this winter's fuel crisis. This was made clear by Sir Stafford Cripps, the President of the Board of Trade, when he addressed a press conference at London, on the United Kingdom economic situation.

Although bad weather and transport difficulties have lost the country 895,000 tons of coal, it is hoped that fuel stocks will be sufficient to maintain substantially full employment in Britain's industry this summer. The increase in the allocation to industry is based on the assumption that the total output during the summer will reach 39,000,000 tons, compared with an earlier estimate of 89,000,000 tons. This new estimate is based largely on the improved manpower position — during the first 17 weeks this year there have been 20,000 recruits to coal mines. This additional strength has already made itself felt in the industry for, last week, Britain's coal output close to 4,107,000 tons, the highest since the Christmas week end of 1942. This is 261,000 tons above the weekly average of the industry's annual target of 200,000,000 tons.

Although Britain's industry is now receiving more coal, the full effects on production of the winter crisis have yet to be felt. "There is bound to be a lag of some months between the shortage of coal supplies and the manufacture and sale of finished consumer goods," said Sir Stafford. In the textile industries, however, the loss appears to be less than expected. Pottery is one of the products in worst supply, but even here the supply is better than it was. The Government intends that the reduced production resulting from the winter coal shortage shall have a minimum effect on the export drive. "We shall have to give special weight to our export priority" said Sir Stafford, "and even with a rising production we may have less for the home market."

Time and Hour

Most motorcar accidents in Ontario last year took place between five and six o'clock in the afternoon and the greatest number of fatal crashes between five and seven o'clock. From five to six in the morning there are the fewest accidents, the fewest fatalities and the fewest cases of injuries.

Saturday is the day with the great preponderance of accidents, with the greatest number of fatalities, the greatest number of cases of personal injury and the greatest number of instances of property damage only. Wednesday has least accidents; Tuesday least fatalities.

GARDEN MAKING

How are little gardens made?
First, with trowel and with spade;
Then, on hands and knees to sow
Seed and rootlet, row by row.

Later, when the work is done,
Trust it to the rain and sun.
Next, a watchful care it needs,
Lest it fall a prey to weeds.

One who loves it oft must take
Time to toil with hoe and rake,
And in times of weather dry
Food and water must supply.

Little gardens everywhere
Need devotion's constant care.
Only one who's brave of heart
Should a little garden start.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BY-GONE YEARS.

20 YEARS AGO

May 13th., 1927

The city clerk has been instructed to write to the officials of several Ontario cities and ascertain how the dog nuisance is regulated and what municipalities have by-laws prohibiting dogs running at large.

The Chairman of Market and City Property Committee and the Chairman of the Executive Committee have been appointed by the City Council to investigate the condition of the public lavatory and to recommend such action as may be necessary to put the lavatory in a sanitary condition.

Mr. Chris. Lewis, proprietor of the Quinte Battery Service Station is having the front of his building altered to read The Place will have a very smart appearance when completed.

30 YEARS AGO

May 13th., 1917

It is rumored that Belleville will not have an excursion boat operating from this port this summer. The steamers Brockville and Varuna it is said, will go to Hamilton and the Rideau Queen under command of Captain Christy, will ply between Napanee, Belleville and Oswego.

The schooner George A. Marsh cleared for Oswego this morning. Captain John Smith Master, and William Watkins, First Mate, are in command. This is the first Belleville boat to go for coal this season. She left the port in good condition and will be a credit to the Belleville fleet.

The schooner J. B. Newland formerly owned by Captain George Coulter of Belleville, has been purchased by Captain John Mitchell of Napanee for a substantial sum. She is now undergoing repairs at Kingston and will later trade between Napanee, Belleville and Oswego.

May 13th., 1907

The Corby Distillery at Corbyville was destroyed by fire yesterday. The fire started in the distillery proper and it is believed to have been the result of spontaneous combustion. The new copper equipment which cost over $100,00 was entirely destroyed. The insurance, it is said, will be fully $100,000 less than the loss. The fire was discovered by fireman, Harry Hubbs, who was on duty in the night shift. Two buildings were destroyed, the historic old grist mill, which was built over a half century ago by the late Hon. Robert Read and the distillery proper which was built by Mr. Henry Corby, the father of Mr. Harry Corby, ex M.P. The engine room and a large coal warehouse were destroyed also a large amount of grain, Mr. E. E. Davis, the resident manager, says that the plant will be rebuilt. Harry Hubbs, the fireman, who discovered the fire, was badly burned on the hands and face and was conveyed to the city hospital for treatment.

50 YEARS AGO

May 13th., 1897

Mr. Joseph Walters has returned to Toronto to resume his studies at the School of Pharmacy.

Mr. Charles Smith of Campbellford, well known in this city, will leave in June to spend some time in the old country.

Mr. T. F. O'Brien, dental student has returned from Toronto and will resume his duties in Dr. Ward's office.

Mr. Harry Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sprague of this city has passed the first year examinations at McMaster University, Toronto.

Mr. Grand Furgy in his presentment to Chancellor Boyd yesterday afternoon reported as follows: "In inspecting the County Buildings, we notice there is not a lavatory in the Court House and Gaol, and we would recommend for the convenience of the public that a telephone be placed in the Sheriff's office. We would suggest also that the main approach to the Court House be improved as in its present condition it is of no credit to the County." His Lordship said that the absence of a telephone at the Court House was a disgrace to a wealthy county like Hastings and was false economy. The approach to the Court House in its present shabby condition was a disgrace. He would see that a copy of the presentment was sent to the County Council.

RICE SHORTAGE

New Delhi —(CP)— Shortage of rice in India will continue throughout 1947 with less available for export in the last half of the year than during the current six months, Reportable surplus for the marketing year ending June 30, 1947, will be less than 40 per cent of pre-war levels.

NEW DIPLOMAT

London —(CP)— Sir Charles Jeffries has been appointed a joint deputy undersecretary of state for the colonies in succession to Sir Arthur Dawes who retired through ill health.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK SCRAPS

By R. J. SCOTT

Garrison Norton, chairman of the United States delegation, is shown as he addressed the first general assembly of the International Civil Aviation organization in Montreal. Three hundred delegates from 43 countries are assembled for the meeting. Also shown are: Dr. Edward Warner, president of the P.I.C.A.O. council (centre) and Dr. Albert Roper, secretary-general.

VOTE EXPECTED

In the Commons, members heard from Transport Minister Chevrier that Prince Edward Island's railroad operations were to be switched over to diesel power next month under a $1,000,000 modernization project. Simultaneously—this type of motive power was to be tried out on the Toronto-Montreal-Halifax lines of the Canadian National Railways.

Mr. Gardiner told the House in his turn the Government's belief that "during the transitional period from war to peace we must endeavor to enable the consumer back into a sound relationship under which they can deal with one another."

The government would endeavor to "protect both from any middle man who tries to take advantage of the favorable supplies either to get his product too cheap or to sell it too high."

Farmers Owed Something

About the recent butter price increase, Mr. Gardiner said that Canadian consumers owed something to the farmers because they had been eating cheaper food through the whole war period than they would have had in any other country.

The government praised the tax relief provided in the budget. He said if income tax exemptions had been increased at this time the government would have been forced to obtain much of its revenues from indirect taxes which fell heavily on the wage earners.

Hon. C. D. Howe (Minister) declared the government, in selling any lumigrants to be brought to the country, should not place them on farms. This he claimed, would only bring about over-production.

Waste Conference Recovened

Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver East) urged that the Federal Government should reconvene the Dominion-Provincial Conference and defer all taxation until general agreement was reached on it, at least, until it had been determined who was blocking agreement. There was need for a national social security plan was urgent.

Charles Ross (PC—Toronto St. Pauls) criticized the budget and the government's "extravagance" which he claimed was reflected in the budget. The government, he declared, was operating on a "war-minded" basis.

40,000 WORKERS IDLE

Detroit, May 13 —(CP)— Forty thousand workers in Michigan plants remained idle today in a serious steel shortage and automotive production dwindled to the lowest point in six months.

Only Ford Motor Company maintained a high production rate in the industry as a spokesman said that operations were on a "day-to-day basis."

It was hit was the Briggs Manufacturing Company, which was closed by off 19,000 workers last Friday, they will return to work May 30.

RED TAPE SILENCE

Auckland, N.Z.—(CP)—A few high in red tape was reached when employees at a State hydro-electric works on a lake experiencing a power failure had to answer a reported asking if it was raining. Going to Parliament, the employee said his instructions were to give no information to the press.

CALCIUM AND NUTRITION

A diet may seem liberal and varied or "well balanced" and yet unless it includes a substantial amount of milk and green leaf vegetables it may be calcium-poor and hence inadequate to maintain health, growth and good nutrition. Hence, as Bogert, Roman (Chemistry of Food and Nutrition, Macmillan '37) says:

"The ordinary mixed diet of Americans and Europeans, at least among dwellers in cities and towns, is probably more often deficient in calcium than in any other chemical element.

Milk contains calcium in abundance, approximately a gram, (15% grains) in the quart — and is the richest natural source of calcium for infant, child or adult. As the daily requirement of calcium for an infant or a growing child is nearly 10 to 12 grains it becomes more apparent that a quart of milk a day for every growing child is not more than a reasonable concept. After full growth and development has been attained (from the age of 18 to twenty-five years) the daily calcium requirement is not so great and perhaps a pint of milk a day is sufficient for an adult.

Skim milk (milk from which the cream has been removed, whether by skimming or by the separator) and real buttermilk (the liquid left after butter in churning butter) are practically as good as whole milk, as a source of calcium. Cottage or Dutch cheese and indeed every variety of cheese is an excellent source of calcium especially when the diet does not include enough milk.

Second to milk and milk products comes the yolk of egg as a source of calcium in the diet. Next to milk, cheese and egg yolk, come the green leaves, especially those that are good to eat raw, such as cabbage, lettuce, endives (chicory greens), cress, parsley, onion tops, and cooked greens (considerable calcium is dissolved out in the water during boiling). and this is one reason why a lunch or dinner is not complete without a salad.

There is no convincing evidence that the oxalic acid in certain green leaves (and in other common foods such as cocoa, tea, coffee, beets, potatoes, tomatoes, figs, strawberries and plums) can do one any serious harm, even if it does tend to interfere with assimilation of calcium.

Besides the foods named, these are good sources of calcium—fresh, young beans, dried beans, peas fresh or dried, peanuts, almonds and other nuts, asparagus, celery, cauliflower, cabbage, kale, spinach, broccoli, dandelion greens, beet greens, turnip greens, mustard greens, oatmeal, sorghum syrup, maple syrup, dried figs, olives.

The adequate daily supply of calcium is required not only to maintain normal growth and repair but to

(1) regulate excitability of nerve tissue and nerve centers,

(2) maintain vigorous contraction of the heart muscle, even if

(3) diminish permeability of the capillary walls against an edema, dropsy, inflammatory swellings, hive-like conditions.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cruelty to Children

My sister insists on taking her six months old baby to the movies once or twice a week. Is this harmful? — (R. C.).

Answer:—It is cruel in my opinion. It subjects the baby to the unpleasant glare of the screening some communicable disease such as infantile paralysis, flu, diphtheria, whooping cough.

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

Why is mercury used in thermometers?

Mercury, or quicksilver, is used in thermometers for a number of reasons because it expands and contracts uniformly and because it will not freeze at the low temperatures usually encountered during the winter in most of the inhabited parts of the world.

It was first suggested for alcohol in thermometers made by Gabriel Daniel Fahrenheit (1686-1736), a German physicist who adopted the mercury thermometer in his native Danzig during the early part of 1709 as the starting point in his graduated scale for thermometers.

Mercury is the only metallic element that stays liquid at ordinary temperatures. It does not freezes or solidifies at about 38 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, and in cold places mercury thermometers often freeze during the winter.

The "leak" is a white, ductile and malleable mass that can be cut with a knife like cheese.

Although a mercury thermometer is used in other cases, any other liquid that will register low the freezing point of that substance will be satisfactory. Sometimes alcohol colored with a red dye or some other liquid that will register temperatures down to 80 degrees below zero is required to freeze pure alcohol.

The great value of mercury makes it suitable for use in barometers.

Circus "Mother" Honored By Members of Show

There was a touch of human interest at the Morris Brothers' Circus opening performance in the Memorial Arena last night.

Circus people, like others, are human, but the rigors of the road sometimes deny them of the plea-sanities and human side of life.

Mrs. R. R. Patterson, wife of Shriner Patterson of Indianapolis, who together stage the uproariously funny "Uncle Hiram" and "Auna Matilda," and their Funny Ford act, is the "mother" of the circus. She is beloved by all — and she loves all her colleagues of the sawdust rings.

So they honored her last night with a handsome bouquet of flowers in commemoration of "Mother's Day," which falls on Sunday.

And the presentation was made by three of the youngest members of the troupe; one a little boy, another a small girl, and the other was "Tuffy," a five-weeks-old bear cub, the son of one of Bessie's trained bears.

But "Tuffy" nearly stole the show. He got over a first-minute nervousness and waddled to forage for himself. The little bundle of fur was finally rescued by an attendant and taken back to the menagerie.

Clever, Colorful Acts Thrill Crowds at Merrick Circus Playing at Memorial Arena

Trained Animals, Acrobats, Clowns, Jugglers, Feature Smart Show — Here Tonight, Wednesday

The circus came to town yesterday.

And it brought with it all the familiar trimmings; the sawdust; the pink lemonade, the hot dogs, peanuts and balloons; the wild monkeys, and lions, bears, and tigers; clowns and acrobats, in fact all those things that are part and parcel of the "greatest entertainment on earth."

It was the Merrick Brothers Circus, a brand new Canadian enterprise that leaves nothing to be desired from an entertainment point of view. There was not a dull moment and the acts are faultlessly clean, of exceptionally high character, and include some of the best seen here since Grandpop took Grandmaw to the "Big Top" in the horse and buggy.

And thousands of school kids and grown-ups placed a unanimous stamp of approval on the first show yesterday afternoon and evening performance last night. Recorder Frank Harley of Mocha Temple, London, Ont., who with the circus played last week wired: "You may safely recommend Merrick Circus to the Belleville public. An excellent show. All customers satisfied here after week's run."

The show was officially opened at 8.30 when Ringmaster Tommy McClure introduced Assistant Potentiate D. L. Storey, president of the Belleville and District Shrine Club who extended the appreciation to the public for their patronage. He spoke of the community and district work being done by the Shriners, and hoped that it would continue through the generosity of the public.

President Storey in turn introduced Mayor Frank Follwell, who complimented the Shrine Club on the magnificent work it was doing for the city and country through its mass surveys for the prevention of tuberculosis, its crippled children fund and he also mentioned the fine club house which had been started on Highland Avenue.

He congratulated the Shrine on its efforts in procuring such a fine show as the Merrick Circus and urged the general public to support it as much as possible.

Balzar Sisters, "The Act Beautiful" in acrobatic poses and feats of strength, one of the features this season with Merrick Bros. Circus at the Belleville Arena May 12th, 13th, and 14th. Under the auspices of Belleville Shrine Club.

Top-Flight Entertainment

It is definitely top-flight entertainment from the time ring master Tommy McClure blows the opening whistle until Ben Nichols' smart ten-piece circus band plays the National Anthem. It is entirely in keeping with the Belleville and District Shrine Club's policy of high-class entertainment. All proceeds will be donated to the Shrine's crippled children fund.

Ben Nitsch and the Scatterbrains open the show in clown fashion that put the crowd in good mood. Then in more serious yet clever vein came the famous Ki-Gor and his Seven Kings of the Jungle. The trainer put his cats through clever acts, without the conventional chair and his mastery over the animals, was something out of the ordinary.

Then there is a coterie of clowns, grotesque in make-up and hilariously funny in their antics. Bombs and guns explode all over the place as Herbie Taylor and his clever make-believe-artists go through their funny paces.

Thrilling to See

Highlighting the show, or at least one of the highlights is the famous Heredity Troupe from Czechoslovakia, the Royal Family of the tight-wire. High aloft these clever artists do heart-stopping acts that will thrill you as the packed arena. Their climax with two bicycles and a third balanced on a pole suspended from the two riders necks is spectacular and thrilling to see.

Another outstanding act is that of Miss Hertzollasco, member of a famous family of trapeze artists, whose performance "stopped the show." She gives a daring exhibition high in the air, with special death-defying leaps which end in her hanging by her heels to the trapeze featuring a remarkable performance. In the finale she does a twisting somersault through the air to cling safely to a long rope suspended fifteen feet away.

Hilarious Comedy

For the absolute in hilarious comedy there is Uncle Hiram and Aunt Matilda in their Funny Ford. The antiquated vehicle does everything but lead the band. It spits back in its owner's face, blows a tire at any time; can travel alone; fail to start, "rear up on its hind end," and is finally pulled by a "Diesel". It is a side-splitting to say the least.

One of the stars of the show is Roxy the Bear which appeared in the picture "Road to Utopia" with Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour. Roxy appears with pals Minnie and Bill and Tuffy the Cub. She sings a duet with her master Beebe, dances with any partner who cares to, jitterbugs with the boss, rides a bike, skates, and does slender exercises with an after-dinner speech. It is one of the best acts of the circus. Bill sits down, salutes, and does other tricks, while Minnie not to be outdone, walks a slack wire first on all fours and then on her hind legs. It's a wow.

A Standout Act

The Juggling Jewels is another standout act. Four beautiful English girls do things with Indian clubs and hoops that are astounding. The speed and grace and their colorful costumes and fine stage appearance rate them among the top acts of the show. Their climax is colorful, as the quartet juggles lighted club torches as the arena is darkened.

Torelli's horses show results of years of training. Six coal blacks equines, white-caparisoned go through a maze of tricks that form one of the best horse acts seen here in some time. Equally clever are the Torelli high school horses ridden by two attractive equestriennes. These horses dance pirouette and are exceptionally clever. Mr. Torelli ponies and dogs, not to mention the trained mule, are highly entertaining, and especially popular with the younger element of circus goers.

Daring Stunts

Miss Betty Tilton who performs on a rolling ball is a daring trapeze artist, while "Mademoiselle Palina performs breath-taking feats aloft on a rope. Her climax is a succession of over-arm swinging that goes on for minutes.

The Oliver Sisters, Mary and Alma, with Lewis do spectacular head-balancing feats while the lovely Balzar sisters give sensational demonstrations of strength and balancing on an illuminated table.

The Four Fentinos, two ladies and two gentlemen, all finished performers give an outstanding demonstration on Roman rings and every feat brought rounds of applause. The climax comes when one of the ladies of the troupe supports her three colleagues by a steel arch with her arms, holding over 450 pounds in weight.

Daring Stunts

The Cyclettos, two men and a girl, or rather two girls and a man, one a clown do some daring stunts on bicycles while the Hendrix Brothers contribute to the fine entertainment with some hair-raising feats on the triple bars.

Last but by no means least is Buddy Nichols' fine circus band. Composed of ten pieces, the young maestro dispenses sparkling rhythms and appropriate circus music.

Tommy McClure, clever ring master and versatile master-of-ceremonies, handles the microphone in expert manner, and his humorous asides put the crowd in good humor, and his clear announcements kept it well informed.

The show will be at the Memorial Arena tonight, Wednesday afternoon and evening. It is an outstanding contribution to Canadian entertainment life and should not be missed by circus lovers, or any others for that matter.

HANDS AT WORK...

LEARNING TO PRINT

ONTARIO'S future prosperity depends directly on a sufficient volume of production to satisfy domestic needs and assure for Canada a prominent place in the markets of the world. Every individual product of Ontario's manufacturing plants requires the services of printing at some or many stages of its development . . . order forms . . . production forms . . . invoices . . . shipping bills . . . advertising . . . publishing. The whole printing industry is faced with unprecedented demands . . . and to meet those demands skilled hands are needed. For them great opportunities lie ahead. Higher wages, job security, better working conditions are within easier reach of those who have mastered a skilled occupation.

Today, through the plan sponsored by the Department of Veterans' Affairs and other agencies, thousands of young workers are being trained to meet the printing and other industrial needs of this Province. Graduates of these rehabilitation courses are now ready to take their places in Ontario's industry. Available to you are vocational, well started on the road to skilled printing trades such as hand composition, linotype and monotype operation, bookbinding, lithography and Pressework. Seek them out with confidence. They are your future craftsmen.

PRINTING

The Graphic Arts courses, give students a thorough grounding in many aspects of the printing trade. Practical instruction of an individual nature is offered in the course, available at Toronto only, together with education in related work. Previous experience is naturally an asset.

Vocational training courses in the arts, professions and trades are offered at training centres located in the following cities and towns in Ontario: Toronto, Hamilton, Kitchener, Windsor, Ft. William, Brockville, North Bay, Ottawa.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross Holmes announce the engagement of their sister, Miss Mary Agnes Gallagher, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Gallagher, to Mr. Kenneth Jos Colling, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Colling, the marriage to take place the latter part of May.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Hancock arrived on the Queen Elizabeth from England. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Colclough, North Front Street, for a few months.

Alderman and Mrs. E. E. Follwell and Mr. Jas. Bankley, of this city, were recent guests at the Hope-Lloyd wedding in Northbrook.

Master Jackie Dyck, small son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dyck, Gilbert Street, is a patient if the Belleville General Hospital, following a major operation performed yesterday.

Mr. Wm. Smith of this city, was the dinner guest of his granddaughter, Mrs. Delbert Latchford, of Latchford, at Consecon, Ameliasburg on Mother's Day. Those present were Miss Mae Smith of Belleville, Mrs. Latchford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Noble and her daughters, Kenneth, Carl and George.

F.O. and Mrs. Ted Lee, of Edmonton, Alberta, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Lee and family, John Street.

Miss Alice Mercer, Miss Arah Jeffery and Miss Marjorie Kolmick of St. John's, Antigua, British West Indies, arrived in Belleville on Saturday having flown to Toronto via New York. The young women are here to take a course at the Ontario Business College where Miss Mercer's father was a student in 1920.

Last evening the girls of the office staff of the Corbin Lock Co., met at the home of Mrs. W. Ketcheson, Dufferin Street, to honor Miss June Kent, bride-elect. The early evening was spent in making a bride's book, after which Mrs. Bernard Tugnette, on behalf of the girls, presented a pressure cooker to Miss Kent, who graciously expressed her thanks for the gift and her appreciation of the friendship of her co-workers. Refreshments were served, and a social hour spent.

Mrs. R. J. Mattis and daughter, Barbara Ann, have returned to their home in Belleville, after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Martin, of Whitby and Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Chumbley of Durham, Ont.

WEDDINGS

SMITH—BUTLER

A quiet, but very pretty wedding was solemnized on Sunday afternoon in Christ Church, when Miss Aldea Josephine Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Butler became the bride of Gerald Smith, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, all of Belleville.

Rev. J. Grant Sparling was the officiating clergyman.

The bride was very attractive in a street length dress of ivory silk jersey, with matching hat. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, worn by her mother on her wedding day, and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Evelyn Mastin was the bride's only attendant, wearing a black suit with white accessories, and carrying an arm bouquet of pink carnations.

The groom was assisted by Mr. Casey Mastin.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 85 Grove St., where Mrs. Butler received in a dress of grey crepe with a corsage of white carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother in a wine crepe ensemble, with a corsage of red roses.

Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for a short wedding trip, and on their return will reside in Belleville.

ANDERSON—LAVENDER

Rev. F. R. Harback, B.A., B.D., was officiating clergyman on Wednesday, May 7th., in the Tabernacle United Church, decorated with Spring flowers and ferns, for the marriage of Gladys Ann Lavender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lavender, Station Street, and Howard Howes Anderson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lachlan Anderson.

Entering the church with her father, the bride was met at the aisle by music played by Mrs. M. F. Duff, the bride made a charming picture in a gown of white embroidered organzie, fashioned with sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and full skirt. She wore a fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and white sweetpeas.

Miss Helen Anderson, twin sister of the groom, made a very attractive bridesmaid in a gown of embroidered pink organdy; and carried a Colonial nosegay of pink and yellow roses with sweetpeas. Miss Betty Brooks, the bridesmaid, wore blue sheer, and carried a nosegay of yellow tulips with pink and blue sweetpeas.

The bride's brother, Mr. R. S. Lavender, was best man for the groom, and the ushers were Mr. Jack Foster and Mr. Jos. Anderson, brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where Mrs. Lavender received in a coral crepe gown, with a corsage of Talisman roses. She was assisted by a sister of the groom, in turquoise flowered jersey, with a corsage of red roses.

For a wedding trip to Toronto, the bride wore a dress of blue crepe with black accessories.

Out-of-town guests were from Whitby, London, Adelaide, Picton, Roslin, Corbyville and California.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will reside in Belleville.

Women's Activities

TYENDINAGA EAST W.I.

The May meeting of the Tyendinaga East W.I., was held on Friday, May 9, at the home of Mrs. W. Alexander. The President, Mrs. G. Provins, opened the meeting. The Roll Call was answered by "House Cleaning Hints". The bills were presented and correspondence discussed. It was decided to send $10 to the British Flood Victim Fund; $5 to the Aid to China Fund and $5 to the Canadian Institute for the Blind. A letter was read from Victoria ladies inviting the Institute to let their guests go June 26. Mrs. R. Tucker had charge of the programme. She presented Dr. McVicker who gave a very instructive talk on pre-natal care. Mrs. C. C. Abey, district President, gave a very interesting talk on nylon and showed several samples. The meeting closed with the National Anthem and the hostess served delicious refreshments.

BETHANY W.M.S.-W.A.

The May meeting of Bethany W.M.S. and W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Ivan Bird. The Worship service was conducted by the President, Mrs. G. Ellis. Passages of scripture were read by Mrs. C. Eggleton and Mrs. D. Martin. A duet of an Indian girl was read by Mrs. G. Kerr and a much loved Indian story was read by Mrs. D. Tummon.

In the absence of the group leader, Mrs. Ellis took charge of the program. A reading was given by Mrs. W. Bird, "The Unwilling Soldier" and Mrs. F. Walker led in prayer. Mrs. G. Eggleton contributed a much enjoyed piano solo. Mrs. H. Casey gave a reading "Try Smiling". The Study book was given by Mrs. R. Ritz assisted by several members. The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

SHANNONVILLE W.M.S.-W.A.

A joint meeting of the W.M.S. and W.A. of Shannonville United Church was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Doxtator, with 18 ladies present.

The President, Mrs. S. MacDonald, welcomed the visitors and conducted the opening exercises.

During the business period the Secretary for Temperance gave a timely reading. The offering was received, and dedicated by the president who read a poem on Mother's Day.

Mrs. Claude Clarke, group leader, took charge for the presentation of the program on the topic, "The World at Our Doorstep". The arrival of foreign students at the colleges and universities offers Canadian women a large opportunity, as these students will be the leaders of their countries and their influence will be far reaching. Papers were offered by Mrs. Everett Stratton and Mrs. Lougheed. Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Clarke gave readings and the W.M.S. meeting closed with a benediction.

The W.A. was held immediately with Mrs. R. McFarlane presiding and opening with the theme-song. Mrs. Orval Stratton read the Scripture lesson from the book of Ruth, with Mrs. Everett Stratton giving the meditation.

A card of thanks from Dr. Eckardt and his sister was read.

The president reported the proceeds of the dinner and quilting bee held in April, and offered her home for the next meeting. It was decided to give $10 to the W.M.S. for Supply Work. An offering of $3.34 included the card fund.

Following the benediction the hostess and her assistants served refreshments.

Everyone Can Be Graceful

Lovely Radio Actress Joe Gi lbert carries herself gracefully

By HELEN FOLLETT

POISE is an attribute that helps to make a woman appear splendid. It makes her conscious of the movements of the body; hence is an influence toward grace. She may not be qualified to take on a job of modeling frocks and coats because of contour, but her silhouette can account for little against her if she moves beautifully.

Grace is something that any healthy woman can cultivate. It takes for style. One carries ones clothes better. It begins in the mind. One must desires this form of beauty, and it will eventually come to one. You have to feel grace to display it, be conscious of buoyancy of spirit as well as bounciness of step.

The Spinal Column

Much, of course, depends upon the pose of the spinal column and flexibility of musculature. The nervous girl who takes short, angular, jerky steps, lacks grace because she lacks ease of mind. A little more tranquility and she would stop rushing and hustling, would be more mindful of appearance.

Mothers of slouchy young daughters who are in the awkward age would do well to study the movements of the body, hence is an influence toward grace. Rhythmic Dancing

A course of rhythmic dancing is a good investment to any young woman who has an even present sense of awkwardness. It teaches first of all the need of keeping the torso stretched full from the hips to the head balanced. It trains the movements of the hands and arms as well as the feet and the legs. Women who chase beauty rainbows, flinging money for the delightful attainings of beauticians, might well pause and allot some of the cosmetic budget to physical education.

Awkward movements are a good index liability. They may develop into eccentricities of behavior.

IODE Has Names Available For Food Parcels to Britain

Everyone is aware of the desperate food situation in Great Britain. The Canadian public has answered the appeals for help in a most generous manner. Food parcels are being sent by the thousands each month to friends and relatives.

The I.O.D.E. is making an appeal to their members, other organizations and interested citizens to give assistance to others less fortunate. Upon request, the Women's Voluntary Services, England, have sent the I.O.D.E. a list of people not receiving any outside charity. These people are old, ill, or suffering from nutritional diseases and unable to stand in queues to obtain the necessarily small ration of food available, there are also many widows with small and ailing children who need extra nourishment if they are to survive.

Any person or organization willing to send one food parcel a month, directly to the recipient by mail, may obtain names from the Ontario Provincial Office, I.O.D.E., 109 Jackson Street, West Hamilton, Ontario.

Woman Architect Designs Homes For Housewives

Vancouver, May 13 (CP)—Mrs. Katherine Edward Mitchell, pretty, dark-haired wife of a Polish air force veteran and British Columbia's only registered woman architect, says she is predominantly a housewife and that the homes she designs are drawn with the comfort of the housewife in mind.

The young mother of career woman, with her six-month-old twins, knows the need to save steps and specialties in making the home more functional.

"Laundries should be placed near the kitchen or bathroom and not in the basement," she says. "Think of all the time and energy wasted as the housewife trots up and down stairs with her washing."

She enrolled in the faculty of engineering at McGill University at 17—the only girl with 500 men—and graduated at 23 with a Bachelor of Architecture Degree.

Her idea of a modern home is a design for living and working in a home—with the architect studying the couple's personalities, hobbies and manner of entertaining. Then planning the home around these. She also thinks designs should include illustrations of furniture.

Her advice to young couples planning a home is not to "choose haphazardly from magazines," but to "carefully from every observation and analyze your actions to discover features causing the most waste of time."

PORTRAIT SHY

Canberra —(CP)— The historical memorials committee has been unable to persuade Prime Minister Chifley to sit for an official portrait. The other Australian prime minister not represented among portraits hanging in parliament is William Morris Hughes, now 84.

Mrs. G. C. Down, of 630 Princess Street, Kingston, says: "Super Suds" EXTRA stiffs are just a mercy to anybody with a big wash! I have three children and believe me they certainly get their clothes dirty and grimy. However, thanks to Super Suds, clothes are a cinch to wash. It takes so much less rubbing to get things clean with Super Suds, and they last so very much longer. Seven loads of time, too."

Thank you, Mrs. Down, for your great letter. You see, Ladies, Super Suds is Concentrated. Super Suds actually have more lasting power . . . livelier, richer suds, even in hard rubbing. And Super Suds costs no more than ordinary washday soap.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Dance Don'ts For Men

There's a practical, hard-hitting list of Dance Don'ts for men in a recent number of "The Leatherneck" Magazine of the Marines. "Let us confess," says the author, "Some of the pitfalls that will assist to trap unwary students of dancing, and the rewards of avoiding them. The rewards are well known: a good dancer is well-balanced (physically), graceful, confident, and is not a complete drip otherwise, a good company. Good dancing can be a heart-to-heart talk with music.

"But," he continues, "dancing will just be horror on the hoof if you:

1. Wear the facial expression you would wear on an assault landing; determined to do or die.

2. Grab your partner ferociously around the waist, hiking her skirt up a couple of inches in back.

3. Jab her with your beautiful Sharpshooter pin while clutching her to your manly chest.

4. Apologize for your poor dancing, when maybe she'd rather talk about her.

5. Shift your right hand up and down her back, rubbing her spine, costume and disposition.

6. Dance for the crowd, as if they were paying any attention to you anyhow.

7. Hog the floor, at the expense of couples who have to be knocked aside.

8. Bang your partner's ears about everything that passes between your own ears.

9. Give her hints as to how to improve her dancing.

10. Wink or whistle at other men's pretty partners.

11. Dance with such intricate steps that she can't follow you, or would be silly to.

When You Receive a Commencement Invitation

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

To settle an argument, will you please answer this question: When you receive a commencement invitation, must you send a present to acknowledge it?

Flora

As in the case of sending any kind of present, your own inclination and the state of your budget decide whether or not you will send a present to acknowledge a commencement invitation. If you have a special devotion to the graduate, you'll probably want to plan to send a gift, but even so, it isn't "required". However, the thing you just mustn't do is to ignore the invitation. You should, of course, answer it, and promptly. And then you may write a note of good wishes, or on graduation day, telegraph your congratulations and good wishes.

Wedding Plans

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. At my church wedding I am having six bridesmaids and six ushers, a best man and a maid of honor, and two flower girls. Do the ushers walk in the recessional, and if so, where? Do the flower girls walk together, and if so, where?

2. There will also be a miniature bride and groom. Where do they march in the procession?

D.

1. The processional: first, the six ushers, in pairs; next, the six bridesmaids, in pairs; maid of honor alone; two flower girls together; last you and your father. The recessional: first, bride and groom; flower girls together; maid of honor alone (or with best man); bridesmaids, in pairs, followed by ushers, in pairs (or, although not in best form, bridesmaids and ushers may be "paired off").

2. Please don't consider such a ridiculous procedure. . . remember this is a wedding, not the circus!

Juggling Jewels — Four English girls, a standard act in Europe and the United States, presenting a very fast and flashy act, consisting of the juggling of various objects, closing with the manipulation of lighted torches in a darkened arena, one of the features in the season with Merrick Bros. Circus at the Belleville Arena May 12th, 13th, and 14th. Under the auspices of Belleville Shrine Club.

LET'S Bigger DECISIONS

to buy?

to rent?

No matter what you decide to do about your personal housing problem, you'll see into the Long-Face who softly shake their heads and say: "You're making a big mistake". But you'll go ahead and do the best you can, of course. And that, they'll say, "things are tough," has never yet completely stopped a young man in his attempt to get some attractive timber over the heads of his family.

Just one thing we have to suggest. Before you get too deep into blueprints or titles or scanning the want ads, we suggest you give some thought to blueprinting your future. The North American Life representative can help by showing you simple, inexpensive plans (some begin as low as $5 a month) which will be building up your independence even while you are busy with your hunt-the-house project.

You see, today's decisions are more easily and wisely made if you've drawn some long-range planning for your future. How about calling your North American Life representative in for a chat? He comes to you with the sincere desire to help you; backed by a Mutual company with a 66-year record for helping along the dreams of young homemakers.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMESON

Feet Are Bigger And Better

Chiropodists not long ago told the world that men have more perfect feet than women. They have fewer corns, calluses and bunions. In fact, a bunion on a masculine big toe is a curiosity. Their only trouble, it seems, is flat feet, caused by trundling around too much tonnage or by occupational diseases.

Practically all of women's foot ailments are due to ill-fitting shoes and extremely high heels. At the present moment the question of heels is a bit complicated. Some are higher than ever. They come on fancy, expensive models, therefore women will probably wear them when they sail forth for the merry evening. Yet millions of women, following the teen-age trend, have taken to low heels, shoes of practical lasts and durability. That was what the war did, when it put women into jobs that required heavy work.

If spikes are fashionable, the girls will wear them. Shoe manufacturers say they would prefer not to make them, knowing they are not good for the feet. Many manufacturers employ specialists to design leather casings that make for health and comfort. If you are observant, you will notice that, in spite of fashion does not wear fancy shoes on the street, but selects a conservative style that harmonizes with the simple but perfect lines of her daytime attire.

Seventy-five percent of civilized womankind have deformed feet or feet that are beset with the misery brought on by corns, calluses and ingrowing nails. That is a record of which the sisters should be ashamed, as it is mainly the result of vanity. When we have learned to wear glasses as soon as we know they are needed, and to dress our feet comfortably, we will be truly emancipated from the silly ban that appearance means more than comfort. One can have comfort and good-looks both. Easily!

When the heel is lifted beyond a certain height, the ball of the foot and the tendons are under strain. Toes are sent into a huddle, changing their outlines. Because of pressure, the flesh thickens and painful corns develop. If toes were not confined, they would be as flexible as fingers.

The perfect foot should be in proportion to the body. It should not be small as some women fancy whose shoes are much too full of feet. How can one see a plumpish lady wearing shoes so short that the toe of the foot budges in a high curve. There is also the girl who has the narrow shoes complex, believing that only a triple-A should grace her feet. A wider, slightly shorter shoe may conform to the outlines of her foot much better, afford her a firmer foothold.

The wrong shoes, in the course of time, not only will distort the toes but also will have a decidedly effect upon the bones of the feet.

The lady of fashion does not wear fancy shoes for life street

Millionth of Second Speed of Camera

Schenectady, N. Y., May 12 — (AP) — Development of a camera for industrial use which has a speed of 1/1,000,000 ht of a second and produces a finished negative within 30 seconds was announced today by the General Electric Company. The camera is part of equipment developed for rapid testing by means of electric power surges, of apparatus used in the generation and transmission of electric power. It weighs more than 40 pounds.

Fashion Flashes

IMPRESSIVE ensembles are now in the shops. Lime-colored lightweight woollen is used for a beautiful frock cut on simple, shirtwaist lines with fly closing down the bodice and narrow skirt. Skirt has two big, buttoned, flap-pocket pockets at the hipline. A fitted coat of navy woollen is banded across the bodice and shoulders with a narrow lime wool band to match the dress.

Ideal for the commuter is a navy sheer costume, the dress delicately tucked through the top, with a hip-length pleated overskirt from the waist down. Worn with a brief jacket of matching fabric that boasts curved front and big, billowing sleeves.

Applause for that clever woman who designs some of the smartest furs in the world. One of her latest ideas is a little reversible jacket, one side of black sealskin, the other side of white broadtail.

The season doesn't matter when fine glitter comes to the fore. And so one house shows a late Spring-into-Summer evening ensemble that certainly has sparkle. A white silk crepe evening dress, cut on long, slim lines, has all-over embroidered flower motifs of small gold sequins, and is worn with a flaring fingertip topper completely covered with the gold sequins.

Looking around, one sees an increasing number of informal and after-five frocks of ballet or ankle length. Heavy, navy blue lace is used for one such frock, the skirt fairly full, the bodice with tiny pink satin rosettes bordering the deep oval neckline. A cluster of the rosettes is posed at one side of the waist.

Gaining in importance is the wrapped silhouette, now appearing in suit jackets as well as coats and wraps. Violet wool is used for a bridesmaid suit. The brief jacket, with dolman sleeves is wrapped to one side. Stitched folds that continue to the jacket hem accent the soft shoulder line.

Dustbane Sweeping Compound — for linoleums, carpets, or any type floor. Absorbs dust as the floor is swept! Less dusting to do! Just a few cents for the big one-pound tin!

Mother's Day Services

Marmora, (Special.)—Mother's Day was observed at St. Andrew's United Church with children of the Sunday School joining the regular congregation for morning worship. A ladies' choir assisted by the junior choirs of St. Andrew's and Deloro led in the singing of the special hymns and rendered as the Anthem "Lord of Life, Who Once was Cradled." Mrs. E. C. Prentice, as soloist, rendered "My Task". The Children's story which touched upon the life of Solomon from a boy onwards and his mother's influence, was given by Mrs. Thomas Dickson. Rev. E. M. Cadigan, who officiated, discoursed upon the request the mother of Zebedee's children made to Our Lord that these children might remain close to Him. He said that that was characteristic of such motherhood as was being honored on Mother's Day.

The evening service of St. Paul's congregation which was being held for the last Sunday in the Parish Hall through renovations to St. Paul's being almost completed, was conducted by the rector, who in his sermon, spoke of the immortality of kindness and the tribute to some among the many great men had paid to their mothers. Appropriate hymns were sung. It was announced that Rev. J. Minto Swan of the R.C.A.F., Trenton, would be the preacher at the morning service on May 25th.

Roslin

Newly-Weds Honored

Roslin. (Special.) — A large number of friends and neighbors met in Anglican Hall on Friday evening to honor Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kincaid, (nee Ellen Sanford), who were recently married.

The early part of the evening was spent in dancing to music furnished by the McLarny orchestra. Later, Mr. John Hart invited Mr. and Mrs. Kincaid to accept seats at the front of the hall, while an address, signed on behalf of the community, was read to them, and a purse presented.

Mr. and Mrs. Kincaid graciously expressed their thanks and appreciation.

On Saturday afternoon, the young ladies of Moneymore held a party at the home of Mrs. D. Kincaid, in honor of Mrs. Clarence Kincaid. During the afternoon a short program was enjoyed, with community singing with Mrs. C. Kincaid as accompanist on a guitar. Miss J. Rose gave a humorous reading, and Miss Lola Coulter as chair-lady invited Miss Shirley Andrews to read an address signed by Moneymore friends, while Miss Coulter presented the guest of honor with bath towels. Mrs. Kincaid thanked her friends for their gifts and invited them to visit her in her home.

Dainty refreshments were served, bringing to a close a very pleasant afternoon.

The Movie Column

By RON GADSBY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Frank Capra holds more tricks than a magician's suitcase and his ripples through the full quota to make "It's a Wonderful Life" one of his finest efforts. The fact that Jimmy Stewart and Donna Reed were riding along didn't detract from the ingredients and the result would bring laughs and tears to a Russian diplomat.

The story concerns the life of a small-town boy with ambitious to travel who never quite shakes the dirt of home from his feet. He is too busy giving a helping hand to his brother, his father's mortgage and loan company and to a building project that lifts many little people from the slums owned by the local banker (Lionel Barrymore).

Ultimately he finds himself behind an eight-ball carefully rolled into position by Barrymore and considers suicide. It is then that Capra and his captives come to the fore.

There are probably those who were affronted at the thought of angels discussing the local boy and of an angel on a special mission to save Stewart from a river of water, but the charm and understanding given the plot by Capra took any possible offensive sting from the picturization.

In order to show Stewart how important his life had been to the community, the angel, named Clarence, saved him from drowning and then told him how much poorer the town would have been without him. It was whimsy at its best.

That's What She Says

Gale Page, after an absence of seven years from the screen, is coming back to take one more shot. Nina Foch, wife of concert pianist Solio Solis, is the mother of four children and likes her work. However, at the insistence of Producer William Cagney, she has decided to make "just one more film," the screen adaptation of William Saroyan's "The Time of Your Life." Then she goes smartly back to her motherly duties, she says.

Montreal Royals Win Allan Cup For First Time in 17 Years Defeating Calgary in 7th Game

Jacques Locas Scores Two as Royals Pour It on for 8-3 Victory

Montreal, May 13 (CP)—The coveted Allan Cup belonged to a Montreal team for the first time in 17 years today, and not one in the capacity Forum crowd of 11,200 fans would deny that Montreal Royals didn't deserve it after their smashing 8-3 victory over Calgary Stampeders last night.

The hard skating Royals just had too much speed and scoring punch for the Western Canada champions as they won up a 7-0 lead to smear the rest of the way to win the seventh and deciding game of the best-of-seven series.

The last time a Montreal club won the Dominion Senior Hockey title was in 1930 when the famous Montreal Winged Wheelers brought home the cup donated by Sir Montagu Allan which was first put up for competition between the champions of Eastern and Western Canada in 1924.

Royals caught Stampeders off guard in the first session and before the Westerners knew what had happened, they found themselves trailing 4-0.

Then Royals poured in three more in the second frame to make it 7-0 before Stampeders broke the ice. The third session was even in scoring with each team counting a single.

Locas Leads Parade

Leading the Montreal assault with a pair of goals was shifty Jacques Locas, who is labelled for the professional Canadiens next season. The others went to Bert Malone, Gerry Plamondon, Doug Harvey, Jimmy Galbraith, Ernie Laforce and Floyd (Bush-Fire) Curry, former Oshawa, Ontario, ace. Bob Brownridge and Doug Cairns garnered the Calgary markers.

Goalie Russ Dertell of the Stamps had a busy night, turning aside 46 shots while Gerry McNeil in the Montreal cage had only 21 drives to handle. Dertell could hardly be blamed for the Calgary defeat, as he let only one aside many a dangerous Montreal thrust in a sensational manner.

BOBBY BAUER VOTED LADY BYNG CUP THIRD TIME

Trophy Given for Sportsmanship and Gentlemanly Conduct and He Gets $1,000

Montreal, May 13 — (CP) — Hockey's "Mr. Sportsman" award for 1947 goes to Boston Bruins' great right-winger, Bobby Bauer, a hard-checking but seven-times-penalized German-Irishman from Waterloo, Ont., who was voted the Lady Byng Trophy for sportsmanship play this year for the third time in a brilliant career.

Announcement that the stocky starboard member of Boston's potent Kitchener Kids line had won the Byng Trophy was made last night by the National Hockey League. Along with the cup, which he has won three times than any other player except seven-time winner Frankie Boucher of New York Rangers, Bauer also picked up a $1,000 cheque from the NHL.

Bauer, with 37 points of a possible 54, was well ahead of Toronto's Syl Apps, the 1941-42 winner who collected 24 points in balloting by three hockey writers and broadcasters from each of the six NHL cities. The selectors named the two leading players with three points awarded for first place, two for second and one for third.

Other stars named on the ballots were: Max Bentley, Chicago Black Hawks, 20 points; Maurice Quackenbush, Detroit Red Wings, nine; Edgar Laprade, New York Rangers, nine; Toe Blake, Montreal Canadiens, eight; Bill Mosienko, Chicago Black Hawks, seven; Roy Conacher, Detroit Red Wings, two; and Chuck Rayner, New York Rangers, two.

Not Named by Four

Only four of the 18 selectors failed to name Bauer on their ballots, and he was the first choice of nine and the second choice of five others. Apps had three first-place votes and Bentley two.

The 32-year-old Bauer won the trophy for a row in 1939-40 and 1940-41, and then joined the RCAF. Along with linemates Milt Schmidt and Porky Dumart in the middle of the next season.

The five foot, seven inch winger who packs 160 pounds on his tough frame, has always played aggressive, driving hockey, backing up for no one, but collected few penalties. He spent only four minutes in the cooler last season, and during his seven full seasons in the N.H.L. he served only 36 minutes in penalties.

Besides that, he is always near the top in the scoring lists. Last winter he finished seventh among the point getters, thrilling both qualifications of the award, which demands "sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct" with a "high standard of playing ability."

Bauer, for captain of the Bruins, lives in the ancestral acres of Waterloo during the off season, and plans to enter the skate manufacturing business, with his father-in-law when he finally hangs up his uniform.

Louis Celebrates 33rd Birthday

Detroit, May 13 — (AP) — Joe Louis sat back confidently and observed his 33rd birthday today while others combed the field for a 24th challenger for his heavyweight boxing crown.

Golfing and otherwise doing as he pleases, Joe will be toasted by home-town followers at a double-barrelled blowout here tonight.

The first reason for the celebration is, of course, the birthday. Secondly, it is nearly 10 years since Joe acquired the sport's most coveted title.

Informed that Joe Baksi, the Pennsylvania coal miner, was reconsidering a title bout next September, the champ said "That's okay with me."

"I don't pick my opponents," he added. "I never have and I am not going to start now. That's up to the promoters."

Many ring observers believe Baksi has little, if any, more to offer than 23 other contenders who have fallen by the wayside since Louis lifted the crown from Jim Braddock's head back in June, 1937.

Intercounty Loop Opens on Saturday

Kitchener, Ont., May 13 (CP)—The Ontario Senior Intercounty Baseball League 1947 season begins this Saturday with all eight teams scheduled to play on opening day. The Intermediate A loop will start its season May 21.

The senior league schedule which lasts until Aug. 6, will see Paris go to Brantford, Hamilton at Kitchener, London at Stratford, and Galt at Guelph on opening day.

Galt meets Waterloo in the intermediate opener. The other teams in the Intermediate League move into action May 24, with Woodstock at Preston in a morning game. The teams return to Woodstock to open the season there the same afternoon while Galt meets St. Thomas at the latter city that day.

The Intermediate schedule extends to Aug. 4.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor.

So Mr. Avery — (TCFB) "Taking Candy From Babies" Brundage, Czar of "Amateurism" in the roof Otis U.S.A. finally had his way. Yesterday Beauteous Barbara Ann Scott, Canada's Queen of the Silver Blades, and now more a world's champion that ever, with long waiting from her pretty eyes, returned in cream - colored convertible that gives her a hero's welcomed townspeople in Ottawa, to the mayor of that city.

• • •

The return was made quietly with just a few friends and newspapermen being present. But there was something intangible there that puts all the Brundages and their ilk into the background. And that was sportsmanship. The gallant girl, peerless champion that she is, who has turned down many the glamor and gold of Hollywood to bring further honor to Canada, showed that she has a complete supply of the stuff that champions, real ones, that is, are compched of.

• • •

Mr. Brundage may be the reason for taking the car away, or causing it to be returned but Barbara Ann has something that all the bundles from Brundage can't touch. Now nevertheless no further Brundage bombs are thrown at the beauteous Babs she will, as do all redblooded Canadian sportswomen and sportswomen know, go on and win her heart's desire for Canada — namely the Olympic championship. And when the Maple Leaf of Canada flutters atop the flagpole in Britain next year denoting her victory, there will be much more to the victory than the bauble and the glory.

• • •

For Barbara Ann Scott, as all the Brundages and a few others who have persisted in thrusting their schnozzles in other peoples' business, there has no peer in the realm of womens' figure figure skating. And that includes Sonja Henie, Gretchen Merrill, and a few others we can name. All is not gold that glitters, and the shining automobile that was hers if only temporarily has but a dull sheen compared to the gleaming bright spirit of sportsmanship that even the most biased person must admit she has. It naturally was a disappointment for her to return the car, but the thrill of victory, and pride of achievement for Canada at that will be hers when she wins that Olympic title next year will more than offset the dull hurt that must be hers now. More power to her speeding skates.

• • •

As the London Free Press remarks editorially:—

"Few people have done more to reflect credit on sport than the pretty, unassuming Ottawa girl. She been a credit to Canada and Canada has been proud of her. There will be deep resentment over the whole affair. The presentation of the car by the City of Ottawa was perfectly open and above-board It was made after consultation with supposedly competent authorities in the world of amateur sport, and after Barbara Ann had returned triumphantly from Europe as the first North American-born world figure skating queen.

• • •

"A protest against this now will reflect far less on Barbara Ann than on the hypocrisy of Olympic standards. Indeed the whole idea of so-called amateur sport might well come in for a house-cleaning. The concept of the amateur goes back to a different age, when there were gentlemen of leisure who could afford private means to devote themselves to sport without hope of financial reward. There was something to be said for this idea in its own setting. It never had the slightest relevance to the North American scene, and today is little more than a joke in questionable taste.

• • •

"While it is a gracious gesture on the part of Barbara Ann to return the car in order not to lose a chance to bring honor to Canada at the Olympics it is a serious question as to whether it is worth while. As for us we would

NEW HORIZONS IN Canada Unlimited

HOSPITALITY THAT PAYS OFF

Each year thousands of tourists travel throughout Canada. Impressed with our hospitality, and with the excellence of Canadian products, their goodwill and satisfaction are powerful factors in expanding the potential markets for our goods and adding lustre to Canada's name.

The development of new services, providing more pleasure for these guests, creating favorable opinion, depends upon the initiative and imagination of Canadian youth. To these developers, they promise great returns.

The tourist industry is but one of many fields offering a challenge to opportunity-seeking Canadians. Nowhere else in the world are there greater certainties of rich rewards for well-planned and well-directed effort than in the New Horizons of Canada Unlimited.

NEWARK BEARS SHOWING POWER IN INT. LEAGUE

Yankee Farmhands Put on Batting Spree to Down Montreal 21-4

(By The Associated Press)

Newark Bears, who were on the verge of dropping into the International League's second division, have proved they possess the punch to go to the top.

The Yankee farmhands demonstrated it yesterday when they put on the biggest scoring spree of the league season by overwhelming the defending champion Royals 21-4 at Montreal. Every member of the team except one scored at least once and only two failed to get a hit as the Bears pounded five Montreal hurlers for 25 blows.

Gene Woodling and Al Clark, two youngsters sent to Newark by the Yankees at the start of the season, each banged homers while Clark collected three doubles and a single.

Southpaw Herb Karple went the route for the Bears.

Jersey City's Little Giants stayed at the top by victimizing Toronto Maple Leafs in similar vein, chasing three hurlers for 19 hits in a 14-3 rout at Toronto. The Giants blasted Luke Hamlin from the mound with a five-run attack in the first inning.

Mickey Grasso, aiming to regain a berth with the parent New York Giants, made two circuit trips.

Rochester Red Wings came from behind to upset the second-place Syracuse Chiefs 9-5 in the opener of a three-game series at Rochester.

PHIL MARCHILDON BIG GUN IN ATHLETICS' WIN

Canadian Hurler Goes 11 Frames to Defeat Senators for Third Win

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

At the rate boisterous Bobo Newsom, Washington's self-styled 20-game winner is going along this season, he may be lucky to collect that anniversary ski trimmings he needs in order to join the select list of pitchers who have won 200 or more games in the major leagues.

At the start of the season, Newsom, now in his 17th season in the big time, predicted 20 wins for himself which would enable him to pass his 200-game goal with ease. With the season exactly a month old today, the garrulous righthander has yet to gain his first mound win and that goal looks further and further away.

Newsom was hardly at fault last night as he failed in his third attempt to register his initial victory. He gave up only five hits and one run in eight innings and escaped with the loss as Philadelphia Athletics came up with four runs in the top half of the 11th to whip the Senators 4-3 and even the four-game series.

Phil Marchildon, the star Canadian twirler was the big gun of the Athletics' win. In addition to limiting the Nats to seven singles over the 11 frames, the stocky righthander from Penetanguishene, Ont., won his own game when he banged a single in drive in two runs. It was Marchildon's third victory.

Brooklyn Second

Each league got a new runner-up tenant as Brooklyn moved into second spot in the National League by defeating Boston Braves 8-3 at Ebbets' Field and Boston Red Sox slipped New York Yankees 4-3 at Fenway Park to move behind Detroit in the American League.

The Dodgers made good use of 11 hits to clip the Braves who dropped to third place. With righthander Ralph Branca spearing seven hits, Brooklyn made short work of big Mort Cooper routing the veteran with a four-run fifth inning. Earl Torgeson, rookie first baseman, continued his heavy slugging by driving in all of his team's runs on a double and a two-run ninth-inning home run. The four-bagger was his seventh of the season. He now leads the league with 21 runs batted in.

The game was highlighted by a Dodger run-in with plate umpire George Magerkurth in the second frame over his ball and strike decisions and resulted in the clearing of the Brooklyn bench of everyone except manager Burt Shotton, coach Jake Pitler, infielder Cookie Lavagetto and pitcher Hugh Casey.

Kept in check by Boyd Chandler for seven innings, the Red Sox came to life in the eighth, separating the veteran righthander for three runs to eke out a one-run triumph.

The victory moved the Red Sox into second place, eight percentage points back of the idle Cleveland Indians.

No other games were scheduled.

ARTHUR KING EASILY DEFEATS JIMMY RIZZO

Hamilton Boxer Saved by Bell on Several Occasions During Contest

By JIM KNACK
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, May 13 — (CP) — Throwing up a terrific storm of leather that had his opponent on the canvas seven times L'il Arthur King, hard-hitting Toronto Negro, last night outpointed Jimmy Rizzo of Hamilton in the eight-round main bout of a boxing card at Maple Leaf Gardens. Both weighed 134½.

A crowd of 3,000 saw Rizzo saved by the bell on several occasions after King took full control in the third round and strained to toss the finishing punch at badly-battered but durable Rizzo.

Rizzo was knocked through the ropes three times in the sixth round and was full for the count of two rounds in an attempt for a knockout but only succeeded in pushing the durable Rizzo to the floor as the bell sounded.

This was King's fourth victory over Rizzo, three as an amateur and one as a pro. Rizzo was knocked down in every round after the third and twice in the finale.

In the semi-final Bob Flannagan, 18-year-old London, Ont., fighter, scored his 24th knockout in 42 fights when he put Buddy Rose of Tampa, Fla., away in the third round of a scheduled eight-rounder.

Sammy Sauve of Sudbury, 145½, scored a technical knockout over Oshawa's Harry Goulding, 145, in the third round of a four-rounder. Sauve opened up in the second and scored a knockout to climax a pounding attack. Referee Sammy Jackett decided Goulding had had enough in the third and awarded the fight to Sauve.

Tony McPhee, 130 1/4, of Oshawa, dominated the evening's opener as he won a three round decision over Jesse Riddle, 130½, of Buffalo, N.Y. Riddle was down for eight counts in the first two rounds and wound up in the third and final round with a cut eye.

Cannot Make Living in Pro Golf in Canada

(By The Canadian Press)

Earl Morris of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association said yesterday in Toronto that a Canadian golfer would "starve to death" if he tried to make a living from prize money in this country. Of the four golf features this year, he said, the total prize money for the winners is $15,000, and to compete in them, the golfer has travelling and living expenses— in addition to playing against top-flight American golfers.

The Canadian Legion has announced that it will conduct a track and field "school" in Toronto during the summer to stimulate interest in field athletics. Male athletes of 17 years and over are invited to attend.

In an Ontario Bowling Association of the Deaf Championship meet in Peterborough yesterday, Toronto Clansmen won the award in competition with 21 other teams. In second place was a Kitchener Greenshirt team and third spot went to Toronto Tip Tops.

Executive Committees of the Major United States Baseball Leagues, in session at Columbus, O., yesterday, "favorably considered" the application of Cuban and Venezuelan Leagues for admission to organized baseball. The question will be further considered at the annual Major League meeting in New York next December.

Al Pinel, New Bedford, Mass., middleweight, had to be carried from the ring at St. Nicholas Arena, New York, last night after being knocked out in the first round of a six-round fight with George Small of Brooklyn. His right leg was paralyzed. After examination it was announced the paralysis was temporary and that Pinel was out of danger.

Spider Armstrong, 132-pound Toronto fighter, won a 10-round decision over Ernie Guisti, 132, of Rhode Island, last night in the feature bout of a card at the arena, Boston.

The annual meeting of the Ontario Table Tennis Association will be held in Toronto next Wednesday.

Budge Patty of Los Angeles won the singles championship of the French International Tennis Tournament in Paris yesterday by defeating Bernard Destremau, French Davis Cup star, 4-6, 8-3, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Jackie Robinson, Dodgers — Singled in two official times at bat, walked once, was hit by a pitched ball, sacrificed, scored two runs and stole two bases as Brooklyn downed Boston 8-3 at Ebbets' Field.

Mickey Vernon, Senators — Went hitless in five times at bat as Washington dropped a 5-1 11-inning night tussle to Philadelphia.

CANADIAN SPORT SNAPSHOTS

By ROBERT CLARKE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Montreal, May 13 — (CP) — Another voice has been added to the chorus of those who feel that hockey is dragging things out too long by the playing of an Allan Cup series at this time. Staz (Montreal Star) O'Meara terms it "a long, tiring and somewhat ridiculous amateur hockey season if you ask us, or even if you don't."

Says O'Meara of the final between Montreal Royals and Calgary Stampeders: "We don't know why the C.A.H.A. prolongs such sessions, but then that organization is as hard to understand as some of the other athletic bodies that insist on such extravaganza which prolong their seasons so far that they kill off public interest."

The Star's sports editor also remarks that some members of Montreal Royals undoubtedly have played out the string as amateurs.

Although O'Meara doesn't mention any names, it is generally considered by hockey followers around Montreal that those most likely to be advanced to pro ranks somewhere in Montreal Canadiens' organization are defence-man Doug Harvey and forwards Jacques Locas and Tod Campeau.

Hot off the Gridiron:

Business at Montreal Alouettes ticket office has been brisk even though the football season is still several months away. It's reported that the A's, who made a great showing in the Big Four last season after many years of lowly mediocrity, have dished out 5,000 pasteboards to eager season tacklg subscribers.

The Als will be playing their games again this season at the Delormier baseball park of Montreal's International League Royals but there are hints that the rental question may drive the football team directorate into looking for new pastures.

Sports Roundup

By ALAN HARVEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, May 13 —(CP)— Since the first ungoes flew this spring, the case of Jackie Robinson vs. a die-hard minority determined to resist his progress has been one of sport's most compelling issues, as well as a persistent headache for writers seeking to report day-to-day development factually but without wearying repetition. . . . almost any New York reporter would applaud a 2-week moratorium about the Negro first baseman, but the pressure of events seem to make that silence impossible.

Not Mash Notes

Latest elements in the Robinson story are the confusing and contradictory reports from National League officials concerning an abortive strike by St. Louis Cardinals against the presence of a Negro in the Major Leagues and a series of threatened strikes by Robinson which police have been unable to trace . . . most New York newspapers confined themselves to straight reporting of the incidents, but some columnists spoke strongly against those responsible for the unpleasantness and equally strongly in favor of the National League's firm stand in quashing the strikes.

The Tumult and The Shouting

One of the eloquent voices pleading for an end "to the silent uproar of a perpetual commotion" raging around Jackie Robinson was that of the New York Post's Jimmy Cannon, who criticized those behind the 'strike' under the headline: "Lynch mobs don't always wear hood" . . . this lynch mob, says Cannon, comprises the "quietly degraded, who plot against the helpless with skill and a coward's stealth and without fear of reprisal . . . they lynch a man with a calculated contempt which no court of law can consider a crime."

Long Hard Haul

Even if Robinson were to fall apart as a ball player, it is necessary to remember that his path has been strewn with difficulties no other player ever faced . . . "in the clubhouse Robinson is a stranger," writes Cannon. "He is the loneliest man I have ever seen in sports."

MEEKER A PAPA

Kitchener, May 13 — (CP) — Howie Meeker of Stratford, rookie ace of the Stanley Cup champion Toronto Maple Leafs, became the proud father of a six-pound nine-ounce daughter last night.

"It's a girl. Everybody's fine," said the hockey player's mother. The child was born in Kitchener-Waterloo Hospital.

PITCHING AND BATTING STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Pitching and batting, Phil Marchildon, Athletics: Besides limiting the Senators to seven scattered singles over 11 innings Marchildon won his own game when he singled in two runs to break a 1-1 tie and pave the way for a 5-1 victory.

CHAPTER 14

Drusilla Bayne and Hill were coming out of a night club on the early morning hours when Hill stopped at a news stand for a paper. He was reaching for change when his eye fell upon a picture of April on the front page of a tabloid. Startled, he picked it up and read the caption:

"Miss April Lind, Radio Star, Who Was Injured, Perhaps Fatally in an Automobile Accident Last Night, Is Now Resting in Channing Hospital, Where it is Believed She May be Dying."

Dru saw Hill stiffen and his face turn ashen. She said quickly:

"What's wrong, darling?"

Hill said stunned: "It's April. She's been in an accident. I must go to the hospital."

Dru put a hand on his arm: "No," she said petulantly, "You'll do nothing of the kind. You can telephone and see how she is."

Hill took her hand from his almost rudely: "Of course I'll go. Do you think I'm a Wooden Indian? April may be dying."

Dru's mood at the curb. Hill said to the chauffeur:

"See that Miss Bayne gets home safely Toto. I'm taking a cab."

Uncomprehending, he turned on his heel and signalled a taxi. Dru said furiously:

"We'll settle this later. I won't have it!"

Hill did not even hear her. In a few moments he was running up the steps of Channing Hospital. The operator at the desk told Hill that if he was a relative, there were other members of the family in the reception room on the fourteenth floor. He could get his information regarding Miss Lind there.

Fortunately Curt was not with Cherry and Gay when Hill arrived. He was with Dr. Malcolm making further arrangements for April's care. It was Cherry who looked up first — and saw Hill standing in the doorway. She got up quickly and the expression on her face caused Gay to turn in her chair.

Cherry's face was mottled with tears, her small mouth forming in ovel of surprise. Her lips twisted disdainfully.

"Well, look who's here," she said with scorn.

Gay got her bearings quickly, and put a restraining hand on Cherry's arm: "Hello," she tried to smile.

Hill's face was drained of all color. His eyes held a stunned look that stirred Gay's immediate sympathy. Hill asked almost in a whisper:

"April—how is she?" He looked as though he might faint.

Gay crossed the room and took his arm:

"Sit down here a minute," she led him to a divan. "The doctor has her in an oxygen tent. We'll have to wait for news. Everything possible is being done."

Hill obediently sat down with Gay. Cherry still stood staring at him sullenly.

"What do you care how she is?" she flung at him defiantly.

Hill recoiled from her scorn, but said nothing. Gay spoke up crossly:

"Stop it, Cherry! This is no time for quarreling. Why shouldn't Hill come to the hospital to see how April is?"

Cherry's eyes flashed. "Because, he hasn't any right! What has he ever done for my sister? Why should he come around now? Has he ever taken care of her, He has not! And he hasn't seen his own son in months."

"Cherry!" Gay warned. "That's enough."

But Cherry, unheeding, shouted at Hill:

"You can just get out of here! Get out! She wouldn't want you. She's engaged to somebody else. You're no right. I hate you, oh, I hate you!"

When she ended she was almost in hysterics. Gay got up:

"Go down the hall and wait for me a minute, Hill. I'll be right with you. Don't go away."

Dazed with Cherry's outbreak and the storm of emotions going on in his own heart Hill got with an effort and backed out of the room. Cherry stood staring after him with clinched fists, weeping wildly.

"Sit down and calm yourself," Gay pushed her gently back into her chair. "This is no time to take your temper out on Hill. I know how you feel. But April wouldn't want you to treat Hill that way. Now calm yourself and try to act like a lady."

Pat came rushing into the reception room at that moment. Gay sighed with relief.

"Take care of her, Pat," she said hurriedly. "I must go to Hill. I'll be back later."

Hill stood leaning against the wall in the corridor when Gay went outside. She said soothingly: "Let's find another place where we can talk, Hill. There are some things I want to say to you. Some things I think you should know."

Hill followed in another waiting room Gay and Hill sat facing each other and Hill said with an effort:

"Well, come on, Gay. It's your turn to let me have it now."

Gay smiled sadly: "I don't feel like letting you have it, Hill. This is no time to quarrel. After all, what has happened between you and April is none business Not mine. You and I are old friends too."

"Still friends, Gay?" his lips tried to form a smile.

Gay nodded, tears gathered in her eyes.

"Still friends, Hill. I don't approve of a lot things you've done, But I don't hate you."

"Thanks. You always were a swell gal. But I'm afraid I don't deserve your generosity."

"That remains to be seen," Gay twisted her hands in her lap. "I want you to make a promise to me you don't want to make."

Hill lit a cigarette with trembling hands: "Let's have it."

"Promise me," Gay leaned forward, "that if April lives through this terrible accident, you will stay out of her life as you have done since the divorce. That you won't let this make any difference."

Hill's jaw hardened: "Why should you ask that?"

"Because," Gay drew a sharp breath, "she is engaged to marry someone else."

Hill stopped his eyes before her worried, pleading look. "Is it De Witt?"

"Yes," Gay nodded. "It's Curt. He loves her, Hill. And he'll be a good husband and father. You never have been. He's a fine person, a strong, dependable man who will never let April down. If you've ever loved her, you must stay out of her life and let Curt De Witt take care of her."

Hill looked away: "Does she love him?"

Gay hesitated, then said truthfully: "Not the way she loved you, perhaps. But she is very fond of him. Promise Hill, Promise you'll stay away and let April find happiness with Curt."

When she remained silent, staring at the floor with her head bowed as though they fright be filled with tears Gay said:

"Curt has taken complete charge here at the hospital. He is moving heaven and earth to get everything possible to save April's life. He has been sent to Boston for a staff of specialists—and—"

Gay looked up, confused. Curt De Witt stood in the doorway. The two men stared at each other whitely.

Gay looked from Curt to Hill, her eyes worried. There was a painful silence, then Gay collected her wits and said nervously:

"I believe you two have met, haven't you?"

Curt nodded stiffly:

"Yes, we have."

Hill stared at the man who was in love with his ex-wife silently. Gay covered the awkward pause, saying quickly:

"Is there any news, Curt?"

"April must have a blood transfusion," Curt lit a cigarette shakily. "My blood won't do. It's the wrong type. They're checking mine now."

Hill stood up swiftly: "Perhaps I'll do." he crushed his cigarette in the tray beside him. "What's my blood type?"

Gay saw Curt De Witt swallow painfully. Then he drew himself up and said shortly:

"Come with me. Perhaps you will do. We'll see."

The drama of the scene she had just witnessed left Gay breathless. It was several minutes before she could collect herself sufficiently to join Pat and Cherry in the other reception room.

"Curt has taken Hill to see if his blood will do for a transfusion," Gay explained, sinking into a chair. "I guess we'll know soon."

Cherry laughed bitterly:

"Lucky irony for you. Hill's blood will probably be just the type."

Pat took Cherry's hand soothingly: "Well, let's hope so, honey. What do you care whose blood it is, if it works? Please don't row with Hill now."

Gay sighed, pushing back her red hair: "No Cherry, you've got to be decent to Hill, no matter how you feel. It's childish to fight with him now. Hill's human. He is a terrible shock to him."

Cherry looked as though she probably just putting on an act. That dope wasn't good at heart. Don't tell me!

Pat and Gay gave up trying to influence Cherry to be a little more charitable toward her brother-in-law. Her bitterness was too deep ingrained.

It seemed a long time before they heard Curt's footsteps coming down the hall. Gay warned:

"No remarks about Hill before Curt, Cherry. He'll just think you're childish."

Curt's steps dragged wearily as he crossed the room and threw himself into a chair.

"Hillyer's blood is the right type," he lit a cigarette burning his finger because his hand was shaking.

"Fine," Pat nodded. "I'm glad they found someone."

"I think," Curt said then, "we should go across the street and get something to eat. It's seven o'clock. It will probably pick us up. What do you say?"

Gay arose: "That's a very good idea. There's nothing we can do here."

She knew Curt De Witt had the feeling he must escape from the sombre walls of Channing Hospital for a little while. The knowledge that the blood from Kent Hillyer's veins was giving new life at that moment to the woman he loved must be like a sword in his side.

Pat and Cherry followed Curt and Gay taking Curt's arm as they went down the hall to the elevator. They left word at the fourteenth floor desk that they would return in a short while. If Mr. Hillyer or anyone else should inquire for them, they were going to the restaurant directly across the street.

Over orange juice, toast and coffee, Gay suggested thoughtfully:

"Cherry, I think you should go home and make sure Kenny is taken care of properly. You know how excited poor old Hyacinthe gets when there is an emergency."

Pat agreed. "I think so too, honey. I'll take you home as soon as we're finished. You'll be a lot more use there than here."

Curt nodded: "That's the sensible thing to do, dear. The Doctors say April will be unconscious for a long time, There is no reason at all why you should stay at the hospital. Gay can stay there, and you take charge at home. I'll telephone the office that you won't report till further notice."

Cherry's eyes filled: "I can't bear to leave. Suppose—suppose she dies, and I'm not there. I—"

Gay said quickly: "Nothing like that is going to happen, Cherry. Not with Jil that is being done for April. You mustn't even think such a thing.

Fair Board Engages Midway For Fall Fair

Tweed, (Special).—A well attended meeting of the officers and directors of the Tweed Agricultural Society was held recently in the Council Chambers. President Harry M. Coulter was in the chair. Correspondence read and filed from the Provincial Secretary J. O. Sager, presenting a copy of a resolution which had been signed and forwarded to the E. J. Casey shows of Winnipeg, for midway for the Fair.

Discussion centred around the possibility of erecting a new grandstand and a committee of the following was named to investigate the matter in the hope of proceeding with the construction as soon as possible, Pres. H. M. Coulter, T. C. Graham, Emerson Hodgins and Wallace Johnston.

The committee to report back to the Board as soon as possible and if the men and material are available, work will commence early this summer.

Judges for the various events to be held during the coming fall fair were also appointed.

It was the opinion of the directors that the program should start earlier in the day and this year some of the cattle and horses may be judged in the forenoon permitting more time for the showing of carriage and heavy horses. Arrangements will be made to have all breeds of cattle and horse accommodated under the grounds while the livestock parade which is the big feature of the fair will be held earlier in the afternoon.

President H. M. Coulter, a delegate to the Provincial Fairs Convention held in Toronto, an excellent report on the proceedings touching on the highlights of the program.

It was suggested and unanimously agreed that a number of Junior Farmers' Clubs should be elected directors on the Fair Boards.

Keep a closer check on all activities on the midway and appoint men to go in booths to sell tickets.

Try to make everybody welcome at the Fair and above all all they can to avoid accidents.

This year's convention was one of the best ever and the ladies' sections was the largest ever held.

Board Thanked

Mr. Coulter thanked the Fair Board for making it possible for him and Mrs. Coulter to attend the convention.

Messrs. Bernard Hunt and E. W. Bateman assisted with the tea thanks to Mr. Coulter for his report.

Mr. T. C. Graham, a past president of the Fair Board presented Mr. Dexter Fleming, an officer and director of the Fair Board, for a great many years with an Agricultural Service diploma for his outstanding contribution to Tweed Fair.

In replying he said he was grateful to the Board for their gesture in making the presentation and pointed out that the services would always be at the disposal of the Board.

Inspector Visits With Parents And Teachers

Marmora, (Special.)—A meeting of parents and teachers was held in Sacred Heart School on Thursday evening with a good attendance. Mr. William Meehan acted as chairman and introduced Inspector J. F. Matthews of Kingston. Mr. Matthews said he welcomed the opportunity of meeting the parents of the children and said, as an inspector, he had seen the need in the schools of a medium, whereby teachers and parents work together. He continued by saying that the Home and School Association should be, 1st, not a social organization; 2nd, not a fund raising organization; 3rd, not to meddle in school administration.

Begins In Home

He told his listeners that education begins in the home in the very earliest years and at the age of six, the character and habits of the child have already been formed. He said neither teacher nor parent can do it all and there must be an understanding between them if consistent visual aids a great help in educating the child. A discussion was held, after which Mr. H. J. Farrell addressed the meeting, commenting on the advantages of the children of today with that of their parents. He stressed the point that parents should not interfere with the teacher.

Vote Was Passed

It was decided to invite the organizer of this district to visit the school to proceed with the organization of the Home and School Association.

A committee was appointed to attend the annual Home and School Association already organized in Marmora in the Public School on Monday evening, May 12th., to discuss matters of interest. Chairman of this committee is composed of Miss Hilda Deeson, Mrs. Charles Cook, Mrs. A. Clairmont, Mr. J. O'Neill, Mr. Vincent Lynch and Mrs. J. Baldwin Stevenson.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Matthews before the meeting adjourned.

TOO MANY STAIRS

Icondon —(CP)— The home of Mrs. Ada Wells, sold on March 12 for £77,000 ($28,000) plus £350 for fittings, is up for resale because Mrs. Wells, the owner, and his wife have decided there are too many stairs in the house.

Prolonged Winter Greatly Delayed Seeding

Toronto, May 13 (CP)—A prolonged winter followed by windy wet weather greatly delayed the seeding of spring grains in Ontario this year, and at May 1 only two per cent of the intended wheat acreage, five per cent of the oat acreage and three per cent of the barley acreage was seeded, the monthly crop report issued by the agriculture department showed today.

Early spring seeding was completed by May 4 in all areas except Northern Ontario and some eastern areas, where progress in this year's poor seeding season has been made in Northumberland and Prince Edward Counties, where from 25 to 30 per cent of spring grains have been sown.

Ontario farmers this year have generally shown intentions of increasing the acreage of sugar beets, corn for husking, dry beans, soy beans and field peas, an increase in the acreage of seed flax from the former 83.25 a bushel to $5 (Montreal basis) will probably result in a greater acreage of this crop.

Because of shortage of feed grains, it is not expected the acreage of spring grains will increase, but a decrease is expected to decline slightly.

Fall wheat, alfalfa and clover crops experienced a small amount of winter-killing in most districts, the greatest damage being reported from North Simcoe by snow and spring floods have killed an estimated 25 to 40 percent of the fall wheat acreage.

Trees Suffer Well

With the exception of some animal damage, fruit trees in the Georgian Bay area and breakage from ice formations in the trees in the Niagara Peninsula, all fruit trees, vines and bush fruit plantations in western Ontario wintered well with little low temperature damage but recent cold winds have retarded bud development to a stage two weeks behind last year and weather conditions have hindered orchard work to a great extent. Pruning was not finished in the eastern counties at the end of the week of April 26. Some early potatoes have been planted in the Holland Marsh.

Acreage contracted for sugar beets in Ontario, mostly in the Chatham area, is 24,500 up to May 3 compared to 22,300 in 1944. Indications at present are that one sugar factory of the Canada and Dominion Sugar Company will operate in the area for the sixth consecutive year. The company has more than 700 immigrant families approved and the workers for western Ontario fields covered in those applications will arrive as soon as shipping is available.

'Mock Parliament' Sponsored By Junior Board of Trade One of Best Skits Seen in City

There was a din of tonsil-rattling and mallet-thumping at the Hotel Quinte last night, when members of the Junior Board of Trade here staged a "Mock Parliament." It was a hilariously funny verbal caricature of a session of Parliament, which at times resembled the drum-thumping of war-hungry Hitler; the filibustering tactics of a Hyde-Park soapbox orator; the early evening antics of a dyed-in-the-wool jitterbug; all garnished with wise cracks personal, impersonal and the most of them funny.

In fact the boys did the thing in real parliamentary procedure. They had the "Prime Minister" and the "Leader of the Opposition", the Speaker, Sergeant-at-Arms, press gallery and the government and opposition benches. There was a speech from the throne, at least while it was being read by "Viscount Oriffander Lloyd". After that it was thrown to the parliamentary wolves and what they did to it, pro and con, would make Red Riding Hood just a fairy.

Speaker Had Hard Time

The speeches referred to the Canadian citizens who are not only prosperous but reaping the joys of the beneficent administration of your government." Boos and cheers from both sides of the "house". It advocated increased baby bonuses....increase in radio costs; trade; foreign affairs; immigration, unionization and increased old age pensions.

The "Hon. W. B. Lattimer" was the speaker. He wore out three mallets; had three members thrown into the parliamentary hosegow, destroyed both tonsils, and finally gave up the ghost and appointed a "Conservative" to take his place.

Hizoner Frank Pulleyell, "Minister without portfolio" rose to move the adoption of the speech from the throne. He was greeted with catcalls, Boos and other guttural noises, when he advocated increased baby bonuses and increased radio rates.

Pertinent Questions Asked

The Opposition benches; — "How long does this go on?"

The Speaker.— "Two minutes."

Opposition Benches;— "Pull a watch on him."

He favored an open door to selective, immigration, but not so rigid as to bar anyone.

Tommy Carruthers (Lib.— Springfield Man.) "I take great pleasure in seconding the speech from the throne so....

Opposition Benches; — "So what!"

"So I don't think I have anything more to say."

Wm. Edwards, (PC—Yale):— never heard such unadulterated balderdash in my life. She (sc. colossal effrontery to say this country is contented." (Bedlam from the government benches.) "The barefaced audacity to raise the boobyy-pardon—baby bonus (Boos) is beyond my comprehension." (Bedlam from both sides).

J. Lennox, (L—Essex East) "I predict there will be amendments coming in for, the Opposition."

Spoke in French

Paul Mercier (L—Temiscouata) (one of the lives of the party) jumped to his feet and harangued the House in French amid cheers from the opposition and cries of "Viva Le France."

The Speaker; (puzzled) "I demand that you confine your remarks to the question under discussion."

Mr. Mercier.—"There are two languages spoken in the House, English and French."

Voice;—"Which is he speaking?"

Another Voice; "I don't know? (cheers and boos).

Mr. Mercier; "His baby bonus, she is nodding but a bribe for Quebec. We will not accept it until we find out what it is all about." The opposition broke out lustily in a chorus of "Alouette."

Mr. Robb, (PC—Parry Sound); "Mr. Speaker, does not the throne speak for the government policy?"

The Prime Minister; (Bob Pringle);— "He votes as he is told."

House in Bedlam

Mr. Mercier; "I repeat, she is bribe for the French Canadian to forget dat period between wars". Then bedlam.

.... The preceding dots denote a period of three and one-half hours when Hansard went haywire and the press gallery absorbed three bottles of smelling salts.

Mr. Mercier: "Next comes immigration. I confess my ignorance."

(Cheers from the Opposition).

At this point Mr. Speaker's mallet broke, and he commandeered a typewriter.

Geo. DeVuyst (Bloc Populaire, Beauharnois), demanded immediate jobs for those with immigration. "We want 'em good. I am not like Mussolini, dead."

Voice: "Prove It."

Arthur Batstone, Minister of Transport): "Mr. Speaker" (he repeated this eighteen times then) "Mish I start all over again!" Boos and catcalls and the Minister sat down.

Bill Navan: "Mr. Speaker" . . . Senator Speaks In

Mr. Robb: "How did that hon. gentleman from the Senate get in here?"

Mr. Navan then gave an excellent impersonation of a tobacco auctioneer's war cry, or whatever it was.

Mr. Robb: "Mr. Speaker, I suggest that the last speech had as much sense as the Speech from the Throne."

Tom Wilkinson (PC, Yukon), speaking on increased radio costs. said his constituents did not need radio culture or any other culture. "What we want is more reindeer".

A Voice; "I object. The member from Yukon should address the chair as Mr. Speaker, and not "dear, dear Speaker." Speaker's second mallet crackled under the repeated impacts.

And so on into the night. Eventually three members were outside from the House, (headed by Sergeant-at-Arms Ed. Burns. Speakers were hastily dawned. Questions were fought hitherto, unasked, and the "ship" sailed across the floor of the house.

Finally the nerves shattered and ear-drums bursting the Press Gallery quietly passed out. Later, they learned, the Senate had seemly left the "House" looking for the comparative quiet of a torso murder.

Telegram Sent To Duplessis By Seamen's Union

Montreal, May 13 — (CP)—The Canadian Seamen's Union announced yesterday that President Harry Davis has sent a telegram to Premier Duplessis of Quebec, unless the "illegal and un-Canadian action of the provincial police are halted Davis is considering "making an immediate recommendation to our executive that our organization take steps at once to stop all Canadian ships calling entering the ports of the province of Quebec."

"The Canadian Seamen's Union demands the immediate release of two seamen now being detained by your provincial police without charges and the withdrawal of your democratic rights of a group of Quebec textile workers striking to obtain a living wage and decent conditions."

The union said the seamen were arrested early this morning while walking on Lasalle Lachute street to join the United Textile Workers of America (AFL) picket line at the gates of the Ayers Limited Woollens plant where a strike for wage increases began five weeks ago.

Young Girl Victim Of Vicious Attack

Provincial police are searching today for a young man who near midnight Monday night, viciously attacked a young Thurlow township girl by striking her over the head and inflicting a gash approximately two inches in length.

The young girl who lives in Thurlow township just outside the city limits had been to a late show and was walking home alone when she was attacked in short distance from her home. Although dazed by the blow the young girl was not knocked down and her assailant without further molestation, he disappeared down the road. She was able to give a fair description of the young man to police.

According to the story told by the girl to police she had first noticed her assailant as he started to follow her after she had crossed the collegiate campus. He had waited until she had crossed MacDonald Avenue when he came up from behind and struck her on the head.

000), except for 10,000 reichsmarks.

It also forbade him to hold any public office during the remainder of his life and deprived him of most of his civil rights, banning him from voting in any election, practicing as a lawyer, participating in any political activities, joining any political party, or joining any professional or economic organization.

Maximum Penalty

The verdict, practically, the maximum that could be imposed means in effect that until Schacht is 80 years old he will be unable to hold any position worthy of economically aside from the role of common laborer.

In imposing the prison sentence, the court decided to take into account the two years that Schacht already has been in custody, thereby reducing his sentence to six years.

In his defence he declared he fought against Nazism once it broke beyond Germany's borders and was a participant in several attempts to unseat Hitler, including the unsuccessful July 20, 1944, bomb plot.

Schacht has been a prisoner since the roundup of anti-Hitlerites that followed the bomb plot. He was held in a concentration camp by Hitler, and at the end of the war he became a prisoner of the allies.

SIX MINK KITTENS BORN IN CANADIAN CENSUS

Dundalk, Ont., May 13 —(CP) —Six pink kittens were born in a Caesarian operation performed by Lloyd Johnson, assistant on a mink ranch here. The mother mink had been found dead and Johnson undertook the operation.

The kittens were held in Johnson's hand until they showed signs of life and then were put in with a litter of other newly born mink. All are still alive.

Builders Cannot Connect Storm, Sanitary Sewers

Future Bone builders erecting residences in this city will be required to connect roof or surface drainage with sanitary sewers it was decided by city council Monday evening when they adopted the report of a building committee of council which investigated into roof and surface drainage as well as sewer rental for house outside the corporation.

The present regulation regarding roof and surface drainage will remain in effect, however, in so far as residences built after this date are concerned, while owners of residences where roof and surface drainage is now connected with the sanitary sewer will be given until July 1st, 1948, to discontinue the practice.

The city solicitor was requested to draw up by-laws covering the recommendations noted above. Council also approved of the committee report which suggested a charge of $15 for sewer rental in the case of residences and $25 for commercial buildings, while the city which are connected with the sanitary sewers. The charge will be made from July 1st of this year and will be payable in advance. The recommendation regarding sewer rental will not affect houses erected under the Integrated Housing Plan.

Storm sewers were recommended constructed on the balance of City streets as soon as finances permit.

'Rosy' Attends And Dines With Board Members

It may not be Spring, but Rosy Winter is well on its way to wherever it goes between May and November.

That is why, perhaps, members of the Junior Board of Trade looked askance, at first, at an uninvited fur coated guest who took the place of the absent sergeant-at-arms at their regular dinner in the Hotel Quinte last night.

The gent in the fur coat waddled in the downstairs dining room at the proper moment, and the JayCees rose collectively to their feet in surprise.

For the fur-coated one was none other than "Rosy" talented member of Beebe's Brave now appearing with the Merrick Circus at the Memorial Arena under the sponsorship of the Belleville and District Shrine Club.

With "Rosy" were her trainer, Mr. A. G. Mauro, vice-president of the circus, and Tommy McClure, ringmaster.

And the intelligent animal was perfectly at home in her surroundings. She calmly took a seat at the head table spilled grimaced, pleasantly, at her right-hand neighbor and gulped down the beer, pudding, and a bottle of refreshment.

But "Rosy" is not stingy with her talent. She paid for her meal by singing a duet "Sweet Adeline" with Mr. Beebe, danced a waltz with him, - then swung into a modern jitterbug jig effort that had the JayCees in stitches.

Then she bowed pleasantly, took her partner's arm and ambled out ingracefully from the dining room.

The stunt was kept secret, and only a few members of the Junior Board "were in the know."

These are merely the bare facts.

U.S. Regulations Barring Importations Except From Accredited Herds Or Areas Mean Loss to Cattlemen

New American cattle import regulations going into effect on effect June 1st and which will bar the importation of cattle except from accredited herds or from fully accredited areas, will mean a considerable loss to many prominent cattlemen in the Bay of Quinte district, according to veterinary officials here.

American states adopting the new regulations include the New England States to which a very large percentage of cattle sent from the Bay of Quinte area are sold as milkers. Formerly cattle from non-accredited areas could be imported into the New England States providing they successfully passed the separate tests given at 60-day intervals.

Referring to the new regulations affecting cattle coming into the U.S.A., Dr. H. M. Younghusband, district veterinary inspector at Belleville, stated that cattle exported to the states from fully accredited areas, would still be eligible for export.

The accredited areas in the Prince Edward cattle as well as those in Lennox, in fact although the first named county is an accredited area the county has not been completely re-tested as is required by the government. Farmers are at present working in the county, but it is not expected the test will be completed until fall.

According to Dr. Youngbusband there are 1,200 approximately 275 fully accredited herds in the three counties of Prince Edward, Hastings and Northumberland.

The new American import regulations when in full force and effect will certainly mean a considerable loss of revenue to farmers in the Bay of Quinte district," he stated.

OLIVER A CANDIDATE

Toronto, May 13 — (CP)—Farquhar Oliver, Liberal member of the Ontario Legislature for Grey South and a candidate for the leadership of the provincial Liberal party, said yesterday his party was "not interested in singly remaining in opposition ... we must use our energies to defeating the present (Progressive Conservative) Ontario government."

Discussions to Wards naming a party leader will begin here Thursday.

Construction Workers In Many Districts Ask Higher Wages

Toronto, May 13 — (CP) — A new strike wave affecting construction workers struck Toronto, Brockville, Kingston, Windsor and Hamilton yesterday as hundreds of construction workers walked off jobs in those cities.

In Toronto, 150 crane shovel men refused to operate their machinery at the new Bank of Montreal building in the downtown area at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds where a new grandstand is being erected. The walk-offs were in protest against non-renewal of union agreements.

Carpenters at the Brockville Schofield Hill housing development went on strike for union recognition, a 44-hour week and a $1-an-hour wage rate.

Picket lines were established at Windsor and construction of two Hiram Walker distilleries there was slowed down by a strike of 75 workers. The men, members of the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, Building and Common Laborers (AFL) seek union recognition, a 15-cent hourly raise and time and a half for Saturdays a union official said.

At Kingston 300 carpenters and joiners remained on strike to almost paralyze local construction.

Boy, 14, Charged With Murder In Arden Slaying

Tilbury Youth Remanded For Mental Examination

Kingston, Ont., May 14 — (CP) — A 14-year-old Tilbury, Ont., youth, in juvenile court today was charged formally with the murder of Frederick Desjardins, 57, of Sault Ste. Marie whose body was found in a grove at Arden, 50 miles from here, a week ago with a rifle shot in the head.

At request of the Crown, the Tilbury boy was remanded until May 21, during the latter's mental examination will be carried out.

Both Desjardins and the juvenile charged with his murder escaped from a Toronto training school April 27. The latter boy, traced through his fingerprints, was picked up near Gananoque the last week and later brought here.

Arrest of British Commandant Just a Mistake

New York, May 14 (CP)—The New York Times in a Berlin dispatch said today that Brig. W. R. N. Hinde British Commandant in Berlin, was arrested last Sunday on a charge of spying on an airfield in the Russian zone but was eventually released after questioning.

It was all a case of mistaken identity and a vigilant sentry, the Times reported.

Hinde, an ardent ornithologist, was taking advantage of a sunny Spring day to pursue his hobby in the woods near the Russian zone, the Times said. He has a large number of birds. He charged into civilian and armed himself with a pair of binoculars, began walking through the wooded countryside.

A Soviet army sentry challenged him. "I am looking at birds," said the British commandant. "You are looking at our airfield," the sentry replied.

The Times then quoted Hinde as saying: "Utter rot, my dear fellow. I am Brigadier Hinde and I have not the slightest interest in counting your planes. I am looking at birds and you are frightening them away, dash it."

The British officer was whisked away to the Soviet kommandatura in Berlin. A phone call was put through to Maj.-Gen. Alexei N. Tikhiy, the Soviet commandant, the Times added.

"What does he look like?" the newspaper quoted Tikhiy as asked. When he had been told, Gen. Kotikov shouted:

"For God's sake apologize and turn him loose! That is Brig. Hinde!"

NO PART OF VANGUARD BEARER'S OFF

Portsmouth, England, May 14-(CP)—Customs authorities here today "made no search on the ship" reports the battleship Vanguard which is carrying the British Royal Family had disembarked from their South African tour Monday, a spokesman for customs against diamond smuggling.

The natural gem officer aboard the Vanguard said "no part of the Vanguard has been searched" and added the ship was not subject to regulations governing passenger vessels.

WINE SLUDGE COVERS PAVEMENT

St. Catharines, May 14 —(CP) —Drivers on the Welland By-Pass Way near Grimsby thought they were driving in a snowstorm yesterday when they saw the pavement covered with a dark red liquid. Investigation, they found, however, that a truck carrying 1,500 gallons of grape wine had overturned, spilling the contents over the road. The driver, Fred Wherry of St. Catharines, was uninjured.

WIDE-OPEN FIGHT FOR LEADERSHIP OF LIBERALS SEEN

Interest In Ontario Choice Attracts Attention Of Liberal Quarters In Capital

By FRED KERNER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, May 14 (CP)— The wide-open fight for the leadership of the Ontario Liberal party has drawn the interest of Liberal quarters in Ottawa, spokesman for the opposition party in the Ontario legislature said today.

With more than a dozen names mentioned in pre-convention speculation and a majority of these persons seemingly willing to stand for election, Federal House members are casting anxious eyes at the field in the hope that the Ontario Liberal Association convention here Thursday and Friday will name the "right" man.

Of 82 Ontario seats in the Federal House, only 34 are held by Liberals and control of Ontario is a strong leader for the Ontario party would enhance Liberal chances in the next Federal election, these quarters believe.

Speculation Over Oliver

One name has remained in the fore of speculation since several months before the Ontario Legislature met in March—Farmer Oliver, 43-year-old leader of the 13 man opposition in the legislature. First elected to the Ontario House in 1926 at a 22-year-old pinnacle of Agincourt hall, he has represented Grey South in the legislature ever since.

Oliver Noncommittal

A keen debater, particularly on farm issues, the Liberal opposition leader has been a sharp critic of the Hepburn administration and on occasion his mild manner has given way to vitriol as he admonished Premier Hepburn to the Ontario Premier from the floor of the assembly.

Formerly Minister of Public Works and Welfare under Premier Harry Nixon, Mr. Oliver is a farmer. Not only is he well thought of in Liberal circles, he is respected in their political opponents and has been chosen on one occasion been paid tribute by Premier Drew.

Other Names Hooked

Among the other names mooted for the party's top post are some of the most prominently mentioned are Colin A. Campbell, Dr. Fred Lamport, St. Clair Gordon, Wil-

Who Will Succeed Stalin Remains Dominant Question in Moscow Circles

Who will succeed Joseph Stalin? During a month in Moscow Ross Munro often asked that question. Here he sums up the answers.

By ROSS MUNRO
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 14 — (CP) —Who will succeed Joseph Stalin as the dominant personality in the Soviet Union when he dies?

This is a question which the foremost diplomatic corps in Moscow discusses incessantly and which puzzles millions of Russians who, although they have not the slightest inkling whether the determining success, are extremely interested in speculating on who may be next to take the helm and to direct their destiny.

Stalin, I think, is still all-powerful in Russia. But he is getting old—he will be 68 in July.

I was in Moscow only a month but I talked to many about the succession question. The man or men who will follow Stalin seem to be included in these six names given alphabetically: A. A. Andreyev, Lavrenti Beria, N. A. Bulganin, Georgy Malenkov, Vlacheslav Molotov and Andrei Zhdanov.

They are the members of the Politburo, the super-cabinet of Russia.

After interviews with the best sources I could reach, I'd put my money on Bulganin. A compromise candidate who may be the bracket of the Kremlin he has come up fast and recently succeeded Stalin as first vice-minister of the armed forces, which is approximately equivalent to the post of Canada's minister of national defence.

Two others well-placed in the race for their chances are Beria and Malenkov. Beria has been in charge of the police as the Soviet Union's secret police.

Malenkov is a strong Communist party man, who has been in charge of numerous industrial and transport undertakings. Both he and Beria are great friends and have powerful backing behind the scenes. This gives rise to a theory that it is possible a compromise will be a two-man affair, in which police and party would work together in a joint leadership of the Soviet Union and Beria.

Both Zhdanov and Andreyev are still tremendously influential in Russia and close friends of Stalin and should not be overlooked, although most observers consider their chances fading.

Molotov, of course, is the man the western world knows best but his position in this question is hazy as he is a close friend of Stalin and close to Stalin but his name is not mentioned as much as the others as a likely successor.

LIFE INSURANCE OFFICIAL AGAINST GOVT. MONOPOLY

Head of Assoc. States All Proposals For Nationalization Are Révolutionary

Seigniory Club, Que., May 14. (CP)—Edwin C. McDonald, retiring president of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association, said today that private life insurance companies had no quarrel with Federal or Provincial competition but do quarrel with the idea that life insurance should become a government monopoly.

While private insurance companies also raises the question as to whether or not it is fair to have the "taxpayers subsidize the Dominion government's sale of annuities," he said in an address prepared for delivery to the annual meeting of the Association.

He charged that the movement for nationalization of life insurance "is often based on monopolistic ambition" rather than desire to provide more efficient and more economical services and said "the challenge we face is not simply a matter of difference of opinion about political theories. It is a revolutionary proposal to scrap our present economic system."

The presidential address was the highlight of a full agenda on the opening day of the annual meeting which ends tomorrow. Also heard were Donald Gordon, general manager of the Royal Bank of Canada and Dr. Paul D. Wyatt, president of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Mr. Gordon said the 1950's and 1960's may well experience one of the greatest periods of economic development Canada and the United States have ever known.

Mr. Muir advocated an adjustment in managerial skills so that "the charge of overselling" of life insurance is unfounded.

$226,500 Recovered Of $250,000 Loot

Toronto May 14 (CP)—Toronto police announced last night their biggest recovery of stolen goods, approximately $226,500 of the $250,000 loot which was taken from deposit boxes at a branch here on the Royal Bank of Canada in a robbery April 14 of an amount $26,500 is in cash.

Police said most of stocks, bonds and jewelry, was stolen from the safety deposit boxes by an armed trio who bound and gagged bank's caretaker and his family in their apartment over the bank at College and Bathurst streets here then ransacked the safety deposit boxes.

Three men arrested in Montreal and charged with the gem bold-up trio but are suspected of connection with receiving the stolen goods.

AS BARBARA ANN RETURNED CAR

This photograph was taken as Barbara Ann Scott, world's amateur figure skating champion, handed over the key of her car to Mayor Stanley Lewis of Ottawa. The convertible was a gift to the champ her home city of Ottawa and was returned because of the possibility the amateur status might be a bar to her entry in the 1946 Olympics. Shown at LEFT is Barbara Ann's mother, Mrs. Scott.

Construction Workers Strike At Several Ontario Centres

(By The Canadian Press)

Windsor was the centre of Ontario's chief industrial tieup today as three construction projects were picketed as the CIO carpenters' wage increase. Picket lines were drawn up in front of two construction projects at Huron Church and Sons Ltd., and the Ice Cream plant of the Borden Co. Ltd. All are employers of Dineen Concrete Ltd., a construction firm.

Fred Sartain, secretary of the Windsor Labor Council Executive said that organization would meet tonight to discuss the strike. "The whole thing's been misrepresented," said Mr. Dinsmore, president of the company.

Other A. F. L. unions in Windsor are supporting the strike, with carpenters, bricklayers, electricians, plumbers and truck drivers refusing to cross the picket lines.

Also in Windsor, plasterers' undertakers demanded collective bargaining, closed shop, checkoff and per hour increase of 10c to $1.60 per year. The separate school board agreed to the 10c per hour increases in view of the salary demands.

Rounding out the Windsor labor picture, Joseph Durocher, business agent for Local 1459, United Brotherhood of Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators of America (AFL), said the union had negotiated wage increases, retroactive to April 1, for the local. Wages of spray painters and other painters have been increased to 90c cents to maximum hourly rates of $1.30 and $1.10 respectively. Two hundred men are affected.

At Kingston Union carpenters must go back to work by May 19, the Kingston Building Contractors Association decided last night at a meeting. The gathering was convened to consider the strike of 325 members of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, Local 248, which has been in effect since Saturday.

A mass meeting of the members of the Carpenters and Joiners Union has been called for tonight by the Union, an agreement between the Union and contractors which expired April 30 called for $1.03 per hour for a 44-hour week.

Outside workers at London's city hall plan a meeting to discuss a new agreement offered by city council and turned down by the Union. The agreement deleted the Rand formula and compulsory checkoff.

At Hamilton 25 striking members of the operating engineers, Local 793, were still holding out for a 25 cents-per-hour wage increase and holding up construction of a $5,000,000 cold rolled mill and a $750,000 office building.

R. C. Nicholls of the Toronto Builders' Exchange and Labor Relations Committee said the strike of 25 stationary engineers and operators was delaying 50 contractors on 20 projects affecting 1,500 building workers.

And at Fort Frances members of the United Brotherhood of Pulp Workers voted in favor of strike action in defence of demands for a general wage increase of 11 cents an hour. The workers, employed at the Ontario-Minnesota Pulp and Paper Company, approved the action, to take effect in 30 days, by a 399-to-7 vote.

Flooding Threatens To Engulf Homes

Montreal, May 14 (CP)—Rampaging waters of the Ottawa River were threatening to engulf many homes in the vicinity of the nearby municipalities of St. Eustache, Ste. Anne de Bellevue and Deriton.

Force of the water has moved several houses far downstream and has smashed them against rocks. Damage estimated in the thousands of dollars is being caused by the swift waters.

Several miles of territory in the vicinity of Carterville, Pine Laval and all along the lake of the Two Mountains district, have been flooded. Town officials believe it will be some days before the water recede.

CLAIM REDUCTION IN MEAT PRICES FORCED BY WOMEN

Housewives in Strike In West Canada are Said To Have Brought Cuts Of 11c in Meats

Winnipeg, May 14 — (CP) — Western Canada housewives today were pointing to tangible results of their campaign to force a reduction in food prices.

Their evidence was contained in a Regina newspaper advertisement inserted by a meat market merchant, in which "Housewives' Strike Brings Results" the advertisement listed steaks and chops at prices 11 cents below previous levels.

Merchants elsewhere in the west were not generally following the example of the Regina butcher but some housewives reported that the wintertime resignation of the German people to food shortages is giving way to "an ugly mood of bitter resentment" toward the United States.

Clay-said measures would be taken to alleviate the food situation within a few weeks. He expected hope that relief would be passed by a speedup in the shipment of grain from the United States by a large-scale program of providing dried milk at an early date to supplement grains and by collections from the hoards of private farmers.

The new German attitude, military government sources said, was prompted by recently the full enjoyment of district council chairman Dr. Rudolf Amelunxen.

"The words of the Lord's prayer, 'Give us this day our daily bread', for the first time hold meaning for the German people as never before for they have been raised by the survivors of a war whether life was still worth living or whether one could dare to bring children into this world."

Increased antagonism toward the United States, American officials observers said, is being fanned by all ranks and classes of German society.

Attitude of Average German

The average German in the present crisis blames the farmers generally for the shortage of the city folk, and hurls charges of "profiteering" against them, food officials. Next he blames the Americans and scans with fear that the United States aims to destroy the German people by organized starvation.

As they toghten their belts, the average German is watching for any ever objectivity they regard as "peace" by the United States and Britain reports. Even politicians refuse to be drawn into any disadvantages in other parts of the world.

Observers said that on the whole, the Germans just ignore accounts by Russian, British and government officials that the crisis is a "German responsibility."

People with a wider than average viewpoint also tend to blame the Allied occupation policy for the present situation. Educational class recently has been stressing the danger of overemphasizing the importance of the Ruhr cities have been receiving much of the credit of that level recently.

Also under the extension of demonstrations to the United States and Britain to protest against a ball-bearing plant in Stuttgart staged a sit down strike last night, in which they refused failure to maintain the official ration scale.

The food shortage was attributed by authorities partly to the unusually severe winter and partly to the pressing grain shortage in countries which constituted a drain upon relief from North America.

Dr. Walter Schreiber, Chief of Price Control in the American military government, estimated yesterday that 20 per cent of German food production is diverted to the black market, to barter deals or to feed livestock, instead of going into organized distribution channels.

German Food Crisis Grows Desperate Relief Planned

Agitators Seeking Political Profit Will be Arrested

London, May 14 (CP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin discussed the German food crisis for two hours with his topmost advisers today and a foreign office spokesman later described the outlook as "gloomy and difficult."

The spokesman said certain recommendations decided on at the secret meeting would be discussed by the cabinet, presumably at its weekly meeting tomorrow.

He would give no indications however of the nature of the recommendations.

He said Bevin would indicate broadly how Britain proposed to tackle the widespread food crisis in the zone of Germany when he addresses the House of Commons on foreign affairs tomorrow.

Top-level British administrators were gathered here for the talks, the significance of their discussions sharpened by increasing tides of unrest from German authorities.

Lord Pakenham, Minister responsible for affairs of the occupied territory, labelled the plight of Germans Britain's gravest "appalling" during a week-end on-the-spot visit there.

Marshal Arshal Heads Air

Amidst a series of work stoppages in Ruhr industrial towns to protest against dwindling food supplies, Dr. Rudolf Amelunxen, president of the German state of Rhenania, at Hamburg yesterday warned a second "hunger winter" would mean "unforeseeable catastrophe."

Marshal of the R.A.F. Sir Sholto Douglas, military governor of the British zone, Gen Sir Brian Robertson, Chief of Staff in the zone, Sir Cecil Weir and Sir William Strang were in the Bevin Arshal Heads Air.

Marshal of the R.A.F. Sir Sholto Douglas, military governor of the British zone, Gen Sir Brian Robertson, Chief of Staff in the zone, Sir Cecil Weir and Sir William Strang were in the Bevin Arshal Heads Air.

"The Germans are slowly starving," said a report signed by the German press by a German medical group.

Government sources in London said requests for flour for German bread been cabled to Washington.

Bevin's comment and a telegram direct to Herbert Hoover, special viseer to President Truman, saying that only a drastic increase could to an "intolerable degree" since Germany's last survey trip to Germany. last August.

At Flensburg near the Danish border 1,500 German workers gathered for a protest demonstration. Many Bizonia, local trade union leader said the workers' ration is a minimum of 3,000 calories a day. Actually the average ration is only 1,550 calories but German consumers in many Ruhr cities have been receiving only 1,000 calories of that level recently.

Besides the extension of demonstrations to the United States and Britain, there was also a ball-bearing plant in Stuttgart staged a sit down strike last night, in which they refused failure to maintain the official ration scale.

Try to Vision What War Might Be Like in 25 Years

By ELTON C. FAY

Washington, May 14 (AP)—Those who like to visualize what known only to a select few in the Pentagon building, can get a bracket, are trying to visualize what war will be like 25 years from now.

They will attempt a reasonable estimate of the destructive means of destruction science may devise for a future world outbreak.

Basing a corner of the secrecy which has veiled this "advanced study group" since its appointment by Secretary Forrestal 12 years of Navy, military and air estors reported. Even politicians refuse to discuss it with high officers from the war department and the joint chiefs of staff planning staff.

Their members from no one-although their highest rank is colonel—the three will ignore the lessons of the last two months of World War II and think in terms of 1972.

The study group's research goes into all phases of international affairs, "since everything affects war."

Behind this statement to reporters was the implication of scientific and atomic warfare and means to insure unhazard-of mass destruction.

TORONTO HOSPITALS BENEFIT

Toronto, May 14 — (CP)—City council approved payment of $385,802 to Toronto's hospitals in settlement of 1945 deficits for indigent city patients. The loss claimed by the hospitals was $385,802.

Second-Hand Goods Bring Huge Prices Because of General Shortage

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 14 — (CP)—Now that prices are high and new commodities are scarce because of the post-production, more Londoners are turning to second-hand stores in their search for comforts and luxuries.

There is a "junk" store on the corner of almost every London street and as several of them have three to every suburban town. Bombay, Lisbon and Paris have room suits to an alabaster fish bowl. Here's a display of a gilded bookcase to a grimy watch and seems matches expensive.

Occasionally there are bargains but too often, because of the demand, prices are high and kindly worthless bric-a-brac climbs to many times its original value.

Small dining tables, some of them chipped and stained, fetch as much as £7 ($28). Old bedsteads are sold for £15 ($60), bookcases £25 ($100), mahogany chests of drawers £12 ($48) and even small table lamps—in heavy demand — may be valued as high as £7 ($28).

"We know the stuff isn't worth what we ask for it," said one dealer candidly, "but the fact is we have to pay are so high we can't afford to sell cheap."

Conversely people selling to second-hand dealers are amazed not only of a higher price for their possessions but of a bright and cheerful welcome. Apparently they are more welcome than the customer.

"If a man came in here with an electric fire, a gilded clock and shiny oak him to stay for tea," said an elderly dealer of 40 years' experience. "They after day they come in looking for electric fires and electric kettles."

Spiralling prices have also affected values at auction sales. When a residence at Brondesbury Park, North London, was sold recently, the auctioneer's catalogue of furniture, books and household effects ran to 32 pages.

DOG OWNERS WARNED

Numerous complaints of dogs running newly planted gardens and flowerbeds have been received daily at the city hall.

Citizens are requested all dog-owners to keep their animals within their own confines as much as possible, as the police, in the near future, the animals should be tied up.

PICTON LEGION PLANS HOLIDAY CELEBRATION IN AID OF MEMORIAL

Outstanding motorcycle riders from the United States and Canada will take part in a spectacular C.M.A. motorcycle racing meet in Picton on May 24th.

Post 76 of the Canadian Legion, Picton, is sponsoring the celebration in aid of their Memorial Hall Building Fund, and they are offering $1,000 in prizes to ensure this being one of the most thrilling races to be held anywhere.

Features of the afternoon will include school children's trick racing and a gala dance will be held in the Armories that evening.

NO MORE WARNINGS FOR MOTORCYCLISTS

With complaints of motorcycles making excessive noise still frequently being made at the local police station, city law enforcement officials will issue no further warning regarding the operation of motorcycles without the required muffler, or for making excessive noise.

Notification that the warning period for such offences was now past and that prosecutions would follow, was made today by Inspector Wm. Ellis of the police department.

In the future officers in police cruisers will check carefully for cycle riders making excessive noise, while motor cycle police will check to see if the required mufflers are in place.

MONTH JAIL TERM FOR JOY-RIDING

Convicted on a charge of joy-riding, Robt. Orr, city, was sentenced to one month in the county jail when he appeared before Magistrate T. Y. Wills in local magistrate's court on Tuesday. In addition Orr was given a six months suspended sentence following Ray Dickey and was ordered to pay costs of $15 and doctor bills amounting to $80.30.

William Graham, also of Belleville, was given a month in jail, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of joyriding. Joyriding charges against Orr and Graham were laid by police as result of their taking automobiles, one belonging to the property of Leonard May, Thurlow township.

A joyriding charge against George Reeves and an assault charge against William Orr, were both dismissed. Ormonde Butler, Lloyd Butler, Harold Graham and Orr on the joyriding charges heard in court.

NO SKY ROCKETS FOR CELEBRANTS

Result of recent changes in federal regulations concerning the sale of rockets, celebrants observing the 24th of May this year will have to get along without sky rockets, it was stated today by officers at the local detachment office of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Under the new regulations the sale of sky rockets will be prohibited in all stores.

OCCUPANTS OF CARS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Occupants of two cars miraculously escaped injury near midnight Tuesday when vehicles proceeding in opposite directions were in a sideswipe collision on Highway No. 2 about half mile east of Marysville.

According to Provincial Constable Sam Irvine who investigated, the accident occurred when a westbound car driven by William T. Hutchison, Boswell Street, Belleville, skidded along the wet pavement and collided with the east bound car being driven by Wilburt J. Lee of Deseronto. No injuries were suffered as result of the crash but there was considerable damage to the two vehicles.

Kinsmen Hosts To C.A.S. Kiddies At Circus

Tuesday was a bright day in the lives of approximately 75 wards of the Hastings county Children's Aid Society, through the generosity of members of the local Kinsmen Club the kiddies were entertained with their visiting boarding homes in the Belleville district to see the afternoon performance of Merrick Brothers Shrine circus at the local arena.

Long before the appointed hour of two o'clock, when the kiddies were scheduled to arrive for the city, the boys and girls were waiting for the local club members. At the circus the kiddies sat in a reserved section where they had a splendid view of all three circus rings. Club members remained in attendance throughout the circus performance to see that their small charges got the best.

But the kiddies must have thought they were in heaven on their birthday as well as attending the circus for Kinsmen members showered the boys and girls with popcorn and other goodies.

And following the performance the boys and girls were bundled into respective autos and transported back to their homes. It was a big day for the kiddies, and in terms of smiles and laughter a bigger day for members of the local service club.

Only Nutritious Foods Should Be Sent to Britain

In appealing for support for the Canadian British Empire Relief Campaign, Dr. Gordon Bates, General Secretary of the Red Cross Society in Canada, today suggested that all donors make sure their gift clothing is clean and in good repair, and that the food they donate is the nutritious kind.

"It is important that we do everything possible to help relieve the British people in their hour of distress," Dr. Bates said, "it also is important that we render this help in a way which will prove most valuable.

"Might I suggest that only the most nutritious foods be included in our gifts. Evaporated or powdered milk, powdered eggs, powdered soups, dried fruits, canned meats, canned fish and dehydrated fruits, packaged whole grain cereals, canned salmon, canned beans, dinners, canned vegetables, canned fruits and fruit juices, canned vegetable juices, and tinned cooking oils should get first choice.

"Then don't forget that cleanliness is a necessity if people are to be healthy.

"As for gift clothing, be sure all articles are real clean and dry. Also make sure all articles are mended."

Dr. Bates said he feels sure the condition of the gift articles will be appreciated almost as much as the articles themselves.

This all-important relief campaign, sponsored by the Ontario Government is under the direction of Health Minister Russell T. Kelley.

Major M. Price Dies at His Home At Actinolite

Tweed (Special) — Former United Church minister and resident of Actinolite for the past 17 years, Major Morley Price died at his home The Lake of Cabbie, Actinolite, on Tuesday following an illness of seven months. He was in his 56th. year.

Born at Shelburne, Ontario, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Price, the late Major Price received his education in the ministry of the Methodist Church and later the United Church, commencing his ministry as assistant minister at Howard Park United Church, Toronto, in 1919. Later he had ministered at Whitevale, Pregonis Falls, Minesing and at Coboconk. He retired from the ministry in 1934.

A student at Victoria College of the University of Toronto when the First World War broke out, Major Price enlisted in January, 1915, with the Princess Pats of the C.I.I. and served in Belgium and France as a major. While training in England with his regiment Major Price won the machine gun championship at Hythe Ranges in England.

While serving on the Continent Major Price was gassed and returned to England on the last Imperial Army General Staff. He was demobilized in 1919 as staff major and immediately returned to Canada. While training in England he was ordained as a minister at the Methodist Conference, London, England, in 1917.

Active fraternally, Major Price was Worshipful Past Grand Master of the I.O.L. of British America and was also active in municipal matters, being elected as reeve for Bexley Township, Victoria county, in 1930. For the past several years he had operated a tourist camp at Actinolite and was also engaged in the lumber business.

He is survived by his wife, the former Dorothy Harrison, city of Grantham, Lincolnshire, England, and four sons, David, at Tweed, and Lloyd, Bruce and Joe at home.

Resting at the Bush Funeral Home, Tweed, with the funeral to take place from the funeral home afternoon with service at St. John's United Church, Tweed. Interment will be at Victoria Cemetery.

NAVAL ASSEMBLY IN CLYDE

Glasgow, May 14 — (Reuters)— The Royal Navy in June will attempt to pay back part of its debt to the River Clyde, from whose shipyards much of its men of war originated. Some 30 warships will stage a great naval assembly in the river, including the battleships Anson, Howe and the Duke of York, and possibly the Vanguard.

Industrial Commission to Contact American Industries in New York

Members of the Belleville-Sidney-Thurlow Industrial Commission, a trip to New York at the end of May to contact American industrialists, for the purpose of establishing branch plants in Canada, it was decided at a meeting of members of the Commission held Tuesday evening when plans for the trip were finalized.

Required to make the trip to the American metropolis are Chairman of the Commission, Mayor Murray Frank Follwell, Lorne McDougall, Bruce Wallbridge, Harry Rollins, Ormonde Butler and Alderman E. E. Follwell. While in New York the six commission members will call on the heads of approximately 40 industries with the view of interesting them in Belleville as a potential site for their Canadian branch plants.

While in New York, it is expected that the Belleville group will be joined by Walter G. Murr, industrial agent for the Canadian Pacific Railways. Mr. Murr was present at the meeting at the Tuesday evening's meeting and promised to make every effort to be with the local men on their New York trip.

The Commission recommended as filed a communication from the Canadian Legion, Belleville, asking a donation to assist them in defraying the cost of placing signs on the industrial sign which last year were placed at the entry to Belleville-Trenton highway.

Ex-Mayor Rollins stated he was officially informed by Premier Drew of the Provincial Government that the Provincial Government would pay the cost of the signs, and that the Commission would be reimbursed for the cost of the signs.

Ex-Alderman Lorne McDougall was also opposed to the donation and stated that the Junior Board of Trade had run down the Industrial Commission during their deputations in the city. They had not consulted the Industrial Commission regarding the sign, he added, wording: "See the Junior Board of Trade for Industrial Sites." He claimed the Industrial Commission would be of little special organization to see for industrial sites.

Mayor Follwell complimented the Commission on the fine and excellent job they had done in publicizing Belleville but recommended their letter be filed.

The motion was carried.

Present at the meeting were Chairman Frank Follwell, Mayor Follwell, Harry Rollins, Ormonde Butler and H. G. Murr.

SEEK POSSIBLE LINK

Norristown, Pa., May 14 — (AP) — Police said they were seeking a possible link between the slaying of pretty, blonde five-year-old Carol Ann Thompson here and the still unsolved disappearance of Georgia Weckler, eight, from a Wyncote farm 20 miles away. Mrs. J. W. Rusbong said the Thompson child had been sexually raped and murdered before the state police recovered the body from a well.

Kiwanis Club Hears Talk On Youth Training

The importance of an adequate program of youth training for teaching of skills in industrial and agricultural pursuits was stressed to members of the local Kiwanis club Monday noon by Fred J. Mawer, director of apprenticeship for the Ontario Department of Labor, Mr. Mawer spoke on "Youth Training."

Declaring that the youth of a nation was the country's greatest asset, the speaker reminded that it was these young people who will tomorrow elect governments and will run the country.

"If we have not done our job of youth training, or have not done it well, it will be our responsibility," he said, "it is responsibility which we cannot shirk, either as a country or as a group."

Mr. Mawer outlined the apprenticeship act established in Ontario in 1928 which saw the setting up of vocational classes to accompany apprentices. He told of the war emergency training classes set up during the war for the training of machine operators for mass production of war materials.

However, with the rapid development which Canada is in industrial nation there was still a vast need for trained men to meet the needs of industry, the industrialists were warned. Today's classes are not for but few skilled men, while at the bottom there are many not skilled. In between there is a vast void.

Importance of the work being done by guidance and guidance teachers in assisting in the direction of students into trades for which they are suited, and in specialized courses, was pointed out. Seventy-five per cent of students attending secondary school do not continue on to college, therefore the need for training in the trades in the trades or in industry.

Skilled men are also needed for the civilian trades. And skilled service was demanded, then skilled workers have to be trained. It was much easier for a person to go through the world if he knows his job. In the vocational school at Belleville facilities for training people the needed training were available, according to the speaker.

"The youth of today is all right," concluded Mr. Mawer. "He does need sympathy, but he does need sympathetic understanding and help. Industry to become skilled in the trade, be desires."

Three Kiwanis members, Norm Edwards, Warren Jones, and J.M. Wood were presented with attendance tabs for perfect attendance during the past year. One new member Rev. Frank R. Hardwick of Thomas United Church was admitted to the club. President Jack White presided over the meeting.

Spectacular Acts, Clever Artists Feature Merrick Bros. Circus

Crowds of Belleville circus goers placed their stamp of approval on the fine entertainment offered at the Merrick Brothers Circus which concludes a three-day engagement at the Memorial Arena tonight.

Yesterday afternoon hundreds of school children thrilled to the performance of talented artists and animals and last night another large crowd was on hand.

Fast Moving Show

From the first sound of Ringmaster Tom McClure's whistle until the finale, the Shrine circus is fast moving, spectacular and entertaining. Following the overture by Buddy Nichols and his circus band, the Taylor tumblers and Tim Scatterbucks perform in clown acts that have the audience off to a happy start.

The clowns pave the way for the spectacular trained lion act which comes immediately after. Ki-Gor, Indian animal tamer, put his "cats" through their paces with a dexterity which spoke long and extensive experience. Ki-Gor makes four 11-month-old lionesses move around the steel arena with precision and grace from the moment they come charging from the runway to the amphitheatre.

20-Act Show

Merrick Brothers Circus has collected 20 acts from all corners of the globe for the entertainment of Canadian audiences. No expense or effort has been withheld by them in the performers obtainable into one big aggregation of top acts.

Highlighting the show is the performance given by Winnifred Colleano on the swinging trapeze.

Miss Colleano defies death at least a dozen times to give her audience the greatest thrill of their lives. With grace and agility, this queen of the high trapeze flings herself through the air to release herself and appear to be plunging to the safety net below, only to catch the flying silver bar with her heels.

Car Act Hilarious

For fun, there is the "Funny Ford" run by Uncle Hiram and Aunt Matilda, played by Mrs. A. Patterson, of Indianapolis, Indiana. Mr. Patterson is himself a Shriner of the Murat Temple Indianapolis. Their funny Ford does everything but take a bow at the end of the performance. It explodes it upsets and falls apart and Uncle Hiram and Aunt Til is the funniest act of the show.

Straight from England, the Juggling Jewels, a troupe of charming young English ladies, thrill the circus fans with their master-juggling with Indian clubs. As a climax which goes remarkably well with their gold evening gown costumes, the four young ladies juggle lighted torches in the darkened arena.

The Clivettes, Sisters, Mary and Alma with Lewis, do an outstanding act of pyramiding, contortion and hand balancing. This trio is a product of the Americas Lewis from Brazil, and the girls from the United States.

Beauty and grace are exemplified in the Ballard Sisters who give demonstrations of strength on an illuminated table.

Welding Bear

Rosie, the Hollywood bear, is one of the stars of the show. Her trainer, Bobby Ballard, is also her trainer, is about the most remarkable demonstration of man's gentleness with animals we have witnessed.

The last half of the show is strong in every act presented. Foremost are the Yoroff Liberty horses. These fine beauties of the equine world seem to predict when to say they should. The Yoroff family also present two high-school horses which will thrill you to see their high school. Their response to direction is almost phenomenal.

The spectacular finale of the show is the Bernell troupe from Czechoslovakia, a tight-wire act that is breath-taking in its very daring. The Misses Josephine and Sonja Beresini with their two brothers and father perform stunts on bicycles and on foot and climax the act with a death defying bicycle pyramid.

A pair of trained seals, almost human in their behavior and tricks add further color to a highly entertaining show. Those who have not seen the Merrick Brothers Circus should not pass up tonight's opportunity.

Discuss Radar For Dominion's Ocean Ports

Ottawa, May 14 —(CP)— Now its radar for Canada's ocean ports to aid ships navigating difficult harbor entrances through fog and storm and darkness.

The National Research Council said today it was co-operating with the Department of Transport to determine what use could be made of radar at harbor entrances to ocean ports and considerable experimental work has been done.

Radar equipment now is in use at Camperdown Signal Station overlooking the entrance to Halifax harbor and it now is possible to view incoming vessels during conditions of fog, storm and darkness to a distance of 25 miles.

The Council said that experimental work also is underway for possible identification by radar of inbound vessels "so that in the not too distant future there may be added to the identity of a ship receiving radar aid for the approach to the pilot station or harbor entrance."

With the 25 mile range it is possible for the shore base signal men to report inbound vessels from a greater distance than was previously possible even in clear weather.

U. S. CHARGE D'AFFAIRES STRIPPED OF CAMERA, CARDS

Washington, May 14 — (AP) — The State Department said that the United States charge d'affaires at Belgrade was stripped of his camera and Embassy identification cards during a visit to the Yugoslav town of Pec May 2.

Camera and cards were returned to John M. Cabot, the American official, after a formal protest to Marshal Tito's government.

A spokesman said the state department now has instructed the Embassy to ask "appropriate disciplinary action" against the local officials responsible for the incident.

Consumer Branch Of WPTB Will Close

Toronto, May 14 (CP)—The consumer branch of the Prices Board, consisting of 17,000 volunteer women representing nearly 3,000,000 women throughout Canada, will be officially closed Thursday, it was announced yesterday. Organized by Canadian women shortly after a conference in December, 1941, between presidents of women's National organizations, Donald Gordon and Rt. Hon. J. L. Ilsley, then Minister of Finance, the consumer branch formed volunteer squads for distributing ration books and speakers' panels to tell other women how to hold down the cost of living.

POLICE CRUISERS TO MOVE HERE

Kitchener, May 14 (CP) — Cupid took a beating from the township council here Tuesday night. "It's a disgrace the way young people's love letters now that the summer months are coming," complained the spokesman for a deputation of ratepayers. "I guess they want to come to the Garden of Love," replied Reeve C. Sinclair. "We'll have the police cruisers keep them on."

MOVE BUILDING; OCCUPANTS WITHIN

Albany, N. Y., May 14—(AP)—A three-storey brick New York City apartment building will be moved 130 feet to a new location soon with no inconvenience to its tenants. Tenants will occupy the building during the move, expected to require several days, and no service facilities will be disconnected, the state department of public works said.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, May 14 — (CP)—The general movement of last two days continued on the Toronto Stock Exchange today in the early session. Except for metals leading the downward trend followed closely by golds and base metals. Western oils were less active but there were very few gains in this group.

Volume for the first 3 hours—97,170 shares.

Price range in the industrial list was relatively narrow but issues were largely lower in all groups.

The mining board was dotted with new lows for the year and substantial losses were registered by many issues.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, May 14 (AP)—The stock market today dipped to low levels for the year before rallying mild attempts at recovery.

Despite resistance of many pivotals the industrials and rail sections were largely for extension of Tuesday's decline. Numerous issues ranging to more than a point persisted near the fourth hour.

Declines were registered by Gooderich, Goodyear, American Telephone, Southern Railway, Union Pacific Baltimore & Ohio and North American.

Motors, however, were 1-2 and Home Mines added 1-4 among mixed Canadian issues at midday. Canadian Pacific added 1-8 while Hiram Walker eased 1-8. Distillers Seagram was unchanged.

HOGS

Toronto, May 14 —(CP)— Grade A in the hog market has been unchanged at Hall $32 delivered, the market reporting early today.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, May 14 — (CP) — Cattle prices were generally unchanged on the livestock market up to mid-session here today. Veal calves and hogs were steady. No sheep or lambs offered. Unsold from yesterday's close were 200 head of cattle. Receipts: cattle 300, calves 600, hogs 4,000.

A weighty steers were $14-$16, butcher steers $14-$15.50, heifers $15 down, butcher cows mostly $10-$12, bulls $10.50-$13, fed yearlings $14-$15.50.

Calves were $16-$16.50; for choice with plain to medium veal- ers $12-$15.

Hogs were dressed, grade A $22, grade B1 $21.50. Sows $17 dressed.

Scores Prosecution Of 'Lame, Halt and Blind'

Kingston, May 14 —(CP)— Prosecution by the Crown of "the lame, the halt and the blind," was bitterly scored in magistrate's court here today by W. J. Nickle, one-time attorney-general for Ontario. He was representing 78 year old A. T. Henderson, R. R. 1 Wolfe Island, on charges of two was charged with failure to file income tax returns for 1945. "I wish all people were as frailties to what a beaurocratic government can create," Mr. Nickle said.

Magistrate James B. Garvin ruled he found "extenuative" but to fine persons so charged $25 if found guilty.

Henderson and Roy Hartwicke, Titchborne laborer, both pleaded guilty. Convictions were registered but the men were remanded until called upon. This means neither is required to pay the fine until, and if, the court orders them to re-appear.

Mr. Nickle said Henderson had been taken out of a sick bed and had not been out of the house since Christmas.

40th Anniversary Of Wedding Is Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grimson of Belleville celebrated the 40th anniversary of their wedding on the first day of May, which was the first day of the month for the past eighteen years and formerly was the first day of May.

County, celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary at a dinner on Sunday given in their honour by their daughter, Mrs. Donald McLeod, Cannifton.

Mrs. Grimson came to this country from England forty-one years ago and was followed a year later by the then, Olive Smith. They were married on the day she arrived in Picton and lived at Cressy for some years.

There are five children, Mrs. William Boyer, Toronto; Mrs. George Logan, Strathcona; Edward at home; Mrs. Donald McLeod, Cannifton and Gregg, of Rossmore. All the family with their husbands, wives and children were gathered to wish them many more years of happiness.

Mary Friend Call

During the afternoon many friends called and had tea with the happy couple. Mrs. George Logan poured tea assisted by Misses Beasie Boyer and Margaret McLeod, the only two grandaughters present at the supper hour were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Keep and daughters, Dorothy and Betty, of Picton, Mrs. Tom Logan, Bill and Annie; Mr. and Mrs. George Wilkinson and Mrs. Joe Jackson, all of Belleville.

Mr. Grimson was also celebrating his seventieth birthday; Mr. and Mrs. Grimson received many beautiful presents and thanked their family and friends for making it a most enjoyable day.

GENEROSITY CREATES PROBLEM

Barrie, May 14 — (CP) — Contributions to the Barrie flood relief campaign here have presented a problem by their generosity. Among contributions are several mink wraps and a coat, valued at over $1,000, and committee members are seeking the owner's permission to sell the coat and buy more clothing.

Christian Fellowship Group Gives Program

The Christian Fellowship group of Bloomfield United Church, Deseronto, Tyendinaga, presented an interesting program at the home of Mrs. Holloway on Wednesday evening, May 7th.

Mrs. Holloway opened the meeting with a hymn, followed by prayer. Mrs. Ross Hagerman, four years old, gave two readings which were enjoyed.

During the business period several items were discussed. Plans for the money derived from the sale of articles at the Group's picnic were discussed, and the executive was elected for the year. Plans of these at their meeting during the week and submit a report next Monday evening.

"Service", the theme of the devotional period, was presented in the hymns, Scripture, story, poem, meditation and prayer. Those assisting were Jean Bedgley, Shirley Ritchen, Margaret Hillis, Doug. Ptolemy, Maude Burke and Olive Hall as pianist.

A novel scavenger hunt was organized with teams collecting as many articles as possible beginning with a certain letter, the time limit being twenty minutes. The teams scored 21 points each and accumulated a total of 74 points.

Refreshments were served by the group in charge and the evening closed with singing "We're on the Upward Trail".

18 ARRESTED IN AMRITSAR

New Delhi, May 14 — (Reuters) — Police in Amritsar reported that they had arrested 18 persons in connection with the incident Saturday in which seven people were burned to death by armed men who sprinkled them with gasoline and set them alight.

No incidents were reported Monday night from Amritsar where a 48-hour curfew was to end today.

Five-Year Term For Payroll Theft

Montreal, May 14 — (CP) — Claude Hockmeyer, 24, who stole a $25,000 payroll from a Montreal Tramways bus last December was sentenced yesterday to five years in penitentiary.

Judge J. T. Ecrigbt told Hockmeyer: "You're not a bad man but you've made a grave mistake."

Hockmeyer, a guard, pleaded guilty after charges were withdrawn at the start of the trial. He was arrested by detectives Dorey and after being sought since April 23 when Hockmeyer signed an armed holdup at the Lasalle Company of Canada and stole the payroll. Most of the money was recovered.

Community's New Industry

Announcement made this week by the Bakelite Company (Canada), Ltd. of its purchase of a 70-acre site just east of the city of Belleville along Highway No. 2 on which it plans to erect a plant for the manufacture of bakelite, phenolic and urea plastics and resins is important news to the public. The decision of so important an industry as the Bakelite Company to establish a plant here to satisfy the growing demand for its products is something in which the citizens of this community can take just pride as offering the opportunity for the development of the industry.

The plant which will be erected will make available more than double the tonnage of moulding and laminating materials now being made in the Dominion.

To the city and surrounding community the industry marks an important addition to the large industrial payroll in the district. The stability of the industry is indicated in the plan for a twenty-four-hour-a-day operation, fifty-two weeks in the year.

The importance of the new accession to local industry cannot be too greatly impressed. Bakelite products have a very wide market which has become so great that the company decided upon the building of the new plant to meet the expansion of its business. The progress of this industry is one of its appeals.

Belleville sees in the decision of the company the confirmation of the attraction this centre holds for industry. It encourages the hope and faith that the years just ahead are years that will be freighted with development on a large scale.

There are among the new industry and predicts for it and the district a future of the greatest scope of success. Local industries extend the welcome hand to the newcomer arising from and to be the strength which every new industry brings to the community's industrial life.

The success of the negotiation leading up to the company's choice of this site is greatly enhanced as the result of efforts being made to attract new industries to this centre through the work of the Chamber of Commerce, the Industrial Commission and the City Council.

Master of Type Design

Frederick William Goudy, noted type designer, is dead at Marlboro, N.Y., at the age of 82 years. He is said to have done more for typography than any man since William Morris, of whom he was the spiritual descendant. He had devoted more than half a century to the art of printing and type designing.

From his imagination, training and skill came more than 100 type faces. Some of these are ranked with the most beautiful ever moulded. Others produced with a more pragmatic inspiration, have been used for years to sell goods to the readers of American magazines.

He followed the principles of simplicity, standardization and functionality. In 1938 he lost in a fire seventy-five or more original type designs and matrices of the 107 type faces designed by him. Also lost was the press used by William Morris in getting out the Kelmscott Chaucer. Chaucer along with the precision instruments Goudy had designed for the creation of his masterpieces.

Men with the instinct for the artistic like Frederick Goudy attract men's and women's minds and thoughts to things of beauty. What is more to be desired than a book set in a style of type that pleases the eye. He belonged to the company of the artists who create beauty. This present age practical though it is, is still an age that worships beauty of design, whether in a house a car or in a book, magazine or newspaper.

Last of New York Palaces

The changes of this economic age are shown in every community, the small as well as the large.

In New York City there has just been sold the old Schwab chateau on Riverside Drive and in the language of the New York Times it marks the end of an era. "It is the last of New York's private palaces still standing in melancholy grandeur on an entire city block. An altered economy makes it unlikely any ever will be built again."

In later years in the midst of apartment houses which sprang up in New York the Schwab mansion "lacked the gracious surroundings of its originals and always seemed a little incongruous and out of place. The lonely palace became a white elephant stripped of its royal trappings. The not-so-old landmark has 75 rooms and required 36 servants to run it. When the wreckers are through with it and the Prudential Insurance Company puts up its apartment project on the site there will be more than 3,000 rooms for 600 families. Nothing could more clearly illustrate the transition of the past into the future."

In the change from one era to another, large changes in the cities of the American Continent are being changed into apartment houses to suit the needs of the new age.

Train Future Home-Makers

Future home-makers of Australia are at present in training in a Sydney harbor-side residence where girls from the State of Queensland, Western Australia, Tasmania and New South Wales are learning the art of running a home under skilled tutelage. Commemorating the pioneer home-makers of Australia, this college is at Kirribilli near the Sydney Harbor Bridge.

Purpose of the training which is both scientific and liberal, not only in efficient housecraft, but also in the laws of courtesy, moral sense and physical fitness. The school caters partly for resident students and partly for day students. Run as a non-profit making company, the college is controlled by a council.

The first year of the college course covers the theoretical and practical side of home and cookery, also house-craft, clothing and garment-making, textile, interior decoration, elementary science and nutrition, home nursing, home management, mother-and-child welfare and first aid.

The second year takes the theory and practice of foods and cookery in an advanced stage and includes catering and entertaining, laundry work, continues nutrition, dressmaking and dress designing, covers business affairs and the theory and practice of institution management. It also touches on the history of architecture and furniture and continues literary studies. Successful students are awarded a diploma of institution management.

Instruction is not merely from lectures and text books but from a big city high schools which co-operate with the college by making available a staff member to assist them in learning to select and order materials. They visit textile and food-processing factories, and, in order to learn how these commodities are produced and prepared. They visit mother-craft centres, attend as assistants at day-nurseries and learn the art of exhibiting and demonstrating. They design houses and rooms for themselves, plan the decoration and furnishing and budget for linen and household equipment. Each girls takes her turn as housekeeper for the college staff in the course of duty, must do shopping, ordering, budgeting and general household management.

Living Longer

The average length of life of the American people in 1945, the closing year of the war, reached a new high to nearly 66 years, says Metropolitan Life Bulletin. This is 2¼ years more than the corresponding figure in the immediate pre-war period of 1939-41 and 16 2/3 years above the level prevailing at the beginning of the century. In other words, the average length of life (or expectation of life at birth) in our country has increased one third since the beginning of the century.

If no use is made of the labors of past ages, the world must remain always in the infancy of knowledge.—Cicero.

PARENT SUCCESS

The father little dreamed that he
Was one whose work the world would see.
The patient mother never knew
That she did more than serve and woo.
Yet in their children, when they'd grown,
The glory of their lives was shown.

The lessons which they daily taught
Were prompted by no selfish thought;
No gain, except that gain of good
Which is the joy of parenthood;
One aim behind all hopes and fears:
To have them fit to face the years.

At times, they caught a cheering word
When of their children praise they heard.
At times they smiled, for not by chance
Do children in the world advance.
By love and patient teaching wise
To worth and high esteem they rise.

Today where'er their children go
Their courage and devotion show.
In conduct good 'tis plainly seen:
"How fine their parents must have been,"
Is often said, "to be so blest!"
And that, of all success, is best.

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

Who said: "Every man His hir of price?"

This saying is generally ascribed to Sir Robert Walpole (1676-1745), Prime Minister of England, but it may have been proverbial before his time.

The evidence indicates that "Every man has his price" was a distortion of what Walpole actually said and was put in his mouth by his enemies to represent him as a cold-blooded politician whose only aim was to perpetuate his own power.

In his "Life of Sir Robert Walpole" Lord, Hervey reported in this "shallow and cynical sophism" as to "the power of misrepresentation." Walpole, however, did on more than one occasion refer to the price of men, but always with qualification. In his "Memoirs of the Life and Administration of Sir Robert Walpole" (1798) William Coxe wrote: "Flowery oratory he despised. He ascribed to the interested views of mankind, by the influence of which he conducted his administration, the success of his measures. 'All men have their price,' he frequently observed."

Who said: "Every man has his price"?

Horace Walpole, the author and wit, wrote in 1774 that, "My father he said to me, 'All men have their price,' but later he pronounced the alleged saying as a pure invention, which it hardly was, being rather a distortion or misrepresentation. As early as 1733 Bishop Wyndham, leader of Walpole's opposition, said: "It is an old saying that every man has his price."

Of course, the proverbial thought had been expressed long before that. In Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" Cassius says: "For who so firm that cannot be seduced?"

There is a story that a Spanish diplomat stationed in Havana before the Spanish-American War asked the State Department to request Spain to recall him, as "the Spanish down here are getting awfully close to my price."

Enteritis Takes Lives of 1,200 Children Annually

(By The Canadian Press)

Enteritis, the mysterious child malady which gained public attention again last week after it killed 14 babies in a day in Montreal Nunnery, is responsible for approximately 1,200 deaths annually among Canadian children under the age of one year.

This average for the seven-month death rate was revealed today in a survey by The Canadian Press which showed that Toronto and Windsor, along with Montreal were the centres where outbreaks of this diarrhoeae-like disease are the most severe.

Prior to the death of the 18 children at the famed Gray Nunnery in Montreal, the Montreal Children's Hospital Hotel Dieu Hospital nursery at Windsor was closed when seven infants died there. Similarly in Toronto, health authorities report nine deaths attributable to enteritis this year.

The recent outbreaks have caused widespread alarm and interest and medical men have attributed the cause to the influenza virus or some citrus closely related to it. Chief symptoms are vomiting, diarrhoea and rapid dehydration. While health authorities are conscious of the disease's terrible alert, nowhere else in Canada is there been any signs of an epidemic.

Quebec has been the hardest hit of any province in the Dominion with 402 deaths attributable to this malady in the first six months of 1946, followed by Ontario with 302, the total for that province was 602.

During the first six months of last year Ontario had 88 deaths, Saskatchewan 76, Alberta 28, British Columbia 17, and Prince Edward Island 1, Dominion Bureau of Statistics officials said.

Medical officials in Toronto at Windsor, Dr. John Howie said the problem of disposing of bodies related to that of influenza since the deaths came during a period of wide spread epidemic. It is feared that all deaths from either disease be buried immediately and specified as "enteritis or diarrhoea" deaths.

City of Toronto figures show that of 624 infants who died in that city last year, 302 were attributed to the disease and so far this year 254 deaths, nine were caused by enteritis. Final figures is said to be normal by medical authorities.

QM 128 babies under one year who died in Saskatoon in 1946, 16 were victims of enteritis.

In New Brunswick 180 babies died from the disease last year. This was eight per cent of infant deaths.

No Other Dominion Approaches Canada In Gifts to Britain

By JAMES McCOOK
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 14 (CP)—No other Dominion has contributed Canada in the value of gifts to the United Kingdom, says economic mutual aid and the writing off of debts, it was shown in a Commons return today. War Office Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Dalton said mutual aid from Canada amounted to $1,045,000,000, and from April 1, 1945, was equivalent of £150,000,000. There was no separate figure for the period from 1939 to 1945.

Under a financial agreement signed in Ottawa on Feb. 6, 1946, the Canadian government agreed to advance $1,250,000,000 to Britain, which the minister said was the equivalent of £ 96,000,000, owing to the fluctuation in the rate of exchange.

On March 5, 1947, the Australian government announced a gift of £ 25,000,000 (Australian), which the Chancellor said was equivalent to £20,000,000 (British), as a contribution to the war cost incurred by Britain in and around the Pacific. The sum had not been paid, but would be applied to the redemption of debt by Britain.

The New Zealand government on March 5 announced a gift of £ 12,500,000 (New Zealand), equivalent to £10,000,000 (British).

This New Zealand gift, paid on March 28, is being applied to the redemption of debt.

South African residents contributed £ 11,100,000 (British) as a gift to the United Kingdom.

SOIL FERTILITY AN D HUMAN HEALTH

In his Melton lecture in 1921 Sir McCarrison, who had served for years as medical officer to the Gilgit Agency in the Himalayas north of Kashmir in India stated that during the period of his association with the people of the Hunza Valley he had never seen a case of asthenic dyspepsia gastric, or duodenal ulcer, appendicitis, mucous colitis or cancer.

Among these people, said McCarrison, "the abdomen, oversensitive to nerve impressions, to fatigue, anxiety or cold was unknown. Indeed their buoyant abdominal health has, since my return to the West, provided a remarkable contrast with the dyspeptic and colonic lamentations of our highly civilized communities."

Now there's a phrase that covers a lot of nice business for physicians, pharmacists, highly-styled foot specialists, dietotherapists, internal bath artists and colonic lamentations—boy, oh, boy, it is lucrative.

The remarkable fine health of these people is one of the consequences of their fine nutrition. In which the law of return is scrupulously observed, as Sir Albert Howard points out in his book The Soil and Health, (Devin Adair Co., New York). All their vegetable, animal and human wastes are returned directed to the soil of the irrigated terraces which produce the grain, fruit and vegetables which feed them. Moreover the glacier water that irrigates the terraces brings silt and this constantly replaces mineral constituents of the soil.

In recent years prize winning vegetables and fruit and other flowers have been grown in soil fertilized only with activated sludge compost (not raw sewage.) Numerous practical experts in England, Scotland, Australia and other parts of the world have pointed out the folly of the present practice of the refuse of urban communities, expensive to incinerate, may be processed by sewage plants to the finest kind of manure, along with the sterile sewage sludge, without any risk to health.

Crushed organic refuse (paper, rags, bones, cardboard, weeds, leaves hedge clippings) is laid out in beds and mixed in proper measured quantities of sludge. These beds are turned over for three months, two days of that time a temperature of about 170 degrees F. is reached, proved in the beds—high enough to destroy disease germs (in Pasteurizing milk only 145 to 150 degrees for 20 to 30 minutes is sufficient to destroy disease germs). The mixture is turned over a second time to allow evaporation of the moisture leaving a fine compost in which erosbic digestion takes place—this is fatal to disease germs but favorable to the bacteria that are so beneficial in soil. Then after two weeks fresh sludge is added and process repeated. Thus is produced a manure rich in nitrogen, phosphates, potash and lime. (Not that I know anything about this —Im drawing on a most instructive and entertaining book by Reginald Reynolds—"Cleanliness and Godliness," Doubleday and Co., New York, '46).

Getting back to my proper province, I believe nutritional deficiency or malnutrition is the fundamental health part of everyday health impairments of all classes of Americans the wellto-do as well as the poor. In a feeble way we can try to combat malnutrition by supplementing the diet with vitamins and minerals, but Howard with his The Soil and Health, and W. J. Rodale of Emmaus Pa., with his magazine Organic Gardening and many other authorities on agriculture show pretty convincingly that nutritional deficiency is fundamental and that we return all waste—anima and vegetable and human to the soil.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

You're Asking Me?

You constantly attack Mr. Fishbein and his A.M.A. yet you advocate the use of cereal and bread "enriching" and many other authorities on agriculture show pretty convincingly that nutritional deficiency is fundamental and that we return all waste—anima vegetable and human to the soil.

(E.C.)

Answer—I'm against Fishbein and all the wishy-washy members of the A.M.A. who kowtow to the Milk Fund Fishbein—I'm against that if is pasteurized. Heated milk in just one little thing—I have never "attacked" Fishbein—I have merely defended myself when I have been attacked me in the so-called editorials which appear in the medical weekly. If my health column were out of Fishbein's way everything would be just lovely between us.

Vicar Again Finds Self in Hot Water

Needham Market, England, May 13 (Reuters)—The Rev. Harold Thomas, a Vicar in this Suffolk region who advocated mixed in view of the manpower shortage "the stigma be removed from responsible unmarried women having babies, is in hot water again.

This time with the War Office special investigation branch.

The statements on which babies caused an uproar, and later he withdrew his remarks.

A secret marriage ceremony which he performed between a local girl and a former member of the German Wehrmacht, now a prisoner of war, is the cause of the War Office inquiry.

British girls who contract marriages with German prisoners of war can be deported to Germany when their husbands are repatriated for when a Briton married a German girl she automatically takes his nationality and becomes an alien.

Wraith-Like Patients Like Men and Women Found in Buchenwald

Solingen, Germany, May 14 (AP) — Human figures as emaciated as those of Buchenwald prisoners lie shed in the municipal hospital here among the hospitals of other Ruhr cities. These wraith-like patients are mostly old men who sadly have collapsed from meagre food rations.

Allied reporters visiting the Solingen hospital saw German men with arms and legs like sticks. Their faces, white as the bedclothes they lay upon, were haggard and wrinkled. Their expressions ranged from blankness to bewilderment.

Commons Discusses Wide Range Of Subjects in Budget Debate

By GEORGE HITCHEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, May 14 (CP) — The Commons budget debate droned into its second week today after a sitting in which it swung from the field of finance to Dominion-Provincial relations and from Maritime economic to co-operatives.

Highlighting the House opening was an announcement by Trade Minister MacKinnon that western wheat growers again this year will be allowed a special income tax concession in connection with deliveries. They may deliver between May 15 and June 30 and take cash settlement at their option in 1947, 1948 or 1949.

Finance Minister Abbott told the chamber the new taxation agreement with Nova Scotia contained nothing which had not been offered to other provinces which signed agreements with the Dominion.

The House approved a bill granting interim supply of $101,000,000 to allow the government to meet its payroll and other obligations between now and the time the estimates are finally approved.

The Senate gave final reading to minor bills amending the war charities act and the act incorporating the Canadian Council of the Girl Guides Association. These measures now go to the Commons.

Criticizes Criticisers

In the budget debate Joseph Bradette (L—Cochrane) charged taxes would be much higher than they now are if the government had listened to the Progressive Conservative party during the war. To this blast he added criticism of the stands taken by Ontario and Quebec in the field of Dominion-Provincial relations.

Mr. Bradette said that during the war the Progressive Conservative party had brought up "crisis after crisis" in the Commons.

"Those were the days when the government sitting on the treasury benches, told the opposition that Canada was making a magnificent effort in her war departments, and that all her population, whether they were in the armed forces, or in civilian occupations were playing a full part," said Mr. Bradette."

The Progressive Conservatives wanted "millions more men in uniform," he said. "They were telling the Commons that this country was not going far enough in its war effort."

"What would have happened if we had listened to them? What would have happened if we had had a national government . . . ? Taxation would have trebled—it would be three times what it is today. We cannot get away from those facts."

Mr. Bradette said President Duplessis was interfering constitutions of language and religion in the Dominion-Provincial matters and that Premier Drew was blowing "hot and cold" in statements on relations with the Federal government.

Walter S. MacNicol (PC—Toronto Davenport) called for Federal action to improve the economy of the Maritime Provinces, urging the expansion of electricit output and of rural electrification, elimination of "bottlenecks" which impeded trade between the Maritimes and the rest of Canada and development of primary and secondary industries.

T. J. Bentley (CCF—Swift Current) said present taxation measures applying to co-operative enterprises, introduced in last year's budget, were "unjust" and called upon the government to give passage to a Canadian Co-operatives Act.

Speaks For Mining Industry

Alan Cockeram (PC—York South) criticized the government for its revaluation of the Canadian dollar last July, and said this had "virtually placed" the Canadian economy under the domination of the United States. The policy would be continued much longer, put many marginal gold mines out of business.

A side debate on patents was touched off by a private bill, sponsored by W. N. Sinclair (L—Ontario) and piloted by David Croll (L—Toronto, Spadina), which would extend the life of patents held by the Toronto —Type Foundry Co. The measure already has been approved by the Senate.

Mr. Croll said the company was seeking a six-year extension of eight patents on the ground that wartime shortages of labor and material had prevented it making any use of them. Similar extensions had been granted by the British parliament.

F. E. Hamilton (CCF—Kindersley) argued that passage of the bill would open the way for other companies to seek similar rights and moved that the measure be given a six-months' hoist.

State Secretary Gibson also entered the debate, saying that British patent laws differed from those of Canada and that it was not Canadian or American policy to extend the life of patents.

The time of the House devoted to private legislation expired before action would be taken on the bill, up for second reading, and on Mr. Jaenicke's motion for a hoist.

Remanded on Murder Charge — George Rowe, 25, of Shedden, near St. Thomas is led from his cell by Det.-Sergt. Milligan of the Provincial Police to be charged with whiskey-bottle slaying of John W. Nidd, North Bay accountant.

GERMAN FOOD

Earlier Col. Hugh B. Hester, United States food chief in Germany, announced that the largest food shipments dispatched since the end of the war was already in German ports or on its way, and there was no need for panic.

Hester said between 430,000 and 450,000 tons of grain were expected and the arrival of similar quantities in June and July would restore the food situation so that the normal bread ration could be met.

"There is a food shortage and the people are hungry but they are not dying from starvation," he said. Reports from Austria, where situation was similar to that in Germany, already indicated an improvement, he added.

WIDE-OPEN FIGHT

liam Benidickson, John J. Robinette, Don Lewis, Harry S. Hampton, William Gunn and Alvin Peter Cadesu.

Mr. Campbell, former minister of Public Works in the Hepburn government, has a long political career behind him. Mr. Lamport is an alderman in the City of Toronto, and a former member of the legislature, while St. Clair Gordon was former Liquor Commissioner for the province.

Mr. Gunn is a former party organizer and once stood for election to the Federal House in Toronto. Mr. Lewis, former mayor of Brockville, is believed to have the active support of Eastern Ontario delegates and Mr. Hamilton of Sault Ste. Marie is a former Federal member of Parliament who also has strong backing.

Liberal member of Parliament for Kenora-Rainy River, Mr. Benidickson is said to be considering dropping out of the race, while Mr. Robinette, a prominent Toronto lawyer, has made little comment on the probability of his standing for the position.

The latest bat in the ring now longs to Mr. Cadesu who said in Hamilton yesterday he would definitely not stand for the party leadership. The 35-year-old corporation executive is organizer of the Ontario Young Liberal Association.

This is the second time in four years that Ontario Liberals are meeting to choose a successor to Mitchell Hepburn. After Mr. Hepburn's sudden resignation as premier and party leader in 1942, Mr. Nixon was picked for the job. He resigned in 1944 and Mr. Hepburn was again chosen as House leader.

On the eve of the 1945 election, Mr. Hepburn was named "party boss" but when the Drew administration won the election and Mr. Hepburn lost his own Elgin riding seat, he again gave up the leadership.

WEDDINGS

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mrs. E. R. Wheeler announces the engagement of her youngest daughter, Eida Lorene, to Carman Orville son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Robb, Belleville, marriage to take place in June.

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Lundberg wish to announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Gwendolyn Ann, to Donald H. Solmpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, of Mountain View. The wedding will take place June 7, 1947.

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holden, West Huntingdon, wish to announce the engagement of their second daughter, Audrey Lois, to Elvin Richard, son of Mrs. Jenny Maxwell and the late Mr. Maxwell of Moira, Ont. The wedding will take place on June 7th.

Mrs. Louise Littler is confined to her home on Harriet St. through illness.

Mrs. B. Doolittle, Everett St., has received news of the death of her sister, Mrs. Archie Wall, of Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Harry Sine has returned home after spending six weeks in Regina, Sask., visiting her mother, Mrs. A. McCullough.

WOOLER—PALLEY

(Special.)—Of far-reaching interest was the wedding solemnized in Grace Presbyterian Church, Calgary, on Saturday, April 26, at high noon, when Magdalene Laura Palley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beverley Palley, Calgary, pledged marriage vows with Major Charles Frederick Way, R.C.O.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Way, of Wooler, Ont. . . . Rev. Dr. F. S. Morley read the marriage service before an altar banked with Easter lilies and white snapdragons, reflected in the glow of lighted tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in a model of heavy eggshell satin which had been worn by the groom's mother on the latter's wedding day. Styled with a pannlered skirt, caught in front with a pearl trellet, it was given featured trimming of Valenciennse lace on the wide bertha collar and aged pearls outlined the long fitted sleeves and neckline. . . . Her veil of illusion net, which had also been worn by the groom's mother, was caught in place with a cluster of traditional orange blossoms and a shower bouquet of the same flowers completed her attire.

Miss Mary Palley was her sister's bridesmaid, attired in a formal frock of ice blue taffeta complemented by a matching corset of Talisman roses with matching flowers completing her Colonial bouquet.

A long frock of yellow net was worn by Beverley Polley, young niece of the bride, who was flower girl. . . . Her floral headdress was of pink roses and blue-tinted cornflowers and she carried a nosegay of matching blossoms.

Mr. George Dunaway of Edmonton, attended the groom and the guests were ushered by William Moore, cousin of the bride, and Norman Lacey. Miss Jean Garrett played the wedding music.

Following the service a reception was held at the Palliser Hotel, where the bride's table was centred with a tiered wedding cake, flanked by bouquets of Spring flowers and lighted tapers.

Receiving with the bridal party, Mrs. Polley chose a black afternoon frock accented with insertion of net and worn with a large black hat trimmed with pink roses. Pink roses fogned her corsage.

Mr. A. C. Moore, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast to the niece, to which the groom responded.

Major and Mrs. Way left later in the day by plane for a wedding trip to Vancouver, Seattle and will take up residence in Regina, where the groom is stationed.

For travelling the bride changed to a navy blue cutaway suit worn beneath a gray topcoat and completed with navy blue accessories and a mink choker, a gift from the groom.

Canadian Unity is Theme Of Informative Address Given To Women's Canadian Club

L'Abbe A. Maheaux Stresses Individual Agreement As Stepping Stone To Unity

"If we, you and I come to think that we agree personally on one principal for public action, I think we have made a long stride toward a better union between our two groups, and toward national unity," were the challenging words of Mosgieur L'Abbe' Arthur Maheaux, when he addressed a large audience in the auditorium of the B.C.I.V.S., Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Women's Canadian Club.

Introducing L'Abbe', Rev. J. G. Sparling said in part: "We have a distinguished visitor in Belleville tonight, one whose ancestors reached Canada, prior to 1640; one who places agreement above authority. He was born in a small village in the Province of Quebec, and secured his education at Laval University and in Paris, France. He has been a lecturer at Laval on several different subjects, but letter than that he has been an ambassador of goodwill to knit together two Canadian cultures; the culture of the French-speaking people with that of the English-speaking people of Canada."

Monsieur L'Abbe' apologized for his "not so fluent" ure of the English language, saying that he found a great difficuly in addressing an audience in English. Referring to his visit here, L'Abbe' said that when a small boy the name "Belleville" was associated in his mind with letters which came from an older brother, who was at one time a C.P.R. agent here. Now the name will always have a personal meaning because of the kind hospitality extended to him here.

"Fundamentally", continued the speaker, "my study is Canadian Unity. If it is a problem, it is one with many sides, race, culture, democracy, religion, politics, war. . . We treat with one part only.

During his winter leisure for meditation he came upon the problem of authority, which is an important factor in national unity. "If in Canada we agreed upon authority," said L'Abbe', "it would be a great thing, for many nations have no agreement about authority. But we Canadians hope to soon become one nation,—an organized body, which means order. When there is no order, there are no rules; no rules mean no laws, and no laws mean no authority. In many European countries are anarchists trying to overthrow authority. In others there has been too much authority, which means tyranny. Between these extremes is what we call democracy, in either a republic or in a monarchy.

"In Canada, among French-speaking people, there is no anarchist; and there is no idea of dispensing with authority. Even on the farthest frontiers we are very respectful of authority.

Denies Facism in Quebec

"Some people say facism is rampant in Province province. I say, "No". But there they are not republicans . . . the province never have been, because French people were reared in the traditions of a monarchy. In 1619, Champlain, as Governor of French Frontenac, as Governor of French Canada, when speaking to the soldiers from Boston who came to take Quebec City, said "I'll your ambassadors you are nothing more than republicans. French Canadians are monarchists and like the idea of a King symbolizing authority. This has been inherited through a long tradition of Kings in France, who though absolute, were not tyrants."

Relative to British rule in Canada, the speaker continued: "In 1763 when British troops entered Quebec and Montreal, French Canadians transferred their loyalty to the British King and accepted British institutions.

Moral philosophy is taught in secondary high schools, and in colleges there is a special section devoted to the study of government and authority, teaching, first, that God is the sole Source of authority, and secondly, that the best form of government is a monarchy, both in theory and in practice, but in practice the history and customs of the nation and the people must be considered. The quest of a government for British subjects becomes a quest for a universal society of nations as the highest form of government. In Quebec this same doctrine is taught in the parish homes, by teachers in schools and by priests in pulpits.

Monsieur L'Abbe' read quotations from the letters of cardinals and bishops to the people in their respective parishes, urging them to esteem and appreciate British rule and to be loyal to British sovereigns. "Years later, covered a period of more than 1763 to the coronation of His Majesty George VI, each one occasion of war or victory, of the loss of one ruler and the ascendency of another calling forth exhortations of loyalty. In them he found a significant expression of traditional loyalty to the Kings of England and to the representatives in Canada.

"We again find the speaker, "about authority and the British form of government with the King as a symbol of authority, i. there fore, consider that this is the beginning of a national unity. There is no better sentiment for putting together various races, or bricks, to make a national building. Therefore if we, you and I, come to think that we agree perfectly in even one principle for public action, I think we have made a long stride toward a better union between our two groups, and toward national unity."

Mr. Frank Cushing, on behalf of the audience, expressed appreciation for a very interesting and enlightening address.

Mrs. May reminded the Canadian Club members of the clothing campaign this week, and announced the annual meeting to be held soon in St. Andrew's Church school assembly room, with an afternoon tea and shower of gifts for French relief at four o'clock.

Women's Activities

CANNIFTON W.M.S.

The meeting of the Canniffon United Church W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Preston, with the President, Mrs. J. Willaus in charge. The meeting opened with the closing hymn followed by reading of a poem and prayer.

During the business meeting Mrs. Anderson reported concerning the Presbytery dinner and the results of which were very satisfactory.

The program in charge of Mrs. Bradshaw's group, included a solo "The Little Old Church in the Valley" by Mrs. Furmidge. The last chapter of the Study Book on "The Church in India" was presented by Mrs. H. Whitfield, assisted by Mrs. Holgate, Mrs. J. Howard, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Rhubin and Mrs. Bradshaw.

Following the benediction, refreshments were served and thanks extended to the hostess for her hospitality.

Flocking Good Looks Out of the Air

One of the advantages of modern dress and the modern foundation garment that includes support without compression, is that they permit free breathing. Four hundred years ago women were waistbound; this resulted in what was known as the upper lung habit. The movements of the upper part of the chest were accented, the breasts rising and falling each respiration.

With men and children, breathing was different. "They breathe naturally, diaphragmatically, from the lower part of the chest. The air is drawn into the lower cells of the lungs.

Many women who wore tight stays in their youth still do not breathe properly. It has been recorded that female impersonators of the past, who wore corsets during their stage appearances, developed thoracic breathing. Natura breathing was impossible. The result was impaired health.

Suppose you find out, my friend, just what kind of a breather you are. Place a tape measure under your arms; let it meet. Take a long, deep inhalation, pulling the air way down into your lungs. You should be able to add two more inches one way, and three are better. Ten minutes of breathing exercises each day will bring coloring to the complexion and will aid digestive processes.

Proper breathing is necessary to maintain the elasticity of the lung tissues. It is only when the chest expands that thorough ventilation of the lungs take place. A full supply of oxygen forces out stagnant residual air, cleanses the cells of respiratory excretions. The lungs act as an avenue of elimination, carrying away impurities of which the body should be cleansed. Some of our demon housekeepers will are everlastingly sweeping, dusting and cleaning, but who a shallow breathers, should u some of their cleaning efforts i the bellows inside their chest They would look better and fe better.

Respiratory exercises often help to correct poor posture

Respiratory exercises off help to correct round shoulde and poor posture. When the c goes flowing into the deep lung cells, the chest lifts, the a domen is drawn in, the spi column is extended full length

A narrow chest, showing lit shelves formed by the col bones, is often the penalty o pays for faulty breathing.

It is possible to indulge breathing exercises at any ti but they are most beneficial wh taken in the open air. W briskly take a deep inhalati with a certain number of ste exhale for just as many.

As respiratory movements a retarded somewhat during sle it is wise to take half a do deep breaths when awakenin That practice will help you st the day right and will impro your complexion.

Rhinestones for Gems

By PRUNELLA WOOD

All that glitters is not only not gold; it often isn't rhinestones either. These handsome pieces of jewelry, designed to set off formal evening costumes, are set with rhinestones, and it would take an expert, peering rudely close, to tell them from the real thing. Now a bit of fantastic art or brilliant design has been achieved. Just because the "gems" are phoney. At that, there is quality in rhinestones, too, and these are of the best, with faceted sparkle very flattering to the lucky owner.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

How to Conduct a Courtship

A young man of twenty writes to ask for suggestions on how to go about courting a girl.

Not just any girl, of course, but someone he knew in childhood, and then didn't see for awhile. Now he'd meet her again, he decided she was the one for him.

"I have been out with her a few times," he says, "and have had a wonderful time. I have told her of my love for her, but she tells me she is not in love with me or anybody else, and that I shouldn't be in love with her because, she doesn't wish to hurt me. I am very jealous, and it hurts me to find out that she goes out with another guy."

Then he concludes with the immediate problem:

"Can you tell me the ways to win a girl? I am not very good at it, even though I had had girls tell me that they were fond of me."

It would have been better, of course, if this young man had mapped out his courtship a little earlier in the game, and then carried out his plan for a reasonable length of time before asking the fatal question. Instead, he has made the mistake that so many over-hasty lovers make, and tried to get the girl to say yes before giving her any real chance to know him sufficiently to be able to tell whether she wants him or not.

No girl worth getting will allow herself to be rushed into an engagement. She wants to know a lot about a man before she agrees to join forces with him in marriage. Instead of being upset because this young woman is level-headed enough to want to "make haste slowly," our lad should be very well pleased to find her so poised and wise.

Moreover, he has no right to be hurt because she goes out with other men. She has made it quite clear, that she isn't in love with anybody, which is equivalent to pointing out that she is therefore entitled to see as much as many men as she pleases. She has even been so honest as to try and warn him off, in an effort to keep him from being tripped up by his own impulsiveness.

All of this is to the good, if this young man will only be smart enough to profit by it, and clever enough to restrain his eagerness. He apparently does realize, now, that he will have to back up and start all over again. And my advice to him is to behave as though he had never yet told her he loved her, and to really begin at the beginning of a courtship.

He shouldn't remind her of anything he has already said. Let it alone for awhile. Instead, he should adopt military tactics and carry on a "softening-up" process before attempting to go boldly in and capture her heart. Such a "softening-up" process consists of the things he speaks of in his letter as "ways to win a girl". Among these would be all those attentions which have become traditional—gifts of flowers, candy, books and other appropriate things; telephone calls, which wouldn't be long and bored attempts to keep her talking as long as possible, but short and snappy ones to ask how she's doing; invitations to do interesting things, not just to spend an evening in his company; nice little attentions to her mother now and then, to get her on his side and to show the girl he's thoughtful. Such things make his feelings perfectly evident without his saying a word till the right moment comes.

Above all, he shouldn't show jealousy of her other suitors. That gives a girl a bad impression of a man and makes her feel he might be a person whose jealousy would carry over into and ruin a marriage. Let him be sportsmanlike about other men, realizing that they have just the same right as he has to try to win the girl of their choice.

A player in the game of love should follow the same rules he'd observe in playing any other game: Try as hard as you can to win, but always play fair and if you lose, take it with good grace.

The Experts Say . . .

By KAY REX
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa (CP)—Picture a rhubarb pie, warm from the oven, with a fluffy, topping of whipped cream—It's enough to make anybody's mouth water. And now this luxurious dessert is a possibility on nearly every dinner-menu—rhubarb is in season, and whipping cream is back on sale again.

If you're looking for a new recipe why not try a spiced rhubarb pie. Line a deep pie dish with raw pastry and add the chopped rhubarb which has been mixed with one cup of sugar, two dessert-spoons of flour(or one of quick tapioca), one egg beaten, and two tablespoons of cream. Grate nutmeg over all. Bake in rather a quick oven at first, then reduce heat.

Home economists of the consumer section, department of agriculture, have come up with an ideal method of combining rhubarb and whipped cream into a brand-new dessert.

Rhubarb Fool — Three cups cut rhubarb, 1 cup (each) water; one-half cup of sugar; one cup whipping cream.

Blanch rhubarb in boiling water for five minutes, drain and cook until tender add sugar. Cover and let cool. Chill cream. Whip until stiff and fold in rhubarb sauce. Pour into serving dish and chill. Serves six.

Giving a party this month? Be sure to remember that the pink carnation is the flower for June. A centre-piece of carnations with tall, pink candles makes a delightful table decoration. And in the food line pink and yellow cakes would carry 'out the color scheme.

It's About Time . . .

By DOLORES ROLAND

IT'S ABOUT TIME to pick up remnants of handkerchief linen in various colors, to make attractive special gifts for friends' birthdays. Deck each handkerchief with large block initials or name cut from contrasting colors of linen. Applique right across centre.

Pudding Powder Cookies —Ingredients: three quarters of a cup of shortening; one cup oatmeal; one cup flour; one egg; one package butterscotch pudding powder; 1 1-2 teaspoon sugar; one-quarter teaspoons baking soda; one teaspoon baking powder; one-half teaspoon salt.

Mix in balls and press with fork. Bake in a moderate oven. Either chocolate, butterscotch or vanilla pudding powder may be used.

Every woman has at least one recipe about which her friends say "It's the best I've tasted." Here is a recipe for bouillion which will tickle the fancy of the gourmets in your family.

Ingredients: 3 1-2 pounds of chopped beef; 2 1-2 quarts water; one onion; one carrot; one stalk celery; two stalks celery; one half-bay leaf; two cloves; six pepper-corns; one teaspoon salt.

Put beef in sauce pan with water and let stand two hours. Place on fire and simmer—but do not boil—for three hours. Strain well. Chop the onion, carrot, parsley, celery and add to the simmering stock, with the bay leaf, pepper, cloves and salt. Strain into bowl and let stand overnight. Skim off fat to clarify.

MONOGRAM STAPLES MAKE SOCK-SET HIT

New York (C)—Some embroidery cotton and gilt paper staples are all a "teen-ager needs to achieve a smart, up-to-the-minute look if New York 'teen-agers are any example.

Embroidered initials and monograms on blouse collars, pockets and the cuffs of socks look especially smart. Girls who want an extra dash wear their initials down the sides of their socks, Chinese fashion.

The paper staples are a fine gift for fancy knits that have been around quite a while and stuck through the leather an any design the wearer fancies.

Amazing Soapless VEL
cleans better, washes faster

VEL gives water amazing new cleaning power—makes it penetrate, lift out dirt, cut grease fast

VEL dissolves instantly, completely, even when you add cool, hard water.

One big advantage is that VEL's light, foamy suds disappear quickly . . . the water stays clear. You see what you wash. No heavy clinging suds.

No gummy soap film to cloud glasses, nylons, silks, etc.

VEL contains no harsh, soapy alkalis, works well without hot water, so hands don't get red and sore.

You need very little VEL for most jobs. One or two tablespoonsful is enough to make glasses sparkle, cut grease from dishes. No need to add more when suds disappear for VEL cleans without suds.

VEL WORKS MIRACLES

Eliminates sticky suds — soapy film

Leaves glasses sparkling clean: Keeps silks, nylons brighter, sheerer — Woolens softer, fluffier — clothes snowy-white.

Save time and wash cleaner by soaking heavily-soiled laundry in a VEL solution for a little while before washing. To remove deep-down, grimy dirt, sprinkle in a little dry VEL, then rub gently. 2705

BRITISH HUSBANDS SEE THEIR RUSSIAN WIVES . . . IN THE MOVIES

These Englishmen who married Russian women while serving in Russia during the war and who were deported from Russia without their wives, saw them in a newsreel pre-view in London recently. Alfred Hall (circle), got the biggest thrill when he saw his six-month-old son move for the first time. The British government is trying to arrange permission for the Russian wives to leave Russia—so far without success. The Russians will not permit the husbands to join their wives in the U.S.S.R.

ONE SECON IN FIVE-YEAR-PLAN

This woman welder is one the workers charged with the job of constructing a giant tractor plant in Byelorussia as part of Stalin's new "five-year-plan." Building workers were conscripted from the various republics of the U.S.S.R. This woman was trained in a Kiev factory. The first tractors must turned out in 1949 . . . That's a "must."

MR. ATTLEE PULLS A NIFTY

It is tantalizing to miss a good joke, one that can arouse the risibilities to the point of forgetting dignity, as this one did in Lady Meegan Lloyd-George. Apparently the jokester was Prime Minister Clement Attlee, who has all the earmarks of a raconteur who has scored. All this frivolity was at a meeting of the United Nations' Association at historic 10 Downing Street. Lady Lloyd-George is the daughter of the Prime Minister of World War I, David Lloyd George.

INTRODUCING NEW RADAR DEVICE

GALLOPING NEWCOMER — Winner of $9,000 during the Florida winter season, Fate Case will be seen in action around these parts for the first time at the coming Ontario Jockey Club meeting at Woodbine. Here, Jockey John Bey gallops the entry of Sam Agro of Hamilton over the Woodbine strip in a workout.

ESCAPE DEATH IN OSHAWA, ONT., COLLISION

Passing motorists pried the doors off this car to free three men trapped inside when it turned over near Oshawa, Ont. The other car involved in the collision is in the background. The three occupants of the overturned vehicle escaped with minor cuts about their hands and heads, when the interior was showered with flying glass.

MURDER CLIMAXES SHEDDEN, ONT., PARTY

JOHN W. NIDD — GEORGE ROWE

John Nidd, 30, of North Bayint., employed as a bookkeeper in St. Thomas, Ont., died violent in the back seat of an auto in Shedden, Ont., Provincial Policeid he was bludgeoned to death. George Rowe, a native of Winds Ont., who has lived most of his life in St. Thomas, Ont., was charg with the murder of Nidd after police heard a statement of Ro's wife, Mary Greeley, that the trouble started when she complied she had been molested. Nidd met death in the closing hours on old-time fiddler's dance held to honor the 82nd birthday of Asa Bten, father of Mrs. Greeley Rowe.

STAR GETS FORTUNE SHE EARNED

Former Child Movie Star Jane Withers is shown with her mother, Mrs. Ruth Withers, as she signed papers in Los Angeles giving her control of her own property and investments totalling $385,000. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Withers had been holding the property deed for Jane while she was a minor. She has just become 21.

AS REFUSE BURNS IN LONDON STREETS

The smell of burning refuse was too much for these young ladies as they passed through Leadenhall Market in London. The refuse accumulated during the 100-day strike of more than 1,000 corporation workers.

Shown here is the home of AsBerden of Shedden, Ont., where the fatality occurred during a celebtion party in honor of Berden's 82nd birthday.

It is two years since Germany capitulated, when almost all installations necessary for a civilized life were destroyed, and it will be many more years before they are rebuilt. Of greatest importance is the reconstruction of the bridges over the River Main, so that food and products can have easy access to the cities, and the populace instead of ferrying to work, can easily walk across the bridges. Many of them are being rebuilt with the aid of the occupation forces. Some just replaced by temporary means. The "Eiserne Steg," a foot bridge over the Main at Frankfurt, was recently rebuilt. In the above photos on top is the way the bridge looked after the Allied bombers got through with it—while below, the bridge now rebuilt, is inaugurated by the first group to cross it. In the lead, holding his hat, is the mayor o. Frankfurt, Walter Kolb.

YESTERDAY AND TODAY
MARTHA RAYE

That time-worn expression about vaudevillians being born in a trunk is not far from the truth in the case of Martha Raye, the little girl with the big (and famous) mouth. She first saw the Klieg lights from a dressing room in Butte, Mont., where her parents were playing a vaudeville engagement. The year was about 1917. From the age of 3 on, Martha, as well as her younger brother, became part of the family act, did her teens Martha sang and did comedy with Paul Ash's orchestra; was in Earl Carroll's "Sketch Book," and Lew Brown's "Calling All Stars," besides being a featured night club entertainer. In 1936 she was singing in a Hollywood night spot when Movie Director Norman Taurog decided her blatant voice and talent for comedy would provide a perfect foil for Bazooka Raying Bob Burns. So the two were teamed in "Rhythm on the Range," and Martha clicked so well that the studio began writing special roles for her. Martha's real name is Marjorie Yvonne Reed. She went overseas to entertain U.S. troops during the war and made numerous appearances at local camps. Thrice wed, Martha eloped first with Hamilton Buddy Westmore, a Hollywood make-up artist, in 1937. Her second husband was Composer Dave Rose. By her third mate, Neal Lang, Mike Raye had a daughter, born in June, 1944.

FIRES DON'T BOTHER THIS NONGENARIAN

Mrs. Frances Suzanna Wardle, 90, has arrived in Canada to see her four sons and numerous grandsons, and also to be made an honorary member of the Hamilton, Ont., fire department. Mrs. Wardle stated on her arrival in Quebec from England that she was going to see Hamilton "afire." This served as an excuse for Acting Deputy Chief Chris Boyle to swear in to his department, Mrs. Wardle and six sons and a daughter in Canada. She is shown in her new capacity as fireman, standing on the fire truck waiting for the first alarm.

Great Tightening of Money Expected as Sterling Becomes Hard as Dollar on July 15

By STINNET GAMPBELL

London, May 14.—(Reuters)— The world seems bound to have one of the most frightening of the many in its history, perhaps the greatest ever, by July 15, when Britain must make "current commodities" current sterling earnings freely convertible into other currencies.

Sterling which, for most countries has been an easy currency, must by then become as hard as the dollar, for the most countries, is an extremely hard currency.

By July 15 sterling must become virtually inter-changeable with dollars. Any sterling which can be spent anywhere must be spendable everywhere, in the dollar area equally with the sterling area.

Britain will live up to her obligation; she has already done it in advance. The only way of let in advance. The only way of doing it is to make spendable sterling as scarce as dollars. Almost the whole of the accumulated sterling balances, most of £3,000,000,000 ($12,000,000,000) which have been freely spendable on anything obtainable in the sterling area (about half the total world) will then be no longer available for spending anywhere. The exception, as may be agreed, is repatriation of British-owned assets in the creditor countries.

This epoch-making change may reasonably be expected to affect every market and every trade in the world. Neither Britain nor sterling is likely to be alone. But there is growing opinion here that some markets may.

The period between next week and July 15? It looks like a conflict between opposing currency policies may cause erratic markets.

On the one hand, some people will trust sterling as hard currency in advance. Britain has already made the great change for all sterling which is spendable by anyone in North America, Central America, Argentina, Belgium, Holland, Portugal and Italy.

On the other hand, the question arises whether countries for which sterling is still soft, notably India and the countries of the Middle East, will try to beat the gun by spending their sterling balances in the sterling area during the few weeks left before July 15.

London Paper Advises Barbara To Keep Car

London, May 14 — (CP) — The London Star's gossip column, commenting on Barbara Ann Scott's decision to return to the city of Ottawa a gift automobile which threatened her amateur status advised: "Dry those tears, Miss Scott, and take the pretty car."

(The 18-year-old world figure skating champion wept briefly in Ottawa Monday when she returned the car to Mayor Stanley Lewis.)

The Star quoted H. J. Clarke, president of the International Skating Union, as describing the affair as "a storm in a teacup."

"The union would give a ruling if the case came before it at the next annual meeting but I think it most unlikely that any grave exception would be taken to Miss Scott's acceptance of a civic gift in recognition of her prowess," the paper quoted Clarke as saying.

TWO ROBBERS ARE 'NEXT'

New York, May 14 — (AP) — Dr. Henry Cerully called out "Who's next!" and in walked two robbers who extracted $150 and some dental gold from the dentist.

German Railways Make Recovery

By GUY BETTANT

Wiesbaden, Germany, May 14— (Reuters) — The railways in the American and British zones of Germany have made a remarkable recovery from their deplorable condition at the time of the surrender, although they are still suffering under great handicaps.

The recovery is due no less to the determination of the German railway staffs than to the inspiration and guidance of American and British railway officials, responsible for this side of the country's reconstruction.

No less than 2,125 miles of track were destroyed out of a total of 13,500 miles in the British and American zones. In addition, 3,241 railway bridges were blown up and 1,600 signal boxes destroyed or damaged. Nearly 1,000 signals on running lines and 15,000 - 000 cubic metres of railway buildings were smashed by bombs.

Great progress has been made with the repair of the railway bridges. Several of the big bridges over the Rhine, the Main, and the Weser have already been reopened although in some cases they have only single tracks.

About 2,000 of the 4,000 destroyed or damaged locomotive sheds have been repaired. Locomotives and freight cars suffered tremendously with 7,500 steam locomotives out of a total of 13,000 still in a damaged state and 90,000 of 200,000 box cars out of commission.

The locomotive shops are struggling with the almost impossible task of keeping a minimum of engines in service. In the two zones about 2,000 trains come to a standstill every week owing to the locomotives being unable to maintain steam through bad coal and other defects.

Older Russians Disillusioned Over Red Regime

Soviet Russia is striving desperately to repair the enormous damages of war. Here, Reed Munro describes the effort as he saw it during a month-long visit to Moscow.

By ROSS MUNRO
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 14 — (CP) — The Soviet Union is making a desperate drive to recoup her vast war losses and by three post-war five-year plans, she hopes to achieve American industrial standards of production. The pace is tremendous and inevitably difficulties are appearing.

Among the younger workers there is high enthusiasm. They see in putting everything they have into the job and striving with almost religious fervor to achieve the goal of a completely Communist state.

Discontent Developing

But several foreign diplomats in Moscow who know Russia well and with whom I had long talks during a month there say discontent is developing among workers past 35 years of age. Some Russians hinted obliquely at the same conclusion.

The older people, many of whom took part in the 1917 revolution, thought they were sharing in the building of a new country and a classless state. After years of slavish labor the promised blessings of socialism haven't generally appeared. These people have gradually become disillusioned at the fading prospects of a better life under a Communist regime.

See Privilege Growing Above Them

It is hard to convince them now that another five or 10 years of heart-breaking work will bring the goal nearer. They see privilege growing above them and those who can compare current conditions with those of pre-revolution find little to console them.

One leading foreigner in Moscow who knew pre-revolutionary Russia told me: "It is difficult to compare the present and 1914, for example, but I don't think there has been any great improvement in the standard of living of the masses."

The 6,000,000 to 7,000,000 Communist party members, of course, staunchly support the regime and its economic as well as political policies. But in a population of 190,000,000 the proportion of party members is small.

The disillusionment and discontent appears to be due in part to a reflection of a post-war letdown which other countries also have experienced and its eventual effect is unpredictable.

Fire Renders Widow And Children Destitute

Owen Sound, May 14 — (CP) — A widow of a veteran of two wars, Mrs. Charles McArthur, and her three sons are practically destitute, as the result of a fire which destroyed their dwelling and all its contents in Osprey township Monday.

Mrs. McArthur and her oldest son, Angus, 19, who is deaf and dumb, were fixing fences at the back of their farm when the youngest boy, Elmer, 10, arrived home from school. He lit a fire in the kitchen stove and it spread after he went out to the barn to do some chores.

Find Britain New Symbol, Chorus is Heard

London, May 14 — (CP)—Fire John Bull, get 14d. at Britannia and the noble lion — find Britain a new symbol.

A chorus to this effect has been heard throughout England ever since the Board of Trade issued posters for its new "work or want" campaign, the chief of which showed a grim, streamlined John Bull pulling up his sleeves.

The new statesman and nation described the figure as "a modernized version of Mr. Arthur Bliss' 17th century John Bull, his physique improved by a Strachey diet, with a 'make and mend' waistcoat cut down from a 1914 Day Union Jack, shod in Cripps' utility gumboots and wearing a pair of 'Vage comedian" Arthur Askey's "combs".

The Daily News Chronicle went one farther and offered a £5 5s. ($21) prize for a new symbol, after printing a readers' letter which said:

"Isn't John Bull a bit out of date? Isn't it time a new character was invented who would symbolize better than John Bull, better than Britannia, the invincible bourgeois — comic, grumbling, muddling and essentially democratic genius that is the British people?"

Old Age Pension Boost Likely

Ottawa, May 14 — (CP)—Increases in Old Age Pensions, provided for in a bill which will come before the Commons on conclusion of the budget speech debate, likely will be retroactive to May 1 if the provinces agree to the provisions of the Federal Legislation, it was learned Tuesday.

Details of the Federal legislation have not been disclosed pending introduction of the bill in the Commons, but it was learned that the Federal government proposes to increase the basic monthly pension from $20 to $30 a month and to widen the list of persons eligible for pensions.

The basic pension now is $20 a month. A supplement of $5 a month was provided for by a wartime order-in-council. It was understood the government plans to incorporate the order-in-council in the new bill and increase the basic amount by another $5 a month.

Wrong Regrets Retirement Of Dean Acheson

By C. B. BLACKBURN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 14—(CP) — Hume Wrong, Canadian Ambassador to Washington and friend of Dean Acheson, retiring undersecretary of state, Tuesday regarded the official's resignation "with great regret both on personal and official grounds."

"Mr. Acheson is a very old friend of mine," said Ambassador Wrong. "I have known him for 20 years. I regard his impending departure from the state department with great regret both on personal and official grounds."

Acheson, whose resignation has been expected for some time, is closely attached to Canada by ties of blood and friendship. He is the son of Eleanor Gooderham, daughter of the late George Gooderham and Harriet Dean of Toronto.

The president announced he would nominate Robert A. Lovett of New York, former assistant secretary of war, to succeed Acheson. Of the latter Truman said he was "the type of efficient public many relatives in Toronto and servant whose withdrawal from vicinity. At one time, when he public life at any time would be held an ambition to be a railway a loss to the nation." man, he worked a few months as Acheson spent much of his time a section hand on the old Grand as a youth in Canada and has Trunk.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Many a brilliant looking bridge play is not necessarily tough. It is simply a matter of doing the right thing at the right time. If it works out as planned, the play looks clever.

South is declarer at a contract of six diamonds and manages to take all 13 tricks it is done by misleading the expected split of unseen cards in the opponent hands.

Instead of his singleton spade, west elected to lead club jack after dummy spreads, combine the total cards of each suit in the seen hands. The opponents will, of course, have the rest.

An even more often split is most often breaks as equally as possible. Not always, of course. But most often. And correct play starts with planning on that basis.

Both hands of declarer contain nine spades and eight diamonds. The opponent four spades are expected three-one (unequally) that five diamonds are expected three-two (as equally as possible).

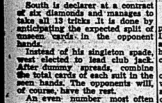
So, declarer takes a trick with spade king and trumps a second spade to set up his remaining spades. This is done after south has ruffed the first club lead with one of his diamonds.

If the short opponent spade hand has the trump king, a ruff must be lost, of course. But to take all 13 tricks, that is part of the chances a player takes.

Dummy trumped the spade successfully and finessed trumps. Picking up diamond king in this manner, opponent trumps are now pulled. Thereafter, good spades take the rest.

Without attempting to trump the second spade, a trump must be lost to opponent king. So, give declarer a good mark.

The ways of the right are usually bright.



AT THE BELLE — Van Heflin strikes up a friendship with Lizabeth Scott in Paramount's excellent dramatic film, "The Strange Love of Martha Ivers," that leads to dangerously exciting events. The Hal Wallis production is due today at the Belle Theatre with Barbara Stanwyck co-starred with Van Heflin and Miss Scott.

AT THE CAPITOL — Gene Autry, Peggy Stewart and Sterling Holloway appear in Republic's thrilling new musical western "Trail to San Antone," starting tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre. On the same program Charlie Chan appears in his newest Detective Mystery story "Shadows Over Chinatown."

AT THE McCARTHY — Myrna Loy (seated) tries to prevent a quarrel between Fredric March, portraying her husband, and Teresa Wright, as their daughter, when he discovers the girl has fallen in love with a married man. Co-starred with this trio is Dana Andrews as the man and Virginia Mayo, depicting the wife, in Samuel Goldwyn's "The Best Years of Our Lives," now playing at the McCarthy Theatre.

The Movie Column

By RON GADSBY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Mr. J. Arthur Rank
Eagle-Lion Productions
London, England.

Sir—While we haven't been property interested in you and pethaps I am being a bit forward, I have a suggestion for you which might help the old cause along—the cause of English movie success.

In this country, and in most others, we have stepped up to the wicket when the game was in touch and go, there are a great number of people who have had a look at the island of yours and who remember it with tenderness. There in a variety of uniforms, most of them have cherished memories of a morning walk in Devon, the mistletoe over the lake district, the quietude of Bournemouth and Torquay, or the mussels in Blackpool.

Now I know you are a leading figure in the Sunday School movement, but honestly, Mr. Rank, there are those who remember the barmaid in The Swan, Bideford, who will be glad to see you in person. Why don't you go there and pull a few pints? Or, if you don't like beer, you could have a cup of tea and a bun.

Instead of this singleton spade, west elected to lead club jack after dummy spreads, combine the total cards of each suit in the seen hands. The opponents will, of course, have the rest.

An even more often split is most often breaks as equally as possible. Not always, of course. But most often. And correct play starts with planning on that basis.

Whacky Beer Mug Only Lacks Suds

New York —(CP)—Want a beer mug with everything but jet propulsion? Go to Australia.

An Australian information bureau release reveals the special features of a super beer mug invented by a Brisbane sewage contractor.

The special features include:

1. A built-in instrument panel.

2. A signal light to indicate when the mug is nearly empty.

3. An automatic horn to attract the barman's attention.

4. A mechanized fly swatter.

5. De-frothing apparatus.

6. A photo-electric eye to warn of beer-drip.

7. A thermometer to test beer temperature.

8. A hydrometer to detect the presence of water in beer.

9. A gyro-horizontal gauge to register sway.

10. A patient non-slip lip-grip.

11. A built-in folding ash tray.

WAR MEMORIAL MONEY PUZZLE TO VILLAGE

Pitsea Essex, England (Reuters)—Just what to do with money collected long ago for a 1914-18 war memorial is bothering the 3,214 inhabitants of this picturesque village, 26 miles northeast of London.

The money, £70 ($280), was collected in 1919. Since then it has been in a bank, with Pitsea trying to make up its mind just what kind of memorial would be suitable. Interest has brought the available sum to £100.

In 1939 they almost got around to putting up a public clock, but the Second World War intervened.

When that was over, an ex-servicemen's organization asked that the money be spent on its premises, but the fund trustees were not agreeable. At the moment it looks as though capital and interest will go to build a small pavilion overlooking a playing field which, it is hoped, will shortly be given to the village.

Nobody has dared breathe a word about memorial for the Second World War.

Toronto Tennis Clubs Plan Development of Junior Net Stars With Eye on Future

Toronto, May 14 (CP)—A plan with the two-fold purpose of boosting tennis among the youth in this area and finding youngsters who can be developed into top-ranking players with proper training and encouragement was announced today by the Greater Toronto Junior Tennis Development Committee.

Alfred Harper, Secretary of the Committee, which represents 17 clubs in the Toronto area, disclosed that the plan includes the holding of three tournaments—open championships for junior men and junior boys in July and an interscholastic championship in September for secondary school pupils.

In addition to these tournaments as a means of developing more youths tennis conscious, the committee hopes to have brought to four top-flight American players to Toronto for an exhibition early in June at the Cricket Club.

The committee has been in touch with Alrick H. Man of the United States Lawn Tennis Association through whom the invitation has been extended. At present the quartet who will come is not known definitely but they will be among the leading net stars in the United States and possibly one of them will be Jack Kramer, United States National champion.

At the moment it is hoped to hold the junior men's and junior boys' tourney during the first two weeks in July, the dates of which will be subject to the approval of the Ontario Lawn Tennis Association.

During the first week matches will be played on six to eight community park courts in cooperation with Community Park and City Hall Recreation Committees. The entries will be divided into two divisions and it is hoped that by the end of the first week to have the number still in the men and junior boys in July and running reduced to 32 in each section.

The second week the matches among the remaining 64 players will be played at a leading Toronto Club. The winners and runners-up and possibly the semi-finalists, if they show promising ability, will be financially assisted to enter tournaments in Montreal, Ottawa and possibly the United States.

"All; this may eventually lead to the development of potential Davis Cup players," said Harper. "We don't expect any particular results for the first few years but with proper training and encouragement of any good players we might discover, combined with desire on their part, we can develop them to the point where they'll be hard to beat in about five years."

The King Expresses Gratitude for Welcome

London, May 14 — (Reuters) — The King sent a message to Parliament expressing his thanks and appreciation for greetings extended to the Royal Family from both houses a few hours after they had arrived back in London from their tour of South Africa.

The message, read to the House of Lords by the Lord Chamberlain, the Earl of Clarendon, said:

"I thank you sincerely for your address and for your loyal and affectionate greetings on the return of the Queen, my daughters and myself from our journey, in the course of which we have visited the Union of South Africa, Southern Rhodesia, Northern Rhodesia, Basutoland, Bechuanaland, Swaziland and St. Helena.

"We shall always remember the wonderful and inspiring welcome which we received and the warmth of the greetings which were extended from all parts of the Commonwealth to our beloved daughter, Elizabeth on the occasion of her 21st birthday. We have been greatly touched by the reception we have received on our return to this country."

Prize Crocodile's Jaws Open And Escapes

Pietersburg, South Africa, (CP)— A native driver in the Sibasa district near here, escaped literally from the jaws of death when crocodile seized him while he was bathing in the Motabe River. The creature caught him by the body, leaving his arms free, and he was able to pry open the powerful jaws and escape before being dragged under the water.

Although he has now quite recovered, he will carry to his grave the scars of his frightening encounter.

"JIFFY JERSEY" NEW TEEN RAGE

New York (CP)—"Jiffy dresses," made of tubular jersey are threatening to take the place of bobby socks as the "teen agers' latest fad.

A smart and serviceable garment can be made from tubular jersey so easily and quickly that American dress manufacturers are beginning to fear the swing to jersey may harm sales of their own ready-made clothes.

Amazing Phillies Astound Observers With Startling Display of Diamond Power

Defeat Tribe Two in a Row! Detroit's Newhouser Wins at Last; Sox Continue Winning Streak

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
By JOE REICHLER

The venerable 84-year-old gentleman now in his 47th year as manager of Philadelphia Athletics, is quietly answering his critics by giving the Athletic fans the best brand of baseball they have seen in more than a dozen years.

After a traditionally poor start, they have been coming like a house afire of late, and have won six of their last eight games including a 7-6 conquest of the mighty Bob Feller and Cleveland Indians last night.

The A's had to come from behind twice last night to win, forcing the deciding runs in the seventh when Sam Chapman homered off Feller with a man on base. The defeat was the third for Feller against four triumphs.

Bullet Bob gave up only four hits, as many as the Indians were able to gather off Bill McCahan and winning pitcher Bob Savage, but the Cleveland fireballer walked ten, five of them in the first frame when the A's scored four times. The A's now are in seventh place but are only four games behind the leading Detroit Tigers.

The Tigers retained their one game lead over Boston Red Sox by shutting out Washington Senators before 17,063 Capitol City fans in a night game. Hal Newhouser, who had not won a game since he pitched a shutout opening day, ended his four-game losing streak by blanking the Nats with four singles. Pat Mullin continued his terrific hitting for the Bengals with a double and triple.

The Red Sox continued their mighty winning streak with a seventh game in their last eight starts, trampling Chicago White Sox 19-6. Ted Williams made two of the Red Sox' 18 hits, both homers. Bobby Doerr of Boston collected four hits, a single, double, triple and homer.

Aided by four home runs, three of them in succession in the sixth inning by Charlie Keller, Joe DiMaggio and Johnny Lindell, New York Yankees blasted a 7-1 triumph over St. Louis Browns. Keller also homered earlier in the game to help Allie Reynolds register his third mount win.

Led by their first base rookie sensation, Earl Torgeson, Boston Braves defeated Chicago Cubs to move within a half game of the Brooklyn Dodgers league leaders. Torgeson hammered in five runs on two doubles, a single and his 12th circuit clout of the season. Southpaw Warren Spahn, although needing the help of Johnny Kazi in the sixth, was credited with his fifth win against no defeats.

St. Louis Cardinals were routed by Dave Koslo who pitched New York Giants to a 9-5 win with a two-hitter. Buddy Kerr collected four hits. The losing pitcher was Murry Dickson who dropped his fourth game in five decisions.

With the aid of five walks in the third inning, Cincinnati Reds scored seven runs and went on to defeat Brooklyn Dodgers 7-5 in a night game in Cincinnati. The Dodgers who supported 20 players including six pitchers, almost equalled the number of the fire by scoring three runs in the ninth inning. Ray Poat, fourth Cincinnati pitcher, replaced Clyde Shoun with two out and the bases loaded in the seventh inning and Edwards to end the game.

The scheduled Philadelphia-Pittsburgh game was postponed by rain.

ORIOLE SLUGGER MAINTAINS HOME RUN RECORD

Howie Moss Raps Out 11th Circuit Clout Although Team is Beaten

(By The Associated Press)

Howie Moss, 1946 International League home run king, has a good chance of establishing the title this year, judging by the record he has made with Baltimore Orioles' first 23 games.

The 27-year-old outfielder slammed out his eleventh clout No. 11 last night but the Orioles were beaten 6-5 by Buffalo Bisons.

With the last-place Bisons and the seventh-place Jersey City Red Wings both winning, it was a day for the underdogs. The Wings knocked off Syracuse Chiefs 7-0 at Rochester for their third straight, leapfrog the Chiefs from second place to fourth.

The two games scheduled games, Jersey City at Toronto and Newark at Montreal, were postponed because of rain.

Former Belleville Stars Announce Retirement; Hamilton Tigers Will Rebuild Team for 1947

Hamilton, May 14. (CP)—This city's elderly Tigers, who learned the Spring for the second straight year, were just a little too senior in years to win the Canadian Senior Amateur Hockey Championship, intend to give it another whirl next season—but this time with some new faces.

Yesterday Manager Percy Thompson announced the renovation program had started with the acquisition of Hermie Gruhn from Quebec Aces and Roy Heximer, who was once in the National Hockey League with New York Americans.

"And more players will be arriving shortly," Manager Thompson said. However, he refused to confirm rumors that the heroic efforts of Ken Mahan, husky defenceman of Ottawa Senators, and the latest Carnegie Brothers, Sherbrooke St. Francis, old Tiger timers.

Five veterans who helped carry the Tigers as far as the Memorial Cup finals—Belleville Stampeders in 1946 and to the semi-finals with Montreal Royals this year have announced their retirement.

They are defencemen Bobby Laurent and Bill Sherry, high-scoring centre Gus Marchinkowski, who says he wants to retire, and wingers Bill Wingrove, Doug Runions and Dillon Brady.

By GEORGE H. CARTER, Sports Editor.

This is the story of a little town, village that is it has a population of some 987 souls, but one that the civic spirit can make some of its big community brothers look like Pedunk's Corners.

As you can see it is not a large place. It has no tenement district, no factories, just a little too senior in years to win the Canadian Senior Amateur Hockey Championship, intend to give it another whirl next season—but this time with some new faces.

Yesterday Manager Percy Thompson announced the renovation program had started with the acquisition of Hermie Gruhn from Quebec Aces and Roy Heximer, who was once in the National Hockey League with New York Americans.

ALLAN CUP WINNERS EYE OLYMPIC GAMES

Montreal, May 14. (CP) — The Montreal Royals, winners of the Allan Cup—Canada's top amateur hockey prize—are hoping they will receive an invitation to represent Canada at the Olympic games in 1948.

Royals who played 79 games during the season and captured Senior Canadian hockey laurels, are anxious to continue on their winning ways and crack at the world amateur crown via the Olympic contests.

Coach Frank Carlin expressed his view saying:

"I think Royals should have the first invitation to the Olympics as we won the Allan Cup thereby earning the right to represent Canada."

Last night Royals were tendered a banquet and presented with the Allan Cup, which arrived one day late from Toronto. It was originally planned to present the cup to the players after Monday night's game here when Montreal defeated Calgary Stampeders 8-2 in the seventh and final game of the series.

The C.A.H.A., recently announced that it would nominate Royals to represent Canada in the Olympic games and that the C.A.H.A. definition of an amateur would have to be accepted. The nomination will then be considered by the Canadian Olympic Committee.

Billy Hoult, 14, Has Eye On 2nd Bowling Title

By DENIS CASE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, May 14 — (CP) — A taciturn little guy who can control a ball with the dexterity of a juggler, is training to do what no one has done before — win the Canadian bowling championship twice in succession.

He is twenty day 14-year-old Billy Hoult rolls off a dozen or so frames in an effort to retain the form that won him the Canadian Bowling Association championship. A little man among a field of hundreds with an aggregate score of 3411 in nine games.

And every practice ball that glides down young Hoult's alley is followed by the critical eyes of George Corbridge, a former city champion who has become the boy's self-appointed coach and adviser.

It was the kindly, soft-spoken Corbridge who, while watching a group of pin boys bowl in their off-hours, discovered the tousled-haired Hoult.

All the boy needed, Corbridge decided, was finesse in foot and hand control. Billy learned his lessons so well that it made him not only the youngest to win the title, but this tribute from Tony Sutcliffe, himself a former C.B.A. champion: "That kid knows more about bowling than I do, and I'm 19 years older."

And if Billy, in the next tournament can conserve the 100 points Corbridge says he "threw away through carelessness" he'll retain the championship and collect another gold medal. "It's just a diamond in it too," says Billy, a fact that impresses him more than the title.

Horsemen Ask $1,350 Purse At Toronto Tracks

Toronto, May 14 — (CP) — The Horsemen's Benevolent Protective Association will demand minimum purses of $1,350 at the Thorncliffe and Long Branch race track meetings in Toronto this year, it was decided at a meeting of the Association last night.

This figure is the minimum that was agreed to by the Ontario Jockey Club when it accepted a compromise with the horsemen's group. The horsemen first demanded minimums of $1,500 at the Woodbine Park meetings of the O.J.C. and before the compromise was reached this year's first meeting, that of the Greenwood Racing Club at Woodbine May 9 to 16, was cancelled. The O.J.C.'s agreement on a $1,350 minimum enabled plans to go ahead for the meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club at Woodbine May 17-24.

The $1,350 minimum has already been agreed to by Fred Orpen on behalf of the Dufferin track. Long Branch and Thorncliffe have offered minimums of $1,250, leaving a difference of only $100 in the dispute.

Several Big Name Golfers Will Be On Hand for $10,000 Canadian Open

(By The Canadian Press)

The $10,000 they're dangling as enticement for top-flight professionals to enter the Canadian Open highlights the Dominion golf scene for 1947 and there will be several of the big-time shotsmiths on hand when the tourney's 43rd renewal is played over Toronto's suburban Scarboro course July 16-19.

The 1946 "dark horse" victor, George Fazio of Los Angeles, has not yet announced his intentions of defending the title but Gene Kunes of Hollywood, 1935 winner, will be in the hunt with several other United States pros.

Leading Canadian entrant is Scarboro's Bob Gray but he'll have the likes of Toronto's Gordon Brydson and Lou Cummings to contend with. The pair spent the winter on Jamaica courses.

The Canadian Professional Golfers' Association Open will be held Aug. 21-23 at Saint John's Riverside course to run concurrently with the Maritime Open. The two events will be worth $2,500.

Shadow hangs over Canada's other major tourney, the Millar Trophy worth $2,500. Unless a course is offered soon, officials might reluctantly scratch the scheduled 20th consecutive running of the Millar.

Meanwhile, a Canadian Press survey of golf links from coast to coast shows that professionals, amateurs and "Sunday golfers" are currently whipping themselves into shape.

Quebec has a heavy agenda of amateur tourneys on the datebook including the Canadian Amateur skedded for Aug. 12-16 at the Royal Quebec course in Quebec City. The Willingdon Cup, main Canadian interprovincial match won last year by Ontario golfers, will also be held at Royal Quebec as will the Canadian junior championships won last year by Jerry Kaseling of Kitchener.

In Ontario the amateur championships will be played at Toronto's Thornhill course June 26-28. This event was won last year by Jack Nash of London, Ont. Nick Winsock of Toronto is expected to defend the Ontario Open title scheduled for St. George's (Toronto) course July 11.

As for the golfer with the finesse — the lady — it has been announced that the Canadian Ladies Open will be held at Toronto Golf and Country Club Sept. 16 and the Ontario championships at Hamilton's Ancaster course, July 2.

BUILDING BEE FOR NEW HOUSE

Old Chatham, N. Y., May 14 — (AP) — Thanks to their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. George Lundy have a new home to replace that destroyed by fire. The neighbors staged a building "bee" Monday, and constructed a one-room house for the elderly couple who make their living by truck-gardening and poultry-raising.

PRIZE CATTLE FROM BRITAIN

Plymouth, Devonshire, England, May 14 — (CP) — A shipment of 80 prize Jersey cattle left here April 30 bound for Brampton, Ont. The animals included the famous bull, Rajah of Oaklands, and the female champion of last year's Royal Jersey show, designing Vedas.

Williams Hits Two Homers For Legless Boy

Malden, Mass., May 14 (AP)—Stout-hearted 11-year-old Glenny Brann, buoyed by two home runs Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams "hit for him," was reconciled today to a life on artificial legs.

Glenn's limbs were amputated above the knees after he had been accidentally "burned at the stake" about a month ago while playing cowboys and Indians with two young companions. But physicians withheld the information from him until yesterday.

Dr. Williams S. Fisher told the youngster the diabesetening news shortly after Williams and Red Sox pitcher Joe Dobson had visited him.

His first tearful reaction was "does my mother know?" Assured she did, the boy's thoughts turned to the future. "Will I be able to walk?" he asked.

Dr. Fisher told him about the "wonderful" success war veterans were having with artificial legs, even to the extent of participating in sports.

Glenny brushed away the tears "Okay, when do I start learning to use them?"

A few hours later, the youngster was the happiest and most enthusiastic radio baseball fan on the hospital porch. He waited patiently for Williams to hit that "homer "he promised me."

Williams came through with not one but two.

When Glenny retired for the night he told nurses, "It isn't so bad, to have your legs cut off after all." He was thinking of those homers and the baseball cap Bill Veeck of Cleveland Indians had promised him.

Veeck, who lost one of his legs after an accident overseas, also promised Glenny a "guest" spot at a Cleveland-Boston game of his choice.

CUT DOWN ON TAKING LAXATIVES THIS WAY

See How Regular You Can Be Every Morning

Try taking Carter's Pills this way: Start with 2 pills at bedtime one evening and 2 pills at bedtime the next morning. Then go up to 3... after a few nights to 4... after a few nights more to 5. After a few days, try taking Carter's every other day. You may even find you can keep regular without any laxative.

To me, Carter's are so like my own cat down the door—from 3 to 7—to fit the needs of your individual system. Without disappointment.

Carter's help develop your intestinal tract not half way, but thoroughly. They are double-effective because they're made with two vegetable herbs compounded properly for better, surer action.

Thousands exalt them as "Nature's Own Way." Get Carter's Little Liver Pills by name to get the genuine. Use only as directed. Get Carter great. Insist on Carter's. Refuse substitutes. Ask your druggist. Jump out of bed tomorrow feeling good.

"Love Will Come Again"

By Alma Sioux Scarberry

CHAPTER 15

"April will get well," Curt said with conviction. "I'm sure of it."

When Gay had taken Mummy back to Douglaston and Gay and Curt were back in the reception room on the fourteenth floor Gay asked gravely:

"What chance do the doctors think April has, Curt? I want the truth."

Curt said hollowly: "They won't say, my dear. They don't translate. But still, save her if anybody will. Dr. Malcolm thinks Dr. Halling should be here from Boston soon."

It was only a few minutes later that a white capped nurse came to the door to tell them that Dr. Malcolm wanted Dr. De Witt to know that Dr. Halling and his staff were upstairs, and that further word would be sent as soon as Halling had examined the patient. But that it would probably take some time.

Gay took Curt's hand holding it tightly for comfort when the nurse left them. After some moments had passed Curt said nervously:

"If you mind 'if I go for a walk, Gay? Maybe you'd like to go with me. I can't make myself sit here any longer."

"I don't feel as though my knees would hold out for a walk," Gay tried to smile. "But you go ahead. I'll be here when you come back. A little air will do you good."

When Curt had gone Gay lay down on the divan wearily, pillowing her head on her arm. Gregory—dear, dependable Gregory—had left Curt and Gay to get out of bed tomorrow feeling good.

up, pushing back her tousled hair.

Hill's broad shoulders drooped, and his usually colorful face was drab with strain and the loss of blood.

"I'm to wait here," he said, sinking into a chair, "They may need me again."

"Here," Gay got up. "Lie down awhile. You look tired."

But Hill shook his head: "No, thanks. I couldn't. Then he added: "Now getting —back to the conversation we were having when De Witt arrived on the scene."

Gay said embarrassed: "I'm sorry we have to talk about April now, Hill. After all you've just been through."

"Never mind that," Hill lit a cigarette. "God knows I owe April a great deal more than a little of my blood. If you think it will upset her to have me around the hospital when she comes to, I'll stay away. That's what you want, isn't it?"

"I—I don't know what to say now." Gay avoided his eyes. "But I do think I'm right, Hill. I feel so sure of it."

Hill ran his hand through his curly blond hair, and got up to walk the floor.

"Do you think I've stayed away from the house because I didn't have any feeling for my family?" he demanded. "Do you think that's why I haven't been around?"

"—suppose not." Gay looked at him unhappily. "But it did seem that way to the rest of us. April has been heartbroken because you haven't been Kenny but once in six months."

Hill sighed: "Oh, what's the use! I couldn't make you understand that it cut me all up into little pieces to feel I was just a visiting fireman around my own house. Sometimes a guy has to run away from things he can't face. You wouldn't understand that."

Gay said not unkindly: "No, you never were much good at facing reality, Hill. But I suppose we shouldn't hold that against you. If you haven't got what it takes, you just haven't got it. Things like that are born in people, I guess. I've never hated you for not growing up."

Hill grinned. "Thanks, that's a big help. I'm still the same old me by blood. If you think it will upset her to have me around the hospital when she comes to, I'll stay away. That's what you want, isn't it?"

"Yes," Gay avoided his eyes "But even a deep dimple in the cleft of his chin, and his blond hair fell in a curly cowlick over his forehead.

Gay asked suddenly: "When are you going to be married to Dru, Hill?"

Hill stirred restlessly. "I don't know. He almost snapped at her. "Our plans aren't set yet. When are April and Dr. Will planning to be married?"

"They were just going to announce the engagement," Gay said. "But I suppose the wedding will have to be put off awhile now."

Gay sighed heavily. There she sat in a hospital talking to Hill about April's marriage to someone else, and perhaps April at that very moment was dying upstairs. It seemed very cruel suddenly, like shooting a man in the back when he was lying face down on the sidewalk with another sidewalk with another wound, other gunmen Hill looked so down with misery.

Gay knew suddenly, intuitively, that Hill still loved April. That he had never stopped loving her for one moment. In his boyish face was such tragedy that she got up and crossed to him and sat on the arm of his chair and put his head on her shoulder.

"You poor darling," she said brokenly. "Oh, Hill I'm so sorry."

SPORT TIPS by Ted Reid

BOXING #50 . . . FITZSIMMON'S SHIFT

GET CLOSE! — Your first move is to back those fists as you are in close, then step in close with left foot. Then step in close with left foot. Keep head, right foot close behind.

NEXT—PUNCH! — From this position, launch your left, let loose to jaw or chin. Follow your left with your right, put your body weight behind punch, to get added power.

RECORDING OFF MARKET

New York, May 14 — (AP) — John Sebastian's recording of Claude Debussy's "Girl with the Flaxen Hair" is being taken off the market because part of the late French composer felt Sebastian's instrument "did not show as much respect for the selection as the piano, for which it originally was written."

Sebastian plays the harmonica.

People of U.K. Consuming More Goods, Services Today Than They Were in 1938

BY JOHN DAUPHINEE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

The people of the sharing-plagued United Kingdom are consuming more goods and services today, even after allowing for wartime price changes, than they were in 1938.

Not much more, it's true, but nonetheless there is evidence of slight increase. The authority is the white paper issued by His Majesty's stationery office and so far the opposition has not questioned its estimate.

And yet most of the necessities of life still are slightly rationed or just not available. How is such an increase possible?

In the first place there has been a distinct narrowing of income among the population. The richest people have much less to spend than before the war, since income taxation was lower. The poorest people have much more to spend, thanks to wartime wages. Between these extremes than 85 per cent and the existence of a manpower shortage instead of widespread unemployment.

Consumption of many foodstuffs has increased sharply among the poorest group. Fluid milk sales are at an all-time record although the average person is allowed only three pints weekly.

It has been estimated that if eggs were to be de-rationed, 30 per cent more than pre-war would have to be provided or millions of fortunes would have to go without eggs.

Money Burning Holes

In the second place — and even more important — people are spending their money in different ways. Adjusting prices to the 1938 level, food consumption still is slightly less than pre-war but for the country as a whole despite the higher consumption among the poor.

The quantity of household goods which is being put on the market ranges from one-third to one-fifth less than during the prewar days.

Clothing supplies are down more than one-half, private motoring by more than two-fifths.

But people have plenty of money and it is burning holes in their pockets. If they can't buy the things they want — food, clothing, furniture, automobiles — they spend it anyway.

Consumption of beer and liquor is up one-eighth. Tobacco, before the budget of Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, raising the price of 20 cigarets by a shilling (25 cents), was non-rationed. Use of fuel and light was up one-fifth, despite the fact that heating existed the post-war shortage of electricity. Travel is up nearly more than two-fifths and entertainment almost three-fifths.

Air Lines Booked Solid for Months

London, May 14 — (AP)—Officials of fifty transatlantic air lines reported that they were booked solid for some months ahead, and that requests for bookings were continuing to pour in.

"The only thing we can give passengers now is a place on the waiting list for cancellations," declared one official.

Two of the lines — American Overseas and Pan-American — have 11 flights weekly. British Overseas has five and Trans World Airlines 17.

American Overseas officials said requests for bookings were being received at the rate of 500 a day.

Tourists are just beginning to come across in numbers, and their requests for return bookings are expected to pour in later in the summer.

Says Election Of New Primate Should be Delayed

London, Ont., May 14—(CP) Archbishop W. L. Seager said the 58th session of the Synod of the Diocese of Huron yesterday that election of a new Primate of the Church of England in Canada succeeding the late Archbishop Derwyn T. Owen should be delayed at least to the next Synod of 1949, or until "the nature of the office" is newly defined.

He granted that according to strict interpretation of the governing Canon, the election should take place "next fall when the electoral college meets" in Saskatoon, but he pointed out:

"The whole matter of the nature of the office, its responsibilities and duties, has been for some time under fresh scrutiny, first by a committee of each house of the general Synod and second by a joint report of the two committees, which is now before the General Synod." So until a clear understanding is possible, "it would be highly advisable to delay the election."

In his address at the opening business session, Archbishop Seager noted that the pension problem in the Synod is acute on account of dwindling funds.

In Two Divisions

He explained that for pension purposes the church is divided in two parts. One consists of 36 assisted Dioceses for which the General Synod pension fund provides. In further effect are seven unassisted Dioceses including Huron. The pension fund of about $1,000,000 plus $1,500,000 from the Anglican advance appeal has been "completely absorbed."

"In other words," Archbishop Seager stressed, "the General Synod has taken all the resources at present in the General Synod pension fund, which was intended for the whole church, and diverted them to establish an additional pension fund in a section of the church. This leaves the seven unassisted Dioceses in an extremely difficult position."

Also such a position interferes with the exchange of priests between unassisted and assisted dioceses because pension funds are not interchangeable.

More Churches Needed

Archbishop Seager said that 3 new churches in London and six in other sections of Ontario centres are "needed immediately." The latter are, two in Windsor, two in Kitchener, and one each in Barrie and Brantford. He urged that capital funds of the Synod be used in part toward building churches.

He praised "community church spirit," in Sarnia and Kitchener, Sarnia has a flourishing downtown church at Oakwood Corners, and the fire-gutted Trinity Church on Point Edward is expected to be rebuilt by autumn.

In Kitchener, "warmest expressions of appreciation are due in the interest of St. John's in the matter of church extension in that growing city." Under the leadership of Canon Mills, two fine properties have been obtained for new church buildings.

FATHER KILLED WEEK AFTER SON'S DEATH

Boston, May 14 — (AP) — Within a week of the death of his son at a ledge of the West Roxbury Trap Rock Company, Sento Romasco, 53, was killed Monday near the same spot. Police reported the elder Romasco was struck on the head by heavy metal on the end of a crane arm. His son, Alexander, 20, was killed a week ago Monday when a rock ledge caved in.

MEMBERS INJECT GOLD INTO DEBATE OF THE BUDGET

Govt. Concurs With Housing Enterprises To Discontinue Units Because of High Cost

By GEORGE KITCHEN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, May 15. (CP)—Production at one of Canada's leading primary industries and a vital factor in the country's economic structure, held the limelight yesterday as the Commons continued the lengthening budget debate.

It was injected into the discussion by spokesmen for the Liberal and Progressive Conservative benches taking part as the debate occupied the short Wednesday afternoon sitting.

William Benedickson (L-Kenora-Rainy River) linked the gold mining industry directly to the budget and said that while that document contained no new aid or relief for gold mines it should be recalled that special tax concessions were granted only a few months ago.

Rodney Adamson (PC-York West) thanked the revaluation of the Canadian dollar last July for the economic relief difficulties of the mines and charged that the Ottawa government had taken that action as a result of pressure from Washington.

At the Wednesday morning Construction Minister Howe said the government is concurring in the decision of Housing Enterprises Ltd., a government company, to discontinue the building of housing units because of the high cost of building materials. Government aid had been seeking to construct low rental housing.

Labor Minister Mitchell said he was holding conversations with representatives of striking Nova Scotia and New Brunswick miners but gave no indication of the aim of the talks.

Transport Minister Chevrier reported that Canada's box car situation now was "far better" than it was during the winter months, when a shortage developed and said the movement of box cars loaded with wheat now exceeded 1,200 a day.

Bevin Pleads for Amity Among Big Four Powers To Further World Peace

London, May 15 —(CP)— Foreign Secretary Bevin appealed today for creation of an atmosphere among the Big Four powers before next November which would make possible adoption of the United States proposal for a four-power treaty which "foreshadowed what could be an alternation in the course of world affairs."

Initiating a debate on foreign affairs in the House of Commons with an interim report on the recent Moscow conference, Bevin said it was unfortunate that the Soviet Union had been unable to agree to this proposal because it was "vital and important" to all the Western Powers.

Although the American proposals did not mean all that was required, "I hope and trust that on reflection all of us will be able to strive between now and November to create an atmosphere where that a beginning can be made with a treaty of this character."

Issues Must be Solved.

If the issues of Germany and Austria and the relations between East and West were not brought to a much more satisfactory conclusion in London in November, "no one can foresee the future course which the world will take."

Reviewing differences were reparation, Bevin said although he had not closed his mind to the possibility of negotiations out of current German problems, Germany's economic unity and a balanced economy had to come first. There must be safeguards against reparations of this kind which would put the burden on the Allied powers responsible for the zone. The Allied power would not continue circumstances be paying reparations to another ally.

Bevin forecast a better food crisis was over and imports were stepped up. This could not happen, however, without the will of the Germans themselves. "The responsibility for their predicament is their own."

The results of the London conference in November, with the issues now pretty clear before us, as probably the most vital in the world's history," Bevin told the House.

On behalf of this nation, I will certainly work hard to try to reach conclusions, but this settlement doesn't lie in the hands of the British government alone."

The creation of a new Germany will "take a long time to realize," Bevin said, for "by undue delay, difficulties will get worse rather than better."

"I am not one of those who wants to turn down the Potsdam agreement," he added. "I am one of those who wants to carry it out and its phases with equivocation."

Much Time Needed

Making what he called "an interim report on the steps that have been taken up to date in the effort to make a peace treaty with Germany," Bevin said it would take a long time to realize the form in which the new Germany was to be created. The methods adopted by its government and the mapping out of its frontiers were the Society of Nations.

The London conference, "with the issues now pretty clear before us," probably would be one of the most vital in the world's history.

Reviewing the initial stages of the Moscow conference, Bevin said the sharing out of the exports of the control council were the problems of demilitarization, reparations, level of industry, the territorial problems, the problem of displaced persons and many vital economic questions.

Bevin said the government was accused of "employing Nazis, and, in fact, protecting them. When that and other charges of this nature are found to be quite untrue.

Only one of the men whose names were supplied was still employed, and this man was exempted by the "appropriate court of being a Nazi.

"I have said that he, in turn, had given the Soviet delegation all information about him and when according to British information. These were accepted.

BRITISH TO ACT AGAINST GERMAN BLACK MARKETS

Troops Will Search Farms for Hidden Food Which is Being Held Off Markets

London, May 15 —(AP)— A government source said today British occupation troops in Germany soon would swing into action in an all-out effort to crush a wide-spread black market held largely responsible for Germany's grave food crisis.

Foreign Secretary Bevin this morning submitted a complete plan for this zonal swoop to the cabinet, which was expected to approve it unanimously.

Government sources said Bevin may announce some details of his action to the House of Commons this afternoon when he opens the debate on foreign affairs.

Main item on the agenda of the cabinet discussion of emergency measures to meet the food crisis in the British zone of Germany.

The government sources said the plan for the British Army's move was submitted first to Bevin during the course of a two-day meeting yesterday of the top zonal economic, military and political advisers.

Present were Sir Sholto Douglas, zonal commander-in-chief, Sir Brian Robertson, his deputy, Sir William Strang and Sir Patrick Dean, political and economic advisers.

The British Army's present assignment will take the troops in to the farmlands where they will search out concentrations of all types of food which, instead of being marketed through normal channels, are being diverted to the black markets.

Food Being Sent

Frankfurt (AP)—German food experts in both the American and British occupation zone assembled for an emergency conference today to discuss plans for coping with a critical food shortage which labor leaders said has brought starvation rations to half their allotted 1,550 calories per day.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, said he expected "drastic action" soon to bring "for the next three or four weeks," but that "relief is in sight."

In Washington, War Secretary Patterson said stocks of "rations of" food would be sent to Germany this month to relieve the famine alarm over what many of them call the so-called "starvation" diet was swiftly welling up, however, into what American intelligence officers call a "crescendo of bitter resentment."

The food was reflected in the angry meeting in Stuttgart yesterday at which factory labor leaders charged that the daily calorie ration of 1,550 calories per day there May 22 unless the food crisis is relieved.

One factory chairman declared that interned Nazis were getting 2,000 calories of food a day, while many free Germans were getting only 1,000. He said the Nazi German ration is supposed to be 1,550 calories, which nutritionists say is only the minimum diet capable of sustaining a human being for an extended time.

The King Pledges Self to Promote Empire Unity

Royal Family Welcomed Home In War-Scarred Guildhall

By STUART UNDERHILL
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 15.—(CP)— The King accepted London's official welcome home from South Africa today by pledging himself to do all he can "by travel and understanding" to promote Empire unity.

Speaking at a Lord Mayor's luncheon in bomb-scarred old Guildhall, the King said his South African tour had emphasized two things to him.

"One is the strength for peace and good will the Commonwealth derives from the wide dispersion of its resources — strength which no political system possesses in equal measure — strength which we must all do our utmost to enlarge by mutual help for the benefit of all.

"The other is the value of moral unity and understanding whereby our widely distributed strength may be effective in the tasks of peace as in the ordeal of war."

The King and Queen, Princess and Princesses rode to the Guildhall in an open carriage through crowded, cheering streets, wearing an Admiral's uniform. He said the tour had further diminished what given the Commonwealth a "sense of spiritual no less than material partnership.'

"That partnership is of priceless value not only to those nations themselves but to the cause of international effort for a better ordering of a distracted world," he added.

Recent evidence by Canada, Australia and New Zealand of a practical desire to help Britain in her recovery period was further proof of the sense of partnership and "as sovereign of our Commonwealth and Empire I own equal duty to all its units. I wish to thank them all from the bottom of my heart for the warm and splendid welcome they have once more so generously shown."

The royal Carriage was escorted by Household Cavalry riding with drawn swords.

At Temple Bar, which marks the boundary of the City of London, the Lord Mayor presented the "Great Sword" to the King. In olden times the city, jealous of its privileges, would let no one, not even a monarch, enter its boundaries without permission. In the ceremony the presentation of the sword this custom survives today.

Two British Officers Killed When Palestine Trains Blown Up by Jewish Underground

Jerusalem, May 15 —(AP)— Mines planted by the Jewish underground wrecked two Palestine trains today, killed two British officers, injured five other persons, damaged three bridges and disrupted railway service in the Holy Land.

The two British officers perished when a mine exploded a new bomb disposal squad car they were with it on the track near here, scene of a mass prison break 10 days ago. Two other officers and a sapper were injured, one of them seriously.

A train carrying 800 workers was derailed at Bat Galim on the Haifa-Jaffa line, injuring one workman. Near Rehovot, in the Tel Aviv, area, another blast partially derailed a freight train, injuring three crewmen.

At least three bridges also were damaged by blasts and officials said rail patrols were uncovering more unexploded mines in the Jerusalem and Tel Aviv areas.

British soldiers last night, arrested two Jews in northern Palestine. Authorities said they were carrying a Sten gun, two pistols, grenades, ammunition and a homemade mine. Two others escaped.

Most of the overnight blasts also were connected with an apparent attempt by Jewish undergrounders to sabotage railway communications, but the only two casualties prior to this morning's blasts occurred at the British army camp in Sarafand, 30 miles south of Jerusalem, when a mine exploded in the entrance of the Garrison Motion Picture Theatre.

Officials said the mine had been smuggled into the camp in a gas mask by Extremists who somehow got by the heavily-guarded gate made their way into a bar opening off the main part of the theatre.

Eskimos, Indians, Trappers Hear New Arctic Voice

Ottawa, May 15 (CP)—A new voice of the Arctic now is heard in the isolated communities of Canada's northland with the establishment of radio station CHAK, America's most northerly station, at Inuvik, N.W.T., where headquarters announced today.

At the same voluntary service lines as many broadcasting station CFWH, operating in Whitehorse, Yukon, which for years held its first official broadcast May 1.

Trappers in cabins along their trapplines, Eskimos and Indians gathered at trading posts, reindeer herders isolated by endless plains of snow, and the 1,000 inhabitants of Aklavik will have for the first time a regular radio service to break the monotony of the still Arctic nights.

Originally conceived as a means of transmitting emergency messages to isolated points, the station will carry amateur and quiz programs, radio theatre and church services as well as emergency messages every Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, and Sunday.

ROCKEYE SALMON "BROKEN AIR SHIPMENTS'

Vancouver, May 15 — (CP) The salmon of a few individuals in England, Australia, New Zealand, Hawaii and Mexico will soon be tickled by sockeye salmon from British Columbia. Packed in B.C. made cans, labelled with B.C. lithographing, designed by B.C. artists and stored in B.C. made cartons, the token air shipments are intended to draw the world's attention to the foreign trade attacks on Soviet foreign policy conference getting under way here next week.

CONDITION IMPROVES

London, Ont., May 15 — (CP)— Improvement was noted today in the condition of Alfred Bernhard, 48, no fixed address, who lost his left leg at the ankle Tuesday night as he fell beneath a Canadian National Railways freight train here. It was believed he was trying to board the train at the time.

SIMPLY HUMAN RELATIONS

St. Catharines, May 15—(CP)— Stressing the importance of team work in industry, George H. Stauffer, general manager of Thompson Products Limited, said last night there was no such thing as labor relations. "It is simply human relations," he said in an address to the Kinsmen Club.

Canada in Cellar With Australia And Greece in Esteem of Russians

Canadians are not popular as Russian guests Ross Munro discovered on a month-long visit to Moscow. Here he explains why.

By ROSS MUNRO
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 15 (CP)—Canadian-Soviet relations in Moscow hit rock bottom as a result of the spy trials in the Dominion and have remained there.

Before the disclosures of Soviet espionage in Canada, the Dominion was held in high esteem in the Russian capital. Eighteen months ago the Canadian diplomatic representatives in Moscow frequently received special favors from Soviet government officials.

Canada now shares the cellar along with Greece and Australia, highly unpopular in Moscow as a result of persistent Australian attacks on Soviet foreign policy.

During my month in Moscow, only a few Russians mentioned the spy trials to me and they seemed a little embarrassed about it, giving the impression that the Russian officials had been clumsy in handling this particular aspect of international espionage.

My Russian visa and exit permit from Moscow were issued without difficulty. My treatment was correct but different from that given any other foreign newspaperman and I made no bones about it when I left the Soviet Union.

But there were Russians who showed me every courtesy and I found out I was a Canadian, that I was an American they first thought me to be.

As far as I could find out, the Russians are not in the least concerned about Canadian military preparations. "Let them do what they cannot understand why the Dominion make such a fuss about it all."

They would have understood it far better if the experiments had been done secretly.

NEW PERMANENT HOME OF ARTILLERY GROWS RAPIDLY

Shilo Camp Has Own Fire, Police Departments, Roads, Phones, School, Hospital

Shilo Camp, Man., May 15.

Shilo, Canada's permanent home for Canada's artillery is a hive of activity in this thriving, modern town like no other in Manitoba, with 2,000 people, 1,000 of them from beauty parlorb to the little red schoolhouse.

Shilo has its own fire department, complete with regimental and civilian personnel, operating the shops, the service station, the fire hall, with all units going back into community improvements.

Shilo has its own police department, already established on a civilian basis, with a Camp Constable, telephone service, roads, a school, a hospital and a chapel.

Lt.-Col. A. Campbell of Petawawa, Ont., finds the life of a battalion commander changed from delivering rations to sergeant majors as he makes his daily rounds in the married quarters section. Even the milk ticket system is a thing of the past.

Another feature is a photographic display now operated by E. D. Greenwood, formerly of Petawawa, Ont., and his assistant, raphers are springing up all over the camp.

The isolated position of Shilo, lying between Brandon and Winnipeg with 130 miles to each, is described as one of the best arguments for the camp. Artillery says it necessary that every feature of a modern town be installed at the start, and that is why approximately 500 civilians—wives and children—have been granted permission to service personnel. Other artillery units are still to come.

Whaler Back With 61,000 Barrels Oil

London, May 15 — (AP)—The 15,000-ton whaling factory ship Balaena, which has been equipped twice in the Thames Estuary during the war as a floating hospital in the Antarctic, was refloated by a rising tide Wednesday and headed toward port.

The vessel, one of the biggest of her type in the world, was en route from Southampton to Norway with a record haul when she grounded on shipwash sands. She was refloated at high water Tuesday night but immediately ran aground again.

YOUTH CHARGED IN ARMED ROBBERY TWO OTHERS HELD

Four Snatch $1,000 Payroll but Miss More When Cashier Hides Money

Hamilton, May 15 —(CP)—An adjournment of one week was granted William Russell, alias Atkinson, charged in court here today with armed robbery and theft, the aftermath of a daring payroll hold-up yesterday afternoon in the office of the National Sewer Pipe Company Limited.

The 20-year-old former employee of the company and a gunner at its weekly staff concert did not enter a plea. Bail was set at $10,000. Crown Attorney Harvey McCullough said Russell and two other youths had robbed men who seized $1,000 from the Sewer Pipe Company's cashier at gunpoint.

Meanwhile, two other men are being held for possession of stolen identification and a search for a fourth man is continuing.

Police made the arrests following several tips, believed to have come from members of the gang.

Detectives searched Atkinson's home at the company's wartime staff house shortly after the robbery occurred, and besides overalls and a rifle, found a payroll box, later identified as similar to those used by the company. Atkinson was later arrested.

Recognized One

Miss Tufford said she recognized one of the masked men by his voice and walk as an exemployee.

Yard foreman Wallace Nudds, who commandeered a passing car to chase the bandits but lost them in traffic, later discovered they abandoned the car by pouring lot at the company's wartime staff house. Employees said that the failure to start immediately.

The $1,000 cash payroll of a $2,000 payroll, occurred an hour before the money was to have been distributed to company employees at 5 p.m. Miss Tufford saved the other $1,000 by throwing the envelopes containing the money, under a nearby filing cabinet.

Described as about 24 years old the men forced the office personnel to lie on the floor while one of them scooped up the money.

'Bluey', Kahgaroo to Fly Rockies, Problem One of Cold, Not Oxygen

By WILLIAM STEWART
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Sydney, Australia, May 15 — (CP)— Cold, rather than lack of oxygen, will be Bluey's main problem when the kangaroo takes his air hop over the Rockies next week from Vancouver to Toronto to attend the Toronto Men's Press Club Byline Ball June 7, authorities at Sydney Taronga Park Zoo said today.

One zoo official said that he shipped a pair of kangaroos by air to Moscow last year and found that these they became ill at an altitude of 16,000 feet. there was no necessity to administer oxygen.

At that time the problem of keeping the animals warm was solved by fitting burlap curtains on the sides of their crates in flight, the curtains were dropped but during the night they were lifted to enable the kangaroos to breathe the fresh air.

A zoo official suggested the same routine could be followed for Bluey, the year-old grey kangaroo which the Toronto Journalists Club is sending as a delegate to the Byline Ball.

Curtains will be fitted to the crate in which Bluey will travel when he sets off from Sydney next Sunday aboard the Australian National Airways Skymaster "Warana" Bluey will be supplied with carrots, hay and refreshments at stops recommended by the Taronga Zoo

LEWIS TO NEGOTIATE

Washington, May 15 — (AP) — John L. Lewis agreed today to try to negotiate a wage contract with operators representing about 75 per cent of the United States' soft coal production.

Lewis' agreement to negotiate with a part of the industry represented an about face on his previous insistence on industry-wide bargaining.

WOMAN PERISHES, FOUR INJURED AS HOUSE BURNS

Firemen Believe Woman Upstairs When Fire Broke Out In Kitchen

Hull, Que, May 15. (CP) One woman was burned to death and four others escaped injury when fire swept through a two-storey frame house in the early today.

The charred body of Mrs. Mauraldo Carriere, 60, was found lying at the foot of the only stairway, her head not six inches from the door when firemen broke their way in. Firemen believed she was upstairs in bed when the fire broke out in the kitchen.

Mr. and Mrs. Edouard Dubreuil and their two children, Marie-Rose and Rene, three, living in the other half of the single storey dwelling.

Loss will exceed $2,000.

A Day Declare An Open Shop

Kingston, May 15. (CP)—In a counter move, officials of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners Local 240 (A.F.L.) today threatened to place picketa on all building projects here unless representatives of the Kingston Building Contractors Association meet with Union men representing the carpenters and joiners now on strike.

The association told the Union its members must return to their jobs by Monday or an open shop will be declared.

The strikers are seeking an increase in wages of 20 cents an hour for a 40-hour week. The scale of pay now is $1.05 an hour for 44 hours a week.

Gift of Grapefruit Sent to the King

London, May 14 (AP)— The King hasn't decided yet what he is going to do with the 70 pounds of grapefruit shipped by the Arizona Hotelmen's Association.

Officially, the King doesn't even know of the gift.

Buckingham Palace procedure is to see that perishable gifts are delivered to the master of the household before formally notifying the King.

The grapefruit palace sources said, probably will go to some hospital, although the King and his family might decide to keep a few.

OBITUARY

MISS MARGARET LENNOX (Stockdale)

Frankford, May 15 —(Special)— Miss Margaret Lennox died suddenly at her home at Stockdale on Wednesday morning.

Born in Murray township, Northumberland county, seventy years ago the late Miss Lennox was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Lennox. For the past three years she made her home at Stockdale and prior to that time she lived in Sth. concession of Murray township. She was a member of the Union Church at Stockdale.

Surviving her is one sister, Miss Mary Lennox, Stockdale.

Funeral announcement is made in this edition.

LATE MRS. MARY E. HORN (Camilton)

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth (Keller) Horn, widow of Alfred George Horn, was held Wednesday afternoon from the late residence at Cannifton. The service there and at Elmwood Cemetery was conducted by Major Earle of the Salvation Army.

The bearers were Blake Bedell, Clarence Harris, Walter Thomas, Edward Burling, Delbert Latchford and Allan Noble.

DETLOR KLEINSTEUBER (Trenton)

Detlor Kleinsteuber of Trenton died in the Belleville General Hospital on Wednesday. He was a native there for about twenty-four hours.

Several Tons Clothing Collected, More Workers Needed for Packaging

Belleville's collective heart went out to the crisis-stricken people of Britain yesterday. Today several tons of clothing are piled high in the Drill Hall of the Armouries, proof positive that the people in this city have not forgotten their British cousins in their hour of dire need.

Trucks canvassed the city yesterday morning and afternoon, and load after load of packaged clothing and shoes went to the gradually mounting piles.

The bulk of the collection is clothing, linens, drapes and shoes of outstanding quality. There are new suits, men's and women's, linens and curtains were given with almost lavish generosity, and a hard-working group of women, their number far too small to handle the job, worked all afternoon and evening sorting, sorting and packaging the gifts.

Volunteer groups are working again today and a large number of "extra hands" are needed. Merely go to the Armouries if you wish to help, pitch, roll up your sleeves and go to work.

A large number of parcels were missed in the truck collection yesterday afternoon and arrangements are being made whereby they can be picked up by the city police department.

There was no definite news of the amount of cash donations received at the time of going to press, but it is reported, that the sum is a generous one.

Rawdon Farmer Remanded On Arson Charge

Sequel to the fire which destroyed his home on the 5th concession of Rawdon on May 5th, Fred Martin, 54-year-old farmer, was arraigned by Provincial Police here yesterday.

He appeared before Magistrate T. Y. Wills in county police court this morning charged with arson and was remanded until May 27. In the interim he will undergo a mental examination. Martin was not asked to plead.

Three persons were rescued from the Martin home when more than a week ago the residence burned for the second time in night. In the house were Martin's crippled daughter, Jessie, age 25, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Cassidy, 84, and Clifford Leury, 54, cousin of the Martins.

The trio were awakened by Ray Sine and Stanley Royal, neighbors, who were passing in their car and saw flames shooting from the Martin home. Earlier in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin had gone to Stirling where the latter was to attend a meeting.

Suspicion that the fire which destroyed the home of Martin had not started accidentally was entertained as a result of a ladder being seen leading to a manhole in the attic. The ladder was seen the night of the fire.

Cost Accountants Hold Closing Meeting of Year

The closing meeting of the Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants, Bay of Quinte Chapter, was held on Monday evening, May 12th, at the Bay-O-Q dining hall with twenty-two members and guests attending. An enjoyable dinner was served, at which Dave Duffy was active as Sergeant-at-Arms, with Chairman Art Lockley presiding.

Mark Vanns, R.I.A., member of the local Chapter, gave a very enlightening talk on the duties of a Corporation Secretary. The qualities required were outlined—a knowledge of corporation law, general accounting, economics and management of staff. The Secretary must act as a go-between for directors and shareholders. The speaker was introduced by Carl Casey and thanked by Lennox.

Election of officers was held and those elected for the forthcoming semester were L. Pretsell, H. Kelly, D. Duffy and E. Thommon. Bob Taylor, Secretary-Treasurer gave the financial report for the year.

Chairman Art Lockley, thanked Ray Lennox for performing as pianist for the year and also for his excellent program during dinner.

Tip Tunnell, acting leader and Ray Lennox as pianist enlightened the latter part of the evening with a sing-song, which exercised the usual good fellowship.

DIES ALMOST INSTANTLY IN HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

Kitchener, May 15 —(CP)— Arthur H. Pittman of Kitchener died almost instantly early today in a highway accident seven miles west of here.

He was crushed under the wreckage of a car in which he was returning to Kitchener. The vehicle left the highway near Petersburg and turned over in the north ditch. Pittman suffered severe chest injuries.

A companion, Harold Barron, also of Kitchener, suffered what is believed to be superficial injuries. He is resting in hospital.

Quinte District Druggists Hold Meeting in City

Upwards of fifty district druggists and doctors attended the semi-annual meeting of the Quinte District Druggists' Association at the Hotel Quinte yesterday afternoon and evening.

Special guests at the meeting included Harold Smith, secretary-manager, CPDA; and Aubrey A. Brown, Canadian Foundation for the advancement of Pharmacy, Toronto. President J. L. Pickering, Picton, was in the chair. The secretary of the Association is Mr. George Pauley, of Belleville.

At the afternoon session attended by druggists only, the meeting saw colored sound pictures "The Druggists of Tomorrow" and "Selling America" and addresses by Mr. Brown, who also displayed material representing the services available to the pharmacist; Mr. Smith and others.

A discussion period on "Drug Store" subjects was included in the afternoon program.

The druggists who come from stores within a radius of thirty miles of the city were formally welcomed by President Pickering, while the secretary's report was presented by Mr. Pauley.

Fifteen district physicians joined the druggists at the evening session which was presided over by Mr. Pauley. The meeting heard addresses on "Effects of Defects in Prescription Writing" Ontario College of New Orleans Bases" and other subjects. The colored sound pictures on social and medical subjects were also enjoyed.

At the election of officers, Mr. Mark Scanlan, Brighton was elected president for 1947, with Mr. Pauley re-elected as secretary. Regional directors are Frank Hatton Trenton; J. L. Pickering, Picton; W. T. Mackenzie, Napanee; J. E. Barnum, Campbellford and C. R. Johnston, Madoc.

Representatives from Belleville, Brighton, Picton, Trenton, Napanee, Campbellford Madoc, Bata, Wellington.

Expressions of appreciation to the druggists were voiced on behalf of the medical profession present, by Drs. W. C. Morgan and Austin Walters. Refreshments and social amenities concluded the meeting.

Judge Anderson Dismisses Action Against City

The action brought against the Corporation by James Alexander and Rachel Alexander claiming damages for flooding to their properties on Station-Street was dismissed with costs by His Honor, Judge J. C. Anderson, in County Court.

The evidence showed that on the evening of July 14th and morning of July 15th, 1945 there was a rainstorm in the city and on the morning of July 15th when Mr. Alexander went into his cellar he found it flooded to a depth of two feet. The plaintiffs allege the Corporation was responsible for the flooding in allowing the water to escape from the catch basins and storm drains. Judge Anderson held that this was not established and that the City could not be held for the flooding. He dismissed the plaintiff's action with costs.

F. G. Cushing K.C. and B. R. Collins appeared for the Corporation and Malcolm Robb for the plaintiffs.

Eureka Masonic Lodge Observes 75th Anniversary of Inception At Banquet at Tabernacle Church

Approximately 250 members of the Masonic Order from Belleville and district, including representatives of Grand Lodge officialdom, convened in the city on Wednesday to pay tribute to Eureka Lodge which was celebrating the 75th anniversary of its inauguration.

Lodgemen met in the Masonic Temple on Front Street during the afternoon, while in the evening the anniversary banquet was held at Tabernacle Church. Most Worshipful Bro. Clifford C. Sankey of Hamilton, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Saskatchewan, was the guest speaker.

Well over 200 members of the Masonic order crowded into the Sunday School rooms at Tabernacle Church for the anniversary banquet and to pay tribute to Eureka Lodge which for the past three-quarters of a century has upheld the objectives of Free Masonry in this city.

W.M. Cuts Cake

One of the features of the anniversary banquet program was the cutting of the anniversary cake bearing 75 candles was carried to the guest table where with due ceremony it was cut by Wor. Bro. E. C. Wood Worshipful Master of Eureka Lodge who acted as chairman for the evening's program.

In his brief chairman's remarks Mr. Wood expressed the welcome of lodge members to the visitors and pointed out there was but one lodge in Belleville. "We are but one lodge in Belleville but with three sets of officers," he said.

The toast to Eureka Lodge was proposed by Rt. Wor. Bro. R. G. Dixon, Grand Secretary, of Hamilton, while the reply was made by Rt. Wor. Bro. R. D. Adams. "This is a proud night for Eureka Lodge" stated the member as he recalled the history of the lodge. He was pleased that many younger members were taking up the work started down by those who had instituted the organization.

Toast to Grand Lodge.

The toast to the Grand Lodge was proposed by a veteran member of Eureka Lodge, Rt. Wor. Bro. F. D. Diamond, who declared that his association with Eureka Lodge was the happiest day in his life. He said Wor. Bro. Chas. M. Sulman were the only two of the old guard now left, he said.

Grand Junior Warden Rt. Wor. Bro. G. F. Clarke, responded to the toast to the Grand Lodge, stating that since his appointment as a Grand Lodge member he had come to appreciate the work which this organization was doing in the craft. Congratulations from the Grand Lodge to Eureka Lodge were extended by the Junior Warden who stated that although 75 years was a long time, it was just a beginning in Masonry.

As guest speaker of the evening, Mr. Seeley spoke of the Masonic Lodge as giving the opportunity to its members to "get free from the monotony of multitudes" and where matters of controversy regarding political and religious matters are entirely forgotten. Being a member of the Masonic order was termed a rare and great privilege. "Free Masonry proclaims nothing, it passes no resolutions and sends no deputations to Ottawa. Reform is not an objective of Masonry."

Sense of Personal Worth.

The mission of Masons was given to mean that the more mature a man becomes the more concerned he becomes and the more concerned the more tolerant and sympathetic he becomes toward mankind. "Only a mature man can wove something into the fabric of community and national life," he said.

Masonry gives to its members a sense of personal worth, gives a sense of stability, of reality and moral power and a sense of what is beautiful.

The guest speaker was introduced by Mr. Dixon with appreciation being expressed by W. H. Gerrie. The toast to the visitors was proposed by Wor. Bro. F. S. Follwell with the response by Rt. Wor. Bro. H. McCartney of Picton and Rt. Wor. Bro. W. H. Drummond, St. Lawrence District.

Fine Musical Treat.

Well known local tenor, Mr. John Deacon appeared as guest solo artist and was heard in a series of numbers including "Danny Boy" "The Pipes of Gordon's Men," "Sylvia," "The Open Road" and "Shortnin' Bread." Mrs. Mary Deacon acted as pianoaccompanist.

The Eureka Lodge, orchestra under the direction of W. Astelstine, provided dinner music for the banquet, while Mr. Deacon led in community singing. A vote of appreciation to the ladies of Tabernacle Church was expressed by Wor. Bro. S. H. Lennox.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto May 13 (CP)—Slight improvement was registered by golds, base metals and oils but industrials were off substantially in the early session of the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Although gains in the mining issues were largely narrow, industrials broke to show point losses toward the third hour of trading.

Volume for the first three hours was 476,000 shares.

Papers as a group held fairly well but other divisions of the industrial lists were off for a majority of losses.

Mining issues maintained mild advance following a sharp upward opening trend which fell off before the end of the first hour.

HOGS

Toronto, May 13 (CP)—Trade A dressed bacon hogs were unchanged at Hall $22 delivered unchanged at Stratford to farmers $21.85, to truckers $22 delivered in markets reporting early today.

Harrow Holds Vote On Five Questions On Beer and Liquor

Harrow, Ont., May 13—(CP)—Residents of this Essex county town will still have to do their legal drinking at home, but will be able to purchase their beer and liquor in their own municipality, as result of local option votes taken today.

The townsfolk were asked today to express an opinion of five liquor questions and two of them, those calling for beer and liquor retail stores in the town, received the necessary 60 percent majority.

The other three, calling for sale of beer and liquor in public places, were turned down in a close vote.

Before today's vote the town has been completely dry.

Cabbie Finds Fare's Mistake, Honesty Pays

Toronto, May 13 (CP)—Five minutes after he had stepped out of a Toronto taxi cab, Dr. W. J. Bryant of Kirkland Lake, realized he had given the "Mackie" a $50 bill in mistake for a $2 bill and told him to keep the change.

The excited delegate to the Ontario Medical Association convention here immediately telephoned police but he should have waited and saved a nickle. Hymie Hayman, war veteran and independent cab owner, appeared at the police licence bureau and reported the mistake.

The doctor and the cabbie got together and the cabbie is today $10 richer.

British to Act

Clay acknowledged that the diet in some area had fallen as low as 800 to 900 calories but that "shotgun measures" were taken to bring immediate relief in such situations.

Labor leaders both at Stuttgart and in the British zone state of Schleswig-Holstein, on the Danish border, called for reductions in the five-day work week, declaring that factory employees had been so weakened by the reduced rations that they could not work that long. The Stuttgart meeting called for a 40-hour week, and the Schleswig-Holstein officials were said to have suggested a 30-hour week.

Clay, who said he did not consider the present food crisis, as serious as that of a year ago, replied when asked if he would use troops to collect food reported being hoarded by farmers:

"I hope it will not be necessary to use troops. That is the last thing I want to do."

LORD KNOLLYS ON FAREWELL TOUR

Montreal, May 13 — (CP) — Lord Knollys, resigning chairman of British Overseas Airways on the last lap of a 33,000 - mile "farewell tour", will arrive here today from Gander, Nfld. He will be accompanied by Whitney W. Straight, Battle of Britain pilot, who becomes B.O.A.C. managing director July 1.

Clerk Whose Skull Was Pierced By Steel Rod Given Chance to Live

New York, May 13 — (CP) — George Dueller, 22-year-old shipping clerk whose skull was pierced by a 35-inch long steel rod when fell mysteriously from a building on East 32nd Street, is showing remarkable improvement after a delicate 4½-hour craniotomy last Friday. Bellevue Hospital attendants reported today.

Dueller remains on the hospital's serious list but doctors believe he stands a good chance of pulling through. The accident occurred while Dueller stood outside the downtown building talking to a co-worker.

Dvs. J. Lawrence and Shepard Kooley, removed the shaft which penetrated from Dueller's frontal bone, high on the forehead, to his upper jaw and teeth line.

Doctors agreed that Dueller might not have lived if it was not for the quick thinking and deft touch of a police sergeant who, unable to get the unconscious man into an ambulance with the rod protruding from his head and fearful that he might die if it was pulled out, sawed the shaft off close to the

26 Persons Die 25 are Injured In Fire in Rome

Rome, May 13 (AP)—Fire department officials reported today that at least 26 persons were killed and 25 injured by a flash fire which turned the offices of the Minerva Film Company here into a veritable furnace just before quitting time last night.

Additional bodies may be buried in the ruins of the building.

Some of those in hospital were so badly injured they were given little hope of recovery.

Building Falls Killing Three

Elko, Nev., May 13—(AP) Three persons were killed and four injured early today when a two-story brick apartment-business building collapsed and crashed into an adjoining excavation in Elko's business district.

Sheriff C. L. Smith said the dead were tentatively identified as Ralph Nielsen, Beatrice Nielsen, believed to be Nielsen's mother, and Mrs. Robert Norris.

The sheriff said digging continued in the wreckage but it was believed all occupants were accounted for.

Consumer Branch Closes

Today the Consumer Branch of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board closed and Prime Minister King has spoken in the highest praise of the service of the 17,000 women who representing nearly three million women of Canada, served this nation in the hour of trial. The Prime Minister referred to the battle, which was waged against the tendency to inflation and gave the women credit for what they had achieved.

As the branch closes, the women who served so tirelessly and faithfully in the work of the organization can rest assured that Canada feels the debt of obligation owing to them for their sacrificial work in the country's cause.

The hundred volunteer squads in every centre for the distribution of ration books and provided speakers to guide the women of Canada in the work of keeping prices down and so avoiding the danger of inflation.

Every part of Canada has known and felt the inspiration of the work of these women workers and as the office closes they have the knowledge that the nation acknowledges its great indebtedness to them for their share in the war's prosecution. Without them the war effort could not have been anywhere nearly as effective as it has been.

After victory and the setting up of the plans for peace and rehabilitation, wartime work gradually diminishes and now the Consumer Branch closes.

Mr. Churchill Decorated

Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill has received from the French Government the Medaille Militaire, the highest military decoration of the Republic for his service to the United Nations in World War II. No man deserved this honor more than he and France remembers his great speech—the darkest hour in 1940 before and after the overrunning of France by the Hitlerites.

Late in the year 1940, Mr. Churchill made an appeal to the French nation in his radio address in which he said of France, "Sleep to gather strength for the morning for the morning will come. Brightly will it shine on the brave and true; kindly upon pain unto the end of time. Glorious upon the tombs of heroes — thus will shine the dawn.

"Vive la France! Long live, also, the forward march of the common people in all lands and towards their just and true inheritance and towards the broader and fuller age."

The dawn did come when France was free after the German domination.

France honors the renowned British statesman for what he is and for what he did in the Allied cause and for the sake and recovery of France.

So Winston Churchill was cheered by the people of the Republic on that day, of his decoration.

Freemen the world over too honor this man for his extremely great leadership, ideals of freedom and wordly wisdom in the supreme moment of history.

No Sky Rockets

Sky rockets cannot be sold for celebrations. They used to be features of the observance of May 24th for many years but they are now out as far as the anniversary of the birthday of Queen Victoria, who reigned for nearly sixty-four years, is concerned.

The reason is clear. There have been accidents in the very nature things through the discharge of rockets which become powerful missiles as they swish through the dark on an uncertain course.

But those who observe Victoria Day will be able to do without these means of entertainment and should feel pleased that these may no longer be bought, whereby the risk of accident is removed from the celebration.

Homes to Commemorate War Dead

The County of Dorset in the South of England is showing the way to honor her war dead and at the same time to help their dependents in every possible way.

There will be built a war memorial but it will be proposed that homes be allotted to the widows, with children, of the men killed in action, disabled ex-servicemen, and in special cases for veterans themselves. The ownership of the houses will be vested in the local authorities but the county regional committee who sponsor the scheme will select and appoint their tenants, who will pay low rent within their means.

Grown Up

It's a fine thing for a man to remain a "boy at heart," But not a boy in his thinking. Yet that's what most Britons think most Americans are, according to a British public opinion poll.

One can disregard to some extent the more unfavorable aspect of the composite picture of an American shown by the poll —the picture of someone "immature emotionally and intellectually, boastful and flamboyant, bad-mannered, and full of intolerance to any minority group." Every nation has its stereotype of other peoples, based on their worst traits. Only ignorance mistakes such caricature for portraiture.

What is more thought-provoking is the favorable comment elicited by the poll, showing the American as "daring and ingenuous, impulsive and uninhibited, friendly, kindhearted and generous," marked by "vigor and enterprise to add that many people beside the British might concur in these two estimates, which have in common their concept of the American as not quite "grown up."

Europe today is full of children who are old in experience, suffering, in disillusionment. Some of them have seen the fresh enthusiasm and kindness of American "boys." They need pitifully to learn how to be children again. Will the boys need, and the need of a world grown old who once befriended them remember their and fired? Will they understand and energetically attack the causes that produce such needless suffering?

If so, then the American boy is on his way to full maturity as a world citizen.

Forgetful

Every year when we give the list of people who put money in the bank and then forget about it, we think of the people who see it, says The Ottawa Journal. It makes us wonder all the more what sort of people they must be who go to a bank, deposit as much as a thousand dollars, then never return to claim it.

Yet a host of persons all over Canada do this strange thing, as strange as anything we can think of. Right now, for instance, the banks have $15,000,000 on deposit in the local banks, have had it there for years, and apparently have forgotten it. Is it that a few hundred or a few thousand dollars don't matter to them — or something odder?

Strange stories must lurk behind a lot of this forgotten money. What, for example, was the explanation of the fact that some years ago a man walked into one of our banks, deposited $15,000, and then vanished into thin air?

Psychologists are probing into everything else, here, it seems to us, is a real field for them.

Fork Over

There is a lady operating a boarding house down in Alabama who has a simple, silent, but most effective method of collecting money from delinquent boarders, says The Wall Street Journal.

Each time one of this lady's establishment noticed at supper that one of the boarders had one fork too many beside his plate, and seemed to be actually embarrassed over the circumstance.

"Why is he so disturbed over the extra fork?" the new boarder whispered to the gentleman seated beside him.

"Oh, that's how the landlady collects past due board bills," was the laughing explantation. "When she puts that extra implement beside a plate it simply means 'fork over.'"

BEST AND WORST WAY

So easy to answer: "I'm busy!" So easy to say: "When I've time!"
But they will go wondering:."Is he?" and the clock will continue to chime.
At calls when your courage is needed, with always a shake of the head,
So easy to leave them unheeded, and offer excuses instead.

But they who are thoughtful and willing the minutes seem able to find
The need for good deeds to be filling, and always the time to be kind.
No matter how many their labors, if good be the service men ask,
They'll share in the cause of their neighbors and happily go to the task.

For this is the way of the best men, whate'er their profession or trade:
They never are "seekers-of-rest" men. They're never too busy to aid.
Excuses the "spoiled-for-a-while" men have always been easy to find,
But, somehow, the brave and the good men find strength and the time to be kind.

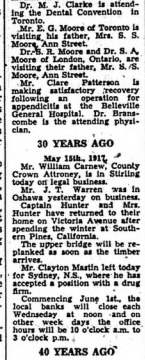
Jews Cross Alpine Austrian-Italian Border Secretly

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Brenner Pass, Italy, May 15 —(AP)—Agents of Central Europe are moving secretly once more without passports across the Alpine frontier between Austria and Italy, hoping to find ports from which to sail for Palestine.

The arrival of 72 of them, all without identification or permits in the French zone of Austria heralded last week the large-scale resumption o their migration, stalled during the winter by low temperatures and deep snows in the Alpine passes.

French security officers at Innsbruck expressed belief that an intricately organized international body is directing the movement of Jews through their zone and a number of other measures.

Back in the Commons, Mr. Bendickson opened the day's budget debate with the observation that he could not be patient, who suffered a heart attack and died in hospital yard at the height of the fire.



Lawn Weed Control Easy Way

(Experimental Farm News)

The discovery of 2,4-D is one of the greatest made by agricultural scientists in recent years. The application of 2,4-D is of interest primarily to lawn keepers who, up to now, have been forced to spend many tiresome hours grubbing out weeds by hand. This is no longer necessary says T. M. Easter, Dominion Experimental Farm, Agassiz, B.C.

By the simple method of applying one or two applications the lawn most broad leafed weeds can be readily killed under control at little cost. When applied in the right concentrations these new herbicides kill lawn weeds such as spring dandelion cat's ear and the common plantains in about three weeks. Not only are the tops killed but the whole root is killed. Furthermore there is no appreciable damage done to the grass.

In experiments conducted at the Experimental Farm, Agassiz, B.C., it has been found that one or two simple rules must be followed to get the best results. First it is important that the spray as bought, either in powder or liquid form, be diluted according to the instructions on the container. Second and most important is the temperature at which the spray is applied. As 2,4-D is harmless to grass and kills only broad leafed plants, care must be taken not to spray cultivated plants that are valuable for they too, will possibly be killed. Once the spraying is completed, all equipment should be thoroughly washed with at least three changes of water to help prevent damage being done to cultivated plants when the spray outfit is being used for fungicides or insecticides.

The time of the weeds sprayed will start within a few days and the plant itself will not die for three or possibly four weeks. By this time the 2,4-D will have been translocated to the roots and will kill them. The best results are obtained when the weeds are young, before they flower. With heavy infestations of dandelion a second spray may be necessary to spray twice in both the spring and fall.

To insure that new weed seeds do not start to grow, a top dressing of good, weed free soil with a reseeding of grass on the bare patches where the weeds have been killed will be necessary. This can be done about four or five weeks after the spray has been applied.

Senate Adjourns Till JJune

State Secretary Gitson said there was no evidence that any Canadian manufacturer had a report any connection with I. G. Farben Industrie the giant German chemical firm which has been indicted on charges of international cartel agreements.

The Senate rose until June 3 after passing a bill to allow Ottawa to grant the government interim authority of transport Commander Railway Co, and approving a bill to grant the government authority to borrow $1,000,000. Royal assent also was given to a measure to incorporate the main government bill for the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power and a number of other measures.

Back in the Commons, Mr. Bendickson opened the day's budget debate with the observation that he could not be patient, who would help Canada more than an immediate reduction price of gold in the United States.

He disagreed with J. M. Macdonnell (PC-Middlesex East) chief financial critic for the Progressive Conservative opposition who, he said, had expressed fear of the possible effect of a drop in the price of gold in the United States.

Urged to Make Statement

Observing that an opposition non-confidence motion moved during the last session had urged the government for lack of encouragement to mines, Mr. Bendickson urged Finance Minister Ilsley to make a clear-cut statement what his party would do for the gold mining industry.

But he followed this suggestion with the statement that Mr. Brakes probably would "disrefuge in calculated obscurity or ambiguity and refuse to define or make such a statement."

Mr. Ilsley had said that a "reliable" informant had told him that the United States government had decided, if the Canadian government would adjust the Canadian dollar to parity with American currency.

One reason why the government wanted the Canadian dollar adjusted, he said, was that Canada, because of the 10-per-cent discount, was making great inroads on the United States markets and was becoming the greatest competitor of the United States.

FEAR OF DISEASE

My sister makes life miserable when we go out together. She won't sit down in a bus, subway or streetcar or even in a movie for fear of getting some form of social disease. She insists you can contract such disease by touching door-knobs or rails. Is there any thing a person having the disease has touched or come in contact with. She even claims you can get social diseases from drinking out of glasses, cups, etc., at fountains or in public lunch places or cocktail places. I asked our doctor and he said of course in rare instances such infection may occur but he didn't think it was a risk one need worry about. But I don't regard him as an absolute authority. Please say something about this in your column. I suppose there are a good many people who share my sister's obsession.

I believe your doctor gave you right answer, all I can do is elaborate upon what your doctor said.

To prevent misunderstanding let me say first that the proper names for the diseases referred to only have in mind when you use that wretched term "social disease" are syphilis, gonorrhea and chancroid.

As your doctor said, it is possible to catch any one of these by just such casual contact with a person or object as mentioned but the disease has touched, but ordinary soap and water cleanliness is the best precaution or prophylactic against such infection that any one can use—and for they too, will possibly be killed. Once the spraying is completed, all equipment should be thoroughly washed with at least three changes of water to help prevent damage being done to cultivated plants when the spray outfit is being used for fungicides or insecticides.

The time of the weeds sprayed will start within a few days and the plant itself will not die for three or possibly four weeks. By this time the 2,4-D will have been translocated to the roots and will kill them. The best results are obtained when the weeds are young, before they flower. With heavy infestations of dandelion a second spray may be necessary to spray twice in both the spring and fall.

To insure that new weed seeds do not start to grow, a top dressing of good, weed free soil with a reseeding of grass on the bare patches where the weeds have been killed will be necessary. This can be done about four or five weeks after the spray has been applied.

Senate Adjourns Till JJune

State Secretary Gitson said there was no evidence that any Canadian manufacturer had a report any connection with I. G. Farben Industrie the giant German chemical firm which has been indicted on charges of international cartel agreements.

The Senate rose until June 3 after passing a bill to allow Ottawa to grant the government interim authority of transport Commander Railway Co, and approving a bill to grant the government authority to borrow $1,000,000. Royal assent also was given to a measure to incorporate the main government bill for the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power and a number of other measures.

Back in the Commons, Mr. Bendickson opened the day's budget debate with the observation that he could not be patient, who would help Canada more than an immediate reduction price of gold in the United States.

He disagreed with J. M. Macdonnell (PC-Middlesex East) chief financial critic for the Progressive Conservative opposition who, he said, had expressed fear of the possible effect of a drop in the price of gold in the United States.

Urged to Make Statement

Observing that an opposition non-confidence motion moved during the last session had urged the government for lack of encouragement to mines, Mr. Bendickson urged Finance Minister Ilsley to make a clear-cut statement what his party would do for the gold mining industry.

But he followed this suggestion with the statement that Mr. Brakes probably would "disrefuge in calculated obscurity or ambiguity and refuse to define or make such a statement."

Mr. Ilsley had said that a "reliable" informant had told him that the United States government had decided, if the Canadian government would adjust the Canadian dollar to parity with American currency.

One reason why the government wanted the Canadian dollar adjusted, he said, was that Canada, because of the 10-per-cent discount, was making great inroads on the United States markets and was becoming the greatest competitor of the United States.

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

Who was Billy the Kid?

William H. Bonney (1850-1881), one of the most notorious outlaws of the Southwest, was known as Billy the Kid because of his youthful look.

In his six years as a gunman and desperado he killed 21 men, but claimed he killed one for each year he lived. Before winding up his career of crime.

His pleasing personality, his fearlessness in combat, his ingenuity to escape from jail, won a glamor around his life and made him a sort of Robin Hood of the Southwest.

Billy the Kid was born in New York City and when a child was taken by his parents to Kansas, where his father died. After living with his mother in different parts of the West he made his first killing at the age of 15 when he killed a man alleged to have insulted his mother. He also helped another man kill three Indians to get their furs.

During the next two years he took part in a series of desperate adventures in which he killed 12 men. In 1877 he showed up in the Pecos Valley in New Mexico and there took a prominent part in the "Lincoln County cattle war," opposing the chief gunman for one faction and playing the part of sheriff for the other sheriff and his deputy. General Lew Wallace, the author of "Ben Hur," Governor of the Territory, promised the outlaw a pardon in return for testimony he would give himself up. Billy the Kid agreed but he would be killed immediately if he disarmed, even though escorted by the sheriff himself.

With 12 followers he then started out on a series of cattle-stealing and killing expeditions. Captured by Sheriff Pat Garrett he surrender in 1880, he was convicted and sentenced to be hanged for killing Sheriff James A. Brady. Billy killed both his handcuffs and leg irons the desperado killed two deputies guarding him at Lincoln county and after several months later he was shot and killed by Sheriff Pat Garrett of Lincoln County in the home of Pete Maxwell at Ft. Sumner in what is now De Baca County, New Mexico.

Contact Club Of Christ Church Holds Bridge

The "Contact Club" of Christ Church entertained their friends Wednesday evening at a bridge and euchre party in the parish hall, when Rev. J. G. Sparling welcomed the guests, and later presented the prizes.

The high score prize for bridge was won by Mr. Charles Hinkley, and low score by Mrs. Stafford Halbert. Euchre high score prize was won by Mrs. Richard Young, and low score prize by Mr. Clarence Purdin.

A Lucky Number" prize went to Mrs. R. R. Johnson.

Refreshments served by the ladies brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

Parochial Guild Members Hold Successful Tea

The ladies in group "B" of the Parochial Guild of St. Thomas Church sponsored a very successful tea, on Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. F. S. Wilson, George St., where flowering plants and Spring blossoms added their beauty to the attractive appearance of the rooms.

Receiving with Mrs. Wilson was Mrs. J. N. Garbutt president of the Guild while Mrs. Abrams and Mrs. Keel, invited the guests to the tea room where a beautiful lace cover formed the background for the lovely centre of golden daffodils and large vividly red tulips, in a bowl of yellow Italian pottery. Tall yellow tapers added their touch to the array of Springtime colors.

Pouring the beverage were Mrs. Austin Smith with Mrs. J. Howard, and Mrs. Lyall with Mrs. Arthur Smith. Serving the guests were Mrs. Van Tassel, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Geen, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Jeffrey and Mrs. Potter.

Replenishing the plates and tea pots were Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Holway and Mrs. James.

Mrs. MacDougall was the treasurer for the afternoon.

In the kitchen, room was a table where aprons of all sizes and colors were displayed as well as a fine assortment of useful knitted goods and children's cuddley toys. This was convened by Mrs. L. Fozard and Mrs. George Smith; while nearby another table, in charge of Mrs. W. C. McCutcheon, Mrs. Milton Bridges and Mrs. W. Johnson held a great variety of home made confections including pies, cakes (large and small) cookies, buns, rolls, relishes and salads,—all so attractive in appearance that the would be purchasers had difficulty in deciding which to select as an addition to the menu for the evening meal.

The members of the group in charge deeply appreciate the presence of their friends whose patronage assisted materially in the making of this Springtime function a successful social event.

Mrs. G. Barclay Heads Queen Alexandra Assoc.

Mrs G. Barclay was re-elected president of the Queen Alexandra Home and School Association at the annual meeting held Tuesday evening.

An interesting program was presented, with Mrs. G. Scott giving a solo and Miss Summers' Service of the Red Cross" and showing a film. Tea was performed by this service. The Association of Queen Alexandra School was that a letter, the recommendation of this service, be sent to the local Red Cross unit.

The pupils of Miss Huntley's room were successful in winning the "good attendance prize" donated by the parents.

Annual reports of officers and committees were received, and the following slate of officers was elected:—

President — Mrs. G. Barclay; Vice Presidents Mrs. E. Buchanan, and Mrs. J. Sherry; Recording Secretary, Mrs. R. O'Connor; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. G. Wright; Treasurer, Mrs. Kells.

Executive members—Mesdames J. W. Deacon, W. D. LaFrance, J. Musgrove, G. Scott and N. F. Ross.

Mr. G. Anderson, principal of Queen Alexandra School, duly installed the newly elected officers

Solos contributed by Mrs. H. S. Robbins, with violin obligato played by Mrs. G. E. Currie, and with Mrs. M. P. Duff as pianist accompanist, added much to the evening's entertainment.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Sherry and her committee.

Friends, Neighbors Present Gifts To Young Couple

A large number of Marsh Hill relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heasman recently to honor their son, "Bill" and his bride, when Mr. Bob Bleecker was chairman for the evening.

Mrs. Leslie Finkle read an address and Mr. and Mrs. Heasman were presented with a walnut magazine table and an end minister mat by Mr Ralph Lanner and by Mr. Garnet Searles on behalf of the community. The receipients were duly thanked their friends for the gifts. Mr. Fred Campbell and Mr. Arnold Poole presented and offering congratulations to the bridal couple, and Mr. Fred Heasman expressed appreciation on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Heasman to the community for this kindly gesture of friendship and goodwill.

A short program included step dances by Mr. Jim Campbell to novel "Old Time" music supplied by Mr. and Mrs. Blake Johnson; a piano solo by Miss Lois Mitts, and several accordion numbers contributed by Mr. Ben Conighs.

The serving of refreshments brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

Netherlands Honors Newspaperwoman

Vancouver, May 15 — (CP) — Mrs. Margaret Ecker Francis, well known Vancouver newspaperwoman and former staff correspondent for The Canadian Press, yesterday by Royal decree of Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands, was made an officer of the Order of the House of Orange.

She is the first Canadian woman to receive the Order, awarded generally to persons in close connection of service with the Dutch government or Royal Family.

Mrs. Francis was in close touch with the Dutch Royal Family both in Canada and overseas during the war. She accompanied the Queen on her first tour of liberation from Walcheren Island to Maastricht, and also wrote many feature stories for The Canadian Press on Princess Juliana during the Royal sojourn in Ottawa.

CHASE AWAY CHILDREN'S FEARS

Buffalo, N.Y., May 15 (AP)— Children's fears may be chased away by their tiny patients' fears with toys, picture books and sometimes even a milk bar, according to Dr. W. James Taub of Albany. Dr. Taub, speaking last night at his installation as new president of the New York State Society of Dentistry for Children, said that when the parent becomes aware of "universally painless" methods for children the child will become aware of it too.

W.I. Branch Organized In Paudash District

On May 7th at the home of Mrs. J. Horsepool the ladies of Paudash, Bonarlaw and Bear Creek met for the purpose of organizing a Women's Institute branch.

A guest of honor was Mrs. Harold Moore of Madoc, W.I. district president for North Hastings. Mrs. Moore gave an interesting talk on the hopes, aims and achievements of the organization and told the story of the origin of the Institute which this year celebrates its 50th anniversary. After listening to the speaker and asking some questions of interest to the it was agreed to organize a new branch. It was also decided that this should be known as "Paudash Women's Institute." The community takes the name from nearby Paudash Lake which was named after an Indian, Chief Paudash. The ladies made themselves familiar with the Institute Code which they sang and the Institute Creed.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. J. Horsepool; Vice President, Mrs. Wm. Rumble; Secretary Treasurer, Mrs. Jean Taylor; District Director, Mrs. Dan Kelly; Group Director, Mrs. M. J. Burns Family Favorite

BURNS has been the buy-word in Western Canada for finest quality meats since the days of the cattle kings. Now ALL Canadian homes may enjoy the taste-quickening, hearty goodness and the generous value of Burns Canned Meats.

Cold or hot . . . . Spork hits the spot!

BURNS SPORK . . . that famous "meat of many uses" is made from delicious pork meats, spiced just right to be eaten hot or cold. Spork is the meat for modern meal-making—quick, tasty, satisfying.

Because of Canadian bacon and ham supplies being needed to relieve the desperate situation in Britain, only limited supplies of Spork are available for home sales. You may not get Spork in your local food store—but keep looking and asking for it, because Spork is well worth waiting for.

Here's a SPORK SNACK Recipe

Fry quarter-inch slices of Spork and serve with onions in cheese sauce. This makes a delicious snack, or a grand-tasting main dish. It's thrifty, too!

Fixed Assessment Given Flour Co. To Build Mill

Port Colborne, May 13. (CP) — The construction of a new flour mill near here by the Ogilvie Flour Milling Company, Ltd., together with an accompanying 1,-500,000-bushel grain elevator, became a virtual certainty here yesterday when voters of nearby Humberstone township voted 472-9 to grant the company a fixed assessment of $150,000 for 10 years on the proposed structures.

Its cost, given, has been mentioned in connection with the project and will employ 200 when proposed production of 2,200 barrels of flour daily will hoist greater Port Colborne's flour production to 18,600 barrels.

Such a boom is unequalled anywhere in Canada. The new mill is to be built at Ramey's Bend on the Welland Canal, one mile from here.

Montreal popularity supposed to be Canada's leading flour milling centre, has a capacity of bet 9,000 barrels daily, less than half of greater Colborne's. Dominion's second largest flour-producer, turns out 10,000 barrels daily with Montreal a close third.

Three leading Canadian milling companies are represented in Port Colborne's flour industry, which employs 500, soon to be swelled by an additional 100 when the plant approved in yesterday's voting is completed. They are the Maple Leaf Milling Company, whose 12,500-barrel-a-day mill is the largest in the British Empire, the Robin Hood Flour Mills, Ltd., and the Ogilvie Company.

The companies' own elevators, including the new one authorized by yesterday's vote, will have a 10,500,000-bushel capacity before the end of the year. The National Harbors Board's 3,-500,000-bushel elevator here is largely used as a transfer convenience and plays little part in local milling operations.

Blast German Authorities For Stupidity

By DAN DE LUCE

Frankfurt, May 13 — (AP) — German authorities, upon whose necks Germans have laid part of the blame for the current food crisis, blasted right back today at the "stupidity" of German authorities.

"German authorities are stupid-ly inspiring," said a swindler-boss of the hinterlands around Frankfurt. "They say all hogs over 70 kilograms (154 pounds) in weight are to be given up for butchering. They don't allow for good breeding sows. Twenty per cent of the hogs killed here in the past year have been breeding sows. That's a crime."

"Our farming folk are not senseless machines," said a village mayor, "and neither are the Ruhr miners. The Allies have given the miners various incentives to produce. They have given none to the farmers."

Yet, to foreign observers, the farmers appear to be the only enviable class in western Germany today. They have no reason to feel impending currency fluctuations because their property is real, not paper. They still eat well despite increasingly-heavy quotas collected by the government.

But still, the average farmer, while vastly better off than his city brother, does not appear to be getting rich overnight out of the general misery of Germany.

True, what extra food reserves they are able to conceal from official eyes they barter. But because their farms are small, the illegal exchange is limited to bare necessities.

Propose To Purchase Waterfront Land For Parking Lot

Toronto, May 15. (CP)—Toronto's civic works committee recommended yesterday that the city purchase from the Toronto Harbor Board waterfront land now being used as a giant downtown parking lot. The committee's plan, suggested by the Toronto traffic conference, is to make a permanent parking area for 1,500 vehicles.

Under a system introduced earlier in the year the city operates a free shuttle bus service between the parking area and the city's business centre.

NIAGARA FALLS RESTRICTED AREA

Niagara Falls, May 15—(CP)—The Niagara Peninsula will be a restricted area for the eradication of tuberculosis in cattle, the Federal Department of Agriculture announced today.

150 Billion Dollar Plan By U.S. Urged by Wallace To Restore World Economy

Chicago, May 15 (AP)—A $150,000,000,000 program of American exports and investments throughout the world is proposed by Henry A.Wallace who says that the only hope for peace is a major effort to restore the world economy by the use of American resources.

The former American vice-president, speaking at a rally at the Chicago stadium last night asserted that the "Truman doctrine may not lead to war, but it will never lead to peace. It is one of the only four ways to peace is a program of action based on a priority not of political reliability but of human needs."

Wallace was greeted with cheers by the crowd which filled all to overflowing the stadium which has a seating capacity of more than 20,000.

Those who told the rally that "the administration is playing the military game in Europe," defined the "Truman doctrine as "a curious mixture of power politics and internationalist carpet-bagging," and a "doctrine of unlimited aid to anti-Soviet governments." He added, "I predict that one day we shall bitterly regret the action that Congress has taken."

He said that his program he advocated "is the constructive alternative to the Truman doctrine. It approaches the needs of the world from a standpoint of all humanity.

Tuna Fishing In Nova Scotia He-Man's Sport

By JOE MacSWEEN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Wedgeport, N. S., May 15 — (CP) — Horse racing may be the sport of most kings, but hoary Neptune is a wilful mon-arch and needs a different one. One of the salty ruler's pastimes is to hurl the mighty tuna at sportsmen — and they, just to keep in the spirit of things, join the 800-pound monsters with rod and reel.

Such a pastime occurs at this west coast Nova Scotia fishing town each summer. A tidal stream — Soldier's Rip—throws up a multitude of bait - fish as tid-bits for the fattening tuna. From Europe and North and South America sportsmen converged on Wedgeport and Soldier's Rip becomes a boiling cauldron — an arena of struggle between avid fishermen and powerful fish.

Soldier's Rip is synonymous with tuna. Last year 228,367 pounds of tuna were dragged from the fishes' home by sportsmen. The average fish weighed 904 pounds.

This season the international tuna tournaments — interrupted during Second World War years —will begin again at Wedgeport, United States, British Empire and Cube teams are definite entries for the four - week meet scheduled to begin Sept. 3.

Seven-man teams will compete for the Alton B. Sharp Trophy now held by a Cuban team which won the 1938 contest.

FOOT THAT OF MONKEY

St. Thomas, May 15 — (CP)—A well-preserved foot previously believed to have been a human foot, discovered by boys in a vacant lot, is now thought to have been that of a monkey which died while a circus was showing here May 1.

Police, notified of the find, called in hospital authorities who x-rayed and examined it and declared it did not belong to a human being or a deformed one, but resembled that of one of the larger primates.

Proposal to Boycott Work on Rocket Range Condemned by Labor

By WILLAM STEWART
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Canberra, May 15 (CP) — The Federal executive of the Australian Labor Party in a resolution passed yesterday condemned a proposed boycott of work on an experimental rocket range as a communist design to "sabotage Australia's defence policy in the intersests of a foreign power."

The resolution was adopted following an address to an executive meeting last night by Attorney-General H. V. Evatt in which he was reported to have charged the Communists with employment of industrial organizers to conduct a political offensive against the Labor Government.

The intention of the government to proceed with the $20,-000,000 undertaking was made clear by Prime Minister Chifley Tuesday when he told parliament that the "work will be done."

Parliamentary League To Seek Leave to Play On Main Lawns

Ottawa, May 15 — (CP) — A parliamentary softball league is the latest thing on Parliament Hill.

Rev. Dan McIvor, Liberal member for Fort William, said he's organized a team already, the Liberal members including three cabinet ministers — to be known as "Big Dan's Sluggers." The challenge has gone out to the Senate, the opposition group and the parliamentary press gallery.

Mr. McIvor's member added he is going to petition the Speaker to allow games on the main lawns of parliament fronting the peace tower.

"Even if it a mighty blow by Bucko McDonald should break a window in the prime minister's office, I know Mr. King won't mind. He's a good sport himself."

Bucko McDonald of Parry Sound constituency, the former N. H. L. star, will pitch for the "Sluggers."

Purported Statement Used In Lynching Trial

By ROMNEY WHEELER

Greenville, S.C., May 15 (AP)/ —The State of South Carolina called up as evidence today the purported unsworn statement of the man alleged to have been identified by four fellow defendants as the shotgun executioner of a Negro lynched Feb. 17 by a mob of Greenville taxi drivers.

The statement is that alleged to be signed by Lieutenant Carlos Hurd, 45-year-old cab dispatcher, one of 21 defendants in a mass murder trial growing out of the slaying of Willie Earle.

The prosecution yesterday offered seven purported statements by persons who have indicted Shumpert in the lynching. Four of these statements named Hurd as the ringleader who shot over the writhing, bleeding Negro and fired three shotgun blasts to his head.

Earle, who has been arrested and accused of fatally stabbing a white taxi driver, was found at dawn Feb. 17 in a lonely roadside ditch.

Before the shotgun blast ended his life, the prosecution says, he was brutally beaten with clubs and gun butts, and was savagely slashed with knives until chunks of flesh were gouged from his body. He had been taken earlier from Pickens County jail by a mob.

The seven purported statements are read to the jury yesterday over defence objections, relating to one of 21 defendants in a murder trial growing out of the slaying of Willie Earle.

The prosecution yesterday determined to lynch the Negro suspected of the stabbing of T. W. Brown, 45-year-old Greenville cab driver.

Circuit Judge V. Robert Martin has allowed the statements as evidence, but has reserved the right to decide later whether they may be considered by the jury in all counts.

Madoc

Gordon Brett Formally Received Into Ministry

Madoc (Special) — Mother's Day was observed by the congregation of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church at the Sunday morning service. The minister, Rev. J. G. Murdock, gave a fine address. Special music was rendered by the choir, Margaret McCoy taking the solo part.

As customary the Baptismal service formed part of the Mother's Day program with John Charles Curteseo, Eughena Blanche Brolley, William Thomas Brolley, Carol Anne Armstrong, Bruce Ernest Fitzgibbon, Robert Hodgen and John McCaffrey, Shirley Ruth McCoy being baptized.

On Sunday evening, Rev. Mr. Murdock preached his farewell sermon to St. Peter's congregation. Special music by the choir with Mrs. Ken Nicol and Mrs. R. McCoy taking the duet. Mr. Murdock plans to continue his studies at Princeton University.

On Monday evening a special ordination service was held in the church for the ordination into the ministry of Gordon Brett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brett, Madoc; Rev. J. G. Murdock gave the address and Rev. Mr. Kidd of Gananoque, moderator, ordained Mr. Brett. Rev. Mr. McDonald of Kingston and Rev. Mr. Walker of Stirling were also present. On behalf of the St. Peter's congregation, Mr. George West presented Mr. Brett with a Bible.

Following the service a social time was spent in the school room with the ladies of the congregation serving refreshments.

Rev. Gordon Brett will have charge of a mission field in Nova Scotia this summer accompanied by Mrs. Brett and their little son Peter. We plan to leave for the field in July.

Foxboro

Foxboro.—A pleasant time was spent at the home of Miss Verna Sherry on Wednesday evening, when pupils of the Senior's B.S. Class, with their teacher, Mrs. Hodgen, and some neighbors and friends, assembled to honor one of their number, Miss Doris Scott, bride-elect, with a kitchen shower in ivory and green enamelware. Games were played and a large basket containing the prettily wrapped gifts were presented to Miss Scott by Miss Verna Sherry and Miss Hazel Dafoe. Miss Scott graciously expressed her thanks. Refreshments were served.

Mr. Harry Dafoe is still under the doctor's care.

Mrs. Keith Hamilton, Patsy and Bobbie, of Harrowsmith, spent some holidays with Mrs. Hamilton's mother, Mrs. Sherry, at the parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Daniels were Sunday evening guests at Mr. Joe Meggihson's home, at Bayside.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tummon and Patricia spent Mother's Day with Mr. W. Sine.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parks, Hay Bay, and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Denyes of Plainfield, spent Mother's Day with Mrs. J. G. Sills.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Montgomery and Miss Shirley Montgomery of Toronto, were Saturday evening guests at Mr. W. Hodgen's home. Mr. and Mrs. R. Boomhour and baby, also spent Saturday evening at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clarke and son, also Mr. and Mrs. P. Hobbs were Sunday guests at Miss Amelia Clarke's home.

Miss Irene Atkins of Frankford, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Sills.

Guests on Mother's Day at the home of Mr. Fred Prindle, Plainfield, were Mrs. A. Shaw and Mr. R. Yorke.

Mrs. Hick's Group of W.A. ladies met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Carmen Bamer's and Mrs. Shorey's group on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. M. C. Reynolds.

A large number of school pupils attended the Sutners' circus in Belleville on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dafoe and Miss Phyllis Dafoe, of Kingston, spent Mother's Day at Mr. Ollie Dafoe's.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Baxter, (nee Doris Scott), who were married recently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hodgen and Eileen Jackson, spent Sunday evening at Mr. Fred Yorke's of Gilead.

A large congregation attended the Sunday morning service in the United Church when a Mother's Day program was conducted. The front of the church was made attractive with cut flowers. A beautiful bouquet of flowers was presented to the oldest mother, Mrs. W. Prentice, by the C.G.I.T. groups.

Rev. L. Shorten delivered a timely address, "And so we Made Mothers", and during the service called for the rite of Baptism when the following children were baptized: Keith Richard Bamber, Sharon Elaine Reid, Anne, Darlene Hamilton, David Phillip Harry, Catharine Lillie Hubble and Donald Evan Geddes Tummon.

Sunday evening a junior choir from Holloway Street United Church in Belleville, under the direction of Mrs. Don Rose and assisted by some of the younger members of the Foxboro choir, supplied music and assisted with the service.

Centenary

Mother's Day Service

Centenary.—Mother's Day service, under the auspices of the Sunday School, was held at the church on Sunday, May 11, with a large attendance. Mr. R. Edmondson, assistant superintendent, conducted the service with Rev. A. C. McAllister delivering a special Mother's Day address, emphasizing the importance of family life for the forming of the character of the rising generation. The choir rendered a suitable anthem, and five of the young mothers of the congregation contributed a special number.

Miss Doreen Hall very capably related a story for the younger members of the Sunday School.

Before closing the service Mr. Edmondson expressed a few remarks on how best to keep Mother's Day throughout the year.

The minister administered the rite of Baptism to David Thrasher, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Thrasher, and to Alice Noble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Nobes.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Harry of Johnstown, spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. M. Nobes, Mr. Nobes and family.

Mr. H. Holton left on Sunday to accept a position as machinist with the C.N.R. in Toronto.

Mr. Doug Harder of Sunderland and Mr. J. J. Watson, of Toronto, were visitors in this district on Sunday.

Miss Doreen Hall spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. L. Hall and Shirley.

The Y.P.U. met at the church on Friday evening.

A number of the Junior Farmers attended a special meeting at Sidney Baptist School on Thursday evening, when arrangements were made for their Calf Club and officers elected for the year: President, Keith Sills; Vice President, Bob Burkitt; Secretary-Treasurer, Bruce Holton; Club Leader, Douglas Harry; Provincial Agriculturist, Harry Burns.

Madoc

Madoc.—(Special)— On Wednesday evening following the regular choir practice at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lewis, the members of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church choir had a very pleasant social gathering for their minister, Rev. Mr. Murdock, who is leaving the pastorate of St. Peter's congregation. Mr. Willcocks regret of the choir members for their minister's removal, while Mrs. Mabel Clarke presented the minister with a leather wallet as a token of the esteem and appreciation of his work during his pastorate. A social cup of tea was served by the hostess assisted by the lady members of the choir.

Dr. W. Harper of Toronto spent a day recently in Madoc renewing acquaintances.

Mrs. A. Smith of Belleville was Ilam Hawthorne, Sr., in an impromptu speech, spoke of the a visitor in Madoc recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Drinkwater, Miss McDermid and Miss Silvester attended the Queen's Alumni annual banquet of Peterborough district in Peterborough on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanderwater spent the weekend with their son Milton and Mrs. Vanderwater at Moira.

Mount Archibald Named for Agricultural Leader

The man who directs the extension of Canada's northern agricultural frontiers has been honored by the Geographic Board of Canada, which recently gave his name to this Yukon mountain. Mount Archibald, shown here are the 8,400-foot peak and Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of Experimental Farms Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, for whom it was named. An outstanding leader in experimental agriculture, Dr. Archibald directs the operation of 27 experimental farms and stations, 13 sub-stations, four laboratories, 155 illustration stations and 32 district experimental sub-stations. In recent years the Experimental Farms Service has been expanded by the establishment of experimental sub-stations in both the Yukon and Northwest Territories for the study of northern agriculture. Located in Latitude 60 degrees, 45 minutes, 00 seconds, Longitude 137 degrees, 51 minutes seconds, Mount Archibald overlooks the experimental sub-station at Mile 1019 on the Alaska Highway.

Textile Workers Maintain Pickets At Two Plants

By BERT ALLEN

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Lachute, Que., May 15. (CP)— The strike pot simmered quietly here as Acadian Textile Day hailed day, as interest shifted from the strikebound Ayers Limited Textile mill and Dominion Shuttle plant here to another front, in Montreal.

Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.) pickets maintained their patrols about the two plants in this industrial town, but 50 miles away in Montreal the Union pressed further blasts against company and provincial government officials and scheduled a mass meeting to discuss the strike, called for wage boost of 15 cents an hour.

Madeleine Parent, storm petrel of the Union of Textile Workers of Canada (C.C.L.), organizer and acting Canadian director, was slated to address the Montreal rally, held under the auspices of the Quebec committee for the defence of Trade Union rights.

In a statement from Montreal last night, Miss Parent defied the provincial police sent to strikebound Lachute by Premier Duplessis of Quebec, and asserted the Union would fight to the finish, undeterred by what she termed mass arrests by provincial police recently and in front of the gates of the textile plant.

R. Kent Rowley, Canadian head of the U.T.W., appeared in court at nearby St. Jerome yesterday and was remanded to May 21 on charges of intimidating employees from working and obstructing police.

An undetermined number of employees still were at work in the two plants, but commanding estimates of about 400 loyal employees of the more than 600 varied widely from the Union's estimated 125.

Death Toll In Indian Riots Now Totals 16

Lahore, India, May 15. (Reuters)— Lahore opened this today for the second consecutive day as the death toll in communal disturbances in this walled old city, capital of the Punjab, rose to 16.

Seven more persons injured yesterday died today, sure one French sniper-fired gunshot wounds was admitted to the hospital this morning.

In the Mandi gateway area, one of the main trouble spots in the city, police fired on rioting crowds and fresh cases of arson were reported.

Earlier police had fired six rounds when rival parties in the same area fought with cricketbats and bottles of explosives. Municipal firemen were attacked when fighting resultant fires.

In the northwest frontier province a 24-hour curfew was imposed today at Tank in the disturbed Dera Ismail Khan district after an unoccupied house of a Hindu had been set on fire, a government communique reported.

Five Overcome By Fumes In Dairy Plant

Hamilton, May 15. (CP)

Three of five women overcome by ammonia fumes in a dairy plant here yesterday were discharged today from hospital, where they were detained for overnight observations. Two others had been discharged after emergency treatment.

The women — Mrs. Wilma Pearce, 20, Dorothy Hamilton, 36, Mrs. Josephine Pelts, 24, Bernice Buchinecki, 21 and Edna Parker, 26—were taken to the hospital after the top of an ammonia compressor blew off in the plant of Silverwood's Dairy, Limited.

Spreading quickly throughout the building, the fumes sent employees racing for the exits, a number of them being assisted out by firemen from the city's east end companies, it took more than three hours to entirely clear the plant and offices of the poisonous fumes.

As a precautionary measure, numerous employees were taken to hospital for observation but only five women admitted.

EYE TRANSPORTED BY PLANE CORNEA TRANSPLANTED

Los Angeles, May 15 — (AP) — Twenty minutes after a child died in San Francisco, one of its eyes was flown here and the cornea transplanted to the eye of a 32-year-old woman almost blind since early youth. Dr. George P. Berry, who performed the transplantation, said the woman was "doing well" but that two or three weeks would be required to determine whether she will regain full use of her eye.

Grand River Rises 10 Feet at Galt

Galt, May 15. (CP) — The Grand River rose again yesterday as the result of a cloudburst in the Fergus area and the outflow from the Belwood Dam. The river rose about 10 feet here in a few hours.

Water seeped into some cellars of river buildings here but no serious damage was reported. For a time the Brantford Highway just outside the city's southern limits was under water for a short time but not sufficiently to halt traffic.

With the closing of the gates at the Belwood Dam the level of the river dropped more than eight feet during the night and was back at Spring normal flow today.

Study Being Made Of Fish Life

Sudbury, May 15 — (CP) — Believed the most comprehensive study of fish life ever attempted throughout the world, thousands of game fish are being netted, tagged, inspected and returned to the waters of South Bay here, in the first step of a mammoth program, which will extend over the next five summers.

The primary object of the project, sponsored by Lands Minister H. R. Scott, is to study the relationship between game and coarse fish, and also to determine whether netting of coarse fish for market has a deterrent effect on game fish.

The plan is being supervised by specialists of the Provincial Department.

Error in Paper Amuses House

Ottawa, May 15— (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott threw the Commons into an uproar when he called attention to the fact that the Brantford Daily Expositor had published a picture of premier Duplessis of Quebec under the caption "Hon. D. C. Abbott the dry after the federal budget was brought down. Mr. Abbott said that in justice to Mr. Duplessis and himself he felt he ought to draw attention to the error.

Ontario's Bleak Labor Picture Eases Slightly

Toronto, May 15 — (CP)—Ontario's troubled labor picture eased slightly today with the settlement of two strikes which had tied up production.

In Toronto, 130 crane and steamshovel operators who had stalled work on 50 construction sites accepted offers by general contractors to meet their demands for between 20 and 25 cents an hour increase "half way". In spite halting the projects, the operators' strike threw several hundred non-union workers out of work. The operators were represented by the Hoisting Engineers' Union (A.F.L.) in their 3-day stoppage.

At Kitchener, 70 striking employees of the Globe Furniture Company, members of the National Union of Furniture Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), ended their 17-day strike last night. A new agreement assured them eight cents more an hour, three paid yearly holidays, a union security clause and two weeks' holiday with pay for workers with 10 years' service.

Elsewhere the picture remained largely unchanged. At Windsor four building projects were picketed by employees of Dinsmore McIntire, Ltd., striking for 15 cents more an hour.

At Kingston, while five contractors signed new agreements with striking employees, the Building Contractors' Association issued an ultimatum to 325 members of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (A. F. L.) either to return to work by May 19 or face the declaration of an open shop. The strikers want 20 cents more an hour.

Hamilton still saw $2,750,000 worth of construction tied up on two building sites by 25 striking members of the Operating Engineers Union (A.F.L.).

Two centres, London and Fort Frances — still hid to crystallize their labor positions.

Unionized city hall employees at London decided they were considering strike action but attended a meeting last night to determine their position after the city had deleted the Rand formula and a compulsory check-off from a proposed agreement.

At Fort Frances, employees of the Ontario-Minnesota Pulp and Paper Company who are members of the International Brotherhood of Pulp Workers had voted for strike action to get 14 cents more an hour. June 13 was mentioned as possible date for the strike if demands are not negotiated by that time.

COURT REMANDS CASE

Chicago, May 15 — (AP) — Merlin W. Frigglin testified in Federal court that his landlord's sons attempted to drive him and his family from their apartment by beating down the bowling concrete, and, finally, by obtaining a police ordered eviction by 9 p.m. to 7 a.m.

The sons, Nicholas and Joan Avergines, 20 and 19, respectively, charged with disorderly conduct, denied the charge. Judge Edward J. Luczak remanded the case to June 11 for an investigation.

HAD WEAK, NERVOUS STOMACH LIMBS, BACK PAINED BADLY

"Entire System was Run-down," Says This Woman, Got Bad Headaches, Dizzy Spells, Fatigued Feeling. Praises Syntona for Grand Results.

To persons who suffer from stomach disorders, constipation, nervous irritability, tired, run-down feeling or aches and pains throughout the body, this message will be of special interest. It is typical of many men and women who have found prompt, effective relief by using a short treatment with Syntona. This Compound and comes from a very well known woman, Mrs. Emma Aldrich, 554 King St., London, Ontario.

"I don't know what I would have done without Syntona," said Mrs. Aldrich. "A few years ago I was suffering with a weak, nervous stomach and my entire system was run-down. I was having continual misery with bloating, gas, sour stomach and acid indigestion. I had bad headaches and dizzy spells. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep, so I felt unequal to all the duties of life. After taking everything I knew of without getting relief, I started using Syntona, so I got busy and began using it. In a surprisingly short time I was feeling 'tops' with it, until eventually I was able to eat any meals without any discomfort afterwards, the aches and pains had all gone away, I was free from dizziness, sleeping well at night and generally feeling fine. Ever since then Syntona has been my favorite medicine and I am glad to tell others so. I don't feel right if I don't have a bottle of Syntona and in a short time I am all right again. Syntona is a grand medicine and I am glad to tell others about it."

Liberals Meet In Toronto To Select Leader

By FRED KENNER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, May 15 (CP)—With their slogan "a leader and victory in Ontario," a record number of delegates to the Ontario Liberal Association annual meeting and convention gathered today to start a full two-day program the highlight of which is selection of a leader for the provincial party.

Registration was expected to reach the 1,500-mark as hundreds of voting and non-voting delegates poured into Toronto this morning to hear news that the field in the leadership race had narrowed to five candidates. The convention also looked forward to an interesting battle for the association presidency.

A routine business meeting this morning will be followed by meetings of the various district associations to elect members to the various committees, Election of officers is slated for this afternoon. Main speaker at tonight's dinner will be Hon. Lionel Chevrier, Federal Minister of Transport.

Party policy discussion is on the agenda Friday morning and election of the party leader is slated for Friday afternoon.

Committee Meetings Held

Yesterday the management, resolution, credentials, organization and striking committees held their initial meetings.

The five names most prominently talked of for the party leadership now are Farquhar Oliver, Liberal of the party's 13-man opposition in the legislature; Allan A. Lamport, Toronto alderman and former member of the legislature; Don Lewis, former mayor of Brockville; William Gunn, former party organizer and defeated candidate for the Federal House; and A.P. Cadeau, organizer of the young Liberal Association in the province.

Prominent Liberal sources both here and in Ottawa are of the opinion that Mr. Oliver, a member of the legislature since 1926, will most likely win the leadership. Nomination close at 10 a.m. Friday.

Interest in the association presidency reached a peak yesterday and five names were most prominently mentioned among at least a dozen. These were Norman Hipel, Russell Farrow of Windsor, and Colin Campbell, George Bagwell and Daniel W. Lang, all of Toronto.

Stormy Session Of Council Held

Toronto, May 15 (CP) — A stormy session of nearly New Toronto council terminated today when a council member asked members of a Ukrainian delegation whether or not Communists planned to bomb the Parliament Buildings in Ottawa.

The verbal altercation began when a delegation from the United Canadian-Ukranian Association appeared before the council to protest allegations levelled against them for teaching Communism to Ukranian school children.

"What is your opinion of Premier Stalin and the Moscow government?" Reeve W. E. MacDonald asked the delegation. There was no answer and a member produced a picture of the Parliament Buildings taken from the Ukranian text book.

"Do you mean you are going to bomb it?" Reeve MacDonald asked

GOLD STRIKE REPORT

Sydney, Australia, May 15 — (Reuters) — An unconfirmed report from Kalgoorlie, Western Australia, said that a rich strike had been made at 300 feet in the Iron Duke gold mine and free gold was showing on the seam face.

The mine is owned by Gold Mines of Kalgoorlie and is on a stretch known as the "Golden Mile."

Globe Explains Editorial Error In Today's Issue

Ottawa, May 15 (CP)—Veterans Minister Mackenzie said yesterday in the Commons he plans to subpoena George C McCullough publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail to appear before the Public Accounts Committee to substantiate charges made in an editorial in yesterday's issue.

The editorial dealt with the sale of land formerly held by Japanese and sold to veterans of the Second World War.

Walter Tucker (L—Rosthern), parliamentary assistant to Mr. Mackenzie, denied that the lands had been sold to veterans at exhorbitant prices.

Mr. Mackenzie said that as he was attacked personally in the editorial he planned to have Mr. McCullough subpoenaed "to substantiate if he can—and he cannot—the vile, foul and malicious statements made in the editorial."

Later, Arthur Smith (PC—Calgary West), a member of the Public Accounts Committee, said he thought the committee was able to conduct its business "without direction from the minister or his loquacious assistant."

Mr. Mackenzie retorted that the House rules give him the same right to appear before any committee since a minister was the "creature" of parliament.

Replies Editorially

Toronto, May 15 (CP)—The Globe and Mail replied editorially to Veterans Minister Mackenzie's announced plans to summon its publisher George McCullough before the Commons Public Accounts Committee to substantiate "the vile, foul, malicious, statements" the minister said were contained in a Globe editorial May 14.

Entitled "For the Minister, no Regrets," the editorial explained there had been a error in part of the original article dealing with the sale of Japanese-Canadian property in British Columbia's Fraser Valley . . . still more shocked by the vastly increased amount obtained by the Veterans' Land Act Administration when it resold the land to veterans."

This should have read: ". . . still more shocked by the vastly higher amounts obtained by the custodian of enemy property when he sold parts of the land to private bidders."

Regret was expressed for the error but with this change the paper stood by its original statement and its suggestion that a Royal Commission sift the whole matter (of property sales) to the bottom."

The editorial also disclaimed any personal attack on the minister and said the original article contained nothing to provoke his "imperial outburst." All the editorial had suggested, the Globe said, was that Mr. Mackenzie be asked to "explain how the Order-in-Council authorizing the government's dishonest appraisal of the land value got past the cabinet."

Outdoors Writers To Visit Ontario

Toronto, May 15 — (CP) — Leading American outdoor writers and publishers of 24 newspapers will take part in two Ontario tours sponsored by the Department of Travel and Publicity, Travel Minister Arthur Welch said Wednesday.

Eight U. S. writers will leave Toronto May 22 for a 2,700-mile combined fishing and canoeing trip into famed sports centres of Algonquin, Timagami, Quibell, Minaki, Lake of the Woods, Sioux Lookout, Nipigon and Chapleau.

The other group will tour resort centres in the Lake Huron, Georgian Bay, Muskoka, Haliburton, Toronto, Long Point, London and Essex districts.

The visit of the writers to the north and northwest is designed to give them "material for publicity break," the minister said.

Bit of Soil Mould May Provide Antidote for Flu

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Philadelphia, May 15—(AP) — A green-and-black soil mould that shows promise of furnishing a drug remedy for influenza was announced to the Society of American Bacteriologists here Wednesday.

There are vaccines for flu, but no drugs that specifically cure it. The mould shows some specific curative effect on chicken embryos and mice with influenza. It has not been tried on humans.

The report was made by Doctors A. J. Liebman, D. Perlstein and G. A. Snyder, of Schenley Distillers Corporation.

The stuff that inhibits the virus that causes flu came from a bit of earth. Just where the earth came from the authors of the report said they did not know. It was one of numerous samples of soil from all over the world. Since penicillin and streptomycin now used as drugs came from soil, many laboratories, searching for new wonder drugs, have samples of dirt sent them from all parts of the earth.

At the Larchmont laboratories the 47th sample of dirt yielded the mould that seems to produce an antidote for flu. It was named LL-47. Lab standing for Larchmont laboratories. "About 50 research workers are working in laboratories going day and night on experiments with the new mould.

The fact that the origin of this mould is not specifically known will make no difference if it should prove a remedy for flu, since each portion of the original sample would furnish sufficient "seed" for all purposes.

What particular mould is an aspergillus, which grows on grains, sometimes is black, sometimes green, sometimes black. There are thousands of different strains of this mould.

Life Imprisonment For Killing Woman

Montreal, May 15 — (CP)—A King's Bench court jury convicted Paul Emile Laplante, 42, of Shawinigan Falls, Que., of manslaughter yesterday for the strangulation slaying of his paramour, Madeleine Desrochers, and Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazer pronounced sentence of life imprisonment.

Laplante, a married man with several children, had confessed that the Montreal stenographer died after he strangled her with a dressing gown belt. He said Miss Desrochers, pregnant three months before her death last February, had insulted his wife and he became provoked and lost control of himself.

Miss Desrochers was found dead in a Montreal hotel several days after death. Laplante, who had registered the couple as Mr. and Mrs. Laplante, had returned to his Shawinigan Falls home but left a note for police with his address.

During testimony Laplante said Miss Desrochers was married previously but lived only two weeks with her husband. He said she had another lover and that when he first met her he saw her only one night in the middle of each week because she reserved weekends for her husband.

The case was given to the jury on Tuesday but after 30 minutes the jurors returned to the crowded courtroom and the foreman said they had been unable to agree on a conviction on a charge of murder. He sought further legal advice concerning manslaughter.

FREIGHTER CREW DISAPPEAR

Lisbon, Portugal, May 15—(AP) —The 600-ton Portuguese freighter Portucale disappeared mysteriously with her crew of 16 off the Portuguese coast early Tuesday, leaving only oil slick on the water. Ships and planes searching in the area after hearing the Portucale's S S said the ship either struck a mine or exploded.

Frame Warehouse Collapses On Its Foundation

Result of a combination of the effects of soft ground, spring pools and the stiff west wind which was blowing, the large frame warehouse formerly used by the International Harvester Company in the Station and Emily Street district, collapsed from its foundation during Tuesday night.

The building is owned by J. B. Boyce and Sons Ltd., and had been leased to Swift Canadian Company and the International Harvester Company.

Representatives of the owner today said cause of the collapse was that the posts under the structure had shifted in the soft earth and the entire building dropped to the ground. The building is still standing but parts of the roof collapsed.

The building had recently been used as a warehouse by the Swifts and by Stewart-Warner-Alemite, the latter firm subleasing from the Harvester company.

Huge Flocks Wild Geese Fly North

(Special) — Wild geese have been travelling north over the weekend in great numbers. On Saturday flocks flying at 2,000 feet were reported, and about 9 a.m. on Monday one of the largest flocks was seen flying somewhat lower. Known

The 31st annual Goodwill meeting of the Kinsmen Club of Marmora was held in the form of a dinner meeting at the Royal Hotel when Proprietress Mrs. H. J. Reid and her staff supplied the gathering with an excellent dinner.

President Jack Reynolds was toastmaster. Prior to the dinner the Kin Song was sung and at its conclusion the Royal toast was submitted by Kin. Carl Whitemore. Guests were then introduced. After which a short business session was held. A letter was read from the Marmora Home and School Association soliciting support for the latter's sports projects. It was agreed that full support would be forthcoming.

Kin. Jack Aitcheson proposed the toast to the World Council.

Kin. Mike Corrigan read a message from Arnold Schaldt of Seattle, Wash., president of the World Council. Steeve B. E. Neal, who was present as a guest, then presented the Special World Council membership certificate to President Jack Reynolds on the club's behalf. The guest speaker of the evening, introduced by Wes Richardson of Toronto, was Harry Lyons, chairman of the York Rehabilitation Council, a Kinsman and veteran of First World War. The speaker gave a stirring address on Canada's past, present and post-war conditions. He was extended a standing vote of thanks by Secretary Percy Gray.

H. & S. Association.

The monthly meeting of Marmora Home and School Association, was held in Marmora public school on Monday evening, Mrs. Reynolds presiding over a splendid attendance. Among letters read by Mrs. H. Sharpe, secretary, pro-tem, was one from the Peterborough council asked for a representation from Marmora at the rally to be held in that city on May 30th, when Dr. S. R. Laycock, native son of Marmora, will be the special speaker.

The other letter from Marmora Branch of the Canadian Legion, requested the branch's donation of $100 to the association's sport fund.

Appoint Supervisors.

Mr. M. Regan, newly-appointed convener of the sports committee, mentioned the supervisors of the different sports and asked the court order the permit granted.

son; softball, T. Dickson; basketball, H. Forbes; football, I. Sproul; Hockey, J. O'Neil.

Mrs. R. Prentice for the hospitality committee mentioned her members as being Mrs. F. C. Burwash, Mrs. W. D. Lavender and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Neal.

For the membership committee, Mrs. M. Dickson indicated that she was supported in this by Mrs. J. Sproul, Mrs. F. Graft, Mrs. J. W. Hickey and Roy Smith.

Don Maretl, convener of the program committee, mentioned that the others on it were Mrs. E. M. Cadigan and Messrs. E. C. Prentice and G. Hunter. W. J. Cottrell, Hogarth Sahine and J. Sproul compose the publicity committee, according to the report of the first named as convener.

Reports on Interview.

Mr. W. J. Cottrell then gave the report of the special committee which interviewed the Public School Board regarding suggested improvements, and after summarizing these, gave the reply of the board that such were considered reasonable and would be dealt with. Speaking for the sports committee, W. M. Regan referred to the appointment of a finance committee in connection therewith and concurrence from the association was forthcoming. Those on the committee are, chairman, W. M. Regan; treasurer, Mrs. D. Marett; members, W. D. Lavender, R. Wright, Mrs. W. M. Regan and E. C. Prentice ex officio.

To Hold Field Day.

Mr. Regan mentioned that other service organizations in the village had been approached for financial aid to the sports projects besides the Legion. The motion was carried that the June meeting take the form of a day for parents and children. The attendance of parents and grandparents, according to the Pioneer children, was taken with honors going to Mrs. R. S. Bosley's room.

The program which followed consisted of three vocal numbers by four boys and four girls of the primary grades of the public school, presented by Miss R. Stringer. As a guest speaker Dr. W. J. Donovan discoursed interestingly on "Some Aspects of Public Health."

Refreshments were served at close of the meeting.

Personals.

TORONTO PARKING RAN MODIFIED

Toronto, May 13 — (CP)—Toronto's downtown parking ban, centre of much controversy involving business men, motorists and councillors, has been modified after brief debate yesterday. city council accepted a recommendation by controller H. E. McCallum which provided for 30-minute parking on one side of certain downtown streets between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Successful farmers know the value of modern scientific fertilization for their grain, hay, pasture, root, and small fruit crops.

Phosphate is a primary need of select spring grown grains and tests have also shown that fertilized pasture lands provide more cheap feed than any other crop.

Why pay out good money for grass and clover seed and neglect to provide the fertilizer required to ensure a good crop?

This bank is interested in helping progressive farmers to succeed. If you need money for a Farm Improvement Loan, or for any worthwhile purpose, come in and talk over your plans.

World Large Enough For Both Judaism And Christianity

Toronto, May 15 — (CP) — Judaism and Christianity can best serve the world by reaching the maximum spiritual strength within their themselves and by not attempting to absorb each other, Dr. Felix A. Levy, Rabbi of Emanuel congregation in Chicago, told 120 Toronto ministers of many denominations assembled at the Institute on Judaism here.

"Let us not 'together,' urged Dr. Levy, "but that doesn't mean that we should become Christians or Christians become Jews. The world is big enough for both."

Dr. Harry Bland, chief of several Christian ministers present, in commenting on the appeal, declared, Jews are superior practically and the world is better by keeping them."

The Kibitzer

Sauffin D. Head is no longer on speaking terms with his wife. But he is still listening. She keeps telling him that he could have made six spades with the cards shown here:

NORTH
♠ A Q
♥ A K 8 5
♦ A 10 5 2
♣ A Q
WEST	EAST
♠ J 10 9 5	♠ None
♥ 10 9 6 4	♥ Q J 10 9
♦ 9	♦ K Q J 8 7 6
♣ J 10 9 6 5 2	♣ K 8 7
SOUTH
♠ 7 6 4 3 2
♥ 7 3 2
♦ 4 3
♣ 4 3

The bidding went like this:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 H	2 D
Pass	Pass	3 NT	Pass
4 S	Pass	5 S	Pass
6 C	Pass	6 S

The opening two bid by north if a forcing to game signal if no bid intervenes, partner must bid. The idea is that neither one of the partners permits the bidding to die short of game.

If a bid intervenes, the bidding is kept open. Even if the next two players pass, one of the partners has another chance to bid. Any sure intervening bid gives the next player a chance to pass.

What happens when a player opens with a bid of two? If there is no intervening bid, partner bids two no-trump if he has no sure trick. This is known as a denial (of a sure trick) bid.

But suppose there is an immediate intervening bid. How can the partner without a sure trick show such a hand? Simply by passing.

After such a pass to show no sure trick, south bid four spades to show his spade suit. This suddenly encourages north to go to a slam in that suit. But he is not certain it should be only a small slam.

So, his five no-trump asks partner how many kings he has. The six club reply says he has no kings. This decided north that a grand slam would be much too dangerous.

West led the singleton diamond. Can you tell south how to plan for his 12 tricks? Consider a plan whatever you can.

SALVAGED SHELL KILLS 8

Manila, May 15 — (AP)—Eight persons were killed and two injured Wednesday when a 155-mm. shell, salvaged from the ocean by a fisherman, exploded and destroyed three houses at Sacolod, Negros Island.

COUPLE OF MINOR CHANGES MADE BEFORE DEADLINE

(By The Associated Press)

Except for lopping off some veterans, and incorporating youngsters from their roster and making a couple of minor pay-per swaps, the Major League took the May 15 deadline in stride today and as a result not a transaction of any consequence took place.

However, several clubs, notably Philadelphia's Phillies, Cincinnati Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates have been sounding out the clubs and may swing a deal within a day or two.

Although the May 15 deadline ruling stipulates that each club roster must be reduced to the 25-player limit plus five so-called wo men out of uniform, less than one year, the actual deadline does not come until June 15.

Only two clubs picked up some playing strength during the last 48 hours, the Phillies acquiring Outfielder Jackie Albright from Boston Red Sox for a reported $25,000, and Washington Senators purchasing utility outfielder Tommy McBride from the Red Sox for an unannounced sum and outfielder Feltz Mac-kewicz from Cleveland Indians for a reported price of $10,000. Players old to International League clubs include First baseman Ed Steven of Brooklyn to Montreal Royals, catcher Dewey Williams of Chicago Cubs to Rochester Red Wings, Cincinnati Reds' pitcher Ken Lehman to Syracuse Chiefs, shortstop Ralph Hamner of the Phillies to Baltimore Orioles, and St. Louis Cardinals' infielder Vernal (Nipper) Jones to Rochester.

The Movie Column

By RON GADSBY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

It appears that Bob Hope and Bing Crosby are coming into their own.

Their first film to be produced by B.K.O., will be entitled "The Adventures of the Bobby-Soxer" and will tell the story of an irascible father and his response to the antics in the fat heels. In the film Thomas Loy and Shirley Temple, recently at odds, will have leading roles and Harry Davenport will play the wise old man. Oh yes, girls, Carey Grant will co-star with Shirley Temple and Miss Loy.

The recently issued annual report of the Ontario Board of Film Censors bears food for thought. Among other things, the board suggested children be segregated in theatres to prevent their being molestation by adults and the idea appears sound. Another item they approved was the use of the term "adult entertainment" for certain films deemed unsuitable for children.

On the surface, it sounds commendable and for most clear-thinking persons, offers a guide to proper entertainment for their children. However, it is our opinion that the tag line is sometimes overdone.

Many films carry the segregation sign, that shouldn't carry it. The movie companies, notably quick on the uptake, weigh a basic quality of human psychology and recommend the line because they know that what people think they shouldn't have, they often want.

We suggest care should be shown by the censor board in allowing the use of the title, and if it is used, the kids should be kept at home.

If you are troubled with insomnia, or merely like to suffer quietly by all means see the George Raft, Lynn Bari picture called "Nocturne". It is a mystery story in which a composer, who apparently was better off dead anyway, gets killed—shot, you are led to believe, by one of his many female admirers.

Raft, as the detective who suspect murder from the start and not suicide, as the crime is first set to look, ultimately gets his man. Lynn Bari is the chief suspect and after four tedious reels of ponderous perplexity, he takes her home to mother as an honest woman.

1,333 MORE THEATRES

Brampton, May 15 — (CP)—A total of 1,333 motion picture theatres in Canada employ more than 11,000 persons, with an annual payroll of $10,000,000, Arch Jolley, secretary of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners Association, told the Lions Club here yesterday. The industry, which started with a nickelodeum in Ottawa in 1896, last year paid the government more than $14,000,000 in amusement taxes, said Mr. Jolley.

Freddie Hutchinson, Tigers, Beginning to Pay Back Money Detroit Paid for Signature

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

It took him a long time—nine years to be right—but fearless Freddie Hutchinson, the pictures pitched finally delightedly as he took like the great hurler he was supposed to be when the Detroit Tigers handed over $75,000 for his signature.

That was in the winter of 1938 after the then 23-year-old right-hander in his first try at professional baseball, had won 17 games and lost only seven in the Pacific Coast League.

Hutchinson suddenly lost his stuff and won only three games in nine decisions for the Tigers, and while he won 26 games and lost seven for Buffalo in the International League in 1941, the war came along and Freddie played baseball in the United States navy. He came back last year; in with 14 and lose 13.

Today Hutchinson rates right on top of his performances. He won his fifth successive game last night after losing his first start of the season, defeating Washington Senators at the Capitol City 3-2.

The Tigers broke a 2-1 tie in the ninth by pushing over the deciding run. Eddie Lake walked and raced to third on George Kell's single. He scored as Roy Cullenbine forced Kell.

The triumph enabled the Tigers to maintain their same margin over Boston Red Sox who won their eighth game in a row by whipping six Joe Dobson limited Chicago White Sox to eight hits for a 5-1 triumph.

Blasting Murry Dickson and Ken Burkhart for six runs in the third inning, New York Giants made it five straight by whipping Cincinnati Reds 6-4, Topping by Willard Marshall and Walker Cooper led the attack which gave rookie Larry Jansen his second straight win. Ron Norther hammered his fourth homer for the Cards.

Tom Tatum, purchased only yesterday by Cincinnati from Brooklyn, helped sink his old Dodger mates for the second straight day by lashing a home run as the Reds downed the Dodgers 5-3. Recently Blackwell, last year's shutout leader in the National League, pitched his first whitewash job of the season for his fourth triumph.

GIFT COSTS RECIPIENT

Windsor, May 13 — (CP)—A gift restaurant cost its recipient more than $100. Ernest Rupert, 22, did some work recently for a man who operates a "bridal shop" in Detroit, and gave him a wristwatch. Yesterday he was fined $100 and costs on an unlawful possession of a wrist watch subject to customs duty.

Sports Roundup

By ALAN HARVEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, May 13 (CP)—With Aaron, Skyes and Armed Kirk Pace, Milwaukee Braves overtake Whitewash as the leading money-winner of all time.

Hank Aaron's triumvirate quietly wages a small-scale struggle to overtake Whitewash, Whitewash, or leading money-winner, Whitewash.

Beau of the West held the lead for a few days, but he caught up ago Tulachmore, a son of Wacky More owned by W. E. Macaulay. Yesterday, each his total to $87,090 for a temporary place in the West.

Klagarvik Kingarvik

Now the leader is Klagarvik, a Teddy Wrack product owned by R. S. McLaughlin of Oshawa. Kingarvik, winner of the 1942 Derby Plate, picked up $17,175 in the Hollandale Handicap at Gulfstream Park in Florida April 10 to boost his lifetime earnings to $62,615 . . . At first glance that mark seems safe, for Tulachmore is out of racing and Klagarvik as a four-year-old will have plenty of opportunities to increase his bank account.

Western Threat.

But there are at least two contenders on the Eastern Windfields, four-year-old son of Busty Lawless, and Lucky Laude, the Western Canada from the union of Bypass II and Silver Dime . . . In the Windfields colors, owned by R. P. Taylor of Toronto, has piled up $76,415, as I smidgin more than the $43,935 Gum Laude won in slightly more than four racing seasons starting as a two-year-old in 1943.

Lucky published than other Canadian breds because most of his outstanding races have been run on the West Coast. Gum Laude has been dogged by tough luck during much of his career but his time of 1:46 3-5 for the 1 1-16 miles is a Santa Anita record.

STREET CAR RE-ROUTED

Toronto, May 13 (CP)—A Toronto Transportation Company street car was re-routed to a hospital as George Milligan suffered a heart attack on the car. However, Milligan was pronounced dead on arrival at hospital.

MANPOWER ECONOMY IN ARMY

London, May 14 — (Reuters)—War Secretary Bellenger announced in the House of Commons yesterday that he had appointed a committee to investigate manpower economy in the British Army. The committee, headed by Sir Ronald Weekes, former deputy chief of the Imperial General Staff, would make recommendations on methods of achieving the greatest possible economy in manpower without detriment to the basic functions of the army, he said.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK.

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor.

Whitie John Kitzis was hayraising like a wolf all the week about that five-straight decision he got from Referee Billy Watson, Manager Wall Coast took the verdict with his usual fat calm but rather than if he wanted a return match. Kalsaid yes, he did, but he thought that could be heard in Naples. While Coast is right on the ball with "Okay Mr. Katan that's last time Watson wants too or rather both he have Again on Friday."

Katan didn't really get pinned twice in fact he didn't get pinned at all last week. The first fall came by way of a disqualification and the second when both men were nearly counted out on the floor. Whip just managed to leap back in time and on the count of three winner by two-straight but actually we can't count them as falls except for the record.

Now the grim-visaged Katan is out for revenge. That British Empire title will be at stake and there is big money that what would please Katan most would be to actually damage the dapper Watson. "Nobody ever has taken the like that" rumbled the Calgary Eye-Opener "and I will fix this fancy-dan this time if I have-to bust something to do it." For a man who rarely says much talk much and who always means what he does and that prophecy bodes plenty of ill for Billy. Mat fans here will be interested to see what Bulldog Drummond can do against boys like Hy Lee the Ozark Giant. They meet in the semi final and Al Korman wrestles Pat Flanagan in the opener.

The Canadian National Railway War Veterans have officially entered a team in the Peterboro Softball Tournament slated for Lifford City on Sat. May 24. This was decided at a special meeting held last night. It was rumored that there is a possibility of the Peel Avenue squad taking in the tournament which dangles a prize purse of $200 and $100 for teams placing first and second.

* * *

The team has had several workouts with Johnny Bawden going well on the mound in the comeback trail by Jimmy Dunn, and Marty Balloran will make the trip and Don Boyle will likely get an invitation to go along.

A new baseball league arrangement has been made here with the announcement of the formation of the Belleville Service Club League. The loop comprises teams sponsored by the Kinsmen, Kinettes, Kinsmen and Optimist clubs. Presidents of the clubs are Tom Smith; vice president, Fred Sommerville; secretary, Ernie Keller, and executive members, Keith Schriber, Dick Hart, Cliff Hewitt and Archie Boyd.

A handsome trophy has been donated to the league by Don Williams, well-known business man and the kids will have something nice to play for. The league is for boys 17 years and under. The city has been zoned off and one team allotted to each zone.

* * *

The players will be given numbers and baseball fate. Practice has been called for Monday and Wednesday and all boys under seventeen are requested to turn out. Application forms may be secured from Fred Symons' Tobacco Shop, Front Street.

* * *

Wrestling fans down around St. Louis way are all agog over a new wrestling grunt and feature that has been playing around that part of the world. Central figure is a nine-foot alligator weighing 456 pounds which is said to have any human his weight over or under. His wrestling partner by the name of Gil Woodward's pet Dan Hagara in his last tussle with the gator and new assistant reader by the name of Tuffy Trussdale is exercising the big lizard. According to rumors prevalent in this district, there is a strong possibility that the feature will be brought to Toronto and Belleville. More later.

Sweepstake Winner Gets Many Requests

Toronto, May 13 — (CP) —Requests for money have been pouring in to Russel Love here by letter since he won a $100,000 first prize in the Irish Sweepstakes more than a month ago.

The requests are more than the prize, Mrs. Long said today. Some of the requests, she added, "brought tears to our eyes. I did not know there was so much misfortune in the world."

EMPIRE YOUTH SUNDAY

Toronto, May 14 — (CP)—Empire Youth Sunday, founded at the coronation of King George in 1937, will be observed this year throughout Canada and most of the British Commonwealth on May 16.

In Australia it will be observed June 1 to coincide with the arrival there from New Zealand of Maj. F. J. Ney, founder of the movement.

As in past years the day will be marked by youth parades and special church services.

Montreal Royals Will be Given First Chance

(By The Canadian Press)

Thorncliffe and Dufferin, two Toronto race tracks, have joined with Woodbine Park in agreeing to pay the $1,350 minimum purse to compromise offer of the Canadian division of the Horsemen's Benevolent Protective Association — a compromise between their original demand of $1,500 and the Ontario Jockey Club's $1,200 offer.

Racing — from May 17 to 24—will take place at Woodbine. Thorncliffe will open its gate May 26, but no agreements have been made for racing at Fort Erie, Hamilton, Fort Erie and Stamford track.

W. A. Hewitt, registrar and secretary of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said last night in Toronto that Montreal Royals would have first chance to represent Canada at the 1945 Olympics. He said the senior amateur champions who won the title by defeating Calgary Stampeders last Monday night, if they wished, could carry Dominion honors at the Olympic Winter Games in St. Moritz, Switzerland. February, 1948.

Stan Thompson, Smiths Falls bowling star, picked the last of the final game of the season to set a new local record for the senior men's league bowling league Tuesday night with a 978 score.

Clint Hartung, New York Giants much-publicized pitcher will make his first try as a mound ace starting this season against Chicago Cubs at Chicago today.

Bud Ward, veteran member of the United States Walker Cup team, shot a brilliant 70 over the St. Andrew's course Wednesday; the lowest score returned by a member of either the U. S. or British teams in more than a week of practice for the International team matches starting on the Scottish course tomorrow.

BACK TO PRIVATE OWNERSHIP

Toronto, May 14 — (CP) — First emergency housing project to be turned back to private ownership, Trinity apartments in West Central Toronto, housing 97 families, has been transferred to its owner by city council. The move was attacked in council Monday by Controller D. A. Balfour who warned that the city should not attempt to save money at the expense of families of former servicemen.

GROCER IS FINED

Port Credit Ont., May 14 (CP) — A grocer in this Toronto suburb was fined $50 and costs today or 30 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to having failed to account for 600 butter ration coupons since rationing of the commodity began in 1942.

The grocer, Harold McKinney failed to appear in court but wrote the magistrate that he was willing to plead guilty.

JOHNNY GRECO MEETS WEBB IN TWELVE-ROUNDER

By STU THOMAS

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Montreal, May 15.—(CP)—The stage is set and the canny customers are watching the late odds go public. Johnny Greco and Jackie (Scrappy) Webb go through the last motion and get ready to square off here tomorrow night for the battle of the year, the 12-round set-to for the Canadian welterweight championship.

It's brawn against speed, rock-laden fists against a weaving, bobbing bundle of tricks as the city of Montreal, the windup in their training before the battle for the heights, Johnny took from Dave Castilloux last year.

A record crowd is expected to pour a record gate surpassing the $50,000 Greco-Castilloux haul, into the coffers as the champion defends his honor against the little Negro flash, who holds the Dominion lightweight title.

Greco, pride of suburban Notre Dame de Grace, did some shadow boxing, rope skipping and beating the bag around yesterday, but he won't match gloves with any sparring partner until fight time. He isn't taking any chance of getting cut too soon before the ring lights go up against the windmill-fisted Webb.

Greco probably will be a few ounces under the 141-pound welter limit at weight-in time, while Webb won't scale much more than 139 or 140.

The dusky scrapper isn't worried about that weight disadvantage, though. He figures Greco won't be able to keep up the pace for a full 12 rounds, trying to land solid blows against a section of greased lightning, and that the point will go to Mr. Webb whom that happens.

Greco, never a strong finisher, doesn't think he'll have to box the full 36 minutes. His campaign plans call for a quick end to the doing.

Local Racing Pigeon Club Wins Honors

The race schedule of the local Racing Pigeon Club began the past weekend with Belleville members taking the top honors. The weather was of the best at the liberation time but wind out their training before the battle for the heights. Johnny took from Dave Castilloux last year.

JIMMY GOODWIN TOO MUCH FOR TORONTO LEAFS

(By The Associated Press)

Two New York major league club properties, both southpaws, are making a creditable showing in the International League.

One of them is Marino Rizzo, Yankee mound hero of the 1943 World Series who was sent down by Newark Saturday after encountering trouble with a calcium chip in his elbow. The other is a newcomer to the circuit, 31-year-old Jimmy Goodwin, making a name for himself with Jersey City Giants the farm club of New York Giants.

So far this year Russo has won three low-hit games and just one, having handed out only 23 hits in 23 innings.

He limited the Royals to five hits yesterday as the Bears won at Montreal, 2-1. The victory sent Newark into second place behind Jersey City and dropped the Royals to fourth place.

Goodwin, a left, International league's leading hurler, chalked up his sixth straight victory without a defeat when he outpitched the Maple Leafs 4-3 at Toronto last night.

Wet ground and cold postponed the other two scheduled games, Baltimore at Buffalo, and Syracuse at Rochester.

Organized Labor's Influence With Congress is Low

By JACK BELL

Washington, May 15 — (AP)— Organized labor's influence with the United States Congress stands at its lowest point in more than a decade today.

There are strong indications that stern action on union activity may be written into law even over a possible presidential veto.

The 68-24 vote by which the Senate approved its bill providing for extensive regulation of organized labor's activities in the United States almost exactly matched the percentage by which the House of Representatives on April 17 voted a much more stringent measure.

In the House, opponents cast 85.8 per cent of the 308 to 107 vote. In the Senate, the registering is 71 per cent.

This core of support, representing only about one-fourth of the membership of the two Houses, marks a sharp decline from the days when unions could stop in one House or other almost any legislation they regarded as punitive.

Failing in that, they could muster the needed support to sustain a veto.

The prospect that this year's bill will find its way into the law books was enhanced, but by no means assured, in the Senate's vote Tuesday.

In the first place, a Senate-House conference committee must work out a compromise version. If it follows the trend so that many House members would like, leaders unquestionably will be able to force its acceptance by both Houses. But the chances that it would be vetoed by President Truman would be increased.

A milder edition, more in line with that approved by the Senate, apparently would encounter less risk of a veto.

Truman has kept his own counsel about what he intends to do.

But if he vetoes the measure he finally receives, Capitol Hill undoubtedly will witness the most intensive campaign in years by organized labor and administration leaders to get the veto sustained. It requires two-thirds approval of those voting in each House to override.

26 Injured As Tornado Wrecks Trailer Camp

Findlay, O., May 15 (AP)— A tornado that ripped through the eastern side of this city and wrecked a trailer camp left at least 26 persons injured Wednesday.

Police and volunteer workers were combing the debris to be certain if there were any more casualties.

No one was killed when the twister struck this northern Ohio city at 4 p.m. yesterday but within two minutes smashed 43 trailers and damaged three others.

IT'S "DAFFODIL BLOOM" TIME IN CANADA

Daffodil time has come again, and at Port Credit, Ont., John T. Snow displays three acres of the flowers in full blossom. The bulbs were brought from The Netherlands. This photo shows a portion of one of the fields of the blossoms, as Herta Bryan, in peasant dress, carries an armful of freshly cut flowers.

Sonata Wins Youth Scholarship

Toronto, May 15 —(CP)— A striking modern sonata for piano written with "great strength and brilliance," has won for 18-year-old Clermont Pepin of Quebec the major scholarship award in the composers, authors and publishers association competition for the second year in succession, it was announced here.

Pepin who now is a student at the Toronto Conservatory of Music on the C.A.P.A.C. scholarship he won last year, will continue his studies in Toronto under the provisions of the competition award. The scholarship is worth $750.

Second prize in the senior competition, open to students under 22 years old, was awarded to John Beckwith, a fourth year student in music at the University of Toronto. A native of British Columbia, Beckwith entered a piano work entitled "Four Concepts comprising a series of miniatures and "Two songs —from Shakespeare's 'Twelfth Night'" for solo and chorus. The award is $150 in cash.

The $50 third prize went to Alan Detweiler of Toronto, a second year philosophy student at the University of Toronto, for a work entitled "Sleep" written for alto and baritone voices and piano.

Paul McIntyre of Hamilton was first prize winner in the junior division, open to students under 16. The $25 prize was given for two works, a sonata for violin and piano and a song entitled "Trade Winds."

Second prize went to Howard Fairclough of Hamilton, a white nine-year-old Patsy Parr of Toronto was third prize winner.

Of Pepin's prize winning piano sonata, the Judges said it contained original harmonies and the indication that his future compositions may lean more to the musical aspect than to technics, showmanship."

RETURN CHINESE MARBLE LIONS

Tokyo, May 14.—(Reuters)— The Japanese government will return to China this week two marble lions, erected six years ago at the Hirohitan War Memorial because superstitious Japanese believe they brought bad luck. The people point out that the lions' arrival coincided with the start of the war against the United States and that, although Hiroshima was the first target for the atom bomb, the lions remained unscathed.

WILL HONOR DRESDEN

New York, May 15. (AP)— Some 200 Brooklyn Dodger fans who otherwise wouldn't be caught dead" in Yankee Stadium will travel across the East River tonight to honor Yank Coach Chuck Dressen on the occasion of the ending of his 30-day suspension.

The Brooklyn friends of Dressen, formerly a Dodger coach, will present him with a diamond ring before the Yanks meet Connie Mack's White Sox.

Dressen is returning for the first time since Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler hube de cision that also banned Brooklyn Manager Leo Durocher.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Stan Musial, Cardinals—Went hitless in four times at bat after returning from an appendicitis siege as Cards lost again to the Giants, 5-4.

Jackie Robinson, Dodgers — Made two of the Dodgers' four hits off Ewell Blackwell, in four times up, both singles.

Mickey Vernon, Senators — Hit a single and double and scored one of Washington's two runs but Nats lost to Tigers 3-2.

Ted Williams, Red Sox—Walked twice (now 32 bases on ball for the season) and went out other two times up as Red Sox downed White Sox 5-1.

PITCHING AND BATTING STARS

Pitching, Ewell Blackwell, Reds —Pitched a four-hit shutout over the Dodgers, winning 2-0.

Batting, Tom Reed — Reds — Slammed a home run against his former mates and walked twice to help the Reds down the Dodgers.

BETTER LIVING

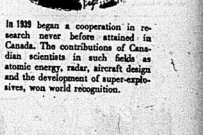
TODAY ALL CANADA is benefitting from the tremendous impetus given Canadian scientific research during the war years.

In university, research foundation and industrial laboratories, increasing numbers of Canadian trained scientists are working on projects which will make for better Canadian living. Staffs of the National Research Council laboratories have increased four-fold since 1939. Their activities are being maintained at the same high level as during the war—but now devoted to the needs of peace.

Research workers today are constantly opening up new fields of Canadian endeavour, giving wider scope for Canadian skills.

Organization of graduate schools by Canadian universities in the early years of this century marked the first important advance of research in Canada. The National Research Council was established in 1916 for the encouragement of scientific endeavour on a national basis.

Science in Canada before the war had already to its credit several achievements of world significance—among them, Rutherford's original work on radio-activity, Saunders' development of Marquis wheat, Banting's discovery of insulin.



In 1939 began a cooperation in research never before attained in Canada. The contributions of Canadian scientists in such fields as atomic energy, radar, aircraft design and the development of super-explosives, won world recognition.

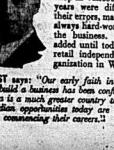
"OPPORTUNITIES TODAY...GREATER THAN EVER"



ALEX FORST with his brother Edward took over their father's modest little hardware shop in Vancouver 17 years ago. The early years were difficult, but, profiting from their errors, maintaining sound policies and always hard-working, they slowly expanded their business. New lines were regularly added until today they operate the biggest retail independent house furnishings organization in Western Canada.

MR. FORST says: "Our early faith in Canada as the country in which to build a business has been confirmed and strengthened, but as Canada is a much greater country than when we started out, so too Canadian opportunities today are much greater than ever for those now commencing their careers."

Love Will Come Again

CHAPTER 16

Gay threw up her hands. "This is a fine time to come to your senses," she smiled ironically. "In a hospital. Coming around here and announcing a sudden decision to take over a job you should have taken over six years ago."

Hill snapped "That's neither here nor there! Don't rub it in."

Gay hoped she could reason with Hill. She said soothingly: "Oh, Hill, dear, let's talk this thing out. Come on, Hill. Like a couple of grown ups. Let's not bark at each other."

He sat down, squaring his chin for battle, and said practically: "If you're taking over as you say, what do you plan to use for money? April hasn't any. She has put every sticke she earned from radio back into the music school. I have raised up in his chair angrily "I suppose you think I can't earn money."

"It's been a long time since you have." Gay reminded him. "You certainly can't take care of these bills if you spend your days on a golf course."

"I can turn pro, can't I? Hill reminded her. "I can coach golf can't I? Why can't I take over an estate on Long Island and turn it into a golf club and use my name to make money?"

"How long do you think all that will take?" Gay said patiently. "Meanwhile what's to be done about money to take care of April?"

Hill leaned forward. "Well, for your information, before I came up here just now I deposited fifteen thousand dollars with the superintendent of the hospital, and told him I would be responsible for my wife's bills."

"Fifteen thousand dollars!" Gay gasped. "Where did you get fifteen thousand dollars! You—you didn't—you wouldn't borrow it from Dru."

Hill winced: "Lord, you must think I'm a heel! Of course I didn't borrow it from Dru. A New York lawyer has been trying to buy the family home outside of Roanoke for two years and I wouldn't sell it. I went to see him today and told him he could have it. Cash on the line for fifteen thousand. If he took it today. He wrote out a check, and I brought it to Doctor Malcolm. That ought to take care of De Witt's crew of white haired boys from Boston, at least."

"You've sold Hillcrest," Hill snapped. "Now I guess you know I mean business. But you must promise me one thing."

"What is that?" Gay asked, dazed with the sudden turn of events.

"That if April gets well you'll never let me know I've done this. Swear it on your word of honor."

"But why? Why don't you want her to know?"

"I'm not doing this to show off," Hill said gravely. "I'm doing it because I owe it to my wife. I've treated her rotten, and I'd like to make up a little of it—if I can."

"Oh," Gay choked. "I wish April could hear Hill. It would help her so happy."

"It's a little late for me to turn noble," Hill snorted. "When my wife may be dying, if you please me, you can't imagine how much more I despise myself. I'd like to ease my own conscience a little. That's about all the good all this will do now, I guess."

"Oh, Hill," Gay pity. reached out her hands in a gesture of pity. "I don't know what you mustn't despise yourself."

"If April dies," Hill got up and walked to the window, "I'll always blame myself. I'll never get over it. Never."

"What have you had to do with April's illness?" Gay said. "That's nonsense."

"She was going to work to support my son when it happened, wasn't she?" Hill said miserably. "Driving through the snow and ice to make a broadcast. If this hadn't all happened, she would have been at home where she belonged on a stormy night like this."

"Don't dramatize things so!" Gay said sensibly. "That won't help matters any. It's fate, I suppose. Look at it that way."

Hill left the window and sat down again, facing Gay.

"You'll tell Pe Witt," he said, defiance creeping into his voice again. "That you're over. Serve notice on him that the Hillyers don't accept charity from strangers. That we'll pay our own doctor bills."

"I'll tell him." Gay nodded, feeling suddenly ill with dread at talking it over with Curt. "Mr. De Witt should be back any moment now."

Hill got up and took his hat from the table beside him.

"When I'll leave for the time being, so the coast will be clear. I'd tell him myself, only I might lose my temper."

"You must stop," feeling that it can."

"Stop nothing," Hill said. "I'm through. I'm going to the hospital and tell De Witt I'm ready to operate. Then I'm going to Dru's apartment to get a drink. I know what has happened our engagement was announced, I was kidding, and she took me seriously."

"Really?" Gay's eyes flickered with amusement. "Well you certainly played a joke on yourself, didn't you?"

Hill realized suddenly he had revealed too much that he hadn't meant to reveal. He said abruptly:

"That remains to be seen. Well, I'm going to have some dinner and do a little more thinking. I've got to figure this thing all out. I'll be in my apartment if you need me. And remember, not one word to April—ever—about all this."

Gay nodded: "I promise."

Hill disappeared down the hall Gay herself got up and went into the front room. Never in her life had she ever dreaded any ordeal so much as telling Curt De Witt that she thought it advisable to withdraw to the sidelines and let Kent Hillyer assume the responsibility of taking care of April. But she knew it was useless to defy the new Hill.

Curt arrived a few minutes later. He said sinkingly into a chair wearily:

"Fortunately I met Hillyer in the elevator. They need him for another transfusion, April is sinking. Dr. Halling is afraid—"

Finally word came from Dr. Malcolm that after the second blood transfusion, April had rested.

Hill did not go back to his apartment that night, but upon the insistence of the doctor was put to bed in the hospital. It was apparent he was cracking under the strain of giving so much of his blood to save April's life, and Gay saw over which it was to be all in vain.

Gay could not bring herself to talk with Curt about Hill's outburst after the dinner, when they were sitting dejectedly over demi tasse in the restaurant across the street from Channing Hospital.

Curt seemed so depressed that Gay almost decided she would wait till next day, but she knew if she slept over it the ordeal would be only the more difficult. Then too, there might be an unpleasant encounter with Hill, which she dreaded almost worse than anything else.

Finally Gay put down her demi tasse cup and said hesitatingly:

"Curt there's something I must tell you. I don't know how to begin—"

"What is it, Gay?" Curt looked up tiredly. Don't be afraid to tell me anything it is necessary for me to know. I think by this time I ought to be able to take it. Don't you?"

His attempt to smile was a very poor one. Gay's eyes filled.

"You've been through so much, Curt, and I hate to add to your worries. It's about Kent Hillyer—"

Curt stiffened. What about Hillyer?"

"I had a long talk with him this afternoon," Gay sighed. He seems to have awakened to his responsibility to a belated sense of responsibility toward his family. He demands that you withdraw from the scene and let him take things over. Financially, I mean."

Curt said unsmilingly: Has he the money? I thought he was broke."

"He has been," Gay said. "He got all his fortune invested two or three years after he and April were married but he sold Hillcrest, the family home in Virginia, this afternoon and took the fifteen thousand dollars and deposited it at the hospital with Dr. Malcolm."

Curt crushed out his cigarette: "So that's why Malcolm wanted to see me early in the morning! I thought he looked confused when he asked me to come to his office at 8:30."

Curt ran his hand over his face nervously. "Fifteen thousand dollars won't take care of the bill if April has to stay in the hospital for months. With specialists, a nurse around the clock, oxygen tent—all the things she must have if she is ever to be normal again. Oh, what the—devil is the man thinking about?"

Gay smiled wrily: "He even threatens to go to work. Then she sobered. "The poor darling means it too. I feel sorry for him. He's almost crazy. I'm sure he loves April just as much as ever. It took this awful accident to wake him up."

Curt said shortly: "It's high time something did. But it's unfortunate he had to discover he has obligations right now. Just in time to interfere with what we are trying to do for April."

Gay signed: "It certainly is the wrong time. But I don't know what we can do about it."

Curt lit another cigarette, his face grim. Then he said heatedly: "I won't have it! I have the right to take care of her. She is going to be my wife, and looking after her is my job. He had the chance once and he made a mess of things and broke her heart."

Gay said unhappily: "I know how you feel, Curt. I'm so sorry to have to tell you this."

Rawdon

Rawdon, (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thrasher of Wellman's and Mr. and Mrs. Don Sharp of Campbellford, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest White one day last week.

Mount Pleasant folk were sorry to hear of the disastrous fire which destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin at Bethel.

Miss Lorne White spent last week visiting friends at Fort Colounge, Quebec.

The Mount Pleasant Anniversary Committee met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Weaver and plans were made for Sunday, June 8th, at 11 a.m., and 7.30 p.m.; with Rev. Harold B. Neal of Lindsay, as guest preacher. The sum of $400 will be asked for repair on the church.

Many donations for the Chinese Relief from Rawdon circuit should be handed in some time between May 15 and 31. The need is great and all gifts will be appreciated.

Rev. N. Cole received word last week of the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. N. Morgan, Glace Bay, N.S. Mrs. Cole has been visiting her sister since March.

Mrs. Percy Sidmore, Mr. and Mrs. Sidmer Demorest attended a shower on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan in honor of their son, Vincent and his bride.

A large number of Mount Pleasant folk attended the funeral on Thursday of Mrs. Frank Williams. The bearers were Messrs. Charles Heard, Will Heard, Elwood Johnstown, Will Potts, Roy Thrasher and Earle McAdam.

Born —To Mr. and Mrs. Ray White, Bannockburn, (formerly Hilda Shaw) on Sunday, May 4, a daughter.

Mr. Thomas Mills, Northport, was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Potts.

Mr. and Mrs. Selbourne Shaw and Mr. Harry Sharp, Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Sharp, Frankford, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Manning were recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest White.

Miss Annis Holmes, of Madoc, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes.

Mother's Day Service.

On Sunday evening, May 11, the Sunday School held their annual Mother's Day service, based on the theme "Record Therefore Honor to Whom Honor is Due".

The superintendent, Mr. Rod Hoard, conducted the service and Miss Lois Weaver presided at the piano. Several Bible readings were given. The offering for the Religious Education Council was accepted by Messrs. James Hoard and Frank Spencer. Mrs. Burton Sharp contributed a solo, Mrs. Raymond told a story of "The Happy White House on the Hill".

Mrs. Merle Spencer told of how Solomon honored his mother.

Rev. N. Cole gave an interesting address on "The Value of the Family Pew". When children sit in church with their parents it is an act of respect to father and mother and gives real value to ideal worship. Boys and girls grow up to have a deep respect for their church which is of great benefit to them in later years.

Madoc

D.D.G.M. Visits Madoc Lodge

Madoc —(Special)— On Monday evening Mrs. May Davidson of Coronation Chapter, O.E.S., Lindsay, acted as District Deputy Grand Matron, O.E.S. of District No. 12, paid her official visit to Madoc Chapter No. 143. Following the organization of the work put on by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Alma Kernahan and Worthy Patron David Kernahan and their officers, the D.D.G.M. paid high tribute to all officers for the very efficient manner in which they filled their offices.

Mrs. Davidson was presented with a gift from the Chapter as a memento of her visit to Madoc Chapter by Associate Matron Mrs. Myrtle Derry. Short addresses were given by W. Patron Mr. Hendrie of Peterborough Chapter and Mr. Davidson of Coronation Chapter, Lindsay. Visitors were present from Minerva, Belleville; Trenton, Alnwick-Haldimand; Bancroft, Havelock, Peterborough, Tweed and Lindsay.

Following the close of Chapter a social hour was much enjoyed. Mr. Hendrie of Peterborough entertained with vocal numbers accompanied by Miss M. Robertson.

Tweed

Tweed (Special) —Mother's Day was observed at St. John's United Church Sunday morning with a very large congregation present the choir assisted by the Junior Choir, led in the singing of the special hymns. The choir rendered as the anthems "Still Still With Thee," with the Junior choir appropriately rendering as their anthem, "Bless This House." There were eleven children baptized at this service, with Rev. A. S. Sisco in charge. He told the parents of these children that every child has a right to be well born; and that these children may remain close to Him, who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me," and forbid them not for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Mr. S. B. Rollins returned home from the General Hospital in Kingston on Monday, much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davison and baby of Toronto were week-end visitors at the home of Mrs. Davison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Connor. Miss Edith Davison sister of Mr. Davison and Joan Connor of Toronto, also visited at this home.

His head bandaged, George Duifield, 22, grins wanly from his bed in Bellevue Hospital, New York, as he holds the eight-inch portion of a 35-inch steel rod that was removed from his brain—rag at right shows how deep the rod was buried. The welding rod dropped from an upper-floor when Duifield walked in front of building, penetrated skull to his jaw. Police cut the rod away two inches from his head.

PEARKES URGES SINGLE CANADIAN MILITARY CHIEF

'Great Lesson' of Second Great War Implied Necessity of Joining All Departments

By GEORGE KITCHEN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, May 16. (CP)—A spirited opposition demand for the unification of the direction and planning of Canada's three armed forces under a single chief of staff today was a part of the record of a debate-filling Commons budget debate.

It was placed there last night by both Hon. Anthony Mai-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., (PC Nanaimo) who wound up the debate from the field of finance with an address in which he declared that the "great lesson" on the Second World War implied the necessity of "unification of planning and direction at the top now".

Gen. Pearkes, military spokesman for the official opposition, expressed approval of the government's intention to amalgamate the three defence departments under one minister but said there had not been streamlined enough to modern conditions.

When Gen. Pearkes criticized the government on the defence front, R. W. Mayhew, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, himself a Conservative for Victoria, B.C., upheld its financial policies, asserting that the budget had encouraged the Canadian people by showing a surplus and indicating that the national income would increase by $1,000,000,000 during the coming year.

The debate was enlivened when Maurice Harth, newly-elected Liberal member for Montreal-Cartier, entered with a fiery maiden speech in which he charged that Hazen Argue, CCF outspoken Social Credit member for Weyburn, was a "menace" to Canada and drew from Solon Low, Social Credit leader, a statement that if Mr. Harth could prove this he would "read" Mr. Jaques Cartier.

Superfortresses In Mock Raid On New York City

New York, May 16 (AP)—More than 11 B-29s, the most powerful bombing formation ever assembled in the United States, streaked over the skyscrapers of New York at 12:31 p.m. EDT today.

A total of 138 Superfortresses took off from dispersed and distant bases for the target run over New York and subsequent streaks over Newark and Trent, N.J., Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore and Washington, D. C.

A communication plane reported that 130 of the big four-engined planes made a rendezvous with split second timing over Cape May, N.J., at 11:56 a.m. EDT, then laid a straight course of 130 miles to New York for the full-dress training review of the country's heavy bomber strength.

The B-29s roared overhead in "stacked" formation, ranging from about 2,500 to 4,500 feet altitude and painting a sky area about two miles long and 1 1-2 miles wide.

Reason for the long -range mission to the east as officially stated here were several, including:

To remove combat efficiency of the S.A.C.

To find out if it is ready to intercept by fighter planes as many as 140 superfortresses comprising a "unified striking force" capable of going anywhere in the world and dropping anything, including atomic bombs.

To demonstrate to the American people that the air force is recovering, even if slowly, from demobilization days.

Takeoffs from some of the most distant points took place shortly after midnight to enable the B-29s to make flights of almost 2,000 miles from certain fields and arrive for the rendezvous at precisely the right minute.

LAHORE SITUATION WORSENS AS RIOTS CONTINUE

Panic Prevails in City, Troops Called Out And Police Patrols Strengthened

New Delhi, May 16 — (Reuters) —The situation in Lahore, capital of the Punjab, worsened today when communal rioting in its 3rd day spread in new areas inside the walled city.

Fresh fires, involving arsonists were reported almost hourly. A number of shops and houses fell victim to the new flames.

A dispatch this afternoon said: "Panic prevails in the city."

Troops were called out and police patrols strengthened.

Sir Evan Jenkins, Punjab governor, was said to have told a deputation of non-Moslem league leaders that strong measures would be adopted to quell the disturbances.

A 144-hour curfew was imposed in Tank, northwest frontier province, May 14, but was increased following the firing of a temple and a house.

A curfew was imposed on the town yesterday after an outbreak of arson.

Meanwhile Viscount Mountbatten, the Viceroy, is waiting for instructions from London about his plans regarding the date for talks with British government officials on plans for transfer pf power to India.

The Lady Mountbatten flew to Delhi from Lahore at midnight to be available for the 8:30 p.m. departure of the Viceroy and his party for London.

Liberals Endorse Lowering Voting Age to Eighteen; Two Amendments Defeated

Norman Hipel of Preston New President of Assoc.

By FRED KERNER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, May 16. (CP)—A 1,500-word statement of policy was adopted today by the Ontario Liberal Association in convention here with but two suggested amendments, both of which were defeated on the floor of the House.

Highlight of the decisions, the form was the endorsation of lowering the franchise age to 18.

Heated discussion arose on the labor section statements which suggested "one-week" vacation with pay after one year's service. J. J. Carroll of Toronto, moved that this be added to and sought inclusion of a 40-hour, five-day week clause, six statutory holidays a year with pay, and outlawing of company Unions.

After long discussion a vote was taken with less than 10 persons showing hands in support of the amendment. A second amendment, this one in the public welfare section, sought endorsation of a $40-a-month minimum for old age pensioners. However, A. A. Lamport, chairman of the committee said it was out of order as the whole committee of the Liberal campaign in the Indian Summer. The amendment was defeated.

The policy covers 17 major points.

Another major plank concerns abolition of the "deans" Test for the Old-Age Pension and urges co-operation with the Federal government so that pensions will be paid next winter at the age of 65 and men at 65.

In a general statement of policy attached to the recommendations, the committee said:

"As to the general economic policy, we do not believe in public ownership of industry and business. However we do believe in public ownership of those industries which enjoy special privileges and perform public services which do not operate in the public benefit under free competition."

Divided Into Sections

The policy was divided into the following sections: education; labor; agriculture; public welfare; youth; mining; lands and forests; tourist industry; agriculture; municipal affairs; labor; highways; hydro; Dominion-Provincial relations; administration of justice; finance; civil service; liquor; municipal; and the franchise.

The general policy outline further says that it favors the encouragement of industrial strife by the adoption of profit-sharing and co-partnership where management plans was to be encouraged.

Resolution on agriculture covered 22 points with support of the principle of floor prices for farm products as the highlight. Other recommendations were control over marketing boards to organize into commodity groups; establishment of a research branch; increased agricultural education facilities; and amendments of the Farm Loans Act so as to ease terms to co-operatively.

The resolution on rural education made it necessary that a separate minister of education be appointed. The principle of equal pay for Equality is also sought in education and agriculture fields, as well as the establishment of equitable minimum salary for teachers.

Deserving but needy students would be given assistance and programs of cultural and adult education would be instituted.

Norman Hipel of Preston New President of Assoc.

By FRED KERNER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, May 16. (CP)—Nomination of seven candidates for the Liberal Party leadership in Ontario, today overshadowed the announcement that Norman O. Hipel of Preston, had been elected president of the Ontario Liberal Association.

Highlight of the major portion of the morning session of the O. L. A. annual convention was taken up with adopting a policy platform. Highlight of the policy consideration was a report that suggested that the franchise be extended to 18-year-olds.

Labor Motion Defeated

A motion from the floor suggesting that the policy set forth, for labor included the endorsement of a 40-hour, five-day week and payment for at least six statutory holidays was overwhelmingly defeated.

Voting for the leadership will take place late this afternoon after each of the candidates has addressed the delegates. At the opening of the morning session, the names of the candidates were announced, but due to an error a seventh name was left of the printed list.

The persons seeking leadership of the provincial party are backed by 43-year-old Farquhar Oliver, M.P., who is the Liberal spokesman in the legislature. Two former provincial cabinet ministers are also in the race—Brig. Colin Campbell, former minister of Public Works, and F. M. Dewan of Ingersoll, former minister of Agriculture.

Other candidates for the post are W. A. Moore of Orillia, A. W. Burlington, A. A. Gunn of Toronto, and A. A. Lamport, of Toronto.

Mr. Hipel, new president of the Association, took office this morning to the vocal acclaim of the gathering. A former Speaker of the Legislature and former minister of Labor, Mr. Hipel was elected by acclamation to succeed Peter Heenan of the Province of Ontario.

VALISES, SUITCASES DAMAGED BY BLAZE

A car load of Toronto motorists had a warm reception in Belleville early after their arrival Thursday afternoon.

Parking their car on Bridge Street the party proceeded into a restaurant for a late lunch and after satisfying the "inner" man emerged onto the street to find firemen in attendance at their car.

A passer-by had noticed smoke coming from the front of the Toronto vehicle and when firemen arrived they found a fire in the trunk had considerably damaged several valises and suitcases as well as two ladies' hats which had been in the trunk.

Origin of the fire was not determined by firemen.

On motion of Dave Blackburn and M. Keller, it was decided that the present board of trustees be re-elected from year to year, and their duties taken over by the incoming slate of officers.

The meeting endorsed a further motion that a committee of three be appointed to interview Malcolm Robb, club solicitor, pertaining to what action can be taken to restrain the payment of notes on the sale of the yacht club. The committee named is composed of Messrs. Frank Smith, R. Kelly-way and A. Keegan, with power to act.

Radio Technicians Hold Meeting In the City

A very interesting meeting of Kingston and Belleville Radio Electronic Technicians Association members was held in the Y.M.C.A. Belleville, on Wednesday evening, May 14th.

Guest speakers from Dominion Electrohome Industries in Kitchener were Mr. W. B. Clarke, B.A. and Mr. C. Dahmer. New circuit developments in radio receivers of the above company were explained to R. E. A. members, also operating characteristics and servicing information on the Webster automatic record changer was demonstrated, ten used on two models of the latter Record Changer set up at this meeting.

R.E.T.A. members are very appreciative of getting information directly from factory representatives and owe their thanks to Dominion Electrohome Company for their very helpful lecture.

A Supreme 500 volt meter was donated for a door prize by the Big A Company of Belleville. This is a very useful instrument and the lucky technician to win the meter was Del-mar MacNames of Cartier Bros. Hardware Company of Picton.

A very excellent dinner was provided by the Women's Auxiliary of W.C.A. of Belleville.

This first R.E.T.A. meeting in Kingston and Belleville was very successful with approximately fifty members present A discussion on the affairs of Kingston and Belleville R.E.T.A. Association, their annual picnic jointly met with, arrangements for which committee will include a chartered boat trip through the Thousand Islands for all R.E.T.A. men and their families this summer.

Frank Creeggan Named President Life Underwriters

Bringing to a conclusion a successful years' program, the annual meeting of the Life Underwriters' Association of this district was held on Thursday in the form of a luncheon at the Gold Dollar Restaurant. The election of officers which was a feature of the meeting resulted in the unanimous selection of Mr. F. G. Creeggan as president for the ensuing year. The executive is as follows: Past President, Ralph A. Wright, Canada Mutual Life; President, Mr. F. G. Creeggan, Sun Life; 1st Vice President, Mr. Allan A. Simmie, Great West Life; 2nd Vice President, Mr. J. J. Murphy, Metropolitan Life; Secretary and Press Reporter, Miss Grace Gallagher, Canada Life; Treasurer, Mr. Fred Cook, Provincial Life. Change Name of Organization

The name of the organization of Mr. Don Williams, retiring president who has expressed his appreciation for the support he had received during his year of office and asked for the same loyalty and co-operation, toward the new officers. A vote of thanks to the out town members was cordially extended to Mr. Harry Casey, of Trenton. At this meeting it was decided to change the name of the organization to the "Quinte Life Underwriters' Association."

Mr. Don Williams, speaking to the Dominion Life Underwriters' Association, gave an excellent summary of the highlights of the various addresses of the year as a sume of the addresses of the retiring Dominion President, Mr. Ian Monahon, Mr. Ryrie Smith, chairman of the Board of Directors, Mr. Gordon Scott and also presented the financial statement. Items of interest included the discussions on proposed changes for licensing agents, and the new succession duties amendments. Mr. Williams concluded his very interesting talk with a plea for increased membership. The appreciation of the members was expressed by Mr. A. G. Stackhouse who referred to Mr. Williams' fine work and enthusiasm in his office as president of the local association.

Film Shown

With the assistance of Rev. A. L. Shorten of Foxboro a film "Search for Security" was enjoyed by the gathering.

In presenting the report of the nominating committee, Mr. A. T. Burke referred to the fine record of the retiring year. He called upon Mr. S. Burrows and Mr. George A. Reid, the senior members of the local organization, who gave inspiring addresses.

Mr. F. G. Creeggan, in assuming office, thanked the members for their confidence in him and expressed the hope that he would live up to the standards set by past presidents of the association. Mr. Creeggan outlined suggestions for the coming year's program.

Ed. Lee Appointed Manager Barnes Wines Branch

Eddie Lee, well-known Belleville war veteran and sports enthusiast, has been appointed manager of the Belleville branch of the Barnes Wines Company, it was announced by company officials today. Mr. Lee assumed his new duties today.

Son of Norman Lee, John Street, Eddie is a member of a well-known Belleville family. He joined the Royal Canadian Artillery soon after war was declared and served five and one-half years before he was honorably discharged. He saw 1-2 years' service overseas with the 54th Battery of the 14th Field Regiment, R.C.A.

Prior to associating himself with the Barnes Company, he was a member of the composing room staff of this newspaper, later taking the position of radio licence inspector here.

Eddie is well-known in boxing circles, and in his younger days was a promising middle-weight, engaging in several bouts in the United States and many familiar names of Paul Berlenbach, Mike Ballerino and others. Since returning to Belleville he has taken active interest in the sport here, and has trained several fighters.

Cheddar Cheese Co. Fined Total Of $510 for Breach of Regulations

Allowing an appeal of the Warrime Prices and Trade Board after dismissal of the case by Magistrate Garvin of Kingston last fall, Victor De Lacey, Belleville, fined the Belleville Cheddar Cheese Company a total of $510 plus costs pronounced.

Charges against the cheese company covered the selling of cheese above the maximum price, and failure to maintain records. A fine of $500 and costs was levied against the company when found guilty on the first charge. An appeal on a charge of buying cheese above the maximum was withdrawn by the Prices Board.

Acting as special prosecutor for the Crown was J. D. Arnup of Toronto, assisted by A. B. Collins, K.C., of Belleville, while the defence was represented by J. J. Robinette of Toronto. Special Investigator for the Prices Board was Ralph A. Wright, of Ottawa, Firm Official Testifies.

The proceedings were called by the Crown in the hearing of the charges that the company sold cheese above the maximum. Thomas Ingold Nash, Hart, official of the Belleville Cheddar Cheese Co., who testified as to his experience in the cheese business, Diamond Cheese through temperance-ville, Ontario, Canada. He stated his firm had developed a special process for Cheddar. Cheddar cheese was taken and produced under different product and flavor, and in outside appearance.

He claimed that his firm did not sell cheese at a higher price than in the basic period and also stated that Diamond Cheese should not come under the Cheddar cheese order regarding maximum price.

Thomas J. Hicks, district dairy produce grader for Eastern Canada, admitted Black Diamond Cheese was of high quality and admitted the curing procedure was unusual. He stated he declared that it was still Cheddar cheese.

Records Produced

Ralph A. Wright, Prices Board investigator, produced ledgers and invoices showing that a one-cent per pound bonus had been paid on by the company to the wholesale purchaser. This was declared illegal by Crown Prosecutor Arnup and contrary to Price Board regulations in that wholesale price Cheddar Cheese mark-up was then greater than it should have been.

Total overcharges made by the company and which were revealed by Wright's investigation amounted to $11,570.81 of which $9,927 had been made on straight cheddar cheese sales.

Cheese company officials claimed they had paid this one-half cent per pound buying commission to the purchasing agents as reimbursement for extra labor involved in handling the cheese when there were no cheese these warehouses.

Testifying for the defence, Mr. Hart explained that this one-cent curing purchasing charge, was absorbed by his wholesale customers by agreement. Mr. Hart could not recall when his firm commenced paying the one-half cent buying commission to purchasing agents, but it was brought out by the Crown that the company's business had increased after the commission was paid.

Curing Changes Texture

S. L. Jess, secretary of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Association and also a director of the Belleville Cheddar Cheese Company, told the court that Black Diamond cheese was a Cheddar cheese "in shape only," claiming that the end product was entirely different. He claimed the texture of the cheese was entirely different because of its rapid curing.

Recalled to the stand, Mr. Hicks pointed out that Canadian cheese market in Britain has been built up as result of using the old method of curing cheese. He denied that any different method of curing would change the end product from cheddar cheese.

Only brief evidence was offered by the Crown on the charge of improper investing and no defence was offered by Mr. Robinette.

Fines Levied

In passing judgment on the charge of improper investing, Judge Lane stated he had no alternative but to find that the invoices had been in accordance with requirements under the order. He declared there had been sufficient information on the invoices, however, to enable the investigator to obtain required data in connection with the investigation. "I accordingly assess a minimum fine of $10 and costs," stated Judge Lane.

On the charge of selling cheese above the maximum price Judge Lane declared the court was undecided whether to convict the company when the evidence disclosed that the cheese was actually an increase above the maximum price to the wholesaler. He found that this fine had been a breach of the regulations but stated the company had had little benefit throughout the transaction.

"The Crown's case was right and stuck to their guns when through the investigation," he said. "The fine will be $500 and costs."

Extra Month For Throwing Kittens Into Jail Furnace

Robt. Duffy, former St. Thomas youth, who several weeks ago was sentenced to twelve months in jail for escaping from custody while serving a three-month term, for cruelty to animals, was given an additional month up-on arrival in court Thursday, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of cruelty to animals.

Following his apprehension after his escape from the local prison, Duffy was charged with having burned several live kittens in the furnace of the jail building. The jail cat had given birth to kittens and they were taken to the basement for warmth. Duffy threw the kittens into the furnace.

Sentence of one month given to Duffy by Magistrate Mills will be consecutive to the one year term for escaping custody and the three months term he originally was given on a breaking and entering charge.

Burgomaster Of Vienna Sends Thanks for Food

From the office of the Burgomaster of Vienna, Austria, comes a letter to a city resident who desires to remain anonymous, conveying the deepest gratitude of the chief magistrate of that city for a parcel of food sent his committee for needy Austrian families.

The letter, translated in English says:

"Dear Sir,

"The Mayor of the City of Vienna received your noble-minded gift in good condition and forwarded the same to us as a needy citizen of Vienna are so many.

"We commissioned me to express you the warmest thanks for such human readiness for relief.

"I join with the-expression of my sincerest esteem.

"(Sgd.) "Board of Directors

"(Dr. Santos, Sc.)"

The letter from the writer suggests, shows that food parcels are deeply appreciated and it might serve as a reminder to others who have been intending sending food parcels, but who have procrastinated.

Wages and Hours Demands to Be Made by Packers

Toronto, May 16 (CP)— The United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO) yesterday announced its wages and hours demands which will be presented to the "Big Three" packers—Canada Packers, Burns and Company—and Swift Canadian Company during negotiations in June and July.

After the International Convention of the U.P.W.A. in Cleveland last month, the Union's Canadian Conference approved these demands in addition to amendments to individual contracts:

1. A general wage increase of 15 cents per hour.

2. Elimination of geographical differentials by establishing all wage rates up to the Toronto level.

3. Establishment of an official 40-hour week.

4. A union shop.

Commenting on the decisions, Fred Dowling, U.P.W.A. Canadian director, said: "average earnings in the meat packing industry are below what is considered necessary to maintain a decent standard of living. Increased prices and rising costs were also factors in the decision to request a general wage increase ....."

Negotiations will be opened with Canada Packers and Burns next month and with Swift Canadian early in June.

The Union said it hoped to conclude negotiations before Aug. 1 when present agreements expire.

STRUCK BY SOFTBALL, DIES

Westminster, Md., May 13 (AP) — Samuel Bowman, 17, died yesterday 10 minutes after being struck by a softball in practice at Hampstead High School, coach Frank Mather said today. "Kenny was standing at the plate when the ball came in wild," Mather said. "He ducked, but it hit him in the back of the head."

Newspapermen To Visit England

Toronto, May 16 (CP)—In an effort to interest British manufacturers in Canada, seven Canadian newspaper executives will visit the United Kingdom from May 23 to July 5, explaining through speeches and personal interviews the potential demand for British merchandise.

Members of the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association party leave Canada by air May 24 and will spend three weeks in London before starting June 15 on a tour of the principal cities of Britain.

They will put before British business men the results of a recent C.D.N.A. Research Bureau survey to determine the Canadian attitude toward British goods.

Members of the party are: H. L. Gates, Peterborough Examiner, First Vice -President of the C.D.N.A.; Ray Batford, Sarnia Canadian Observer, and John E. Motz, Kitchener Record, directors; Gerald Seal, Windsor Star Press; George B. Cooper, Edmonton Journal; H. E. McDermid C.D.N.A. general manager; and Duncan MacInnes, secretary and director of research.

The Day in Parliament

(By The Canadian Press)

Today:

The Commons will consider establishment of a committee on human rights.

The Senate will not sit.

Thursday:

The Commons heard Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V. C. (PC—Nanaimo) say the single chief of staff for the armed forces; heard R. W. Mayhew, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, uphold the financial policies of the government; and heard Maurice Hartt (L — Montreal Cartier) charge that Norman Jaques (SC — Wetaskiwin) was a "mencace" to Canada; heard Solon Low, Social Credit leader, say he would read Mr. Jaques out of the party if Mr. Hartt could prove the charge; heard Norman Lockhart (PC — Lincoln) charge that there had been faulty distribution of building materials.

The Senate did not sit.

special kinds of research which no other country in the world has" said Dr. Ross. "We in Canada have the opportunity to stand in the front rank of atomic research."

The evenin dinner of the chemical institute of Canada also heard from Dr. J. D. Cockcroft, director of the British Atomic project at Harwell, England, who superintended the birth of Canada's nuclear research project during the war years.

Dr. Cockcroft said the British establishment "may very fairly be described as the daughter of Chalk River. This daughter, born 12 months ago, is just beginning to grow up."

He said that Britain, is building two low power atomic piles and is planning a high power one similar to Canada's.

An echo of Germany's feverish experiments with nuclear fission sounded in the address of Dr. L. G. Cook of Chalk River, who told the conference that few days' research in the right direction by Nazi scientists might have resulted in the discovery of fission, basis of the atomic bomb, back in 1934.

In that year Uranium had been bombarded with neutrons. In the same year a German chemist, Ida Noddick, said that fission was a possibility. A few days' work checking on her hypothesis might have led to fission, said Dr. Cook "but no one took her seriously."

"I leave it to your imagination what it might have meant to us if fission had been discovered in 1934."

Student Actors In Love Do ... ut Have Their Romance

Hamilton, May 16 — (CP) — A romance from the McMaster University year play "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" — a beautiful love story of two famed English poets — has become a reality by the announced engagement of Margery Mary Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Smith of Philadelphia, and James Kirkconnell, son of Dr. Watson Kirkconnell, McMaster professor.

Both were students at McMaster and portrayed the leading roles in the play which was produced this spring and later at Hart House, Toronto.

THREE POLICE OFFICERS SHOT IN GUN DUELS

One Fight Started at Court House by Disgruntled Bar Applicant

Washington, May 16 (AP) — A patrolman and the law association official were killed and three others wounded today in a gunfight started at the Municipal Court House by a disgruntled bar applicant.

The dead were identified by police as:

Hubert Estes, a patrolman.

Ray Devendorf, 65-year-old clerk for the district of Columbia Bar Association's Committee on Admissions and Grievances.

The wounded reported by police included:

George W. Dalzell, lawyer, Chase Chase, Md., 69, Executive Secretary of the Grievance Committee.

Cecil Claig, a guard on duty at the entrance of the courthouse building about five blocks from the Capitol.

An unidentified Negro, whom police described as the unsuccessful applicant for admission to bar practice.

The first shots were fired in Devendorf's office on the third floor of the building which houses municipal courts.

Persons in the building at the time said the Negro went to the office and demanded return of the fee he had paid when he sought admission to the bar.

An instant exchange followed. Devendorf was shot in the face.

Then, the assailant turned to another part of the office, toward Dalzell who was shot in the shoulder and face.

Eyewitnesses said the man walked calmly into the hall.

A court messenger, George Clemons, said the man stopped and reloaded his pistol.

Dalzell just then staggered to the hallway.

By standers said the gunman fired wildly in the general direction of Dalzell.

Then, the gunman took an elevator to the ground floor and walked out of the building.

Estes, Brambach, the municipal court clerk, suspicious, ran after him.

Estes and Claig gave chase, firing as they ran. Two blocks from the building, the fugitive turned and shot back.

Both pursuers were hit.

Dayton, O. — (AP)—A holdup suspect killed a Dayton policeman and wounded another patrolman early today when the officers surprised him trying to break into a west side hardware store.

Patrolman Herman Drexler, 37, was killed by a bullet in the chest as he stepped from a cruiser shotgun in hand, and his companion, Patrolman James S. Tatum, 30, was felled by a wound in the left hip.

a health insurance system plan are called for in the social security section of the policy plan, and the age limit for pensions for the blind would be eliminated.

New Department

Creation of a provincial department of youth would provide an open door through which young people can bring their problems before the government." This new department would co-ordinate all departments as they relate to young people and administer the Ontario Athletic Commission.

Prospector's fees would be lowered and the annual assessment work requirement, would be lessened. Impractical regulations of the present Securities Act would be abolished and more facilities would be created to reach the northern portion of the province.

Concerning the lands and forests department, the policy committee suggests "government-assisted planned development of agricultural lands contiguous to urban centres in northern and northwestern Ontario. Building of tourist roads is advocated to open up hunting and fishing areas and a more concentrated effort to preserve wildlife through seasonal restrictions and higher bounties is suggested.

Provision of full employment at adequate wages would be a government responsibility with establishment of a floor wage for men and women. Two week's vacation with pay for all workers with one year's service is recommended and endorsation is given to the principle of equal pay for equal work by women and equal opportunities.

Expand Highway Policy

The principal of industrial protit-sharing by employees as a supplement to their earnings and of labor-management committees is endorsed and reorganization is sought of the Labor Department.

Expansion of highway policy of the former Liberal government is called for with a return of an adequate portion of the gasoline tax to urban, county and rural municipalities so that construction, maintenance, snow removal and weed control can be carried out.

Greater recognition is sought for the municipalities in the administration of hydro and a more uniform rate for urban and rural municipalities is favored. Cheaper power would be given to Northern Ontario to develop natural resources, mines, farms, homes and industries.

Fullest co-operation with the Dominion government is planned in regard to Dominion-Provincial relations.

Liquor Question Dealt With

Regarding the administration of justice, the proposed policy calls for reduction in costs to the litigant and reform of the courts;

RETURN VISIT

Sun glasses and saucy back-of-the-head hat are sported by Mrs. Monica Penn, a Canadian bride from Montreal on her arrival at Southampton, Eng. She is there to visit her relatives in Worthing, Sussex.

Abolition of the rule which prevents the subject freely suing the Crown is advocated as is repeal of the Privy Council Appeals Act.

On the liquor question, the party "stands for the full responsibility of government. . . . For the administration of the liquor law, for local option and strict enforcement of the law." The statement also adds that the party "deplores the excessive use of alcohol and is pledged to do its utmost to lessen drunkenness wherever and where they exist."

Encouragement of local self-government by municipalities is sought and assistance is offered in the expenses of municipalities to reduce the "unfair taxation burden on improved real estate."

Seven Years Ago

It seems a long stretch of time since the World War II had reached the stage when Europe's outlook was very dark seven years ago on May 13th., 1940. It seems so long since the Germans drove through the Low Countries and France and threatened to invade Britain. The intervening time has been crowded with events of world importance so that in very truth man can seem to have lived more than seven years since that time when Winston Churchill came to the throne in Britain to become one of the great men of civilization and a leader of the free peoples. It was that time when he uttered words that will live forever because they enshrine a spiritual force that was the death downfall of the aggressors. That was the time when on being called to the office of Prime Minister he declared.

"I say to the House as I said to Ministers, who have joined this government, I have nothing to offer, but blood, toil, tears and sweat. We have before us an ordeal of the most grievous kind. We have before us many, many months of struggle and suffering."

He then affirmed British aim as "Victory, victory at all costs — victory in spite of all terrors — victory, however long and hard the road may be, for without victory there is no survival. Let that be realized. No survival for the British Empire, no survival for all that the British Empire has stood for, no survival of the urge, the impulse of the ages, that mankind shall move forward toward his goal.

"I take up my task in buoyancy and hope. I feel sure that our cause will not be suffered to fall among men.

"I feel entitled at this juncture, at this time, to claim the aid of all and say, 'Come then, let us go forward together with our united strength.'"

Leader and prophet and orator, such was he. He expressed the hopes and prayers of his free people and of a suffering world that snatched the greatest from darkness and from the triumph for freedom.

In the world's most solemn and serious hour the necessary leader came to lead the hosts of free men.

Public Interest Grows

In the words of President J. G. Stephenson of the Canadian Cancer Society which has just concluded a successful campaign the people may take great hope and encouragement in the war against this disease which claims so many lives yearly. Mr. Stephenson says: "The Society has made unbelievable progress in the past two years." Most of the progress can be directly attributed to those who have so generously responded to our appeals for support.

"The public is alert to the urgency of the war against this dread malady and will not fail to profit in health by the great amount of information given them and the impetus to search for the cure which the disease has aroused by the campaign. The organization will move from the present point of vantage to further achievements in future campaigns in the best cause for humanity's and for the individual's sake.

The interest in the campaign reflects the tireless efforts of the Society's officers and membership to help mankind against an insidious foe.

The more the floodlight of fact and human interest is thrown on cancer the greater will be the success of the effort in the fight against it in all respects, in the saving of more and more lives, in the creation of a commonsense attitude towards the disease and in the increase of scientific knowledge in getting at the source of this physical ill.

Jonathan the Tortoise

There is a tortoise on the island of St. Helena that is 200 years old. So old an individual is a wonder to man whose days are far more brief and the Royal Family on their way home from South Africa took a snapshot of Jonathan the tortoise as one of the mementoes of their long journeys.

Jonathan if he were human would be able to say something of the times of Napoleon for he antedated the conqueror who long dominated Europe. In fact Jonathan was a very active tortoise years before Napoleon was born. In his two hundred years he has seen the generations of mankind come and go, many changing world order for he goes back to a time in the eighteenth century.

Nobody ventures to say when this aged tortoise will die. He may live long but he no wiser than he was when the Peace of Aix-La-Chapelle ended the War of the Austrian Succession.

How does the passage of time affect this reptile? Does it change at the rate it does for man whose days are all too swift?

The British Diet

It is asserted by the British Food Minister that the British diet has an average content of 2,890 calories per day, or about four per cent below pre-war figures. Actually, he said, the total food consumption last year was about the same as the total for pre-war years, but through the ration system it was being distributed far more equitably than in the past.

No doubt these computations are accurate. No doubt the low-income groups in Britain have a diet, under rationing, richer in caloric content than the diet they chose for themselves before the war. The fact remains, however, that it is a monotonous and uninteresting diet, of extremely limited appeal to the eye or to the aesthetic senses.

It is true also that the psychological effect of years of rationing, and the disillusionment of a victory which brought no relief but in some respects even an intensification of hardship, is bound to come into the British picture of today. The British will accept regimentation to meet a national crisis ,but they hate being regulated even for their own good. If they could see their own faults, such a variety as confronted them before 1939 they might not consume so many calories but they would be easier in their minds and happier.

—Ottawa Journal.

Russia

Does Russia then fear the United States? Stassen might have picked up Stalin's remark about Canada and Mexico and have pointed out that although they are weak in comparison with the United States, neither of them has anything to fear from the U.S. They have just a friendly border nor do they keep large standing armies to protect themselves from American aggression as Turkey, for instance, has done in fear of Russian aggression.

No, unless Stalin is a victim of his own propaganda, Russia's fears are based on internal conditions, rather than the possibility of attack from the outside. The Communist dictatorship, in order to persuade Russian people to put up with their low standard of living and totalitarian controls, must make them believe that they are in danger of attack and that their only salvation lies in extending the Communist system to the rest of the world.

The truth is that nobody is threatening Russia and nobody is trying to change her form of government or her economic system. The countries outside the Russian orbit merely wish that Russia would leave them alone, would quit interfering in their internal affairs and stop trying to change their forms of government and economic systems.

—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Depend On Production

Life is growing complex. But we should take a lesson from our forefathers who were forced to self-dependence on their own production. Money is a convention and a means without the goods and services which give it value.

—Lethbridge Herald.

History needs distance, perspective. Facts and events which are too well attested cease, in some sort, to be malleable.—Joubert.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

LITTLE FELLOW

You, to others, may be small,
Little fellow,
But to me you're ten feet tall,
Little fellow.
You have laughter in your eyes
And I'm sure within you lies
Many a seed of enterprise,
Little fellow.

You are slight, as boys should be,
Little fellow.
But you're truly great to me,
Little fellow.
For behind your love of play
And your smiling, roguish way
Is the man you'll be, some day,
Little fellow.

You're too young today for care,
Little fellow.
Grief you've never had to bear,
Little fellow.
But each day you stronger grow,
And when hurt is yours to know,
Then believe God willed it so,
Little fellow.

Captain Thomas Stewart will sail for the Old Country early in June.

Mr. J. Hendrick, U.S. Consul here, has returned to the city after visiting his home in the United States.

PEARKES URGES

Makes Serious Charge

Mr. Hartt also tangled with Progressive Conservative members when he charged that there never had been "such a disgraceful ac tion" than that of Premiers Duplessis of Quebec and Drew of Ontario, in refusing to "recognize the rights of the Dominion government.

At the insistence of John Hackett (PC-Stanstead), Mr. Hartt withdrew the word "traitorous".

He touched on the Cartier by election, in which he was elected, and charged that Premier Duplessis had "financed" Paul Masse, defeated Independent candidate, "to the tune of $25,000."

He said the election in 1943 and 1945 of Fred Rose, his predecessor and the Labor-Progressive member convicted of espionage, had been an "abortion" and an "accident" which resulted from the importation into the riding of Communist sympathisers who registered as voters.

Of the Electors of a cloistered Roman Catholic Order who registered to vote, Mr. Hartt said "rumor had it" that on election day thirty conclusions were rented and other women were dressed in them.

"On their fingers there were diamond rings, and nuns have no diamond rings," he continued.

"They wore toeless shoes, and nuns do not wear toeless shoes."

In the budget debate, Gen. Pearkes held that the first step in avoiding "past mistakes" in defence was the establishment of a defence committee under the authority of the cabinet and the second was the appointment of a "single responsible professional adviser to the government as chief of staff of all the armed forces."

Should Be Merged

"The three staffs now charged with planning, training and organizing should be merged into one and told to produce a single unified plan of defence, and to keep it balanced force to carry it out.

Ralph Maybank (PC—Lincoln) said tonight that if the government puts its support behind the Canadian Wheat Board it will be a great difference in the housing situation.

He said Reconstruction Minister Howe had announced yesterday that housing enterprises controlled—a holding company formed by fourteen companies in 1945—had decided to discontinue building because the cost of building materials made it impossible to construct low rental housing units.

Mr. Lockhart said with government support free enterprise could show what it could do.

Should Call King Claim

He said Veterans Minister Mackenzie had announced yesterday that he had failed to convince C. George McCullagh, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail to appear before the Public Accounts committee to substantiate charges that veterans had been overcharged for properties formerly owned by Japanese and sold by the custodian of enemy property.

Mr. Lockhart said he was wondering whether he should summon Mr. Mackenzie to appear at a meeting Saturday on the grounds where 40 veterans homes had been built in Lincoln County. Mr. Lockhart said he was going to "find out about" some of the things he had found out about the housing program.

In Ottawa there was faulty distribution of building materials. That should be corrected immediately.

Waste Reduction

In dealing with other topics, Mr. Lockhart called for a reduction of postage rates.

In referring to the 1946-47 surplus, Mr. Lockhart said most of the $353,000,000 surplus was made up of war assets corporation profits. This figure might change rapidly as a result of revaluation of sales assets of the corporation.

Another speaker, E. D. Fulton (PC—Kamloops), suggested a "Budget committee" to be made up of an economic council, cabinet and members of the cabinet, be established to advise the government on the selection of expenditures and to help eradicate duplication, waste and extravagance. As for the budget itself, provision should be made to allow farmers to claim breeding herds as capital assets for income tax purposes.

SIX STANDING

He outlined the work done by the Liberal Party in Canada, past and present, and dwelt on the meeting to select a "leader and ..... or courage and action; ..... and intelligence to guide them." The only school of thought which can meet the challenge of the day was "liberalism, he added.

"Oliver for Leader" lapel-pins appeared on everybody's coat. A record of the 43-year-old leader of the Liberal Party in the legislature was glowingly told in a pamphlet distributed to each. Lamport supporters also distributed campaign literature during the afternoon and at the opening of the session cards were handed out, "Vote Six Standing for A. Gunn."

Feeling of most of the delegations was that Mr. Oliver would win the post with "at least 70 per cent" of the total vote. But a reliable source told The Canadian Press that the Lamport supporters did not have full support of the Liberals of the 43 Ontario Liberal, nor of Federal Liberal leaders. This source intimated that Colin Wilkes Liberal M.P.P. for Brantford, would run for the leadership despite the fact that he has announced he do so earlier this week.

Mr. Lamport, an engineer and former minister of public works in Ontario. Mr. Cadeau is a Hamilton industrialist and lawyer. Mr. Gunn is a former Federal Liberal candidate and a supporter of the party. Mr. Lamport, former member of the Legislature, is a Toronto alderman.

At last night's dinner, tribute was paid to the work that certain A. J. Haines, retiring president of the Ontario Liberal, had done the post for three years. Other speakers included Miss Isabelle Graham, president of the Ontario Liberal Women's Association and Col. Charles, president of the Ontario Association of Young Liberals.

Dan W. Lang of Toronto was re-elected director of the O.L.A. by acclamation.

Seven Resolutions Presented

Seven resolutions were presented for the approval of the annual meeting and after a brief discussion constitution committee was adopted. The latter was to study ways to give district associations so that an almost equal number of ridings would be in each area for purposes of the management committee.

Other resolutions dealt with social relations, the meeting passed a resolution urging that the responsibility party considerations are preventing the interests of the common people being promptly and sequitably taken care of by the present government of Ontario. Other resolutions concerned free attention to northern and northwestern Ontario; cheap electrification; increased provincial salary for teachers; appreciation to the work of youth organizations throughout Ontario; low cost additional gasoline tax; and condemning the practice of standing committees allowing no one to serve on more than one committee.

Gordon Johnson Retires From Post

Ottawa, May 15 — (CP)—Retirement of Gordon B. Johnson, O. B. E., from the post of Canadian trade commissioner in Glasgow, was announced today by Trade Minister MacKinnon.

A native of Belleville, who has been in the Canadian Trade Service for the last 25 years, Mr. Johnson joined the department in 1914 and has served also as trade commissioner in Yokohama and Rio de Janiero.

Mr. MacKinnon paid tribute to Mr. Johnson's trade development for, "his long and distinguished service." Mr. Johnson graduated from Royal Military College, Kingston.

DISMISS GAS STATION APPEAL

Windsor, May 15 (CP)—Essex County Judge Albert J. Gordon has dismissed the appeals of Canadian Ethyl operators and employees from conviction for violating the Industrial Standards Act respecting hours of sale of gasoline.

"The court has no jurisdiction to hear these appeals by reason of failure of the applicants to provide proper security," the judge said in a written judgment announcing the dismissal.

The men were each fined $25 and costs last Dec. 22.

PERSONAL HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Original letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, as well as questions of diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received, only a few can be answered here. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to these directions. Address Dr. William Brady, 1050 Beacon Ave., New York 61, N.Y.

IMMUNIZING THE PRE-SCHOOL CHILD

A little magazine published bimonthly by the Los Angeles City schools is called Health Education Journal. Judging by the donations I have seen it is easily one of the finest magazine of its kind, or the finest I have ever seen. It is filled with a lot of attractive readable and interesting material; and so far, at any rate, no tiresome pictures of "drive" promotors, leaders and that cheap publicity that clutters up so many similar "health" publications.

In the April, 1947, Health Education Journal, Dr Hamlet C. Pulley gives some practical information on the prevention of diphtheria. In the first two months of '47 there were three times as many cases and deaths in the same period a year ago. Diphtheria is a perfectly curable disease, Dr. Pulley explains, partly because of improved care and partly because many persons themselves immunized to diphtheria, who carry diphtheria germs in their throats and scatter them by coughing sneezing, ... and ..... .

Now listen carefully, folks, for rarely does the doctor other than Doc Brady mention a thing like this when referring to the spread of diphtheria germs:

"..... persons themselves immunized to diphtheria, who carry diphtheria germs in their throats and scatter them by coughing sneezing, ... and ..... ."

Vocalizing! That threw me, too, but good old Webster, always right at my elbow, assures me it means singing or speaking. I do hope it is not a common practice of the pupils and teachers in Los Angeles schools to think it is a part played by polite conversational spray in the spread of not just diphtheria but many other respiratory infections.

When I tried to describe the way in the cri (Common Respiratory Infections) spread in some health talks I gave years ago, the cri-conscious would sneeze at the least minute and cut out that part of my talk—he explained in his refined way that sort of thing in the party. Mr. Lamport, former member of the Legislature, is a Toronto alderman.

At last night's dinner, tribute was paid to the work that certain A. J. Haines, retiring president of the O.L.A. had done the post for three years. Other speakers included Miss Isabelle Graham, president of the Ontario Liberal Women's Association and Col. Charles, president of the Ontario Association of Young Liberals.

YOU'D BE SURPRISED

By GEORGE W. STIMPSON

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

Who were the Shoguns of Japan?

"Shogun" (pronounced "SHOW-goon") is a shortened form of "sei-i-tai shogun," meaning "barbarian-conquering great general." The full title means literally "chiang chun," meaning "army leader."

When the Mikado of Japan adopted the Chinese military system about the sixth century A.D., he conferred the title "shogun" on the commander of his military forces sent out against the aborigines of the islands.

After a long struggle the title and office of Shogun was made hereditary in 1192 by the head of the Minamoto family. Succeeding generations of intrigue and usurpation, the highest office of the army became hereditary, and the Shogun assumed the actual rulership of Japan.

Though nominally the Shogun ruled as a subject and agent of the Emperor, actually the Mikado was a puppet ruler, living in his palace without a shred of sovereign authority. In 1226 the Shogunate passed to the Fujiwara family, and in 1603 to the Tokugawa family.

When Europeans first came in contact with Japan they made the natural mistake of supposing that the nation had two rulers, one spiritual and the other temporal. Consequently they referred to the Shogun or "army emperor" as the "temporal emperor," meaning "great prince" or "king."

It had been a long time since the substitution of "tycoon" for "shogun" in external affairs to represent himself as the foreigners the real sovereign.

During the revolution of 1867-68 feudalism was abolished, the Shogunate was thoroughly commander-in-chief of the army and the Mikado restored as the actual ruler of Japan.

Only to the last three members of the Shogunate of "warrior chiefs" were permitted to serve in the Japanese army either as officers or privates.

The official title of the Mikado is "Tenno," meaning "Heavenly Sovereign." When, after the peace Emperor in 1926, claimed to be the 124th in descent from the sun-goddess Amaterasu of Shinto mythology.

TORNADO BLOWS HELP OUT

Toronto, May 16 — (CP) — A short-lived tornado which struck near International Falls, Minn., across the border from Fort Frances, Ont., yesterday afternoon left within 10 miles of that Canadian centre. It was veered off to the northwest and disappeared. It has not been reported since and Dominion meteorological forecasters here consider it to have dissipated.

Weather officers here said it was not uncommon for severe thunderstorms to momentarily assume tornado proportions and then to calm down again.

Achievement Day Held by Two Home Clubs

Saturday was Achievement Day for two homemaking clubs in North Hastings when twelve members of the Maple Leaf and Greenview clubs completed their project "The Club Girl Entertains."

In the morning the girls set up their exhibits and judged plates and dishes arranged for the afternoon tea. Flower arrangements were also judged. In the afternoon Bessie Davis of the Maple Leaf Club and Margaret Davis of the Greenview club commented on the club exhibits "A Table Set for Two. Then each club presented skits, "Your Table Manners" by the Maple Leaf Club and "Tea is Served" by the Greenview club.

Certificates of Achievement were presented to the club members completing two, four and six units. These were received by Margaret Davis, Leola Douglas, Rosebud Prentice, Emma Prentice, Bessie Davis, Vera Boyle, N. Davis and Alice Vardy. Bessie Davis and Leola Douglas also received county honors for having completed six homemaking club projects.

Miss Elsie M. Irvine, home economist, was in charge during the day and was assisted by Miss Mary Irvine of the Women's Institute Branch.

Chairs Presented Plainfield Couple

The Zion Hill home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cronkright was the scene of a happy social event on Friday evening, when about seventy-five friends met to honor a granddaughter of the host and hostess, Mr. Kenneth Orr and Mr. Orr, of Plainfield.

Rev. C. A. Campbell was chairman for the evening, and offered congratulations and best wishes on behalf of the friends assembled, calling upon Miss Irene Bird to read an address to Mr. and Mrs. Orr, and present to them, on behalf of the community, two comfortable occasional chairs and an electric lamp.

Mr. and Mrs. Orr graciously expressed their appreciation and thanks for the very useful and attractive gifts.

The hostess and her assistants served refreshments, bringing to a close another enjoyable evening.

Friends Honor Young Couple At Surprise Party

Rawdon (Special) — On Monday evening a number of friends from this community gathered at the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bateman, Rawdon, and Mrs. Vincent Ryan (nee Vivian Bateman).

Chairman for the evening was Mr. John Bateman. Community singing was enjoyed led by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Broadworth. Mrs. Thomas Sexton and Mrs. Gordon Green. Other numbers on the program were trios by Misses Barbara and Jean Bateman, Tyan and Frances Morrison; a reading by Mrs. George Sutherland; popular songs by the Broadworth sisters with guitar accompaniment; and readings and a duet contributed by Mrs. Percy McMullen.

Brief addresses were given by Messrs. John Scott, Martin Rivers, Thomas Sexton and Kenneth Broadworth on behalf of the community by Messrs. Elwood Ketcheson, Kenneth Broadworth and Gordon Green, and a pretty basket filled with a coffee table and end table.

Another address was read by Mr. Kenneth Broadworth, while a Hassock and piece of Silverware, with a number of miscellaneous gifts were presented.

The recipients graciously expressed their gratitude for all the good wishes and for the very useful gifts received.

Refreshments were served, bringing to a close an enjoyable social event.

The Wednesday evening of last week friends and neighbors from the surrounding district gathered for a belated miscellaneous shower, which ice cream and cookies were served by the host and hostess.

Ladies' Night By C.N.R. Vets Much Enjoyed

Members of the Canadian National Railways War Veterans' Association played host to their wives and lady friends Thursday evening when at the Hotel Quinte they held a Ladies' Night in their honor.

President of the Association, Harper McIlrath, acted as chairman for the evening's program which was highlighted by a talk by Alderman James Lazenby on the current housing situation as it affects Belleville. The talk was well received and opened many new angles on this much discussed problem.

Entertainment was in charge of Harold Foote who arranged a program with Alfred Cooper and his sister as band members. These boys, Don Charlton, Mac and Jim Stewart, Dave Lockyer, Billie Shaw, Bill Hall and Ken Taylor, presented a well-rounded program which was well received by an appreciative audience. Other entertainment was also provided by Jack and Roly Winslow-Geer who were heard in rapturous encore numbers.

Approximately 100 persons attended the meeting which saw refreshments served at the conclusion. Albert Jones expressed the appreciation of the Association to the guest speaker.

CAN OPENER TO CATCH FISH

Yakima, Wash., May 14—(AP)—C. McDonald has found a new use for a tuna opener — catching fish.

McDonald reached Rimrock Lake and found he had left his trolling gear at home. The can opener in the lunch basket caught a 6½ and he put a hook and spinner on it, attached it to his line and went fishing. He caught 18 silver trout, one measuring 16 inches.

Hammond on "Christian Stewardship." Mrs. M. Saries and Mrs. H. Cooke sang a duet.

During the business part of the meeting a letter was read by Mrs. Saries regarding the "Blue Book" and two copies were ordered sent for, also a letter by Mrs. P. McInroy asking for a donation towards furnishing a home for two missionary nurses at Mayrocoh. It was decided to hold a quilting and dinner in the hall in May. A vote of thanks was tendered to the ladies who helped with the program and welcomed the visitors. Mrs. P. McInroy closed the meeting with prayer.

Train Deficient Child to Live Close to Normal

By KAY REX
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, May 16. (CP)—Educating the backward child to live as normal a life as possible provided the keynote for discussions at the International Council of Exceptional Children which closed its four-day convention here Wednesday night. The mentally deficient often is conscious of his inferiority and needs to have his feelings of security, affection and praised, said Father J. Lussier of Montreal, in a paper prepared, by Rev. Noel Mailloux of the department of Psychology, University of Montreal, who was unable to be present through illness. The mental defective must be taught to make the most of his abilities in order to be able to feel he has his own place in society. During an afternoon session Mrs. Wanda Catey, instructor in education, Illinois State Normal University, emphasized the importance of parent co-operation with the teacher.

It was the responsibility of the school to go more than half way in meeting the parents, she said.

Harley E. Wooden, superintendent of the School for the Blind at Flint, Mich., was elected 1947 president of the Council. He succeeds Dr. Florence Dunlop, of Ottawa.

Next year's meeting will be held at Des Moines, Iowa.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMESON

Listen to the Walls of the "Drys"

Women who have oily skins never cease complaining. While they stand at beauty's wailing wall, they might look around a bit. They'll find plenty of drys lamenting with them. Their problems are even more bothersome, because a dry skin fights make-up and is the perfect stamping ground for premature wrinkles.

Your facial covering is provided with a protective cosmetic oil secreted by the sebaceous glands. It is a weatherproofing substance, guarding against the elements and atmospheric dust. It's main purpose is to prevent the epidermal surface from drying and to help the skin to retain its youthful appearance. But, alas for Nature's plans, because of erroneous living habits the oiling system sometimes goes on the blink.

Some skin specialists believe that sluggish circulation causes glandular malnutrition. All agree that more fat in the diet is likely to cause the glands to come out of their rooms and carry on. So if you are a dry, put more butter on your bread. Once a day have a green salad with an oily dressing. Have bacon for breakfast.

The dry skin can also be that way because it is thirsty; perhaps you are not drinking enough water. Take a glass before breakfast, one between meals.

Beauty wailers are not inclined to look for the cause of their troubles. What they seek is cosmetic magic, something you dip out of a jar and rub on. Well, in this realm cosmetics will also help, but give thought to diet, which may change conditions for the better.

The obvious thing to do is to use cream lavishly. Don't get the idea that soap always makes the dry condition worse; it will if of course, if not used properly. But every skin, young or old, needs the cleansing stimulus of a soap and water washing every day. Soap is a mild antiseptic.

Remove make-up with a thin cream. Dip a washcloth in soap suds; press against the flesh. The dry cuticle won't stand rough treatment; when soaked, it will produce scales, become coarse and rough. Rinse away the lather with tepid water, dry gently, then on with the cream again. Use a heavy one. Let it remain on over night.

Neither very hot nor very cold water should be used at any time. Chilling has a drying effect. Astringents are not necessary, though oftimes a mild skin tonic will help by rousing the circulatory.

The after-washing creaming should not be casual. It isn't enough to smooth on the emollient; it should be worked into the flesh with the fingertips. Patting, kneading and stroking force the oily substance into the pores.

Women who have oily skins never cease complaining.

DOCTOR: My, your family is the picture of health! You must feed them lots of vegetables.

MOTHER: Indeed I do. They get the nourishment of 9 vegetables every day—in Aylmer Vegetable Soup.

DOCTOR: Splendid! Children can't get too many vegetables. And my wife uses Aylmer Vegetable Soup too. It's a delicious way to get needed vegetables every day.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Raincoats and Orchids

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:
Would it be proper to wear an orchid on a dressy, black raincoat on a cloudy day that is threatening rain?

L. D.

If you want to have fun wearing an orchid in a "prophecy of sunshine" to a rain-threatening day, why bother with the rain? The idea that it's a formal flower? Wear it as if it were a "rainbow on your shoulder."

Stork Shower Correct also for Baby Number 4

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:
We are a group of five women who would like very much to give a shower for a dear friend of ours who is going to have her fourth baby. She has lived in our town only two years, but we all have come to love and admire her, and to be practical, we realize that a baby shower would undoubtedly be a help to her, for we are quite sure that her budget isn't a very "plush" one. But two women who are close friends of ours and of this mother-to-be insist that a stork shower is permissible only for the first baby. Are they right about this?

Five Friends

No. You and your friends have the right idea: in the first place it's entirely proper to give a stork shower for Baby Number 4, just as for the first baby, and in the second place this baby shower would be, as you and your group of friends feel, a particularly practical and to-be-welcomed plan in this circumstance.

Best Form For Groom and Best Man to Enter Church From Vestry Door

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:
Is it ever permissible for a bride to walk up the church aisle with the best man, the groom walking with the maid of honor? At an informal wedding I attended the other day this was the procedure. In this case the bride's mother and father are living, and she also has brothers and other close relatives. Would this have been proper if both her parents were dead and she had no relatives?

I have always been under the impression that it is proper for the groom and best man to be waiting at the altar, rather than to walk down the aisle. Am I right or wrong about this?

Norine

You are right . . . it is correct form, customary procedure, at any type of wedding in church, for the groom and best man to come into the church from the vestry door at the right-front. In an informal church wedding the maid of honor may come up the aisle first, alone, and then the bride on the right arm of her father or whoever is to give her in marriage. Or she may walk alone, or with her attendant. Or if the church aisle is long she and there are to be only a few guests, the bride may enter from the side door at the left of the altar, either alone following her maid of honor, or with her father or other male escort, or with her maid of honor.

She May Have a Bridal Cake at Her Second Wedding

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:
My first marriage was at an Army camp . . . no "rice and feathers" and, alas, no wedding cake. You may wonder why I particularly mention the wedding cake, . . . it's because it has always been my dream to have a wedding cake, to cut the first slice and share it with my bride-groom. Now I've been divorced for two years, I'm going to marry a wonderful man, and . . . at our very small, very informal wedding at our parents' home, I want to have a wedding cake. But several of my friends have told me "No, this is only for the bride-for-the-first-time". Please say this isn't true.

Norine

Indeed this isn't true. . . . I'm happy to make you happy by saying that you can have your bridal cake, white cake, iced in white, in two layers, if you wish, and crowned with the dressed-cake-the-wedding figures of the bride and groom. Or, if you'd be one of the now very popular type, one layer iced elaborately with white accents and pastel pink or yellow. Or a cake in the form of a wedding ring, or of two hearts joined together.

Fashion Flashes

DESIGNED WITH AN EYE to the elegant woman is the ensemble of printed silk frock and coat. Silk crepe, printed in dubonnet, beige and white, is used for a handsome frock of the new shirtwaist type and is worn with a fitted coat of sand-colored wool belted with gold-rimmed dubonnet suede.

TIMELESS dresses are generally essentially simple models of fine fabric, cut and handling. All this is true of a town dress of navy blue pure silk faille in a tissue weight. Snug bodice buttons down the front from a high, rounded neckline, and full sleeves are bound into tight cuffs. Folds at back and front of skirt look and act like pleats. Red lizardskin belt.

PLENTY OF WEAR ahead for the well-off, printed silk suit. Brown-and-yellow-printed pure silk crepe is used for a handsome suit. The very narrow skirt is slit at the hem, and the hiplength jacket is very tailored. Worn with a blouse of toast-brown silk chiffon with all-over cheyron shirring.

THERE'S nothing like all white for evening. Chalk-white rayon crepe is used for a gown made with a boat neckline that dips down to a low U in back, bordered by white venise lace. The lace is repeated in a stiff peplum posed low on the hipline and cascades down the back. peplum posed low on the hipline and cascades down the back.

VERY dramatic are the new stark-white hats that play up jet black touches. Tissue-weight white felt is used for an off-the-face hat. The high, flaring brim in front is covered with heavy chicken-mesh black veiling that ties tightly over the face and ends in a big flaring bow in back.

LOOKING ahead to next Autumn, one furrier is preparing a collection of mountain coats in ebony black, so processed that the fur looks like black-dyed seal-skin.

COMING UP are hats with an elongated line in back, reaching below the nape of the neck. This line is used for a hat of natural Milan straw worn back from the face and made with a low, rounded crown. It is bound in green velvet and has a cluster of vari-colored flowers that fall to the edge of the deep brim in back.

NEW LINES appear in some designs that indicate new trends for fall. Beige silk crepe is used for a handsome afternoon frock whose skirt has a group of knife pleats at the side. They are held by a quarter belt and give a slight dip to the longer skirt. Asymmetric lines cut across the back to outline the yoke and extend over the top of the sleeve in front. Bodice has high, round neckline.

THRILLING RESCUE DRAMA ON PEBBLE BEACH

After drifting for more than 18 hours with a "dead" engine, this fishing boat, top, with two men aboard, came to grief on the rocks at Pebble Beach, near Monterey, Calif., and set the stage for a thrilling rescue drama by the U. S. Coast-Guard. William A. Thompson is shown sitting on a rock in shallow water after he succeeded in getting ashore from the wrecked boat in which he and Howard Rawls were wrecked on the rocks of Pebble Beach. Below, Thompson is on shore while coast-guardmen were rescuing his companion. Rawls was clinging to a rock 300 feet from shore in a raging surf. Coast-guard rescuers fired a line from a harpoon gun to haul him ashore.

$5,000 Refused for Day-Old Calf — Baby bull Holstein born at farm of Jack Hayes, R.R. 1 of Brampton, yesterday is shown with his mother, Alcartra Gerben. Mr. Hayes has had offers up to $5,000, but just smiles silently.

40 FIREMEN INJURED IN CONEY ISLAND RESORT FIRE

New York's famed resort, Coney Island, was the scene of a five-alarm fire which swept nine buildings, most of them amusement concessions. New York's Fire Commissioner Frank Quayle called the dense black smoke (seen in photo) which developed in a L-shaped area, the thickest in his experience. Doctors and nurses from four Brooklyn hospitals were rushed to the scene to attend to the 40 firemen who were overcome or injured.

SOVIET'S FIVE-YEAR-PLAN CARES FOR MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

More Russians, better physically and better educated, is one of the aims of the Soviet government. To this end enormous sums have been appropriated for the current five-year period. The law provides for maternity leave with pay, thousands of lying-in (maternity) homes, mother and infant welfare centres, nurseries, milk kitchens, kindergartens and sanatoria for expectant mothers. No less than 45,000,000,000 rubles will be spent for this purpose in the current five-year period. To encourage motherhood still further, the government has instituted special decorations for prolific mothers. There are the order of "Mother's Glory," the "Medal of Motherhood," and the title, "Heroine Mother," the last-named being the highest honor. These children are taking morning exercises at a kindergarten school run by the government under supervision of a trained instructor.

TOUCHED OFF HOLOCAUST IN IN WORLD WAR II

Two years before Adolf Hitler came to power in Germany, World War II got under way when Gen. Kanji Ishihara, chief staff officer in Japan's Kwantung army, gave the signal that caused the Mukden incident of Sept. 19, 1931, when Japanese troops attacked the Chinese garrison of the Manchurian city. The incident and Ishihara's part in it was recalled when a commission from the International military tribunal, now conducting war crimes trials in Tokyo, went to Sakata to get a new disposition from Ishihara after his first was rejected by the Tribunal. Ishihara, who lives in Fukiura, 20 miles north of Sakata, made the trip to that city in a hand-drawn cart. He is shown in that vehicle here.

State Prosecutors Rounding Out Sordid Picture

By ROBNEY WHEELER

Greenville, S. C., May 16—(AP)—State prosecutors rounded out a sordid picture of lynch-murder today, correlating evidence which they hope will send some perhaps all — of 31 white men to South Carolina's electric chair.

The 31, most of them Greenville taxi drivers, are accused of murder and conspiracy to murder in the lynching of Negro Willie Earle last May 17. His body, slashed and beaten and with the head a bloody pulp from shotgun slugs, was found on a fatally roadside riot far from a slaughterhouse.

Detailed statements purported to have been made by 18 self-identified members of the mob made by the defendants after their arrest, have been used to sketch in the nocturnal story of events which culminated in the lynchings of the Negro victim. Earle was accused of fatally stabbing a white taxi driver on the night preceding the lynching.

Seven cab drivers have put the finger on one of their own number as the shotgun executioner. They have identified him as Roosevelt Carlos Hurd, 45-year-old taxi dispatcher.

Hurd acknowledges he participated in the lynching but insists he did not shoot the Negro.

James Robert Forrester, 33, in a statement purported to have been made to police, said he witnessed the stabbing and beating and named Hurd and Woodrow Clardy, 30, as the leaders of the mob.

The Forrester statement described the beating administered to the Negro and added:

"Then I saw Hurd aim a shotgun at the Negro who by now was on the ground, and I saw him shoot. I heard two more shots. I did not see who fired them, but I heard Hurd ask for more shells."

TAXIMAN ROBBED OF CAR

Montreal, May 15 — (CP) — Lionel Gauthier, taxicab driver, reported to police last night two youths whom he had picked up as passengers stole his vehicle at the corner of east St. Hubert-ave and Ontario St. He said one of the youths produced a revolver and ordered him out.

Fact-Finding Commission On Holy Land Problem Starts Out With Little Hope of Success

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, May 16 (CP)—At Flushing Meadow and at Lake Success delegates of the 56-member United Nations General Assembly talked about all angles of the Palestine problem except the practical and apparently irreconcilable positions of the Arabs and Jews.

They set up a 11 member fact-finding commission to "work out a formula for peace in the Holy Land but it starts out with little apparent hope for success.

Arab states and non-governmental Arab spokesmen of Palestine declared unofficially that unless Jewish immigration were stopped and Palestine restored to the Arabs as an independent state, the troubles there would flame into war.

Jewish spokesmen declared with equal firmness that they would demand nothing less than resumed and unrestricted freedom of stateless Jews to enter Palestine and make it their national home as favored in the Balfour Declaration.

In all the long hours of speechmaking by the assembly delegates little attention was paid to how diametrically-opposed demands although hours were spent on historical dissertations and compromise proposals.

Whether or not the Canadian government decided to be in it has drawn into the controversy. First by the election of Lester B. Pearson, Under Secretary of State for External Affairs, as chairman of the main committee which built up the fact-finding commission and now as a member of that commission.

If it should happen that Pearson is appointed to represent Canada on the commission—which now seems unlikely—there is no doubt he would be asked to act as chairman.

The commission must have a report ready by Sept. 1, containing its recommendations for a solution. Meanwhile it will travel in the Holy Land and take evidence on the spot.

The Jews do not accept Arab sovereignty nor do they trust the Arabs to give them equal rights in the existing British mandate were withdrawn and an independent Arab state, or even a bi-national state as proposed by Russia, set up in Palestine.

The old argument about partition has fallen heavily, for one reason, only a comparatively small area of Palestine is desirable for settlement purposes, and for the greater reason that the Arabs claim Palestine to be theirs by every known law and precedent in history.

European War Brides Entertained By Red Cross

The first and the third Thursdays of every month is a highlight in the Board room of the "Y", when war brides living in the city and at Point Anne and Rossmore, gather for a chat and a cup of tea, under auspices of the local unit of the Red Cross Society; which organization formerly furnished the refreshments but which now furnishes only the "patronesses" for each afternoon. The "brides" are taken upon themselves the responsibility of the cakes and tea, and now take turns being the hostesses in groups of ten or three.

These girls are an international group, including lassies from "bonnie Scotia," from Ireland, England and Holland—all working very hard at the job of becoming Canadianized, universally voiced in their unanimous wish to have hordes of their own.

Without fan-fare or party decorations this semi-monthly social contact is sponsored by members of the Red Cross Executive namely, Mrs. J. G. Hornsby, Mrs. J. Buchanan, Mrs. A. Ketchenson, and Mrs. C. A. Cameron.

Fishing Equipment Abandoned in Feb. Found on Ice Floe

Fort Erie, May 15 — (CP) — Fishing equipment valued at $500 — including an ice shed, a windbreak and fishing gear—was recovered from a large ice floe in lower Lake Erie near the Niagara River inlet last night.

The equipment was abandoned three months ago by three fishermen when they were rescued by helicopters from an ice floe which had broken away from the main field.

To make the fishermen feel even happier, the equipment had been borrowed and it was returned today to its owners.

The fishing gear was noticed first by a Fort Erie man who thought it might have been a body on the ice and took a boat to investigate.

Hollywood Lousy With Communists Says R. Hughes

Los Angeles, May 16 (AP)—With a Russian ex-communist popping up suddenly in mid-investigation, the house of representatives sub-committee on communist activities in Hollywood today took on aspects of a movie spy thriller story.

The sub-committee's inquiry hit a dramatic peak with the entry of Victor Kravchenko, former Soviet official who renounced communism in 1944.

Hours earlier, a threat on Kravchenko's life was reported to police by Beverly Hills host Lee R. Brooks, business man who may produce an anti-communist film based on Kravchenko's experiences.

Kravchenko's statements to the committee were not disclosed but chairman J. Parnell Thomas (Rep —N.J.) said that the Russian, who left the Soviet purchasing commission in Washington to write the book, "I Chose Freedom," is under subpoena to appear June 26 in Washington.

Thomas said he would ask the United States Attorney-General to place Kravchenko under 24-hour surveillance, "to give him the protection of the Federal government."

The names of scores of purported Reds—many of them prominent and well employed as writers—are before the sub-committee Thomas said yesterday.

Actors Name Names

Addressing reporters after Adolphe Menjou, veteran film star and Jack L. Warner, studio chief, had testified, Thomas said:

"Both of these men named names.

"Based on testimony taken so far, I have come to the belief that the industry itself can place house if it has the will to do so. All it needs is the will."

Novelist Rupert Hughes told the committee he said that Hollywood is "lousy with communists, some of them making $3,000 to $5,000 weekly and whom you couldn't get to go to see Russia in a million years."

Menjou was quoted by Thomas as saying he believed the "masters in Moscow" were attempting to use the movies to help overthrow the American Government because Hollywood "is one of the greatest mediums for propaganda."

Menjou also charged Thomas said that many millionaires, including directors and actors, in Hollywood and elsewhere are communist or pro-communist.

That "communists in the film industry are so powerful that many of the little people are afraid to move against them."

Certain Divorced Persons May Soon Receive Relief

London, May 16 (Reuters)—Certain divorced persons in this country soon may be enabled to marry again with the official sanction of the Church of England.

A revision of present canonical law—in which discipline rests with the Church of England has been embodied without change since 1603—was one of many proposed changes today in the report of the Church of England commission.

Canonical law at present prevents any divorced person from re-marrying in a church ceremony, whatever the grounds or circumstances of the divorce.

The proposed revision would allow remarriage from those whom the bishop and his diocesan counsellor consider should have received a decree of nullity in civil court—that is, a proclamation not that the marriage was dissolved, but that it never took place.

The revision was recommended by the commission with three dissentient votes, including that of the Archbishop of York, Dr. Cyril Garbett.

The proposals will be presented to both Houses of the convocation of the province of Canterbury on May 20, and to the convocation of the province of York two days later. Then, if they are accepted and granted royal assent, 134 new canons will replace those 1603 as the law of the church.

CAT HAS RUN OF AIRPORT

Toronto, May 15 — (CP) — Probably the world's most pampered mascot is Cam — short for Camouflage — an ordinary cat which has the run of Malton airport and has travelled more air miles than many pilots. Just for a gag, freight men ship Cam off to Winnipeg, or Montreal, where she stays till she's fed up, and then is shipped back to Toronto.

Juan Ready to Help Franco Establish Constitutional Monarchy

London, May 16—(AP)—Prince Don Juan, principal claimant to the Spanish throne, was pictured in the House of Commons as ready today to co-operate with Generalissimo Franco in establishing a constitutional monarchy in Spain —a reversal of his former stand.

Dr. Moni Follick, Labor member of parliament, declared during a debate on foreign affairs last night that Juan, son of the last Spanish king, had assured him in an interview that he was ready to work with Franco to smooth Spain's transition "from a dictatorship to a constitutional system."

Follick also displayed two papers, which he said were manifestos signed by the six most important military men in Spain" and by 20 members of the Spanish parliament, saying "that it is time for Franco to go."

Follick, whose speech created a sensation in the Commons, urged the government to help Juan in his plans for transition. He said he visited Spain several weeks ago to conduct his own on-the-spot investigation and interviewed the Spanish Crown Prince in Portugal this week, returning to Britain only yesterday.

There was no immediate official comment in Madrid on Follick's assertions and there have been no reports there concerning the manifestos.

Optimistic Outlook Held for Field Crop Prospects Despite Late Season

(By The Canadian Press)

An optimistic outlook for this year's field crop prospects today remained the keynote among Canada's farmers despite a serious threat forecast for a lingering winter which left them far behind schedule with their seeding operations.

Their one cry—as shown in a coast-to-coast survey by The Canadian Press—is for warm weather to safeguard Canada's No. 1 industry with the estimated value of more than $1,900,000 annually.

Delays ranging from 10 days to five weeks are reported throughout the country with only two provinces—British Columbia and Prince Edward Island—offering no complaints. But with a break in the weather, it was reported generally the worst that can happen is that harvests will be late reaching storage bins this fall.

In the west seeding and cultivation are said to be 10 to 21 days behind normal. Only 20 per cent of wheat and 11 per cent of coarse grains have been sown in Saskatchewan compared with 60 per cent and 43 per cent respectively at the same time last year while 40 per cent of wheat seeding remains to be done in Alberta. Very Late in Ontario

Balked by sub-normally cold weather with three successive nights of frost, last week and flooded lands in some areas, spring work on Ontario farms suffered delays of three to five weeks. In the Sarnia district, planting operations were said to be the latest since 1911.

The picture changed for the province whose field crops in 1946 had a value of $232,000,000 when an official of Ontario Department of Agriculture described the situation as desperate. He spoke of the possibility some farmers might turn to late crops such as corn, rye and buckwheat to make up for the expected drop in vital cereal grain acreage.

However warm weather last weekend enabled farmers to get started and late reports indicated crop prospects, now are not likely to be as grim as a week or years only in southwestern Ontario.

Work still has not started on Quebec's total arable land of 6,453,000 acres whereas 20 per cent of seeding had been completed at this time in 1946. An official of the Department of Agriculture said crop prospects remained good in spite of the late start but the harvest will be late. Delayed in Maritimes

Neither has any seeding started in New Brunswick whose field vegetable and fruit crops in 1946 were valued at $40,000,000. Prospects are considered "uncertain," a term later qualified by the comment it is too early yet to offer a forecast on the 1947 harvest.

Essentially the story is the same in Nova Scotia where the gradual income from Agriculture for 1946 totalled $45,000,000.

White's District

Absolap Expert raved about how lucky he was with finesses. Then he was tipped off to a play that saved the need of taking so many finesses. It was the strip-and-endplay.

So, he forced himself to learn the strip-end. It did wonders for him. Even finesses that he could not avoid seemed to work more successful than before. And he was elated.

His happiness developed a slow leak, however. After a while he realized that all strip-ends are not certain. To be successful, some of them require preparations that he could not be sure of.

An endplay may fail if you do not strip enough. Or if the wrong opponent gets the lead. Because the desired result comes from a return lead in certain suits from a pre-determined direction.

There was a diamond bid by east and west led his singleton. It looks as if you may lose a diamond and a club. Not just one.

To avoid taking a club finesse, you must get a lead from east. Having determined this, you must know if that hand can be put into the lead. You may assume this can be done with a diamond.

All this can be decided before you play a card in dummy. So, it is evident that, you must plan a strip-end. This requires first exhausting as many cards as seem necessary.

You can take the first diamond with dummy ace and strip both opponents of trumps. You can also strip hearts by ruffing both small dummy tickers. All before exiting to east with a diamond.

To make sure of entries, take only two trump rounds, two top hearts, and ruff a heart. Enter dummy with a third trump and ruff the fourth dummy heart. Carry on.

The Movie Column

By RON GADSBY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Probably the greatest contribution Boston has made to history aside from filling their harbor with poorly made tea and a certain connection with Paul Revere, is a background that could make possible such a picture as "The Late George Apley."

The book, by George Kaufmann has been translated into lights and shadows to create one of the most succulent bits of movie fare to hit the screen in many months.

The story concerns a Boston family in the early 1900's living in the lavender and old lace aura left over from the "nineties." Ronald Coleman as George Apley is the self appointed custodian of a code that sees perfection in snobbishness — and how he tied tightly to a pseudo tradition launched by the film.

His children eventually punch holes into most of his creeds and finally release poor, George from his bondage to breeding, cull-shaw and his stuffed shirt. They are abetted by the distrines of Sigmund Freud, a young upstart who happened along about that time and who had some very pertinent ideas about such things as sex and love.

JOHNNY GRECO 2-1 FAVORITE TO DEFEAT WEBB

Lays His Canadian Welterweight Title on the Line Against the Lightweight Champ

Montreal, May 16 — (CP) — Joltin' Johnny Greco will rule a 2 to 1 choice tonight when he climbs through the ropes to lay his Canadian, welterweight title on the line against dusky Danny Webb, the Dominion's lightweight king.

Greco, a rushing, punishing infighter and veteran of 11 main bouts in New York's Madison Square Garden, will hold a 10-pound pull in the weights in the bout scheduled to go 12 rounds. Johnny will scale just under the 147-pound welter limit while Danny is expected to come in around 137.

As both boys finished up their training campaign, promoter Rai Gotbout said he expected a capacity crowd of more than 10,000 fans who will pay from $1.50 to a top of $7.50 for ringside pews. The all-time Canadian record gate of $50,000 set last summer when Greco wrested the welterweight crown from Dave Castilloux, is not expected to be surpassed.

"Greco doesn't like to box 12 rounds," says Webb. "He'll get tired and I'll outbox him."

But Johnny's manager Pit Audette doesn't hold with that view.

Pat Mullin, Toast of Detroit, With .444 Batting Average Driving in Greenberg's Runs

Leading League With 13 Doubles and Hitting Better Than Anyone in the Majors

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Pat Mullin, toast of Detroit with a .444 batting average is driving in the runs Hank Greenberg used to knock home.

When big Hank was waived out of the American League and sold to Pittsburgh Pirates, Tigers fans were asked the pointed question: "Who is going to knock in the 127 runs that Hank batted across last season?"

Now Mullin is leading the league with 13 doubles and hitting some 80 points better than anybody else in the majors, and he has knocked in 14 runs in 20 games.

Mullin's second-inning homer gave Detroit an early lead yesterday and after Philadelphia Athletics tied the score and the Clubs had battled to the 14th, Mullin again opened the winning rally with a single to set the stage for Doc Cramer's game breaking single.

Dizzy Trout, who required relief in the last of the 14th received credit for the 4-3 victory over the A's. The win solidified Detroit's lead in the American League while Boston Red Sox fell before St. Louis Browns 3-1, dropping two games back. In night games Chicago White Sox thumped New York Yankees 8-2 and Cleveland Indians shackled Washington Senators 9-1.

Chicago Cubs clung to the National League lead despite an 8-3 drubbing by New York Giants because Boston Braves were succumbing to St. Louis Cardinals in a night game 6-5. Brooklyn Dodgers dropped their third straight in the west, bowing to Pittsburgh 7-3 and Cincinnati Reds broke out with a flurry of five homers to thump Philadelphia Phillies, 11-3.

Run Into Tough Pitching

The Red Sox ran into some tough pitching by Bob Muncrief of the Browns who curved his way to a nine-run edge.

Joe Haynes turned in a spectacular job for the White Sox, stopping the Yankees with three hits and no runs after relieving Frank Pepish in the first inning. With Bob Kennedy knocking in four runs Chicago finally flattened Floyd Bevens and piled up 16 hits to spoil things for the 44,325 fans.

Cleveland shoved a pounding pitching record in Bryan Stephens who limited Washington to eight scattered hits while his mates clubbed Early Wynn and Bobo Newsom for 16 blows.

Clint Hartung made his debut as a starting pitcher for the Giants, clinching credit for the decision over the Cubs although he heeded relief help after 5 1-3 innings. Johnny Mize tied a National League record by scoring in his 15th straight game.

Harry Brecheen, who has won four of the seven games the Cards have been able to rescue, worked his magic on the Boston Club with a seven-hitter. Enos Slaughter contributed a pair of homers and Marty Marion the third homer of the year in the 11-hit attack.

Ralph Kiner, the 1946 National League home run champ, found the range in "Greenberg Gardens" and hit two over the wall in Pittsburgh's romp over Brooklyn. Edson Bahr won and Vic Lombardi lost in the nightcap was there at the finish. Bahr had to give up in the ninth because of a rain delay before being game breaking single.

Five Cincinnati homers, two by Eddie Lukon, served to cement rookie Ed Erautt's first big league triumph.

FIRST RENEWAL OF WALKER CUP SINCE '38 STARTS

United States Seeking to Lift Britain's Proudest Golf Trophy

By BILL MACKLIN

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 16 (AP)—The United States seeks today to lift Great Britain's proudest golf trophy—the Walker Cup, emblematic of the world's team championship in amateur golf—in the first renewal of this classic competition since 1938.

Play starts today when the United States Amateur Champion Ted Bishop and Skee Riegel tee off against 24-year-old Joe Carr Irish Amateur King, and his fellow countryman, Cecil Wing.

This combination, regarded as the "first team," will be followed by three other foursomes:

Leonard Crawley and Percy Boomer of Great Britain vs Bud Ward and Smiley Quick of the United States.

Alex Kyle and James Wilson of Great Britain vs Fred Kammer and Willie Turnesa of the United States.

Dick Chapman and Frank Stranahan of the United States vs Stowe of Great Britain.

They play a quartet game here, handed down from the days when golf balls were scarce. Each player takes turns hitting his team's ball. Four 36-hole foursomes will be followed by eight singles matches over the same distance tomorrow.

Great Britain's margin of victory in 1938 was seven matches to four, with one halved.

American teams won the big mug nine straight times before British game through that year.

Sports Roundup

By ALAN HARVEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, May 16 —(CP)—Remember Bill Cissell?...seems only yesterday the headlines announced that Chicago White Sox had acquired the shortstop for $123,000, the most they ever paid for a player... that was about 20 years ago... well, Cissell didn't take to Major League pitching and was replaced by Luke Appling, but the punchline is that Bill is back now as Comiskey Park in Chicago where he made his bigtime debut... at 42 Bill is an electrician, working to stop the arclight towers which glare down on a new generation of diamond hopefuls... and Cissell still keeps his hand in, playing for Chicago area semi-professional clubs on Sunday afternoons at $25 a game.

Co-Op

On the brighter side, Wilbur (New York Sun) Wood dipped into the past for reminiscences about some of baseball's most cockeyed plays, including the time every player on the old Baltimore Orioles got an assist on one play... the game against Louisville... with a runner on second and one out, the batter lined to the second baseman... hopelessly trapped off second, the runner trotted out to his position in left field...the quick-witted second sacker promptly signalled his mates, who gathered around him and took turns handling the ball, each time they gave it back to the second baseman, who finally stepped on the bag for the third out.

Involuntary

Another time, a player drew an assist without touching ball... Ed Linke was pitching for Washington Senators against New York Yankees when Jesse Hill lashed a liner which caught Linke flush on the head...the ball carromed high in the air and Jake Redmond, Washington catcher, caught on the fly, then doubled, a Yankee runner off second... as the catcher threw to first, terrified Linke off the field, the official scorer wrote in an assist for the unconscious pitcher.

CHIPS
OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK
By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor.

ONE OF LIFE'S BRIGHTER MOMENTS

The telephone buzzed in the news rooms the other day. A voice demanded the immediate attention of the sports desk.

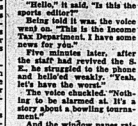
"Hello," it said, "Is this the sports editor?"

Being that it was the voice went on. "This is the Income Tax Department. I have some news for you."

Five minutes later, after the staff had revived the S. E., he struggled to the phone and bellowed weakly, "Yeah, let's have the worst."

The voice chuckled. "Nothing to be alarmed at. It's a story about a bowling tournament."

And the window panes rattled from the sudden gust of wind Es the S. E. heaved a sephyr of relief.



Seriously, it appears the boys at gain of the Income Tax Department branch here can topple the maples with the same alacrity and dexterity they mow down your income tax returns. In the annual spring of bowlers that can finish third in a field of 128 teams from Halifax to Vancouver are more than passing shakes at pinning the pins.

And that is what, Team No. 1 from the I. T. offices here did in a recent tournament in which that many teams from the Department of National Revenue participated. The tournament was the inaugural competition for the Ambassador's Trophy presented by C. Fraser Elliott, former Deputy Minister of Taxation. The tournament will be an annual affair.

The Belleville office team comprised of Miss E. Taggart Miss M. Robinson, Mr. C. Roper, Mr. D. Mott and Mr. Ken Reid, rolled the impolding score of 2,125, just 82 pins behind the trophy-winning Ottawa office team and 77 behind the second place quintet from Toronto. Mr. Roper led the squad with a score of 786; Mott had 634; Reid, 581 and the Misses Mc-Taggart and Robson, 555 and 532 respectively.

Members of the Belleville team received as prizes ash trays given lighters as a reward for their fine achievement on the alleys. Those competing in the tournament bowled their games at their home-town alleys and forwarded scores to headquarters in Ottawa.

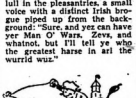
Heavy, smashing, mat action is expected at the Arena mat here tonight when Whipper Billy Watson and John Katan stack for the second time in two years. Watson has a big officials' edge in that he was awarded two straight falls over Katan but the latter feels that not one, but both of those falls were "stolen" from him. In this return match Katan is hoping for a different referee but the athletic commission so far have given him little sympathy. The referee for this match will be decided the day of the bout and may be any one of the five officials who are on the Ontario athletic commission staff. Unofficially it will probably lie as a last-minute choice between Al Bunny Dunlop and Ernie Powers the Senior referee for the province.

Watson is in his usual great condition for the bout and Katan claims that he never felt in better shape. Everything therefore is all set for a regular "dongall" of a battle.

Pat Flanigan will be welcomed back on this card after his Texan campaign in which the popular Patrick cleaned up every junior heavyweight they could throw against him in the pan-handle State. Flan will meet Al Krusher Korman who gets meaner every season.

The late De Wolfe Hopper, famous acter and story teller, who gathered fame with his immortal renditions of "Casey at the Bat", loved to relate the following yarn, which he said was one of his favorites. It appears the newspaper'boys were whooping it up a bit unduly in the Lambs Club in New York, when the topic of conversation veered to horses.

The boys got into a friendly argument as to the qualities of their respective bang-tails. Some favored Man O' War, others Zev, others Exterminator, etc, as being the greatest horses in the world. During a lull in the pleasantries, a small voice with a distinct Irish brogue piped up from the background: "Sure, and you can have yer Man O' War, Zevs, and whatnot, but I'll tell ye who the greatest harse in ari the wurrid wuz."



The newsboys looked around in amazement, then 'smelling' a story asked the wizened little Irishman to give his opinion.

"Sure", the little old man said," I seen two straight spots of Irish, "the greatest harse I ever saw was a team of a man named Biddy which we onld man owned. That Biddy could run like scared lightnin' and her best race was against a field of eighteen nags. Not over a course, mind ye, of a mile and a quarter, or a mile and an inch, but a straight fifteen molles."

"Twas a great day in me ould hometown on the south of Oireland the day of the Darby. The pack got away to a flyin' start, and on the e-nough, Biddy was in3the middle. At the second mile marker Biddy had four she was second, and at fifth she was eight lengths out in front, runnin' away from those fourlegged omnibaung."

"Thin, somethin' happened. Biddy gave a great leap in the air and came down on her back. The pack swept by her. Thin, be Japers and as sure as I'm expecting another drink, we could see that Biddy, the spalpeen, had given birth to a foal right there on the track."

"Me ould man, stretched himself to the seven feets he was him. He roared a yell that the heathen in Northern Ireland could hear. 'Biddy' he shouted, Biddy looked up and around to where me ould man stood waving his arms. Then she leaped to her feet. She looked at the pack flying around the upper turn and was off like an arrow in hot pursuit."

Ah the twelve mile mark leading. But a pesky nag was she had crept up to the fourth spot. At the eight mile mark at her withers. Biddy tried to shake him off but he matched her stride for stride, at the fourteen mile spot she had a head lead, and she managed to under the wire by a neat½ nose, hahaha."

"There, me bonny lads, was the greatest harse that ever lived."

The scribes tilted their glasses and smiled. Then one spoke "Great horse all right Pat, but what beats me is how you got home."

Irish eyes twinkled as the little Irishman drained his glass and edged toward the door. "Sure, and begorra, "that's en't ye guessed it. Sure, and it was Biddy's foal.

BATTING AND PITCHING STARS

BILLIONTH DOLLAR LOAN

New York, May 16 (AP)—Charles J. F. Porter borrowed $312 from the National City Bank and along with the cash he was handed his note, endorsed "paid."

The puzzled borrower then learned that his loan included the billionth dollar loaned by the bank's 21-year-old personal loan department and writing off the loan was the bank's way of celebrating.

Batting, Pat Mullin, Tigers — Hit two run homer in second inning for Tigers, only score until the 14th inning when he opened winning rally with single in 6-3 decision over Washington.

Pitching, Harry Brecheen, Cards —Stopped St. Louis' losing streak by hurling seven-hitter against Boston for 8-2 decision, his fourth in seven Cardinal victories.

TORONTO LEAFS GIVEN SHUTOUT BY THE ROYALS

Lefty Al Gerheauser Proves Menace and May Get Another Chance in Majors

(By The Associated Press)

The Toronto Royals beginning to regard Lefty Al Gerheauser of Montreal Royals as something of a menace.

The 29-year-old pitcher who was cast off by Pittsburgh Pirates last year tossed his second shutout of the season — a five-hitter — against the Maple Leafs last night to give the Royals a 4-0 International League victory.

Gerheauser, who has been with the New York Yankees chain, Philadelphia Phils and Pittsburgh, may be in for another chance at the major when his hurling performances with the Royals to date.

Jersey City Giants remained safely in the lead by turning back the Chiefs 5-2 at Syracuse in the opener of a three-game series. Norm Jaeger's three-bagger with the bases loaded in the eighth was the capper.

Newark Bears kept right on their neighbor's heels by coming from behind to beat Baltimore 4-3 in the first night game at Newark. The Bears exploded in the ninth with five hits, climaxed by a single by Gene Woodling to get home the winning run.

The Orioles had built up a 3-0 lead on two runs in the opening frame and Howie Moss' 10th home run of the season in the third.

Max Schmeling Wants Another Crack at Louis

(By The Canadian Press)

Max Schmeling wants another "crack at Joe Louis". At least that's what the former heavyweight boxing champion said yesterday after his first appearance in eight years—a sparring exhibition at Kassel, Germany.

The question of Sunday Sports was aired in Toronto police court yesterday and Magistrate T. J. Elmore ruled that the lotteries skating rink was performing a work of necessity in allowing Sunday practices of juvenile hockey teams. It was an appeal against a decision under the Lord's Day Alliance Act.

Half a hundred leagues were represented at the annual meeting on the rural Softball Association at Galt. Elected honorary presidents were Mitchell F. Hepburn, G. S. Henry and Harry Nixon. Leagues so far entered include North Oxford, Peel, Scarborough, York, North Waterloo, South Dumfries, Brant, Winfield, Wentworth, Beamsville and Crystal Beach districts.

The lacrosse fans in and around Midland can expect a banner season this year. As we rate the way the team is going through its paces at present seems to indicate as much. Rialbirds figure Vince Reddy, high scoring ace of Barrie Lakeshores last season, will be a valuable addition to the Midland Boxie squad.

Eight new players are reported to have been added to the Hounot Skippers H.S. hockey league roster. They are defencemen Jack Portland, Doug Maher, Len Halderson, Joffre Desilets, Lou Smerko, Jerry ...Brown, Goalie Paul Bibeault and Centre Mike Shabagra. However, Shabagra, who led the Western Canada Senior League in scoring this past season, says he doesn't know anything about it and wasn't going to play anywhere outside of Saskatoon.

Magda Rurak, Romanian tennis star, who was "requested" by the Tennis Association of her country not to play in England, disregarded the "request" and came to London anyway. She was knocked out of the third round of the Paddington Tournament Women's doubles yesterday, when playing with Miss G. E. Woodgate of London. They were beaten by Betty Coutts and Mrs. Jean Walker-Smith of Great Britain 6-3, 6-2.

HARMFUL TO STOMACH ULCERS

Toronto, May 15 — (CP) — Whisky drinkers may be cheered by an opinion voiced at a symposium on peptic ulcer held in conjunction with the Ontario Medical Association meeting here yesterday. Beer, wine and cocktails, said Dr. E. J. Maltby of Toronto, are more harmful to stomach ulcers than straight whisky.

CANADIAN SPORT SNAPSHOTS

BY WILLIAM N. DUNSDAY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, May 16— (CP)—Winning a "Canadian" championship in the annual tournament staged here by the Canadian Bowling Association is "somewhat of a hollow victory" in the opinion of George Chudbury Star Drack.

The C.B.A. tag is somewhat misleading, since Canadian bowlers usually take the American Bowling Congress, the C.B.A. "is almost an exclusively Toronto organization."

Whereas Americans, from all parts attend the A.B.C. functions, entrants to the C.B.A. "down 90 per cent from Toronto and rarely from beyond the borders of Ontario."

George agrees that any Canadian bowler is welcome but unless you happen to come up with a cash prize, travelling to Toronto for the meet proves expensive for trundlers from eastern and western coasts.

While on the subject, George reviews the discrepancy in rules of five-pin bowling in eastern and western Canada and if Dominion titles are ever going to mean anything, it's high time the pin-spillers came to a saw-off.

In the east the 10-corner four-pin must be spilled in order to get on the score sheet, whereas in the west it's the semi pin but it only counts one. This little twist makes the headpin worth five in the west and probably accounts for the fact western scores are usually higher.

Automotive Ideas

Lynn Hough Barbara Ann Scott has returned the shiny new automobile given to her by the City of Ottawa to enable her to retain her amateur standing as a figure skater, Ontario sportswriters have a few suggestions of otherwise ending the controversy.

Britt (North Bay Nugget) Jessup thinks Barbara Ann should just deal the car in and by the time she wins the Olympic title the new one will have arrived "if it takes as long as mine is taking."

Chick (Stratford Beacon - Herald) Appel figures that instead of placing the vehicle in the Ottawa museum as somebody suggested, Uncle Sam's Avery Brundage who started all this rhubarb, should be placed under glass "not as a rarity, or an extinct species of badger, but rather so that people will know what a badger is."

Before packing his bags for London, Ont., and turning over his Sarnia 'Observer' sports desk to Ottawa's Harry Tompkins, George Tatham asks "What if some thoughtful individual was to have stolen the car during her absence, 'stored' it for a while, and then presented a 1948 model to her when she had won the Olympic contests?"

BREAKS BOTH LEGS IN FALL

St. Catharines, May 15—(CP)—Seven-year-old Freddie Dyck of nearby Port Dalhousie was reported in favorable condition in hospital here today after suffering two broken legs in a fall last night. It is believed he was playing near the barn on his father's farm and fell off a ramp.

286 CHURCHES DESTROYED IN WAR

3 DEFENCEMEN SOLD BY SMYTHE

Toronto, May 15 (CP)—Manager Conn Smythe of the world champion Toronto Maple Leafs announced today the sale of three defencemen to Tulsa Oilers of the United States Hockey League.

The trio, Nick Knott, Alvin (Buck) Jones and Eddie Young, all saw service with Leafs' farm clubs last season and were not considered in the long-range rebuilding program of the National League team.

All three rearguards were born in Ontario and played most of their amateur hockey in the province. Jones was born in Owen Sound and saw service with Barrie Flyers Juniors; Knott, a native of Kingston, gained prominence with Oshawa Generals Juniors and Eddie Young, a Collingwood boy, was with Hamilton Pats seniors before turning professional.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Ted Williams, Red Sox — Lined two unassisted double play, grounded out, doubled and struck out in Sox' 5-1 loss to St. Louis.

Hank Greenberg, Pirates — Struck out twice, walked twice scoring on Ralph Kiner's three-run homer in fourth inning as Pittsburgh thumped Brooklyn 7-3

Jackie Robinson, Dodgers — Collected two singles, a bunt single in the third and a drive to centre in the seventh, driving home Pee Wee Reese, filed out twice and fouled out. He now has hit safely in 12 consecutive games.

Stan Musial, Cardinals — Went hitless in five times at bat against Braves as St. Louis banged out 8-2 win.

Mickey Vernon, Senators — Collected two singles off Bryan Stephens and scored lone Washington tally in 9-1 defeat by Cleveland.

THIS TIRE IS DIFFERENT

IT'S A NEW KIND OF TIRE—BUILT TO GIVE YOU THE GREATEST MILEAGE OF ALL TIME!..

Here it is—the wonderful new post-war tire you've waited for! It's a new kind of tire . . . Designed differently, Engineered differently, Built differently! It's made of tougher, cooler-running rubber—developed by B. F. Goodrich to give you matchless mileage!

Look at the giant Life-Saver tread. It has wide road-contact area : : : and the famous "windshield-wiper" tread design that wipes wet pavements so dry you can light a match on its tracks! It gives you sure-grip starts, safe, controlled stops . . . and longer, trouble-free mileage.

The tire body and sidewalls are rugged . . . massive. New types of cord and new body construction make this new B. F. Goodrich tire 35% stronger! That means greater safety and longer service!

And this tire has been proved! On police cruisers and taxi cabs : : : in millions of miles of all types of service . . . this great new B. F. Goodrich tire has outworn the best quality pre-war tires ever made—with ease!

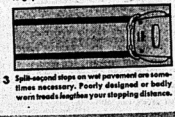
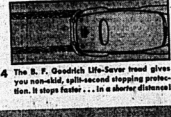
You've waited for just such extra mileage and extra safety. Don't wait a minute longer! This great new B. F. Goodrich tire is available NOW. See your nearest B. F. Goodrich dealer today!

1 The never-ending spiral bars of the famous Life-Saver tread act like a windshield-wiper —sweep wet pavements dry for the rubber to grip. You stop faster!

2 You can actually light a match on the tracks of the amazing Life-Saver tread—so dry does it sweep even wettest pavement! That's proof of skid-resistance!



3 Split-second stops on wet pavement are sometimes necessary. Poorly designed or badly worn treads lengthen your stopping distance.



4 The B. F. Goodrich Life-Saver tread gives you non-skid, split-second stopping protection. It stops faster . . . in a shorter distance!

DEFENDS BOARD'S POLICY

Toronto, May 15 — (CP)—The Board of Education last night defended an accusation, entered by Toronto's district "D" of the Canadian Legion, that too many teachers without military records were being hired.

Defending the Board's policy in employing teachers, Dr. C. C. Goldring, director of education, said: "As well as men with war records we must employ those who were too young to join."

SAYS THEY WERE DRINKING RIKE IN JAIL KITCHEN

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 16 — (AP) — Police Commissioner Roy Nash admitted the situation was embarrassing but said the two policemen just had to be suspended for 10 days or more for drinking beer on duty.

To make things worse, he said, they were doing the drinking in the kitchen of the city jail. That is the reason he said they gave: They found the beer in the jail refrigerator and knew it hadn't been there. So they "were getting rid of it."

THEIR IRISH IS UP

Ottawa, May 15 — (CP) — Ottawa's Irish Historical Society has its Irish up. It decided last night to amend the society council to discontinue purchase of the book "Ottawa Old and New" on the grounds 15 more of its pages were about rowdyism charged to the Irish.

To make things worse, he said, they were doing the drinking in the kitchen of the city jail. That is the reason he said they gave: They found the beer in the jail refrigerator and knew it hadn't been there. So they "were getting rid of it."

FARMERS

As you know, feed supplies have been uncertain in recent months, and the situation has not been a happy one. HOWEVER, we now are in a position to assure you of a steady supply of most of the feeds you require, with which to raise your farm stock.

Russian Army Paying Considerable Attention to Development of Tanks

By ROSS MUNRO
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 16 — (CP) — More than half the fighting forces of the Soviet Union probably have been demobilized since the end of the war, but the Red Army is believed still to have about 4,000,000 men under arms, it is estimated in Moscow from scattered Russian statistics and statements.

When the war ended, there were about 11,500,000 Russians in the armed forces, despite losses which Premier Stalin said included 3,000,000 killed.

The standing peacetime army likely will remain around 4,000,000 but within six months 10,000,000 men probably could be mobilized in a national emergency.

A lot of attention is being paid to tank development and the best tank in the Red Army now is probably the Joseph Stalin," a 30-ton job mounting what is likely a 100-millimetre gun.

On this and other tanks, the Russians have shown exceptional skill in angling armor plate for deflecting shells.

Russian technical experts are concentrating also on the development of tank engines and are going into the question of new propellant power for tanks other than gasoline.

The Russian air force and navy are the weak arms. Red air force air crews are said to be good but the ground crew organization is clumsy and they have little idea of maintenance.

I could find no evidence in Moscow that the Red Army is working on special Arctic equipment or doing any special experimental work in Arctic campaigning. They have snowmobiles, but they don't seem to be as good as the ones with which the Canadian Army has been working in the north.

RAID CLUB IN MONTREAL

Montreal, May 15 — (CP) — Claiming "from the appearance of the premises" the club would have been open for business today, police yesterday raided the Imperial Sporting Club on East End St. Hubert Street and arrested Lucien Gervais, 46, as alleged owner of horse betting establishment. More than 1,000 betting pads, several marker boards and two telephones were seized.

'Steadfast Service' Against Inflation Is Praised by Mr. King

Ottawa, May 15 — (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King yesterday paid tribute to the "steadfast service" of 11,000 voluntary workers of the Prices Board's consumer branch, which officially closes Thursday.

"In Canada's battle against inflation," the prime minister said in a statement, "the government recognized that the success of price control depended, in large measure, upon the intelligent support and steady co-operation of consumers generally.

"In particular, the government looked to the women of Canada for support of its policy. Canadian women responded splendidly to the appeal to take part in the battle against the inflation of prices. Public-spirited women throughout our country voluntarily combined their forces to help meet the threat of inflation."

He thanked the voluntary workers across Canada "who, in helping to combat the evil of inflation during the past years of grave national emergency, have rendered steadfast service to our country," and mentioned particularly the chairmen of the 14 women's regional advisory committees.

3 Firemen Killed, 11 Injured When Fire Reels Collide

Toronto Equipment Rushing To Blaze Meet Head On

Toronto, May 17 (CP)—Deaths resulting from a spectacular early-morning head-on crash of two fire reels, mounted to three when fireman Melville Kerfoot died from skull injuries suffered in the accident which gave a tragic twist to Toronto's traffic safety drive launched only three days ago.

Killed almost instantly in the collision as the two fire trucks raced to a three-alarm school fire in the city's east end were Joseph Walker, 24, and Charles Leslie Jr.

Dr. Smirle Lawson, chief coroner announced that an inquest will be ordered into the deaths. Fireman Albert Creighton suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries and at St. Michael's hospital his condition was reported as "grave."

Five other firemen were injured in the crash which left pools of blood on the roadside and sidewalks at the corner of Queen Street east and Parliament Street. Eye-witnesses said it seemed a miracle that all eight firemen were not killed as fire hurled itself through the air.

One fireman was thrown against the door of a bank building, crashing through plate glass. Another landed on the street car tracks. One fireman was pinned in the wreckage but was quickly extricated by citizens and police officers.

Others injured were captain Jen Stroud, cuts to hands and face, shoulder injuries; John Johnston, cuts and bruises chest injuries; Norman John Morrison, scalp injuries and bruised thigh; fireman Ralph Brunton, cuts and bruises chest injuries.

As the heavy reels collided, wrecking cars standing at all corners of the intersection. Firemen were thrown in all directions and some were pinned under the reels.

One hook-and-ladder truck was thrown 25 feet and landed on its side and the ladder came to rest on sidewalk hydro pole and ripped it off at the base.

Gawking from the wrecked engines created a fire threat but additional equipment from surrounding firehalls removed the danger. The wails of fire sirens could be heard for miles as ambulances from every hospital in the city rushed to the scene and doctors administered first aid to the injured.

The fire in Queen Alexandra School on Bradview Avenue broke out in a third-floor room and spread to other rooms on the floor and down a stairwell, it was before it was brought under control. Four rooms were gutted.

Wage Increase, Negotiations To Start Monday

Toronto, Ont., May 17 —(CP)— George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers of America (CIO) announced last night that negotiations for a wage increase for 21,000 unlicensed employees of the "Big Three" auto industries in Canada.

Negotiations will start Monday with the General Motors Corporation, Chrysler Corporation of Canada and Windsor, Mr. Burt said. Negotiations with McLaughlin Industries of General Motors will open at St. Catharines Thursday.

He said bargaining between the union and Ford Motor Company of Canada, covering employees in Windsor, Toronto and Winnipeg will start in Windsor next Wednesday.

No date has been set for the start of negotiations with the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, with employees at Windsor and Chatham, Ont.

Weather Synopsis

Toronto, May 17 (CP)—Skies are clear over most of Ontario this morning but are cloudy with high pressure moving eastward through the province. However a weak disturbance in Kansas is causing intermittent rain through Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. The rain is expected to spread into the lower lakes region by Saturday and is forecasted to end Sunday evening. Temperatures will not change much from normal today and Sunday.

Costs Too High For Lost-Cost Housing Units

Toronto, May 17 — (CP) — The erection of unnecessary buildings, and the high cost of labor and materials have stalled low-cost housing in the Toronto area, Douglas H. Storms, general manager of Housing Enterprises, told a visiting delegation from the Niagara Frontier Housing Management Association here Friday. The association comprises both public and private groups interested in housing in the Niagara and Buffalo areas.

Scarcity of materials and high costs, said Mr. Storms, have forced Housing Enterprises to cancel $30,000,000 worth of housing projects because "we can't provide rental housing at rentals the tenants can pay.

"We are with despondence and alarm the unnecessary building that is going on. The limited amount of building materials now available is being pried from housing, which is being shoved into a secondary position.

"Rehabilitation may be the solution to the problem," asserted Dr. Storms. "We had hoped to build 1,000 units in this area but that is becoming impossible. Many veterans who returned to this country with war brides are living with their in-laws, and that is not satisfactory."

Dragnet Spread For Gunmen In $1,600 Hold-Up

Hamilton, May 17. (CP)—A dragnet of police and detectives spread over the city this morning today searching for a lone armed bandit who escaped in $1,600 holdup in the factory office of the Brown-Boggs Company, Ltd.

The lone gunman is said to be between 30 and 33 years old, the 5-foot 10-inch bandit with a pale face when he entered the office shortly before 9 and ordered John Morrison, manager, to open the machine plant and office boy Ronald Bradshaw to get on the floor.

Muttering something about knowing Morrison, the gunman then smashed intruder strode past the prostrate men and on into the vault, picking up the loose change and a small desk-top calendar.

Kelly and Morrison both tried to persuade the man that no pay had already been given out but he carried on, discovered the safe and demanded to know the fact that most of the staff had already been paid his loot might have reached $4,000, it was said.

Morrison was able to note the licence number of the 1947-model sedan, parked outside the office, which the bandit drove away. Police are working on the theory that he is the bandit sought in the two-man team which earlier in the week held up the National Sewer Pipe Company. One man has been arrested and charged with that offence.

Partially Raise Motorcar From Cobourg Pond

Cobourg, May 17. (CP)—Police probing the water of Pratt's pond near this eastern Ontario town after an oil slick was reported, partially raised a 1941 model automobile Friday and found a driver's licence plates 4A508.

The car was discovered by the rear end and it was impossible to bring it to land until a derrick was obtained.

It was not ascertained whether anyone was in the automobile.

At Toronto, the Ontario Motor Vehicles department office in the licence plates were issued to Benjamin Rosenberg of Toronto.

Mrs. Rosenberg later said the automobile had been stolen in Toronto about two weeks ago.

TWO HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS KILLED IN CAR ACCIDENT

Motor Vehicle Leaves Road and Strikes Tree As Party Returning Home From Dance

Welland, May 17 (CP)—Two high school students, a girl and a boy, were killed early today when their motorcar crashed into a tree on the outskirts of Welland.

Members of a party which started out in the car after a school dance here last night, the victims were Mary Jane Dandy, 16, and Ross Dawson, 16.

The party had attended the "Spring Formal" at the Welland High School.

The car left the road and struck a tree four miles north of the city. Six students were in the car and they had driven to a Frontier Housing Management Association here Friday. The association comprises both public and private groups interested in housing in the Niagara and Buffalo areas.

Scarcity of materials and high costs, said Mr. Storms, have forced Housing Enterprises to cancel $30,000,000 worth of housing projects because "we can't provide rental housing at rentals the tenants can pay.

"We are with despondence and alarm the unnecessary building that is going on. The limited amount of building materials now available is being pried from housing, which is being shoved into a secondary position.

"Rehabilitation may be the solution to the problem," asserted Dr. Storms. "We had hoped to build 1,000 units in this area but that is becoming impossible. Many veterans who returned to this country with war brides are living with their in-laws, and that is not satisfactory."

98 Croats, Serbs To Seek Families Lost in War

Vancouver, May 17 — (CP) — Wyatt immigration authorities are being besieged by Europeans anxious to enter Canada, 98 Croatians and Serbians are travelling eastward on the first leg of their journey back to war-torn Yugoslavia.

There were more tears than smiles here Friday night when nearly 1,000 compatriots turned out to see the departure of the first party of a growing Yugoslav exodus from Canada's Pacific coast.

All Canadian citizens with the right to return, they are part of a contingent of 500 arriving in Canada which is assembling in Montreal for the trip to the immigrant ship S. S. Radnij for Yugoslavia.

Chief reason for the uprooting of these 98 here was a desire to seek families lost in the maelstrom of war.

"If only I had brought them out when I came 30 years ago, a weary Dugger said repeatedly.

A few young men were returning to the homeland. They said they wanted to join volunteer youth bands from all over Yugoslavia to help rebuild war-devastated railroads.

Tractors Growl Across Prairies To Finish Seeding

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Tregarva, Sask., May 17—(CP) —Tractors hit the fields at 5:30 a.m. today across the rich Regina plains as prairie farmers rushed to finish seeding while temperature and moisture conditions were right.

Already they had calculated when next fall's harvest would strike. If wheat, the west's boss crop, was to ripen before then, it should be in the ground within days.

Bill Bushy, 71-year-old pioneer of this district 10 miles northwest of Regina, heard the machines start up but he stayed in bed. He used to get up at daybreak to plough but now the job belongs to his son Wesley and to a hired lad who began a 17-hour stint on his 3½ heavy-land sections the father still has 33-year-old son's own beween them.

Wesley and the family automobile out past two water dugouts, through a gate, to commence the workers. Then he burned the stubble, fed the chicken and pigs, milked the dozen of cattle before he picked up the first load of seed.

"It's too early to talk about this year's prospects," he said. "Anything can happen. Wind, hail, sawfly, frost, cutworms."

Like most of their neighbors, the Bushys could use another shower. But still, his big boy and their hired hand would be able to put in about 700 acres of wheat and 150 of flax. Barley acreage would depend on the weather.

MINE WORKERS TO HEAR TERMS OF AGREEMENT

Approval by the Union Would End Three-Month Strike in Maritimes

Montreal, May 17 —(CP)— The Maritime coal strike negotiations today shifted back to Glace Bay, N.S., as Freeman Jenkins, president of District 26, United Mine Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) flew from Montreal to present to the union's membership for approval the "tentative agreement" he reached with Dominion Steel and Coal Company officials here yesterday.

Approval by the union would end the three-month strike of 13,000 miners for wage increases.

Harold Gordon, general manager of Dosco, last night said the settlement provides for a control effective Jan. 1, by the end of which wages in a $1 per day wage increase for a six-month period during which production must be restored to levels set by the company.

If production was restored, an additional 40 cents would be granted for remainder of the contract. He added the union agreed to contract changes originally called for by the company.

This equals Dosco's last offer a month ago which would grant the union's demand of a $1.40 daily wage increase over the pre-strike basic rates of $8.35 daily. The company's offer granted a $1 increase with the extra 40 cents coming from the increased price in coal.

The Union's demand also included a minimum welfare fund and pension scheme.

Yesterday's closed meeting was one of a series between company and union officials in Montreal, Ottawa, Halifax and government authorities at Ottawa.

Although Dosco's Sydney steel mills consuming coal at the rate of 1,000,000 tons a year could not be forced to halt production, a number of departments suspended or curtailed production at one time it was feared the plant, employing more than 3,000 might have to go on a maintenance basis.

Wolfe Is. Blaze Causes Damage Of $7,000

Kingston, Ont., May 17 —(CP) —Volunteer and regular fire-fighters battled late yesterday they had won their battle with a stubborn blaze which at mid-day threatened to wipe out the village of Marysville near here.

Believed to have started near a garage, the blaze on Wolfe Island, was fanned by a high wind and caused damage estimated at $7,000 before it was brought under control. Fire-fighters marshalled among the men of the village and surrounding district used every available container they could by their hands on to carry water.

SHOWDOWN SCRAP SHAPING UP IN SECURITY COUNCIL

Slavs Revolt Against an International Watch on Balkan Frontier

Lake Success, May 17 — (CP) — Russia and the United States appeared headed today for a showdown battle in the United Nations Security Council over a Slav revolt against maintaining an international watch on the troubled Balkan frontier areas.

The United States deputy delegate, Herschel V. Johnson, and the Soviet deputy foreign minister, Andrei A. Gromyko, traded sharp words yesterday after the American interrupted a speech by Sime Nikezitch, Yugoslav representative.

As the Yugoslav representative reiterated charges that the present Greek government was responsible for all border incidents along the frontiers with Albania, Greece and Bulgaria, Johnson interrupted:

"Do we have to put up with this tirade against the Greek government? I've never heard such an astonishing statement made in the security council."

Gromyko retorted:

"Yugoslavia has a right to defend herself."

And then Gromyko declared:

"I ask the American deputy delegate not to interrupt and let the Yugoslav delegate speak."

Johnson retorted:

"I do not recognize the right of the Soviet delegate to tell me when and how to speak."

Gromyko declared:

"I suggest the United States delegate is not the arbiter."

Nikezitch, Yugoslav Minister to Colombia finally managed to break up the heated exchange and instructed Kosanovic to continue reading a brief, although some of it may not be relevant to the question."

New Tax Does Not Apply to Fairs

Ottawa, May 17 (CP).—Imposition of a new tax on horse racing and professional performances does not apply to such institutions as agriculture exhibitions and fair associations, Finance Department officials explained Friday.

The tax was included in the government's budget, however, it was explained at the time that it did not apply to non-profit organizations, such as those of the fall fairs.

FREEDOMS, HUMAN RIGHTS DEBATED IN PARLIAMENT

Discussion Develops On Govt. Motion To Establish Joint House Committee

By GEORGE KITCHEN

Ottawa, May 17 (CP)— The Commons debates yesterday soared into lofty plane of human rights and freedoms.

The discussion developed as the chamber opened consideration of a government motion to establish a joint Senate-Commons committee to study the question of rights and freedoms and "the manner in which these freedoms" can be implemented.

The motion already has passed the Senate.

Spokesmen for the four main parties entered the debate, each speaking of the vigilance needed if the fundamental liberties handed down through centuries of tradition were to be safeguarded.

From the government benches came a vigorous warning by veteran minister Mackenzie, cautioning the motion, that efforts to catalogue and define rights of man in an act of parliament might easily lead to curtailment of some of them.

John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) warned that the progressive Conservative opposition endorsed the resolution as "holding forth the prospect of human freedom" and called for action over a long period. He said he would onto, Alvin P. Cadeau of Burlington, and Mr. G. Gunn of Toronto. Mr. A. Moore of Orillia and former Provincial Agriculture Minister P. M. Bowan of Ingersoll, both withdrew from the race at the last minute.

Adopt 17-point Program

Other highlights of the convention were the adoption of a 17-point policy program and election of Kenneth C. Hiscott of Preston as president of the Ontario Liberal Association to succeed Leslie J. Haines. Mr. Hipel is a former speaker of the Ontario Legislature.

Mr. Oliver warned "premier three times Liberals were going to win the next election.

"The only thing that Premier Drew can do to stop the growing tide of Liberalism is call an election now," Mr. Oliver said. "He leaves it for a year or two, he will have no chance. I have given him the challenge."

The election for the leadership took four ballots. Hipel received his gold seven the second largest number of votes, numbering about 200.

As a protege of Agnes Macphail the new leader made his first ran for the legislature on an United Farmers of Ontario ticket. He later ran as a Liberal-Progressive and then as a Liberal and has consistently defended his Grey South seat six times.

He held the portfolio of Public Welfare in the Mitchell Hepburn and Gordon Conant governments and became leader of the Ontario Liberal opposition in the Legislature in 1945.

Bodies of 103 Killed in Blast Still Unclaimed

Texas City, Tex., May 17. (AP) —Sound of reconstruction can be heard throughout this coastal industrial port city today after a series of explosions levelled the area and left 103 unclaimed dead and 200 missing.

But it is far from normal, with piers still twisted, makeshift roadways winding through razed areas, workers and machines set yet unfound bodies down by the docks. Yesterday, during the first time, flags were raised from half mast in the city.

Bodies of 103 unclaimed and unidentified victims of the explosions touched off by fire on a French ship Grandcamp blew up April 16, are kept in refrigerators at nearby Camp Wallace.

Mrs. Dorothy Trahan announced gratefully that identified funds in Texas City sufferers had passed $689,000. (Checkups of other relief funds place the over-all total at close to $900,000.)

At the city auditorium Friday, funeral home men set up a temporary office to register the dead.

All schools have re-opened, but Leif Frey, superintendent, said one-fourth of the students are still absent.

Farquhar Oliver Elected Liberal Leader in Ontario

Priceville Farmer Serves In Legislature 22 Years

Farquhar Oliver, M.P.P. for Grey South, who has been chosen provincial party leader by Ontario Liberals in convention at Toronto, is a man of broad interests. In addition to his devotion to public life and service, Mr. Oliver finds his greatest satisfaction in his family and his farm.

By FRED KERNER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, May 17 (CP)—Farquhar Oliver, who when he was first elected to the Ontario Legislature 22 years ago became the youngest man ever to sit in the Ontario House, today took over the reins of Liberal Party leadership in the province.

Climaxing a two-day convention, the election of Mr. Oliver was accompanied by with the show address of thanks made by the sturdily-built farmer from Priceville.

Pledging "everything I have" for the success of the party in Ontario, particularly in the next election, Mr. Oliver said he deeply appreciated the honor paid him. He paid tribute to his wife "without whom I could not have been able to get along."

Other candidates in the race for the leadership were Colin A. Campbell of Toronto, Alder-

Alistair Stewart (CCF—Winnipeg North) bespoke the C.C.F. party's determination never to cease its fight to have eliminated discrimination against any Canadian, whatever his race, creed, or creed, and held that human rights and freedoms has been violated in the Dominion.

John Blackmore (SC—Lethbridge) giving the Social Credit party's definition never to be adopted an international bill of rights backed by the United Nations she might be embracing ideas foreign to the Dominion.

Frederick Gibson (CCF—Hamilton East) "Legislation, like charity, begins at home" and that Canada should set her own house in order before she tried to tell other countries how to run theirs.

Mr. Oliver warned "premier three times Liberals were going to win the next election.

"The only thing that Premier Drew can do to stop the growing tide of Liberalism is call an election now," Mr. Oliver said. "He leaves it for a year or two, he will have no chance. I have given him the challenge."

The election for the leadership took four ballots. Hipel received his gold seven the second largest number of votes, numbering about 200.

As a protege of Agnes Macphail the new leader made his first ran for the legislature on an United Farmers of Ontario ticket. He later ran as a Liberal-Progressive and then as a Liberal and has consistently defended his Grey South seat six times.

He held the portfolio of Public Welfare in the Mitchell Hepburn and Gordon Conant governments and became leader of the Ontario Liberal opposition in the Legislature in 1945.

Churchill Gives Stern Warning Of New Crisis

Ayr, Scotland, May 17 —(Reuters)— Stern warning of a new crisis for Britain and of greater intensity and severity than that before" was given last night by Winston Churchill in a speech at the unveiling of the wartime prime minister said.

"There is no country in the world that is better equipped in pieces in the way we are, and there is no country less capable of surviving such a maltreatment.

Turning to the $3,750,000,000 United States loan which, he said, is being spent with "impervidence," Churchill said:

"Are the British Ministers going to the Capitalist free enterprise United States to ask for another loan, at the same time as they continue to deride the American system, to work industry and freely prophesy the early collapse?

In a brief reference to Palestine, Churchill said the British "are trying to extricate themselves" by keeping 100,000 troops there. The "most dismal of all quarrels into which we have blundered."

NEARLY LOST HEAD

New York, May 17 —(CP)— Handras Marcos, 38, was working on a building under an elevated railway when he heard a train coming.

Shortly after, he was treated for cuts to see which way it was going.

Shortly after, he was treated for cuts to see which way it was going.

Curious, he poked his head between two ties to see which way inch, police said, and he would have lost his head.

Canadians Doing Much Bickering Says Col. Merritt

Windsor, Ont., May 17 — (CP) —Col. Cecil Merritt, V.C., Progressive Conservative Member of Parliament for Vancouver-Burrard, said last night that Canadians are doing a little too much bickering among ourselves" and urged a renewal of wartime "team spirit."

In an address at a public meeting sponsored by Progressive Conservative Association of Essex County, Col. Merritt criticized the government for its handling of Canadian government. He said he fear-ed Canada had ceased to "drive and now was drifting.

"I say we are drifting it is because Liberalism is trying to be all things to all people," always divided in two camps always in danger of falling between two stools, with no fixed principles with which to guide itself."

There was an impression that the Liberal party was trying to give leadership even if it wanted to, Col. Merritt declared, and was "a government of caretakers where we should have a government of leaders."

Medical Assoc. Approves Health Insurance Plan

Toronto, May 17. (CP)—The Ontario Medical Association Friday approved a Group Health Insurance Plan for the people of Ontario and pledged financial support to bet up the scheme.

Voluntary contributors it will be in operation before the end this year.

Almost all aspects of the plan were settled, with the exception of premiums, which are to be paid on a monthly basis. It is believed they will be at a premium costing the individual approximately $2 or $2.50 per month.

Persons and families will be enrolled in the prepaid, medical care plan by groups, as in industries and businesses. Basis of the scheme is a free choice of doctor, free choice—patients to have free choice of doctors and doctors free choice of patients.

The plan is not compulsory. Ontario persons will be free to join or stay out. It is expected all doctors will eventually want to join in the plan, but this also is not compulsory.

A committee of seven was set up to direct the operation, for approval of the O.M.A. directors in June. The committee will decide whether to apply for a charter for a new organization to administer the scheme, and whether to persuade a currently operating prepaid medical care plan to turn over its charter.

ORGANIST TO PRESENT RECITAL SUNDAY

After the evening service in Christ Church on Sunday Gordon Stanley Black, Mus. Bac., A.R.C.O., A.C.C.O., will present his first organ recital since coming to the city a few weeks ago. Mr. Black's numbers will include compositions by Bach, Guilmant, Festing, Walont, Liszt, Nevin and Couperin.

GAS CATCHES FIRE, YOUTH IS BURNED

Seriously burned about the hands and face as result of a gasoline explosion, Glen Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, Madoc township, is in Belleville General Hospital.

The accident occurred when Glen was in the farm garage straining gasoline through a felt hat into another container. In some manner the gasoline caught fire, seriously burning the young man about the hands and face. The garage, and a new tractor, purchased only two month ago, were burned in the fire.

37 CHESAPEAKE PUPS BORN IN THREE LITTERS

Something of a record in "dog production" was established by "Chesty" Black, Mac Beach, Chesapeake retriever matron belonging to Jack Lee of this city.

The other day "Chesty" gave birth to three healthy pups, which brings her total family of three litters to 37.

"Chesty" produced 13 pups in her first contribution to the dog census, 12 in the second and the same number in the third. Of the 37 pups, 36 are females, and all have survived a dog's life span.

Her pups are strung across Canada from Halifax to Vancouver and the Belleville kennel canine matron is earning a justifiable record in the quantity and quality of offspring.

ROTARIANS, KIWANIANS TO ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE ON SUNDAY

Two service clubs of the city will attend divine service in their respective groups tomorrow. In the morning the Rotary Club will go to Christ Church where Rotarian the Rev. Grant Sperling will conduct the service, while in the evening the Kiwanis Club will attend St. Thomas Church where they will be met by Kiwanian the Rev. Arthur Smith. Members of both clubs are requested to turn out at their respective services.

Property Owners, C. of C. Members Want Action on Riverside Drive

City property owners and members of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce are desirous that the long proposed Riverside Drive project be rejuvenated and early immediate action be taken toward its development.

That was the consensus of a representative group of city taxpayers and members of the Chamber who met in the Y.M.C.A. forum meeting at the Y.M.C.A. Friday night to hear a report on Critoph and Meadows town planning engineers, and to discuss the matter.

The current housing problem in the city was also suggested as a topic for discussion but owing to the lateness of the hour it was decided to adjourn the meeting.

Discussion on the Riverside Drive project took up a large percentage of the time at the open forum meeting which was presided over by Jamieson Bone, following a brief Chamber Commerce business session under the direction of its president G. S. Freeman.

Project Long Delayed

Fred Deacon led the discussion on the Riverside Drive question who declared the matter had been under study since 1931. "In 1935 the matter was still a very live issue while in 1947 it appeared dead."

"Much needless expenditure in the past could be what has been would have made the Drive possible," declared Mr. Deacon. "I would like to know why we have not got the drive. The ratepayers voted $90,000 for the project in 1935 years ago and I for one do not know where the money now is.

"I read till I can in the local newspaper but I am very sorry I cannot get any of what goes on in Belleville city council."

As the first spokesman on the Drive question Ex-Mayor George Reid declared that in 1931 he had been asked to part in the Esplanade as the proposed drive was then called.

Early Estimate of $150,000

At that time, he said, the entire property needed could have been expropriated and roadway was estimated at $150,000 of which the government would have granted $35,000.

He explained the project and was defeated at the polls on that question alone," he recalled.

Continuing, Mr. Reid declared that to avoid a recurrence of disastrous river floods in the city it would be necessary to deepen the river bed six or eight feet and the fill could be used for construction of a retaining wall. This he maintained, was the opinion of some of the best engineers.

Former regional planning chairman Ex-Alderman Clarence Clapp also referred to the $50,000 voted by the people for the Drive project, but claimed that he was not a man to spend the people's money when the required results could not be obtained.

Slew Getting Options

"We tried repeatedly to make some progress with the Drive," he said, "but we could not get to first base with options on the needed property. The owners too frequently changed their minds."

When the Department of Highways stated that we could not have an entrance on Bridge Street we then just closed our hands. "Did not the Department approve of the Bridge Street entrance?" asked Raymond Zufelt of the flood prevention board with strong replied in the affirmative.

But the Drive project was the city's failure to proceed with the Drive was outlined by Alderman Armstrong. He stated the project had been in the city's mind for many years; there had been many plans made and much work done, including the filling of the old roadway to provide a roadway south as far as the footbridge.

Shilling Lines Reserved

"We had hoped last year to make progress but we ran into difficulties when the property owners refused to reserve a shilling foot building line from Front St. If that building line had been adhered to there would have been little room left for parking and the work on the Drive would have been defeated.

"Granted the $50,000 was voted but unless we could get the required results there was no use spending the money," he said.

The council turned down the proposition when the ratepayers of the results would not be in the interests of the ratepayers."

In the opinion of the alderman it would be to the advantage of Front St. property owners to them to reserve sufficient parking space at the rear for their stores for the accommodation of customers' autos. "I would suggest making Pinnacle building back or two storeys rather than extend to the rear," he said.

Would Improve Conditions

Malcolm Robb wanted to know whether a split assessment had been considered if the Drive had been built through as some fronts had been built to face the drive, while Ald. Armstrong declared the Drive should not have been built on a matter of dollars and cents only. He claimed completion of the drive would greatly improve conditions and would improve health conditions through the cleaning out the river bed.

County Engineer Larry Langlois asked if study of traffic conditions was included in the Meadows and Critoph engineers.

In reply Mr. Meadows assured that traffic conditions in Belleville were being considered and that soon a recommendation would be forthcoming.

Mr. Meadows admitted that his firm had only considered the Drive project as attention had thus far been directed to wider scale planning, including provision for a much large city. This, he admitted, would possibly be disappointing to many taxpayers who had long considered the Drive project.

Outlines Ideal Conditions.

Study of traffic conditions was a big subject in the mind of the town planning engineer who stated that in his opinion the ideal business section or a city area should have streets to encourage shopping. A retail business area should not carry any heavy through traffic, but comfortable shopping must be provided as well as adequate parking facilities. "If not you will cut your throat," he advised business men.

Following discussion on the drive project Mr. Deacon maintained that the matter should be put on the contrary very much before the ratepayers. "The money voted by the taxpayers would still be spent and was interested there was no use spending it," he said. Municipal Board would extend the time limit if necessary and the people would not be required. The city council should be empowered to take action on the development of the roadway, he declared. The motion was carried without a dissenting vote.

Long-Term Planning.

The importance of long-term planning for urban residential centres was stressed to the meeting by Mr. Meadows who addressed the gathering on the progress being made in the city on the official plan of Belleville. Matters of congestion of business districts, shopping areas, traffic congestion and other factors which have arisen must be considered and the general public must be educated as to exactly what was being attempted. Objective at which is desired size of a city must be considered in drawing the official plan and

Flying Club Granted Permission To Use Mountain View Airport

The Belleville Flying Club has received notification from the Department of National Defence (Air Force Division) that it has been granted permission to use the flying facilities of the Mountain View Air Station. The use of the entire airfield has been granted the club.

Permission has also been granted to erect a hangar and club room on the north side of the field, the buildings must not be erected on permanent foundations.

The club will transfer all aircraft and equipment to the site and flying will take place from Mountain View over the weekend.

Campaign To Raise Funds For Greek Relief Opens In City

Today the Dominion of Canada starts a national drive for $1,500,000 for Greek Relief. Communities across Canada are setting up machinery for these heroic people who are struggling to keep their land.

Belleville has been asked to do its share and campaign officials here are confident that the generous-hearted citizens of this community will not be found wanting in another effort for a humanitarian cause.

Donations will be received at the business office of the Ontario Intelligencer, where Mr. W. H. Morton, publisher, has been named treasurer. Official receipts will be given every donor.

Greece is hungry. Into the war is one of utter need. Privation is written across this heroic country. Canadian generosity has already brought succor to thousands of men, women and children, but much more remains to be done.

Canadian-made goods must be purchased in the Dominion for shipment to the stricken people of famine area. The Greek Red Cross and the Canadian Ambassador to Greece vouch for the quickest distribution of supplies to the needy people.

Two million undernourished children must be fed. There are also 875,000 orphans whose homes, at best, are overcrowded hostels or at worst abandoned hovels, or the wayside fields.

Help is also needed for 80,000 Greek veterans, victims of Greek fight for freedom. Hospitalization must be provided for 150,000 tuberculosis cases, if they are to survive. There are 2,000,000 victims of chronic malaria, sapped of health and efficiency.

Won't you do your part and help these needy people. Leave your contributions at the Ontario Intelligencer.

Former Prisoner Of Japs Tells Of His Experiences

A meeting of the Women Teachers' Association was held at Shannonville School, the guests of Miss Mary Peters on Tuesday evening with 29 in attendance.

Miss Vera Pyne, president, gave a resume of events of the regional meeting which she attended at Belleville on Saturday. There are 1,160 teachers teaching on permit, of which 900 have not completed Middle School requirements. An average loss of teachers to the profession in one year is 1,500. The shortage will be worse, and it was thought it began when 2nd Class certificates were discontinued.

Miss Mary Walters brought in a report of the nominating committee and presented the slate of officers for the coming year:

The banquet will be held at the Globe Hotel, Picton, May 28, at 6.30 p.m.

The P. E. County Teachers' Convention will be held at Wellington Consolidated School on June 6. The guest speaker will be Mr. H. W. Brown, I.P.S., of Niagara Falls.

Miss Mary Walters expressed her pleasure in being able to enjoy out in spite of bad weather. She took charge of the following program. A double duet was much enjoyed by her school pupils.

V. Maillie, Speaker

Miss Roberta Williams introduced the guest speaker of the evening—Mr. Vernon Mullins, a war veteran, who was a Japanese prisoner. He described his activities from the time he left Seattle, with an American division, until his return. He spent 21 months in Japan and spoke about the rice fields, the houses, the people's dress, their food, their currency, language, national flag and climatic conditions. Many souvenirs were shown such as—Japanese sandals, currency, fans which depicted the people's ages, national flag, books written in Japanese language, a tie made of silver threads, hand-painted silk handkerchiefs, silk tablecloth, hand-woven straw silk jacket, pen and pencil set, pretty shells found in holes in the coral reef, a Japanese Army rifle and scabbards, snapshots and many other articles. This address was very much enjoyed by all.

Miss Roberta Williams then favored with a solo. After the meeting closed delicious refreshments were served by Miss Mary Walters and six of her pupils. A vote of thanks was moved to the hostess for her hospitality by Miss Barbara Mikel.

The next meeting will be held at Melville School Tuesday, June 10, at 8 p.m., the theme of Miss Marion Mikel. The se on program committee are Misses Marion and Barbara Mikel, Mrs. L. Ebbett, Mrs. L. Wait and Miss M. Donaldson.

STALIN TO FREE ALL HUNGARIAN PRISONERS

London, May 15 — (Reuter) — Budapest radio reported last night Prime Minister Stalin had decided that all Hungarian prisoners of war in Russia should be allowed to returned to Hungary, beginning this month, "without awaiting ratification of the Hungarian peace treaty."

CATCHES ONE RABBIT

Toronto, May 16 — (CP) — Police received a complaint from an East York resident yesterday that two rabbits were damaging her garden. A policeman was despatched, succeeded in catching one rabbit, and locked it in township pound on charges of trespass. The other rabbit is still at large.

Two Outstanding Speakers From India To Give Addresses Here Next Week

MRS. G. FREMNAITH DASS

MR. B. L. RALLIA RAM

Belleville citizens will hear two of the four outstanding visitors coming to Canada between May 17 and 31, under the auspices of the Canadian Overseas Missionary Council, representing the Foreign Mission Boards and Societies of the Canadian East and the older related agencies. They are Mrs. G. Fremnaith Dass and Mr. B. L. Rallia Ram, representative leaders of the Christian Church in India.

The purpose of this Fellowship Mission from India is to deepen the sense of world fellowship, particularly between the younger churches of the East and the older churches of the West; to give visability to the oneness of the Christian Church, and to arouse and quicken the missionary life and outreach of Canadian churches.

Next Thursday is the date selected for two public meetings in Belleville, one in the afternoon and again at night.

Principal at College

Among the Christian women leaders in India, Mrs. Fremnaith Dass stands higher in ability, influence and esteem than Mrs. Chandran, a Brahmin lady. She is best known as the honored principal of the Isabelle Thoburn College at Lucknow, India, of which famous college she is, perhaps, the most influential graduate.

After two periods of study in North America, she received her M.A., from Columbia University, and in 1939 was appointed principal of the Isabelle Thoburn College, from which position she has recently retired. She holds a Ph.D., from Boston University and an LL.D. from Goucher.

Notable Christian Leader

Mr. B. L. Rallia Ram, B.Sc., B.T., is one of the most outstanding Christian leader in India. He is the General Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. of India. His appointment as president of the All-India Conference of Indian Christian Workers, and appointment of the National Christian Council of India, evidences the esteem and confidence in which he is held by Church leaders of that land. For a number of years he served with marked distinction as National Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. for India, Burma and Ceylon.

Mr. Rallia Ram knows India, India's people and India's problems; not only from a missionary Christian Church, but also in respect to the political situation. Among his friends are not a few of the political leaders. He is an exceptionally effective speaker.

With Canada's Naturalists

Toronto (CP)— Now that the skyways are alive with birds of plainly gaudy feather flying from Central and South America to find nesting grounds in Canada, the old, unanswered question, "why do birds migrate?" once more intrigues the naturalists.

One of the facts that makes the question baffling is the comparatively rudimentary migratory urge in the lesser souls of the equator; an instinct as strong and compelling in birds of the jungle-girdled lands as it has led to the theory that the ice age, which affected the southern half of the earth but little, may have marked the beginning of migratory flights in the world.

During that chilly age the birds were crowded, presumably, into the zero bordering the southern edge of the vast ice-cap, for there would be food for them on the ice itself. Then the northern world gradually becomes warmer and each summer saw the ice fields retreating a few more miles toward the Arctic, the birds followed the see-sawing moves of the ice north and south, especially the northward retreat—in order to find food and nesting sites.

This ice-trailing, the theory is believed, soon built a habit inherited by generation after generation of birds, and eventually became instinct. Marked changes in seaglands of birds, the basis of their spring-time courtship and domestic activities, coincide with their northward flight.

Poet Browning, writing in Italy, sighed for the springtime glories of the English April—and they are worth sighing for. Yet speeding in thought across our own Dominion, Canadians need not envy any other land. In the Maritimes the pink and white radiance of blossomtime will soon adorn the orchards.

Leafy lanes sparkling lakes and streams freed from the grip of winter; woodlands and fruitlands in floral finery will create scenes of springtime beauty in Quebec and Ontario.

A thousand murmuring brooks course between banks glowing with marsh marigolds, trilliums and violets carpet the woods. Birds from southern lands, the bobolinks, bluebirds, and wave after wave of wood warblers so gay in plumage that they are like flowers a - wing, come to Canada in May-time to "settle" and raise their families.

On behalf of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada, the scientists who strive to guard and improve the Dominion's vast fishing industries, some rare species of Arctic herring were recently X-rayed. This was done as an aid to precise identification by counting the vertabrae. This could have been done, of course, by post-mortem investigation, but the species were too rare to destroy and the radiographic evidence was conclusive and permanent.

* * *

Plants, like prophets, are not without honor save in their own country. Little attention is given the purple-flowering raspberry in its native Maritime and Ontario woodlands. Yet in many English gardens it is admired as a desirable exotic plant. Lovely as a wild rose and nearly the same size, the blossom of the purple-flowering-raspberry (Rubus odoratis) appears from June to September, and varies from a deep pink to a purplish-red.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

WINIFRED E. WILSON

BUILDING TIME

"Have you noticed a Yellow Warbler going into the syringa bush, Jean?"

"Yes, Edith, I saw it at least three times yesterday and again today. Each trip it seemed to be carrying something, and entered the same way—about six feet from the ground. It must be building."

"That's what I thought. And the Chipping Sparrows are back in their same spruce tree. This time the home is going to be right beside the steps, conveniently placed so that we can see when the eggs are laid, when they hatch, and everything about the family. I wonder whose hair they intend to use this year. Mine, perhaps."

"I noticed a pair lining their nest with hair. They were most clever about it, winding the hair in pieces round and round so that the interior would be a smooth cup. Chestnut-sided Warblers start their nest in the same manner, joining three upright branches with dried grass. When finished, the nest hangs in between."

"I once had the luck of being able to watch the whole business of building on three perfectly bare raspberry canes. They were smart enough to know that leaves would grow on the canes when the home was ready. One leaf grew directly over the nest, exactly like an umbrella."

"Bluebirds have a real roof to their house—but what a pity that Starlings take so many of the good sites now."

"Yes, Jessie. Bluebirds used to build in the holes of old stumps. Then they took to like man-made homes. Some years ago a pair brought up a family of five in a hole under the eaves of our house. We used to stand on the lawn and hold a tiny mirror to see them. But the next spring they were too slow in starting and Wrens rented the cavity. In fact the bluebirds never had another chance there. The same Wrens came year after year."

"I remember the Barn Swallows too that built in a beam of our verandah, Edith."

"Birds are pretty things! And so friendly — at least when only our own family was about. When strangers came they flew around crazily, shouting to their children to keep out of sight."

"And will you ever forget the Song Sparrows' nest under the lilac bush? You could stand in to see it and couldn't back up again to get out. Building time means great fun for bird lovers."

Good Deeds

In Belleville and in every other part of this country there are seen the proofs of the desire of the people to lighten the load which the people of England are bearing as a result of the severe winter and unusually severe conditions of the spring breakup which threw a tremendous burden upon this gallant people who have borne a large share of the world's need in every age and in every crisis.

There in the people of England as of Scotland and Ireland such a vitality of spirit, such heroism in facing the problems created by severity of cold, heavy snowstorms, and flooding of a portion of the country, thereby hazarding the season's crops and throwing a greater task than ever upon the English farmers, that they inspire not only themselves but the world with confidence. In the days of the late war, what Britain said and did was creative energy for the world which was so sorely tried in the afflictions brought about by German savagery, cruelty and ruthlessness. With the war over, Britain has been bearing a burden at great cost to her material resources in the occupation of the British zone in Germany, even while she finds herself the object of unruly elements in snow, rain and flood.

So a collection of clothing for British relief stirred the imagination of Canadians in every community.

Enthusiasm thrown into the work associated with this humanitarian object is just what was to be expected of Canadians who know from long years of experience what Britain has done for every part of the Empire and Commonwealth.

It was an inspiring sight to witness the collection here, and when the collection was taken up, the large number of local women who in every campaign for relief are found doing their share or more than their share, gathered at the important work of sorting and packing the clothing for shipment overseas.

Theirs is a good work which will be appreciated by those who will benefit by these good deeds. In this devotion to the service of so many people and post-war enterprises and tasks these women have done nobly and their work has counted greatly for good.

Scottish Exhibition

Scotland is to have an exhibition of industrial art—to be known as as "Enterprise Scotland, 1947," at the Royal Scottish Museum in Edinburgh in August.

There will be four sections, Scotland Yesterday, Scotland Today, Scotland Today and Scotland Tomorrow. The first will reveal the great tradition behind Scottish industry, the second will picture Scotland's appeal to tourists and provide settings for sports and sports goods, artisans and souvenirs. The main section, Scotland Today, will show Scottish industry in commodity and composite groups; domestic interiors; people at home and people at work. There will be a textile hall as well as a division for craft work on display. In the fourth section Scotland Tomorrow, will be indicated the progress of the country.

No goods will be sold to exhibitors for the items will be chosen on their merit, whether they are available or not in quantity or for general sale. The test of the success of the project will therefore not be the amount realized from sales but the high quality and excellence of design of the exhibits.

All Scottish industry will be represented, the principal groups however will be shipbuilding, textiles, printing, furniture, leather goods, domestic appliances, scientific instruments, tools, glass and pottery. There will be a special textile section arranged by the Department of Health of Scotland.

The exhibition will occupy about 30,000 square feet of space, supplemented by twelve shop windows along Princess Street. Proprietors of all other shops along the street have promised co-operation in making the display successful.

The project is sponsored by the Scottish Committee of the Council of Industrial Design and financed by the Treasury and is unique in Scotland's history.

Scotland has won a proud name in history and this holds today, for her enterprise is recognized throughout the world. Her citizens wherever they be are symbols of the rugged strength of their land. Scotland might well be proud of any exhibition she might hold, in industry for instance, at this momentous time when international trade is being stressed.

Occupation Zone Hunger

The Germans don't like hunger, as strikes, demonstrations, denunciations, and rumors of rising discontent from both the British and American occupation zones clearly indicate.

But neither did the Dutch, Belgians, Greeks, Poles or others who existed on short commons during those war years when the Germans were the occupiers.

We don't imagine the British like the near-starvation which in Germany is continuing into the postwar period as the result of recent German activities.

There is a difference in the causes of these occupation hungers which the Germans utterly fail to realize.

When they were the occupiers, the people they conquered went without because the food from their fields and larders was diverted to the Reich.

The nations that play the conqueror role today reverse this process. They send food from their own stores to the conquered —a process which means real self-sacrifice in the case of Britain.

Whatever flaws may develop in food administration in the occupation zones, whatever mistakes may be made, the Germans blame others, with no realization of their own responsibility for prevailing world disruption.—Montreal Herald.

River Driver

I well remember a colorful fellow who came to one of my drives many years ago. It was on a Sunday evening. He asked for a job, but the foreman first said no. However, after observing his blue roving eye, he changed his mind and gave him blanket.

Monday morning, after the other men had left, he gave him a cross-cut saw, an axe, a peavey-lug coil from the shore into the current and stuck the pike pole into the log leaning it against his shoulder.

Standing on the log he started off down stream, unconcerned, rolling a cigarette. His name was Tarry Thompson and he worked for us a long time. He was one of the old timers.—D. H. Smith in Sylva.

Britons Thankful

Canada sends £375,000 to the Lord Mayor's flood relief fund with the message, "Britain is in our hearts more than any other country in the world."

A message of such warmth would have been enough. But the gift—£1,000 a day in relief for a whole year — is indeed moving.

In saying their thanks the people of Britain remember with affection many other good deeds from Canada, and recall once more the faces of those fine young soldiers, sailors and airmen who dwelt here in the day of battle.—London Daily Express.

Parachutes for All

The question of providing air line passengers with parachutes is again being debated.

The decision to provide all four aircraft of the King's Flight with seat-type parachutes has had an influence on the controversy. Air line companies point to the difficulties, which are many, but it now seems almost certain that eventually air liners will have to carry parachutes for all their passengers, says Manchester Guardian.

There are, perhaps, only a few who know that white is never used for filming, remarks London Daily Express. Blue, sometimes pale mauve, is used to suit the camera; white used against the human skin gives it the texture of caked mud.

RETURN

Blue skies once more
And flowers a-bloom!
Sweet at the kitchen door,
Lilac perfume.

Old song from youthful throats.
Robin and wren
Spilling their golden notes
Gladly again.

Round us the joys of birth
Everywhere flung!
Old is the fruitful earth!
Old, but still young!

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

What is a Bohemian?

The Romans applied "Bohemia" to a region on their northern frontier because it was inhabited by a Celtic tribe, the Boii. Boii, whose capital was Bolohemum.

A Slavic people who established themselves in the valley of the beginning of the Christian era called themselves Czechs and their country Czechoslovakia. The Romans and other Europeans continued to call the country Boiohemia and the inhabitants Bohemians.

Teutonic and Slavic peoples struggled for the possession of Bohemia, for nearly 1,000 years. During the Thirty Years War Bohemia was almost depopulated. Bohemia lost her independence and passed under the Austrians yoke in 1620 when the Czechs were defeated by Frederick V, Elector of the Palatinate, at the battle of the White Mountain near Prague.

Bismarck, because of its strategic location, said: "Bohemia dominates Europe." Bohemia lies directly in the path of Drang nach Osten, "the thrust toward the east, an hrase used in connection with Germany's policy of expansion in the direction of Asia.

During the First World War Thomas G. Masaryk and Edvard Benes built up public opinion throughout the world in favor of an independent country composed of Bohemia, Slovakia, Moravia, Silesia and Carpathain Ruthenia. Nearly a million dollars for this purpose was contributed by Czechs and Slovaks in America, Russia and France. Although their native land was then part of Austria-Hungary, several hundred thousand Czechoslovakians fought on the Allied side during the First World War in France, Italy and Russia. After the collapse of Russia in 1917, about 92,000 Czechoslovakian troops who had been fighting in that country known as the "Czech Legion," joined the Allies in the West after an amazing expedition in a body through Siberia to Vladivostok and then to France. In 1918 Bohemia became part of the country known popularly as Czechoslovakia and officially as the Czechoslovak Republic because the Czechs and Slovakia were the two chief units of the new nation.

Before the First World War those Czechs who had immigrated to America, as well as their immediate descendants were popularly called Bohemians, or simply Bohemians. Since the war they have gradually replaced by "Czechs" in American usage.

The religious sect known as the Moravians in America are the descendants of the Bohemian Brethren," a religious sect formed from the remnants of the followers of John Huss (1369—1415) a Bohemian religious reformer, at the stake for preaching doctrines in Bohemia similar to those preached by John Wyclif in England.

The Germans in Czechoslovakia are popularly called "Sudeten." Sudeten") because large numbers of them lived among the Sudeten German border in the region of the Sudeten Mountains.

When the first band of gypsies arrived in France about 1427 the French accepted them to be Hussites expelled from Bohemia and called them Bohemians, which is still the French name for "gypsies." From this source came "Bohemian" in the sense of an idle vagrant or one who wanders about like gypsies. William Makepeace Thackeray popularized "Bohemia's in the sense of an artist, actor, writer or other intellectual who, like the gypsies, or "Bohemians," live free and easy life in violation of accepted social conventions.

HUMAN RIGHTS.

Might Fall Short

Opening the freedom debate, Mr. Mackenzie warned that an international bill of rights to be drawn up by the United Nations likely would "fall short" of Canada's ideals. He urged members to "scrutinize and analyze closely any proposal to legislate about human rights and fundamental freedoms."

"It is well," he said, "that Canada should play her part in drafting such proclamation to the world an international bill of rights as a guide and directive post for the freedom-loving peoples of the world.

"It is less evident that Canada, free Canada, heir to the common law, should tamper with heritage of liberty by seeking to inscribe in statutes the freedom that is inherently ours."

Mr. Diefenbaker called for definite action, terming equity a great an offence against freedom as defined in the statutes and there could be no civil liberties which permitted "discrimination." These liberties should be untouched, inflamentary declaration that would guard individuals against the state.

Cannot Interfere

The Bill of Rights must deny the right of any government to interfere with the right of the individual to speak, within the law; it must not tamper interference by a "police state"; it must give any individual the right to belong to a minority, and must give all the right of recourse to the courts when rights are violated.

Mr. Stewart felt that no government of Canada could refuse to call at this port daily. The passenger traffic is light, but she carries considerable freight.

Mr. Stewart felt that no government of Canada could refuse to call at this port daily. The Bill of Rights and expressed belief that freedom was essential as well as political rights.

He charged that religious freedom in the province of Quebec Province, where Witnesses of Jehovah have been persecuted when they sought to spread their beliefs among the people.

Freedom must be based among the fundamental human rights enumerated in the preamble, freedom from want and freedom from fear.

He expressed opposition to the United Nations organizations and the Canadian establishment of the "world peace organization" which would be the strongest body in Commonwealth and would enable the member nations to retain their complete sovereignty.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Vitamins

In some of the recipes in your pamphlet "Wheat to Meet You" I notice there is baking powder or soda. I always thought either of these spoiled the vitamins. (Mrs.F.B.)

Answer — Baking powder or soda hasten oxidation and destruction of vitamin C but has no significant effect on other vitamins.

Girdle

"I had appendicitis operation December 10th. How long will it be necessary to wear a girdle? I do not like to wear harness. Will it be safe to go swimming as early as June 10th. (Miss C.M.)

Answer — If you were at all fat, which is not utterly flabby and soft, before the operation, rather than need any other support or bandage or girdle than you would wear otherwise. The surgeon probably did not cut any muscle only the appendix. So no swimming for two months or more? Great gosh, girl, you have had it! Swimming three weeks after the operation. Why not? But why not ask your doctor?

Adequate Ration Of Calcium And Iron

Please tell me the necessary quantity of calcium and vitamin D I should get in a day. How much have daily? (B.A.L.)

Answer — Since you are over about it I'll assume you are an adult. Nutrition authorities recommend a daily allowance of ten to 15 grains of calcium and 300 to 1400 units of vitamin D. Practical information on this and other nutritional essentials is pamphlet "Young Folks and Old Folks" mailed on written request (no stamps needed) if you inclose stamped envelope bearing your address.

Cheaters

Daughter in Colorado school asks me to make her pinhole sun glasses. Doubtless the sun is strong out there but is it advisable for her to wear such glasses or goggles—she has never needed glasses before. (Mrs.C.M.)

Answer—They are harmless and afford comfort from excessive sun glare, but it is not advisable to wear them when not exposed to glare.

Committee on Indian Affairs Accumulates Complete Picture Of all Phases Indian Activity

By SHANE MACKAY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, May 17 (CP). — With more than 1,000,000 words and 2,150 pages of evidence behind it, parliament's joint Senate-Commons Committee on Indian Affairs has accumulated a near-complete picture of every phase of Indian activity since the first redskins trod the new world.

Headed by joint chairmen Donald Brown (L., Essex West) and Senator W. H. Taylor (C., Ontario) the committee has heard a continuous procession of anthropologists and paleontologists, Indian chieftains and civil servants, doctors and lawyers, archbishops and missionaries, lobbyists and opportunists.

The committee was appointed a year ago to examine the state of Indian affairs, educational facilities, band membership, administration of trust funds and general welfare.

Only committee of the present session to meet as often as three times in a single day, these assiduous parliamentarians currently are hearing delegations from western Indian organizations. Last fall five members formed a commission and investigated reserves in the Maritimes. Delegates from Quebec and Ontario will be heard late this month and in May.

Broadly speaking, the Indians want more than they are getting—more education, more medical facilities, more pensions, more privileges and more self-government. The committee thus far has worked on the assumption their case is a good one and that any revision of the Indian Act must include a complete overhaul of obsolete clauses. Chairman Brown promises that "it will be an "Indian Magna Charta".

Most contentious matters to be faced include assimilation and enfranchisement, treaty rights, prohibition, re-establishment of the old separate Indian department, parochial schools and the pro's and cons of the reserve system.

The Indians themselves have tended to oppose any immediate enfranchisement. Many have expressed themselves as being in favor of abolishing church administration of residential schools. They want treaty rights reaffirmed and demand the white man's privilege of buying liquor under provincial laws. Under present legislation, liquor is forbidden entirely.

Although the committee is scheduled to complete its work at the present session, members have predicted it may have to seek a second extension of its terms of reference.

59 Albert College Students Pass Life-Saving Tests

Fifty-nine students of Albert College were successful in passing the Canadian Red Cross Life-Saving tests held at the college pool last week. Of this number 46 were senior students, girls and boys, and 13 intermediates and two were juniors.

The candidates passed ten tests required of them, which demanded 100 yards breast stroke; 100 yards body stroke and 100 yards free style. They were also required to tread water for ten minutes; surface dive and recover 10 pounds weight from eight feet of water; swim 40 yards on back without use of arms and the same distance without use of legs.

Following the tests which were held under the supervision of Mr. Tom Davies, Toronto, supervising instructor, the presentation of awards took place with Mr. Davies officiating and assisted by Morley Duff, president of the Belleville Branch of the Canadian Red Cross. The awards were presented in the dining hall of college.

The Belleville branch of the Red Cross underwrote all expenses in connection with the tests and awards. Instruction in the pool was carried out by Al Wiley.

Judge J. C. Anderson Speaker At Rally of Young People's Unions, Belleville Presbytery

Stressing the theme, "Dedication to Christ's Way," the Young People's Union of the Belleville Presbytery held a rally at Bridge Street Church on Friday evening, when Judge J. Carnith Anderson addressed an overflow gathering.

Introduced by Rev. D. Anne, pastor of the church, who explained that Judge Anderson was one of the Governors of Queen's College, the speaker based his remarks on the new Canadian Citizenship Act which came in force in January of this year. The gathering of young people exemplified the fact that we in Canada have freedom of worship, the Judge stated, a freedom not enjoyed in many parts of the world today. Since the time when we became a nation there has been nothing to define a Canadian citizen, and yet we have ambassadors at most of the world centres, and they an important part in world affairs out of proportion to our population.

Have Common Cause.

"As Canadians we have a common cause," the Judge elaborated. "We have received our education as a result of the sacrifices of others bears. We have many privileges which others cannot enjoy. We do not enjoy, and our ancestors have handed down to us many things for which to be grateful. We need to stop to consider if we are giving all we can in the way of Christian service. We must contribute more definite duties of citizenship. Some two thousand young Canadians will come of age this year without having a sense of responsibility as citizens.

"We need to associate with the new Canadian of nationalities other than our own. We have much to learn from them; from the French Canadian, who will emphasis on family life and religion; from the Ukrainian and Czechs with their music and workmanship. They will enrich our lives if we welcome them into our common citizenship.

Must Have Faith.

"We may not know what the future holds," the Judge concluded, "but if we are going to make our lives count we must have faith in ourselves, in our country, and a living faith in our Christian way of life. We must be determined to be a united and free people, so that on reaching the age of twenty-one we can proudly say, 'I am a Canadian citizen'."

Thanks to the speaker were expressed by Mr. Earl Dafoe, past president of the Presbytery Union.

An interval of organ music played by Mr. Alec Gordon was a pleasant prelude to the banquet which was prepared and served by the ladies of the church. Mr. Allan Baxter of Bloomfield moved a vote of thanks to the ladies on behalf of the guests.

Gathering Welcomed

The president of the Union, Mr. Raymond Gunsolus, welcomed the gathering, explaining the aims and purposes of Young People's work. Mr. Clare Twiddy, president of the Bridge Street Y.P.U. and Rev. D. C. Amos on behalf of the host church, also expressed their pleasure in welcoming such a large delegation. Interdenominational greetings were brought by Mr. Allan Hall, of Victoria Ave. Baptist Church on behalf of the Christian Youth Fellowship group. Mr. Roy Germain extended greetings from the Bay of Quinte Y.P. Conference, stating that the National Y.P.S. is the largest youth organization in the Dominion. He outlined the leadership training groups which would be held in June in Peterboro and Smith's Falls.

Community Sing Song

A sing song led by Miss Norma Arkins, with Miss Margaret Hills at the piano concluded the first part of the program after which the meeting adjourned to the church for a service of worship.

Speaking on the theme of the rally, Rev. A. Lloyd Shorten, urged his listeners to free themselves of the shackles which hinder them in their spiritual life; to have faith and patience to run in the race of life; and to dedicate themselves in the Christ-like way of life.

Miss Lorna Waldron of Trenton contributed a vocal solo, accompanied at the organ by Mr. Alec Gordon.

The banner for attendance was again given to the Young People's Union with the greatest representation as the rally was won by Holloway Street Church.

Ronald Williams outlined the plans for a summer camp at Moira Lake which will be used for boys' work; girls' work; Young People and young adults' work.

The option has been taken on three hundred acres of land, which will provide accommodation for five or six hundred young people at one time when the plans are completed. The aim is to work for the Christian education of young people.

Explains Work

Mr. Gaynor Rendell of Deseronto, explained the work of the Citizenship Committee. Their project is a work camp at Batawa, when groups of young people will be asked to volunteer to go to camp at Batawa in August for two weeks. They will help the Czech people to make a new life in a new country, to try to be neighbors in this community, and they will give their time and labor in the new church at Batawa.

Presentations of certificates to those who had completed their course at the Leadership Training School were made by Miss Maude Burke, and Deans of Schools.

A report on Recreation was given by Miss Marilyn Robertson, of Holloway Street Church.

A friendship circle and the singing of the hymn brought the meeting to a satisfactory termination.

Black Market Leader Held

Berlin, May 17 —(AP)— Agents of the United States military government have smashed one of Berlin's biggest black market rings and arrested the leader, a 30-year-old German named Karl Jahn. Officials said Jahn began his operations in England during the German occupation and then switched to the lush profits available in Berlin under Allied occupation.

Jahn, described as "a very clever guy" by American agents was sent to Holland in 1943 with 100,000,000 marks to make purchases for the Germans. One of his fraudulent operations, American officials said, was to purchase a large consignment of cocoa for the Wehrmacht, which turned out to be brick dust when the German quartermaster received it."

OBITUARY

FRED ROMAN GAUTHIER

Fred Roman Gauthier, 106 Moira Street East, died in the Belleville General Hospital early Saturday morning after an illness of three years' duration.

Born in this city 46 years ago the late Mr. Gauthier was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. Gauthier. All his life was passed here. At the age of eighteen years he commenced to work for the old Grand Trunk Railway and served later with the Canadian National Railways. He was a brakeman and retired a few years ago.

He was a faithful member of St. Michael's Church and in connection with the parish he was a member of the Holy Name Society. Fraternally he was a member of the Order of the Moose and was at Past Junior Governor of the Order and held the Fellowship Degree.

Surviving him are his wife, the former Miss Frances Foriery; two daughters, Mrs. Fred (Laurina) Bauer, Rochester, N.Y., and Mrs. (Veronica) Whibbs, Belleville; one sister, Mrs. J. (Blanche) O'Connor, Belleville; two brothers, Leo G. Gauthier, Belleville, and Harold Gauthier, Tyrone, N. Police Commission To Decide Whether Paul Robeson Sings

Toronto, May 17. (CP)—Toronto's Police Commission will sit today to decide whether a concert by Paul Robeson, American Negro baritone-actor, will constitute a "breach of the peace". The concert is scheduled for tonight in Toronto's Coliseum.

The rumpus was raised by fears over the lengths to which Robeson's known propensity to inject political pronouncements at his concerts might be indulged here. Toronto civic fathers fear a riot would develop if the artist, considered a Communist and anti-British, didn't tend his purely musical "knitting". They recalled that last month a concert at Peoria, Ill., was cancelled because authorities feared "bloodshed", and that a year ago Robeson interpolated a concert in Toronto's Massey Hall to deliver a speech.

Controller John Innes, announcing that he would appear before the police commission to seek concellation of the Coliseum booking, said:

"Some of the Veterans' organizations might go in there and break a few of the heads of those Communists. Robeson is a great singer but I'm against him definitely. not the place for the spouting of his communistic talk."

Erwood Hughes, manager of the Canadian National Exhibition, in whose grounds the Coliseum is located, tried to oil its troubled waters by observing that a woman engaged to publicize the concert had assured him Robeson would sing only—no talk.

This Big Boy Has Nerves Too, Just ask his dentist.

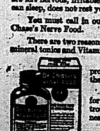
Every human being—large or small, old or young—is dependent on his nervous system.

The nervous system supplies the energy to run the machinery of the body. Every time you breathe or move a muscle you consume some nervous energy.

At some time, in nearly every life, the supply runs short and you are left nervous, irritable and bodily tired. The night's sleep, if you can sleep, does not rest you.

You must call in outside help and this suggests the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

There are two reasons. First Dr. Chase's Nerve Food supplies the mineral tonics and Vitamin B1—the essentials for new pep and energy.



Second, after fifty years on the market this product has more than doubled in sales during the last five years.

More and more men are proving its benefits, for men as well as women are subject to nervous troubles, especially nervous indigestion, restlessness and tired feelings.

Ask your Druggist for the new economy size bottle of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

this war-declared to be a matter of importance as the cost of operating a city depended largely upon its size. Generally speaking the larger the centre, the more it costs in proportion to run its affairs.

The engineer paid tribute to the assessment policy in Belleville, suggesting that the land assessment was the very foundation of good community planning. In Belleville there was a live Chamber of Commerce and Industrial Commission, an efficient council and an intelligent electorate.

The many problems entailed in writing zoning by-laws for an urban municipality were outlined with the announcement that there were legislation which would provide for a committee of adjustment which could take care of certain circumstances arising in zoning matters. Only cities having an official plan could take advantage of a board of adjustment.

The future of Belleville lies "on your hands," concluded Mr. Meadows. "By your co-operation it can be made exactly what you will."

Plans in Study Stage

Cecil E. Argue wanted to know if any plans had been drawn by the planning engineers. Mr. Meadows replied that at present they were in the "study" stage and impressed that it was much better to wait until the official plan had been prepared before any specific project was attempted. He trusted that the council would very slowly before any major step was taken.

Another person asked when the official plan would be available. The engineer replied that the Planning Development Area had been adopted including Belleville and adjoining parts of Thurlow and Sidney township. By the end of the year the draft plan would be prepared and it was expected that by next May the final plan would be prepared.

Dr. Jack Marshall asked what provisions there were for changing the plan once it was officially adopted. "They seem to change things very easily around here," he commented. He was told that once the plan was adopted it could not be changed except by approval of the Department.

Taxes Discussed

Taxes on the industrial area recently voted purchased by the city were briefly discussed with two persons asking if the city would then be required to pay taxes to the township. In reply it was stated that the property would be annexed to the city but action could not be taken until the purchase had been consummated.

This brought up the question of annexation of township property into the corporation with Mrs. W. N. Ponton stating that this would mean taxes of township property being quadrupled. "Have the people living in the township nothing to say in the matter?" she asked.

Mr. Meadows replied that it was possible, even in a city, for annexed land to be still taxed as farm land. It did not necessarily mean that the taxes on the annexed property would be increased.

"Some township residents want city privileges with none of the expense," pointed out Mr. J. Bone as discussion on the matter ended.

MANY RELICS FOUND

London, Ont., May 17 — (CP)— Excavation of a cellar in the Moravian village near Thamesville, revealed ancient relics, among them a silver coin resembling the old Spanish piece-of-eight of pirate tales. Gun flints, nails, the wishbone of a bird, and a piece of earthenware plate were also found by W. W. Jury, curator of the Museum of Indian Archeology at the University of Western Ontario.

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. John Reid, Frankford, Ontario, wish to announce the engagement of Olive Anne, youngest daughter of the late James McGowan, formerly of Stirling, and Mrs. John Reid, now of Frankford, Ontario, to Mr. Ralph Stanley Hargreaves, of Frankford, Ontario, son of Rev. L. S. Slingerland and the late Mrs. Hargreaves, the wedding will take place on Wednesday, May 21, 1947.

Mrs. A. J. Charlton and son, "Billy", of Foster Avenue, are spending the weekend in Toronto as guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Backman and family.

Word has been received by Mr. Arthur Salisbury, that his son, Ross Salisbury, of the staff of the Revere Hotel in Perth, is seriously ill in the Perth Hospital.

Dr. John M. Clarke, Chatham Street, is in Toronto, to attend the Ontario Medical Convention being held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, in the Royal York Hotel.

Rt. Rev. J. F. Nicholson, P.A., V.G., presided at the graduation exercises of Notre Dame, Belleville, Kingston, on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Boyle, Dundas Street East, have received word that their son, Armstrong Boyle, has been successful in passing his third year course in Entomology at the University of New Brunswick, in Fredericton. They are also in receipt of a message saying another son, Constable Donald Boyle, R.C.M.P., has arrived in Prince Albert, Sask., where he has been posted.

Recently Rose Kleinsteuber was hostess to a number of girl friends in celebration of the annual sixth birthday. Games were played and prizes awarded the winners. An attractive birthday cake and other refreshments were served by the hostess to the recipient of a number of gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Osler and son, Cameron, of Wellington, are guests of Mrs. Osler's parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Stokie, Campbell Street.

V.O.N. NEWS

In many homes in the city a new baby is being welcomed with proud parents and fond relatives. And while, naturally, the small one is a joyous addition to the household, he or she brings along many problems, and this is particularly true when it is the first baby in the home. The new mother, just returned from hospital and perhaps not yet ready to take complete charge of the baby, looks for professional assistance in teaching her how to do many things, the most important of which is bathing the baby.

The Victorian Order of Nurses have a special service which, for a small fee, is available to any mother. The nurse will come each day until the mother no longer requires her, bath the baby and explain in detail how this should be done, also prepare the day's feedings. The nurse will be glad to answer any questions or help or explain this service.

100 PER CENT SUCCESS

Woodbridge, May 17 — (CP)— Marriage may be a 50-50 proposition, but the 50-50 club started by Mrs. Ivy Young, couple of Woodbridge United Church is a 100 per cent success. In a small basement nursery, the club looks after babies while parents attend the services.

King George Guild H. & S. Assoc. Elects Officers

The annual meeting of the King George Home and School Association was held on Monday afternoon, May 5th, in the Public Library, Mrs. Oslee's parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Stokie, Campbell Street.

The following reports of the officers and conveners were read and adopted and officers elected for the ensuing year to take charge of the meetings:

President, Mrs. J. R. McCullough (re-elected); vice-president, Mrs. R. Muldrew (re-elected); Mrs. R. A. Wyatt recording secretary, Mrs. J. E. MacDonald corresponding secretary, Mrs. P. A. Young (re-elected); treasurer, Mrs. W. Buck; press secretive members; Mrs. John Fisher, Mrs. John Thompson; Mrs. C. A. Brown; Mrs. F. Barton; Mrs. P. B. Cross.

Mrs. J. N. McCullough then expressed her thanks for being re-elected and hoped her next term of office would be as successful as the past one. Mrs. McCullough then spoke in respect to the passing of one of the former members of the organization, (Mr. H. B. Petterly) and proposed a vote of thanks be tendered Ed Vail, who was unable to be present.

A play "Sharing the Work" was next on the program with members from the audience, Mrs. Keith Laughlin, Mrs. Ralph Stewart, Mr. Larry Buck and Mr. N. Meldrum in the cast. The players did exceptionally well as the parts were unrehearsed and was enjoyed by all. Discussion of the play followed and this play proved training of children early in life was the best.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. R. W. Bolton and hay committee.

POLICE HUNTING DRIVER

London, Ont., May 16 — (CP)— Blatchly police say a search for car driver who early today allegedly fled the scene of a collision north of London in which the driver of the other auto was killed, he was Bruce Dodd, of nearby Lucan and was thrown out of the car onto the pavement by the impact.

Others in the car escaped with minor injuries. They were the victim's wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Butler also of Lucan.

Educational Notes

As a measure to promote education in Belleville and to assist in the stimulation of community interest, the Board decided to give the public correct information regarding education in Belleville and throughout the district, the Belleville Teachers' Council each week will contribute a column to appear in the Ontario Intelligencer under the heading "Educational Notes".

The Belleville Teachers' Council is an organization representing teachers in the city public schools and the Belleville Collegiate and Vocational School.

Health Education In Our Elementary Schools

Health education in elementary schools seeks to give the child the means of working out desirable traits of character and personality which will carry over into adult life and make it possible for him to be as happy as an individual and as a member of society.

He is interested in those problems which have a bearing upon his success in life and upon the special fields of life work which begin to attract him. He is interested in problems which will help him make desirable social adjustments. Mental health is also presented to the child in such a way that he can see its direct application to his personal problems of adapting himself to meet new, complex and unfamiliar situations in his social economic and moral relationships.

Our ideas of mental health have gone through a process of change as our knowledge in this field has progressed. The status of knowledge at the time of contacts with 1910 and 1930 shows marked change in emphasis and three definite stages of development. There is, however, still a terrific lag between the scientific knowledge which is available and our use of it in practice.

In 1910, the idea was to provide for exceptional children. At this time when democracy in education, or a chance for success for everyone was visualized and attempted, a great problem arose in the schools. Children were not contrary to our ideals, all children were not created equal, that some children learned more quickly than the average and some much more slowly. At the time the first auxiliary classes were organized.

In 1930 the emphasis was on the "unhealthy child." By this time we had come to a realization to know that many people did not need to become mentally ill; that many problems of adjustment could have been prevented by early recognition of symptoms. In going back over psychiatric histories it was seen that many of the situations which were probably responsible for illness could be traced back to the school days.

Mental illness as a rule has a long history with its origin in childhood. Inspection of elementary schools report that the fears and emotional problems which the child brings to school are the most serious problems in school children, while secondary school inspectors report sex problems and lack of interest in studies as the most serious problems in that age group.

It is estimated that two out of any classroom will at some time in their lives require a mental hospital for treatment while ten others will have difficulties. Please note that statistics show that it is the quiet, unobtrusive, self-centered children who become mental problems; yet our school system encourages and praises the quiet child. The noisy aggressive child who creates difficulty in the class is not likely to develop into a mentally. Teachers and parents can help with this problem. Every personal help must be secured signal help must be given when

You look starry eyed. Probably stayed awake all last night wondering what finally happened in yesterday's deal. Maybe you can still see this final chapter.

Spades are trumps. You are declarer in the south and have taken the first eight tricks. All but one of the remaining five tricks must be taken to make your small slam. Here are the cards:

The lead is in your south hand at the moment. Your aim is to exit to east for an endplay club return. East is known to have no more trumps or hearts. He must have three diamonds and two clubs.

Right now a diamond lead would be foolish. East would win and come back a diamond. This would put you in the same position you always were; the need for taking a club finesse.

This is what you have been attempting to avoid. What you have been aiming at is to get a club lead from east. To force him to lead a club, he must have his diamonds forced out first.

So, you lead your last two trumps and stuff two dummy diamonds. What will east throw on these tricks? He dare not give up a club. So, he must discard away two of his big sparklers.

After this a diamond lead forces east to win. By this time he has nothing to return except a club. This walks directly into the dummy's A Q of clubs no matter which opponent has the king.

The important thing in an endplay is to get a lead in the suit that will do you the most good. To force such a lead, opponents must be stripped of other suits before being thrown into the lead.

Times are when all your planning and scheming fails to get the desired victim into the lead. But 'tsake a try for it before a finesse.

Give yourself a chance to do your best.

AT THE McCARTHY — At the dinner table, Edward G. Robinson questions Lon McCallister, his new hired hand, while Allene Roberts and Judith Anderson look on. Scene is from Sol Lesser's "The Red House," now playing at the McCarthy Theatre.

AT THE BELLE — Robert Walker, Dorothy Patrick and Van Heflin in M-G-M's lavish Technicolor musical romance, "Till the Clouds Roll By." Walker portrays the late famed composer Jerome Kern, with Miss Patrick, his wife, and Van Heflin his best friend. More than a score of musical numbers and a host of favorite stars participate in the spectacular film.

AT THE CAPITOL — Two past masters in the art of cinematic evildoing, Sydney Greenstreet and Sydney Greenstreet, are teamed once more in Warners' melodrama of murderous intrigue, "Three Strangers," opening Monday at the Capitol. Co-starred with them is Geraldine Fitzgerald. On the same program "Anne and the King of Siam," with Irene Dunne, Rex Harrison and Linda Darnell.

Now the people of that sleepy little sun-seared hamlet in the Nevada hills live for their tradition of the rip roarin' days.

When they saw what Hollywood had done on film to "Revere" the name of their town, they almost wept. Then they got angry and practically ran the company out of town.

The Movie Column
By RON GADSBY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Who is William Hartnell?

The first perfect answer pulls you in the genius class, but if you boobed your three chances, dry up your tears — you will soon know about him.

He isn't handsome on Hollywood standards, but boy, can that man act! Possibly the most praiseworthy portrayal to come from the screen in a decade is that produced by Mr. Hartnell is "Murder in the Cathedral."

The story, produced against a background of painfully accurate detail, concerns the problem of a man wrongfully charged with murder, who served his sentence and then dramatically obliterated the cause of his incarceration.

According to British law — this is a British picture — no one can be tried for a crime for which the penalty has been paid.

Tom Masterick (Hartnell) finds his no-good wife embroiled in an affair with Fred (Robin Slater) and engages in an incriminating fight. Smith immediately leaves the country on a freighter and his disappearance leads to the assumption of murder. An unidentified body answering Smith's description is found and Masterick is convicted of murder, sentenced to 10 years.

He serves his term, knowing Smith lives, and then finds him. Masterick presents Smith to the lawyers who caused the conviction and before their eyes, shoots the poor dear dead. What can they do about it? You figure it out.

Let's Hope Not.

Dennis Morgan and Janis Paige will visit Cheyenne, Wyo., for the world premiere of their new picture called — strangely enough — "Cheyenne." Which brings to mind the "world premiers" of another western entitled "Virginia City." With the habitual fanfare, what Cape Bretoners call the boom days and nurtured by its employees through the depression years, went out of business today as buses took over the job the orange-painted trams have been doing steadily for 42 years.

Johnny Mize With 10 Homers Ahead of Babe Ruth's All-Time Pace at This Stage of Season

Giants Winning Six of Last Seven Edge Into Third Place

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Big Johnny Mize, a frisky pro at heart despite his 34 summers, confirmed the hoary rumor that New York Giants at a pace, designed to force comparisons with Babe Ruth's all-time record, galt.

When the Babe set his famous record of 60 in 1927, he didn't clout his 10th until May 22. Mize hit No. 10 yesterday off Hank Wyse at Wrigley Field in the Giants' second game of the playing season.

Whether Mize has any serious chance of matching the Bambino's total, time alone will tell. But with Mize setting the long distance pace, the Giants have gone hitherto unbeaten through four straight western games without defeat.

Winning six of their last seven and four in a row from St. Louis Cardinals, the Giants have edged into third place, only one game back of the leading Cubs, today's opponent.

Kennedy Beneficiary

Monty Kennedy was the beneficiary of yesterday's assault on Wyse and his successors. Mize set a National League record by scoring in his 16th consecutive game, even before he hit his two-run homer to submit a 5-3 win over Chicago.

Despite the loss the Cubs retained undisputed possession of first place because St. Louis again stifled Boston's ambitions, edging out the Braves 4-3 in a night game. Howard got to Kirby Higbe, an old mate who now toils for Pittsburgh, beating the Pirates 3-1.

Philadelphia Phils backed Schoolboy Rowe with a 15-hit attack against Cincinnati to give the Schoolboy six stuth straight victory 8-4. Rowe, however, needed relief help in the ninth.

Boston's Red Sox outscored St. Louis Browns 12-7 with Ted Williams, grand slam homer, his 5th of the season. When Williams hit the ball into the right field seats, it made the score 11-0 but the Browns got to Harry Dorish for seven runs in the last three innings.

Walt Masterson's four-hit shutout at Cleveland 2-0 was the day's best pitching effort but it failed to lift Washington out of seventh place.

Philadelphia, knocked out Virgil Trucks in the first inning when they scored seven runs to assure victory of an 11-1 romp over Detroit. Bob Savage earned his third decision during the proceedings.

NEGRO CATCHER HITS HOMER WITH BASES LOADED

Montreal Royals Blank Maple Leafs 9-0 Behind Two-Hit Pitching

(By The Canadian Press)

Catcher Roy Campanella of Montreal Royals may not follow Jackie Robinson to the majors, but the only Negro remaining in the International League is bound to attract almost as much attention.

Roy came to Montreal this year from Nashua, N.H., Dodger Class A affiliate in the New England League. With Nashua last year he had a batting average of .290 for 113 games and slammed 13 homers.

Last night at Toronto, Roy poled a 350-foot drive over centre in the seven-inning first game and 3-0 win for the nightcaps. Eldred (Bud) Byrd gave up just seven hits, all singles, in the opener, while Lou Thuman and Al Epperly ed his fourth verdict of the season in the regulation game.

Manager George Staller's seventh-inning homer proved to be the winning margin as Baltimore Orioles defeated the Bears 3-3.

Plate Trial Features Opening At the Woodbine

(By The Associated Press)

Ontario's racing season opens today at Woodbine Park, Toronto with an eight-race card. Features races are the Plate Trial Purse for contesting the King's Plate May 24, and the Highlanders' Handicap for three-year-olds and upward.

Directors of the Long Branch Racing Association met yesterday in Toronto to discuss demands of the Horsemen's Benevolent Protective Association for minimum purses of $1,350 at the Long Branch track and the meeting ended in a deadlock. Deadline for the track men to notify the Horsemen's Association of their decision is next Tuesday.

The struggle to return the Romanian tennis star, Magda Rurak to her native country is still going on. "Political implications" were seen by some observers in the warning she received from the Romanian Tennis Association not to play in England—a warning she disregarded. Now in England, Magda has been again warned to go back to Romania within 10 days or face one year's suspension.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Ted Williams, Red Sox—Walked twice, hit his first grand slam homer of the season, singled to right against the shift and was safe on an error. He scored four times in Boston's 12-7 win over St. Louis.

Jackie Robinson, Dodgers—Ran consecutive game hitting streak to 13 by singling twice and stealing one base against Pittsburgh in 3-1 victory.

Hank Greenberg, Pirates—Went hitless 3 official times at bat bats.

Stan Musial, Cardinals—Failed to hit in three attempts against Boston pitching.

Mickey Vernon, Senators—Collected one single in four trips at Washington blanked Cleveland 2-0.

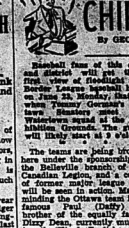
CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor.

Baseball fans of this city and district will get their first glimpse of Belleville Senior League baseball here on June 19, when Trenton comes to town. Tommy Germaine, Quinte Baseball League president, announced the schedule for the Exhibition Grounds. The game will likely start at 2.30 p.m.

The teams are being brought here under the sponsorship of the Belleville branch of the Canadian Legion, and a couple of former major league stars, will be seen in action. Manager-minding the Ottawa team is the famous Neal (Dutch) Dean brother of the equally famous Dizzy Dean, currently murdering the King's English over a St. Louis microphone. Managing the Watertown team is Bob Shawkey, former wellknown major league hurler.



According to information received by Legion officials here, Dutch and Bob will likely go on the mound for two or three innings at the start of the game. After that the pitching hurlers of the squads will go to work.

* * *

The floodlights are now in the process of installation at the Pals Grounds, and are expected to be ready for use shortly with any luck in the district. Legion officials have been assured by City Parks Board officials that the diamond will be in first-class condition for the game.

* * *

Aside to "The Sport"—Sir, we are in full agreement with your suggestion, but according to the policy of this newspaper, we can do nothing about it until you change your name.

Your name need not be used, but newspapers demand signatures as a matter of good faith.

* * *

Ken McNaught has cavorted along the left boards for the Oshawa Generals ever since they won the Memorial Cup in 1945 and considered that capacity until 1942, is now a resident of this village, and the Belleville Intermediate one. Ken is now associated with the Bateman Sons Co.

* * *

He joined the army in 1942 and spent four years with the boys in khaki, wearing the colors of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps. While doing his bit he played hockey for and against such National Hockey League stars as Edgar Laprade, Adam Brown etc. You might have seen him in action in the Belleville Arena with that galaxy of Army stars. He was on the Montreal Canadiens negotiation list in 1941 and attended a training season of Les Habs that year.

* * *

He also did a hockey stint with the Toronto Marlies (remember?) two years ago when they won the Intermediate "A" title of Ontario although Sault Ste. Marie may give you arguments about that. Last winter Ken contributed his hockey talents to the Oshawa Legion squad which went down before the Brantford Redmen. And in between those tilts he played with the Stoneys squad in a Toronto loop.

* * *

He has played baseball but nothing of importance. In his junior days he was a softball star and played for the Oshawa squad which defeated our hopes this here in 1940, I think it was.

Asked today about his future hockey plans, Ken smiled and said: "I don't think I had better make any predictions".

Resident there is the alternative, Mrs. McNaught is the sitting and a lucky spectator. Ken is the boy who gives Ken his hair cut. So sure, now at the ripe old age of 25.

* * *

The newly formed Belleville Services Club Basketball League gets into production next section on Monday night, when the same teams will appear at the respective arenas. The Kinsmen squad will gather at 42nd Street School grounds; Y's Men's at Ann Street; Rotary at Claude George; Kiwanis at Queen Mary while the Lions Cubs which is sponsoring a team from the Sea Cadets will announce their own rendezvous. All boys sixteen and under are asked to report at the various grounds at 7 p.m. Monday.

* * *

Schedules will be drawn up next week at a special meeting of the Basketball League, and subsequently published in this newspaper. Meanwhile, players are requested not to forget Monday night's meetings at the various grounds as much hinges on these get-togethers.

* * *

And in passing, the service clubs of the city are to be commended for their action in sponsoring these young teams. For many years it has been a source of regret that the city has concentrated its efforts, outside of the Ki-Y people on the supervised activity side, deploring the fact that whiling teams have been at a minimum. Nothing was done to the same extent for juniors for intermediate squads, while the younger element, was denied the opportunity of playing under organized leadership.

* * *

The columnar orchids go to the executive of the new loop and to the service clubs for a gesture that will be much appreciated by not only the youngsters but other sports enthusiasts as well. It is hoped the good work will be maintained next winter in hockey which will give the kids of the city the chance to show their wares under competent coaches and good administration.

* * *

Ontario golfers seem to be the all-eye fraternity as the Canadian courses so far this season, scoring the first two holes-in-one recorded by the Ontario Professional Golfers Association.

* * *

Sgt.-Det. Frank B. Craddock of York Mills and Mr. Hal B. Berube of Fonthill are the first two golfers to be enrolled in the Packard Hole-in-One Club — and their shavers and diplomas are in the mail. Craddock holed out from the 8th tee at the St Andrew's Club, while Berube's hole-in-one was recorded at the Lookout Point Golf Club.

* * *

This early start heralds a record harvest of aces this season—if golfers elsewhere pick up the On-tario lead. Belleville golfers who sink the pellet from the tee-off should register their names with the secretary of the C.P.G.A. and get themselves one of these prizes.

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

CANADIAN SPORT SNAPSHOTS

By WILLIAM H. DUMSDAY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, May 17 — (CP) — Maybe it's just lack of love for anything that comes out of Montreal, but anyway at least a couple of Ontario sports scribes suggest the Royals might have been able to hasten their Allan Cup series with Calgary Stampeders.

N. D. (St. Thomas Times-Journal) Whitmore thinks although it may have taken the new senior hockey champions seven games to down the westerners "you can't make many pick devotees believe it." He adds that "perhaps the appointment of a 'royal commission' to investigate might not be out of order."

Another writer whose comments won't make the aging Stampeders feel any better about their losing struggle is Alan (Brantford Expositor) Rose who said it appeared to many "that the Royals did not have anything to do but to stretch the series to seven games — the difference in the scores were so marked."

What Price Glory?

For youngsters considering turning pro in hockey, Britt (North Bay Nugget) Jessup, is-sues a warning note in championing the cause of Ab Demarco, recently sold by New York Rangers to Cleveland Barons.

Says Britt in an open letter to the Ranger: "So you finally completed administering the gears to Ab Demarco. You did it in a nice way of course. You kept him out of so many games last season no N.H.L. club would buy him, so it's down the river now to the A.H.L. Well, Alec has been giving the matter thought and may retire from hockey. In the 1944-45 and 45-46 seasons if it hadn't been for Demarco, nobody would have known the Rangers were in the league."

Headed for Big Chop

Hopes that Bay View Athletics would land Joe Klukay for Soo softball activities this season flew out the window when the left winger advised Emil (Sault Star) Rainovich that he'd received orders from manager Conn Smythe of the Leafs to report to Toronto this week to undergo an appendectomy. Joe told Emil his side bothered him during the latter part of the last hockey season of the Leafs fought successfully for the Stanley Cup.

FAWN RIDES ICE CAKE

Fort Erie, May 16 —(CP)— A fawn rode an ice-cake down the swirling water of the Niagara River yesterday until he was thrown off half a mile above the Falls. Battered by ice, the small deer swam for the bank, and to the cheers of hundreds of persons who followed his progress from the Peace Bridge, climbed safely ashore.

APPEAL FOR KESSELRING

Venice, May 16 — (AP) — Dr. Hans Laternser, chief defence counsel for Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, submitted a 10,000-word appeal to British military authorities yesterday against the death sentence imposed on the German commander for war crimes against the Italian people. The appeal will go to Lt.-Gen. Sir Sidney Kirkman, commander of the British central Mediterranean forces.

CHAPTER 18

Hill gripped the older man's hand. "Thanks, there doctor, I guess I don't have to tell you how I feel about this. A chance to make the money to take care of my wife and child."

Malcolm nodded suddenly grave. "I understand son. We'll make it go too, I'm sorry Halling wouldn't give you better news. But keep your chin up. See you at eight."

Hill drove directly to Douglaston, Gay she just ready to leave the house to go to the hospital when he rang the bell. She was glad Cleary had gone shopping. Kenny was in the kitchen with Hyacinthe.

"Hello, Hill," Gay smiled cordially. "Come in. Kenny will be so glad to see you. How is April? Have you been to the hospital this morning?"

Hill told her about Dr. Halling's report. That April would no doubt live, but that the doctors did not believe she would ever walk again."

"Oh, God." Gay covered her face with her hands. "Oh, Hill, how awful! It can't be true! It can't!"

"Halling bases his report on the x-rays." Then Dr. Malcolm, Dr. Malcolm agrees with him."

Then Hill told Gay of the proposition Malcolm had made, and that they were going to open a golf school on the Sillier estate in the early Spring.

"So, I'm going to work," Hill smiled crookedly. "Believe it or not And I mean work. Doctor Malcolm —says the money I've deposited will take care of the hospital. You'll need money for the house though, Hill," said thoughtfully. "I'll borrow on my insurance. I'll see tomorrow and bring it to you in the morning. If Kenny needs anything let me know."

Gay looked at Hill in astonishment. "All right, Hill I'll let you know. And thanks."

"Where is the Goon?" Hill got up.

Hyacinthe was surprised when the former master of the house opened the kitchen door. She was frying doughnuts and had closed it to keep the fumes from the rest of the apartment. Kenny sat on a stool watching her. It was one of his favorite pastimes.

Kenny's large blue eyes opened wider, but he did not smile or run to his father.

"Hi you, son!" Kent smiled, embarrassment mixed with yearning on his handsome face because Kenny did not run to like him. "How would you like to take a ride with Daddy out to Great Neck?" Hill asked. "Daddy is going to start teaching you how to play golf."

Kenny's manner changed instantly. His baby mouth broke into a wide boyish grin:

"Whoopee!" he jumped down from the stool. "Where's my snow suit Hyacinthe? Whee? Whoopee!"

That night the Hillyer-Lorraine school of Music and Dancing burned to the ground when a fire started in the store on the floor below. Every piece of equipment went up in the flames. And every dollar Gay Lorraine had in the world went with it.

The tragedy of the loss of the school was overshadowed completely by the way April hung on for days, struggling between life and death. Finally, after two weeks she took a sudden turn for the better and the danger was past. Hill gave two more blood transfusions before she turned.

Because Hill was afraid that Gay him might upset April, he stayed away from her room when she was able to spend a few moments with, her family and friends. Gay made certain Hill was not to be at the hospital when Curt sat by the little tiny by April's side. She was out of the oxygen tent, lying swathed in bandages on her bed.

The fourteenth floor of the hospital was like a conservatory it was so filled with flowers from April's fans. Only a few flowers were permitted in her room, because she needed the oxygen. The others were distributed among the other patients, and in the children's ward. Gerry had taken bundles of letters and wires home for April to read when she was well enough.

April seemed too ill to worry about her radio program, or what was to become of her career. But she smiled faintly when Cherry and Gay told her that all her fans were saying prayers for her, and that she had received hundreds of bouquets of flowers from men, women and children who missed her lovely voice singing the old songs they loved.

Gay was faced with the problem of finding a job. Because of the uncertainty of show business, she had no desire to go back to dancing. There wasn't a chance that the school would reopen. She had no money with which to buy equipment. And unfortunately, there was no insurance to cover the loss by fire.

A few evenings after the fire Curt called Gay and invited her to come out to Cherry-lawn to dinner.

"Mike will come for you," he told Gay. "at seven. I want to talk with you."

It would be pleasant relaxation to dine at the lovely colonial house with Curt and Cherry playing little daughter, Gay thought. She dressed most hurriedly in a soft green net gown matching her soft green eyes. She was tall and slender and very beautiful as Curt greeted her at the door. Cherry was there also. She cried happily:

"Oh, Gay, you're beautiful. Cold I dye my hair red when I grow up, Daddy?"

Curt laughed: "Pink if you like, darling. Or sky blue."

The trio went into the library to await dinner, and a butler served cocktails. Curt said, smiling:

"I suppose you wonder what I want to talk with you about. Penny and I have a business proposition to make you."

"A business proposition?" Gay raised her brows.

Penny jumped from her chair and went close to where Gay sat on a divan in front of the fire place. She put her arms around Gay's waist and hugged childishly:

"Say you'll do what we want you to do, Miss Lorraine, Promise."

Gay smiled. "What do you want me to do, darling? I'm sure if it will make you happy I'd love to do it. What is it?"

"Curt said: "You may ask her Penny."

The child took her arms from around Gay's waist and sat down on the floor, looking up into Gay's face worshipfully.

"We want you to come here to live with me."

Gay said blankly. "Live with you?"

Penny nodded eagerly: "As my companion. Sour Puss. I mean Mrs. Seeley is leaving Daddy to ask you to come and take her place."

Curt smiled: "It was Penny's idea. But I think it's an excellent one. I've thought for some time Cherry needed a change. Someone who would be less of a disciplinarian and more of a playmate. What do you say to making Gay at it, since you're job hunting?"

Gay gasped: "How marvelous! Why I'd love it, Penny. I can't think of anything in the world I'd rather do than live here at Pennyhaven with you."

Penny's eyes filled with happy tears:

"Oh, Miss Lorraine!" she raised up and gave her a rapturous hug. "Oh, I'm so happy I could die!"

"Then it's settled. We'll talk business after dinner. This relieves my mind a great deal, Gay. I know Penny will be happy with you. Choosing a companion for a young girl with ideas of her own is no easy job."

Gay looked at Penny's long black braids:

"We'll get along grand, Penny. We'll have some marvelous times."

Penny grined happily, showing the braces on her teeth:

"You won't make me wear funny clothes and plaster my hair down like Sour Puss does, will you?"

Gay tilted her chin: "We'll make you into a raving beauty, Penny. You'll see."

"Curls?" Penny's eyes pleaded. "Curls," Gay nodded, laughing.

Kenny squealed with delight. Curt watched, smiling. Penny seemed more at ease with Gay Lorraine than she had seemed in her twelve years. She was a sensitive, affectionate child —whose natural friendliness had been stifled by a governess who clung to her all the old rules of children being seen and not heard. A lady was a girl who made herself look so plain and unattractive that no one would dare make a friendly move in her direction, or a false one.

After dinner, Curt himself drove Gay home to Douglaston in a limousine, and they talked of plans for Penny's future. Once Gay said doubtfully:

"I know you planned this thing for Penny, Curt. How can we be sure I've had the right training to be a proper companion for Penny?"

Curt smiled: "Just be yourself Gay. Penny needs a chum as well as the lady you are, that's all I say. I don't want her brought up to be the usual idle debutante.

Just want her to develop like a normal young girl, as you and April did in your homes in the South. I want to make a Southern lady out of my daughter. I'll be extremely grateful to you. I've always been partial to Southern women."

"What a lovely compliment," Gay laughed. "I'm Old South, I drops you a deep curtsy, even if you are only a darn Yankee."

Cherry decided to give up her job entirely for the time being, and stay home to care for Kenny. If Gay was going to live at Pennyhaven, she did not like the idea of Kenny being left entirely in Hyacinthe's care. April might worry, even though the old colored woman did idolize the child.

April did not quite approve of all of Hyacinthe's old fashioned methods of raising children. In a few weeks Kenny would be shamefully spoiled, for one thing Since she could bend Hyacinthe entirely to his will with his charming Hillyer way.

Gay and Curt had never discussed the fact that April might never walk again until Gay's first night at Pennyhaven. Penny had been put to bed, and Curt and Gay were talking over plans in the library. Suddenly Curt sighed:

"I had a serious talk with Malcolm this afternoon. He holds out no hope that April will walk."

"Oh," Gay said painfully. "I'm sorry."

Curt got up, restlessly pacing the floor. "It's going to be difficult when the funds is out. Particularly trying to reason with her that it must make no difference in our wedding plans."

"Perhaps" Gay also trembled. "you can convince her she should marry before she finds out she will never walk again."

"I'll try." Curt said firmly. "But I doubt if she will consent. Do you think Hillyer is going to try to divorce her?"

Gay shook her head: "No, I don't think so. He has stayed away from her room entirely, and he still thinks that everyone keep the fact that he had helped a secret.

Curt sighed: "I feel sorry for the poor devil. He looked a great deal thinner when I passed him on the street yesterday."

"He looked to wreck." Gay agreed. "You know he even borrowed money from his insurance to keep the house going, and to take care of Kenny. We certainly owe him a debt of gratitude. At this part now,evenif it is a little late."

"I'll listen to any plan for restoring to Hillyer you should suggest," Curt answered like to see him. It may hurt her feelings past now even if it is a little late," interposed Gay. "But you ask April if she thinks he isn't showing any interest in her. I'll be glad to see her? I believe we could get special permission from Dr. Malcolm even though it is against the rules for children to visit the hospital."

Gay knew what coming to that decision cost her dearly. She Will. She said tears in her throat:

"You're always so thoughtful, Curt. I will ask her when I see her tomorrow. Then I'll tell Hill April has asked that he come and bring Kenny."

Curt strode to the fire place and stood looking into the fire: "I think that is the right thing to do. April must be very anxious to see the child. And since Hillyer is trying so hard to make amends, it's no more than fair that April should know that he is not seeing Kenny and taking an interest in him."

Gay's quarters were off Penny's wing of the second floor. A living room, bed room, dressing room and bath in green and rose. Everything was old colonial, and she walked through the lovely rooms with a feeling of unreality after she had said good night to Curt.

It was like walking through a dream, life had changed so in the course of a few weeks. If it weren't for the fact that the staff at the school was out of jobs she could hardly regret that the Hillyer-Lorraine School of Music and Dancing had burned to the ground, as she gazed out the window through tall trees laden with snow to the Sound shining in the winter moonlight beyond. In Cherry Lee Witt's home Gay had a feeling of security she hadn't felt since she had grown up and started to earn her own living. Since she didn't intend to marry, the companionship and love of Penny De Witt would be almost like having a child of her own.

RAY ROBINSON FACES BIG TASK IF HE JUMPS

King of Welterweights Advised Not To Take on Middleweights

By SID FEDER

New York, May 17 — (AP) — For some time now it has been generally felt that Sugar Ray Robinson, king of the welterweights, is figuring on moving up among the middleweights before long.

However, the best advice that can be offered to the Sugar man off his squeaky split decision over veteran Georgie Abrams in Madison Square Garden last night is to let well enough alone and stay where he is before he gets hurt.

Georgie won everything but the decision this time. And a large number of the 15,094 customers, who chipped in to a street gate of $30,772, thought he won that too. The Associated Press score card gave it to Abrams, six rounds to two, with one even.

If Robinson abdicates his welterweight crown and gives the middleweights a serious trade, he will have fellows like Marcel Cerdan and champion Tony Zale and Jarrapers in that league to consider.

He had to give away 11 1/4 pounds to 159 ½ to 162 — last night, and he just couldn't afford to do the same with the rangier flailers among the 160 pounders.

PLANS APPROVED

Toronto, May 17 — (CP) — Plans for new outpost hospitals at Bancroft, Huntsville and Napanee have been approved by the Provincial Department of Health, L. G. Mills, chairman of the outpost hospitals committee, told a meeting of the Ontario Red Cross executive yesterday.

Barbara Ann Scott's Action In Returning Motor Car Makes Her True Amateur

This Information Received in Ottawa from President Olympic Committee

Montreal, May 17 (CP)—Barbara Ann Scott's action in returning the cream-colored car presented to her by the City of Ottawa "makes her a true amateur", in the opinion of J. S. Edstrom of Sweden, president of the International Olympic Committee.

This was the view contained in a letter from Mr. Edstrom to J. C. Patterson of London, one of Canada's representatives on the I.O.C. and made public here last night, together with a copy of the first letter Mr. Edstrom sent to Mr. Patterson enquiring into the now famous Barbara Ann case which yesterday was debated in the House of Commons.

A copy of the second letter was received by A. Sydney Dawes, president of the Canadian Olympic Association.

In this letter, Mr. Edstrom said the question of the Ottawa skater participation in the 1948 Olympic games "will in the first instance be taken up by the Canadian Skating Association".

"Like other contestors, Miss Scott's application to participate in the games must be sent in by the Canadian Olympic Committee to the Swiss Olympic Committee. Both the Canadian Olympic Committee and the Canadian Skating Association must verify that Miss Scott is a true amateur.

"In the Olympic rules—it says participants who have received money presents or advantages of a pecuniary character shall not be admitted to the Olympic games. Therefore the Canadian Olympic Committee must verify that Miss Scott has not received any such advantages.

"If there is any protest against Miss Scott's amateur status it will come before the executive commission of the I.O.C.

"I am glad to see from the newspaper cutting you sent me that Miss Scott has returned the car, which action makes her a true amateur."

The letter was dated May 10.

JOHNNY GRECO STOPS WEBB IN SECOND ROUND

Montreal Battler Easily Retains His Canadian Welterweight Title

By SYD THOMAS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Montreal, May 17. (CP)—The dynamite in Johnny Greco's lethal fists exploded last night and little Danny Webb, the "perpetual motion man," was stopped dead in his tracks before he started.

It took joltin' Johnny just one round and 19 seconds of a scheduled 12-rounder to cold the wiry little Negro who was the Canadian welterweight crown securely on his head with scarcely a hair ruffled.

Less than a dozen real blows—all by Greco—were struck and the Canadian lightweight king didn't have a chance in his bed for a split little. Only the bell saved him in the first round.

Webb, who scaled 138 ½, gave away more than seven pounds as Greco weighed in at 145 ½.

A disappointing crowd of 6,946 contributed a gate of $24,723.

Greco exploded half way through the first round. He clipped a murderous left into Danny's face and then caught him with a right that spun him around and dropped him to the canvas, for a count of nine.

Webb got up and in a flurry of punches, Greco suddenly let go with both fists at short range. Webb toppled to the canvas, early in the round, and saved himself at the count of six, it was all over in the next flurry of blows as Greco caught the groggy Negro again and felled him. Webb got to his hands and knees at the count of four, but was still kneeling at the final count.

SELKE DEMANDS CAR BE RETURNED TO MISS SCOTT

Montreal, May 17 (CP)—Elmer Ferguson in his sports column today quoted Frank Selke, general manager of the Montreal Forum, as saying that Montreal Royals, winners of the Allan Cup, will only accept an invitation to represent Canada at the 1948 Olympic games on the condition that Barbara Ann Scott's motorcar is returned to her.

Ferguson quoted Selke as follows:

"Royals can go to the Olympic games only if Barbara Ann Scott gets back her car, but not otherwise. I'm sick and tired of all this amateur hypocrisy and twaddle. Barbara Ann is a true amateur if there ever was one. Royals are not amateurs, do not pretend to be.

"Royals form a part of the Canadian professional hockey organization. Every player on the Royals gets paid a salary, because they deserve to get paid.

"It is ridiculous that there can be such an action against a real amateur like Barbara Ann, while a team that is in reality professional, even if it did win the Allan Cup, is invited to take part in the same tournament, and we want none of such a hypocricy."

Watson, Katan Disqualified By Referee Powers After "Whipper" Wins First Fall

Ozark Giant Defeats Bulldog Drummond and Flames Again Wins Tod Over Al Korman

That Whipper Billy Watson-John Katan feud still fames at the same heat as last week. The boys are no closer to a decision in their battle for the Empire title, than they were on Thursday night. True the bauble still adorns the sleek locks of the Whipper, but Katan still thinks it should rest on his Ukrainian-Canadian thatch.

A week ago, the champion, Katan pins that is, thrashed the crown when he defeated "La Fingers" in two straight falls. Last night, the boys went into a literal leg-pulling contest during the ring, and disdaining Referee Powers' grandfather-clock system of counting, they used their own fingers digested and things were not well in Glocca Morra.

Yep, that is what happened. In fact the "Whip" been a trifle speedier on his feet he might have eluded the clutching claws of Katan and hopped back the ropes to get the nod. He had already won the first after 30 minutes of grueling grappling, and in fairness to the champion he had a wide margin on the Palermo, Panther throughout the struggle.

They started the attack to the challenger practically throughout the bout. There was no denying the champion and although he was severely punished him early on intermittent occasions, he had a clear majority of the edged. Katan at times was forced to relinquish his rope holds when Referee Powers, not to have any of the "Whip's" tactics in a series of savage elbow smashing attacks.

But the champ was finally forced to say so his famous Flaming Commando Plus hold to subdue the Ozark Bulldog. And it was then when that hold is clamped on you, you may well put on the towel and get ready to sign the book at the pearly gates. It is practically the last lease, and it's "uncle" usually for the victim.

Then came the leg-pulling contest. Both the "Whip" and Katan were outside the ropes battling for another when the champ decided to return to the fold as the referee started to count. Katan seized one of his legs and yanked him back. He tried to leap into the ring, and the "Whip" pulled him back with the leg method. And so on, into the night.

Hy Lee, the Ozark giant, who by the way headlines the main bout next week, showed plenty of strength and ability in subduing Bulldog Drummond after 18 minutes of snappy grappling. The huge youngster (he is only 23) towered feet above his tall opponent and used his massive physique and ability to advantage. But it was not all beer and skittles for the guy from the Ozarks. The Bulldog showed plenty of fight and at times tossed the big fellow around the ring with plenty of the old heave-ho.

The popular Pat Flanagan made his 1947 mat debut in the preliminary and showed he has lost none of his speed and agility. He defeated the aggressive but villainous Al Korman in the prelim while the faithful howled their approval.

The bouts next week start at 9 o'clock instead of the heretofore usual 8.45.

Sports Roundup

By ALAN HARVEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, May 17 (CP)—When Barbara Ann Scott won the world's figure-skating championship at Stockholm last February, most United States newspapers were caught with their headlines down . . . A few dutifully reported that Dorothy Gretchen Merrill, the American hope, had finished third to the Canadian girl and some printed a misleading report that Miss Merrill might have won but for an unfortunate fall at a crucial stage . so Miss Scott didn't get much publicity here when she arrived on the Queen Elizabeth. But two other passengers on the Elizabeth, Lucinda Mackey Crejdan and actor Maurice Chevalier, smashed all the spots.

"Boot" From Brundage

There was nothing deliberate in the way the local press shunned Barbara Ann—they just didn't realize her story possibilities . . . Anyway, there are signs now that things are changing . . Gotham gossips finally are alive to the fact that Barbara Ann Canada has as competent and glamorous a champion as figure skating has ever had . . And it took an American, Avery Brundage, to stir up the favorable footage for Miss Scott.

Disdain Drawn

Joe Williams, widely-quoted columnist of the World-Telegram, said Brundage's action "drew gifts astonishment." "Just doesn't make sense and it isn't fair" Joe noted that Barbara Ann is as "cute as a little red wagon" and summed up "This gift (automobile) represents a community's admiration and love for one of its own . . It has nothing to do with the amateur ideal . . But it has a lot to do with the human ideal."

INTER-COUNTY LOOP STRONGEST IN ITS HISTORY

Many Stalwarts of National Hockey League Playing With the Several Teams

(By The Canadian Press)
Baseball series that rates bigger and blacker headlines than the spring floods opened in Western Ontario today with the eight teams of the Senior Inter-County League shindigging at four cities where fans go all out to color the line with boisterous bleacherites.

Canadian Press survey made before Saturday's opening, drew from sportswriters, team managers and coaches the opinion that the inter-county 1947 campaign will provide "bang-up ball" until the schedule ends Aug. 6.

Names of National Hockey League stalwarts, Glamorous veterans of the past decade and promising fry appear on the rosters of each club. Today's opening saw Brantford entertaining Waterloo, Hamilton at Kitchener, London at Stratford, and Galt at Guelph.

The twin city teams look strong-er this year.

Waterloo, to be coached by the former Stratford Star Buzz Given, will have Milt Schmidt and Bobby Bauer of hockey fame in the outfield and four outstanding imports, Al Dumouchelle of Windsor, Jack Giffin of Kingston and Bill Petryna of Campbellton, all hurlers, and Dick Mc-Neil, a catcher from Walkerville (Windsor).

Kitchener, boasts the acquisition of the Slota Brothers, Frank and Jerry, late of St. Thomas. And, apart from that pair and Howie (Hockey Leafs) Meeker, they'll have another new face in Bobby Schmidt, leading scorer last year for the Boston (Hockey) Olympics.

The defending champions, Stratford Nationals who were also O.B.A. finalists last year, will enter the 1947 campaign with the same intact except for pitchers Harry Fisher and Ken Arnott who turned professional. Bob McWilliams of Drummondville, Que., is the new playing manager and newcomers include Maurice Vaillancourt, righthand pitcher of Provo Miners, Norman Klein, third baseman of Hollinger, and George Blake, Coniston outfielder.

Gail Terrien looks good, says Bush McWhirter, optimistic of the fact he has the main cogs of last year's team available and also eight of the key men of the Galt veterans, intermediate inter-county finalists last year.

VE BANDITS FOILED IN RAID ON BANK VAULT

Janitor And Wife Trussed By Gang at Grand Valley

Interrupted When Night Watchman Spreads Alarm

Grand Valley, Ont., May 19.— (CP)— Two masked "ring-tapped" bandits, who earlier had stolen Mayor Robert Saunders' car from Toronto, raided the Royal Bank here in wild west style last night, trussing up the caretaker and his wife and stealing a car from two local youths after disarming them a mile, firing revolvers repeatedly, through the village.

Police believe the five are the same gang who got away with $250,000 in securities in a Toronto Bank several weeks ago. Most of the money was recovered later in a Toronto house and arrests of seven Jewish suspects were made.

The five entered the caretaker's apartment over the Grand Valley Bank at 10 p.m., last night. Threatening the janitor, Bob Kennedy, and his wife, they tied, gagged and blindfolded them, then went down to the bank and started to work on the vault.

The five were unable to open the vault. They were using top acetylene welding equipment to cut through the steel door when the night watchman, Joe Stackey, spotted them and spread the alarm.

Rushing out of the bank, the five, all armed, met Marvin Wheeler, 19, who had switched lights on in the bank and was investigating. The bandits dragged Wheeler but he broke away and ran to his car at the curb. Two other youth, Pat Dickson, and two girls were waiting. The bandits ordered John his car and sped away to get help. Three of the bandits gave chase in Mayor Saunders' big limousine which is when a motley, firing ropelessly at the Grand Valley car, they overtook it one-mile south of the village, forced it off the road. Wheeler was pulled out of the car and slugged with a revolver butt.

The other three also were pulled from the car, threatened and left standing on the highway while the gang members took their car. As they drove away, the bandits fired several shots into the air over their heads.

The three gunmen drove Mayor Saunders' car which was also owned in the city, about 25 miles south of Guelph, two blocks from the bank.

While the three bandits were chasing Wheeler and his companions, the other two tried to steal another car in Grand Valley. Kenneth Jones, a student called for help and gave chase on foot. Bandits on foot fled when two finally got into another car in the northwest section of the village and sped out of town towards Orangeville. Provincial and municipal police in Central Ontario were put on the alert as the bandits fled to a hideout believed to be somewhere in the district 45 miles northwest of Toronto.

Sheila Anne McGuire, 16, City, Dies in Hospital After Motorcycle Crash

Suffering severe head injuries when thrown from the "buddy" seat of the motorcycle upon which she was riding as passenger, Miss Sheila McGuire, age 16, of 343 Coleman Street, died in Belleville General Hospital late Sunday afternoon.

The young girl had been attending a party in the city on Saturday evening when, as the party broke up she went for a ride with Allan Dunning, R. R. 2, Belleville.

While passing through Foxboro on their return to Belleville the motorcycle failed to make the turn at the 5th concession corner and crossed the west shoulder of the highway coming to rest on Phalin's lawn. The girl was thrown clear and was found lying beside a large tree in the centre of the lawn. The accident occurred at approximately 3:00 o'clock Sunday morning.

Both the McGuire girl and Dunning were rushed to hospital where Dunning was found to be suffering from chest injuries and an injured left leg. Dr. Russell Scott attended.

The coroner's inquest looking into the death of the girl was held this morning at the Bellevieltz Burial Funeral Home before Coroner Dr. S. Demorest of Foxboro.

Following identification the inquest was adjourned to May 29th.

The jury empanelled by Coroner's Constable Thomas Cowan included Bill Clute, Ralph Knowlton, Frank Smith, Keith Onderdonk and Jack Howe.

Daughter of Lauchlan H. McGuire and the late Annie May McGuire, Miss McGuire had lived in Belleville all her life and was employed at the Canadian Industrial Alcohol plant at Corbyville.

Surviving are her father; one sister, Marjorie, at home, and three brothers, James, Frederick and Harry, all of Belleville.

Resting at the Bellevieltz Burial Company Funeral Home, the funeral announcement appears in this edition.

CONDITIONS LAID DOWN VIRTUALLY KILL ALL HOPES

Truce Urged by United Nations in Palestine Issue Has Little Hope Of Success

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON

Jerusalem, May 19 — (AP) — Conditions laid down by the Jewish underground as the price of peace in the Holy Land appeared to have made the virtually killed all hopes of a truce urged by United Nations members pending settlement of the Palestine problem.

In a clandestine radio broadcast yesterday, Irgun Zvai Leumi and the so-called Stern Gang called for "a decisive battle" to halt their campaign of violence until British forces withdraw from Palestine, the arrests of Jews in Palestine, and deporting Jews in European countries and respect the rights of Jewish citizens in their homeland.

The announcer asserted that Britain had shown her "willingness to keep a truce" by deporting the Cyprus internees and the uncertified Jewish immigrants intercepted at sea, and by the British sentence cut aboard the 1,200-ton vessel Trade Winds after a 12-day voyage from Haifa.

"Britain's violence is only answerable with violence on our part," the broadcast added.

Haifa, port from which the Trade Winds' passengers were deported, was thrown into tumult this afternoon last night by two heavy explosions on the outskirts of the city, followed by the glow of flames half way up the slopes of Mt. Carmel.

It was thought at first that the blasts marked a new outbreak of underground violence, but British authorities later announced a fire at the R.C.A.F. station was the result of a freak accident which resulted when a military party blew up a minefield, detonating two mines and starting two fires. There were no casualties.

NEW GEAR, SHIFT

Milan, May 19 — (Reuters) — A Milan engineer, Adolf Alessandro Cilmer, claimed to have invented a new type of gear shift which does away entirely with the clutch and differential and. he says, will make obsolete all previous automobile engineering. The invention is said to be based on completely new principles and has nothing in common with hydraulically operated "automatic gear shifts."

CREW MEMBERS BURNED.

Texas City, Tex., May 19—(AP) —Fire of undetermined origin aboard the gasoline-laden tanker Grand Canyon was extinguished yesterday after it had virtually damaged the tanker, a tug and a dock. Two crew members were burned seriously. Police said that the fire broke out on the 11,000-ton tanker as she was preparing to sail from the Pan American Refinery Company dock, one mile southwest of the Monsanto Chemical Co. plant, scene of the April 16 explosion which took more than 600 lives.

COMMUNISTS PUT CHANGCHUN UNDER SIEGE

Hwaiteh's Fall Expose The Capital City To Direct Attack, Martial Law Imposed

By SPENCER MOOSA

Nanking, May 19 (AP)— A Chinese Communist column moved to a point only seven miles south of Changchun today for the first time in Manchuria capital virtually under a state of siege, Nationalist dispatches reported.

The Red Army unit pushed to the city's suburbs after taking Hwaiteh, 25 miles of Changchun. The fall of Hwaiteh exposed the capital city to direct attack. Changchun was under martial law.

China had another problem on its hands. Striking students here and in Shanghai disregarded government orders against parades and public demonstrations. More than 24 hours after the demonstration ban was imposed by state council, 6,000 students from seven universities paraded in the main streets of Shanghai demanding a "new deal" in education.

In Peiping four students of National Peking University were beaten by soldiers of the youth army during student anti-civil war speeches.

Meanwhile, Nationalist dispatches told of Communist attacks on the rail centre of Kungchuling, 30 miles southwest of Changchun, with the evident intention of blockading National reinforcements from Mukden.

COMPROMISE FOR SETTLING STRIKE BEFORE WORKERS

Generally Expected Miners Will Accept $1 a Day Increase From Ibstock

By JOHN TEACY

Glace Bay, N.S., May 19 (CP)— A compromise formula for settling the Maritime coal strike went before a meeting of United Mine Workers (C.C.L.) District 26 Board today amid general expectation it would be accepted and recommended for ratification by membership of 13,000.

It accepted by the 11-man Board the formula, as part of a tentative agreement reached at two days of meetings in Montreal last week by negotiating committees between Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, a subsidiary of union heads, would be placed before the membership in a referendum for acceptance or rejection.

Should the rank and file vote in favor of it, the three-months-old strike would be ended.

Chief provision of the Montreal agreement is a wage increase of $1 a day for the 13,000 miners in the men return to work until Jan. 31 when the contract expires.

The agreement represents a compromise on the part of both company and union.

Opposite Government Plan

At the outset of negotiations late last year the Union presented a schedule headed by demands for a $2.50 increase over basic rates of $5.64 a day plus a 15 per cent bonus for production workers.

Later these were scaled down to "minimum non-negotiable demands" of $1.40 increase, a contributory pension scheme and a Miners' Welfare Fund.

The original installations broke down when the Union rejected a company offer of $1 a day, conditional upon restoring pre-war production rates.

About a month ago the company announced its agreement with a pre-Labor Relations Board agreement formula providing the $1.40 increase by addition of 15 cents to the differential $1 an extra 40 cents from a higher coal price. This had been rejected by the Union on the eve of the strike.

The Montreal session of the Montreal formula is the exact opposite of the government plan. In the proposals under study today the $1 payment has "no strings attached" while the 40 cents is conditional.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent in equipping the camp. An airfield was built and giant telescopes and other equipment were flown in from the United States for the Aluminum Limited minute celestial blackout.

The first phase of the eclipse when the moon begins to cover the sun, will start at 6:22 a.m. local time Tuesday. Totality will begin at 9:34 and will end at 9:38. The final phase, with the moon moving away from the sun, will end at 11:06.

The path of the total eclipse extends from Antigao, Chile, southeastward across South America to Salvador, Brazil, and on across the South Atlantic into West Africa.

Twelve to Die, For Ritual Murder Of Native Girl

Johannesburg, May 19 (AP).— Twelve members of an African tribe, including two women, Saturday were sentenced to death at Maseru in Basutoland territory, for the ritual murder of a 9-year-old native girl.

Evidence was given that a local tribal chieftain, Ralitsi, said that he was about to be deposed by the government of South Africa, engaged a witch doctor to prepare medicine of human flesh which, he said, would make the flesh safeguard his position.

The chieftain's two accused of selling the girl, carving lumps of flesh from her body while she was still alive and then killing the girl. Ralitsi received no medicine, a story which lies 230 miles southeast of Johannesburg on the Indian Ocean port of Durban.

The case was the third instance of ritual murder brought before African courts in recent years. Three Bushmen were hanged at Accra, Gold Coast, in March for killing a native chief so that his blood could be spilled over the sacred throne of a higher official upon restoring pre-war production rates.

HOPE REKINDLED MISSING PLANE MAY BE FOUND

Telegraph Operators Hear "Weak, Garbled" Messages From Interior of B. C.

Vancouver, May 19 (CP)— Mysterious messages, with a faint voice calling "hello, hello," interspersed with the letters TCA, revived hope here in the 26 day old mystery shrouding the fate of missing Trans-Canada airliner world soon be solved.

It was reported in the R.C.A.F. station that messages have been heard Saturday night and Sunday night from the area between Lillooet and Ashcroft, B.C., 130 miles northeast of here.

The plane vanished without a trace from Sea Island airport April 25, carrying 12 passengers and a crew of three.

The apparent clear reception of the messages, but there was no response, "TCA" being some reference to TCA.

Chief provision of the Montreal agreement is a wage increase of $1 a day for the 13,000 miners in the men return to work until Jan. 31 when the contract expires.

The agreement represents a compromise on the part of both company and union.

Desolate Spot Takes on Momentary Importance for Eclipse of the Sun

By HENRY HOGG,

Rio De Janeiro, May 19—(Reuters) — For three minutes and 48 seconds Tuesday morning a stretch of Brazilian soil hitherto one of the most desolate spots on earth will be, for scientists, the world's most important place.

The strip of high plateau at Lunde 17 degrees 12 minutes south and longitude 43 degrees 41 west will be the centre of attention for observing the total eclipse of the sun.

Today it was the scene of great activity as scientists from 20 countries prepared to observe the eclipse. The most elaborate observations and recordings will be made by the American group, sponsored by the National Geographical Society and the United States Army Air Forces.

The group chose for its camp sit a lonely strip of land on the state of Minas Geraes. 14 miles southwest of the small town of Araxa and 400 miles north of Rio De Janeiro, lying almost in the middle of the 2,000 mile wide path of total eclipse.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent in equipping the camp. An airfield was built and giant telescopes and other equipment were flown in from the United States for the Aluminum Limited minute celestial blackout.

Germ Warfare May Take Prominent Part as Weapon in Future Wars

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE

New York, May 19 (AP)— A 40,000-word explanation of bacteriological warfare, with all the "secrets" of germ warfare, work of the Second World War, was released today with United States government permission.

Thirty - three diseases are listed as possible war weapons, some of them in concentrations that could be used to attack a single military objective or even enemy cities and armies.

Cities, war production areas and islands might be neutralized for military purposes for a time, while periods of time by some of the diseases, with this prospectus of future wars.

But the study points out it will be difficult to achieve military uses of these diseases. The air, with planes scattering them, is concentrating them in mists, smokes and dusts is considered the best way to use them, it says, however, much scientific work will have been done to find ways to do sufficiently massive "seeding" of diseases to make bacterial war worth while.

Dr. Maurice Visscher, president of the American Association of Scientific Workers, said in Chicago that "because of its geographical position the United States and presumably Canada would be at a disadvantage in bacterial warfare.

In case of attack on the United States by a European enemy, Dr. Visscher said, the attacking country's own people would be safe from the bacteria used and American precautions in kind would be difficult, because "if we started retribution there would be immediate use of bacteriately weapons would involve us in the same attack as the enemy country itself."

The diseases listed as having war possibilities include rabbit fever, not the common form but a pneumonia type that is transmitted by air; the pneumonic, or lung form, of the plague; bubonic plague, a rare disease known as melioidosis, that resembles glanders; the highly fatal, common colds and maybe malaria.

MRS. DICK LOSES APPEAL AGAINST LIFE SENTENCE

Chief Justice Says Woman "Has Chosen an Evil Mode of Life"

Toronto, May 19 (CP)—Ontario Court of Appeal today dismissed the appeal of Mrs. Evelyn Dick against her life sentence imposed last March 28 for manslaughter of her infant son.

Chief Justice Robert S. Robertson said Mrs. Dick, convicted of three illegitimate children, "has chosen an evil mode of life and her mental infirmities add to the danger of her being at large."

He said the appellant "hasn't the normal dislikes of gruesome things."

Not Without Loss

The baby was found by police March 22 in Mrs. Dick's Bellevue home and was encased in cement, wrapped in a paper bag, placed in a suitcase and hooked by a shirt bearing Mrs. Dick's maiden name, Evelyn MacLean.

Chief Justice Robertson agreed with the Crown that the way in which Mrs. Dick disposed of the child was of a callous nature."

He said the appellant "showed definite lack of maternal instinct" and was not without hope.

"This rests with herself. If her conduct in the place where she is confined shows that she has chosen a different path, that she is a different person and could conduct herself as would be becoming, the case may be reopened. Everyone does not always choose a life sentence."

Not One of Profit

In presenting Mrs. Dick's appeal, Defence Counsel John J. Robinette said "her crime was not one for profit or gain."

He referred to the sentences of three Toronto youths convicted of manslaughter in the death of Frank Peters, storekeeper.

"Their sentences were 10, 12 and 20 years. Yet Dick went into Tobias' store and in cold blood shot down a man with robbery as the motive."

Mrs. Dick's illegitimate child was unwanted by all except herself. The father of two illegitimate babies, did not come forward to assist and subsequently, she was murdered. She was placed in a difficult position due, in part, to the fault of others, he said.

Said Mr. Robinette: "If this had happened in any other part of the country, I am of the opinion that the sentence would have been more than two or three years. Or it could have been suspended sentence.

Mayor Follwell to Act As Chairman of One Of Conference Sessions

Mayor Frank Follwell will act as chairman of one of the conference sessions at the annual conference of the Ontario mayors and reeves to be held at the Chateau Laurier, in Ottawa, June 5, 6 and 7. Matters relating to the sound development of municipalities will be discussed with special papers on the subject to be submitted to the conference.

The conference will be under the chairmanship of its president, Mayor J. Emile Brunette of Timmins, while Mayor Stanley Lewis of Ottawa will be the host of the delegates and guests attending the meeting. Guest speakers at the conference will be the Honorable Douglas Abbott, K.C., Minister of Finance; the Honorable George C. Dunbar, Minister of Municipal Affairs, and other prominent representatives of the federal and provincial governments.

Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs Attend Services.

Members of two city service clubs attended church in a body on Sunday. In the morning the Rotary Club attended Christ Church. The service was conducted by the rector, Rural Dean Arthur Grant Sparling, who also delivered the sermon. Hymn tunes were read by Notarians Newton Thompson and Alec Nathan. The Rev. Sherrett Read read the State Prayers. The choir, under the direction of the organist, Dr. Cooley on Black, sang "Come Ye Servants of the Lord."

At St. Thomas' Church the members of the Kiwanis Club attended the evening service, which was conducted by the rector, Kiwanian Canon Gerald Smith, who also delivered the sermon. The Rev. J. E. Hagan, rector of Marmora, assisted in the service. The choir under the direction of Mr. Ernest Wheatley, sang the anthem, "Fight the Good Fight."

There was a large attendance of service men at both services.

NOT ON PROGRAM

Kitchener, May 19 — (CP) — Circus patrons here last night saw some action not included in the official program. A lioness almost attacked wild animal trainer Prof. George Kellar during his act. He escaped with a large gash in his right arm and a torn uniform. The lioness grabbed his arm from behind while Prof. Kellar was putting a leopard through a tight-rope walking act.

CONTINUE OBSERVANCE

Strathmore, Alta., May 19 — (CP) — A decision to continue observance of daylight saving time in Strathmore during the summer months was reached Saturday night at a special meeting of the town council.

While students followed the counting of a plebiscite vote taken during the week which showed a majority in favor of "fast time."

While the plebiscite was being taken, school students protested against the school remaining on Standard Time and walked off the school grounds.

J.A. McAnnich Retires From Duty As Engineer

Well-known Canadian National Railways engineer, Mr. J. A. McAnnich, 340 1-2 Front Street, has retired from active duty after 44 years of service.

For the past nine years he has been a familiar figure at the throttles of certain passenger train engines running between Belleville and Toronto. He retired from the service of the former Grand Trunk Railway as a fireman in 1903, and started his railway career at Niagara Falls, Ont.

A natural aptitude for things pertaining to the railway soon asserted itself. Promotion came rapidly for McAnnich and three years after he entered the service he was elevated to the position of engineer, one that he has held since.

But his roots were deep in Niagara Falls, and the retired engineer is returning with his family to reside in that city where he spent so many years of his life. He has made many friends while there and for a number of years he was a member of the Niagara Falls City Council.

Now with a well-deserved retirement ahead of him, he will devote the most of his time, in summer at least, to his favorite hobbies of hunting, boating and fishing.

His friends in the city, railroad and otherwise, snark the severing of years of happy association with regret.

Former P.E. Boy Given Important Post in Alta.

Former Prince Edward county boy and resident of the Canadian West since 1921, G. E. DeLong, brother of Mrs. Ernest Ward, Stirling, has been appointed superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station at Lacombe, Alberta. He had been on the staff at the experimental station since 1921.

Born in Prince Edward county in 1890, Mr. DeLong operated the home farm before he entered the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph from where he graduated in 1913, with the degree of B.S.A.

Following his graduation he was employed with the Ontario Department of Agriculture and short course work and in the spring of 1914 went to Alberta to fill a position as instructor at the University of Alberta. In 1920 he registered for lectures at the University and spent part of the year as registered assistant. In the crop experimental work at the University of Alberta the following year he joined the Lacombe experimental farm as assistant superintendent.

During the war he supervised the seeding of 36 RCAF aerodromes and depots in the West, including 13 units along the Alaska Highway and 23 units on the Alaska Highway.

Mr. DeLong is a nephew of Mrs. Jack Hatliff, and Mrs. Willet Black, of Hatliff's Island, Prince Edward county.

Boy Who Helped Firemen Absolved Of Blame in Fire

Toronto, May 19 —(CP)— A 15-year-old boy who helped firemen carry hose lines into the blazing Queen Alexandra School early Saturday was absolved by police today of blame for setting the three-day blaze which indirectly caused the death of three persons in a collision between two fire trucks on the Queen Elizabeth Highway.

Meanwhile police were seeking another "teen-aged youth and a dark-complexioned man, one between 30 and 35 years old after discovering evidence indicating the school had been broken into before the fire broke out.

The boy, who reported to have appeared at the school cafeteria Saturday morning to volunteer some table silver which had been missing, told police he overheard said the man handed him the silver, replaced it under his name and quickly disappeared.

Police said they were satisfied that the youth, who helped firemen fight the blaze had met them outside the school and had nothing to do with its outbreak.

The fire, which broke into the principal's office to telephone for police and firemen and was later ordered out of the building by a district fire chief.

Th the youth, who died will be given full departmental honors at a funeral service tomorrow in St. David's Anglican Church. They are Joseph Walker 24-year-old ex-RCAF veteran, Charles Leslie, Jr., who served in Britain, France, Belgium and Holland with the army and Michael Kozlick, a member of the fire department since 1920.

Fireman Albert Creighton, is still in critical condition in hospital. Also in hospital are Capt. Jesse Stroud, suffering shock and cuts on his hands and face, Capt. Alex Johnston, who received head and chest injuries and cuts and bruises, and Ralph Brunton, driver of one of the trucks, who has cuts, bruises and chest injuries. John Morrison, driver of the truck, is scheduled to return to his job today.

Victims of Food Poisoning Better

Easthampton, Mass., May 19 — (AP)— Tomato juice was blamed by a physician today for the latest outing of 64 persons at a wedding reception Saturday night.

Hospitals discharged 52 of the victims yesterday, while a dozen were held for further treatment. All were reported out of danger and recovering.

Dr. J. A. Cherskin, who treated the victims, said he believed at first that liquor was the cause of the poisoning, but that he later concluded that it was the tomato juice.

Easthampton police said complete laboratory tests on food samples seized at the dinner would be finished today.

BROCKVILLE DOG WINS

Guelph, May 19 — (CP)—Best of breed winner at the second Guelph Kennel Club dog show Saturday was Kilmet of Cardania, Cairn, owned by Mrs. E. B. Leslop of Brockville, Ont.

The show drew 300 entries from Eastern Canada and the United States.

Greek Woman's Letter of Thanks Tells of Hardships in Her Land

With the appeal for funds for Greek Relief now under way, the following letter from Salonika, Greece, to Mrs. Gallinger, Bridge Street, Wellington, should be very timely. It is a letter of appreciation from a young Greek woman for a post parcel which Mrs. Gallinger sent some time ago. It follows, in part:

"I can't express my feelings in words for the generous action to help the poor families of Greece ... especially children, about the occupation of our country by the Germans, Italians and Bulgarian armies. They brought the greatest unhappiness in the history. Still now the Greek families lost everything they had and my family is one of them. ... To sit and write to you what we have suffered from the enemies would take pages and pages. ... For two months we were out in the fields without clothes, without bread, and the worst part of all was the sickness. ... But my mother will pass away before we are happy again. ... It is the worst thing to be out in the streets without clothes. ... Two winters have passed, two terrible winters, without any clothes, I was not used to such a life and I pray to the great God for something for my family. ..."

The letter is signed Miss Angeliki Loteriadou, Salonika, Greece.

The Belleville campaign opened here Friday and all contributions will be received at the Ontario Intelligencer or at the offices of chartered banks in the city. The goal is $1,000 and every contribution large or small will be gratefully appreciated. Official receipts will be issued at all points of deposit.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM A. SANDERSON (Marmora)

Marmora, May 19 (Special)— in the death of William Albert Sanderson, at Belleville General Hospital early Friday morning last, the village of Marmora has lost one of its outstanding citizens and a resident of long standing. He had the distinction of being in business in the village longer than any others of the present time. He came to Marmora from Peterborough in 1902 to open a harness making establishment and later to operate a taxi, trucking, freight and express delivery business.

His deep interest in the affairs of his adopted village was not eclipsed by any native son and he held various municipal, church and fraternal offices throughout the years. Failing health necessitated his removal to Belleville General Hospital about three weeks ago, at which time the end was not unexpected. Born In Omemee

W. Sanderson was born in Omemee on April 20th., 1871, and was the son of the late William Albert Sanderson and his wife the late Mary Magee. Before coming to Marmora he spent some years in Detroit, Mich., and later in Peterborough where he was employed by a chemical company as supervisor of installing equipment. He was married in Peterborough in a harness making establishment, the property held by his moving to Marmora. At that time, St. Andrew's Presbyterian church was functioning, and until that congregation joined with that of the Marmora Methodist (shortly before the forming of the United Church) he was an elder and choirster of that place of worship. With the union, he faithfully served the new St. Andrew's as steward, member of session, elder and choirster. Possessing a good bass voice, he was also a member of the male quartet of Marmora Male Voice Quartet. Fraternally he was a member of Marmora A.F. and A.M. No. 222 occupying the Master's chair in 1908 and 1917. He served as a member of Marmora Village Council and Marmora Public School Board and was also a director of Marmora Agricultural Society for some years. He was a resident worker for the Conservative cause. He was a member of Otter Creek Hunt Club and went deer hunting for over thirty seasons.

Mr. Sanderson was a member of the Bowling Club sponsored by the Marmora Athletic Association. In these various associations, he made and retained many friends, who will regret his untimely passing.

He was married to Catherine Irene Glennan, who predeceased him on August 3rd, 1942. Two children, Florence and McKenzie passed away when quite young. Surviving him are two sons and one daughter—Douglald, Marmora; and Magee and Doris, Toronto. He is also survived by two brothers, Albert Cameron (Martha) Mt. Vernon, Washington, D.C., and Mrs. P.A. Switzer (Bella) Pembroke. Ont.

Funeral service at Marmora A. F. and A.M. 222 the funeral will be held on Monday, Service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at 2 p.m. was conducted by the pastor, Rev. R.J. Grogan. Interment took place in Marmora Protestant Cemetery.

LATE MRS. MARIE YERSAK

Frankford, May 19 (Special)— The funeral of Mrs. Marie Yersak was held from the Rowe Funeral Home, Frankford, on Wednesday afternoon, May 14th. The service was conducted by Rev. Mitchell and was conducted by the Rev. H.H. Lackey.

The bearers were George Spencer, Jerry Plevak, George Patrick, George Chard, Ernest Sharpe and Valcar Stack.

LATE JAMES JOSEPH SCOTT

The funeral of James Joseph Scott was held from his late residence, 43 Victoria Street, on Saturday morning to St. Michael's Church where Requiem Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father C. F. Carley.

Interment took place at St. James' Cemetery and the committal prayers were said by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Nicholson, V. G. The bearers were members of the Army and Navy Veterans No. 201 and were as follows: Frank Sills, Fred Coon, Richard Cornell, Harry Baker, Jamie Clarke and Bert Sabourin.

The last rites of the Army and Navy Veterans were conducted by Comrade James Lazenby.

Marmora
Mrs. C. Phillips, Deloro, Marks 87th Birthday

Marmora, (Special.)—With the rest of a woman many years her junior, Mrs. Charles Phillips of Deloro, celebrated her 87th birthday on Thursday, at a party given in her honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson in Marmora Township. This party has become an annual affair for her lady friends and neighbors to celebrate the occasion with them. The guest list included a double affair, since bad weather interfered with a party given for her daughter, Mrs. Hector Boudreau whose birthday came at the end of March and beautiful presents were showered upon each. All enjoyed the tea served before the party broke up. Mrs. Phillips who has been a widow for some years is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Foster and was born at Nanthead, Cumberland, England. She has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Boudreau since her husband's death. He has another daughter, Mrs. John Robertson, of Niagara Falls, N.Y. Mr. William Archer of Grafton is a brother.

Junior Farmers Meet

The Madoc Junior Farmers held their regular monthly meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hill, with a large number of members and several Junior Farmer members present. The meeting was called to order by the evening were: Lorne Irvin on Hybrid Corn, Tom Moorcroft on Weed Control and Fred Rollins on Control of Starlings. The feature of the evening was a talk on Home Beautification illustrated by a set of slides by Miss Elsie M. Irvine, Home Economist.

During the business part of the meeting it was decided to hold a banquet and dance in the near future. The Committee members are Albert Fox, Lorne Hill and Ross Hill.

It was decided to hold the Field Day meeting on June 10th in Hazzard's Hall.

Hungerford Group

The May meeting of the Hungerford Junior Farmers was held at the home of Russell Green on Tuesday. The President, Carl Bateman, was in the chair, with sixteen members present. Considerable discussion of the Field Day was held.

It was decided to run a chain of dances and to hold them in the pavilion during the summer. Plans were also made for a ball team to be entered in the league of the annual Hastings County Junior Farmer Field Day. A talk was given on Weed Control by Harry Martin. It was mentioned the Common Barberry and the European Buckthorn and how they act as an intermediate host for the fungi causing rust on grain. Keith Harrison gave a very interesting talk on Orchard Practice. He discusses the planting of trees and preparation of the land, pruning and grafting. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Wm. Eaton served refreshments to the Junior Farmers.

IN MEMORIAM

KIRBY—In loving memory of Edward Kirkey, who lost his life to-day, May 17, 1945.
Beautiful memories are all we have left.
Of you who we loved dearly and shall never forget.
A broken link we can never replace.
And the heart that was true has ceased to beat.
So sadden on earth the sorrow fell
Memories we treasure no time shall dwell.
Death divided but memory clings.

2nd Thurlow Reception Held For Married Sons And Their Wives

2nd Thurlow.—More than sixty friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Whalen on Friday night in honor of their recently married sons, Ambrose and Donald, and their brides; when they were feted with a miscellaneous shower. On behalf of the community, Mrs. Douglas Atkins read an appropriate address. After the unwrapping of the many useful and lovely gifts the recipients replied, expressing their appreciation and inviting all to visit them, in their home. Lunch was enjoyed during the evening and refreshments were served.

STAY WITH US, MAY

Stay with us, May, Oh! do not haste away,
For you we've longed through the wintry day;
Now you have brought the foliage to the trees,
The wild-wood flowers, the soft perfumed breeze;
And meadow-grass is springing fresh and green
Where'er the sprose of your foot is seen;
And all around call the oriole returns
And as deep joy for which the spirit yearns,
For you have shown that the winter storm
Was waiting for-the Springtime's form.
I am glad that you are here
In the heart where hope and faith dwell
And every earthly dream and been denied,
Now hope and spirit, too, may find the Spring
And join the earth in May-time carolling.

VICTIM OF COURTROOM SHOOTING

Fatally wounded in a shooting affray in the Washington, D.C., municipal court, Fay Dennebrink, clerk to George O. Daniels, secretary to the District Bar Association Committee of Grievance, is carried from the court on the way to hospital. He died before arrival. Two other persons were wounded and a policeman killed in the shooting. The gun wielder, said to be a Negro, was himself wounded by police bullets and is in a Washington hospital. The man was identified as Dan Williams, a disgruntled bar applicant.

Foreign Observers Believe Frantic Priority Being Given Atomic Development in Russia

What is Russia's status in respect to the atom bomb? Mostly one is the only place you'll never find out, and here a month-long visitor tells you why.

By ROSS MUNRO
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 17 — (CP)—Most carefully guarded of all Soviet Union secrets is atomic development.

Most foreign observers in Moscow believe frantic priority is being given to this field by the Russians, and that the man in charge of the work is probably Laurenti Beria, 48, members of the Politburo and actual head of the N. K. V. D., the Soviet Secret Police.

No one seems to have any clue as to what atomic progress has been made, but most foreigners in the Soviet capital have come to the conclusion that Russian espionage in Canada failed to produce anything worthwhile on Canadian atomic secrets.

"If they had dug up useful information they would have taken the pill of the spy trials and said nothing about it," one European diplomat told me.

Some responsible foreigners in Moscow believe Beria's probable connection with atomic work suggests forced labor may be employed on atomic projects under N.K. V.D. control. Like so many other things in Russia, it is impossible to get any solid information.

Beria Is Russian

Beria is a bald, stern-faced, bespectacled Russian leader, among the few in the running to succeed Premier Stalin. For the last two years he has been doing special trouble-shooting jobs for Stalin in Germany and in Russia.

He has exceptional organizing and administrative abilities and while he is no scientist, it would not be surprising if he was running the atomic work.

He has a long, grim record as a police chief and from 1922 to 1931 carried out the task of liquidating anti-Soviet parties in the Caucasus. In 1937-38, he carried out purges in Georgia, which were about as severe as in Russia proper. In 1941 he became head of the Ministry of Internal Affairs, with the N.K.V.D. under it.

Although some of his N.K.V.D. power has been delegated he still is the real boss.

During the war he commanded some N.K.V.D. military units and was a member of the Supreme War Council with the rank of marshal.

EFFORT TO SETTLE STRIKE

Kingston, May 19 (CP)—Carpenters' Union representatives are scheduled to meet the Kingston Building Contractors Association today in an effort to settle the strike involving 325 Union Carpenters here. Carpenters have asked for a 20-cents-an-hour raise to their basic wage of $1.05 per hour. An offer of a 10-cents-an-hour raise from the contractors was rejected.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM HENRY RICHARDSON
(Tweed)

Tweed, May 19 — (Special) — William Henry Richardson of this village died in Belleville General Hospital on Saturday last after a brief illness.

Born in Cartwright township, the late Mr. Richardson was in his 84th year and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richardson. For many years he was engaged in the hardware business in Madoc and Marmora and was a partner of the late T. S. Kath in the early days of the Tweed Hardware Company. For the past forty years he resided in Tweed and for the past several years he was superintendent of the Tweed waterworks system. He was a member of the Tweed United Church and fraternally he was a member of the Madoc Lodge of Oddfellows, possessing the 25 year jewel. He joined the Order in 1886.

Surviving him are his wife, the former Rosetta Alice Morton; two daughters, Mrs. J. D. (Lois) Coombe, Toronto, and Mrs. Henry (Jean) Lawrence, Carlisle; one brother Thomas Richardson, View Lake; one step-brother, Mrs. W. Bannerman, Toronto, and one step brother, Howard Glenney, Newcastle.

The funeral took place from the Rush Funeral Home Tweed, Monday afternoon; the service was conducted by the Rev. A. L. Stace of Tweed United Church. Interment took place in Thomasburg Cemetery.

Traffic Accidents Claim 13 Deaths During Weekend

(By The Canadian Press)

Thirteen violent deaths in Ontario and one in Montreal were recorded in Canadian Press reports in the weekend fatalities toll. Traffic accidents claimed 13 of the victims and the 14th was struck by a radial car.

Two deaths resulted from Saturday's early-morning collision between two speeding fire engines in Toronto, when fireman Joseph Walker, 24, of Cardinal Leslie, 26, were killed and fireman Melville Kerfoot, 24, died of injuries a few hours later.

Saturday saw another fatal collision in the Toronto area when Herbert Williams, 39, was reported to have driven a car which collided with a transway work car, dying shortly in the hospital. Robert Hollingshead, 13, was fatally injured when a bicycle he pedalled with a car in neighboring Etobicoke township.

At Welland early Saturday two 18-year-old high school students, Ray McGuire and Ross Dawson, were killed when their car overturned on the way home from a school dance.

A head-on collision in London late Saturday between a car and truck cost the lives of Pte. R. W. Kennedy and his companion, Pte. R. W. Schnitter, 38, of Waterloo.

George Laughlin, 22, was run over Sunday by a radial car at Brantford, and Ernest Rainey, 27, also died at Brantford of injuries received Saturday when his bicycle collided with a car.

A 16-year-old Belleville girl, Shirley MacGuire died in hospital Sunday, 14 hours after a motorcycle on which she was a passenger crashed into a tree at nearby Foxboro.

Two persons, Gerald Edmund, 22, of Larder Lake, died Sunday from injuries received in a traffic crash which had already claimed one victim.

Seventy-year-old Nicholle La-Chapelle of St. Genevieve was Montreal's first dying in hospital Sunday from injuries received when struck by a truck as she alighted from a bus.

MRS. DICK LOSES

Speaks of Trial Judge.

"With respect to the trial judge, Justice A. M. LeBel, I believe he was influenced by the suspicious circumstances surrounding the murder of John Dick, Evelyn's husband" whose torso with head and arms hacked off was discovered by school children on Hamilton mountainside, March 16, 1946.

He said Mrs. Dick had no prior criminal record.

"In traffic manslaughter cases, the sentence is usually no more than two or three years. I think it is more severe for a drunken driver to kill someone than it is for the mother of an illegitimate child to do away with the child if, for one believe it is less blameworthy to kill a child than an adult."

Presiding over the appeal court were Chief Justice R. S. Robertson, Mr. Justice F. D. Hogg and Mr. Justice J. B. Aylesworth.

Following Mr. Robinette's presentation of the grounds on which he was appealing, Chief Justice Robertson continued: "We have unanimously one minute with each of the other two justices, then announced that the court felt it should not interfere with the sentence" imposed by the trial judge.

CBC Requires Further Revenue Says Chairman

Ottawa, May 19 (CP)—A. D. Dunton, Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, told the Commons Committee on radio broadcasting today that the CBC "must have further revenue if its service is not to be seriously impaired."

"Prices and costs of just about everything have gone up in Canada," said Mr. Dunton. "This is reflected in an acute form in the costs of the corporation. But the corporation's main selling price—the licence fee—has remained the same.

"The overall result is that the CBC is caught between the anvil of limited revenues and the hammer of increasing costs. At the same time, it is prodded to maintain and improve and extend its services."

He expressed the ' hope that parliament would act this year on the corporation's request that it be given full revenue from the $2.50 annual licence fee. The corporation now pays a collection and administration costs and received only an average of $2.25 per licence.

"Stringent economies were necessitated in the management of the corporation," said Mr. Dunton. "Since so many costs are fixed much of the reduction had to be borne by allocations for program costs—performers fees. The result was a substantial reduction in the standard of programming below what would have been possible without the cuts."

The corporation felt that it would not be in the public interest to accept more commercial revenue than to consider additional revenues.

He said the committee had recommended last year that the corporation consider establishment of a second French network to provide alternative network programs to the French-speaking audience as is provided by the two-English-speaking networks.

"This question has been studied. The chief obstacle found at that is cost," said Mr. Dunton. "The financial position of the corporation does not permit of undertaking the expenditures that would be entailed, according to the studies."

World Dollar Crisis Forecast

London, May 19 (Reuters) — Reports from Canada that the blackest possible picture of an approaching dollar crisis for the whole world has been painted in Ottawa during the last few days by officials of the British Treasury, are not denied by officials in London. Though the Ottawa talks were confidential there is no reason to believe that the reports are true.

The British officials would have given the Canadians a very frank picture as they saw it, and the situation, as seen by both official and unofficial circles here, unquestionably forecasts a dollar crisis, not merely for Britain but for the world.

Some British officials believe that the world simply has not enough gold to square its accounts with the United States.

Unofficial opinion is typified by the bald statement in the Economist, that a first-class dollar crisis before next year is "absolutely certain"—on which a London weekly bases that, as things are doing, the "next year" begins to look optimistic! And by the statement of Oxford University's Institute of Statistics that "a world dollar shortage is the only effective means of preventing the world from importing too many goods from the United States."

So far this year, the world, for lack of other means of paying for the balance of imports from the United States, has had to send gold to the United States at the fastest rate on record, excepting only 1939 and 1940, when payments for war supplies coincided with a flight of capital to the United States.

In the first quarter of 1947 alone, the United States took in more gold than American officials had expected for the whole year.

Britain's recent drawings on her dollar loan have been heavy. That American loan, of $3,750,-000,000, was supposed to last for more than three years. In the second half of the first year, Britain drew only $650,000,000 of it. By May 12 of this year, less than four and one-half months later, Britain had to draw another $1,150,-000,000 at the rate of drawings accelerated rapidly in the latest weeks.

THREE PERSONS SHOT

Chicago, May 19 — (AP) — Three persons were shot and killed tonight in what police said was an attempted robbery of a west side apartment. Two of the victims were identified by police as Benjamin Eisenstein, personal bailiff to Municipal Judge Edwin A. Caplan, and Albert Fineberg, in whose home the shooting occurred. Police said the third was an unidentified robber.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, May 19 (AP) — Stock market leaders dived today to lows for the last year or longer after an early feeble attempt to get met with scant response.

Dealings active at the opening, tapered as comeback tendencies appeared. Scattered modest advances remained near the fourth hour but losses of 1 point to 3 or more were widespread.

Schenley was a resistant spot, along with Lockheed, Bethlehem, Deere, Kennecott, Chrysler and International Nickel.

Distillers Seagram lost 3-8 among fixed dividend issues at new lows. Hiram Walker added 1-8 while McIntyre eased 1-4. Canadian Pacific and Dome both were unchanged.

In the curb Lake Shore and Giant Yellowknife each eased 1-8.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, May 19. (CP)—Cattle prices were strong to 25 cents cwt higher in spots in active trade on the livestock Market here up to mid-session today. Veal calves, hogs and sheep were steady. A few Spring lambs brought $20-$22 cwt. Receipts: Cattle 3,200, calves 600, hogs 630, sheep and lambs 60.

Hogs were dressed, Grade A $22, Grade B1 $21.60. Sows unsettled.

Sheep ranged $6-$10.50.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, May 19 —(CP)— Industrials dropped sharply in the early session when losses of more than a point dotted the board. Papers were the big losers but liquors, utilities, golds and metals were also behind in the more active groups and financials, construction and rails in the quieter field were down for a majority of losses. Mining issues joined the general decline but Western oils held in an irregular pattern.

Volume for the first three hours was 810,000 shares.

In the mining issues Base Metals Corp. was a feature on about 600,000 shares, turning to gain four cents. A handful of other issues posted gains including Dome, Lake Shore, Lamaque, Negus, Pioneer, Sullivan.

HOGS

Toronto, May 19 (CP)—Grade A dressed bacon hogs were unchanged at Stratford to farmers $21.60 basis, $21.85 delivered, in market reporting early today.

INTERRUPTING

Police said the gang was well organized, each member acting on other by numbers. They were identified as the ones worn in the Royal Bank of Canada branch by bandits who left there with the estimated $250,000. Some had long white coveralls, three worn by motor mechanics. They also carried sledgehammers and stolen police directing bars, which police think may have been carried in the bandits' getaway boxes, as in the Toronto robbery.

Another reason why police believed it to be the same gang was the remarks made by the men tied up by Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy. He talked of the Toronto robbery and derided police efforts.

Said one, laughing: "I bet you it was a million dollars."

All Were Masked.

All were gloves and black cloth masks on their faces. The face covering was the only difference from the Toronto robbery. There the thugs wore hoods cut from sweaters. Some of the five referred to his accomplices as Number One, etc., in shouting out directions when they quibbled among themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy were in their bedroom when they were alerted with drawn guns. They were told if they made any sound they would be shot. Mrs. Kennedy then was backed up to the bed and her ankles tied with heavy rope and their wrists with adhesive tape. One man stood guard while the others went down to the bank.

With the couple trussed up and the village quiet, the gang was free to carry out the robbery, which police said apparently had been long planned. They had a tarpaulin shield apparently built to fit over the vault.

Squads of Toronto detectives headed by Inspector Hiram Mavor, who is in charge of the hunt for the gang, sped to Grand Valley when word of the attempted robbery was flashed to the city.

Mayor Saunders' car was returned to him undamaged.

Robeson Stays Within Bounds At His Concert

Toronto, May 19 (CP)— Paul Robeson, world-famous Negro singer who has a habit of mingling leftist speeches with his songs, stayed within bounds at his concert in the Coliseum here Saturday night, but he got his points across just the same.

The Toronto Police Commission, fearing trouble among the audience and in the knowledge that a Robeson concert at Peoria, Ill., had been cancelled recently for that same reason, laid down the dictum that the concert would go on, so long as Robeson didn't make any anti-British speech. Police officials and a score of uniformed bobbies were among the crowd of 8,500. Robeson said at the end of the 2 1-2 hour concert: "Toronto has always been a favorite city of mine. It still remains so, and I know I'll be back again to sing and to make speeches. Until that time I shall continue to fight for democracy."

The roars of approval. The singer had left no doubt of his feelings by interspersed comments as he sang, and by his choice of songs.

His second number was a Negro spiritual, "one I like very much," he said — "Scandalize My Name" was the title.

Two songs from the Spanish

"Republican War" followed, then United Nations song in which Robeson heavily emphasized such phrases as "together fight for a new world," "a new day for mankind is dawning," and "our children shall live in freedom." But according to the song, "The House I Live In," which Robeson said was "a good creed for both American and Canadian Democracy."

$1,000 Damage From Flash Fire

Damage of more than $1,000 resulted to the home and household furnishings owned by Mr. and Mrs. Mason Lindsay, 12 Burton Street, when a flash fire starting from a pot of grease on the kitchen stove, swept through the dwelling early Sunday morning.

Firemen quickly responded to the alarm but before the blaze was extinguished the fire had swept through almost every room in the dwelling. Some insurance was carried by the aged couple, but according to firemen the damage to furniture alone will amount to more than the insurance.

VICTIM OF COURTROOM SHOOTING

Fatally wounded in a shooting affray in the Washington, D.C., municipal court, Ray Dewhurst, chief clerk for George Allen, secretary to the District Bar Association Committee of Grievance, is carried from the court as the way to hospital. He died shortly after. Two other persons were wounded and a policeman killed in the shooting. The gun wielder, said to be a Negro, was himself wounded by police bullets and is in a Washington hospital. The man was identified as Dan Williams, a disgruntled bar applicant.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM HENRY RICHARDSON
(Tweed)

Tweed, May 19 (Special) — William Henry Richardson of this village died in Belleville General Hospital on Saturday last after a brief illness.

Born in Cartwright township, the late Mr. Richardson was in his 84th. year and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richardson. For many years he was engaged in the hardware business in Madoc and Marmora and was a partner of the late T. S. Sath in the early days of the Tweed Hardware Company.

For the past forty years he resided in Tweed and for the past several years he was superintendent of the Tweed waterworks system. He was a member of the Tweed United Church and fraternally he was a member of the Madoc Lodge of Oddfellows, possessing the 25 year jewel. He joined the Order in 1895.

Surviving him are his wife, the former Emma Alice Morton; two daughters, Mrs. J. D. (Lois) Coombs, Toronto, and Mrs. Hensley (Jean) Lawrence, Tyrrills; one brother Thomas Richardson, View Lake; one step-sister, Mrs. W. Bannerman, Toronto, and one step brother, Howard Glenney, Newcastle.

The funeral took place from the Bush Funeral Home Tweed, Monday afternoon; the service was conducted by the Rev. A. L. Stace of Tweed United Church. Interment took place in Thomasburg Cemetery.

Foreign Observers Believe Frantic Priority Being Given Atomic Development in Russia

What is Russia's status in respect to the atomic bomb? Has the pill of the spy trials and said nothing About it," one European diplomist told me.

By ROSS MUNRO
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 17 — (CP)—Most carefully guarded of all Soviet Union secrets is atomic development.

Most foreign observers in Moscow believe frantic priority is being given to this field by the Russians and, that the man in charge of the work is probably Laurenti Beria, 48, members of the Politburo and actual head of the N. K. V. D., the Soviet Secret Police.

No one seems to have any clue as to what atomic progress has been made, but most foreigners in the Soviet capital have come to the conclusion that Russian espionage in Canada "failed to produce anything worthwhile on Canadian atomic secrets.

"If they had 'dug up useful information they would have taken the pill of the spy trials and said nothing About it," one European diplomist told me.

Some responsible foreigners in Moscow believe Beria's probable connection with atomic work suggests forced labor may be employed on atomic projects under N.K. V.D. control. Like so many other things in Russia, it is impossible to get any solid information.

Beria Is Russian

Beria is a bald, stern-faced, bespectacled Russian leader, among the few in the running to succeed Premier Stalin. For the last two years he has been doing special trouble-shooting job for Stalin in Germany and in Russia.

He has exceptional organizing and administrative abilities and while he is no scientist, it would not be surprising if he was running the atomic work.

He has a long, grim record as a police chief and from 1922 to 1931 carried out the task of liquidating anti-Soviet parties in the Caucasus. In 1937-38, he carried out purges in Georgia, which were about as severe as in Russy proper. In 1941 he became head of the Ministry of Internal Affairs, with the N.K.V.D. under it.

Although some of his N.K.V.D. power has been delegated he still is the real boss.

During the war he commanded some N.K.V.D. military units and was a member of the Supreme War Council with the rank of marshal.

Traffic Accidents Claim 13 Deaths During Weekend

(By The Canadian Press)

Thirteen violent deaths in Ontario and one in Montreal were recorded in Canada Provinces in the weekend fatalities toll. Traffic accidents claimed 13 of the victims and the 14th was struck by a radial car.

Ontario's toll mainly resulted from Saturday's early-morning collisions, between two speeding fire engines in Toronto, when fireman Joseph Walker, 32, was killed and fireman Melville Kerfoot, 34, died of injuries a few hours later.

Saturday was another fatal collision in the Toronto area when Herbert Williams, 39, was crushed to death when a car which collided with a transway work car, was driven shortly to hospital. Robert Hollingshead, 13, was fatally injured when his bicycle collided with a car in neighboring Etobicoke township.

At Welland early Saturday two 16-year-old high school students of the Canadian Pacific town Dawson, were killed when their car overturned on the highway on a school dance.

A head-on collision in London late Saturday between a car and truck cost the lives of Pte. R. W. Kennedy and his companion, Pte. R. W. Schnitter, 30, of Waterloo.

George Laughlin, 22, was run over Sunday by a radial car at Hamilton and died shortly after. 27, also died at Branford of injuries received Saturday when his bicycle collided with a car.

A 16-year-old Belleville girl, Shirley MacGuire died in hospital Sunday, 14 hours after a motorcycle on which she was riding crashed into a tree at nearby Foxboro.

Two Ontario men, Gerald Edmund, 22, of Larder Lake, died Sunday from injuries received in a traffic crash which had already claimed one victim.

Seven-year-old Nicholle Lachapelle of St. Genevieve was Montreal's first polio victim in hospital Sunday from injuries received when struck by a truck as she alighted from a bus.

Speaks of Trial Judge.

"With respect to the trial judge, Justice A. M. LeBel, I believe he was influenced by the suspicious circumstances surrounding the disappearance of John Dick. Evelyn's husband" whose torso with head and arms hacked off was discovered by school children on Hamilton mountainside, March 15, 1946.

He said Mrs. Dick had no prior criminal record.

"In traffic manslaughter cases, the sentence is usually no more than two or three years. I think it is more easy for a drunken driver to kill someone than it is for the mother of an illegitimate child to do away with the child if, for one believe it is less blameworthy to kill a child than an adult."

Presiding over the appeal court were Chief Justice R. S. Robertson, Mr. Justice F. D. Hogg and Mr. Justice J. B. Aylesworth.

Following Mr. Robinette's presentation of the grounds on which he was appealing, Chief Justice Robertson conferred for approximately one minute with each of the other two justices, then announced that the court felt it should not interfere with the sentence imposed by the trial judge.

CBC Requires Further Revenue Says Chairman

Ottawa, May 19 (CP)—A. D. Dunton, Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, told the Commons Committee on radio broadcasting today that the CBC must have further revenue if its service is not to be seriously impaired."

"Prices and costs of just about everything have gone up in Canada," said Mr. Dunton. "This is reflected in an acute form in the costs of the corporation. But the corporation's main selling price—the licence fee—has remained the same.

"The overall result is that the CBC is caught between the anvil of limited revenues and the hammer of increasing costs. At the same time, it is prodded to maintain and improve and extend its services"

He expressed the ' hope that parliament would act this year on the corporation's request that it be given full revenue from the $2.50 annual licence fee. The corporation now gets a collection and administration costs and received only an average of $2.00 per licence.

"Stringent economies were necessitated in the management of the corporation," said Mr. Dunton. "Since so many costs are fixed much of the reduction had to be borne by alleviations in program costs—performers fees. The result was a reduction in the standard of programming below what would have been possible without the cuts."

The corporation felt that it would not be in the public interest to accept more commercial revenues in order to increase its revenues.

He said the committee had recommended last year that the corporation consider establishment of a second French network to provide alternative network programs to the French-speaking audience as is provided by the two-English-language networks.

"This question has been studied. The chief obstacle found is that it costs," said Mr. Dunton. "The financial implications of the recommendation does not permit of undertaking the expenditures that would be entailed, according to the studies."

World Dollar Crisis Forecast

London, May 19 (Reuters) — Reports from Canada that the blackest period in the history of the approaching dollar crisis for the United States has been passed in Ottawa during the last few days by officials of the British "experts" are denied by officials in London. Though the Ottawa talks were confidential there is every reason to believe that the reports are true.

The British officials would have given the Canadians a very frank picture as they saw it, and the situation, as seen by both official and unofficial City circles here, unquestionably forecasts a dollar crisis, not only for Britain but for the world.

Some British officials believe that the world simply has not enough gold to square its accounts with the United States.

Unofficial opinion is typified by the bald statement in the current publication, the Economist, that a first-class dollar crisis before the next year is "absolutely certain"—on which a City commentator holds that, as things are doing, the "next year" begins to look optimistic! Four years' payment of Oxford University's Institute of Statistics that "a world jump now is about the only effective means of preventing the world from importing too many goods from the United States."

So far this year, the world, for lack of other means of paying for the balance of imports from the United States, has had to send gold to the United States at the fastest rate on record, excepting only 1939 and 1940, when payments for war supplies coincided with a flight of capital to the United States.

In the first quarter of 1947 alone, the United States took in more gold than American official visits had expected for the whole year.

Britain's recent drawings on her dollar loan have been heavy. That American loan, of $3,750,000,000, was supposed to last for more than three years. In the second half of 1946, Britain drew only $650,000,000 of it. By May 12 of this year, less than four and one-half months later, Britain had to draw another $1,150,000,000 at the rate of drawing accelerated rapidly in the latest weeks.

Police said the gang was well organized and worked in each other by numbers. They were masked and their faces were in the Royal Bank of Canada branch by handkerchiefs. They left with the estimated $250,000. Some had long white coats to disguise them by motor mechanics. They also carried sledgehammers and stolen tools for breaking bars, which police think may have been carried in the suitcases and other boxes, as in the Toronto robbery.

Another detective police believed it to be the same gang was the remarks made by Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy. He talked of the Toronto robbery and denied the $250,000 haul.

Robeson Stays Within Bounds At His Concert

Toronto, May 19 (CP)— Paul Robeson, world-famous Negro singer who has a habit of mingling leftist speeches with his songs, stayed within bounds at his concert in the Coliseum here Saturday night, but he got his points across just the same.

The Toronto Police Commission, fearing trouble among the audience and in the knowledge that a Robeson concert at Peoria, Ill., had been cancelled recently for that same reason, laid down the dictum that the concert would go on, so long as Robeson didn't make any anti-British speech.

Police officials and a score of uniformed bobbies were among the crowd of 8,500. Robeson said at the end of the 2 1-2 hour concert: "Toronto has always been a favorite city of mine. It still remains so, and I know I'll be back again to sing and to make speeches. Until that time I shall continue to fight for democracy."

The roared approval. The singer had left no doubt of his feelings by interspersed comments as he sang, and by his choice of songs.

His second number was a Negro spiritual, "one I like very much," he said— "Scandalize My Name" was the title.

Two songs from the Spanish "Republican War" followed, then United Nations song in which Robeson strongly emphasized such phrases as "together fight for a new world," "a new day for mankind is dawning," and "our children shall live in freedom."

The finale was "The House I Live In" which Robeson said was "picked cured for both American and Canadian Democracy."

$1,000 Damage From Flash Fire

Damage of more than $1,000 resulted to the home and household furnishings owned by Mr. and Mrs. Mason Lindsay, 12 Burton Street, when a flash fire starting from a pot of grease on the kitchen stove, swept through the dwelling early Sunday morning.

Firemen quickly responded to the alarm but before the blaze was extinguished the fire had swept through almost every room in the dwelling. Some insurance was carried by the aged couple, but according to firemen the damage to furniture alone will amount to more than the insurance.

Mock Raid

New York City saw in peace a raid of Flying Fortresses over the metropolis the other day. In war days such a raid would have meant terror to enemy cities.

Now they were, it is said, reminders of the recovery of the United States Air Force from the demobilization day.

The precision with which the air might assembled was one of the proofs of power of these great weapons handled in wartime. The exactness of the arrival demonstrated efficiency of the air organization.

The world never again wants to see the time when masses of air power have to be hurled in combat with all their destructiveness in combat. Man hopes for peace that will grow upon the world, a peace that means security, and happiness among all the nations.

Supersonic Speed

Airmen were warned last month by the United Kingdom Ministry of Civil Aviation that pilotless rocket-propelled aircraft would be tested off the coast of Cornwall for six months. The area where the Ministry of Supply will carry out the tests is within a radius of 11½ miles of a point 14 miles west of the Scilly Isles. During daylight hours the aircraft will be diving into the ocean from a height of about 40,000 feet above sea level at speeds ranging up to 1,000 miles per hour.

These exhaustive tests of rocket aircraft operating at supersonic speeds will have important results for future aviation. Planes are designed to pave the way for safe flying at speeds faster than the speed of sound (760 m.p.h. at sea level, dropping to 660 m.p.h. at 40,000 feet.) Robots are used because the authorities are knowing a great deal about the effect of such high speeds on humans, could not risk the lives of airmen.

The fuselage of the rocket-propelled craft is 12 feet long and 18 inches in diameter, with a span of eight feet. Mosquito planes based in Cornwall will bear the rocket craft to a height of about 40,000 feet before release. Fifteen seconds later the automatic pilot will level off the rocket craft, and the latter will fly at high speed until its fuel is exhausted, a matter of about 15 minutes, during which time it will have covered 12 miles. Then the automatic pilot will cause it to dive into the sea.

A ground station in the Scilly Isles will record the robot's behavior if flight automatically, while a telemeter inside the craft will record the instrument readings and send them to the ground station. The robot will be tracked by radar and photographed from a Spitfire Meteor jet-propelled fighter like that which holds the international speed record.

Time's Changes

Women are changing, says a writer in the Owen Sound Sun Times. He points to the statement that they are taller by five and a half inches than their mothers 50 years ago. At the same time they are lighter by five pounds, they eat less food but are larger about the waist than their grandmothers were. How much the latter two developments are related to open-toed shoes and the discarding—of Grandma's stays, he leaves to the reader to judge for himself and herself.

"To date there's really nothing to be alarmed about" says the Sun-Times. Even Grandpa will admit that today's girl is a reasonable facsimile of the real thing, which was, of course, Grandma. But the writer thinks the changes are a trend and suggests that if girls have grown one and a half inches in fifty years, by 2,500 A.D. they will be well over six feet tall without benefit of the stilts. If this progress will increase, he says, it may require next to nothing to feed them, but if such be the case, he asks, what are the chances of a mere mortal getting a substantial meal. If wife doesn't eat, he argues, will she feed hubby?

Now the writer is very bold when he says that "we distrust the report that today's girls are better equipped than their grandmothers. That, we fear, is just propaganda or self judgment based on the taste of some of Grandma's presences discovered behind a box on a rafter in the cellar."

Five hundred years is a long period of time though in lives of humans one after another is seems short. But probably the women of 2,500 A.D. will think there has been nothing unusual in the change from what women are like today than the women and girls of today of the change from what they were like only two generations ago.

Operation Babel

Inability to speak English is no handicap at the British Industries Fair which opened on May 12th. Since 14 interpreters, able to speak 26 different languages are standing by for "Operation Babel" at Castle Bromwich, Birmingham. At Birmingham and London, too, the chain of interpreters starts at the main-line stations and extends right into the Fair itself. Birmingham interpreters speak the following languages: Norwegian, Swedish, Danish, Russian, Czech, Polish, Serbian, Bulgarian, Slovene, German, Dutch, Flemish, French, Italian, Spanish, Catalanese, Portuguese, Maltese, Arabic, Hebrew, Hindustani, Malayan, Afrikaans, Philippino, Icelandic and Esperanto.

Bonds of Empire

Returning from his tour of South Africa, His Majesty King George VI makes striking reference to the impressions gathered during his travels. He speaks feelingly of the "intangible bond of union" between British peoples.

This is the factor which is habitually overlooked by those who forecast the breakup of the British Empire. Even while some of us in Canada glibly speak of the loosening bonds, we cannot, even if we would, escape that inner sense of kinship with those of the Mother Country and the other Dominions. It is of the spirit rather than of the mind, and therefore all the more powerful to unite. It will take more than the superficial, external factors thus far brought against it to do away with it.—Windsor Star.

He Meant Well

It was a fine deed, even if in vain, that was performed by a local citizen one day last week, says Fort William Times Journal.

Glancing out of his office window in the Post Office building one afternoon last week, Postmaster Herb Gray saw a man, dressed with evident alarm a string of three cars all parked along the curb on the South Syndicate in spaces clearly marked "Violation" on the meters guarding them.

After walking up and down the row of "violators" once, the man went from one meter to another, putting in nickles. Then satisfied that he had saved the owners from the wrath of the law he went on his way.

It was a fine thing to do, the Postmaster thought—and then he remembered it was Wednesday afternoon and parking was free.

Ad Men Welcomed

Much of the prospect for return of stability in business rests on the people engaged in sales and advertising to maintain the link between producer and consumer. They are both business men and diplomats. They can do much to control the delicate functioning of the law of supply and demand, which must come back into operation before there can be a full return to the free enterprise on which our whole industrial and commercial structure is based.

The men met here are the leaders in their field. They are the outstanding experts and authorities in what has come to be one of our chief arts, the marketing of goods and services. The discussions held here, there will be expounded and developed the most modern theories and practices of selling through advertising. These delegates can best sponsor public confidence by manufacturers and distributors. They are good people to have visiting the community.

Conscience is justice's best minister. It threatens, promises, rewards and keeps all under its control.—The busy must attend to its remonstrances; the most powerful submit to its reproof and the angry endure its upbraidings.—Mary Wortley Montague.

HAPPY PHRASE

Of all the phrases of delight,
That wives to husbands ever say,
The best at closing of the day
Is this: "Let's stay at home tonight!"

No cause to change to linen white.
No friends who live ten miles away.
Who want us content to bridge to play.
Just this: "Let's stay at home tonight!"

"Find check enclosed," when debtors write,
Is news the heart of man to cheer,
But sweeter to a husband's ear
Is this: "Let's stay at home tonight!"

Let loose the collar, much too tight!
No dance, no place to go to dine!
But now, no more the joy is mine
To hear: "Let's stay at home tonight!"

Mr. Russell Weller and Mr. Jack Philpsen will leave tomorrow for Vancouver, B.C. where they will join Mr. Fred Lingham of this city and proceed with him to Cariboo in South Africa. We wish them every voyage and success.

Mr. Charles P. McKay has leased the Carman Opera House for a term of three years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Miller of Glen Miller are registered at Hotel Quinte.

Miss Ethel Matheson of New York City, is the guest of Mrs. Alexander Dundas Ross.

Manager J. Baird of Hotel Quinte has a three fine hounds and he makes a very creditable appearance when in the saddle.

The Rev. Newton Hill of Omemee, former pastor of Queen Street Methodist Church, Toronto, has been invited to become pastor of the Tabernacle Methodist Church here.

Looking Ahead in Ottawa

(By The Ottawa Staff of The Canadian Press)

Ottawa, May 19 — (CP) — Demands for a National radio authority beyond the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation are expected to be made before the government's primary forum on that subject in the days immediately ahead.

Parliament Hill indicates that they will emerge before the Commons' radio committee as advertisers and advocates of private broadcasting renew past contentions that the CBC is both their competitor and their boss. Private broadcasters will ask, in effect, that there be a body with power over both themselves and the CBC.

The committee buckles into its sessional task of reviewing policies and plans of the CBC Monday.

Barley Binge

Indications reaching the capital indicate that prairie farmers this year are going on a "barley binge" in response to appeals by federal authorities for a great new barley acreage to provide feed for hogs and other livestock.

These reports show that western growers this year intend to low 7,000,000 acres to the much-needed feed grain, which represents a jump of 1,077,200 over last year's acreage.

While great stress has been placed on government guarantees on the need for more barley, the prospect that a substantial increase acreage likely was an announcement last month that a substantial price advance would be allowed this year in barley price ceilings.

Official sources predict that as a result of the increased barley acreage, which will result in large supplies of this feed, there will be a consequent greater production of hogs, livestock and dairy products. This, they assert, means more bacon, beef, cheese, butter and milk.

See New Fields In Peacetime A-Energy Uses

By JACK GRAY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Hamilton, May 19 — (CP) — Peace-time applications of atomic energy are expected to be accelerated by Canada's first dedicated series of discussions in nuclear chemistry, made at a conference which concluded at McMaster University here Saturday.

But atomic chemists from Canada's nuclear energy project at Chalk River, Ont., and a number of scientist from the United States warned privately and in speeches during the three-day meeting there might be no such applications if control of atomic energy's is not vested in a world-governing body.

An atom war might lead to destruction of civilization, warned Dr. Charles Coryell of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He told the conference in a dinner speech that a "terrible fire" hung over the world and in a later interview said that if atomic bombs started falling, widespread areas even thousands of miles from the scenes of the explosions would be contaminated as to wipe out life.

Particles in Stratosphere

He cited as an example the first test exploded over Bikini in the Pacific in May, 1946. Weeks later, and 2,000 miles away a photographic film developed spots when the films were befogged in transport. It was discovered that radioactive particles had been blown into the stratosphere, to come down in the dust contaminate a grain field from which was taken the straw for packing films.

Sufficient energy was still present, he said, that with proper control it could be used to run industry, even to power ships and locomotives.

The conference on nuclear chemistry was climaxed by secret meetings for engineers and physicists at Chalk River, Ont., where the project is being carried out the Canadian government policy of diffusing atomic knowledge as rapidly possible where it could be expanded. But the Chalk River meetings were for security reasons were unable to get full details of the progress of their work and warned against leading questions on atomic pile operations.

Vast Peacetime Possibilities

Glimpses of the vast new fields opened up in peaceful application of atomic energy in industry, science, medicine, biology and agriculture were given by delegates in terms of technical language.

A. F. Brown, in charge of health precautions at Chalk River, told of the elaborate safety laboratory workers had to exercise in working energy hazards. These included wearing a small, wrapper-enclosed to play film on the body which could be checked weekly. Blackening of the film would indicate the wearer had been exposed to harmful radiation. He said that not a single person yet to any worker because of the primary precautions taken.

Troops Will Be Sent as Guards On Polish Trains

By KEITH GARNER

Herford, Germany, May 17. (Reuters)—British Rhine troops will be sent as guards on trains that will start this month to take back to Poland thousands of Polish displaced persons who have opted to go home, a U.N.R.R.A. Assembly camp, Herford, said today. Officially, U.N.R.R.A. officials disclosed, is that there is no other way in which the Poles can be sent back. trains return empty—or that they will be sent.

When British trains have been sent into the Polish-occupied eastern strip of Germany in the past they have often returned with several coaches missing. The general view is that they were sent as a means of getting the fleet of rolling stock at the disposal of the post-war republic of Poland.

In addition, British authorities are expected to feed over the thousands of refugees, former German inhabitants of the ceded new provinces, whom the Poles are anxious to expel and who are themselves only too anxious to be transferred to the comparative comfort and security of the British zone of Germany.

The first decision to allow British guards to accompany repatriation trains ends a deadlock that had held up the return of thousands of Polish displaced persons for weeks.

PLANS NEW FLIGHT

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 19—(AP)—Capt. William P. Odom, who established a world record as he piloted the Reynolds Bombshell around the world this spring, disclosed Saturday that he plans a new globe-circling flight over the North and South poles next winter.

PERSONAL HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

(Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatments, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Address Dr. Brady, care of this newspaper.)

BRINGING BRADY BABIES UP TO DATE

Many of you readers know how much it irks the conductor of this health service to mention, a slipping from his own column in lieu of a written request for whatever you want. Well, that's a task I hate still more—dealing with my own affairs. Mid-terms and years after it was written and printed.

Frankly that is why I have put off from day to day, from week to week, from month to month, the onerous task of revising that ancient yellow book—you know, maybe your mom knew, it as the Brady Baby Book.

Indeed everywhere in the book is the instruction I believed wise when I wrote the book. As the Young Snip, my best critic, quotes it I said:

"Feed the fourth month the baby should sleep all night from 10 p.m. (time of last feeding) to 6 a.m. (time of first feeding or nursing in the morning. If the baby does not sleep after 10 p.m. do not take him up or feed him again. See that he is warm and dry and let him cry it out. Otherwise your baby learns that he can regulate your life to suit his whims, and you will never have any peace or comfort. Such a baby is an unconscionable tyrant when he once learns he can have his way."

I should have added to that statement that the baby who is not a baby is warm the words "but not too warm"—and I do add these words now.

If the baby is all in a sweat he is obviously over-warmed. Not enough to make any baby cross and peevish.

In any circumstance the best test of whether the baby is warm enough is the hand test—feel his feet and if they don't feel cold to your touch he's plenty warm enough. Try to keep the least possible clothing or bedclothes on baby that will keep him comfortable like that.

Now that I have revised, has been delving extensively in the new psychology of infant and child rearing. Out of the mass of drous works she got ammunition and kept chiding me for some of my quaint notions about the care of infants and children, until, in unguarded moment, here recently I hauled off and declared this suggestion:

"If the baby wakes in the night and cries to be fed, change him, his didy, see that he is warm—and if that doesn't make him happy then for goodness sake feed him something!"

Now I shall expect dare the Young Snip to tell whether I couldn't make up my mind about it.

Oh, well, after all it is remarkable, is very that you can talk upon an unlimited number of health or medical questions, without colliding head-on with himself pretty frequently.

Next I shall try to reconcile my advice some years ago with my advice of today. When the revised Baby Book is ready you'll find that paragraph on p. 60 doctored up to suit the Young Snips idea of good psychology.

And indeed that is the lesson why I'm revising the Baby Book, to bring Brady Babies up to date. New books on child psychology are a dime a dozen—I have a dime's worth of them in one shelf—but it is nearly as hard a task to read such stuff as it is to write such stuff. Consequently I'll compromise by asking the Young Snips to look over my work and see if there is anything in them I ought to swipe for the new Baby Book.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Stagefright

Sometime ago you wrote:

Take one grain of quinine sulfate, in pill, half an hour after food three times a day for several weeks. This has proved very successful in more stagefright and examination jitters in theatre cases.

As a teacher of speech in this university I am interested—can you suggest material either clinical or experimental, relating to the problem? (E.)

Answer — I'm sorry I can't! Can't even remember how I became aware of the data. Except the use of quinine in malaria is empirical.

Hay Fever

Last summer I started taking calcium and vitamin D as suggested in your Hay Fever pamphlet, about a month before my usual season. I sneezed just twice during the whole year. I am delighted to report that I did not suffer red eyes, sore eyes, nose, lips etc., at all — Heaven and Dr. Brady be praised! (B.K.E.)

Answer — Any reader who provides stamped self addressed envelope may have a copy of the pamphlet.

British A-Plant Ready in 5 Years

London May 19 (CP)—Britain's first atomic power station, a huge plant designed to produce electricity commercially, is to be built at Drigg in Cumberland, the Daily Express said today in a story by its defence editor Chapman Pincher.

Several uranium engines will be set up, the story went on, and "plans to build a new industry centering within five years have been drawn up by the atomic energy council and the cabinet." A cabinet it is estimated to cost £300,000 ($1,320,000).

Pincher's article continued:

"This engine is expected to have a full production output of 72,800 kilowatts, enough to supply light and power to a city the size of Liverpool—the fourth city of the British Isles, with 1,000,000 people. If it is a success, other engines will be built at Drigg, and a second atomic power station will be set up somewhere in Scotland.

The total output of these two plants should eventually be more than 1,000,000 kilowatts, contributing a quarter of Britain's estimated need of at least 5,000,000 tons of coal a year. The coal saved will be used as a valuable export and will be exported. The cabinet does not believe it can afford more production without power production will reduce the need for coal...."

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED

Toronto, May 16 (CP)—The resignation of Dr. Gray as Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs has been accepted and filled by the cabinet and William A. Orr, inspector and supervisor of municipalities has been named acting deputy, municipal affairs department, it was announced yesterday.

Neither Mr. Gray nor Mr. Dunbar would say any reason for the resignation but Mr. Gray said it was due to ill health as reported earlier. Persons close to both men put it down as "incompatibility."

YOU'D BE SURPRISED

By GEORGE W. STIMPSON

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

How are mirages produced?

A mirage is an optical effect or illusion caused by abnormal bending by the irregular refraction and reflection of light rays as they pass through layers of air of unequal density.

This phenomenon, observed since ancient times, is especially common in desert regions and was first brought to the attention of the scientific world only recently explained by a French geographical explorer named Monge who accompanied Napoleon to Egypt and who described the mirages seen in the desert by the French soldiers.

"Mirage" is derived from Latin "mirare," "to look at" or "to wonder at," and "mirus," "a fantastic source of "miracle," "miraculous," and "admire."

All mirages cannot be explained in the same manner because of them are not entirely understood. Different sizes are produced by the atmospheric conditions peculiar to different regions of land and sea. The simplest and most common mirage is the reflection of sky and water giving no water exists. Travellers in the desert often see mirages of trees and lakes ahead that disappear as they approach and the eye proceeds in their direction.

Desert sand radiates heat that causes the air close to the ground to expand and become rarer than the layers above. The sand's condition is thus changed and the denser stratum lies above the rarer stratum. A distant object viewed across such a blanket of heated air will be seen by reflected light through different sets of light rays. The more horizontal rays pass above the ground and assume a path convex in respect to the earth's surface while the more oblique rays pass higher up and assume a path concave in respect to the earth's surface. An observer above the rarefied layer the object appears as an inverted image being seen as if mirrored in a lake. Generally it is the layer of heated and rarefied atmosphere that serves as a reflector.

Objects are reflected from the sky being sometimes recognizable and sometimes grotesquely distorted beyond recognition. Mirages of cities and mountains are occasionally seen at great distances from the real objects. Mountains, surrounded by trees and cliffs, appear in barren deserts. Mountain landmarks of miles away have been seen reflected in the sky by night by day. Not infrequently mirages are distinguished from the actual objects only by their distance and changing positions, and even experienced travellers in the desert are occasionally misled by these optical illusions.

Light Fleet Carrier 'Magnificent' Will be The Most Efficient Fighting Unit in R.C.N.

By JOHN DAFFERNEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Belfast, May 17.—(CP)—The light fleet carrier Magnificent will be beside a jetter in the world's biggest shipyard as hundreds of workmen install the finishing equipment which will make her the most efficient fighting unit in the Royal Canadian Navy.

Started as sister-ship to H.M.C.S. Warrior, already in service with the R.C.N., Magnificent's plans have been changed to make her first of a new "Majestic" class and flagship of the Dominion's fleet.

Across her stern just below the flight-deck is a spacious apartment for the navy's commodore; and she has these other changes:

1. A new single-track aircraft-launching system at the bow, doing away with the old, clumsy catapult trolley so fighters can take off on their own wheels.

2. Asbestos lining of the hull to make her comfortable in Arctic waters and air-conditioning in the "tween-decks "office that" in Belfast, where crew efficiency in tropical heat.

3. Cafeteria-style messing for the crew to speed up the serving of meals; a big laundry and a crew recreation room cut off from the "working section" of the ship.

For two years 13 Canadian officers and 50 ratings have been "learning their ship" by studying her construction. Scores of changes have been made in the original Royal Navy design at their suggestion.

The 18,000-ton, 25-knot carrier, being built at British expense in the Harland and Wolf Yard and "loaned" permanently to R.C.N., was laid down as one of Warrior's "Colossus" class and should have been commissioned as year ago. When the Japanese war ended unexpectedly she was "modernized" to her new class and work slowed down.

Now she has been delayed even further by the United Kingdom's fuel crisis, because of shortage of compound the new will probably be commissioned in January.

Shannonville

Shannonville —A very successful May-time dance was held in the Milltown school on Friday night.

The cheese plant here started making on Tuesday May 13th.

The local men and women have finished transplanting tomatoes for Shannonville Canner's Ltd.

Mr. and Mrs. Childerhose of Cobalt have taken up residence with the later's mother, Mrs. H. Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cook and Mrs. H. Cook spent sometime with Mr. and Mrs. Childerhose in Cobalt before their moving here.

Mr. Jim Philip of Kingston spent the weekend at the home of Mr. R. R. Vivian.

Mr. Thomas Vivian is a patient in the Belleville General Hospital. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elmy, of Belleville, spent Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Elmy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cummings and Dorothy of Corbyville spent Sunday at the home of the later's parents Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Kincaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Mills, who recently sold his business here, has purchased a home in Barrie Ontario.

The Shanhonville Canner's Ltd., has purchased a new truck.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Vivian spent Thursday last in Kingston.

I'll give anybody odds it's not your homework, pop said, and I said, I'm thinking serious about working during vacation this summer.

Then put it out of your mind again, ma said. Vacation is the proverbial time for rest and relax and gather strength for the next school term, so kindly take advantage of it as nature intended, she said, and pop said, Nonsense, let him work. You cant keep a growing boy from gaining hite and weight, whether he's loafing on a job or exhawsting himself at play. When I was his age the naybors always marked the beginning of summer by the vacation of the swallows and my departure to work. I used to have as many as 3 jobs during one vacation, and I wasn't fired from them all, by any means, I quit at least half of them of my own accord, and the bizness experience was invaluable, he said.

There, ma, you see? I said, and ma said, I see that you need vitamins and red and white cornsels and you're to work at sunrise.

Aw G, ma, I wont even have to leave the house, I said. All I'll have to do is stay home and cut up meat and stuff, I said, and ma said, Are you thinking of going into the butcher bizzness for

No mam, I'm thinking of the peoples dogs to board while they go on their vacation, I said. Mrs Simkins is willing to go to Florida we can have the use of her house. So can we, pop? Can I? I said.

WHEN the great Klondike gold rush started in 1898, the Manufacturers Life was eleven years old. That it was, even then, an enterprising and energetic company is evidenced by its participation in that stirring adventure.

Equipping one of its representatives with a dog team and the other necessary accoutrements for arctic travel it despatched this business adventurer over the hazardous trail of '98 to sell Life Insurance to the workers in the gold fields. It was a very successful mission.

There have been many such episodes of rugged determination in the sixty year history of the Manufacturers Life. The pioneer spirit, allied with vision and sound management has placed the Company in the forefront of the world's leading Life Insurance Companies.

AN APPEAL FOR THE NEEDY PEOPLE OF GREECE

MAY 19th., 1947.

Dear Citizens:

The Dominion Government has kindly given permission for a post-war appeal to the Canadian people on behalf of the war-stricken people of Greece whose sufferings have been so unbelievable and yet who from the beginning have been the most unflinching of our Allies. Greece's fervent plea for help is one that no Canadian who cherishes ideals of freedom and humanity can disregard. It is a call of despair which can be answered only by the generosity of all Canadians. Whatever the sum, large or small, it will be of vital aid to Greece in her valiant struggle to rebuild a free and democratic way of life, against overwhelming odds of starvation and disease.

Won't you do your part by immediately sending your donation to W. H. Morton, c/o The Ontario Intelligencer, or any chartered bank.

Thagking you for your co-operation,

Yours very truly,

Mayor Frank S. Follwell

Chairman, Relief to Greece Appeal.

Red Cross Report

A meeting of the executive committee of the Belleville Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held last Wednesday with Mr. W. P. Duff presiding.

The chief business was to receive the report of Mrs. Wait, school nurse, regarding the opinions of persons and groups she had been requested to contact with regard to establishing a Red Cross Visiting Homemaker Service in the city.

As there was considerable discussion both pro and con setting up this service a committee was appointed to investigate the matter further.

A communication from headquarters stated that the Servo-Kero Refrigerator presented by Belleville Branch to the Whitney Outpost Hospital had been received there and is greatly appreciated.

Letter on Policy

Another communication from headquarters urged Red Cross members to support the present British Flood Relief Drive as individuals, but not as branches, since large donations have been made to this cause from Red Cross National and Divisional (provincial) funds which themselves are derived from the branch apportionment.

Red Cross quilt materials must not be used in this Drive, as they have to be accounted for at headquarters.

Layettes made from Red Cross materials are for use overseas and may be given out in Canada only in an emergency.

There is to be a national policy laid down in June as to the Red Cross joining in community chest campaigns.

The president told of that day presenting awards at Albert College to some sixty students who had passed the Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety Tests. This is one of the new forms of activities of the Canadian Red Cross.

As Miss Adair V.D.N. was present, she told of the use being made of the Red Cross Loan Cupboard. She was offered further supplies as she may require them.

Miss Adair told of her knowledge of the Visiting Homemaker Service as she had experienced contact with it in other cities.

Aims Outlined

Following are some of the aims of the Red Cross Homemaker Service:

To fill the place of the mother in the home when she is incapacitated for any reason.

To allow the householder to continue in employment.

Hours reporting for duty—8.00 a.m.

Hour reporting off duty—5.30 p.m.

For change in time arrange with supervisor.

Service given five and a half days a week.

Red Cross Homemakers are trained:

To plan, buy and cook nourishing meals for the family.

To give simple bedside attention to the sick mother under professional instruction.

To care for the children.

To do light laundry, such as mother's and baby's wash and tea towels.

To keep house clean, sweeping, dusting and cleaning kitchen floor.

To assist family to budget and therefore save.

The family pays according to their ability as with the V.O.N.

Women's Activities

HOLLOWAY STREET W.A.

The Woman's Association of Holloway Street United Church met at the home of Mrs. Fred Wilson, Trent Road, with Mrs. Buck in charge of the opening exercises.

During the business period it was decided to hold the annual bazaar in November.

Mrs. B. Moorman was in charge of the program, centred around the theme "Home". Mrs. A. Campbell read a paper on "The Christian Home". Mrs. Ed. Shortt introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. F. N. Harbeck who used as her text the words, "And there stood at the foot of the cross that day, the Mother of Jesus". She said, "Mary lived on after the crucifixion as a leader in the life of the small Christian group. Mothers today, should know something of the love, of God. True motherhood always turns to God, as it struggles on hoping that children may be worthy of the home, and the country in which they live. As a whole the mothers of today have failed. To make good, the mothers of tomorrow must be intelligent and have vision. Only spiritual values count. We, who are mothers, must go forth giving our children into God's hand."

Mrs. Moorman expressed appreciation to the speaker for a very inspiring address. Mrs. Daniels contributed "More Like the Master" as a solo, Benediction and the serving of refreshments closed a profitable afternoon.

COLLEGE HILL WOMEN'S GROUP

The College Hill Women's group, held its May meeting, at the home of Mrs. G. Coulter, Eyres Street, on May 14.

The president conducted the opening exercises and business. The speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. G. Coulter, who capably led an open discussion on education and the youth of today.

At the close of the meeting a social half hour was spent in contests after which the hostess and her helpers served refreshments.

MOIRA W.A.

The May meeting of the W.A. of Moira United Church was held at the home of the President, Mrs. George Foster. Following a delicious pot luck dinner, the meeting proper was conducted by the president, when the new pastor, Mr. Robbins, led in a worship service, the theme of which was Missions. He gave an inspiring address on the subject, "The Need of Missionary Work", saying: "Although the work of the W.A. is mostly local yet the women will be the losers if they do not help in sending the gospel to those who have never heard it."

As a result of the church sending missionaries across the seven seas over a period of years, students from these lands are now coming to Canada for post graduate work in our colleges and universities. Mr. Robbins told of meeting some students from India and China who are now attending Toronto University.

Mrs. W. McInroy read a story on "Guests from India", including a group of eight men who are attending Ontario Agricultural College. Miss Bessie Holbert's story was of a student from Singapore, a graduate of a U.S.A. Mission School, now attending Toronto University.

Miss Laura Hall read about a Korean Student also at Toronto University.

Delightful piano solos were contributed by Mrs. James Vandewater and by Mrs. Arthur Stevenson. Mrs. Don Holbert sang "In the Garden".

During the business period a letter of appreciation from Mrs. Stewart Lakefield, was read, acknowledging receipt of a gift of money and flowers during her recent illness. Mrs. Clayton Vandewater expressed her gratitude for cards, plant and flowers during her stay in Belleville General Hospital.

Proceeds of the dinner were $5.35.

GILEAD W.M.S.

The May meeting of the Gilead W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Leonard Baines, with the president in charge.

The program suggested in the Missionary Monthly was followed with Mrs. Rollins, Mrs. Bertrand and Mrs. W. Clare assisting. Mrs. E. Yorke read a chapter from the study book.

A business period was conducted and Mrs. Clare Sr., took charge of the presentation of the program. Readings were given by Mrs. Clare, Mrs. Hubble and Mrs. Balcanquel. A solo, "Mother's Love" contributed by Mrs. J. Laurenson added much to the inspiring program.

The meeting closed with the benediction and Mrs. Baines served refreshments.

MARSH HILL W.M.S.

The May meeting of the Marsh Hill W.M.S. was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. Mitts with thirteen members and three visitors present.

The theme of the program for the afternoon was "One World on Our Doorstep". Mrs. Bleecker was in charge and was assisted by several of the members, who told about the number of students from India, Chile and China, who are enrolled in Canadian universities this year.

Mrs. Lindenfield, Temperance Secretary, gave a very interesting talk. Mrs. Leslie Finkle contributed a solo and Mrs. B. Finkle conducted the worship.

During the business period the supply work was discussed. The meeting closed with the benediction.

CHEVROLET

"Why was Chevrolet my choice? Because, like most women, when I shop my one idea is to get the most value for my money—and Chevrolet is the car that gives you just that. As far as beauty, comfort, and all-round quality are concerned, Chevrolet is way up there with the big cars. Yet when it comes to price—well, the price is so much lower it's hardly believable. And another thing I like—the upkeep cost won't strain our family budget! Yes, my choice was Chevrolet, and my husband says I couldn't have chosen better.

Big-Car value in small details, too! Most Chevrolet models have retractive assist straps, combining roof-quarter window, ash receiver set into the top of the instrument panel, and either one or two in the rear passenger compartment.

Weddings Hostesses Shouldn't Be "Overbusiness"

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

If you are single cheerleaders and don't cannot agree on the suggested as that we go formal for all of the dances in the informal theme song given by our football team. Some of the girls, I feel, would like to wear a ... so we thought we'd leave it up to you. Please help us out by telling us what you think.

Thanking you in advance, Yours truly, Phi Chi L.

Since you say that you want to be an informal dance, my suggestion is that even though have been invited to get a boutonniere, you should wear the type of dress you like the other girls are planning to wear. Obviously it isn't appropriate for you eight girls to be formally dressed when the rest of the dancers are informally dressed, and I'm sure you'll be sure that the other girls don't think it.

Bride, Not Maid of Honor, Who Extends Wedding Invitations

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My sister is soon to be married, and I'm sure she'll be her maid of honor, but I would like to invite my boy friend's brother to the wedding dinner, or rather to the reception in the evening.

Do you think that this is all right? If not, also will be delighted to have my boy friend's mother and brother to the reception. But also the wedding dinner is for the family only for family and wedding attendants (as I imagine it might be, since there is to be a reception also), will my invitation to my friend's mother would be appropriate, and I'm sure she wouldn't expect one.

Anna

Special Questions About a Wedding

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. I am to be matron of honor for my sister, the only attendant. As a headdress I am wearing a short veil, and the bride is wearing a bridal veil. We would both like to wear our veils down in the processional, and put them up for the recessional. Would you advise this?

2. What color dress should the bride's mother wear?

3. My mother has been working for a lady and she told my mother that she would very much like to come to the church ceremony. Is it proper to invite her to the reception also, or just to the church ceremony?

4. With only one adult bridal attendant, do you think it would be proper to have two flower girls?

L. C.-H.

1. This plan for wearing the veil down in the processional and up in the recessional is proper for the bride, but not for an attendant.

2. Blue, in any shade from powder-blue to navy-blue, is a perennial favorite with the mother of the bride. Also popular are rose-beige, a rich shade of burgundy, and, if becoming, champagne and fawn gray. Black is not appropriate.

3. If your sister is having a large reception it would be proper to invite your mother's employer, but she would not expect to be invited to a small reception, to which only relatives and intimate friends are to be invited.

4. Yes, it would be entirely proper to have two flower girls, of about the same age and height, even though there is to be only one adult attendant.

Fashion Flashes

FLUID LINES bring a soft, gracious look to many of the new spring dresses. Such a dress per-sey is used for a beautiful dress made with a collarless, very deep V in front, and long sleeves with a dolman armhole. Gold braid is used for a sash that comes from the back to swing low over the hips.

IT SHOULD BE EASY to select a suit this season, since anything goes. Anne Klein Ensemble is for a charming suit made with a box jacket that flares at the back and has triple pocket flaps at each side. The skirt has pleated side panels, front and back, stitched to a hip yoke.

SPRING has the new season with smart prints. A handsome frock, fashioned on soft shirt-waist lines, is of white ninon crepe with a wavy window pane design in red and black. Collar of the dress can be worn softly open or high at the throatline where it is fastened with a red bead pin to match the unlined red wool coat that makes the dress an ensemble.

ONE WAY of handling the new unpadded shoulder line is by widening coat collars. That is why some of the newest coats, and dresses too, have very wide, very soft, shaped collars. In some ensembles both dress and coat show this detail.

NEW BEAUTY registers in the newest hats! A bonnet-type hat of white Milan straw is trimmed at either side with big swirls of pleated white ribbon. Crowning it is two knotted black velvet streamers, matching pompons of pleated maline act as lapel or dress ornaments.

"IT'S GOT TO BE GOOD" is what customers say about plastics used for bags, now that leather is back. Best success is being scored by bags of highly pollshed, very soft calfskin, cut on full pouch lines, with much shirring of the leather. Very wide, curved bracelet type handles are used.

NEW NOTIONS and clever styling mark new long-line bras and indicate a much increased popularity for what, up to now has been a bra dedicated only to the very heavy figure. A new

Good Grooming Is Important

This attractive outfit worn by Screen Star Elizabeth Scott gives a good groomlnr

GOOD GROOMING is something a woman just must have these days. Without it she had no chance of wearing beauty laurels on her brow. There are women with lovely complexions, plenty of silky tresses atop their crowns, fairly good figures, but these blessings from heaven don't mean a thing if clothes look as if they had been thrown on, if make-up is patchy, heels run down, or gloves out as spotless as they should be.

That dainty, fresh look is something that the slacker and the rush-hour just can't acquire. The daily bath is a factor, no doubt about it. That habit is not just a hygienic measure; it helps to build self respect and a nice, set-up feeling. We fancy it has become a national institution. But that is not precisely true. There are many men and women who seem to be allergic to the bath tub.

Unclean Hair

Unclean hair is a dead giveaway that a girl is not attending to her health-and-good-looks duties. It is dull and lifeless, doesn't stay put, undulations break, ringlets go stringy. The best way to preserve a permanent it to shampoon the hair once a week. Hot moisture strengthens the coil quality of the shafts.

It is diresoing to observe signs of shiftless dressing; powder on the neck lien of the frock. A soiled shoulder strap showing, the hem of the slip dropping below the hem of the frock. Girls who are not mindful of these details of appearance belong to the sloppy weather cult. And don't fancy that the boy friends don't notice. They may not be tidy themselves, but when they drag out their girl playmates they want them looking ops and no fooling.

The girl in a clean cheap frock makes a greater appeal than the untidy one in an expensive model that should have been sent to the dry cleaner weeks before.

model cut very low in front with small vein insert, is of pure silk satin with back of net. Comes in black, as well as nile green or peach, the uppitlized garland of self leaves.

INDISPENSABLE for the woman who goes out quite a bit, is the softly tailored faille suit. A pretty model in navy or black has a cutaway jacket with an inverted pleat in back. It is a one-button model with a keyhole cutout below the high neckline. The sleeves are finished with flared, pointed, turn-back cuffs. Skirt is narrow with a kick hemline.

IMPORTANT coats are coming into the fashion scene — coats of fine fabric, not at all tailored like an important dress. Black silk faille makes one such, closed high at the neck with the merest touch of white, very taut at the waist, very rounded over the hipbones.

PRETTY PICTURES are created at night by sweet young things in those ankle-length ballet-type frocks. Black of the sheer, with chevron insets of black lace over flesh pink, is used for a pretty dress with slim bodice and full skirt. Worn with black lace gloves, hat of pink chiffon rosebuds on black Milan straw, and suede, ankle-strap sandals.

CLAP HANDS for the handsome ensemble. A striking model has a double-breasted coachman's coat of gray woolen with one side of the skirt folded back to reveal a beautiful frock in gay silk printed in lemon-yellow, red and black.

BEAUTY

Rolling a Double Chin Into One

Nobody has yet found a way to disguise a spare chin. It has followed in galley and steamboat and, if weight increases, it gets poutier and poutier. It is fat but not a retiring disposition. The women who is thus afflicted know that there is no hasilh in it.

A chin will give warning that it is doubling up, and that is when it should be disciplined with a firm hand. Catch it young. The first sign is a crosline beneath the chin; below the line is a slight fullness. Beware that beauty bugaboo is on the way.

Usually twin chins are the penalty a woman pays for partaking too generously of the good things of the table. The cream puffs she eats seem to settle on the southern portion of her map. Restraint in eating foods that contain starch, sugar or fats should be the rule for every woman who is inclined to take on weight and who, every few years, finds that the frock she buys must be a size larger. She will tell you that she has not practically nothing at all. But it's usually because of those little nothings that she nibbles are exactly the kind of groceries she should not eat.

Correct eating habits alone, without any other help, would keep the weight normal, the measurements what they should be.

Given a fair chance, an experienced facial masseuse can divorce a natural chin from its undesirable mate. She will do it by dissolving the fat cells by pinching and rolling movements, toning the underlying fibres to take up the slack. The plastic surgeon has his own means for remodelling, but the treatment is expensive, and medical men who specialize along these lines are few and far between.

Home treatment, if continued long enough, will help considerably. Before the facemassage at bedtime, apply a heavy emollient, one that offers resistance to the manipulations, won't let the fingers slip and slide.

Pick up the undersiung tissues between finger and thumb; roll and compress them. Keep the head on the level when doing this, and have the muscles relaxed. Massage has no effect upon tense fibres.

Start pinching in the centre of the excess chin, working out toward the sides. Follow a little way along the jaw bones.

Double up the first finger of either hand and place them just under the ear lobes; use the thumbs in an ironing motion, moving from chin tip to meet the first fingers. Such a movement will strengthen muscles that have become slack.

Tap and slap briskly. Wrap an ice cube in gauze, go over the flesh quickly, until it glows.

The cream-puffs she eats re-appear on her neckline

SHOES WERE STOLEN

Kulm, N. D., May 13 — (AP)— Dr. Frank P. Tolleen, back in the United States after living in Sweden for 20 years, has discontinued use of old European customs.

Stopping at a hotel Dr. Tolleen said he put his shoes outside his hotel room door before retiring —excepting to find them shined in the morning.

That, he said, is the custom in Europe — but not in the United States. His shoes were stolen.

Lumbago?

TAKE

Don't wait until lumbago has a hold on you before you deal with it. Do as so many thousands of others have done—get relief with Kruschen.

Kruschen — a balanced combination of salines, herbs and when you take a regular evening dose, the treatment helps relieve faulty elimination which is often the cause of lumbago, backache and rheumatic pain.

In this way the saline ingredients of Kruschen benefit your system—health is improved and the stiffness and strain of lumbago treatment has helped thousands—why not you? Kruschen is 25c and 75c at all drug stores.

Specially Prepared Tree Seed Sown By Plane In Addington For First Time In Dominion

Tried for the first time in Canada, specially prepared tree seed was sown from the air last Saturday by the Department of Lands and Forests.

The area chosen for the experiment was in Abinger township in Addington county where a large tract was burned over last July. A plane from the Department covered the area broadcasting specially coated seed to reduce the loss by disease, insects, and rodents. The success of the venture will not be determined until next spring at which time under normal conditions the seed should commence to sprout.

Lands and Forest officials explained that the plane flew low over the area broadcasting the heavily coated seeds. This operation is said to favor particularly the species of red pine and white spruce.

Farm and range land has been sown by plane but this was the first experiment in Canada using tree seed. The application for the protective and nutrient coatings to the seed is also new for forest use in Canada. The entire area was not seeded at the same time, and the seeding will be completed next fall to compare the best results.

Results from the experiment will be closely watched and if successful there is strong possibility that the Department may go in for the type of reforestation on a wholesale scale. It is pointed out that many timber tracts in Northern Ontario could be reclaimed by this method.

In what was originally large areas of pine or spruce in Northern Ontario, subsequently burned over, the land reforests itself to poplar and birch. The lighter seed come in through the air in the spring, drops and germinates itself on exposed mineral soil, but pine and spruce has source of seed for pine and spruce must take place through the planting of tiny trees or the latest method of broadcasting the specially-prepared seed from the air.

Man Arrested For Smuggling Gold into U.S.

Windsor, May 19 (CP)—United States customs agents struck again at the gold smuggling into Detroit when they arrested Constable J. J. Connor, 31, member of a "policeon on Pitt Street East, with $2,500 worth of gold buttons in Detroit Saturday. The customs men estimate $1,500,000 in illicit gold trickles into the United States each year.

Connor was suspended when he drove his car through the United States customs. Edward A. Gleason, agent in charge, said: "He didn't declare anything and our agents trailed him a block or so away from the tunnel. He stopped and went to his car, and got out and put on his coat," Mr. Gleason said.

"He reached behind the back seat, took out the gold buttons, six in number, and put them in his coat pocket. Our agents then made the arrest."

Christianity Means Work Says Minister

"Christianity means work in a dirty world. None who is afraid of doing anything needed apply", said Rev. F. R. Harback in his sermon on Sunday morning when the members of Minerva Chapter No. 138 and of Belleville Chapter No. 30, Order of the Eastern Star, worshipped with the congregation of Tabernacle United Church.

Selecting as his text part of the 8th. and 9th. verses of the 14th. chapter of St. Mark's gospel, Mr. Harback chose as the verdict of Jesus, (relative to the act of Mary in breaking the box of precious ointment over His feet) against the opinion of the materialists who criticized her action, saying: "The same sort of people saw this act thousands of years ago as are found in any group today. They were so critical about the wasted value of her gift, but they did nothing to feed the poor about whom they were, apparently, so concerned. The same kind of people today criticize any good deeds done by Christians. Mary was not perfection—but Mary had done something. Perhaps she was mistaken. You may have done better; but mistaken or not she "did" it; others did nothing.

Depth of Devotion

"Mary had a depth of devotion called forth by the Spirit of Jesus, and as a result she turned her life into an act of creative goodness. Jesus gave her credit for trying. He turned the criticism aside saying—"She has done all she could!"

The test for all of us today, ministers and laymen, is the question "Have you done all you could for Christ in the past? Are you doing all you can now?"

"To live a good clean life in a city of Christian churches, schools and homes, like Belleville, is not enough. Is that all you could have done for Christ in the last forty years?" continued the speaker.

Christianity Means Work

"Christianity means more than that. Christianity means work in a dirty world. How much honest service have you given to the religious needs of your community? Would you rather assume the responsibility for leading a group of lively kids in a church school, or do you prefer to accept the responsibility for doing nothing?"

In conclusion Mr. Harback asked—"Have you done all you could? Are you doing all you can? Will you do all you can?"

Mrs. Kilpatrick was the soloist, contributing "By the Waters of Babylon," which with the anthem "Jerusalem" (Parker) by the full choir under the direction of Mrs. R. P. Duff, added much to the beauty of the service.

Spending Spree Ends When Three Youths Arrested

Pontiac, Mich., May 17—(AP)—Three young men reached the end of the trail today after a brief whirl of new cars, expensive parties and lavish hotel suites financed, police said, with $15,000 stolen from the mother of one of the youths.

Pontiac police said the 58-year-old mother, Mrs. Victoria Clark, had attempted suicide after her son, Joseph Lusatewicz, or Lukas, 22, disappeared April 18 with her life savings.

Lukas, together with Roy Forslund, 22, of Alpha, Mich., and Dick Poulos, 21, of Milwaukee, Wis., was arrested at Erie, Mich., Thursday and returned here today for questioning.

Police said the trio had only $3,200 left when they were captured.

Talkies May Decide Whether or Not Strike Occur in Coal Mines

Washington, May 17. (AP) — John L. Lewis and a major part of the American soft-coal industry opened contract talks which may decide whether there will be a United States-wide summer strike in the mines.

Abandoning his demand for industry-wide bargaining, Lewis has agreed to deal with producers of about three-fourths of the tonnage turned out by his United Mine Workers (A.F.L.). He kept his terms a secret.

FIVE SERIOUSLY HURT

Pembroke, Ont., May 17. (CP) —Five persons including three from Malartic, Que., were taken to a Pembroke hospital last night, one in a critical condition following a head-on collision of two automobiles on Highway 17, six miles west of here.

In hospital were Mrs. Germaine Gaudet, 44, suffering chest injuries, and who was in a critical condition; Aime Gaudet, 26, shock; Paul Gaudet, 50, back and leg injuries; Gerald Emond, 22, Larder Lake, Ont., shock and Neville Millar, 19, Larder Lake, arm injury. The Gaudet family are from Malartic.

Govt. May Repeal War Measures Act

Toronto, May 19 (CP)—The Toronto Globe and Mail said today in a dispatch from Ottawa that there is "a strong disposition in some cabinet quarters to follow the suggestion of J. G. Diefenbaker (Prog. Cons., Lake Centre) and repeal the War Measures Act."

The legislation was shelved by the proclamation of the Emergency Powers Act which itself expired last week, "but the War Measures Act stays on the statute book and can be brought into effect again at a moment's notice by proclamation," said the dispatch.

The old War Measures Act "is in a class by itself," the dispatch continued, "No other legislation turns over to the executive the same sweeping authority."

PART OF LOOT FOUND

Toronto, May 19 — (CP) — A box containing part of the loot taken by thieves who rifled the safety of the Campbell Dairy in Peterboro early last week, was found by 3 Toronto hitch-hikers just west of, Bowmanville Saturday. John Green and his wife Rose of Toronto, were attempting to thumb their way to the city when they noticed the box near a railway bridge. They brought the box to Toronto and notified Peterboro police. It contained uncashed cheques, totalling $213, a will, and 2,000 shares of mining stock.

1,000 Yugoslavs To Return Home

Montreal, May 19 — (CP)—The Gazette said today that the exodus of 1,000 Yugoslavs to their home from Canada had been described by a reliable Yugoslav source as "nothing but a Communist trick to get Canadian goods and Canadian dollars, and the Canadian Yugoslavs into Russia- dominated Yugoslavia."

In a newspaper story, the paper said that the Yugoslavs would be taken to their homeland aboard the S.S. Radnik, a former American transport now operated by the Yugoslav government for Yugoslav soil. The Gazette said that about 50 Yugoslavs from Montreal would make the journey.

The paper quoted a Montreal Yugoslav as saying:—

"The machines, cars and other goods taken from here will be sold at black market in prices in Yugoslavia for the profit of the Communist party secretaries...The Canadian dollars will be used to pay Yugoslav Communist agents in Canada, particularly three former Canadian Communists who are now employed at the Yugoslav Embassy in Ottawa.

Said the papers:

"Among the reported 'machinery' bought by the Immigrants to Canada are bullet-proof cars, intended for government use, jeeps, trucks and diesel engines.

"It was said that the bullet-proof cars were for Marshall Tito and his cabinet."

Bluey on Way To Byline Ball At Toronto

By WILLIAM STEWART
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Sydney, Australia, May 19 — (CP)—Squatted in a roomy wooden crate draped with burlap Bluey the kangaroo, a "delegate" to the By-line Ball at Toronto June 7, took off last night for Vancouver aboard the Australian National Airways' plane Skymaster Warana.

Newspaper photographers were on hand for the departure of the year-old kangaroo, a gift from the Sydney Journalists' Club for the Toronto Men's Press Club which is holding the annual ball in co-operation with the Canadian Women's Press Club.

After the ball is over Bluey will be presented to the Toronto Zoo.

Before Bluey's crate was hoisted into the forward compartment of the big plane Arthur Crouch, president of the Sydney club, attached a message of greeting to the Toronto newspapermen. The kangaroo is also accompanied by greeting cards for the Honolulu and San Francisco Press Clubs, to be dropped off en route.

Albert Smeyne, owner of the Aqua Flora Park where Bluey was obtained, supervised the arrangements for feeding the kangaroo on the Pacific flight. He stowed whole-meal bread, carrots and corn into pouches attached to the crate.

The plane is scheduled to reach Vancouver Wednesday after stops at Fiji, Canton Island, Honolulu and San Francisco.

HELP TRAIN
TOMORROW'S LEADERS

For the sake of the Canada your children will live in, you — and every public-spirited citizen — have this duty: to help to give the finest of our youth, the fullest opportunity for education. This is only possible by strengthening our free universities.

Today Victoria University — a great educational centre with a proud record of more than 111 years of service to Canada — needs your help to train tomorrow's leaders.

Inadequate Library Stockrooms produce crowding such as this. Reading rooms are also badly congested.

Women's Residences Are Overcrowded —Situations like this will be relieved by proposed new residences—giving students a proper place to study as well as more comfortable quarters.

GIVE GENEROUSLY!

Victoria Urgently Needs:

An addition to the library — heart of the university — costing..... $500,000
New Women's Residences — essential to university life — to cost..... $750,000
Additional capital endowment — to offset declining interest rates..... $750,000
A TOTAL OF $2,000,000

Education for Christian Citizenship

Victoria University is today training — in Emmanuel College — one third of all the ministers entering the United Church.

In Victoria College, more than 2,500 students — the leaders of tomorrow — are now enrolled. Here they are receiving the broad cultural discipline essential to sane leadership and intelligent citizenship.

An Appeal to You

Victoria looks with confidence for the generous help of every Canadian. Whatever you can give will do its part . . . take your share now, in the training of tomorrow's leaders.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
(The Kibitzer)

Too much talk on some bridge subjects may tire you. Not me. Out of my mail-pots many questions that sound like repeaters. In stirring them, something new can be said to help clarity.

One letter bells near "In response to an opening bid of two in a suit, I do not say two no-trump if my hand contains an ace. If I have no ace, do I say two no-trump when bidding K Q in a suit?

The answer is this: A two no-trump immediate reply to an opening two bid denies having a sure trick. Since K Q in any one suit is a sure trick, responder does not say two no-trump.

A sure trick means an ace or the king and queen combination of in the same suit. No trick is sure, of course. Not even an ace. Nor the queen when its king pushes out the ace.

Sure trick is simply a briefly descriptive word. It is used for want of a better name. It used to be called a quick trick. A number of players still call it that.

But sure trick is applied only to ace or K Q in same suit. Not to king and queen in different suits. Not to king and king in two suits. Nor to three kings.

We know of experts who act as if two kings are a sure trick. Q's a king and queen in two suits. Let them. Soon when they know they are wrong, experts do what they like when they want to.

Your partner opens with two hearts when you have this hand:

♠ K Q 9 6 4
♥ 7 6 2
♦ 8 4 3
♣ 9 7 5

Your king and queen of spades is a sure trick combination. Also not paired with your no-trump. With your biddable suit, takeout first by two spades. Tell partner you have a sure trick.

This will encourage partner to probe for aces. You can learn in plenty of time that you have no ace. He will then know you have K Q.

When slam is the lure, be sure you are sure.

The Movie Column

By RON GADSBY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

It probably follows a pattern but Hollywood is making a picture to glorify a night club. According to the billing, the picture will have more laughs than Arthur Rank has bucks, but you know about Hollywood billing. The picture is called "Copacabana."

However, the cast has a few people who may interest you and entice there is something worth while with your funnybone, you will appreciate them.

First, there is Groucho Marx, and this time he will be without the low-flowing moustache. Instead, he will have a small homegrown variety that is strictly out of character for the guy with the ogly eyes.

Also in the picture is a delicious lovely—depending on how you look at such things—named Carmen Miranda. The little gal with the high hats and the higher heels is going to trick the English language around with Groucho and that, in itself, should be fun.

At one stage in the film Miss Miranda plays two roles at once and that must be a nice trick that only Hollywood could do. If you like electricity that stems from the fingers, etc., of Carmen Miranda, don't miss "Copacabana."

A Nice Guy

Whether you agree or not, we think Maurice Chevalier has a lot on the ball. The aging Frenchman who reigned in his country during the war is over here to build up the dollar market for his Rotten Row racers and on Wednesday night will appear with Bing Crosby on his radio show. Here's hoping he sings "Louise." Remember it?

Sports Roundup

ALAN HARVEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, May 19.—(CP)—The early-season slump of St. Louis Cardinals continues to amaze the baseball experts, particularly those who said the Redbirds were a shoo-in for another National League pennant . . . The campaign is little more than a month old, but the St. Louis add has dropped into the cellar of rumors about dissension within the club. . . . One report was that Stan Musial's stomach miseries were caused by a nose-to-playful punch tossed back there mate Enos (Country) Slaughter; a rumor that St. Louis owner Sam Breadon denied with considerable heat . . . Now Breadon is in a mix, this time with an announcement that sale of bleacher tickets at Sportsman's Park will be restricted to make it-easier for Cardinal hitters . . . Seems the players complained that centre-field bleacher spectators wearing light-coloured clothing provided a difficult backdrop. . . . Breadon neglected one obvious remedy. . . . If the Cards continue to flounder, the home fans will have to go into mourning and wear dark clothing appropriate for the occasion.

Taylor's Triumph

They say horse racing in New York is conducted in a tough league, but a Canadian stable currently is making the bigtimers take a back seat . . . Since the metropolitan season opened April 9, trainer Bert Alexandra has sent 26 horses to the post for owner E. P. Taylor, of Toronto, and nine have come home on the end. . . . Four victories three times, Cornish Knight twice. Singles victories were scored by Flying Fort, Windfields, Picardy Belle and Transatlantic. . . . The only non-winner in the stable is Flaming Lady, a two year old filly which was third in her only start. . . . Trainer Alexandra is living up to family tradition, for Brother George once was leading trainer at Hialeah. . . . Taylor, apparently flushed with success, has acquired a 33-acre farm in Lexington, Ky., and plans to stand Windfield at stud there when his good Canadian-bred is retired.

Scarboro Club Approved For $10,000 Open

(By The Canadian Press)

Officials of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, the Ontario Association and some Toronto district professionals have made a fair of the Scarboro Golf and Country Club and have approved of it as the scene of the $10,000 Canadian Open championship in July. The course is on the outskirts of Toronto.

The decree, passed last Wednesday, that National Hockey League players should be a maximum 40, instead of the totals of war years, has been objected to thoroughly by manager Conn Smythe of Toronto Maple Leafs that the team is now three under the restored limit.

The 1947 Dominion wrestling championships are to be held in Albasaka, Alta., on May 22-24, will be attended by a large number of contestants. At least three Montreal grapplers will be on hand. Winnipeg is sending a provincial champs and from Vancouver four title-seekers have indicated they will be there.

Colonel D. Stuart Forbes has announced his intention of retiring from the post of athletic manager of McGill University, Montreal, and official notice is expected this week. A McGill graduate himself, Col. Forbes has been connected with the university for 40 years. He played with the college football team from 1907 until graduation in 1910.

The Montreal Standard said Saturday that Johnny Greco, who retained his Canadian welterweight boxing title by knocking out Dano Webb Friday night, had been asked to appear in the New York District Attorney's office for questioning into alleged underworld control by pro boxing in New York. The whipper said Greco was appearing voluntarily for questioning.

Organization of an inter-county baseball circuit for the town of St. Thomas, Port Stanley, Belmont and Union is underway at Port Stanley. The first game of a series, the dates of which have not yet been fixed, will likely be played at Port Stanley May 25.

Ben Hogan won the Colonial National invitation golf tournament for the second time in a row Sunday at Fort Worth, Texas, with a score of 279 for 72 holes — the same count as his winning effort last year.

Sweltering fans at the North London, England, Wing Saturday night saw Ottawa All-Stars soundly defeat Wembley's Canadians 10-2 in an exhibition hockey game. Eddie Slowinski, who was chosen for Quebec All-stars last year, led the scorers with four goals.

In Manhattan

By PAT USHER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, May 17 (CP)—Both artistically and commercially, one of the major successes of the waning theatrical season was Ingrid Bergman's performance in Maxwell Anderson's play "Joan of Lorraine". Miss Bergman is back in California for a short vacation before fulfilling movie commitments but the memory of her performances remains to haunt the Alvin Theatre.

* * *

The Swedish-born actress made a personal triumph of her first acting role on Broadway since 1940. Throughout its 199 performances, the last of which was on May 10, "Joan of Lorraine" never lacked standees. The production grossed about $680,550.

Before leaving New York, Miss Bergman said she hoped to return in another play—possibly a revival of "Joan."

Murder Thriller . . .

"Portrait In Black", a psychological murder thriller was this week's only newcomer to the Broadway stage. Claire Luce plays the lead role in the modestly diverting melodrama, written by Joan Cott and Bec Oboerte. The play has been produced before in London and also in Cleveland but this is its first appearance in Manhattan.

National League Ganging Up On St. Louis Cardinals With Barrage of Southpaw Hurlers

Champions Now Seven Games Off the Pace Being Defeated Nine Sunday

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

It was apparent today that the trouble with the world champion St. Louis Cardinals is not the rest of the National League has been ganging up on them with an unorthodox barrage of left-handed pitchers.

Including their double defeat by Philadelphia Phillies yesterday which sunk them seven full games off the pace, the last-place Redbirds have been beaten on Southpaws 11 times this season. In 37 games, rival managers have started lefthanders against St. Louis 18 times.

How the rival teams are saving their lefthander for the Cards is best borne out by the strategy of Ben Chapman, Phillies' manager. In throwing lefties Ken Heintzelman and Ken Raffensberger against southpaw swingers Stan Musial, Enos Slaughter and Ron Northey yesterday, Chapman deviated from his Sunday plan for the first time this season. Heretofore, he had saved Schoolboy Rowe and Emil (Dutch) Leonard for Sunday.

After Heintzelman held the Cards to nine hits in the opener to beat them 6-3 Raffensberger really applied the coupe de grace by blanking the Cards through 12 innings to win the nightcap 1-0 from Al Brazle. Raffensberger allowed only nine hits and did not give up a pass.

Castoff Beats Cards

The second game was decided when Lloyd Waner, former Cardinal, singled to score Howie Schultz who had singled and advanced to second on a wild pitch. The opener was Murry Dickson's sixth successive loss.

Boston Braves retained their half game edge over New York Giants by splitting a double header with the Reds in Cincinnati, winning the second game behind Red Barrett, 3-1 after Ewell Blackwell of the Reds had outpitched Mort Cooper in the opener 2-1.

After Pittsburgh Pirates had overcome a 6-1, New York lead in the opener to win 8-6, the Giants came back to take the abbreviated seven-inning nightcap 11-6 to retain second place. Frankie Gustine, flashy Pirate third sacker, was the big gun of the opener. His two-run homer highlighted a four-run eighth inning and his double scored the tying and winning runs in the Giants, first baseward, switching his first full game for the Giants. Ernie Lombardi's home run, each with two men on base to offset Hank Greenberg's sixth home run for the Pirates in the afterpiece.

Dodgers Beat Cards

Although Jackie Robinson went hitless for the second time in 15 consecutive games, the Dodgers ended a skein of 18 scoreless innings by tallying four times in the seventh to down the Cubs 4-3 before a record Chicago crowd of 46,572. Joe Hatten was awarded the nod over Johnny Schmitz in a southpaw duel.

Bobby Feller made his first start of the season at Yankee stadium a success by handing back New York Yankees 5-3. In gaining his fifth victory against three setbacks, Feller had to be assisted by Steve Gromek in the ninth.

Scoring two runs in the ninth inning of each game, Chicago White Sox took the measure of Washington's Senators twice in the Capitol City 4-3 and 3-2. Thurman Tucker's double brought in the two runs in the opener, while singles by Tucker and Luke Appling accounted for the winning runs in the nightcap.

ETTEN SMASHES THREE HOME RUNS AS BEARS WIN

Waived Out of Major League After New York and Phillies Give Up on Him

(By The Associated Press)

Nick Etten, waived out of the major leagues after being New York Yankees and Philadelphia Phillies gave up on him, has started his comeback campaign in the International League at 32.

Making his first appearance with Newark Bears, the Yanks' Farm Club, the left-handed slugger smashed three home runs in a double-header against the league-leading Jersey City Giants.

Etten smashed two into the stands in the Bears' first game romp after the Giants had they plastered previously unbeaten Manny Gooding with his first loss after six straight wins, 8-6. Subsequently, in the second game Yankee, kept pace with Etten in the opener, hitting two home runs and Bill Rogers, ex-Phillie and Al Clark each added one. Rogers, 21-year-old pitching attack, Marius Russo failed to last, requiring relief from Duane Pillette and Alex Mustakas.

Bill Emerich tossed a three-hitter Sunday afternoon in the second game and was robbed of a shutout by Etten's circuit clout in Layton's single in the sixth was the only hit against Herb Karpel as the Little Giants cleaned matters 4-1.

Buffalo checked off Toronto twice, 3-2 and 4-1, but missed sweeping from the series by 10 percentage points. Veteran Les Mueller pitched his first complete game victory in the Cubs' tilt, nosing out Jim Konstanty, and Ernie Koy came up only four hits, including Ed Levy's homer, in the second game.

HAL CHASE DIES IN CALIFORNIA

By DICK CUSHING

Colusa, Calif., May 19—(AP)—Hal Chase, probably the greatest fielding first baseman of all time, died yesterday.

"Prince Hal," whose brilliant career in the majors ended under the cloud of the "Black Sox scandal" of 1919, twice was in a coma for 36 hours during his lengthy illness, but twice he rallied. The third strike put him out.

Chase was 58, and a pathetic figure from a kidney ailment, heart trouble and complications of old age.

With New York Yankees, Chase was the most agile, quick-thinking first sacker baseball had ever produced. He had an uncanny way of sensing the batter's intention and roved over a wide area, even stumbling pop fouls behind the catcher. He was a wizard on a bunt.

Chase concluded his major league career in 1919 with the New York Giants. He was 37 then, a veteran of 15 seasons in a world series.

Chase was not accused of being involved in the "Black Sox scandal" but later he admitted he had advance knowledge that the 1919 World Series between Chicago White Sox and Cincinnati Reds had been "fixed."

"Sure, I knew about that," Chase said not long ago. "But I was no squealer."

PITCHING AND BATTING STARS

Battinf, Erzle Lombardi, Giants —Slammed two home runs, each with two men aboard to lead New York to a 11-6 second game triumph and split with Pittsburgh who won first 7-6.

Pitching, Ken Raffensberger, Phillies — Blanked the Cards 1-0 in 12-inning nightcap, yielding only nine hits and walking none to help Philadelphia sweep doubleheader, the Phils taking the opener 6-3.

OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

Softball will get officially under way in Belleville city on Wednesday next when the Belleville Canning Company go to bat for the season with a double-header at the Alemite Field. There will be official opening ceremonies with civic officials participating and all the trimmings.

Belleville Bankers will start the ball rolling at 6:15 in the first part of a double-header and will meet Whiten's Dairy. In the second of the show Belleville Foundries will clash with Elliott's Service Station. On May 31, Thursday, another game between Sheridan's Billiards and the Intergrain Co. will start on the same field at 6:30.

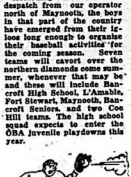
According to a couriered despatch from our operator north of Belleville, Ont., boys in that part of the country have organized a club and the loos long enough to organize their baseball activities for the coming season. Seven teams will cavort over the northern diamonds come summer, whenever that may be and these will include Bancroft High School, L'Amable, Fort Stanton, Marmouth, Bancroft Seniors, and two Coe Hill teams. The blue ribbon will be made to enter the OBA juvenile playdowns this year.



And in a special despatch our northern baseball courier du-bolo tells the remarkable story of how the baseball season was officially ushered in last week.

• • •

It appears a "few of the old men of baseball got the fever last week" and with the aid of a half dozen bulldozers, a shovel brigade, seventeen trucks, forty-eight shovels, and a brace of flamethrowers cut a fourth their way through a howling snowstorm to play a game with the Detlor squad.

• • •

Trenches were dug in the snow and the baselines with each sack marked with a blazing bonfire. Umpires were ski-equipped while the fielders were padded with snowshoes. Other fires were built along the baseparths for the comfort of the team supporters and the odd Eskimo who drifted around to see the quaint while men indulge in the queer sport.

• • •

Four hundred and thirty-two baseballs were used in the game as the pellets were driven deep into the snowbanks when hit to the field. As the game progressed and the snow slowly melted, the baseballs turned into rivers of water water fowers necessitating the suspension of hostilities until the players donned skates. Finally the supply of wood ran out and the game ended with the Bancroft team holding a six-three lead.

Here's one record that you may want to take a crack at when time hangs heavy on your hands. W. Franks, on August 2, 1934, in Newcastle (N.S.W.) Australia made 583,000 revolutions with Indian clubs in 80 hours. He made no stops. Just kept on swinging for 3 full days and 8 extra hours. He averaged over 122 revolutions per minute.

The U.S.A. regained the Walker Cup on Saturday when its players scored five victories out of six singles matches at the famous St. Andrew's Golf Links in, Scotland, against the cream of British golfers.... Faultless, the stretch-running colt for the Calumet Stable looks like the three-year-old of the year. It topped the Whitters' mile at Belmont Park on Saturday to reap a neat $25,000 for its owner.... Brabancon was second with Stage Kid, third.... Jet Pilot couldn't get his derby rookets firing and finished the same as in the Preakness, fourth....Montreal boxing bigwigs are of the opinion Johnny Greco's second victory over Danny Webb on Friday to start off a quiet, early-round KO campaign for La Greco and an early entrance to Madison Square Gardens.

Canada's first daily double of the year paid off handsomely at the Woodbine track on Saturday when two long-shots combined to return $5,195.00 each to nine lucky ticket holders.... Winner of the first race was Lovely Fox which returned $54.80 on a straight ticket and in the second, Air Cadet made a platter on his nose forth $44.10....Aside to Herbit Hunt "Your mushball paraphernalia now reposes peacefully in Ed. No word of the Belleville Softball Association scheduled yet ....The C.N.R. Vets squad is practising faithfully for the Peterborough tournament Sat. next....The 200-buck first base prize looks juicy, although the boys modestly admit they'll settle for the 2nd of $100.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Stan Musial, Cardinals—Made two singles in nine times at bat against Phillies who won both ends of double header 6-3 and 1-0. His safe bunt in the seventh inning of the nightcap was his first hit in 12 times up.

Hank Greenberg, Pirates — Slammed a home run and two singles and walked three times in nine times up and batted in five runs in split with Giants.

Jackie Robinson, Dodgers — Went hitless in four official times at bat breaking his 15-game hitting streak, but Dodgers won over Cubs 4-3.

Mickey Vernon, Senators — Got two singles in six times at bat as Senators bowed twice to Chicago White Sox.

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Montreal, May 19, (CP)— If there was any doubt that the boys in the National Hockey League don't play for keeps, it was effectively quelled when Frank Selke returned from the western exhibition series between Montreal Canadiens and an N.H.L. all-star squad headed by Detroit's Jack Adams.

"You know, hockey is a game you can't play without running a temperature," Selke told Baz Montreal Star) O'Meara.

He said that Coach Dick Irvin of Canadiens and Adams were pretty icy to each other and merely waved goodbye when they parted.

Irvin, the fiercely competitive type who wouldn't own a dictionary with the word defeat in it, thought Adams was playing it too seriously, Pudgy Jack, on the other hand, squaked about the referees and Canadiens Elmer Lach and Kenny Mosdell, so new and neutral officials were taken on at Tacoma, Wash.

Selke said that in those games there was as much tension as in the Stanley Cup series.

Rahid fans of Toronto Maple Leafs out west gave Maurice Richard a tough ride for his part in the stick-slashing tirades of the cup final, but the Rocket kept shaking the pain regularly and wound up as the leading scorer, ahead of Chicago's Max Bentley.

The teams staged one good donnybrook, and after they played at New Westminster, B.C., the squads stayed strictly in hostile camps ,the Canadiens general manager told Baz.

Irvin's Softer Slide

Though Irvin played for a winning streak in the ice, brawls of the players when he thought they didn't exert themselves, enough, he was human enough away from the rink.

While at Vernon, B.C., the teams visited a school after an afternoon game there and Irvin happened to look through the window and saw a little girl crying at her desk. Dick found she was being punished by staying inside while the others were meeting the players, so he fixed that.

He brought in all the players, who wrote their autographs in her scribbler. She wound up with more names than any of the others, Baz reports happily.

RAT FINNED BY ARROW

Chatham, May 17 — (CP) — Thirteen-year-old Allan Donaldson pinned a rat to the ground with an arrow as it ran across his garden. The young Robin Hood's first shot passed through the rat's head.

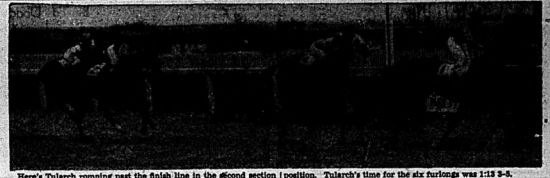
L.Leonforte (1) was a photo-finish winner over Tregaron (6) in the first division of the King's Plate trial at Woodbine Park Saturday. Third was Victory Chimes (5). Also shown is Curly J (9), which finished fourth. The picture, taken just after the finish and from an angle, does not show a margin for Leonforte. The plate trail, at six furlongs, was in preparation for the King's Plate, mile and an eighth feature of the spring racing season to be run at Woodbine next Saturday.



Here's Tularch romping past the finish line in the second section of the Plate trial. Second is Moldy (4), with Florist (2) in third position. Tularch's time for the six furlongs was 1:13 3-5.

SEABISCUIT DIES OF HEART ATTACK

Ukiah, Calif., May 19 (AP)—Charles S. Howard's mighty Seabiscuit, once the greatest money winner of the American turf, died of a heart attack Saturday midnight at Howard's Ridgewood ranch where he has sired 100 colts since his retirement in 1940. He was 14 years old.

A life-sized bronze statue of the horse will be placed over his grave on the ranch.

In 1938 as a three-year-old he won $328,995, and by 1940 he had accumulated $437,730, an earning record until surpassed by Whirlaway with $561,161.

He ended his racing career by winning the $100,000-added Santa Anita Handicap. That triumph which had eluded him twice before by a mere nose, enabled him to exceed Sun Beau's previous high earnings mark of $376,774.

Heavy Earthquake

New York, May 17 — (AP) — Seismologists here and at Weston, Mass., said today they had recorded an earthquake of considerable intensity and one spokesman placed the centre of the disturbance in the Solomon Islands, 8,600 miles from New York.

Instruments of the Boston College seismograph station at Weston recorded the quake at 3:36 a. m. EDT with evidence of the disturbance continuing for about 4 hours.

TULARCH HORSE TO BEAT IN KING'S PLATE

Wins Trial Purse Easily; Leonforte, Owned by Coleman, Wins Second Division

Toronto, May 19 (CP)—Turf goers today had solid facts to aid in their search for a probable winner of the 88th renewal of the classic King's Plate next Saturday—and the facts were that Tularch was the horse to beat.

Tularch, owned by C. George McCullagh, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail, was an easy winner of the second division of the Plate trial. Winner of the first division was Leonforte, owned by the Bruside Stable operated by Jim Coleman, sports columnist of the same newspaper.

A third horse emerged as a likely split favorite with Tularch for the Plate, in Herbert Lahman's Kenlee which finished fifth behind Tularch but was going better than any other horse, way on the outside at the finish.

The Plate trials were run at six furlongs, whereas the King's Plate itself calls for mile and an eighth. Both divisions of the Plate trial carried $2,500 added, while the Plate proper next Saturday has $10,000 added.

Tularch's victory was impressive. The McCullagh colt broke on top, easily held a lead of two lengths or better all the way and crossed the wire running easily, in 1, 13 2/5, a full second faster than Leonforte. The Oshawa Parkwood Stable's Moldy took second by a neck over Medway Stable's Florist.

An opening-day crowd of around 25,000 saw the races in fine but chilly weather. They were treated to a daily double which paid $2,195 for the few lucky holders of a ticket combining winners of the first and second races—Lovely Fox which paid $54.80 for $2 in the first, and Air Cadet at $44.10 in the second.

The King's plate winner of a year ago, Parkwood Stable's fine four-year-old Kingarvie, placed second to Mrs. G. McKinken's Magpie in the day's other feature, the $1,700-added Highlands handicap.

CHAPTER 19

Definitely, Gay had decided, she would never marry. Not after what she had seen happen to April and so many of her other friends. Gay much-preferred being an old maid companion to a young girl, than a broken hearted wife.

One cold February day Hill took Kenny to the hospital to see his mother. Dr. Malcolm would not give his consent before, fearing the excitement would be too much for April.

Because Kenny was going to be in his father's car, Cherry had dressed him in corduroy overalls and the new leather trimmed zipper jacket Hill had bought for him. The new costume made him look inches taller, together with the fact that he was losing his baby plumpness and beginning to get long legged and boyish.

April's head was turned toward the door when Kenny and Hill appeared, because she had been waiting impatiently for them to arrive. Kenny had been told by his father that he must be quiet because his mother was very ill. When April held out her arms to her son he ran to her wordlessly, and she gathered him to her with a little sob of joy.

"Oh, darling," she choked, "how you've grown! Why you're not a baby at all any more, are you?"

Kenny did not answer, but clung to her, and he knew he was trying very hard not to cry.

[She kissed him over and over again, while Hill stood watching the scene with his own eyes blurred.

Suddenly Kenny released his mother, remembering his father was there too and pulling away he ran and took Hill's hand and said is his bird like voice:

"Daddy is here too, Mommy! See, Daddy came to see you too!"

"Hello, Hill," April held out her hand, her eyes still filled with tears. "How are you?"

Hill went to her and bent to take her outstretched hand. He could no speak. Kenny looked from his father to his mother with worried, pleading eyes and then he asked in a little embarrassed voice:

"Can't you kiss Daddy because we deovered him, Mommy? Can't you?"

"April reached up and put her arms around Hill and he kissed her tenderly on the pale cheek. She kissed his brow and said with an effort to be gay:

"Of course I can kiss Daddy, and he can kiss me, see!"

Kenny's mouth parted in a wide relieved grin and April saw the two front teeth he had lost while she was in the hospital.

"Oh, darling," she laughed shakily, "How different you look without your teeth!"

"They're coming back in again, Mommy." Kenny opened his mouth and pointed to two small white points peeping through. "But they're not gold. Isn't that too bad? My clothe said, if I was a very good boy and kept my dirty fingers out of my mouth I'd get gold ones. But I guess she just didn't know what she was talking about."

"Maybe," Hill smiled, sitting down in the chair beside the bed and taking Kenny on his lap," you didn't keep your dirty fingers out of your mouth. Did you ever think of that?"

The chair was close enough to the bed so Kenny could lean over and put his head close to his mother's face. He caressed her tenderly, patting her hair and touching his own pink face close to hers.

"I've missed you, Mommy," Kenny told her, his chin quivering. "Very much. Hy'cinthe said you had gone on a personal appearer tour so people could see how beautiful you are, but I knew something was wrong because Cherry and Aunt Gay and Hy'cinthe cried. Daddy told me 'bout your accident today. Does it hurt you very much, Mommy?"

"Oh, no," April assured the worried child quickly, "they're just keeping me here to rest. My leg was hurt but it's going to be fine in a little while. And I'll be home good as new. You'll see."

Hill looked away so that April could not see the fear in his eyes. How would she take it he wondered when she learned the doctors believed she would never walk again?

April was surprised and greatly moved at the change in Hill. He was pounds thinner, and his face was drawn and pale. She had never seen him look anything but rugged and in the best of health.

"Have you been eating too many eggs again, Daddy?" she asked smiling the charming maternal smile that Hill had always loved so much. "You're looking a little yellow around the gills again."

Hill shook his blond head grinning feebly. "No, my dear. It isn't ham and eggs this time. And it isn't anything I drank."

Between the lines April read what he was trying to tell her, that he had been worried. Hill stirred restlessly.

"I guess you understand without my telling you, darling, how sorry I am that you've had to go through all of this. Don't let the fact that I've stayed away fool you."

"Of course I won't, Hill," she said, "I knew you weren't staying away from the hospital because you were indifferent. I understood."

Kenny looked from his mother to his father with large, inquiring eyes and then he smiled:

"You and Daddy are very good friends, aren't you, Mommy? We can still be good friends even if we did deevorce, Daddy, can't we? Daddy and I are awful good friends. We play golf and go to the movies and Daddy helps me with my home work. Aren't we, good friends, Daddy?"

Hill said, embarrassed: "You just bet we're good friends, son. We're better pals than we've ever been."

April did wish there were some way she could stop Kenny from talking about the ex-way "they" had divorced daddy. But she felt she couldn't bring the subject up at that moment, Kenny thought they had both divorced his father because Hill no longer lived with them. It wouldn't be easy to explain and make him understand.

"I'm so glad," she smiled then, "that you and Daddy have been together, so much, I know you've been having wonderful times. Tell Mommy all about it."

Kenny laughed delightedly: "Daddy is really teaching me how to play golf, Mommy. I got some new golf clubs, and I practice down on the shuffler board court. "Don't we, Daddy?"

"We certainly do, son," his father said. "And when the weather gets nice and you don't have to go to school you're going to start taking regular golf lessons. I'll make a golf prodigy out of you yet."

"What's a prodigy?"

"A champ. You can take lessons at my golf school when it opens."

April said: "Your golf school?" Hill nodded. Hasn't anyone told you I'm going into business? I'm turning pro. I've raised some capital and I'm opening a golf club and school on The Stiller estate at Green Acres. We'll be open in a few weeks now. It's as soon as the weather is right."

"How nice!" April exclaimed. "I think that's wonderful!"

Hill said seriously: "Yes, it's keeping me pretty busy. I haven't had much time for anything else. I've been getting members lined up, and scouting around looking for pupils. I've got a job getting the building set. I'm a hard working man."

April's face mirrored both astonishment and pleasure. Kent went on:

"There'll be money in it, I think. I'm splitting fifty-fifty with my backers. They have influence, too, and I can't see how we can lose. It's to be called the Kenny Hillyer school of Golf. They put up the money and use my name for bait. I do the work."

April said excitedly:

"Why Hill, that's the best news I've ever heard. How grand that you're to have a business of your own. And something you love to do. Oh, I do wish you luck!"

Hill smiled crookedly: "Thanks, darling. If I'd had any brains I'd have started the thing when we first came to New York."

Suddenly April's expression changed. She said suspiciously

Drusilla is backing you, I suppose."

Hill looked annoyed, then he smiled unwillingly.

"No. Dru doesn't even know about it. It's a deal one who doesn't want his name used."

Hill couldn't tell April that it was Dru Malcolm because it would entail a lot of explaining which he wasn't in a position to do. If he did, April would find out that he was paying her bills at the hospital.

April laughed apologetically. "Oh, forgive me, Hill. I shouldn't have said that. I guess it was the green eyed monster rearing it's ugly head. Of course I might have known better than that. You do forgive me?"

Hill nodded: "I forgive you. Your jealousy flatters my ego. I rather like it."

April asked then: "If you haven't told Dru about the golf school I presume you're not married yet?"

Kenny had climbed down and was looking out the window at the traffic below. He did not hear his mother's question. Hill's jaw hardened.

"No," he said shortly. "I'm not married."

"We won't talk about it," April said soothingly. "I just wondered."

A little later April's day nurse came to the door. "I'm sorry," she smiled, "but I'm afraid we'll have to send the family home. We don't let Miss Lind get too tired."

Kenny turned from the window. "Miss Lind is my aunt Cherry," he said, "And she isn't here. My Mommy's name is Mrs. Hillyer. I guess you made a mistake."

The nurse smiled. "Oh, pardon me. I guess I did. Well, Mrs. Hillyer it's time for an alcohol rub and a bath."

Hill started to help Kenny with his zipper jacket but he said resentfully:

"I'm no sissy, Daddy! Nobody has to dress me. I guess your-for-get I'm a big boy."

Hill grinned: "Yes, I guess I do, son. You'll soon be as big as I am."

Kenny offered innocently: "Aunt Cherry is afraid I'm going to look like you Daddy. And do you know I don't think she likes you very much. She said 'to heavens sake, Hy'cinthe, the little goon looks more like that big dope ever' dan I do big dope last very. nice, is it, Mommy?"

April's face colored. The nurse April, and busied herself at a table. Hill grinned uncertainly. April held Kenny close, trying not to show how hard it was to part from him after such a little while. She whispered close in his ear:

200 Employees And Management Enjoy Banquet

Dunnville, Ont., May 19 (CP) —Before some 450 employees and the management of Dunnville Knitting Mills here at a banquet sponsored by the company and supplied by staff workers, Lieut.-Col. Alexander Ross, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor condemned critics of organized labor.

He said the purpose of unions "was not to destroy industry but to help make industry strong in order that it might be properly equipped to supply the country's needs in time of war."

He lauded the "same attitude"

Cruelly Burned Girl in Hospital After Long Trek

Gander, Nfld., May 19—(CP)—Dr. James Paton, superintendent of the Banting Memorial Hospital here, announced today that Lena Blais, 28, brought here by canoe, sled, boat and plane from the Labrador border hinterland, is suffering third-degree burns but there is every hope for her recovery."

He said Miss Blais suffered the burns on her body and legs in the explosion and fire yesterday of a gasoline tent she was using in a remote lumber camp.

Miss Blais started her long trek to hospital in a canoe which French - Canadian lumberjacks used to portage past water falls and steer through dangerous rapids. She was finally transferred to a United States Coast Guard air ambulance for the last leg of the flight to this base.

The aircraft, based at Argentia, Nfld., failed in its first attempt to intercept scarlet-clad woodsman and her guides nearly 2,000 miles when its mercy mission finally was completed.

When the girl was buried in a lumber camp on the Eskimo River she was in a coma. Her scrub-forest near the Quebec border and was bundled up in blankets and oilskins against the cold and flying spray and in the rough waters of wind-swept bays started their 50-mile journey to the coast.

Before shooting two boiling stretches of rapids, they packed the canoe with its injured passenger on their backs and slithered along the banks on a waterfall portage.

The girl had been taught to "rough it" by her father, A. Blais Canadian Government Telegraph, who lives at Roberval, Que. Her uncle, whose call for help was relayed through Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia wireless stations to Newfoundland then by telephone to Gander near the Eskimo River mouth.

At Fortcest Bay scanty hospital equipment was put aboard to treat her injuries.

Shortage Building Materials Worries Highways Dept. With Millions to Spend

By JIM KEARNEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, May 19 —(CP)— The Ontario Department of Highways is currently suffering much the same type of mental anguish known to the wartime housewife, who with money to spend, could not find the refrigerators, washing machines and other household appliances on which she wanted to lavish that cash.

With a $53,000,000 appropriation for this year, the Department would like to build at least 80 heavy bridges to replace structures presently performing duties far beyond the call of their original duty.

"But well be lucky if we build 10 bridges," says J. D. Millar, Deputy Minister of Highways for the province, recalling that in 1946 the Department called for tenders on eight bridges, received bids on five finished with only two being built.

Can't Get Lumber

"We can't get seasoned lumber for forms," he continued. "There are no nails to put forms together. And if we had the nails we couldn't get enough cement to pour into them. Add to this fact that where we would normally use 30,000 tons of steel this year, we can only get 3,000 tons."

Mr. Millar says Ontario's most pressing highway need is new and heavier bridges.

"More than 50 per cent of the bridges in the province are insufficient for the loads they are called on to carry," he said. "By engineering theory many have long ceased to exist. That is, a bridge designed to carry 10 tons with safety factor of four-making it absolute failing strength 40 tons—should no longer be in position if a load of 50 tons went over it. In the words of a well-known bridge designer, such bridges are only carrying out, fic 'by force of habit.'"

72,852 Miles Roads

However, there are 72,852 miles of Ontario roads to eat up that $53,000,000. Of these the Department of Highways directly maintains 10,650 miles and contributes from 50 to 80 per cent of the cost of maintaining the remainder, which are mostly county and township roads.

Biggest project this summer is completion of grading on the 50-mile Trans-Canada Highway, an extension of the four-lane, seal-coated access Queen Elizabeth Way which starts at Fort Erie on the United States border. Designed to ease congestion on the present highway north of Toronto, the new thoroughfare will remain a travel road until paving materials are available.

However, some paving is to be done this year on an 18-mile stretch of the new highway road into Oshawa.

New projects include the building of a highway over the muskeg of northwestern Ontario into Red Lake, 72 miles north of Kenora, and the continuation of the road from Matheson into the new mining area of Lightening River, 960 miles north of Toronto.

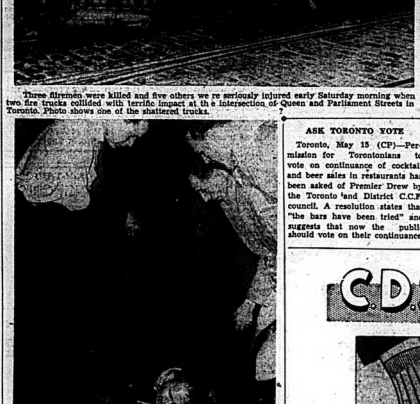
And in another project the Department of Highways will join hands with the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, Mr. Millar said.

This will be a two-fold task, involving a 13-mile diversion of Highway 17 and also the railroad tracks running parallel to it in the Ottawa Valley near Deep Joachims, because a projected power development will flood a portion of the present road and part of the railway.

NURSE'S DUTIES ON BORDER

Toronto, May 16 —(CP)— A nurse of Forteau Hospital, on the border of Canada and Labrador, must be prepared to do everything from delivering babies to doctoring cattle, Miss Ella Hewitt, on furlough from the hospital, told the Grenfell Labrador Medical Mission at their annual meeting. Miss Hewitt worked alone, the nearest doctor being 300 miles away.

Three firemen were killed and five others we re seriously injured early Saturday morning when two fire trucks collided with terrific impact at th e intersection of Queen and Parliament Streets in Toronto. Photo shows one of the shattered trucks.



With face twisted in pain, a gravely injured fireman lies in the street a few moments after the crash of two reels at a Toronto intersection early Saturday morning. Man removes his coat to place over victim until arrival of ambulance.

ASK TORONTO VOTE

Toronto, May 15 (CP)—Permission for Torontonians to vote on continuance of cocktail and beer sales in restaurants has been asked of Premier Drew by the Toronto and District C.C.F. council. A resolution states that "the bars have been tried" and suggests that now the public should vote on their continuance.

Merritt Outlines Three Main Jobs Of Canadian Legion

Kitchener, May 19 —(CP)— Lieut. Col. Cecil Merritt, Y.C., Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Vancouver Burrard and yesterday the three main jobs of the Canadian Legion are to foster Canadian unity, guard Canada's defence and work for the returned man and the community.

He was addressing delegates at a district C Canadian Legion meeting.

"If we have learned any lesson out of the war," Col. Merritt said, "it is that when Canadians get together with a single mind for a single purpose there is no obstacle we cannot overcome."

He told members the influence they exercised in their branches was felt in Ottawa and endorsement by the Legion of any project for veterans carries great weight.

The delegates charged in a resolution that Ontario Premier Drew had broken a promise made at the last election that would have given veterans Civil Service preference through a commission. Instead, the resolution said, appointments are being made by local political committees.

In another resolution they asked for adequate market training with the Dominion government to bear the full cost.

F. W. Miller of Goderich, was elected district commander. He succeeds Gordon Thompson of Kitchener. Harold Gellatly of Kitchener was re-elected secretary.

Newspapers Draw 44 P.C. Rating From Convention

Windsor, May 19 (CP)—The day of "the intelligent seller's market" is over, Don Henshaw, Public Relations Officer of a large Toronto Advertising Agency told the 45th annual meeting of the International Affiliation of Sales and Advertising Clubs here Saturday.

In an address se hald that false wartime sales stimulus had ended "and we now must concentrate on what we can do in selling." He condemned the suggestion that wartime price levels were normal and that peacetime conditions represented "depression".

It was announced that a survey made during the three-day convention showed a majority of the 500 delegates newspapers the best media, both for attaining results and public relations promotions.

Newspapers drew a 44-per-cent rating from the convention, fol-ers, 18 per cent; radio, 16 per cent and magazines, six per cent.

Margaret Brown of Toronto, associate editor of Marketing, told the I.A.S.A.C. convention's final business session that women like to be "sold" on market values and to be given explanations for price increases.

She advocated more store mailing lists, especially for customers of long standing.

Saying that she did not accept the current suggestion of "return to old prices," Miss Brown said there is too much emphasis on price and not enough on explaining the "why" of prices.

600 Persons Leave Cape Breton For Jobs in Ontario

Sydney, N.S., May 19. (CP)—More than 600 persons have left industrial Cape Breton this year for jobs in Ontario, Quebec and other sections of the Maritimes and indications were today that the flow would be stepped up.

National Selective Service officials said requests had been received for more than 500 additional workers. In addition, 45 young men entrained during the weekend to accept jobs with the Massey Harris Company at Brantford, Ont., another 45 will leave today 45 next Saturday and the same number May 26.

The first group of 45 left Sydney several weeks ago but departure of the remaining groups was delayed by a strike in one section of the Massey Harris plant.

Despite the exodus, about 6,000 unemployed still are registered on Cape Breton Island. The Maritimes have a total of 50,000 persons out of work.

Among the latest requests received by N.E.S. here were three from Imperial Iron Workers and McKinnon Industries of St. Catharines, Ont., 50 men each, and Bryce Construction Company of Long Lac, Ont., 50 men. Representatives of the McKinnon firm will screen applicants today.

Selective Service Manager T. L. Connolly said "little difficulty" was anticipated in filling a request for 100 farm laborers for Southern Ontario. Other farm help was required in various maritime areas, he added.

The exodus is expected to reach its peak during June.

Many of those who have left Cape Breton are young coal miners made jobless by the Maritime Mine strike and youths from the Sydney Steel Mills laid out as a result of curtailment of plant operations.

FROBE WATERS NEAR COBOURG

Cobourg, May 16 — (CP) —Police probed the waters of Pratt's Pond near here last night following a report of an all slick on top of the water. A tow truck pulled a cable with large hook attached and although contact was made with some large object, they were unable to get it to the surface. Dragging will be continued today.

Truman's Mother Seriously Ill With Tired Heart

Grandview, Mo., May 19 (AP) —President Truman remained in constant touch today with his 94-year-old mother in her struggle for life against the inelicacy of a "very tired and weak heart."

Mrs. Martha E. Truman began "slipping" yesterday afternoon after an unexpected rally Sunday morning and the President made no plans for returning to Washington today.

The President looked tired and worn as he walked into his hotel last night at Kansas City, 17 miles away, from a constant vigil at his mother's bedside.

The weight of his despondency was apparent even in his walk. Scarcely 12 hours earlier he had greeted reporters with the cheering news that his mother was doing well, that she had rallied during Saturday night.

All he could say this time was that she was "resting all right," or doing well enough for him to try to catch up on his own sleep.

APPROVE V.D. FILM SHOWING

St. Catharines, May 16 —(CP) —Board of Education last night approved the showing of venereal disease prevention films in the health classes at the St. Catharines Collegiate. Board members pointed out that St. Catharines was one of the few Ontario communities which was not showing such films. They will be included in next year's course.

Five U.S. Airmen Killed When Plane Crashes at Windsor

Terrific Rain Storm Sweeps Area Shortly Before Accident

By GEORGE RONALD
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Windsor May 20 (CP)—A smoldering plowed field two miles south of here was roped off today while officials searched for clues explained fiery crash of an American Military airplane with its five occupants, Dover, a radius of 100 yards was scattered debris of the American Army transport which had been carrying five men from Wright Field at Dayton, Ohio, to Selfridge Field, Mich. near neighboring Detroit.

At Dayton army authorities identified the three officers and two non-commissioned officers killed in the crash shortly after 10:15 p.m. EDT.

The bodies were mangled beyond recognition but identification was made through flight records at Wright Field. The men were listed as:

Lieut. William C. Reilly, 24, Milwaukee.

Lieut. Raymond L. Berke, 26, San Diego, Calif.

Lieut. Milton D. Cunningham, 24, Centralia, Ill.

Sgt. Fred H. Zempter, 29, Sctotville, O.

Sgt. John H. Kennedy, 40, Lewisburg, W. Va.

They were travelling to make observations connectional for air shows throughout the United States, to acquaint the public with the work of forces in search and development.

A terrific rain storm swept the border area for hours before the crash. Residents of the district terrified by the roar of a low-flying plane's motors. The time of the crash was fixed by authority established, and it was not raining at that time.

Whatever the cause, the twin-motored transport smashed into the open cultivated field 1,500 yards from the St. Mary's Academy for boys and girls, and burst into flames. One engine and parts of the instrument panel were buried eight feet in the muddy earth.

Two parachutes were found, partly opened—two men had jumped to safety.

Mrs. Clarence Langlois who lives a mile from the scene said she heard a plane's motor "absolutely roaring" at 10.10. "Then I heard a crash. I was in the house so badly that I thought it had hit the house."

She ran out of the house with her husband, and noticed it was not raining then. "We walked down the road and all of a sudden there was a flash of light ning and Clarence said he could see wreckage. We walked across the field to it and then I saw parts of bodies, and my husband sent me home."

The plane had taken off from Wright Field at 7:56 p.m. and was due at Selfridge at 10.15. Wright Field officials said today suggested the crash was a result of the combination of low ceiling, poor visibility and turbulent air conditions.

Fire officials, who set up floodlights to aid the all-night search of the wreckage, said there was no fire aboard the plane.

Ambulance, fire equipment and police cars sped to the scene and all of Selfridge Field was warned to be ready to receive the dead and injured when the crash was received. The news spread rapidly and scores of private cars soon clogged the two row roads leading to the spot.

Hundreds of curious men and children wandered aimlessly about the tragic scene before police were able to institute some kind of order. For at least 15 minutes after the crash constables tried unsuccessfully to keep back the crowd as flames spread perilously morbidly in the wreckage. It was not known that any civilians had been taken away by the souvenir hunters.

Television in Same Stage Of Progress Radio Was 15 Yrs. Ago Says Rotary Club Speaker

LT.-COL. WM. STOCKDALE

White television is in the same stage of progress as radio was 15 years ago, Lt.-Col. (Gordon Murdoch) Toronto, one of the speakers at the Rotary Club meeting on Monday predicted that sets would be available in Canada before the end of 1948 from now" at a price ranging between $400 and $1,000.

"Prices, however," he said, "would be ranged on screen size." Television, he said, would take on its infancy as 20,000 sets were in operation. Sixty per cent would be the last war while the United States had 25,000 sets in operation. Windsor, which installed television last week, is the first Canadian city to get it.

But while these sets have been operating for some time, television is still in the experimental stage. There is much to be learned about it yet, Mr. Murdoch said.

See Big Sports Events

He predicted that it would mean a lot to advertising for big manufacturers. Big department stores of the future would, through television, have ground floor windows be able to show merchandise available on fifth and sixth floors and also, Boxing fans paid as high as $100 a seat for the Louis-Conn fight in the future fans will be able to sit in their homes and see the same events. A few $100 tickets would soon pay for the set.

Mr. Murdoch showed in a short motion picture film how television operated in the studio. It also depicted many technical phases, illustrating the mysteries of electrons, tubes and the many electrical devices that go toward the manufacture of cameras, etc.

Spoke on Contributions

Rotarian Arthur Tucker in a brief classification address prior to that of Mr. Philips, spoke on the electrical appliance business, concentrating his remarks on radio. He said there were 1,000,000 usable contributions radio made during the past war, and how it saved many thousands of lives.

Wedding bells, "old more for entertainment than any other single thing in the country. It is used, almost every minute of waking hours while during the war many people were tuned in for operation for 24 hours a day. Millions of dollars are spent every year by large firms in radio advertising."

Rotarian Tucker was introduced by Rotarian Ed. Bernstein, with Mr. Tucker introducing Mr. Murdoch. Mackenzie Robertson acted as programme chairman and collected a handsome sum in fines from delinquent church-goers last Sunday. Club appreciation of the addresses and motion picture was expressed by Rotarian Jack Ireland.

New Clubhouse For Skating Club Being Constructed

Members of the Quinte Skating Club are taking no time in getting their new clubhouse at the corner of Queen and Dufferin underway with the foundation of the building expected to be completed this week, following which erection of walls will follow as quickly as possible.

The new clubhouse will be of one-storey construction, with dimensions of 52 by 25 feet. It will be of concrete block construction with tar and gravel roof and plans call for an exterior finish of stucco on the walls. Cost of the building, which furnishings will be in the neighborhood of $8,000, it was stated.

Although when completed the new clubhouse will be reserved for the use of members of the Quinte Skating and Tennis Club, the building will see various phases of club activity and will be available for social gatherings within the membership.

The new building will sit a long fell want for club members and will be a decided asset to the city. The skating club program throughout the year is a decided source of enjoyment, especially for the younger members.

Helen Palen, Gertrude Alford Natives of City, Presented With King's Counsel Patents

Justice McRuer Makes the Award Before Opening of Court on Monday

An occasion unique in the history of Provincial legal circles was witnessed in Belleville's own Monday afternoon at the opening session of the Supreme Court when the Honourable Mr. Justice McRuer, Toronto, conferred upon two famous Belleville natives the honor of King's Counsel.

Those receiving the patent were Miss Helen Palen, Toronto, assistant registrar of the Supreme Court of Ontario, and Miss Gertrude Alford, Trenton barrister. It was the first time in the history of the province that two women had received the honor. Previous to also the first time the title had been conferred in a Belleville Court. Members of the Quinte District Bar Association were without the body of the court.

"It is with more than ordinary pleasure that I call Miss Alford within the Bar," Mr. Justice McRuer said as he conferred the honor on the two former Belleville women who have distinguished themselves in the legal profession. "You have rendered a great service to the legal profession, to practice as a barrister and solicitor. I now call you within the Bar and extend to you all the privileges of a King's Counsel."

Former Deputy Registrar

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Palen, Miss Palen was former deputy registrar of the Surrogate and County Court for Hastings and it was her experience in this capacity which gave her a taste for law. She went to Osgoode Hall where she also graduated in 1916, later establishing her practice in Toronto. Then in 1928 she was appointed deputy registrar to the Securities Commission and is the holder of the present position as assistant registrar of the Supreme Court.

A sister of Miss Palen, Miss Mary Palen, passed away her death two years ago, was for some years associated with the School of the Deaf in Toronto.

Graduated in 1916

Miss Alford is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Alford. She graduated from Osgoode Hall in 1916 following which she opened an office in Trenton in partnership with Wm. C. Mikel K.C. of Belleville. Since then she has practised continuously in Trenton.

Shortly after Miss Alford was called to the Bar she was the provincial secretary of the Provincial Council, while Miss Palen was the 5th. There are at present seven women King's Counsel in the province.

"My Toronto associates could not understand when they learned I was coming to Belleville to receive my letters patent," laughed Miss Alford, "but after all Belleville was my real home and being its close friend of mine Miss Alford, was only natural that we receive the honor together."

Belleville Bridge Club Holds 'Ladies Night'

The activities of the Belleville Bridge Club for the season were concluded on Monday evening at Kirkland's Centre, when the members entertained the wives who so faithfully supplied the pleasant evenings during the winter months with delightful lunches after play was completed. A committee of Bill Miller, Edgar Rutherford and Frank Donaldson with the convenorship of Ted Hughes and secretary W. B. Vandervoort were in charge of the arrangements. The use of the Centre was kindly granted to the Ontario Club and a contribution was made by the Bridge Club to the Kenneth Fresh Air Fund, so that some underprivileged boy or girl can obtain a holiday at the Ontario Camp at Roblin Lake.

More than 18 tables of bridge were in play and the competition was quite keen the honors among some members of the club. There were three prizes for the men and three for the ladies awarded for each group the winners being, women: Mrs. Harold Hagey, Mrs. Gladys Ward and Mrs. Ethel Lee with Mrs. Pearl Wills collecting the consolation. The men winners were Fred Yelland, Harry Treplor and R. B. Vandervoort with Johnny Hibbard bringing up the rear. At the close of play a delightful buffet luncheon was served by Harry Allan and his efficient staff.

Retail Merchants Adopt Report On Parking Area and Decide To Hold Holiday on Monday

Condition of Federal and County Buildings in City Criticized

The Retail Merchants Division of the Board of Commerce held a sparsely attended two-hour meeting last night adopted a report on the city parking problem; heard an appeal for support of the Canadian Save the Children Fund plan building; a talk on "Courtesy in Business" discussed the May 24 holiday date and decided to close the stores on that day; heard suggestions re "Old Home Week and the County Health Unit, and a sharp criticism of Federal and Provincial government buildings here.

Report Adopted

The report of the special committee on the parking area composed of Messrs. Bryson Leslie and Tommy Chalmers presented to the meeting and which was later adopted carried the following proposals:

(1) That with the consent of the Junior Board of Trade the organization take over the operation of the parking lot from there at present the Junior Board of Trade and Retail Merchants Division are financing the expenses, with the former supervising the operation.

(2) That all alley-ways leading to the parking area on the east side of the river, be definitely designated as "Entries" and "Exits" and signs placed to this effect.

(3) That the area north from the footbridge be cleaned up, where necessary, and 45 degree stalls be marked out and supervised by one man on week-days and two men on Saturdays. It is estimated that this area will accommodate 100 cars.

(4) If possible, the City Council prunes a few feet of the trees from Bridge to Bridge Street.

(5) That the Retail Merchants Division co-operate with the City Council in the operation of the signs made, painted and installed and financed.

(7) That the City Council assign $1,500 per annum from the parking meter revenue for the specific purpose of paying the salaries of the parking lot operators at a suggested rate of $33 per week for the summer season and $4 per day for the Saturday operation.

Alley Ways Too Narrow.

Speaking to his report, Mr. Leslie asked that something be done to widen the parking lot immediately as things were not going as well now as they were last fall and pointed out that the alley ways were too narrow and trucks were damaging walls daily. Traffic jams were occurring almost every day, said Mr. Ford.

Walker Stores, agreed regarding the alley way question, "Bumper, pork," as he termed it, scraping and banging the walls in the alley way next his shop, and "some day the wall might cave in and trapped will occur."

Another member present suggested that one of the main objections to the alley ways was that they were signed as "Exits" could be made one of levelled off to a length of a car at the street end.

Mr. Leslie pointed out that the report had been submitted to the traffic committee of the city council but he had not heard of any action being taken on the matter.

A.S.S. Latimer Heard.

Alderman Bruce Latimer of the city traffic committee told the meeting that the committee had discussed the report and "something will be done real soon about it with regard to the signs at entrances and exits," he said, "the committee recommends that the city designates entrances at those points." He also had responsible for any accident and the insurance carried by the committee. If we got the property off West Bridge Street the problem might be solved, he said. Public Works, he went on, "expect to level the sidewalk between the rear of Mc-Fee's store and Christien's store to the immediate left."

Chairman Harold Seldon who was in the chair for the first part of the meeting deplored the small attendance. The Retail Merchants Division, he said, "was holding numerous meetings and could get something done but it is a heartbreaking job with such little interest shown."

Hard to Appease All

Referring to the question of the closing of stores on Saturday, May 24th, Mr. Seldon said, "We are between the devil and the deep blue sea. Industry wants the Saturday holiday and the merchants want Monday. It is a hard job trying to appease all."

The question of the holiday came up for discussion and the chief criticism of the declaration of Monday closing was that the general public, especially the farmers, was not aware of the fact. It has been suitably advertised, published and there was considerable confusion about town.

Mr. Ford, Walker Stores, was not criticizing the action of the committee in declaring Monday a holiday but the holiday should be held on the date proclaimed by the government. He felt, too, that considerable confusion was apparent due to lack of publicity of the business declaration to close on Monday. He also felt that a committee of seven men should not decide on what date to order the closing.

Decision Unanimous

Messrs. Tucker and Enos David stated that there were no dissenting voices at the committee meeting and it felt the decision was unanimous. Further advertisements, it was pointed out, will be published in the presses this week.

Angus Duffy, Canadian Legion president here outlined the plans, costs, operating expenses and revenues of the proposed new Canadian Legion building to be erected at a cost of $67,000. It was not only a Legion club, but, he pointed out, but a building that would be used by the community service. Total annual income from nine lane ten-pin, bowling counters, banquet rooms, dance hall and the community hall would amount to $10,000 annually while outlay would be around $7,000. He personally endorsed the plan as an individual citizen" he said in urging the support of those present.

Not Sympathetic Interest Claim

He deplored the fact that Belleville as a town was not taking a sympathetic interest in its original veterans. These men need personal interest and the Legion would take over the job. The secretary of any veterans organization is looking to the future and not to the past and the Legion members "to themselves," he said, "are thus far contributed over $4,000 to the fund."

Nick Nicholson, secretary of the Old Home Week Committee urged the inclusion of a mammoth parade of bands and floats during Old Home Week. He quoted other places which have received national publicity through Old Home Week celebrations and urged the support of all to get behind the parade idea.

Mr. David endorsed the parade suggestion and suggested prizes be provided for floats. He then sharply criticized the condition of federal and Provincial government buildings here. The interior of the post office was a disgrace to the community he declared and the last time he was in the building was there was in a deplorable condition."

Hits Government Buildings

"He understood," he said, "that the Federal building was some 30 years ago, had set aside plans to have a federal building erected. It would house all its departments here but nothing had been done. The Provincial Public Works Chambs Division pass a motion requesting the Provincial Conservatory to endorse a petition to the various governments and members to see that action be taken about remedying the situation. He also drew attention of the meeting to the dangerous condition of the road between the Corbin Lick Company and the Bay Bridge. "It is far too narrow and has a sharp inlet and outlet. Something should be done about it."

Mayor Followell Agrees

Mayor Frank Followell agreed with the suggestion that there is some immediate action regarding the Federal building and pointed out that a new Federal building here might have been a reality if war had not intervened. "The government," he said, "has told us to wait for the day but we should keep pressure to bear regarding them." He promised when in Ottawa next week to review the page per parties regarding the matter.

His honor also endorsed the float and parade idea for Old Home Week and requested the Retail Merchants to not only decorate their own premises but business but to head committees for floral decoration and the float parade.

City Endorses Plan

Referring to the County Health Unit, the chief magistrate pointed out that the City of Belleville had endorsed the plan but the city of Trenton had not seen fit to "come in on it," while the County Council last June turned it down. "Trenton is a problem, it is a possibility," he said, "of the county council and the time when the matter comes before it again in the coming June session. The scheme is a good one," he said, "Belleville has approved it and the City Council and the County's approval, and if this carries with it Trenton's approval will come in and we'll take it on together."

Prior to adjournment, Mr. Tucker who took over the chair when Mr. Seldon had to leave, explained the use of the cards issued free regarding itinerant advertising solicitors. He urged all members to secure these cards. Mayor Followell promised the support of all for the current Greek Relief Campaign.

Courtlandt Millard's address on "Courtesy in Business" is reported elsewhere in this edition.

SEVEN DUTCH SHIPS IN PORT

Fred G. Creeggan Appointed Member Education Board

District supervisor of the London, Life Insurance Company at Belleville, Fred G. Creeggan, who 337 Dundas Street East, has been appointed to the Ontario Department of Education to fill the vacancy left by the death of Mr. Hector Dan S. Fetterly. The appointment was made at the regular monthly meeting of the Board on Friday evening.

Coming to Belleville from Picton, Mr. Creeggan had served on the board of education in that centre and has shown a keen interest in educational matters in this city. He was formerly himself as a candidate for at least on the Board of Education at the December elections. Associated with the London Life for many years, Mr. Creeggan was first appointed following the transfer of James Barclay, former district supervisor. Mr. Creeggan is married and has two children attending school and is a member of the local Kiwanis Club.

Supertest Dealers Meet in City

Upwards of sixty dealers of the Supertest Petroleum Corporation Ltd., of the Belleville district enjoyed a banquet and evening supper at the Hotel Quinte over the weekend.

District Supervisor Lloyd Hicks of Belleville acted as chairman for the occasion and extended the greetings of the company to the guests who heard the following address on "Sales and Service" given by guest speaker Harry McLeod, sales manager of the Toronto office of the company.

Also heard in brief addresses were Mr. Hicks and Jack Woods, Supertest representative in this district, who spoke on dealers and their activities in general.

Highlighting the musical part of the program was a saxophone solo by the talented musical family of Billy Grant, Mrs. Grant and Miss Helen Grant. Miss Gena Hicks, one of Belleville's most promising young lady violinists, was heard in several solos.

Forty Families Being Housed At Mountain View

Significant of the fact that the housing situations in Belleville and Trenton is still very acute, living accommodations for approximately 40 families, the heads of which are stationed at Trenton Air Station, is being provided at the Mountain View Air Station.

The former Mountain View building and property school was officially closed March 31, and its personnel transferred to Trenton Air Command. The resulting increase in personnel over-taxed the housing accommodations at both the Trenton with result that several men were compelled to live in apartments or houses in Picton.

The problem is especially acute for married men that authorities decided that after converting several of the buildings at the Mountain View air station into living quarters, that the work proceeded with the result that accommodations are available for approximately 40 families.

It is understood that a bus service between Mountain View and Trenton Air Station will be maintained for men who require this transportation service.

Scientists Observe Eclipse of Sun

Bocaluva, Brazil, May 20 (AP) — A total eclipse of the sun occurred here today in clear weather, which promised success for the preparations of a large group of American scientists gathered at a wooded plateau at Bocaluva to witness the phenomenon.

The eclipse began about 8:22-36 a.m., Eastern Time, and remained in totality three minutes and 42 seconds, and continued in partial phase for about the times(all one hour ahead of eastern time) and were subject to official confirmation.

The eclipse was not visible to the naked eye, however, and a similar observation station at Arasa, 200 miles southeast of Bocaluva, because the sky was cloudy and overcast.

The eclipse was not visible in the northern hemisphere.

73,673,183 HAD RELIGIOUS AFFILIATIONS

New York, May 20 — (AP) — Membership in religious bodies in the United States reached 73,673,-182 at the beginning of 1954, a gain of 1,972,940 over the same time in 1946, the magazine Christian Herald said today. A survey indicated that approximately one half of the country's residents were enrolled formally in some church.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, May 20 (CP)—Prices generally were easier in the early session of the Toronto Stock Exchange today with only slight tendency toward higher than fractional advances. Volume was at a relatively low level and trading was dragged with no features on either the industrial or mining boards.

Volume for the first three hours was 422,000.

Unlike yesterday point changes were confined to fractions, however, Beatty "A" advanced 2 1-2 to 43 1-4.

Mining issues traded selectively with fair support in some of the few instances. Gainers included Bidgood, Buffalo Ankerite, Donez, Gunnar, Hudson, Lakeshore, Lourd court, McIntyre, San Antonio, Sprling.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, May 20. (AP)—A little more short covering and quick-turn buying gave the stock market a selective look today although many leaders were indifferent and closed mixed under those of preceding sessions.

Dealings in the Curb Post sailed slightly after a fairly active opening and extreme gains running to two points or more in Canadian Oils near the fourth hour with a smattering of issues ahead elsewhere.

Ahead at one time or another were Du Pont, General Motors, Boeing, U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Kennecott, American Smelting, Dow Chem., Penn Central and Eastern Air Lines.

Sunday trading, with a gain of 1-2, showed the greatest increase with Canadian issues at mid-day while Dome Mines and Hiram Walker each shoved up 3-8.

Volume at noon was 1,200,000 shares.

In the curb Lake Shore and Giant Yellow Lake each added one-eighth.

HOGS

Toronto, May 20. — (CP) — Grade A 1 dressed bacon hogs were unchanged at $21.35 delivered, unchanged at $21.85 delivered, unchanged at Stratford to farmers $21.85, unchanged at Stratford to farmers $21.85, unchanged at Stratford to farmers $21.85

First Problem for Council

The first problem to be taken up at the inaugural session of the United Nations Trusteeship Council, after arrangements concerning the organization have been decided, is that of formulating questionnaires on which the administering authorities can base annual reports on their trust territories. This procedure is called for under the terms of Article 88 of the Charter of the United Nations, which lays down that the administering authority to make an annual report to the General Assembly upon the political, economic, social, and educational advancement of the inhabitants of each trust territory. Article 86 likewise requires the Trusteeship Council to formulate a questionnaire on which the administering authorities may base uniform reports.

For many years, the United Kingdom Government have submitted annual reports on mandated territories to the Permanent Mandates Commission of the League of Nations. With this experience to profit from, the Government is taking the initiative in submitting to the Secretary-General the first working document to be sent in by any of the Trusteeship Council—an outline indicating the form which the United Kingdom Government suggest the annual reports might take. The outline has been circulated to Council members by the Secretary-General.

The paper was intentionally cast in the form of a skeleton annual report rather than a questionnaire, since it seemed desirable to consider first what kind of annual report should be produced and that afterwards, on that basis, the necessary questionnaire could be drawn up.

The document was conceived primarily as an outline for reporting on British trust territories in Africa. Modifications may thus have to be made to accord with the local circumstances of the other territories.

The paper suggests that, since the trusteeship agreements for the eight territories at present under trust were approved by the General Assembly near the end of last year, the first annual report might cover only the calendar year 1947, plus the few weeks at the end of 1946. In addition, it is proposed that a preface be included giving a short account of the period between the last annual session of the League of Nations, dates Commission of the League of Nations and the placing of the territories under U. N. trusteeship.

The skeleton report has ten main headings, including, among others the chief political events of the year, public finance and monetary system, development of resources and economic services, social services, and advancement of the natives. There are detailed sub-headings covering a wide range of subjects from "method of popular representation" and "conditions of labor" to international trade returns."

Battle of Britain Memorial

An architect who comes from Adelaide, in Australia, Mr. Wylie Watt, told a recent BBC talk spoke of the difficulties that architects working in Britain nowadays have to face. "Being an architect in England is not a bed of roses. If I were to put upon a time I'd be safe to say what materials I wanted, and I could go ahead and design practically anything I liked as my imagination dictated. Now, the materials available are presented to me — and I'm told — 'Here's the material — what can you do with it?' And that's where my headache begins!"

Mr. Todd, who was educated at Prince Alfred College and Adelaide University afterwards studied architecture in the United States and London, served in the Royal Air Force during the war and spent 16 months as a prisoner of war at the famous Stalag Luft III. It is most appropriate that he has been commissioned to design the new St. George's Chapel of Remembrance at the R.A.F. Aerodrome at Biggin Hill, in Kent, which is to be erected in memory of the airmen who fell in the Battle of Britain.

"This Fighter Station," he said, "became world famous at end of the war. I was stationed there in 1943 the Chaplain asked me to design a memorial to the airmen killed and missing since the beginning of the war. Well, I designed the memorial, which was housed in a temporary building for the time being. . . . I never saw the finished result myself, because I left to join my squadron soon after, and later became the unwilling guest of the German Government.

It was always intended that a permanent chapel should replace the temporary building in which the memorial was housed, and as the whole building was destroyed by fire in December, 1946, this destruction has made it imperative that a new home be found. The site of the Chapel is the Ops Room from within the Battle of Britain operations were directed. The actual memorial panels bearing the names of 453 pilots with their squacron crests, include the Royal Australian Air Force pilots in the Battle of Britain. These panels will be fixed on the actual spot where the controllers and plotter watched and directed the pilots engaging the enemy.

The flags and names of all the Dominions, Colonies and nations who took part in the Battle of Britain will be shown on the ceiling panels and also embroidered on the altar cloth around which the memorial panels are placed . . . ."

It is hard to say when the Chapel will be finished, although we hope to complete it within a year, but delays are another of our headaches these days."

Diplomas in Housework

Britain will grant diplomas for proficiency in housework. A national institute for training domestic workers has been opened and has the power of granting diplomas to persons reaching a recognized standard of efficiency. London headquarters has just been formally inaugurated by Mrs. Attlee. Training centres are to be set up in different parts of the country to provide instruction both for women over eighteen and girls under this age.

Getting Garden Ready

Many persons with the land necessary have begun planning their flower garden despite the tardiness of the spring season.

The change of the season brings the urge to marry to lend a helping hand to nature to grow flowers, showing full well how good the harvest will be.

Many a person finds happiness in working in the soil for the instinct to dig and cultivate is inborn after long generations of tilling the soil.

Nature offers a rich bounty and reward in the fruit or produce in due season, in new health and in a new purpose in life.

Thus the primitive instinct and dates back to countless generations ago when cultivation of the soil was the primitive and chief industry of man.

No More Housemaid's Knee!

A three-in-one model of a machine of the type used on H.M.S. Vanguard for the Royal visit to South Africa will be exhibited in the electrical section of the British Industries Fair at Birmingham. Available with a "vacuum" cleaning attachment for after scrubbing, and fitted with a skincer, this appliance combines the functions of a vacuum cleaner for carpets and a suction polisher and scrubber for floors.

After all, writing is an easy art. All you have to do is reduce mighty and intricate efforts of cerebration to simple words that we can all understand says London Free Press.

TEAM PLAY

There are nine men out on the field to play;
Nine men trying their best to win.
But if you are a star, as the papers say,
Who gets the run that your hit brings in?
Yours are the cheers of the happy throng,
But the runs always to the team belong.

The game never goes to a single star.
There are eight in all that he does, to share.
On the score board only two teams there are
And theirs are the runs that are posted there.
And this is true when the game becomes —plain—
It's the team that loses, the team that wins.

It's good to be ranked with the topmost best.
It's good to be hailed for the deeds you've done.
But to sacrifice self is a truer test—
When that is required for the winning run,
For as soon as the final ball is tossed,
The team has won or the team has lost.

JUSTICE MINISTER MOUNTING LABOR

In the Human Rights and Freedoms debate Mr. Ilsley said every step taken by the Government in the espionage inquiry was "legal" as was "clearly established" in the report of the Royal Commission on espionage. The Commission Council was stated that did not carry with the authority of legislation passed by Parliament.

As for the publication of the commission's findings, it was the government's "duty" to circulate that document. Not to circulate it would have been an undemocratic suppression" of information to the public.

Walter Tucker (L—Rosthern) charged that the C.C.F. government of Saskatchewan, through its socialistic legislation was oppression when a government set up a "business nest door," declared it tax-free and then drove out of business a private enterprise firm. It was oppression, he said, that it denied people the right to work.

He felt that as a result of what was happening in Saskatchewan a majority of the people should not have the power to destroy freedom of the press, of education of religion, of assembly and freedom to court hearing, freedom from being arbitrarily detained and freedom from oppression by a government.

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North) said that in addition to the ex-field Freedom of speech and association there was need today for freedom from want and fear.

People would not be free unless they had freedom from unemployment and destitution in their old age.

Eugene Marquis (L—Kamouraska) said the rest of Canada could learn much from Quebec on the question of rights and freedoms. In Quebec the English speaking minority had the same rights as the French-speaking majority.

Letter to the Editor

Polish Veterans Appreciated Classes

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer,
Would you please publish the following letter Re: Night School Classes for Polish Ex-Service Men and Women Veterans held at C. S. No. 20, Thurlow.

About the beginning of 1947 a number of Polish Ex-Service Men were located with various farmers in the Belleville district. Of these men, the Ontario Adult Education Board began a program of classes for the Polish Veterans.

Mr. Earle Webster, assistant director, Kingston, Ont. negotiated plans with Mr. Ross Hall, the Local Employment Office, who made the necessary arrangements with the farmers employed to have the men transported to a convenient central school. Mr. Webster, through the public school inspector for Hastings South, Mr. R. H. Macklem, made arrangements to have the class taught by H. E. Darling at S. S. No. 20, Thurlow.

The following is a list of the names of ten men located in the immediate district of Belleville who were to attend the class:

Mr. Wm. Bielanski, Mr. Adam C. Mitchell; Mr. Julien Barniak, Mr. John Mc. Kowalski, Mr. Jan Was, with Mr. Douglas Martin; Mr. Stanislaw Kozik with Mr. Carman Huffman; Mr. Jan Hordziejko, with Mr. Sam Hamilton; Mr. Joseph Kowalski, with Mr. G. Mitchell; Mr. Bronislaw Zajac, with Mr. Ed. Mc. Mullen; Mr. Leon Swinarski, with Mr. A. B. Woods; Mr. Henryk Bacza, with Mr. C. Bird; Mr. Stanislaw Kotik, with Mr. R. Hall.

These men made exceptionally good students. A number of them have given the Belleville people an interest in their desire to learn the English language.

They were not only most helpful one to another, but also to me. On occasions when I might find it difficult to make me understand what he wanted to know, but always managed to make me assist him, so that at all times, we had a most pleasant evening.

These men were most appreciative of the efforts made on their behalf, and so I would like to thank the people who took them in their progress, interest, and helpfulness, during the classes.

I feel that the people in their interest is of such a nature that they will want to attend English classes during the winter season when the classes will be rearranged.

Also I would like to thank the farmers who brought the men to the class — they were most thoughtful and helpful in every way.

H. E. Darling,
Teacher,
S. S. N. 20, Thurlow.

PERSONAL HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Questions relative to personal health and hygiene sent to Dr. Brady, care of this newspaper, will be answered in this column. Address Dr. Brady in care of the Ontario Intelligencer.

ON ALL FOURS

Reader says he notices I never mention the value of walking on all fours like a bear, but that I said I tried it once. He admits the reader imagines, is more than any settled dignity can stand.

Imagine anybody reading this column and still thinking I have dignity!

The reader says he has had three traffic accidents in the past year, hit the rear fender of a truck the first time and put a crimp in the front wheel. His next time he collided with street car and hurt his right knee and broke the handle bar of his bicycle and had to walk home. Being only 90 years old our correspondent manages to get around despite traffic hazards.

That's all well and good. But having caused me alone with his story he suddenly hauls off and tells me its foolish of me to try to educate readers to walk on all fours and he kicks the kitchen door off its hinges.

Now, see here, sonny, I can't take time out to find the items in my files now, but I remember well walking on all fours in this column before, and adding one item jumped off your bike. I said here:

Dr. Cecikas (writing in Greek Medicals) reports eight cases of distension of the stomach in infants (which is Greek for attacks or spells of very rapid heart beat action) in which the patients obtained relief by getting down and walking around on four on all fours. One of he patients was older, corpulent and had a tendency to angina pectoris, but crawling relieved him. Another, a child, who was unable to sleep, but she crawled out of bed, on all fours and was soon comfortable for the remaining comersaults for the same things Dr. Cecika's patients reported not fear.

Moreover, I have repeatedly advised walking on all fours as monkey walk — two or three times around the room, for early reduction of the abdomen for a woman who has just borne a child. Or all three hands and feet—not hands and knees.

No sir, I do not try to belittle anybody by word or deed, meer at 'em, call them names, and all that but bulldoze, no I'm not one who gets bulldozed.

But please write me again whenever you think I need more good advice. Your advice is good. I have to grovel and grumble between, so I know good advice when I hear it.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Sick of Dry Fainting

My husband is almost wild with dry fainting. I believe you told some good remedies.

(Mrs. O.W.J.)

Answer—Boston physicians reported that he obtained great relief by brushing his intensely itching hands and wrists under the hot water tap, in and out quickly to avoid scalding. Send stamped self-addressed envelope for pamphlet on Dry Fainting.

Tenail Sustehes

Daughter ten, catches colds frequently, and misses quite a few days school. Our doctor told me if I had her tonsils removed she wouldn't get colds as much as she does.

(Mrs. M.L.)

Answer — The doctor has no right to promise that. Smiles that young college men who had had tonsils removed were more subject to so-called colds, than young college men who had not had such operations. Dr. Thomas Wood, Boston, and Dr. Ould, found that in comparing 1,200 children whose tonsils had been removed with 1,200 in the same schools whose tonsils had been left alone, that those whose tonsils had not been removed had fewer "colds" than those whose had been removed.

Hearing Improved

I read a report from a lady who said she had recovered her hearing after she had used special exercises described in your pamphlet on Tinnitus and Deafness. My doctor discharged from the navy after losing 50 per cent hearing in both ears. I want to try the exercises. Navy doctors recommended removal of tonsils just to see.

(G.B.E.)

Answer — They have—in the Navy too. If tonsil or adenoid obstructs throat or pharnyx or Eustachian tube, there is also the deaf side, it should be removed. Otherwise, don't be silly. For the pamphlet on Tinnitus and Deafness (head noises) send stamped self addressed envelope.

INFORMATION ROUNDUP

What was the potion drunk by Socrates?

The source of the poison that Socrates was condemned to drink has never been positively identified.

It is commonly supposed to have been prepared from the European water hemlock, Cicuta virosa, which contains a virulent narcotic poison, or from the common European poison hemlock, Conium maculatum, which is a biennial plant belonging to the parsley family and has carrot-like plants a yellowish, oily, poisonous liquid, whose active principle is which is alkaloid.

The Greeks called the potion drunk by Socrates "consion," and the weight of evidence points to the hemlock as derived from poison hemlock, which is also known as St. John's wort, or spotted parsley.

"Hemlock" is of English and not of Greek origin and it was applied to the potion taken by the Greek philosopher until about the 16th century. That form is found in most other plants of the same general family and the name hemlock is applied also to certain evergreen trees because their arrangement was supposed to resemble that of the poison hemlock, which, in turn, has been stursilized in America.

CANADA FIRST IN "GROVE OF FRIENDSHIP"

Canada will be one of the first nations to be represented in a "Grove of Friendship" to be developed at Hamilton Park, Los Angeles, Calif., in connection with Pioneer Trade Week, an annual event sponsored by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Two young maple trees, sent from the Dominion Experimental Farm at Ottawa by the Canadian government, will be planted on May 22 in the grove. It is hoped eventually to have trees planted from many other nations trading in and out of the harbor of Los Angeles, all typical of the several countries, as maple is typical of Canada. Already trees have been received from Mexico, Panama, El Salvador, Netherlands East Indies and Alaska. Victor Dudine, Canadian trade commissioner, here received the young maples from Miss Fedatha Huffman; stewardess chairman of the world trade week committee, and Robert L. Burns, vice-president of recreation and parks for Los Angeles.

Reich Ration Of Bread Down

Available Grain Stocks Will Not Permit Full Distribution

Berlin, May 20 (AP). — The United States and British Military governments announced last night that although the official food ration will be maintained unchanged for the present in their occupation zones, available grain stocks will not permit the full distribution of the bread ration.

The official food ration for the normal consumer is 1,500 calories a day, but this figure has not been met recently in numerous areas, and the actual ration has dropped to as low as 700 or 800 calories a day in some places.

The statement again warned the Germans that they must speed up their distribution methods.

Rations of meat, fat, cheese and milk "can be met from German production if collection and distribution be carried out with energy," the announcement said.

C. P. Mayhew, British Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said in London today that increased imports would be available next week to permit the issuance "in full of that part of the ration (in the British zone) which is met from imported supplies."

A food crisis also gripped the French Occupation Zone, where it was reported that the provisional government of the State of South Baden had tendered its resignation last week because of unwillingness to accept responsibility for ration cuts, French authorities refused to accept the resignations.

Further evidence also appeared in the Soviet-controlled press of food difficulties in the Russian Zone, which is closed to news correspondents of Western powers except for infrequently conducted tours.

The Weimar Abendpost, in Soviet-occupied Thuringia, said that communities were trying to trade down widespread "unfounded" reports that the bread ration would be replaced with potato chips.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Rawdon, (Special.) — Eighteen guests attended a birthday party in honor of Mrs. C. F. Sine at her home, when Misses Patsy Sine and Doris Sine served a full course dinner at the noon hour, when the dessert was the traditional beautifully decorated birthday cake. The dining table was made more than usually attractive with a centre of daffodils, with a corresponding color scheme in other, decorative touches:

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Durwood McCoy; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Holland; Mr. and Mrs. George Ketcheon of Madoc; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sarles, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Sine and family of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sine and Doris, Mr. John L. Bailey of Mount Pleasant.

The guest of honor was the recipient of a handsome necklace of pearls, with matching earrings, a gift from her family, as well as several other gifts and numerous cards and birthday messages.

Japs Display Growing Hostility To Occupation

Singapore, May 20 (AP).—The Straits Times today published a despatch of its Tokyo correspondent reporting "hardening resentment and slowly growing hostility" by the Japanese against the "American occupation."

As evidence, correspondent Richard Hughes reported Japs are throwing at trains carrying American personnel. He said military police required American train passengers to draw down curtains at night as "blackout protection" against brickbat attacks.

Hughes cited other evidence of what he called the "intangible and elusive" Japanese change of heart.

He said an American officer supervising contract labor commented: "It's hot what the beggars do. It's what they don't do and the way they don't do it. They just don't co-operate. Simple instructions are forgotten or misunderstood.

"We have the exasperated feeling of being somehow the helpless victim of a giant but invisible conspiracy of non-co-operation."

Speaker Stresses Value of Courtesy In Business

Courtesy in business is based primarily in self-interest of a shop proprietor in the customer and helping him build up his self esteem, Courtland Miller, Mc-Bowen's Drug Store, told the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce in an interesting discourse on the subject at their meeting last night.

"The value of this courtesy has come to the fore during the last few years," Mr. Miller said, adding that it dropped to an all-time low during the war years, that became the talk of the country.

Courtesy in business, he explained cannot be formulated. It is as spontaneous as the persons involved make possible and is based primarily on the personal interest of the shop-keeper in the customer; not a set of mannequin-like acts such as opening a door, lifting a hat. Trained seals can do these things.

"It is built," Mr. Miller said, "on one man's interest in another. Some people's attitude in a store is an insult to a customer."

Should Train Staffs

All shop proprietors should be interested in training their staffs in courtesy so they can have the proper approach on the subject. An employer waits on approximately 10 per cent of his customers while the remaining 90 per cent are at the mercy of the staff. If the staff is not properly trained to be courteous then the employer's profits suffer through their attitude.

Courtesy, in the speaker's opinion, is not something that can be done at long range. You cannot impress a customer, please or flatter him unless you get in personal touch with him at least temporarily and show an interest in him. You can't fool him that way."

His personal feelings on the matter were that every time a customer came into his store, the customer was paying him a compliment, Mr. Miller said. "There are seven other stores in this city selling the same kind of merchandise and I feel personally responsible that the customer gets satisfaction. This is a thing all proprietors should aim at."

The average person can be hurt by store proprietors not saying a word to him. "Your attitude, the expression on your face can be an insult. Rudeness, intentional or unintentional cannot be pinned down."

Most people, the speaker said, go through life carrying a burden. They are instinctively fighting to keep their self-esteem. The man who becomes himself esteemed the world. The basic principle applied to business is to help the customer build his self-esteem or even raise it a little. "Focus your attention on him. Do little things for him. Build him up and he'll feel better. He may not think about it at the time but your courtesy may be the first thing that day that has put oil on troubled nerves."

And so," Mr. Miller concluded, "courtesy in business starts with self-interest and building up the customer's self esteem. People don't care what you do but if you make them feel more important, then you're the white-haired boy. The only thing to do is make that customer of yours feel he is ten feet higher than he actually is."

"That's my idea of 'courtesy in business'."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

WEDDINGS

CHEESEMAN—DAVIES

The beauty of St. John's Anglican Church in Madoc was enhanced with ferns and Spring flowers, for the marriage at eleven o'clock on Saturday forenoon, of Mary Alice Davies, of the Victoria Hotel, Madoc, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Davies, Madoc, and Roy Eldred Cheeseman, Kingston, Ont., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Cheeseman of Ottawa. Rev. A. W. Smith was the officiating clergyman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride entered the church to the strains of wedding music played by Mr. Stanley Hawkins. She was gowned in a floor length model of white French organza, fashioned with a short train. She wore a finger-tip veil and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Barbara Davies, of Madoc, was her sister's maid-of-honour, wearing a floor length gown of embroidered rayon voile in a pastel blue shade, with matching fingertip veil. The bridesmaid was Miss Marion J. Burnside, Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, wearing a floor length gown of pale pink embroidered rayon voile, with matching shoulder length veil, while the flower girl was Miss Nancy Fenn of Madoc, dressed in a full length frock of embroidered rayon voile in a combination of the pastel shades of blue and pink, and wearing a matching headdress.

All the attendants carried similar nosegays of pink roses.

Mr. Frank Clement of Peterborough, Ont., performed the duties of groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. James Hilton, son of Madoc, and Mr. George R. Cheeseman, of Ottawa.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where Mrs. Davies received the guests in a becoming gown of soft grey with matching accessories. The groom's mother assisted wearing a gown of navy and poudre blue, with pink accessories.

For travelling to Toronto, and Western Ontario the bride chose a suit of navy blue, with red accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Out-of-town guests were from Ottawa, Peterborough, Marmora, Toronto and Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheeseman will reside in Kingston.

Colonel and Mrs. Percy W. Thompson have announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Jean (above), to Capt. John Sheldon D. Eisenhower, son of the U. S. Army Chief of Staff. She is now en route to the U. S. from Vienna, Austria, with her parents and fiancé. They will be married in Virginia, June 10.

Half Way Club To Sponsor Big Sister Movement

The regular monthly get-together of the Half Way Club was held in the auditorium of the Y.M.C.A. for a supper meeting at six-thirty o'clock last evening, with a social hour held for fifty guests.

Following the meal, Miss Arlie Gilbert, president of the club conducted a short business period after which Miss Muriel Johnson introduced the speaker of the evening, Miss Dulcie Minuet of Toronto, who for a number of years has been active in different branches of Social Service, and is now connected with the Neighbourhood Committee Centre. Miss Minuet, who was in the city in the interests of "Big Sister Act" among girls between the ages of ten and thirteen years, gave a very inspiring address, including incidents from her own personal experience.

Mrs. J. G. Sparling, who entertained Miss Minuet, was also present.

Miss Marjorie Tummon expressed the appreciation of the club members to Miss Minuet, with the wish that before too long some of the very fine advice would be put into effect in Belleville.

The Club has decided to sponsor a Big Sister Movement for the younger girls of this city, and plans will be completed in time for the opening of the Autumn activities.

The Trillium

(Ontario's Floral Emblem)

Deep in the quiet wildwood,
Beneath the sheltering trees,
The white and waxen lilies
Dance in the fragrant breeze;
How stately and how beautiful
They deck the forest aisles,
As fair, as white snow-white petals
To catch the sunshine's smiles!

The winter days were dreary,
And keen the frost and blight,
They slept all snug and cozy
Through all the winter night;
But they heard the Spring wind sighing
To wake from slumber deep,
And lo! with joy they hasten
A tryst with Spring to keep.

O pure and spotless lily
With heart of deepest gold,
Your beauty thrilled with courage
The pioneers of old;
A fitting emblem truly
For this land so wide and free,
With your snow-white waxen petals
A pledge of purity.

Marmora

AT THE RACES

Princess Elizabeth, heir-apparent to the throne of Great Britain, is shown in the paddock at Newmarket after seeing the King's colt, Blue Train, win the Princess Maid Stakes. She wears a wide-brimmed black straw hat with osprey feather, mustard and black tartan overcoat dress with short frilled sleeves and white silk shoes. Her handbag and gloves are also of white kid.

Mrs. W. Lavender Re-elected Pres. Women's Institute

(Marmora (Special).)—Mrs. W. D. Lavender was re-elected president of Marmora Women's Institute and Mrs. James Gordiner was given a fifth term of office at the annual meeting of the Branch held on Wednesday in the home of Mrs. A. H. Connor. There was a good attendance of members and visitors. The letter included Mrs. Ella Moore, district president, Mrs. W. J. Hulin, district secretary and Mrs. G. Hill, sill of Madoc. The meeting opened in the customary manner, and the roll call was "Pay your fees".

Mrs. Lavender was welcomed into the Branch. A letter was received from Mrs. Ella Moore, president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario, calling attention to the Fiftieth anniversary of the W.I.; which is being held at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, on June 18th. A letter was also received from Christie A. McDonald, executive director of the Canadian Save the Flood Relief Campaign asking for assistance in the campaign which ends on May 15th. Reports of the year's work from the Standing Committees followed.

Skit Given

A skit was given by five girls of the Spiral Garden Club under direction of Mrs. E. C. Hall, which was well applauded. Choice of the competition for the Area Conference voted upon by the Marmora Branch was "Canning with Household Management and Foods and Nutrition as alternatives. For the Rally Day own project, Fall oven meals was decided on. Slogan for the year was "Let's Can Ontario Foods"—and "Frozen Foods".

Program Planning

The district president, Mrs. Ernest Moore, then took charge of the meeting. Her address was on program planning, and the findings of the different year's program as carried out by the various branches. She recently organized a new branch at Madoc Ja dash Lake with twelve members and other prospective members. This branch will be represented at the District Annual being held on May 31st. The Lady Tweedsmuir scrap book was drawn to her attention and she compliMented the Branch on the excellent start made with it. She eulogized Mrs. Brandt for its striking report and said she considered the standard of hand to be in accordance with the best ideas.

Some apt remarks were also made by Mrs. Hulin, district secretary.

Election of Officers

The election of officers ensued resulting as follows:

President, Mrs. W. D. Lavender; 1st Vice President, Mrs. E. Brady; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. C. C. Prentice; Secretary Treasurer, Mrs. J. Gordenier; Directors, Mrs. P. Cowper, Mrs. R. F. Neal and Mrs. F. J. Grant; District Director, Mrs. W. J. Hamlin; Pianist, Mrs. L. R. Rundle; Auditors, Mrs. P. Sweet and Mrs. J. A. Rice; Standing Committee Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Mrs. W. G. Chown; Home Economics, Mrs. E. Belanger; Historical Research, Miss Grace Warren; Social Welfare, Mrs. H. A. Burwash; Citizenship, Mrs. F. W. Gray, Publicity, Mrs. H. W. Sabine.

Delegates appointed to the District Convention were Mesdames W. D. Lavender, H. R. Haacke, E. Brady and R. E. Neal.

A vote of thanks was accorded the district president for her visit after which a humorous reading was given by Mrs. E. Belanger. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

Income Branch Staff Honors Mr., Mrs. Watson

The office of the Income Branch of the Department of National Revenue, on Front Street, was the scene at five o'clock yesterday afternoon of an event unique in the annals of that department, when the whole staff united to honor Mr. W. Watson and Mrs. Watson, who were present, on the celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary, and incidentally on the completion, by Mr. Watson of 38 years of service with the department.

Mr. K. L. Reid, Director of Taxation, on behalf of the department, presented Mr. and Mrs. Watson with a silver muffin dish and a large silver cake plate, for which Mr. Watson feelingly expressed their appreciation and thanks.

PLUNGES TO DEATH

Vancouver, May 20 — (CP) — Joseph A. Cunningham, 21-year-old R.C.A.F. veteran, died instantly last night after a 14-storey plunge from the roof of the old Vancouver Hotel, now a veterans' hostel.

The victim had been a hostel resident since January and was employed as a city garage mechanic for the past few months.

Women's Activities

NEIGHBOURS AID MEETING

The Neighbours Aid Church Circle forty three members and visitors of the Neighbours' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Lessard, Thursday Wednesday to enjoy a potluck dinner and everyone did justice to the good things provided by the hostess and members. The dinner collection amounted to more than $10 which is to be used for clothing and food for Britain. The President, Mrs. A. Mitchell conducted the business period. Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. W. Gray had received letters from England expressing appreciation for honey, jam and other luxuries which had been donated to the Aid to be sent in a parcel to England. The letters described the serious food and clothing situation in England.

Clothing was brought to the meeting to be sent in to the Armouries in Belleville for the clothing drive. Mrs. J. Donaldson and Mrs. Gummer gave readings which were enjoyed.

Five dollars was voted to a family who recently lost their home by fire. A travelogue by Mrs. Swaitzis about her trip to New York and Connecticut and places of interest visited on their tour was also enjoyed.

She also passed snapshots which she had taken.

The June meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Ed. Mitchell and Mrs. Arnold Mitchell.

The Avondale Neighbors' Aid and Church Circle No. 4 has been invited to attend.

HARENAKLE W. M. S.

On new year eve was welcomed the fellowship of the W.M.S. of Harenacle United Church, at the May meeting held in the lecture parlor, with Mrs. A. D. Archibald presiding.

The supply Secretary asked for Aid in China's clothing being the outstanding need. The auxiliary decided to contribute sewn and knitted articles.

The program was in charge of Mrs. W. Ketcheson, Temperance Friendship Secretary. The 23rd Psalm, was read by Mrs. J. Rose, who also distributed a short devotional paper. The soloist was Mrs. Slingsby with "The Strange of Galilee," which was much appreciated. Mrs. Fisher stressed the point that Community Friendship starts with the newcomer, and Mrs. Buchanan spoke on the work among the shut-ins of the city and district. Very few girls are now strangers without our gates, and Mrs. Buchanan felt that when the members met these girls that a kind word, a hand to hold, and to make an appointment to call on them.

The second chapter of the study book was outlined by Mrs. W. S. May, telling of the early pioneer of people living in small Indian villages and at the building of the Indian peasant. Illiteracy is one of the greatest handicaps to the peasant. Progress in agriculture is slow, but there is enough to show everyone interested that God has not forgotten India. The outstanding thought stressed was—"God maketh not ashamed, because the work of God is not perfected."

Mrs. Emerson gave two readings appropriate for the month of May, "My Mother's Wedding Shawl", and "A Mother's Gift". The meeting closed with the benediction.

EVENING BRANCH W.A.

The Evening Branch of Christ Church W.A. met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Arthur Weller, Dundas Street, with Mrs. Elina Bell in charge of the devotional period and the business meeting.

Plans were made to hold a supper meeting as a fitting close to the season's activities. Games were enjoyed, the winners being Mrs. W. D. Philp, Mrs. C. Reid, and Mrs. F. O'Connor.

Miss Bell contributed one of her entertaining readings. Refreshments were served by Miss Bell assisted by the hostess, Mrs. Simpson.

SCOTT'S W.M.S.-W.A.

Following a dinner served to about forty guests, Mrs. Howard Dafoe presided, for the Worship Service of Scott's W.M.S., Wednesday afternoon, following the suggested service in the Missionary Monthly.

It was announced that all supply work is to be finished by the first week in June.

Mrs. J. A. Lott reported on the local liquor question, an occurrence which definitely shows that people are wrong when they repeat the phrase, "It doesn't happen here."

The President, Mrs. Croft, concluded the study book, and Mrs. Wardle and Mrs. Murray conducted an entertaining and educative Bible Quiz.

Readings were given by Mrs. R. Dafoe and Mrs. Vera Rice. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Dafoe. The meeting closed with a benediction.

BAYRIDE W.M.S.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bayside Auxiliary of the W.M.S. was held in the home of Mrs. Ernest Wedgewood on Wednesday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Glen Meyers presided, and the group leader, Mrs. Irwin, had charge of the program followed by the outline in the Missionary Monthly.

Mrs. Mooney suggested that each member donate some article to sell at the monthly meeting. Mrs. T. J. Irwin offered to have for the June meeting, after which the hostess and her assistants served refreshments, and social hour was enjoyed.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

About Lovers' Quarrels

Even in the halcyon days of courtship, there are few couples who make the grade all the way to the altar without a few quarrels.

Most of such quarrels are mere petty disagreements over trifles which take on an emotional colouring far beyond their worth because during such a period of agony-loading the two have a particularly sensitive and intense mood. Thus, sometimes, as little a thing as one being late for an appointment with the other may build up into a major episode in which the disappointed one accuses the other of any shade of reprehensible wickedness, had manners to the actual loss of love for the injured one.

As a rule, this type of lovers' quarrel soon ends in a blissful reconciliation, to which each is remorsefully eager to assume all blame and make extravagant amends, and all hurt feelings dissolve in fervently renewed protestations of devotion.

All this, as I say, is likely to be a perfectly natural part of courtship, and should not be taken too seriously.

But when it happens too frequently; when the disagreement involves something fundamental in the way of principle or attitude; or when one or the other takes in a prolonged fit of the sulks over it, it is time to pause and think things over very carefully. For in such cases, something is almost certainly amiss in the relationship between the two, and it had better be thoroughly realized and examined before they carry the flaw into married life.

That is the advice I would give to a young man who writes me as follows:

"After getting out of the service a few months ago, I met the kind of girl I always wanted to meet, and the nicest. Ever since, we've been going steady, and I've come to love her very much, and know that I always will. She told me that she loved me, also, and that she would never leave me.

"Recently she broke off with me because we had a little argument, and I felt so bad over it that I left town. Well, three days later I came back hoping that she would forgive me, but she wouldn't. She had temper and never always got over this trouble. Please tell me how I can get over her, and how to control my temper when we're together. It means more than anything in the world to me."

Now it would be utterly impossible to give this young man any blueprint that would enable him to get setting his girl back, for what he ought to do about that point is to look at the situation with his eyes wide open, and make himself decided whether or not anything is worth the price it has to pay. Perhaps it may be best for both of them in the long run, if he refrains from further attempt in that direction.

Specifically, he should consider all three points that I mentioned above. That is, he should ask himself if their quarrels are abnormally frequent; if they are over serious or trivial matters; and if this girl is the kind who likes to be wooed. Robert Burns once called "nurse her wrath to keep it warm." I would be delighted to absolve the young man himself from this latter fault, since I know that he's not the sought to take the blame, and who does to bring about the reconciliation. But, on facing the facts squarely he finds that he and this girl do disagree often; that the things they quarrel about are basic disagreements that would make a life together full of conflict; and she is the type who likes to punish with silence, she might be pronged her by withholding her forgiveness indefinitely, however much he may be asked, then he would be wise to acknowledge the folly of trying to pump new life into this failing romance and let it die a painless death.

As for learning to control his bad temper, the first step in that direction would be to realize that to indulge in an emotional outburst when things don't go to suit him is a tacit admission that he is unable to handle the varied situations of life as they arise; that it is equivalent to saying, "I'm a baby," and locking the room to smash against the wall, because he doesn't know how to put it right again. That, reduced to its simplest terms, it is the reaction of childishness that he should consider himself too mature to put on.

Wife to Meet Husband After Thirty-Nine Years

Great Falls, Mont., May 19. — (AP) — Many a tall wall of George Naglus is almost over.

Thirty-five years ago George left his wife and children in Amsterdam to seek his fortune in America. He assured them they would all be together again soon.

George saved his money carefully and told his wife to make ready. But the First World War came and the trip was postponed. After the war came the depression. Then sickness. The years passed and once again George had the money. But Hitler's sweep into the lowlands forced another wall.

George's wait will end this week. His wife is scheduled to arrive here Saturday.

Drama in Black and White

By ALICE ALDEN

THE crisp white hat can be a very simple affair or it can achieve drama with the aid of the right touch of black. Bonne demonstrates this perfectly in her handsome hat, a profile flattering design of frosted white baku, smart enough on its own, it becomes sheer drama with the add of a strategically placed dramatic black veil dotted with black silk daisies. The veil is tied dramatically over the upper edge of the brim with ends falling over the opposite shoulder.

The Mixing Bowl

Hello Homemakers! One of the most popular salads in men's clubs is the Caesar vinaigrette—that's tell us. They say that this is simply chilled freshly-cooked asparagus with dressing over crisp lettuce with vinegar and oil seine. A chef, renowned for his sauces, was kind enough to supply the following recipe and pointed out that a small quantity of tarragon vinegar makes a difference. It is also good with hot asparagus.

SAUCE VINAIGRETTE

1 tsp. salt, 1-4 tsp. paprika, 1 tbsp. tarragon vinegar, 3 tbsp. cider vinegar, 6 tbsp. olive or salad oil, 1 tbsp. chopped green pepper, 1tbsp. chopped cucumber pickle, 1 tsp. chopped parsley, 1tsp. chopped green onion. Combine ingredients in order given. A little chopped celery or pimento may be added if desired.

To enjoy asparagus to the ut most you should eat it as fresh as possible. Snap off the woody ends as the stalks break above the tough part. Take off the lower scales on stems and clean thoroughly.

When cooking asparagus it is a good idea to remember that the stalks take longer to cook than the tips. Tie scaler rings in the bottom of saucepan to prop heads out of water. Only an inch of water is necessary over and cook for 10 or 15 mins. depending upon the amount prepared.

Someone asked us the other day if asparagus liquor like spinach liquor should be thrown out. We say yes because it is too strong to use except with asparagus.

DRAWN BUTTER SAUCE

2 tbsps. butter, 3 tbsps. flour, 3-4 cup hot water, 3-4 cup asparagus water, 1-3 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. lemon juice.

Melt butter, add flour with seasonings. Pour in the liquids and boil 5 mins. Add lemon juice and serve at once over asparagus.

TAKE A TIP

1. A plain or stencilled cork place mat makes an excellent kitchen bulletin board for thumb tacking recipes, menus or reminders.

2. To keep shirt cuffs from dragging on the floor when ironing, fold back each sleeve and fasten it with a snap clothespin.

3. Wax old lace curtain rods to prevent a discoloration on the curtains.

4 If you cannot put a screw in the end of the brush or dish mop handle, insert a ring next the handle in the brush. Chickening markers are flexible rings obtainable at most feed stores. They are colorful too.

THE QUESTION BOX

Miss H. T. Asks: Why do some eggs have a dark ring around the yolk when cooked in shell?

Answer: When eggs cooked-in-shell are not cooled quickly, the unappealing tarnish usually forms. The dark ring is not harmful.

Mrs. E. J. asks: Is it harmful to cook asparagus in aluminum pan? Also is it true that it causes be removed from the pan?

Answer: No. The stain is easily removed by boiling a few pieces of rhubarb in it.

Mrs. T. M. asks: How to keep watercress?

Answer: Leave a few of the roots on and keep them in water. Change the water once or twice a day. Do not cover.

Mrs. J. R. asks: How to toast nuts without burning them?

Answer: Blanche in hot water; drain and put in a slightly greased pie plate. Warm in a moderate oven at 300 degs. for about 15 mins. Stir occasionally.

Gaily-Colored Prints Declared Out by Designers

By ODETTE LaGUERRE

Paris, May 20. (Reuters)—Paris dressmakers have written finish to the gaily-colored prints which flared in the street in the capital last summer. Surrealist artist Picasso will be one of their main sources of inspiration for designing this year's summer frocks.

The bright colors which delighted Allied servicemen in Paris after the liberation will now be seen only on the French Riviera, where they harmonize with the natural blaze of sea, sky, rocks and palm trees.

Lavender, blue, olive green, mother-of-pearl and pale yellow will be the predominating tones of printed frocks and costumes to Paris this summer — a return to the sober harmonies which characterized French fashion before the war.

Pure silk materials still are reserved for export, but a number of good quality pre-war materials such as cretonne, taffeta, surah, crepe de chine and fine woolen materials are reappearing for the first time since the war.

Printed frocks will be more involved and sophisticated than last year. Many will be draped round the hips in the manner of a bib cloth, others will have a series of long pleats fanwise at the bottom, or will have heavy sashes at the back to cover up an opening.

Skirts will either be long and narrow like tunics, or flare out at the base like the 1880's with a variety of pleats. Some fashion houses are launching double skirts.

Melville

Melville — Mrs. J. G. Smith, Joanne and Mrs. Jas. Morton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Morton.

Mrs. H. S. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wallbridge, of Ruth's Island, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kinnear.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kinnear and Gladys Ann, were Sunday afternoon callers at Mr. and Mrs. A. Kinnear's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Palmer, Wellington, spent one day last week with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Root and Mrs. J. Root spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. George Benway, Doxsee's, and their guest Mrs. Frank Benway of Pleasant Bay.

Mrs. Leonard Root and Earle Root made a business trip to Bowmanville on Tuesday.

Mr. A. Carley and Mr. T. Thompson are having their homes wired for electricity.

Fashion Flashes

FINE TOUCHES glorify some of the navy dresses. Black or white pointed silk is used for an effective, dressy whim. Make a generous inside tied at the back. Finish the ends of straight pieces of the fabric lotsed by hand tapering. The dressier method takes the short sleeve repeat the detail on the bodice.

LOOK OUT for colorful fore tuned accessories with all the luscious colors being used for carousel and the current scrapbook of styles. A crop-sleeved jacket uses red mole in front, with black mole for the flared, rippled back.

REGARDLESS of the season, a well-made, sturdy, yet soft and flexible bag of alligator is good fashion. A perennial favorite, the lunch-box shape, with waist for a handsome bag of navy, turquoise blue or red alligator with a wide overarm handle and gold metal trim on the clasp.

A NICE CHANGE from the ubiquitous print is the monotone frock, well-handled. Beige rayon crepe is used for a truly wearable frock. The soft, shirtwaist bodice has a deep, rounded yoke that reaches to the bustline, from which gradusting pleats start. The pleats are caught at the waist under a wide leather belt and released from there to fall in long graceful panels.

DRAMATIC hats usually are essentially simple. A big bloom of snowy white panama straw is cut with a big, bold, sweeping brim that slants to one side, where it is trimmed with a huge bow of coarse black chicken-mesh veiling.

THERE'S PLENTY of color in some of the new cotton costumes. Bright with colorful appeal is a suit consisting of a long torso, fitted jacket of white flannel with one-button closing, worn with a crisp, full skirt of bold-red woolen shirt, finely pleated, and topped off with a white beret. Good fashion show stuff!

IDEAL hat for the traveller who likes to look smart while en route and to arrive well-groomed is the small cloche with scarf drapery. Being felt in a small head, hugging cloche is trimmed with a two-tone silk chiffon scarf of amber and shocking pink, that float in long, full ends.

BIG SUCCESS of the small fur season is the "coke" coat, the short jacket with a very flared, jutting back. Nice in white American broadtail with softly tapered sleeves and bulky pockets.

ACT TO STOP UNLICENSED SALES

London, Ont. May 20 — (CP)— Board of Health authorities acted to stop unlicensed sales of meat in London.

They said four district wholesale butchers, apparently ignorant of local laws, had been warned to take out City of London licenses. All four assumed that a Prices Board permit to slaughter granted them the right to sell meat to local retail butchers.

RECIPIENTS OF MEDALS

London, Ont., May 20 — (CP) — Park Manross (PC-London) on Monday that on account of shortages of medals, which is made in England, only 38 reforce veterans of this district are be decorated here. May 29 on 10 special visit of Governor-General Alexander.

One veteran will receive the Air Force Cross and the remainder Distinguished Flying Cross.

A larger number of ex-Army personnel will be invested.

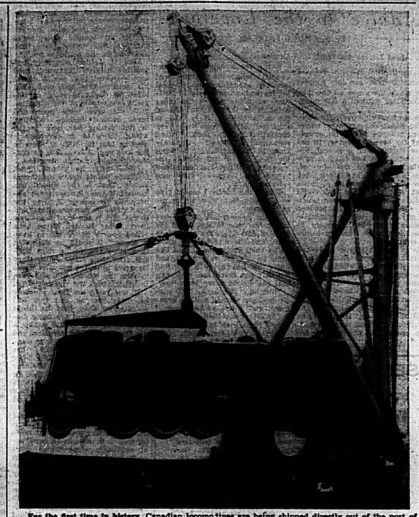
Chief Constable Roy Kennedy (left) points to hole in door of Royal Bank branch at Grand Valley where five young masked men who stole Mayor Saunders' car in Toronto tried to break in. They slugged Mervyn Wheeler (middle) on the face with rope and again over the temple with the butt of a revolver. Active in spreading alarm was Mrs. Ivan Bruce, night telephone operator, who was highly praised by police.



For the first time in history, Canadian locomotives are being shipped directly out of the port of Montreal. Previous shipments had to be sent first to New York as port lacked cranes heavy enough to lift the 104-ton engines. Boom on U. S. freighter Cadeaden (above) will lift 110 tons. Under Canadian Government contract, 140 locomotives are being shipped to France.

WATCH ICE BRIDGE BREAK-UP

Niagara Falls, Ont. May 20 — (CP) — Hundreds of visitors and local residents watched the breakup of the last Niagara River ice bridge of the season Sunday. The bridge at the base of the falls was believed to have lasted more than a month longer than any previous ice span in the last 75 years.

Deer Killed Running Into Car Which Upsets

Woodstock, May 19. (CP)—Louis Kisbenbaum, 20, escaped with minor injuries in a week-end accident on No. 2 highway when his automobile rolled over into a ditch after striking and killing a large deer that ran into its path. Kisbenbaum's hands were cut by window-glass.

SIMPLE, DIRECT LANGUAGE

Margate, England, May 20 — (Reuters) — A plea for the use of simple and direct language by advertisers and publishers was voiced here Monday at the opening meeting of the British Advertising Association conference by its president, Oliver Lyttelton, member of parliament and a former minister of production. Lyttelton cautioned the 600 delegates against over-use of "nebulous and genteel expressions," which tend to "fox the public as to what we all mean."

Mayor Saunders Pays Parking Fine At North Bay

North Bay, May 19.— (CP)— Mayor Robert H. Saunders of Toronto, will remember his recent visit to North Bay to attend a meeting of the executive of the Ontario Association of mayors and reeves.

So intent was he in the business of the session that he forgot about his car parked beside a meter. When he returned to the auto, he found an overtime parking ticket attached to it.

U.S. Navy Plane Kills Pilot, 2 Boys On School Ground

Burlington, Ia., May 19. (AP) — A cavorting United States navy plane crashed on a school playground here yesterday, killing the pilot and two school boys and injuring six other youths as wreckage showered over a four-block area.

The plane, one of a fighter squadron from Lambert Field, St. Louis, was being put through a series of barrel rolls as part of a naval show when it plummeted to the ground where 14 children were playing baseball.

Cmdr. J. D. Taylor, leader of the squadron, said he would begin today an investigation of the mishap.

The dead school boys were identified as Roland Hagemeier, 16, and Richard Charles Grant, fourteen.

The pilot was identified as Lieut. John Peeler of St. Louis.

The Kibitzer

There are no new bridge plays. Nor have there been during the centuries of whist-bridge offspring. Only the Kibitzer seven million selection of play apply in any deal the world has ever seen.

However, some odd combinations have come out of each deal. These have required clever handling of one or more of the fundamental. Peculiar quirks of the basics were applied to conquer them.

We were discussing this in a bull session the other night when a master player remarked: "Here is a deal I once dealt with a twist. You see the cards here

It seems he became the declarer in south at a contract of six hearts. He got the slightest trump lead from west and was still able to take his needed 12 tricks Logically, too.

He did it without seeing the opponent cards. The brilliant play he employed looks spectacular. The fact alone is enough to deserve your attention. So, see if you can discover it.

You can here peek at what the opponents had. With his help, see if you can figure out the method he used. It is a combination of several of the basic principles of play.

He won the first trick and two more trumps. Ace and king of the diamonds were next drawn for two tricks. If diamonds are divided two and three as normally expected, he could afford to lose one.

But diamonds did not break the expected way. West showed out of spaerkirs on the second round. Continuing with that suit would mean a loss of two tricks to the east.

Next will leading a diamond from dummy, keep from losing two at a time like this. So the play is in some other suit from here on. Which one? Still in doubt the lead. Take it from there.

The Movie Column

By RON GADSBY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

The war, almost as much as any other factor, focused attention on the possibilities of educational and documentary films. They were used in training by all branches of the armed service and instructors delighted to find classroom instruction enhanced by carefully-made films on a variety of subjects.

In the field of the documentaries, the United States and England excelled. Who can forget "Target For Tonight" and the little Scottish navigator who stole the show and who later instructed in navigation at the R.A.F. station, Port Albert, Ont. His name was Alex More, and he received the Distinguished Flying Cross for a distinguished flying career.

There have been many other such films. Currently, our own National Film Board has a number of such films on the fire. Soon to circulate in the celluloid circuit are "The Boy Who Stopped Niagara, "Puerto Rico," made especially for the governments of the same name, "East by North," the story of life on a fishing schooner, and others.

Press Conference

On Saturday, in Toronto, Mr. J. Arthur Rank, Britain's film magnate met the press. He showed a deep-rooted sense of humor.

Someone asked him about a film now in process of construction.

"What are your expectations for 'Great Expectations'?" A wag asked. Without an instant's hesitation and with a merry twinkle in his eye he answered, simply "Great!"

Rank is a tall, well-set-up man in his fifties. He says he'll learn all about movies all the time and has lots to learn. Also, he speaks seriously, thoughtfully, about the applications to religious training to be derived from good movies because he is a real Yorkshire Methodist and proud of it. He is sure souls can be saved by celluloid.
